

Predestined 1381

Chapter 1381

In the hospital.

Cathy lay in bed flipping through the magazine boredly.

It is too boring to have a baby, but the doctor said she will be discharged from the hospital in two days.

At this moment, Peter walked in from outside.

His complexion looked a little bad, as if he didn't sleep well at night, with some bloodshot in his eyes, and he was in a bad mood.

But when he raised his eyes to Cathy, his eyes suddenly became soft and watery, and he lifted the bag in his hand to show Cathy, "I bought the cake you like."

"Thank you." Cathy looked at him happily.

Peter sat down by the bed, took the cake out and handed it to her: "Taste it and see if it's the taste you like."

"Okay." Cathy took it with a big smile, and put it down after taking two bites: "It's delicious, but I am a bit out of appetite."

She didn't want to eat so many desserts, it would not look good if she gained weight.

After giving birth, she won't act again, but she still has to keep in shape. After all, she will be the prosperous CEO's wife.

After Peter gave her the cake, he took out his mobile phone and didn't see whether she had eaten or not. He didn't even lift his head when he heard Cathy's words: "If you don't want to eat it, just eat a piece."

After he was scolded by the whole Internet because of her, Cathy had completely believed that Peter loved her so much that he could not even care about reputation, so she did not hear the perfunctory tone in Peter's tone, and felt that he was following everything. He is very fond of her.

"The doctor said that I will be discharged from the hospital in a few days, and then I will be able to return to Rostenvel. I can finally leave this place." She doesn't want to stay in this ghost place for a whole day, and the environment is poor. Like fish market.

Peter raised his head when he heard the words, with a faint tone: "Well, go to the hospital for a good check after you go back."

"Yeah." Cathy touched her belly, thinking that Peter's mother was here yesterday, so she wanted to ask.

Peter's phone vibrated at this moment.

From Cathy's perspective, she couldn't see who was calling Peter. She only saw that Peter's face sank as he watched the screen, making it very ugly.

Just as Cathy wanted to speak, Peter stood up with his mobile phone: "I'll go out and answer the phone."

Although his face was ugly, his tone of voice was still gentle.

Seeing Peter going out, Cathy got out of bed and went out lightly.

She wanted to know who called Peter, but Peter even had to answer it behind her back. Was she afraid that she would hear the conversation?

Peter walked outside the door and picked up the phone, and said impatiently: "I have written all the apology statements, what else do you want?"

Don't know what the person on the other end of the phone said. Peter's voice seemed to be even more angry: "Don't go too far. Although you are the big boss of AdamPic, I have been working hard for AdamPic over the years!"

Cathy, who was standing by the door, widened her eyes in shock when she heard these words.

Several years ago, when the actor Gerald was still alive, he had trouble with AdamPic to terminate the contract. At that time, a person named "XN" appeared, claiming to be the founder of AdamPic, and wrote a long Tweet that turned the situation around.

This matter is known to the entire Internet, and Cathy naturally knows it.

After that, this mysterious "XN" never appeared again.

And AdamPic has always been in charge of Peter. The founder "XN" has almost no sense of existence, and it almost makes people forget that there is "XN".

Chapter 1382

And Cathy, like those people, forgot the existence of "XN", subconsciously thinking that AdamPic has only one boss, that is Peter.

But just now, Peter mentioned "AdamPic's big boss" on the phone and said something "apology statement". It sounds like this mysterious "XN" has intervened in the company's affairs again.

Wait, apology statement?

Is it because of recent events that "XN" asked Peter to write a statement of apology to Tina?

How can he do this!

Just thinking of this possibility, Cathy gritted her teeth with anger.

"Why did you come out?"

Hearing Peter's voice, Cathy's thoughts gathered, only to realize that Peter did not know when she had been spotted. He had hung up the phone at this time and was standing by the door looking at her.

Cathy originally followed Peter to eavesdrop, so she only opened the door a gap. Now that Peter found out, she had to open the door.

