Chapter 1481

Tina gave a cold snort and looked at Maria with a smile but a meaningful smile: "Mr. Scott liked you before."

As soon as Tina's words came out, Maria's complexion stiffened.

Cody did like Maria before.

Maria is also pretty good-looking. When she was in school, she had good grades and a gentle personality. At that time, everyone was not very old. It was normal for Cody to be tempted by girls like Maria.

However, Maria has not been a fuel-efficient lamp since then.

She knew that Cody liked her and deliberately hung Cody in order to use him to break into Peter's circle and did a lot of bewildering behavior.

At that time, everyone didn't understand at a young age, but now so many years have passed, all of them have been in the society and cultivated to perfection. How can they not understand the tricks of Maria.

It is also because everyone has seen through Maria's little tricks, so few people in this circle like Maria, at most for the sake of playing together as a child, for the sake of the George family, see Maria will also say hello, just a little bit superficial.

"Miss Weber, you are right. At that time, when I was young, I didn't like who I liked or disliked. That's not counting." Cody quickly turned his head to look at Tina and explained.

Tina didn't like Peter at the time, but after so many years, the two of them are still not together.

Just at this point, Cody dared to confess to Tina in front of so many people today.

Who doesn't know how close Peter and Tina were.

Back then, Peter went abroad without looking back, leaving Tina in the country alone.

Cody had never felt this way about Tina before, because he knew that she was the person Peter was protecting, and he was not the one who snatched women from his brother.

But now, he is back and settled down. Tina is still single. Looking at it, there are so many women around, married families, and restless restlessness. It seems that Tina is the most beautiful and the most achieving in life. Clean and perfect for marriage.

Instead of letting the family arrange for him a woman he doesn't like, it's better to find one he likes.

Tina has been with them since he was a child. What is her personality, he is very clear.

If he could really catch Tina, he would still pick up a bargain.

But he turned his head to look at her cold face and found that she was frowning slightly, obviously not feeling pleased.

Cody never thought that Tina would directly agree to him, and he planned to pursue a long-term pursuit, but he was completely rejected in public like this, and it seemed to be quite shameless.

So, he lowered his body and whispered in Tina's ear: "Save your friend a little, don't refuse me too ugly."

Peter kept staring at Cody. As soon as he got close, he stretched out his hand to open him, and then said to Tina in a serious manner: "Stephanie sent me a text message saying that it is urgent. Go out and call her back."

Tina: "???"

Stephanie doesn't know if she has something to call her directly?

Although Peter's excuse was very clumsy, he was serious and no one doubted it.

But Tina knew in her heart that Peter was looking for an excuse for her.

She responded with kindness, "Okay."

After speaking, she smiled and turned to look at Cody: "Mr. Scott, I'll go out and make a call first."

Cody wanted to follow up, so he was pulled back by Peter: "Drink, where to go."

He put the "pop" of the wine glass in front of Cody, and Cody was taken aback.

Chapter 1482

Peter didn't want to let Cody stay with Tina anymore, so he deliberately sent her away.

Before coming, Tina had said that she would not disclose her relationship with Peter.

Now that Cody came so out, Tina felt a little sad, and it seemed unfair to Peter.

However, she has no choice.

She was really scared, she didn't dare to gamble on everything like when she was eighteen.

She was also bored with such a shrinking and looking forward and backward self, but she couldn't control the fear in her heart.

This is probably the sequelae of Peter leaving her behind.

Her pride and self-esteem, self-confidence and freedom were all flattened by him when he left.

Even if she decides to start again with Peter because of impulse and momentary courage, she has no sense of security in her relationship with Peter and is ready to withdraw at any time.

In the current relationship, she cowardly and selfishly chose to save herself first.

Tina also knew that this was a bit unfair to Peter.

She stood at the door of the box for a moment, then walked to the elevator.

With Peter's character, after she left, he would definitely clean up Cody, and before Peter cleaned up Cody, she needed to find a place to spend time.

Best Day is a comprehensive entertainment venue with a bar downstairs.

She took the elevator downstairs to the bar.

There was a band singing on stage, Tina found a corner and sat down, ordered a glass of wine, and drank.

The atmosphere is right and lively.

There were five people in the band. Tina looked at it, and always felt that the drummer looked familiar, but due to the lighting and sight, she could not see that person's face, and she could only tell that it was a girl.

