

Predestined 1501

Chapter 1501

Alyssa naturally considered the problem from Tina's perspective.

Regarding the matter between Tina and Peter, Tina made her own decision. Alyssa respected Tina's decision and would not go too far.

Although it won't be troublesome, she still has some worry in her heart.

Worry for Tina.

Although Tina was acting calm and stable now, as if nothing happened.

But Alyssa knew that Tina's decision to start again with Peter must have been a lot of determination.

She must have thoroughly thought through it, must have thought a lot, and finally made this decision.

It was not easy for Tina to make this decision, but she still wants to make it public with Peter.

The rhythm is too fast, Alyssa worried about her.

How could Tina not know what Alyssa thought in her heart, but she didn't start with the true central idea that Alyssa wanted to express, but smiled and said, "Who knows when is the real best time? If you don't know, then now is the best time."

"Alyssa, what do you think?" Tina asked.

Alyssa hesitated for a moment, then slowly nodded: "Yes."

She knew that Tina had made a decision.

The decision is made and also ready to bear the consequences.

At this moment, Alyssa heard a knock on the door from Tina.

Tina's complexion became a little weird: "Peter has come to tell me to eat breakfast!"

Sure enough, the next moment, Peter's voice came from outside the door.

"Tina, the breakfast is ready, come out soon, otherwise it will be cold."

"Immediately."

Tina called out.

Peter got a response, and then turned and left.

Tina listened for a while, but didn't hear anything outside. She guessed that Peter was leaving. Then she breathed a sigh of relief and said to Alyssa, "Let's do this first, I'm going to try the poison. If I can still see the sun tomorrow, I will invite you to dinner."

Tina added: "Please have dinner with CEO Adams."

In any case, it is a big event for her and Peter to be together, and in any case, She has to invite Alyssa and Karl to have a meal.

Alyssa laughed: "Okay, wait for you."

â€¦

Tina finished washing, changed her clothes, and left the bedroom.

Peter was already sitting at the dining table, setting out the plate.

Tina walked over and took a look, and found that Peter made sandwiches, which looked really good.

She looked at Peter in surprise.

Peter smiled and opened the chair for her: "Come and try it. I've been learning this for a long time, and I haven't had a chance to show it. I'm afraid it's a step backward."

Although he was so humble, the hint of expectation in his tone still leaked his thoughts.

Obviously waiting to be praised, have to pretend to be calm and gentle.

Tina sat down, and felt that he was doing a good job, so he took out his mobile phone to take pictures.

Peter was sitting opposite her, looking at her with a smile.

Tina took the photo with a calm face, and quickly sent it to Alyssa, and then buckled the phone to the table just like an okay person, and started eating the sandwich made by Peter.

"How is it?" Peter asked her quickly.

Sandwiches do not actually require much skill.

Tina has also eaten a lot of sandwiches, of all kinds.

Don't know if it is a psychological effect. She felt that Peter's sandwiches are different.

very special.

Especially delicious.

"OK."

Chapter 1502

Tina deliberately said it was OK, just to watch Peter's reaction.

Peter's eyes lit up instantly: "If you like it, I can make it for you every day."

Tina laughed and said, "It's beautiful to think."

Peter smiled and started eating breakfast.

â€¦

Peter went to the company after breakfast.

He drank with Cody and slept at home for one day and one night. He didn't go to the company all day yesterday. The company still has many things waiting for him to deal with.

This busyness is a whole day.

Tina's contract was about to expire, and she began to prepare for the studio.

In the past, in addition to acting, she wanted to make more money desperately. She wanted to prove her worth and make sure that her choice was not wrong.

As the age gradually increased, Tina's thoughts also changed a little.

What she has to do, she never needs to prove like others.

Proving to others is a meaningless thing, so that you can understand more clearly what you are doing. This is the most important thing.

After Tina got a general understanding of the situation.

In the afternoon, she made an appointment with Alyssa for coffee.

Alyssa attended the appointment on time.

"Your complexion is good." When Alyssa saw her, she looked at her up and down.

Tina smiled: "No matter how good it is, it's not as good as yours."

Tina held her chin and looked at Alyssa's face.

"Why keep staring at me?" Alyssa asked aloud when Tina had been staring at her.

"I don't know if it is my illusion, I always think you seem to be more beautiful, your skin is better, and your face is a little rounder!" Tina laughed involuntarily when she said the second half.

Alyssa touched her face: "Is it so obvious?"

"Huh?" Tina didn't understand what she meant.

Alyssa smiled: "I have indeed gained a little weight recently."

"Is there any good thing to be so happy after being fat?" Tina saw Alyssa's expression and knew something was going on.