Cathy heard the content of Peter's answer just now. Knowing that Peter was getting angry right now, she said softly, "I'm just worried about you!"

"Go in." It can be seen that Peter's anger has not disappeared, but he did not get angry at Cathy.

Cathy lowered her head and walked in, a smile overflowing on her lips.

The man she likes is different, even if he gets angry, he won't be angry with a woman.

Back in the ward, he asked her: "Did you hear what I just said?"

"I just came out. Before I heard what you said, I was discovered by you." Cathy lied deliberately, just to test if Peter would tell her the truth.

The corners of Peter's lips conjured up a very slight arc, and you can't find it if you don't look carefully.

Not to mention that he was answering this call originally for Cathy to overhear, but Cathy's trivial trick, he saw it all at a glance.

Still want to test him?

Peter sighed, and said with a blank expression: "Have you heard of XN? When Gerald was still in prosperous days, he solved a lot of troubles, and it was XN who came forward to solve it. This matter."

Cathy pretended to think for a moment, and said: "I have heard that at that time, it was still spread out on the Internet, saying that he was the founder of AdamPic, the big boss behind the scenes, and what his identity!"

"He's just a hand-off shopkeeper. He has always ignored AdamPic's affairs. This time it was a bit too much trouble. He called me last night and asked me to write an apology to Tina."

After Peter finished speaking, he let out a cold snort to express his disdain.

Sure enough, as she thought!

Cathy was angrier than Peter: "This matter is not your fault, why did you write a statement of apology? What's the matter with him? Unreasonable, but you are the boss of AdamPic, and let you give it to Weber. Tina wrote a statement of apology, is she worthy? Where can you put your face after it spreads out!"

The boss of AdamPic personally wrote a statement of apology. What a shame!

Tina, what does she rely on!

Cathy tried her best, just to hammer her to death, so that Tina could not hang on in the entertainment circle.

But Tina was only scolded by netizens for a day or two. Not only did she turn over and trample her down, but now Peter personally wrote her apologetic statement, making her show off!

Cathy couldn't swallow this breath anyway!

Peter patted her shoulder: "Don't be angry, it's not good for the child."

Chapter 1383

Cathy's calculations failed completely, she couldn't control her temper at all, and couldn't pretend that she was considerate and gentle.

"How can I be upset? Why do you listen to that ghost founder so much? You have paid so much for AdamPic to sacrifice this life for him. Has he ever thought about it for you? In the end, he forced you to use big money. Write a statement of apology, embarrassed!"

Peter understood, Cathy said, only to feel that she was ashamed, and felt that she had written an apology to Tina, not as she had hoped.

In short, in Cathy's view, she has done nothing wrong, it is all other people's wrong.

Peter has been in contact with many women over the years, including all kinds of female artists at work.

This was the first time he encountered a stupid and ignorant woman like Cathy, who was insatiable and thoughtless.

He is almost impatient.

Peter showed a mocking smile: "Yes, he made me lose face, what do you think I should do to him?"

Cathy reacted somewhat with hindsight, and she actually lost her temper at Peter just now.

She took a peek at Peter and found that his expression was very pale, and she couldn't tell if he was angry.

She changed her mind, and felt that Peter could not be angry with her, so she boldly tested and said: "I see, you can just snatch AdamPic."

She deliberately said this in a self-willed tone. If Peter could hear it, she would be able to remedy it in time if he didn't have this idea.

A look of disgust flashed through Peter's eyes, but his tone was unusually gentle: "I think you make a lot of sense."

Cathy was overjoyed: "Really?"

She had always dreamed of becoming the wife of the CEO of AdamPic, but today's events let her know that AdamPic doesn't just belong to Peter.

Although Peter's family is also rich, his family's company is, after all, in charge of Peter's father. In addition, AdamPic is also the leader of the entertainment industry, and the title of the wife of AdamPic's CEO is also very good.

"Of course it is true. For our children, I will also strive for it." Peter's gaze fell meaningfully on Cathy's belly.

Don't bear it, wait until the paternity test, you don't have to see this disgusting face again.