She narrowed his eyes and stared at the stage for a while, but didn't see who the girl was. She just felt that the more she looked at it, the more familiar it became. Could it be that she was from the entertainment industry?

At this time, the male guest in a seat in front of Tina talked to the waiter with his face turned, and Tina glanced at him casually, a flash of interest flashed in her eyes.

She thought, she knew who the girl on the stage was.

Tom was very keen, felt her cool gaze, turned his head and looked over.

Tina raised her own glass and motioned to Tom.

He was stunned for a moment, and raised his glass to signal.

Tina's gaze swept back and forth between Tom and the girl on the stage, took out her mobile phone and took a photo on the stage and sent it to Peter. By the way, he asked, "Will it be full of drums?"

She looked familiar with the drummer on the stage before, and she didn't think about Stephanie at all. The main reason was that Stephanie seemed to be too second in the middle, and Tina never thought that she would still do this.

Peter received the photo from Tina and was drinking.

Feeling the phone vibrating in his pocket, he put the wine bottle aside, took out the phone and took a look, zoomed in on the photo, and then replied: "Why went to the bar?"

Tina saw Peter's reply and couldn't help but roll her eyes. This man's focus was really!

Tina threw the phone aside, too lazy to return him.

Cody muttered, "Miss Weber hasn't come back yet?"

"The work of an artist is more complicated, and there are many places that need to be communicated," Peter said nonsense seriously and continued to drink.

Although Cody noticed that after he publicly confessed to Tina, Peter was a little unhappy, but he didn't think it was anything. After all, Peter had been protecting Tina since he was a child.

So he said to Peter recklessly: "Mr. Grant, how can I get to my Miss Weber if you could give me a trick."

Chapter 1483

Miss Weber!

The corner of Peter's lips was pulled slightly, there was no arc, the whole person looked as if he was smiling, but after a closer look, he was not smiling.

After two seconds, Peter asked Cody unhurriedly: "Do you really want to chase Tina?"

"Of course, Tina is your sister, can I not be sincere? If I am not sincere, you can't fix me?" Cody straightened his back, and said how honest and honest the whole person looks like. With his own determination.

Peter's lips curled up when he heard the words, and this time he really laughed, turning his head and beckoning to the waiter standing not far away: "Bring a box of wine."

The waiter glanced at the empty wine bottle in front of Peter and confirmed: "Mr. Grant, should I bring another box of this wine?"

Peter nodded his head with a faint expression, and tapped lightly with his long fingers on the table, appearing a little impatient.

Mainly, because this is a foreign wine, it is very strong. Although there are many people in the box, it is not enough to finish a box. Drinking too much will cause problems.

But Peter had already spoken, and the waiter naturally delivered the wine.

"Open it now?" the waiter asked.

Peter glanced at it and said quietly: "Open it all."

Not only the waiter, but the others were also taken aback.

Someone realized that something was wrong, and the music in the box became quieter without knowing who turned it off.

Peter was a frequent visitor of Best Day, and he had such a deep friendship with Karl, and the waiter naturally listened to him and opened up.

Someone wanted to round the stage and said grinning: "Mr. Grant, you can't finish drinking so much, it's a waste!"

Peter ignored them.

Then no one dared to speak out again.

The waiter had a drink, and left the scene as if ran away.

Peter pushed the bottle in front of Cody, and looked at Cody sharply: "Go ahead."

Cody and Peter are about the same age, and their personalities are not restrained.

The path Cody chose was to wander around. He called it to explore the mysteries of nature. To put it bluntly, he was just eating, drinking, and having fun with the family's money, and didn't want to take responsibility.

But Peter did not choose to inherit the family business, but met Karl, and chose to start from scratch with Karl, and then he had today's prosperity.

Except for Karl who contributed more in the early days of the prosperous period, Peter was responsible for most of the following years, he was already able to stand alone and possessed the thundering skills of a businessman.

In these years, he has been in the business world, making Peter involuntarily exuding the fierce aura that only the upper class has when he is unhappy.

But how could Cody, who eats, drinks and has fun all day long, beat Peter on the aura? He was seen by Peter's sharp eyes, even if his scalp was tingling.

Cody didn't go home very often during these years, but occasionally came back. When people gathered together, they also talked about things that were not related to interests. The atmosphere was naturally harmonious.

It was precisely because of this that Cody couldn't see the gap between himself and Peter.

