Chapter 1451

Tina thought, want to say something to comfort Jodi, or to say something to save Peter's image in his mother's heart.

But she put herself in the position and thought about it from the perspective of Auntie, this son was really not worried.

"Auntie, don't be upset about these things, Peter can handle it."

Jodi sighed: "I haven't gone out to dance for several days."

Tina couldn't help but speak for Peter: "He actually doesn't want to be like this himself."

The smile in Jodi's eyes deepened: "That's right, it's just that, he doesn't like to tell me anything, this kid is so uncomfortable, it's okay, you have friends here. Beside him."

Tina smiled: "Yeah."

â€¦

After two days, the wind on the Internet gradually passed.

There were events with Tom. Before Tina had filmed an advertisement for him, he received an invitation. After spending a few days at home, Tina finally had work to do and returned to the city.

The activity starts in the afternoon and there is a cocktail party in the evening.

Stephanie arranged everything properly, and Tina came back to try on clothes and styling.

"The reception ends at ten o'clock, but you can also leave earlierâ€¦"

While driving, Stephanie talked to Tina about the event.

"Yeah." Tina put down the chair, lay on her back and closed her eyes to calm her mind, replying from time to time.

Suddenly, with a "creak", the car came to a sudden brake, and the sound of tires rubbing against the ground was extremely harsh, and Tina also shook.

She opened her eyes to stabilize her figure, and the car stopped at this moment.

She asked Stephanie, "What's wrong?"

Stephanie turned her head: "It's Cathy."

Tina sat up straight and looked out from the middle of the front seat. Through the windshield, she saw Cathy with open arms in front of the car.

Cathy was wearing black sportswear, with loose hair and a bloodless face. She looked gloomy.

After this incident, this was the first time Tina saw Cathy.

“Get off.” Cathy said.

Tina was in the car. Although she couldn’t hear Cathy’s voice, she could see her mouth clearly.

“Ms. Tina, don’t get out of the car, I’ll go down and take care of it!” Stephanie naturally saw Cathy’s mouth. She unfastened her seat belt and was about to get out of the car, still murmured: Cross, let me catch my chance now!”

Tina stopped her voice: “Don’t go down. If she doesn’t leave in two minutes, she will call the police directly.”

“She has come here!” Stephanie was a little reluctant.

She still remembered the slap in her heart because it wasn’t long ago.

Tina curled her lips: “You don’t underestimate her, she has a lot of attention.”

Peter is a ruthless person. On the surface, he withdrew trending searches to protect Cathy, but he actually pushed Cathy to the forefront.

She is not a fuel-efficient lamp, she is very careful, and there is no way out now. Naturally, she is catching who is biting. She stopped the car at this time, mostly trying to drag the sink into the water.

“She’s all like this, what tricks can she play?” Stephanie said with a curled mouth.

Tina lay back lazily: “If she can’t play other new tricks, she can still perform the same trick again.”

Stephanie made a loud noise when she heard the words, looked around, and then suddenly opened her eyes: “My God, Ms. Tina, there really seems to be a reporter over there!”

What Cathy did on the set before made Stephanie’s memory still fresh. She was so scared that she took out her mobile phone to call the police.

Chapter 1452

There was a security booth nearby, and the police quickly came and took Cathy away.

Stephanie then continued to drive Tina to the event site.

What Tom held today was a business event, and many people came to participate in the event.

After Tina entered the arena, she was going to say hello to Tom, but she did not expect to meet David at that time.

“Miss Weber!”

It was David who saw Tina first, and he was the first to call her name.

Tina had already signed the name, she handed the pen in her hand to the staff, and smiled back at David: “David.”

She and David collaborated for the first time in “My Life and Me”, and the only few encounters were only recorded in the studio, so they were not familiar.

Tina greeted him and was about to leave, but after David signed in, he chased her directly.

“Miss Weber, are you going to say hello to CEO Allison? Me too, let’s go together.”