Cathy also stretched out her hand to touch her stomach and smiled satisfied: "My baby and I will be fine."

Peter laughed, that's right.

The child must be well.

â€¦

"I can't understand what Peter said." Alyssa turned her head and looked at Karl who was sitting in front of the computer and reading the files.

Just now, Peter suddenly called Karl over.

Karl was reading the file, and his mobile phone happened to be in Alyssa's hand, and Alyssa answered the phone for him.

But after the call was connected, she didn't say a word, and Peter crackled and started to say.

What an apology statement, and what is it, don't go too far, he worked for AdamPic or something.

These words came out of Peter, but Alyssa really couldn't understand them.

She threw the phone to Karl and muttered in a low voice, "How come he has been caught in an evil recently."

Karl turned on the phone, and after looking up the trending search list, he handed it to Alyssa again.

Alyssa stayed up late for a meeting last night and didn't have time to read Twitter. When she came back tonight, she just asked Karl if there was any new news about Tina. Karl saw that she was so tired, so naturally he wanted her to rest, so he didn't tell. Peter issued an apology statement.

Chapter 1384

The trending search of Peter's apology statement is still on the list. Although it is not as hot as the one just issued last night, it is still in the top ten.

Peter himself is very hot. He issued an apology statement for such a big thing, naturally it is impossible to go down all at once.

After reading the apology statement issued by Peter, Alyssa suddenly realized: "It turned out to be so, butâ€¦ listening to what he meant, it seemed to be saying that you forced him to write an apology statement?"

Alyssa knew that it was impossible for Karl to force Peter to write an apology statement. Besides, Karl had already sent AdamPic to Peter, and the inexplicable things Peter said made her feel puzzled.

Karl glanced at Alyssa, "I'm full?"

"It's also possible. You said yesterday that you were boring. Let me go out with you." Alyssa put her hands on the table and looked at Karl with a smile.

Karl paused, pulled the laptop aside, turned the back of the boss's chair to look at the documents, and ignored her.

"naive."

Alyssa said that he was naive, and then deliberately walked around to the other side to face Karl: "Quickly tell me, what exactly is Peter going to do."

Karl closed the computer: "He wants to prove his innocence."

Alyssa snorted coldly, "What innocence does he have."

Karl: "That's why he needs proof."

"It makes sense." Alyssa nodded: "He wanted to prove his innocence, so he asked Tina to hang up on the Internet and be scolded, and give you some inexplicable phone calls?"

Alyssa has always been on Tina's side.

Karl recalled his brotherhood with Peter in his mind, and decided to explain it for Peter's happiness.

"Keep Cathy's child for a paternity test."

After Alyssa heard it, she understood.

"Cathy said that this child belongs to Peter, and the time is right, so it is difficult to say clearly. If Peter does not admit that this child is his, with Cathy's temperament, even if the child is lost, she will not cooperate with Peter. When doing a paternity test, Peter never stops doing it, pretending to be in love with Cathy and gaining her trust, is that right?"

After Alyssa finished speaking, she turned to look at Karl.

Karl nodded, got up and walked aside to drink water.

Alyssa followed him behind him like a small tail, and continued to discuss with him: "Then Peter is too miserable. Every day, he talks to a woman who he doesn't like. Should we as friends visit him?"

Karl poured the water and stuffed it into Alyssa's hands: "You want to see his jokes, right."

His tone is very determined.

Alyssa smiled: "I really care about him."

Karl didn't believe it at all.

Alyssa pursued him again and asked, "If you are Peter, do you think there is a better way to deal with this matter?"

She thought for a while and felt as if there was no other way.

Karl said quietly: "Are you complimenting him or scolding me?"

"Huh?" Alyssa was stunned for a moment, and realized that Karl was saying that he could not meet Peter's situation, and he still felt that Peter was incomparable to him.

Alyssa said seriously: "Why are you getting more and more narcissistic now, I will say if!"

Karl's tone was indifferent: "I am responsible for what I have done. There is no if."