At this time, he vaguely understood the gap between himself and Peter, which made him feel a little embarrassed and his complexion could not help but become ugly.

Cody looked at the wine bottle in front of him, speaking slowly and slowly: "Mr. Grant, we are all these years old, so how come we still play the same as when we were young? Drinking can solve everything, so we can't do anything differently?"

Chapter 1484

"Different?" Peter's tone was light, but his disdain was overflowing between his eyebrows.

Unconvinced, Cody was about to speak when he heard Peter's ridiculous voice: "What have you won me?"

As soon as this was said, the box became quieter.

Everyone noticed that Peter was serious about this. Thinking that Maria and Peter had a good friendship, some people went to Maria and said in a low voice, "You have a good relationship with Mr. Grant. Please persuade him. The two brothers, don't have to be like this for this little thing, how ugly!"

Maria hesitated.

In case she went up to persuade Peter, if Peter listened to her persuasion, she would also have faced, if Peter did not listen to her persuasion, wouldn't she be ashamed in front of so many people.

"Okay! I'll drink with you." Cody said this sentence almost gritted his teeth.

Maria also breathed a sigh of relief because she didn't need her to come out to persuade them at any risk of shame.

â€¦

The band performance on stage is over.

The band left and went backstage to change to another performance.

Tom got up and walked over to Tina.

Walking to Tina, he asked very gentlemanly: "Miss Weber, do you mind if I sit down and chat?"

Tom's expression was very calm, with a slight smile in his eyes, and the whole person looked very gentle.

Tina didn't agree or refuse, and only said aloud, "What is Mr. Allison going to talk to me?"

Tom was not polite, and sat down directly opposite Tina: "Just chat."

Tina's eyes fell on the stage, and a new performer appeared on the stage, who looked like a dance troupe, dancing hot dances.

"My Life and Me", when is the next recording, have you received any notice?" Tom's voice sounded.

"Afraid that your sponsorship will be ridiculous?" There was a trace of teasing in the calm tone.

Tom was noncommittal: "Chatting."

Tina smiled: "The program group has its own arrangements, you can rest assured."

"Ms. Tina?" Stephanie's voice sounded from the side.

Tina turned her head and saw Stephanie and yelled with a smile: "Stephanie."

"Why are you here?" Stephanie's tone was a little surprised. After all, Tina had been nestling at home recently. It was quite unexpected to encounter her in the bar.

"There was a meeting upstairs. I felt bored and went down." Tina said lightly.

"Oh." Stephanie nodded.

Seeing that Stephanie and Tina had finished speaking, Tom said, "Miss Stephanie."

The lights in the bar are extinguished, bright for a while and dark for a while. Stephanie was too familiar with Tina, and then she recognized her at a glance. Just now Grant was talking to Tina without noticing Tom was there.

"Mr. Allison, you are here too!" Stephanie's gaze swept back and forth on Tina and Tom, her eyes changed subtly, and she could not help but sit down and look at Tom carefully.

Tom calmly met Stephanie's gaze, letting her look at himself, probably because of the light, making him appear gentle and elegant.

Stephanie's face turned red for a moment, turned her head hurriedly, and squatted: "That's a coincidence!"

“It’s a coincidence. I didn’t expect Miss Stephanie to be here.” Tom’s eyes were slightly bent, his speech slowed down a lot, and his smile leaked from between his eyebrows, becoming more gentle.

Chapter 1485

Tina glanced back and forth over the two of them calmly.

Stephanie is still young and is Peter’s cousin. The people around her, both men and women, give her a bit of face, which has led to her friends being crowded.

These friends of hers are all from wealthy families and grew up in the upper class. Weighing the pros and cons and calculating the benefits are the courses they must learn, but because they are young and with little qualifications, they are always frizzy.

Tom is different from the frizzy boys around her. He is restrained and calm, with the calmness and tolerance of everything under control. He has the charm of a mature man after time has settled. This is a boy of the same age anyway. Are incomparable.

But at the same time, Tom had the shrewdness that a businessman should have.

The two words, gentle, shrewd, and somewhat contradictory, were displayed in Tom very harmoniously.

Stephanie didn’t like him because of Tom’s cold heat before, but she couldn’t hate him.

After all, no one can hate a handsome, gentle and generous man.

Tom is exactly the kind of man who is most fascinated by young girls.

This is completely human nature.