At this time the waiter brought coffee up.

Alyssa thanked her, stirring her coffee with her eyes down, and after a while, she whispered, "I'm pregnant."

"What?" Tina reacted for a while, and then she came back. Alyssa said something, she was overjoyed, and took the coffee in front of Alyssa: "You are pregnant, such a big thing! eh, Don't drink this coffee!"

"Drink less, it's okay!" Alyssa said she was going to grab the coffee Tina took away.

But Tina didn't give it, and ordered her a glass of juice.

Alyssa felt helpless, so she had to bite her straw and drink juice.

"When did it happen? The boss was so happy for this reason?" Tina asked expectantly.

"He doesn't know yet." Alyssa said with a smile.

People who live happily will laugh involuntarily.

Alyssa is like this now, the whole body is warm, always smiling.

"You haven't told him about such a big thing, he doesn't know?" Tina thought for a while, and felt right: "If he knew that you were pregnant, he would definitely not let you out alone."

"How old is it?" Tina's eyes couldn't help but look at Alyssa's stomach.

"For a month, he has been too busy lately. I think he will not be so busy in a few days. Give him another surprise, lest he knows now and not cares about work."

Alyssa knew best what kind of temper Karl has.

If he knows that she is pregnant, he must have ignored the job, and must take care of her first.

She is actually not that fragile, but Karl always seems to think she is papery.

Chapter 1503

"Then your surprise is big enough." Tina quipped Alyssa.

Alyssa touched her lower abdomen, her eyes were gentle, her tone of helplessness: "If Karl knows that I am pregnant, he will definitely not let me go out alone. I have to cherish my free time."

Tina thought about Karl's behavior, and then nodded, "However, he also cares about you."

Alyssa smiled upon hearing this.

Such peaceful and happy days now often make her feel unreal.

"Are you hungry? I heard that it's easy to get hungry when you are pregnant, so let's order something to eat." After Tina said, regardless of Alyssa's reaction, she called the waiter.

Alyssa was indeed a little hungry, so she ordered snacks and refreshments.

Regarding Tina's decision to make a public relationship with Peter, Alyssa knew that Tina was determined by her will, so she didn't say more.

It's just an announcement of a relationship.

Even if the direction of public opinion is really wrong at that time, the big deal will be spent.

Alyssa can see a lot now.

As long as everyone is well, and on the basis of not violating the principle and causing harm to others, it does not matter to use some innocuous means.

After a while, the waiter delivered the snack they were carrying, but the waiter was hit by someone before he delivered it.

–Snapped!

There was a crisp sound, the sound of cups and plates falling to the ground.

Alyssa and Tina turned their heads together, and saw a mess over there.

It was a woman who bumped into the waiter. The woman turned her back to Tina and they couldn't see her face clearly.

The man next to the woman yelled, "What's the matter? Don't you have eyes? I want to complain to your restaurant. My wife has a big belly!"

Hearing the words "big belly", Alyssa couldn't help but look back.

Alyssa looked at it for a moment, then turned to Tina and said, "Why do I feel that the pregnant girl is a bit familiar? Where did I see her?"

Tina looked serious and said, "It's Cathy."

"Cathy?" Alyssa looked shocked.

She couldn't help but look back.

Cathy's ability to act like a star naturally looks more beautiful than ordinary people.

In the past, the Cathy that Alyssa saw were all big names with delicate makeup.

The woman not far away had slightly messy hair and obviously hadn't taken care of it carefully. The clothes on her body were also simple cotton shirts. She couldn't see any brand, but she was very thin from the back.

Alyssa looked carefully for a while before connecting the woman not far away with Cathy.

"The man next to her" Alyssa looked at the man next to Cathy with some doubts, dressed plainly, looked a little sloppy, and didn't seem to be rich at all.

With Cathy's ambition, it is impossible to find someone without money in the next home.

Tina knew Alyssa's doubts and explained: "The man next to her, Henry, should be the biological father of her child."

Alyssa asked: "How do you know?"

"In the past, I heard someone mention it at dinner, and later I met twice by chance. Cathy is a newcomer and has no experience. She can't hide this matter, and it's not a secret."

Tina had indeed known for a long time that Cathy had been taken care of by Henry.

With Tina's current coffee position, her own family background, and Peter behind her back, investors and directors from all walks of life gave her a three-point courtesy. Unless she is particularly short-sighted, most people really won't be with her. Presumptuous in front of him, but this does not affect those people chatting about some circle gossip.

Chapter 1504

After listening to Alyssa, she said with a surprised look: "You really don't have any secrets in the entertainment industry."

Tina chuckled: "It's not that there is no secret, it's because ordinary people can't hide it."