Alyssa pouted: "It's boring to talk to you, I'll call Tina."

Chapter 1385

Since Peter has written an apology on the Internet, Tina, as the person involved, naturally has to respond.

Tina handed it over to Stephanie in response to Peter's statement.

Stephanie commented and retweet Peter's apology statement on Tina's Twitter account: "It's all AdamPic's family. Of course, I chose to forgive you."

Worried about causing misunderstandings, Stephanie also deliberately put quotation marks on the word "family" to avoid unnecessary misunderstandings or being used by those who are interested.

The meaning is to tell everyone that whether Peter makes Tina stop work or start work, it is their AdamPic media business. Their AdamPic people are all a family, and they will not become involved because of this kind of conflict.

This kind of ridiculous response made the whole thing easy.

The curse wars on the Internet have also stopped a bit.

"It broke up, AdamPic's family just had a quarrel, and outsiders jumped anxiously."

"This melon is going round and round, it's kind of interesting."

"Hey, our lovely CEO Grant is back."

"I'll just say how Peter could be so irreconcilable!"

"Is it over? Is there any reversal?"

"!"

In addition to watching the excitement in the comment area, there are Peter's fans who were almost blackened and came back to pay attention to him again.

This matter has been in trouble for so many days, and here, it is almost over.

When Stephanie saw Tina scrolling Twitter, she ran over and said triumphantly: "Ms. Tina, are you satisfied with what you saw?"

Tina praised her out loud as she wished: "Not bad."

At least, the netizens stopped cursing.

Stephanie gave a triumphant "Yeah" and then asked Tina, "After the incident subsides, can we return to the crew and start work?"

"Yes." Tina leaned on the sofa, closed her eyes and muttered: "I feel more tired than filming these days."

!"

The next day, Tina brought Stephanie back to the film crew of "Lost City".

Tina is also a very hot character now. Many media are paying attention to her. Although she did not see anyone in the crew who is suspected of being a reporter, the news of her return to the crew still leaked out.

She had just arrived on the crew in the morning, and an hour later, the topic of "Tina's Return to the crew of "Lost City" was searched again, and there were even a few high-fuzzy photos.

Tina also stared at the photo for a while, only to realize that she took it when she got off the car at the entrance of the film and television city.

It seems that the reporter is squatting on her at the entrance of the film and television city.

Really dedicated.

Tina spent the past few days in the hotel. Apart from scrolling Twitter, she was trying to figure out the script. After returning to the crew, she quickly adapted to the filming process all morning.

At noon, Tina and Stephanie squatted in the corner to eat a box lunch.

Stephanie kept talking, Tina read the script while eating, sometimes responding to Stephanie.

Meanwhile, don't know who yelled: "CEO Grant, invite everyone to have a drink. Come and get it."

Tina was eating and reading the script with one mind and two, but without hearing the first two words of Mr. Grant, she turned to ask Stephanie, "Who he said would invite us to drink?"

Stephanie could hear it clearly: "It seems to mean Mr. Grant."

Tina asked, "What is Mr. Grant?"

Stephanie considered the words and said, "I think it should be my cousin."

Peter?

He doesn't accompany Cathy to the hospital. What will he do with the crew?

Tina glanced at Stephanie: "Aren't you going to get it?"

Stephanie's expression changed slightly: "I'm a little scared now that others invite you to drink."

Cathy used to invite everyone to drink coffee as an excuse to rush to find Tina's troubles. Stephanie is now overshadowed.

Chapter 1386

Stephanie and Tina didn't go to fetch them, but someone brought them over.

"After searching for a long time, it turns out you two are here."

Holding two cups of packed drinks in his hands, Peter walked towards Tina and the others.

Tina flipped through the script with her hand, looked up at Peter, closed the script in her hand, picked up the chopsticks to finish the remaining lunch, and put away the lunch box.

"Brought it for you." Peter put two drinks on the small table in front of Tina.

Tina glanced at the LOGO on the handbag. She stayed in the studio all year round. She ate all kinds of restaurants nearby and instantly recognized which one it was.