Tina glanced at him calmly: “Yeah.”

Although only the younger generation of the new debut, but in terms of speech, it appears generous and natural.

Now that the competition in the entertainment industry is so fierce, it is naturally not bad to be able to emerge among these people.

Compared with David, Tina’s answer was slightly colder.

David noticed Tina’s indifference, and consciously didn’t speak anymore, but silently followed her and went to find Tom with her.

Tom is an easy-to-do boss, naturally very busy, but when he saw Tina coming over, he bowed his head and said something to the assistant, and looked at Tina with a smile: “Miss Weber.”

Tina also smiled: “Mr. Allison.”

David on the side also stepped forward: “I am David.”

“Hello.” Although Tom didn’t know David, he still responded flawlessly, but he quickly remembered that the company had invited some stars to perform, and David should have been invited to perform.

â€¦

Tina attended the evening reception with Tom.

Tina is now becoming popular. As soon as she and Tom entered the arena, many people looked towards them, and then turned their heads and whispered quietly.

Tom laughed and joked with her: “Miss Weber, it’s really an honor for you to take time out of your busy schedule to participate in my company’s activities.”

Tina raised his eyebrows and said: “It’s not that busy either.”

There are many advertisements and endorsements looking for her, but she does not accept everything.

In the past few years, she worked very hard, what to pick up, in the past two years, she gradually slowed down the rhythm, and refused to pick up other announcements when filming.

And this time “My Life and Me” was an accident.

Tom’s smile deepened: “Then, if you have time, let’s talk about the spokesperson contract.”

What Tina shot Tom before was only a promotional advertisement, not a spokesperson advertisement.

“Oh?” Tina looked at Tom with a smile, “Since Mr. Allison is so sincere, then I will talk to you in person?”

Tom’s expression was very subtle and paused: “It’s okay.”

Tina didn’t speak, and took a sip of wine with her eyes down.

This man is too pretentious.

Sure enough, few men in business are fuel-efficient lamps.

“Ms. Tina.” Stephanie went out to answer the phone, and fell behind the two of them before rushing over.

“Mr. Allison said that he wanted to talk to me about the spokesperson contract. You guys talk about it first, I’ll go to the bathroom.” Tina said this to Stephanie, put the cup in her hand aside, and turned away.

Chapter 1453

Something happened to Cathy recently, and Stephanie was in a particularly good mood, and she was also very enthusiastic about work.

This also directly caused her to see Tom more pleasing to her eyes than before.

“Mr. Allison and we are also friends. Ms. Tina’s contract is easy to go with.” Stephanie took a glass of champagne from the passing waiter to clink with Tom.

Tom looked down at Stephanie for a moment before taking the wine glass to his lips.

Then he spoke slowly: “Miss Stephanie looks in a good mood.”

Stephanie blinked, is she acting so obvious?

“It is of course happy to be able to participate in such activities, to be able to cooperate with you, such a good thing.” Stephanie snapped.

She was blind and felt that she might have said a little too perfunctory, so she had another cup with Tom: “Drink, drink!”

“Regarding the details of the contract, we will take the time to talk later.” Tom’s tone was not rushed, which made people feel particularly comfortable.

“Okay, you can go to work.” After all, it was Tom’s own party. As the host, it was natural to socialize.

Tom raised his eyes and looked in the distance, as if he was temporarily conscious, and suggested: “Mr. Grant, want to come together?”

“What are you doing here?” Stephanie looked at him blankly.

Don’t know how funny her expression is or what she said, a smile appeared in the corner of Tom’s eyes: “Know more people, you can expand your network.”

“Then thank you Mr. Allison.”

Tom was right. As an agent, contacts are also very important. Stephanie has no reason to refuse.

She followed Tom, but before he met anyone, he was first stopped by a young woman in greeting.

The woman smiled, her voice soft: “Mr. Allison, we met at the dinner party last time, do you remember?”