Why do so many people rush to power and money? That's because these two things are really useful, so useful that they can cover the sky with one hand.

Alyssa is noncommittal, but she has personal experience of such things.

At this time, a waiter came over.

When he arrived at the dining table, he bent down slightly and apologized to them: "I'm sorry, two ladies, there was an accident just now. Your meal was accidentally overturned by our waiter, so I will make a new one for you immediately. It's free for you, and please forgive me."

"It's okay." Tina looked at Cathy again.

Cathy stood quietly behind Henry, with her hands on her side, and did not help her lower abdomen. Henry didn't care about Cathy's condition, but just kept making noises there.

Seeing Henry's unstoppable appearance, the waiter had to invite the manager over.

A farce.

Alyssa glanced at Tina and said to the waiter: "No need to exempt the order, it's okay."

In this restaurant, she and Tina come often, the things are good, the service is also very thoughtful, and the customer is first.

But it's not the store's fault to meet customers like Henry and Cathy.

The waiter just smiled slightly: "This is what the boss meant."

It means that Alyssa and Tina will still be exempted.

Alyssa didn't say more.

After the manager came over, he didn't know what he had said to Henry. Henry quickly became quiet and was invited into the box by the manager respectfully.

Cathy lowered her head to follow behind, and when she walked into the corridor around the corner, she seemed to feel something, and suddenly turned her head to look at Tina.

Tina didn't avoid it, but met Cathy's gaze straight.

The lights in the lobby were warm tones, and people's faces were not clearly illuminated, but the resentment conveyed by Cathy's eyes was very clearly felt by Tina.

Cathy followed in, and Tina turned her head.

She picked up the coffee cup in front of her and finished it in one breath.

Feeling a little disappointed.

Have a good coffee with Alyssa, and you can also meet Cathy.

Seeing Tina lowered her head, Alyssa turned her head to look at her face: "What kind of expression is this? Isn't it because you feel softened when you see Cathy like this?"

"No." Tina raised her head with a thoughtful expression on her face: "I just think that Peter, a dog man, is really cruel."

Cathy is a bit stupid, but not so stupid as to be hopelessly stupid.

Therefore, she couldn't take the initiative to find Henry and tell him that she was pregnant with his child.

With Cathy's appearance, after the child was knocked out, in Rostenvel she will be unable to stay, and if she fished in another city, she could live a good life.

Cathy followed Henry, mostly because of Peter.

Peter is a smiling tiger. On the surface, he is kind, but in fact, he is the most proficient in tricks, depending on whether he is offended.

Alyssa understood the meaning of Tina's words: "It's really cruel."

The snake hit seven inches, which made Cathy unable to turn around forever.

Tina's expression was faint: "Actually, I was afraid of Peter when I was young."

"Huh?" Alyssa's face was full of question marks: "Were you afraid of him? I heard that Peter has been kind to you since he was a child, protecting you and offering you as an elder."

Chapter 1505

Tina and Alyssa explained: "That's what happened later, I was afraid of him at first."

"You are afraid of him, but he treats you well?" Alyssa raised her eyebrows: "What is wrong with Peter?"

"Because I was afraid of him, I didn't dare to be an enemy, so I could only become a friend. In the beginning, I was actually sticking to him. I thought he would be impatient. Who knew he would treat me so well with his backhand? It's not normal. Playing cards!"

A smile flashed across Tina's face, with a look of nostalgia.

Alyssa smiled: "So it's like this? I thought he saw you beautiful, and he took you to play when he was young."

Tina brushed her hair, pretending to be deep: "There is such a reason."

Alyssa laughed when she heard the words.

At this time, the food they ordered was delivered again.

Tina originally felt a little disappointed, but after chatting with Alyssa, her good mood came back.

The two of them had finished eating, talking and laughing, and were about to go home.

Alyssa came by herself in the car. Since Tina heard that she was pregnant, she felt a little uneasy: "Otherwise, I will take you home?"

Alyssa was extremely helpless: "It's really fine, don't be so nervous, why are you like Karl?"

"I just don't feel relieved." Tina also felt a little overly nervous, but she just didn't feel relieved.

At this moment, a voice came from behind: "Tina."

Alyssa and Tina turned their heads together and saw Cathy standing not far behind them.

Cathy's lower abdomen was already showing up, and there was no joy in being a mother on his face, but it became more gloomy.

Tina frowned and ignored Cathy. Instead, she walked two steps forward, walked up to Alyssa, and whispered: "You go first. Drive carefully."