She raised her head to look at Peter, with a faint expression: "Thank you, Mr. Grant."

The weather in early spring was not cold anymore, but Peter was dressed very thinly, and his whole body seemed to be reduced a lot.

Tina frowned slightly and opened the script again: "If Mr. Grant has nothing else to do, I will continue to read the script."

She lowered her head, and Peter could only see her hairy head. Even if she couldn't see the expression, she could still imagine how cold her expression was at this time.

After two seconds, Peter said, "Let's have a meal together after work."

Tina hadn't spoken yet, but Stephanie was unhappy: "Who wants to eat with you?"

She keeps grudges, she still remembers the things of the past few days.

Peter turned his head and looked at Stephanie: "You too."

"I'm not going!" Stephanie snorted and raised her chin to express her dissatisfaction.

Peter is the most popular among his peers in the Grant family. When he was young, children of all ages followed him.

Stephanie lived in Peter's house for a few years when she was a child. Compared with other brothers and sisters, she and Peter are more familiar with each other, and she is a bit petty in front of Peter.

Peter didn't speak, just stared at her, his expression couldn't be said to be abnormal, but it made Stephanie feel oppressed.

She swallowed, turned her head and whispered to Tina: "Ms. Tina!"

"Yes, the time and place will be sent to Stephanie, and I will go over with Stephanie when I finish work." Tina agreed very simply.

Peter seemed to expect Tina to agree, and there was no surprise in his expression. After taking a deep look at Tina, he said, "Then I will leave."

"OK."

When Tina spoke, she already lowered his head again, as if she didn't want to look at Peter more.

Peter stretched out his hand to loosen his tie, and left in silence.

"Ms. Tina, why did you agree to him?" Stephanie was a little puzzled, and Tina just agreed to have dinner with Peter.

Tina explained: "Although I responded to his apology on the Internet, some people still said that I was only forced by the company, so I compromised and cooperated."

“Ohâ€¦” Stephanie’s face suddenly realized: “If you say this, I understand. You promised to have dinner with my cousin, so that the media can take pictures so that they can believe that there is really nothing between you. Sorry, right?”

Tina didn’t speak, it was an acquiescence.

“Although I think this matter seems reasonable, I still feel wronged. Why can Cathy get into trouble at will, we have to cooperate with the aftermath, it’s really shamelessâ€¦”

Stephanie murmured for a while.

It wasn’t until work was about to start that Tina said, “Cathy should be there for dinner together at night. Let’s say enough at this time, then bear with me.”

Chapter 1387

Art night.

The crew closed at nine o’clock.

Tina dragged her exhausted body back into the car, leaning on the back of the chair and closing her eyes to rest, and asked Stephanie aloud, “Where is the place to eat?”

“It’s in a restaurant next to the hotel where we are staying.” Stephanie’s tone still sounds a bit dissatisfied.

After she finished speaking, she looked back at Tina angrily: “Ms. Tina, let’s eat later, will we really be photographed?”

Tina was so tired that she didn’t want to open her eyes: “Yes.”

“Then I still don’t go, I’m afraid I can’t help pouring coffee directly on that woman’s face when that happens.” Stephanie said with a worried expression on her face.

Tina was amused by her words: “Splash, it’s just a trending search.”

Stephanie curled her lips: “I will hold back. Should we go back to the hotel first or go directly to the restaurant?”

“Let’s go to the restaurant first. If you finish shooting early, you can go back to rest soon.” Tina yawned, but still didn’t open her eyes: “Call me when you get to the restaurant.”

It would take about 20 to 30 minutes to get back to the hotel from here, and she still had to squint in the car for a while.

Seeing that Tina was so tired, Stephanie had to go to dinner with them in order to cooperate with Peter, making him even more angry.

It was all done by the woman named Cathy!

Twenty minutes later.

The car stopped at the entrance of the restaurant, and Stephanie whispered to Tina, "Ms. Tina, wake up, we are here."