Thinking about this, Stephanie’s mood was much calmer. She just felt the charm of Tom just like most girls. There was nothing to be shy about.

Stephanie’s expression became more calm, and her tone became more natural: “I came here to perform, you should have seen it just now.”

The cups in front of Tina and Tom were almost empty, and they had sat there for a while.

“I don’t see that you are still playing on the team, haven’t you thought about debut?” His cold fingers clasped the transparent water glass, slender and white.

Stephanie smiled and shrugged: “Hobby.”

Then she added another sentence: “I still prefer to bring artists.”

Tina smiled without saying a word.

Tom seemed to be interested in the band, and asked Stephanie in a serious tone: “Is it hard to learn drums?”

“It shouldn’t be difficult. I have been learning since I was a child. I vaguely remember that it was easy to get started”

When Stephanie talked about the things she liked, his eyes were bright.

Tina found that she knew very little about her agent.

She glanced at Tom again. Tom listened carefully to Stephanie's teaching about drumming when she was a child, without a trace of perfunctory. He completely removed his usual shrewd attitude and looked more like a good person.

And Stephanie obviously took this set and spoke more vigorously.

Tina thought of the things that Tom had used before, and sneered in her heart. Sven sc*m was probably Tom's kind.

The two were engaged in chatting, Tina had no place to intervene, and then remembered Peter, opened WeChat and sent him a message: "Hurry up when you are over there. Your cousin will be abducted by a wild man."

Peter sent two messages in a row.

"I will get rid of Cody this stinky boy and come there."

"Who?"

solve? How does he solve Cody?

Tina thought of Peter's tricks and organized her language: "Is it a young man, don't be too cruel, it's almost done, leave alive."

"Relax. [Dear, k!ss]" Peter also posted a "dear, k!ss" emoticon.

Tina: "[angry.JPG]"

Peter: "That girl is full of inattentiveness, please watch, don't let her be deceived and help her count."

Tina: "Nonsense."

Of course, she knows that Stephanie is full of shortcomings.

Chapter 1486

Seeing Tina's reply, Peter slightly twitched the corner of his lower lips. Just about to reply, Cody stretched out his hand and almost yelled, "Drinkingâ€¦! what are you doing with your mobile phone, can't you afford to loseâ€¦!"

Peter looked at Cody, whose eyes had fallen apart, and thought of what Tina said earlier, and said, "Can you still drink? Take a moment."

"Yes! I'm too capable!" In order to show that he was very capable, Cody picked up the bottle and started filling it.

Peter raised his eyebrows blankly.

It's this brat who is looking for death, don't blame him.

â€¦!

When Tina's glass of wine reached the bottom, Stephanie seemed to finally find that she seemed to be left out in the cold.

She glanced at Tina's cup and said, "Ms. Tina, would you like to drink more? I'll treat you."

Tina smiled: "No need."

Stephanie turned her head and glanced at Tom. She had been chatting with him just now, and found that he knew a lot and had a very good chat. She still had a little bit of thoughts, but she couldn't keep hanging in the cold.

Just thinking about changing the topic.

But she hadn't thought of any topic that all three of them could talk about, and she heard Tina speak out.

"Did Mr. Allison's fiancée come back?"

Tina's words reminded Stephanie that Tom had a fiancée.

The loss was like ink smearing on paper, and it quickly smeared, covering the entire atrium of Stephanie.

He has a fiancée.

Last time, he told her that he said his fiancée ran away and he had to wait for her.

He also said that his fiancée was young and he had to give in.

don't know which girl is so lucky.

Suddenly she became envious.

A smile appeared on Tom's face: "Not yet, but I don't think I will wait too long."

Stephanie felt Tom's gaze sweep over her face, and he didn't know if it was intentional.

If it is deliberate, he is reminding her that he is not single, so she should not think too much?

Stephanie curled her mouth, drank dully, and turned to look away, too lazy to look at Tom again.

"I'm really curious about what kind of girl Mr. Allison's fiancée is like." Tina leaned against the back of the sofa, looking curious.

"She's!" Tom said with a gentle expression, without thinking: "She's cute, funny, and simple."

Tina wanted to laugh a little: "Is that so?"

Stephanie heard it in his ears and couldn't help but want to put these three characteristics on herself, but she soon reacted to what she was already doing, and was a little angry.

Tom smiled: "This is enough."

Tina said, "I thought Mrs. Allison would like to be smart and beautiful."