Cathy is not a fuel-efficient lamp, Tina is not afraid of her, but Alyssa is pregnant, it is better to stay away from Cathy, after all, Cathy's brain is not very good, and it is impossible to guarantee that she will not go crazy now in this situation.

Alyssa knew Tina's worries, and nodded towards her, "Then I will go first, and you should be careful too."

When Tina turned her head again, she found that Cathy had raised her foot and walked over here. Tina walked to Cathy calmly, blocking her path.

"I thought you didn't want to care about me." Cathy's voice was soft, as if she had no strength, and what she said was strange, as if Tina should care about her.

"Are you looking for me?" Tina heard the sound of the engine behind her, turned her head and saw Alyssa's car slowly driving out, and then relaxed.

Cathy is not afraid to go crazy now.

Tina had also dealt with it casually, it was impossible to really stand here and chat with her, so she turned around and walked towards her car.

"Where are you going?" Cathy's voice was a little anxious and followed.

Tina was a little annoyed: "I don't want you to stay here to chat with me? Are we in a kind of relationship to chat with?"

Cathy laughed, her laughter inexplicably abrupt: "Are you happy to see my joke?"

Tina said coldly: "I'm very busy, I'm not in the mood to follow your jokes!"

"It's like this." Cathy took two steps back and looked at Tina carefully: "You always seem to be this kind of calm, confident, free and easy look, which is really annoying."

Tina turned and opened the door and got into the car.

Upon seeing this, Cathy ran over like crazy, and Tina quickly dropped the safety lock with her eyes and hands.

Cathy slapped the car window and called her name.

"Tina!"

Chapter 1506

Tina naturally ignored Cathy and started the car on her own, wanting to drive away.

But as soon as she started the car, Cathy suddenly rushed to her car, clinging to the head of the car, and wanted to stop Tina.

Tina made a sudden brake, the whole person leaned forward inertially, and was bounced back by the safety belt.

She ran out of patience, gave Cathy a cold look through the windshield, and took out her mobile phone to call the security guard.

The security came quickly.

Henry came with the security guard.

"Wife, why are you here? I have been looking for you for a long time, so you won't tell me in advance where you want to go, which made me worried!" Henry walked towards Cathy with a look of concern.

Cathy was still standing in front of Tina's car. When she turned her head to look at Henry, she could see the panic and fear on Cathy's face from Tina's angle.

The security had walked over, and Tina opened the door and got out of the car.

"Miss Weber." The security guard nodded slightly, with a very gentle attitude.

Tina slightly bent the corners of her lips: "Excuse me, please take a trip."

Tina was pretty, and with this smile, the security guard became embarrassed: "This is what we should do!"

"Miss Weber?" Henry's voice sounded.

Tina turned her head and saw Henry taking Cathy two steps closer to her.

"Miss Weber." Henry's gaze was like a brush, carefully shaved from top to bottom, and his eyes were a little brighter than before: "This is the first time I have seen Miss Weber so close. In real you are more beautiful than on TV."

When he spoke, his eyes didn't take an inch away from Tina.

Henry used to be a venture capitalist. For a period of time, he made a lot of money in several projects. It was very beautiful, and he also played many female stars, but he hasn't played with one as beautiful as Tina.

Tina was uncomfortable by him, and her face immediately cooled down. She turned her head and said to the security guard: "I'm leaving now."

"Miss Weber, wait!" Henry was about to step forward to hold Tina.

Tina's eyes and hands quickly dodged away. Henry grabbed an empty face and looked a little ugly, but soon laughed again: "Miss Weber, don't rush away. I have to apologize for my wife. She gave you unnecessary trouble. Well, let me treat you to dinner!"

"No." Tina refused without waiting for him to finish.

She has been in the circle for these years, and has seen many men, so she can tell how this man is thinking.

Garbage in the garbage dump.

Cathy, who had been quietly embraced by Henry, suddenly whispered: "Tina, I'm sorry."

Her voice was faint, her chin was slightly clasped, standing beside Henry like that, she looked weak and pitiful.

For a moment, Tina softened slightly.

Cathy said again: "You don't be angry, I just haven't seen you for too long and want to talk to you."

Tina sneered in her heart.

When Cathy stopped her car just now, she was too horizontal, but when she was in front of Henry, she became so weak. This is probably the so-called bullying and fear of hardship.

Do you really think she has no temper?

Tina retracted her steps, turned her head to look at Henry, and said solemnly: "Mr. Henry, you have to look after your wife. I am not familiar with her. don't know her intention to stop my car. Next time you stop a car that shouldn't be stopped, it's not good to get into trouble for no reason.

Cathy seemed to have never expected Tina to say these things, and her expression suddenly changed.