The woman's eyes fell on Tom's body and did not move away.

A drunkard doesn't mean to drink.

Stephanie felt that she still didn't want bad things, so she wanted to leave Tom carelessly. Unexpectedly, when Tom was about to raise his foot, he stepped ahead of her and turned around and took a small cake to Stephanie on the table behind him.

His movement was sudden, but not abrupt at all.

When he handed the little cake to Stephanie, he did not forget to reply to the woman's words: "I remember."

After finishing speaking, he lowered his eyes to look at Stephanie with a bewildered look, with a gentle smile: "What's the matter? Isn't it the favorite to eat this? You don't want to eat it today?"

The woman's gaze swept back and forth on Tom and Stephanie, and said with some embarrassment: "I have an acquaintance over there. I will say hello again. I will lose money first."

The woman left in a hurry after speaking.

No matter how stupid Stephanie is, she can understand that Tom deliberately used her as a shield, but this little cake is indeed what she likes to eat.

Stephanie took the cake unceremoniously and asked Tom incomprehensibly: "Since you are afraid of being entangled by a woman, why don't you take your fiancée?"

"She's!" Tom said with a sigh, then suddenly paused, looking at Stephanie deeply.

Stephanie was inexplicably flustered by the look in his eyes, and the cake in her mouth was not tasty anymore. She swallowed the cake in her mouth and asked curiously: "What's wrong?"

Tom's gaze fell on the scraps of cake left over from the corner of Stephanie's mouth. He took out the handkerchief and wiped it off for her, and said indifferently: "Run."

Stephanie froze on the spot for an instant.

She didn't know whether she should shock Tom rubbing her lips, or she should shock Tom being abandoned by his fiancée.

Chapter 1454

Stephanie was tangled to death, and at the same time, she wanted to hammer herself to death.

So why mention Tom's fiancée.

Tom's fiancée is too, so why run away?

And Tom just told her about it.

The dignified and easy-to-do boss, the bright young talent with a bright future, was abandoned by his fiancée!

She knew about such a shameful thing!

Will the endorsements be pornographic?

Stephanie had evaluated Tom before. If Tina could endorse Tom, it would be considered a strong team, and each took what he needed. Moreover, this was the first time Tom had asked someone to endorse him.

Thinking about endorsements that might not be kept, Stephanie is a bit painful.

In just a few tens of seconds, Stephanie thought a lot, and the expression on her face changed rapidly, first shocked, then unbelievable and regretful, distressed!

It was wonderful.

Tom wanted to laugh a little, but the little girl was even more panicked when she laughed out loud, so she stretched out her hand to cover her lips and coughed to hide her smile, and said solemnly, "It's okay, I'll wait for her to come back."

Stephanie: "Huh?"

Is such a handsome boss in love so humble?

"She is young, I have to let her." Tom usually looks like a gentle smiling face, but when he said this, his tone was different from the usual formulaic gentleness, and there was an unspeakable gentleness in it.

But when he said this, he still watched Stephanie say it.

Stephanie had the illusion that he was saying this to her. Her heartbeat missed a beat, and the frequency of the beating became abnormal.

She hurriedly didn't open her eyes before looking for her own voice: "You are pretty good. She doesn't know that cherishing you is her loss!"

After speaking, she went to drink pretending to be calm, but was choked because he drank too quickly.

Tom frowned slightly, stretched out his hand, and patted her back gently.

Tina came back from the bathroom and saw this scene.

She looked at it from a distance, thought for a while, but she didn't bother to come, then turned and went to rest in the corner.

As soon as she sat down, the phone vibrated.

It's WeChat from Peter.

Tina opened it and found that Peter had posted a photo.

Peter: "[Picture]."

Tina opened the photo and found that it was a photo of an office sent by Peter. The light in the office looked very dim. It should be that he only turned on the work light next to the desk.

Tina knew him too well. It was nothing more than a miserable sale. He worked overtime alone in the company.