The smile on Tom's face faded a little: "Why are you saying this?"

“Because Allison is always a very smart person, I thought you only like fellow travelers.” Tina’s tone was a bit more serious than before.

Tom’s expression also became a little serious: “Partners need fellow travelers.”

Tina looked at him, and didn’t mean to relax. There was even a hint of provocation in her tone: “Really?”

Tom calmly responded: “Of course.”

The atmosphere is a bit wrong.

Stephanie even felt that in the next second, the two were going to raise the table and quarrel.

She thought again that it was a coincidence that Tina and Tom appeared here at the same time, and there had been the same coincidence before.

There was a bold idea in her heart, Tom couldn’t it be that he likes Tina?

He said that he was waiting for his fiancée, but in fact he liked Tina and wanted to step on two boats, so Tina deliberately asked about his fiancée, and then provoke him with an unkind tone?

Chapter 1487

Stephanie was taken aback by this bold idea.

Tina and Tom were still staring at each other, the expressions on their faces were a little unpredictable, Stephanie couldn’t understand them.

But she started to calm down.

Ms. Tina is beautiful and smart, and the drama is good. No matter who likes her, it is understandable. She even began to wonder whether Tom deserves Tina.

However, the relationship between Tina and her cousin is also a bit unclear!

Love triangle?

No, plus the legendary fiancée of Tom, it is four corners of love!

This is full of dramatic plot, does it really exist?

Saw it a long time ago.

After Stephanie had a violent brainstorming, she heard Tina say: “Then bless you.”

Eh?

Is this the beginning of the blessing?

Stephanie looked at Tina, then turned to look at Tom.

“Thank you.” Tom responded earnestly.

Stephanie really felt that she was just a baby and couldn’t keep up with their thoughts.

Tina didn't know what Stephanie had made up. He looked at the time and felt that Peter was almost over. He turned to ask Stephanie, "How did you come here? I should be with you later. Cousin go back together, do you want to go together?"

"Iâ€¦â€¦"

As soon as Stephanie spoke, she was interrupted by Tom: "I'm on the way, I can drop Miss Stephanie off."

Stephanie: "Huh?"

Although they knew the gentleman Tom, they had a very pleasant chat today, but they weren't familiar enough to go home with him.

Stephanie thought for a while, and felt that Tom was very angry.

So, she refused Tom: "No needâ€¦ I can take my cousin's car and go with Ms. Tina."

"You don't bother them, they didn't go along with you." Tom's tone aggravated, and there was a bit of unhappiness hidden in his tone.

Stephanie became more sure that Tom was outraged. Peter was her cousin and Tina was her artist. Not to mention sending her home, even if she came home to eat and drink, it wouldn't be troublesome.

Instead, it was quite troublesome for Tom to send her back.

Stephanie deliberately said, "I shouldn't be in the same way with you?"

"I said I would go along the way." Tom's tone returned to his usual gentleness, but he was more tolerant of rejection than the unpleasant tone just now.

Stephanie also felt that she was awkward enough, so she dared not say anything to refuse, and cast her eyes down and said, "Well, I'll trouble youâ€¦"

"No trouble." Tom smiled as if finally satisfied.

Tina received a WeChat message from Peter: "It's over, I'll come down to find you."

Tina replied: "Okay."

She silently calculated the time it would take Peter to get down to the bar, which was only ten minutes at most.

But she waited for twenty minutes without waiting for Peter.

She was worried about sending Peter a WeChat: "Are you down yet? Where?"

Peter: "WC"

Tina frowned, Peter usually has no habit of calling "WC".

She asked again: "In the toilet for so long?"

Peter didn't reply, waited a few minutes and didn't reply.

It is impossible for Peter not to reply to her normally.

She stood up anxiously, and looked at Stephanie with a suspicious look, and said, "I'm going to find Peter first."

Then she turned her head and said to Tom, "I will trouble you if I am full."

Tom nodded slightly.

Tina left the bar, not sure which floor Peter was on, so he looked for the toilet on the bar floor first.

Chapter 1488

The public toilets on the bar floor are actually spare, and very few people usually go there.

Tina walked to the door of the men's bathroom and took a deep breath. If there were people inside, she would pretend that she had gone wrong.

After doing a good job of mental construction for herself, she walked quickly in the direction of the toilet and walked directly into the men's section.