Tina opened her eyes and was at a loss for a moment. She shook her head and woke up before realizing that she was still in the car.

Today, from morning to night, she didn't stop much except for eating, and she was still a little tired.

"Let's go." Tina said, opening the car door.

"Wait!" Stephanie stopped her.

When Tina turned her head, she saw that Stephanie didn't know where she shook out a cosmetic bag:

"Put on makeup and go on."

"no need."

"Eh, no, didn't it mean that you would be photographed? You are so haggard, how bad it is to be seen by fans."

"My fans just like me to be disgraced, grounded, without a sense of distance, and closeness."

"â€¦"

Stephanie was speechless for a while, and Tina took the opportunity to get out of the car.

Although she didn't touch up her makeup, Stephanie tidied Tina's hair before entering the restaurant as the last remedy for Tina's image.

Peter ordered the box.

When Tina passed by, she saw Cathy sitting beside Peter.

Cathy stayed in the hospital for a few days, but her complexion was even better than before. It seems that these days have been well in the hospital.

"Here." Peter heard the door opening and looked towards the door.

Stephanie turned her face away.

"Kept Mr. Grant waiting a long time." Tina smiled, her face was polite and alienated, and what she said was extraordinarily official.

Peter's complexion was slightly stagnant, and the corners of her lower lips were slightly curled, looking very gentle: "We just arrived."

Although the two people laughed politely and estranged, from Cathy's point of view, they felt an eyesore, so they interjected: "Yes, we only waited for half an hour, and thought Miss Weber you are not coming."

Her tone was soft, with a smile on her face, but what she said always smelled of something.

Peter said that he had just arrived, and she insisted that she had been waiting for half an hour.

There are thorns in the words.

Tina ignored Cathy's words directly, with a smile on her face, and walked to the opposite of Peter and Cathy. When she was about to sit down, Stephanie quickly stepped forward to help her pull away from the stool in front of Peter: "Ms. Tina ,sit."

Tina glanced at Stephanie and motioned to her with her eyes: be honest.

Chapter 1388

Stephanie smiled to please, and blinked at Tina: Don't worry.

Tina didn't say much, and sat down directly.

After Stephanie looked at Tina and sat down, she opened the chair opposite Cathy.

Cathy naturally wouldn't see Stephanie in his eyes. Stephanie sat down opposite her. She just glanced at Stephanie, and didn't feel guilty because she found fault and beat her that day.

Stephanie sneered, raised her foot, and stomped on Cathy heavily under the table!

Cathy is pregnant, and being trampled on the foot will never abort, right?

She has never seen such a shameless woman!

How angry is Stephanie's heart, this kick will weigh more?

As soon as she stepped on her foot, Cathy screamed: "Ah-who stepped on me!"

Cathy stretched out her hand to touch her own feet.

She hissed coldly, staring at the opposite Stephanie: "Did you step on me? Are you blind?"

Stephanie looked at Cathy with a smile and said, "How do you know that your eyes saw me step on you? If you don't see it, then you are blind."

She also deliberately aggravated the word "you are blind".

"That's you!" Cathy pointed to Tina and shouted: "I kindly and Peter invited you to dinner and reconciled. You agreed, and I thought you really wanted to come, but I didn't expect you to use this kind of trick!"

"The next three is bad?" Tina hugged her arms, so she looked at Cathy in a leisurely manner: "How did you know that your eyes saw me using the next three?"

"Iâ€¦!" Across the dining table, where did Cathy go to see who was who stepped on her under the table: "It's you anyway!"

Tina was tired for a day, and now she was hungry and tired. She really didn't want to deal with Cathy, so she coldly said, "Cathy, if you continue to make trouble, you can only call outside reporters in. I think they must really want to capture the first-hand news of Mr. Grant's girlfriend's spoils."

Cathy's expression changed slightly, feeling that she could not gain the upper hand, and then turned to act like a baby at Peter: "Peter, look at themâ€¦!"

Peter patted her on the shoulder: "Don't forget our purpose today."