Who hasn't worked overtime yet?

Tina picked up the phone, took a picture of the reception, and sent it to him.

The cocktail party was very lively, delicious and beautiful, which formed a sharp contrast with Peter's situation at this time.

After the photo was sent, Tina couldn't help but bend her lips at the thought of Mr. Grant's sulking look.

Soon, he sent a message again. It was an emoticon of a mournful cat. Below the emoticon was a line of small characters: "I'm fine, great."

Tina couldn't return, because David was here.

"Miss Weber, you are here, I thought you were gone." David smiled and sat down beside her.

Tina smiled: "You are here too, I have to go to my agent, I lose compensation."

How could she not see that David talked to her on purpose.

After the "My Life and Me" program was broadcast, many people knocked her and David, and he deliberately got in front of her, which is not a good thing.

Chapter 1455

Tina felt that she didn't have so much energy to deal with the scandal, so she was colder at the beginning, saving some unnecessary troubles.

David also understood the meaning of Tina, his complexion was slightly stagnant, but he quickly returned to nature.

When Tina found Stephanie, she was leaning on the bar to eat.

Seeing Tina, Stephanie quickly wiped her mouth: "Ms. Tina, I am going to find you."

Tina laughed: "I don't worry."

Stephanie used to be regarded as a daughter, and after becoming her agent, her life has become more and more sloppy, but Stephanie didn't seem to care about it either.

"Let's go after eating. I want to go home early." Tina said.

"Okay." Stephanie mostly unconditionally agreed to Tina's request.

Tina smiled and said, "If you want to stay longer, you can."

Stephanie waved her hand: "This cocktail party is nothing fun."

"I saw you and Mr. Allison had a very happy chat before." Tina started to gossip.

"No!" Stephanie quickly denied, then looked around again, and said to Tina with a mysterious expression: "In fact, CEO Allison is quite miserable."

Tina tilted her head in doubt: "How come?"

Stephanie leaned to Tina's ear and said in a voice that only two people could hear, "His fiancée ran away."

"This" Tina was a little disappointed, she thought it was a big deal.

Stephanie continued: "Furthermore, he also said to wait for his fiancée to come back. I really can't tell that he is so affectionate."

Tina felt that things gradually became interesting.

She reminded Stephanie: "Don't forget, you also escaped from marriage."

"Yes" Stephanie's eyes widened: "I have forgotten that I escaped marriage. No wonder when Tom told me this, I felt something was wrong"

She thought that the abnormal heart rate at that time was due to a guilty conscience.

Tina stood face to face with Stephanie. As soon as she raised her eyes, she saw Tom coming from behind Stephanie.

Tina glanced at Tom, then turned her gaze to Stephanie: "If your fiancé is like Tom, can you accept it? Will you still not escape?"

Stephanie shook her head quickly: "That's impossible."

Tina continued digging: "Assume it."

"Assuming" Stephanie really thought about it for a while, and said in a slightly embarrassed voice, "Tom is actually quite handsome"

Tina smiled and said, "It means, if Tom is your fiancé in the legend, you might not escape marriage?"

"Nothing like this" Stephanie turned her head and continued to eat.

Tina deliberately yelled at this moment: "Ms. Allison."

"Ahem" Stephanie was choked on hearing this "Ms. Allison".

The big, well-knotted hand handed a glass of water to Stephanie, his broad palm patted her back with a familiar gentle voice: "Slow down."

Stephanie looked up at Tina in disbelief. She suspected that Tina was deliberately digging a hole for her just now.

Tina smiled and said innocently: "I'm going back first. Let's talk about endorsement with CEO Allison, CEO Allison, goodbye."

Tom: "Goodbye."

Stephanie could only watch Tina leave, stiff and afraid to turn her head.

She didn't look back, Tom walked around to her: "Is it better?"

"It's better" Stephanie took another gulp from her water glass.