The toilet is not very large, you can see it as soon as you enter it, there is no one outside, only a compartment door is vaguely unclosed, but there is no movement.

Tina walked over and opened the door to take a look. The man in the compartment holding the toilet and vomiting dimly, who is not Peter?

Peter's shirt was already crumpled. He sat on the ground with a look of exhaustion. The whole person looked very embarrassed, and there was still the usual appearance of CEO Grant, who was incomparable.

Tina hadn't seen Peter drink like this for many years, and she couldn't react for a while.

In the memory, the last time he was drunk was more than ten years ago. On the night of her junior high school graduation party, a group of people closed the door in the KTV box to drink, but her classmates praised him. At that time, he was only a teenager, desperate to save face, and drank all the male classmates present.

Then, he walked out of the box and fell straight down, returning home to sleep for two days before relieving himself.

Tina really didn't expect that after so many years, she would see him again in such an embarrassing appearance.

Peter vomited again, Tina came back to her senses, looking at his appearance a little bit dumbfounded.

She knew the amount of Peter's drink, and he drank it like this. It is conceivable that Cody was drinking like this.

The drunk was slow to respond, and Tina had stood here for a while, and Peter did not find her either.

Although he is usually a delicate man, he is very particular about food and clothing, but he is a layman, but now he is like this, and he is not handsome anymore.

Tina rarely watched him like this, and felt a little tempted to laugh, and even wanted to take out her mobile phone to take a video and show it to him when he is sober.

But on another thought, Peter drank it like this, because she removed her eager hand from the edge of her pocket. What if she wanted to post the video to Moments?

At that time, Peter was afraid that he would “fix her without thinking about the old feelings.”

So she leaned slightly and called his name softly.

“Peter.”

His reaction was to stop suddenly, seeming to be discerning whether someone called his name. After two seconds, he slowly turned his head and looked in Tina’s direction.

He looked blank, his eyes without focus slowly looked towards Tina, then tilted his head to identify who the woman in front of him was.

Tina was so cute with her head tilted, the corners of his lips couldn’t help but bend slightly, squatting in front of him, couldn’t help but want to touch his head.

However, she stretched out her hand, before she touched Peter’s head, she was waved away, and said with a vicious expression, “Who are you.”

If it is normal, Peter’s appearance is still quite a deterrent.

But at this time he was already drunk, the whole person was messy, and he was vomiting dimly, but he liked to be clean, so there was nothing on his clothes, and even so, it seemed that there was no deterrent.

Tina couldn’t get angry, he slowly narrowed his smile, and said solemnly: “I’m your father.”

Peter: “You f@rt, where is my old man so sweet as you.”

“Am I very fragrant?” Tina moved towards him further closing the distance between them.

Peter frowned and leaned back: “You stay away from me, I have a wife.”

Chapter 1489

As Peter spoke, he still had to push her, but he had no strength at the moment, dizzy, and there were ghosts in front of him. He stretched out his hand and pushed indiscriminately. He did not touch Tina and he fell again. Going down.

Tina didn’t move in front of him, simply squatted in front of him, and said, “Who are you lying to? You are not married at all.”

Peter retorted: “Tina is my wife anyway!”

Tina was startled, and asked him, “Did Tina say that she wants to marry you?”

“She won’t marry me, who will she marry, eh?” Peter looked angry: “That little boy Cody has been drunk and can’t crawl anymore. Who else will snatch her from me? Who?”

After speaking, he was still provocative, and shouted twice: "Who else!"

Immediately, he tilted his head again, muttering something against the wall.

Tina leaned forward and vaguely heard the words "married".

She was also somewhat speechless to herself.

How boring she is to squat in the men's room and chat with a drunkard.

Although no one will come to this toilet normally, what if someone remembers that this toilet is the place where they should come?

Time to take Peter away first.

She got up, covered the toilet, then flushed, and took a tissue to find Peter to wipe the corners of his mouth.

Although he was drunk and unconscious, he was wary by nature.

As soon as Tina's hand stretched over, he slapped her hand vigilantly and hid behind: "You don't touch me."

The drunk Peter was very interesting. Tina smiled and patted his head: "Peter! You see who I am!"

Peter looked up at her and looked at her for a long time, as if finally recognizing her, he was about to stand up with his palm on the ground, but now his whole body in vain, unable to stand up at all, and moved. It slipped again.

This slip made his already unconscious head even more faint.

Peter frowned, his voice hoarse: "Uncomfortable."