Cathy thought of her and Peter's purpose for coming to Tina to eat today, so she had to swallow the breath.

Unexpectedly, as soon as she sat down, she was kicked by Stephanie again. Cathy became angry and stared at her with anger: "You!"

Stephanie raised her chin and smiled at Cathy: "Miss Lee, what's wrong with you?"

Cathy knew that to invite Tina to dinner today was to pretend to reconcile and show it to the media. It should be kind, but she is not a person who can swallow her breath.

Turning her head, she said to Tina, "Tina, take care of your agent!"

"Are you not sure about the situation after you haven't been filming for too long? Generally speaking, the agent is in charge of the artist, not the artist in charge of the agent."

Tina knew that Stephanie was angry and that this kind of innocuous little revenge would not be a problem, so she let Stephanie go.

"Order." Peter pushed the menu to Tina.

He pushed the menu a little harder, as if a little unpleasant.

Tina pressed the menu, mocking the corners of her lips.

Yes, she and Stephanie targeted his girlfriend, can he be happy?

It's just that because today is a "reconciliation" scene, it's not easy to happen.

Tina came on an empty stomach and was not polite. She ordered a lot of dishes, and Stephanie was even ruder, almost ordering all the dishes in the restaurant.

Cathy looked dumbfounded on the side: "You are crazy, order so many dishes!"

Chapter 1389

Stephanie wanted to fight against Cathy. She flipped through the menu in her hand and said innocently, "Should I order more?"

Then she asked and answered: "I don't think there are many, and there are few dishes."

"There are not many dishes? Then you pay the bill yourself!" Cathy just couldn't swallow this breath in her heart. An agent, who works for AdamPic, can be so arrogant.

"Yes, if you can't afford to invite guests, don't bother to invite us to dinner, you can tell it straight in the morning, and we can also invite you to a better restaurant." Stephanie smiled sincerely.

"Who says we can't afford it!" What Cathy hates most is being looked down upon.

At this time, Peter, who had been silent for a long time, called out in a warning sense: "Stephanie."

Stephanie let out a “beep”, closed the menu and threw it to Cathy: “I’ve ordered it, you can order it yourself.”

Cathy looked at Stephanie’s eyes as if she couldn’t wait to tear Stephanie.

Peter came over and said to her softly, “You don’t be angry, for the sake of the child.”

As soon as she heard the child, Cathy panicked on her face and quickly suppressed the anger in her heart.

That’s right, she still has a child in her belly, so she can’t be so angry, it’s not good for her.

As long as the child is born, she will be the wife of the CEO of AdamPic. Then she will definitely want to clean up Tina and Stephanie.

The days are still long, she should not care about it at this moment.

Just wait and see!

After Cathy figured it out, she became gentle and considerate in front of Peter, and said softly: “I know, I am not angry, the baby will be upset.”

Tina held up the water glass and drank with a blank face, Cathy could hear every word clearly.

Seeing that Tina’s complexion was not so good, Stephanie calmed down and didn’t make any trouble.

It didn’t take long for the waiter to serve the dishes.

When the dishes were being served, the manager also followed in: “Mr. Grant, you have a lot of dishes, and this table can’t fit. Would you like to lift the table in to put the dishes on?”

The manager is actually testing whether they want to return the food, but he can’t say it straight.

Peter was about to speak, so he was preempted by Tina: “No, just return the dishes before you start. We can’t eat that much.”

Stephanie ordered such a dish, it was indeed impulsive, and it was too wasteful to finish it.

When Cathy heard Tina’s words, she was naturally unhappy, and deliberately confronted Tina, “We are not unable to afford to retreat. Bring all to me, as much as there are.”

The manager was in a dilemma and turned to Peter for help.

After all, the one who has the most say here is Peter.

Peter spoke unhurriedly: “Get them all.”

The manager paused: “Okay.”

Seeing that Peter had spoken for her, Cathy was happy in her heart, with a proud look on her face, and gave Peter some dishes: “Peter, you can eat too.”