Tom smiled, "Thank you for the compliment."

Stephanie: "â€¦" He heard it all!

Chapter 1456

It was already past nine o'clock in the evening.

In the building of AdamPic, the light in the CEO's office is still on.

Peter took the document handed over by Rubin. After turning a few pages, he pressed his long finger on the document page and did not turn it again. He raised his eyes slightly and looked forward, not knowing what he was thinking.

Rubin was still waiting for Peter to reply after reading this document. He couldn't help but said in confusion, "Mr. Grant, is there any problem with this document?"

Peter retracted his gaze and glanced at the phone aside, and muttered, "Why didn't she return to me?"

Peter's voice was very small, and Rubin didn't hear clearly. He claimed to know Peter best. He looked at Peter's eyes and tried to guess what he was thinking at this time. As a result, he didn't guess anything, so he was tentative. Asked: "Mr.. Grant, what did you just say?"

Peter heard the words, as if regaining his senses, "Ah" said, "You work, your child is still young, and you will go home early in the future."

"After you hired a nanny for us again, my wife is much more relaxed. It doesn't matter if I go home sooner or laterâ€¦"

Although Rubin's work is very busy, he is well paid and can afford a nanny.

When his wife gave birth, he hired a nanny, but after he hired a nanny, Peter spent money to hire a nanny for their family too. Originally, his wife was dissatisfied because he was always busy at work, so he asked for help. After they hired a nanny, his wife, let alone dissatisfied, asked him to work overtime every dayâ€¦

Peter nodded: "That's OK, you have to work overtime and keep on working overtime, I'm leaving."

Rubin was taken aback for a moment: "Oh."

During the recent period, Peter basically lived in the company in order to hide from reporters. Even if he went home, he would go home in the wee hours to take a bath, change clothes and get something.

He actually left so early today.

After Rubin finished speaking, he thought of something, and said, "The reporter downstairs today squatted and left at eight o'clock."

At first, there were reporters who squatted into the early hours of the morning, and then gradually left earlier. There was a lot of news in the entertainment circle, and Peter could only squat for other news after the delay.

"Ok."

Peter responded with carelessness, stood up and sorted out his clothes, picked up the coat hung on the back of the chair, and walked outside.

The footsteps are hurried, and he looks impatient.

Where are you going in such a hurry?

Rubin turned his head, followed two steps forward, and asked in a loud voice, "Mr. Grant, where are you going? I'll drive you if you are in a hurry."

"To Reception." Peter dropped these two words and waved his hand again, indicating that he did not need him.

Cocktail party?

Rubin circled his mind and thought that Tom would have a cocktail party reception tonight.

Tom Allison currently has no cooperation with AdamPic, but he sponsored "My Life and Me", and Peter was a guest of "My Life and Me", so Tom Allison still sent Peter an invitation letter.

Tina filmed an advertisement for Tom. Tom had been exposed to the heat of Tina before, publicly saying that he and Tina were friends, and she was naturally going to go.

Peter also wanted to go to the cocktail party, but he would definitely go to the paparazzi. When the time comes, he won't be peaceful, so he didn't go.

As Peter walked to the elevator entrance, he took out his mobile phone to browse through the cool circle of friends.

My Moments did not post anything, nor did WeChat reply.

Isn't it because she drank too much at the reception?

When he reached the elevator entrance, he couldn't help but dialed the phone number.

Chapter 1457

Tina answered the call faster than expected.

The phone rang only twice, and she answered it.

Peter can't remember how long it has been, and he hasn't called Tina in such a relaxed mood.

The elevator arrived just then, and the door opened with a beep.

Peter glanced at the empty elevator and asked Tina aloud, "Where?"

"At home." Tina's end was indeed quiet, unlike in a lively place.

Peter took a step forward and pressed the down button of the elevator: "I am going home too."

The elevator doors opened again.

Tina also heard the voice of the elevator: "Then hang up first."