Looks wronged.

Peter was really drunk.

It should be too much drinking, not the same as before.

"Be good, don't move and let me take you home." Tina's tone became serious.

Peter was really obedient, he didn't move any more, and looked at her eagerly.

She squatted down and took a lot of effort to help him up.

He was really drunk this time. He didn't have any strength, and all the weight was on her.

She took a heavy breath and helped him to walk outside the cubicle.

Peter turned his head slowly, leaning against her ear, and asked with his tongue out: "Ms. Weber, I am not sinkingâ€¦!"

Ms. Weberâ€¦!

“Weber is dead.” Tina couldn’t laugh or cry, drunk so drunk, it looked like he was going to die, but the problem has not changed.

He is like a child when he gets drunk.

After she helped him out, she pressed him on the side of the sink and washed his face with cold water.

Peter was probably uncomfortable after being washed, and turned his head, but the next second, he was smashed back by Tina, giving him a cold shower in twos or twos.

Then, she wiped his face indiscriminately: “Do you feel more awake?”

Peter called out: “Ms. Weber.”

“Huh?” Tina curled her lips and called her Ms. Weber, still not sober.

Forget it, let’s get rid of it first.

Tina was about to help him out when she heard him say very solemnly: “The sink is too shallow, it won’t drown me.”

Tina: “???”

Chapter 1490

Tina stopped talking, and helped him go out without saying a word.

She thinks too much.

She originally wanted to wash his face to make him more awake, but she didn’t expect that the more she washed him, the more stupid he would become.

Tina ignored Peter, and Peter didn’t have the energy to speak.

She could obviously feel strenuous, she even suspected that he used to pretend to be drunk and still walking.

When approaching the elevator entrance, she heard Stephanie’s voice.

“Ms. Tina, cousin?”

Stephanie noticed that Tina was struggling, so she trot over. She looked at Peter carefully, “Ah, why do you drink it like this?”

Stephanie saw that he closed his eyes slightly, looking stupid, and stretched out two fingers to Peter to shake: “Cousin, look at my fingers, is this one or ten?”

Peter opened his eyes and took a serious look at the two fingers that Stephanie stretched out.

Then he slapped Stephanie’s head with a slap, and said, “You stinky girl, you have been studying for so many years, even two. Don’t even know?”

Stephanie: “â€¦!” It looks like he was drunk, so why remember to teach her?

“Mr. Grant.” Tom didn’t know where he came from and greeted Peter.

Peter still remembered in a daze what Tina had said to him before.

Tina said before that his cousin was abducted by a wild man.

Peter squinted his eyes, raised his eyebrows frantically, and stared at Tom, "Are you the wild man?"

A crack appeared on Tom's calm face: "What misunderstanding does Mr. Grant have about me?"

Tina also remembered what she had said to Peter before, and she understood what Peter meant.

Just as she was about to explain out loud, she heard Stephanie's anxious explanation: "Cousin, don't talk nonsense, Mr. Allison and Ms. Tina have nothing to do with this!"

Tina: "???" When did she have something with Tom?

Stephanie had thought about Tom's love of Tina. At this moment, she heard Peter calling Tom a "wild man". He thought it was Peter who actually knew that Tom liked Tina. When he is drunk, he saw Tom. Speaking truth after drinking.

Peter is her cousin, she understands his temperament, plus he is drunk, she is quite afraid that he will fight Tom.

So, she took another step forward and stood in front of Tom and separated Tom from Peter, with a flattering smile on her face: "Cousin, you, believe me, I can testify. I am with Ms. Tina every day. Together, what I said is absolutely true, Ms. Tina and Mr. Allison have absolutely nothing to do with this!"

"Okay, don't say it." Tina interrupted Stephanie's words. She was really afraid that Stephanie would go on and say something.

Peter is right, Stephanie is inconsistent.

This little idiot didn't know how to grow to such a big safely.

Tom also lowered his eyes and rubbed his forehead slightly. He didn't understand what Stephanie was thinking about in that little head. He thought he had acted very obviously, but it was obvious to Stephanie. It's not obvious yet.

"Oh." Stephanie hurriedly walked over to help Peter: "My cousin is quite heavy, Ms. Tina, I will help you."

Tom looked at the two women, Stephanie and Tina, helping Peter, a tall drunkard, who couldn't stand. He coughed lightly and said, "I'll help."