Stephanie squatted her mouth, turned her head and gave Tina some food: “Ms. Tina, this is delicious.”

Tina didn’t look at them and didn’t talk, and soon she was full.

She took out her phone and checked the time. It was almost eleven o'clock, and she would get up at five o'clock tomorrow morning, so she said, "You can go out."

"What's the hurry, I haven't eaten enough yet." Cathy also saw Tina and tired, and deliberately ate slowly.

Peter said at this moment: "I'm a little sleepy, and the food here is not that good. Tomorrow I will return to Rostenvel and take you to Best Day to eat."

Upon hearing this, Cathy glanced at Tina first, but there was no expression on Tina's face. She could not see the jealousy she wanted to see, and she was a little unhappy, and said, "I also think the food here is not good."

Chapter 1390

Cathy finally agreed to go out with Tina and the others.

When she reached the door of the box, Cathy suddenly stopped and called out: "Wait a minute."

Tina turned her head to look at Cathy with an impatient face. Stephanie couldn't help but choked on Cathy, "What do you want to do again?"

"There are reporters outside, are we going to go out like this?" Cathy ignored Stephanie, looking straight at Tina.

Seeing that Tina didn't respond, Cathy said impatiently, "You don't come here soon."

Tina glanced at Cathy with a foolish look, and walked directly outside.

She would promise Peter to come to eat this meal, cooperate with them in the play, but only for the face of Grant's mother.

As for Cathy, she didn't have that much face to let Tina cooperate with her.

"You!" Seeing that she had been ignored, Cathy was so angry that he stepped forward to stop Tina.

But Stephanie has been paying attention to her actions. When she stepped forward, she quickly stopped in front of Tina and smiled badly: "Miss Lee, I am also one of the parties involved. We are close. If you go out, the reporter will also take pictures."

At this time, Tina had already opened the box door.

Stephanie took this opportunity to hold Cathy's arm. Cathy wanted to pull it out, but Stephanie was so tight that she couldn't pull it out.

Stephanie even turned her head and said to her, "I have already seen the reporter."

No matter how dissatisfied, Cathy was suppressed, she curled her lips to reveal a smile, and walked out holding Stephanie affectionately, pretending to be talking and laughing.

If you don't hear what they say, I'm afraid that you really think they are sisters who have a good relationship.

“Stephanie, I really underestimated you.” Cathy was resentful and unwilling, but she still had a smile on her face.

Stephanie prolonged the tone: “Each each other.”

Cathy leaned to Stephanie’s ear, smiled and lowered her voice, gritted her teeth and said in a voice that only two people could hear: “Let’s go and see!”

Tina walked in the forefront. She heard the voice of the two people behind her become quieter, and turned her head back with a smile: “What are you talking about?”

“What do you care about us? Just control your expression.” Cathy’s smile should be gentle and calm.

Tina raised her eyebrows slightly: “Oh.”

Cathy had been discharged from the hospital, and naturally returned to the hotel where she had stayed before, staying in the same hotel as Tina and the others.

The group of people returned to the hotel in a state of “talking and laughing”. After entering the elevator, they removed their disguise.

As soon as she entered the elevator, Stephanie felt as if she was electrocuted, and she bounced off. She also patted the arm that Cathy had held with a look of disgust, as if there was something dirty on her hand.

Seeing this, Cathy almost vomited blood with anger: “Stephanie! What do you mean!”

While she was talking, she moved towards Stephanie again, as if she would go up and slap her at any time.

“Patting the sleeves also provokes you? Is there something wrong with you?” Stephanie glared back unwillingly.

“There is monitoring.” Tina leaned against the elevator wall and said these three words quietly.

As soon as she said this, Cathy stopped immediately.

Cathy and Stephanie stood side by side in the front, and Tina and Peter stood in the back.

Peter turned his head and glanced at Tina, and said quietly, “I will be back to Rostenvel tomorrow. You are filming honestly on the crew, don’t cause trouble.”

Is she causing trouble?

“Heh.” Tina just sneered, and didn’t even bother to answer.