"It's hanging up? Let's talk, it's boring to sit in the elevator alone." Peter walked into the elevator after taking a long leg.

The elevator door closed, and his mobile phone hung up with a beep.

He stared at the hung-up cell phone, comforting himself: "It must be because there is no signal."

Although Tina is not warm, but willing to answer his phone and talk to him calmly is also very good.

Thinking about this, he became happy again.

When he got to the underground parking lot, he hummed a song to find his car.

At this time, the underground area was mostly empty. The location of Peter's car was easy to find, but there was a problem with the lights and the light was very dim.

He narrowed his eyes slightly and glanced at his car. He had reached out and pulled the handle of the car door. With the other hand reaching into his pocket to retrieve the car key, he found that the car key was not on him after a long time.

He remembered that he had asked Rubin to drive his car to go out to work, and the key should be at Rubin's.

When he got down just now, Rubin didn't even think of giving him the car key.

It seems that he is getting older and has a bad memory.

Go back and give Rubin a bonus to buy some walnuts to replenish his brain.

Rubin is very cautious, and has never made such a low-level mistake before.

Peter took out his mobile phone and prepared to call him, and ask him to send down the car keys.

Peter dialed Rubin's phone with one hand, and was about to release the hand holding the door handle, but the door opened by itself.

Although he is an atheist, there are indeed many things in the world that cannot be explained by science.

What's more, he saw Tina in the car.

How the hell can it be explained by science? ??

The answer is, it can't be explained at all!

"CEO Grant?" The call was connected, and Rubin's voice came from the phone.

Peter's complexion gradually became serious, and his eyes fell on the face of the woman in the car, without moving an inch: "There is a ghost in the car."

When Tina heard him, she didn't know if she should be angry or laugh first.

"Peter, I think you should hurry up and test your IQ!" Tina glared at him, then closed the car door with a "bang".

Rubin is someone who has seen big scenes, but he has never seen Peter be so stupid.

He is a 100% professional assistant, so he can't laugh.

He coughed and suppressed his smile, and patiently explained to Peter: "Ms. Weber called me before when Ms. Weber came over and said that she was going to wait for you in your car, but she didn't want to interrupt your work. I thought she was right, so I gave her the car keys. I actually wanted to tell you in my heart, but then I forgot."

"Oh, forget it?" Peter smiled sadly: "I will ask you to settle the account tomorrow."

After he finished speaking, he hung up the phone quickly and opened the door of the car, his tone of excitement could not be concealed: "Tina, you come down for me, I will drive."

Chapter 1458

"Let me drive."

Tina sat in the car without moving, fastened on her seat belt, and said slowly, "Or do you want to drive fatigued and go to the hospital for supper?"

Tina fastened his seat belt and didn't hear any movement from Peter. He turned around and found that Peter was still standing by the car, staring at her with a smile.

Even if she laughed, her eyes still fell on her, sticky, making Tina think of the cake he had eaten at the reception before, which was sweet and greasy.

Tina was uncomfortable with him, and said fiercely, "Get in the car!"

"Okay." Peter walked around to the passenger seat on the other side, fastened his seat belt, and asked her slowly, "Where to have supper?"

"You will know when you go." Tina started the car without even looking at him, extremely cold.

Peter tilted his head slightly, seemingly not enough, and continued to look at her.

After Tina got down from the easy-to-dry cocktail party, she went back and changed her clothes. She had a simple shirt and trousers, but this simple combination was not so simple to wear on her.

There are two buttons on the collar of the shirt, revealing a delicate neck and a beautiful clavicle. The shirt is loosely designed and the slender arms are hidden in the sleeves, but because she is raising her hand to drive, the cuffs are retracted, revealing the wrist strap. With a fragile beauty, the hem of the shirt was tucked into the waist of the trousers, showing a waist that was not full of grip.

Peter lowered his eyes and glanced at his hand, and then at the cold waist, wondering if he could hold it with one hand.

Thinking of this, some long-lasting memories came to his heart, making him a little dry.

He reached out and unbuttoned two more buttons on the collar of his shirt.

Tina turned her head and glanced at him: "Hot?"

His eyes couldn't be more pure.

Peter only glanced at her quickly, then turned his head and looked out the window, concealing his inner nasty thoughts, and said perfunctorily: "Somewhat."

"It's just that you have a lot of things, hypocritical!" Tina turned on the air conditioner after complaining.

However, it is the weather at the end of May. When it is sunny, it will be a little hot at noon, but at night, the temperature will drop and the air conditioner will not be turned on.

Tina was not hot at all, and felt a little cold after turning on the air conditioner. She pursed her lips and exhaled softly.

After that, she caught a glimpse of the man on the side like she leaned over, her heart lifted up, but soon, she realized that Peter had just put his coat on her.

Tina was a little dazzling.

Putting on clothes is just a small matter, and Peter has done it many times before.

But Tina felt a long-lost touch in her heart.

Going around, they are still the same as before.

Tina blinked her eyes vigorously, without speaking.

"You're welcome." Peter on the side suddenly said.

"Who thanked you, do you want to be shameless?" Tina gave him a sideways glance and taunted him incidentally.

"I know you must be touched."

Peter had a hippy smile on his face, but when he opened his mouth, his tone was a little more cautious.

He felt like he was dreaming at the moment.

Tina came to the company to wait for him and pick him up for supper.

He couldn't even dream of this.

During the time he was with Cathy before, when he dreamed of depression, it was a nightmare.

Either Tina got married, or he got married.

But their marriage partner is not the other.

He woke up from such a nightmare, in a cold sweat.

Then, he smoked on the balcony all night and couldn't sleep again.

Chapter 1459

Along the way, because Peter was deliberately cheap, he was not taunted by Tina.

But he always had a smile on his face.

It was too cold to talk to him after being so cold.

After that, Tina's tone improved a bit. The two of them talked with each other. Although a lot of bad things have happened in the past six months, the two of them are not unfamiliar with each other. Peter often said the sentence. Tina would know what he was going to say next.

Their tacit understanding is carved into the bones by the years.

Just like their relationship.

If you have to completely withdraw from the other person's life, you need to cut off the flesh and blood, deboning and reshape.

How painful is that?

Tina has tried it.

That is unbearable pain, and there is no way out.

Perhaps, conforming to the heart is the best way out.

â€

"Arrived."

Tina stopped the car, took a look outside, then turned to see Peter's reaction.

Peter looked out the window and found that it was a bunch of incense.

The house number is a bit old, showing that it is open 24 hours a day. From the outside, it seems that it has been a few years.

"Come down." Tina unfastened her seat belt and got out of the car first.

Peter got off the car, looked far away, and saw a few familiar and iconic lighting buildings, and then vaguely guessed: "Is the Film Academy next to it?"

"Yeah." Tina turned her head and smiled brightly in the night.

This is the snack street behind the Rostenvel Film Academy.

The Rostenvel Film Academy is the alma mater of Tina and Alyssa.

Peter's heart moved, and his voice softened a little: "This is my first time here."

"Come in quickly. It's eleven o'clock. There are few people at this time. We can choose any location." After Tina said that Peter hadn't moved, she urged him: "Come."

Peter stepped forward in two steps and walked to Tina's side. He lowered his eyes and glanced at Tina's hand hanging beside him, which was very close to his hand.

As long as he raises his hand, he can hold it.

However, he dare not.

Tina turned and walked in, and Peter's voice came from behind: "Can I just go in like this?"

"What's wrong, you really think how hot you are, it's an individual who has to chase you to see." Tina took the opportunity to attack him again.

Peter chuckled softly: "If we were photographed while eating together, it would be a fire, right? You are not afraid?"

Tina's face didn't change: "Even if it is photographed, they will scold you more."

When Peter heard her say this, he knew that she really didn't care.

In other words, she knew that even if it was photographed, he could handle it.

Peter has today's status in the entertainment industry, not just to talk about it.

In the later period of AdamPic, Karl basically did nothing. AdamPic grew to be what it is today. It is to Peter's credit.

In terms of tactics, he did not lose to Karl.

It's just that he was born in a happy and harmonious family, which is more humane than Karl, and it will also give people the illusion that he is very good to talk.

It was late, but there were still seven or eight customers in the store. They seemed to be students nearby, and no one noticed Tina and Peter.

People from the film academy often came to eat in the shop, and the boss also saw many handsome men and beautiful women. When he saw Tina, he still opened his eyes in surprise, but he quickly stopped and said, "Are you two? Go to the second floor, there is a space on the balcony on the second floor."

Tina smiled and accepted the boss's arrangement: "Okay."

Chapter 1460

There are fewer guests on the second floor than on the first floor.

The lights on the terrace are a bit dim, and there is only a table in the corner.

Tina understood that the boss recognized her and Peter, and was afraid that others would recognize them, so he thoughtfully took them to the less crowded terrace.

After the two sat down, the boss asked, "What kind of pot do you want?"

The boss's gaze swept over Tina and Peter, thinking that they probably usually go to high-end places and should rarely eat anything like skewers, and then asked: "Do you want mandarin ducks?"

"Red soup." Tina said with a smile.

"Red soup!" the boss repeated to himself.

The boss ordered the pot for them, and asked them to take what they needed. If it is inconvenient to take, the waiter can help.

Before leaving, the boss thought of something again and looked back at Tina, "Have you been here before?"

Tina curled her lips: "I graduated from the film school next door, and I often came with friends when I went to school."

When the boss heard her say this, he suddenly remembered: "I remember, you used to come with a girl back then, and that girl was not as pretty as you. At that time, my wife told me that you are so pretty and you are bound to be a big hit. , I was really hit by her!"

Alyssa still looked ugly when she was in college. The boss said that Alyssa was not cool and beautiful, but she was gentle.

It is also possible that it was because Tina was too beautiful at that time, Alyssa looked too ugly, and the contrast was too sharp, and was remembered by the boss.

She took food from the buffet. After the boss left, Tina took Peter to take the food.

There are few people at all, and no one notices them after taking the food.

Before returning to the dining table, the pot was already served. Tina picked out the cooking-resistant dishes and put them in the pot to cook. Then she heard the opposite Peter asking her: "You used to come often?"

"Yeah." Tina said indifferently, still holding vegetables in his hands, "I used to come here to eat with Alyssa."

Tina remembered the past, and smiled involuntarily: "When I was a child, I couldn't eat spicy food, you know, afterwards, Alyssa brought me to eat more times, and I became able to eat spicy food."

Peter lowered his eyes and responded in a low voice: "Hmm."

In the end, there was a hint of a helpless sigh.

During the years when he was not involved, Tina had new hobbies and new eating habits with others.

Even if this person is Alyssa, he still feels jealous.

Then there was endless regret.

He regrets why he was so scared at the time.

Tina didn't notice the change in Peter's mood, and continued to talk about the past.

"You don't know how too much the Adams' family was back then. Alyssa had been working and earning money by herself when she was in college. I think she worked so hard, so she tried every means to invite her to dinner, but she was stubborn and insisted to invite her back. I picked this cheap and tasty place, which tastes quite good, so we would come often after that!"

The Hot Pot boiled, and the mist rose, Peter's cold face was a little unclear.

The year he left, Tina was eighteen years old.

The year he came back, she was already twenty-four years old.

Twenty-four-year-old Tina graduated from college and made her debut.

During these six years, she went through the college entrance examination, went to college, graduated from college, and received the first announcement!

He did not participate in the most important and iconic events in her youth.