Chapter 1507

After hearing Tina's words, Henry looked back at Cathy with a weird expression, and then looked back at Tina, "Thank you Miss Weber for the reminder, I will remember it."

Tina noticed that when Henry spoke, Cathy trembled.

This is an expression of fear.

Tina frowned slightly, did not speak anymore, turned around and drove away.

“Miss Weber go slowly, be careful on the road.” The security guard sent Tina away, turned around and found that Cathy had been pulled away by Henry, and left too.

Henry’s car was also parked here. He dragged her to the front of the car, opened the door, and directly stuffed her in.

The movements are not gentle at all, and he doesn’t care that Cathy is still pregnant with a child.

She was forced to be with him and had to give birth to this child. Although she had a bit of hatred for the child in her heart, she still subconsciously protected her belly when she was pushed into the car.

Henry got in the car from the other side. As soon as he got in the car, he dropped the safety lock, and looked at her with a gloomy look: “What are you doing here with Tina? Want her to help you escape? Huh?”

Henry’s face was full of sullen expressions, as if as long as Cathy dared to say “yes”, he could strangle her immediately here.

The corners of Cathy’s lips trembled, and she shrank back in fear, stammering: “No! no!”

“No?” Henry’s voice was soft, his eyes fixed on her.

Cathy pursed her lips and was about to speak, when he suddenly yelled, “Didn’t you want her to help you escape, do you want her to tell you the old times? Ah! Do you think I am a fool? Cathy, you Really are capable.”

She shrank to hide by the car door, but it didn’t work. Henry slapped her over, and half of her face was numb, and bright red blood leaked from the corner of her mouth.

“what—“

The car was narrow, and Cathy had nowhere to hide. She screamed and abruptly took a slap from Henry’s powerful slap.

But she did not dare to resist.

Henry has nothing now, he just wants the baby in her belly.

She didn’t think about running.

But Henry has her picture in his hand.

After she was led home by Henry, he forced her to take indecent photos.

As long as she dares to run, he will spread the photos everywhere.

If he really did this, she would really not be able to stay in the Rostenvel.

Even if she goes to other cities, it is difficult to survive.

After all, she was once famous for a while as “Peter’s girlfriend”.

These days, she lived like this.

So when she saw Tina, she had an idea of asking her for help.

So she looked for an opportunity and quietly followed.

When she came over, she saw Tina and Alyssa standing together talking and laughing.

They are all beautiful.

Alyssa is still Karl's wife.

What kind of luck Tina has? There is Peter who escorts her, and even her best friend is Karl's wife.

Cathy originally wanted to lower her posture and ask Tina for help, but at that time, the jealousy and resentment in her heart appeared again.

She couldn't help but mock her.

Tina has always been like that, disdain to take care of her.

But the more Tina was like this, the more she hated her in her heart.

In the end, it became like this, and she was captured by Henry.

And, after returning home, she will be beaten and tortured by him again.

Can't just wait and die like this!

Cathy touched her hot face and faintly said, "You look cold, don't you?"

Chapter 1508

Cathy and Henry have been together for four or five years, and naturally they have a thorough understanding of Henry's character.

Henry looked into Tina's eyes, she was right, Henry just fell in love with Tina.

Although she didn't want to admit it, that little bitch Tina was indeed beautiful. Many men couldn't move their eyes away when they saw her.

What's more, Henry was like this. When he was a venture capitalist and still making money, she knew what the people in his circle were like.

If Tina fell into Henry's hands, she wouldn't know how she will die.

When Cathy thought of this, a trace of madness flashed in her eyes.

Henry was taken aback, and then he coldly snorted, "What if you look at Tina? You don't look at what you are like now, even half of Tina can't compare with you, and it's disgusting to look at you for a second even."

Cathy clenched her hands, pinched her nails into her palms, causing pain. She clenched her back tooth sockets tightly, glanced back at the depression in her heart, and said softly, "I can help you."

Henry had already started the car. Hearing the movement of his hand, a flash of joy flashed in his eyes, and he became sullen again.

He said fiercely: "You help me? What do you use to help me? You don't see how you look like you are now, do people take care of you?"

"When I climbed up to Peter before, didn't you also believe it?" Cathy lowered her eyes slightly, and forcibly endured Henry's ridicule and disdain for her.

"But what about that? It wasn't that Peter kicked you away, you sc*mbag." Henry cursed, saying something unclean.

Cathy chuckled softly: "At least, I used to be Peter's real girlfriend, and you, you can only spend the rest of your life with me, a bad guy."

Henry was angered by this, and shouted, "You, b!tch, shut up for me!"

"Tina is so popular now, she also has money in her family, if you can get a little bit of her handle!" Cathy gave Henry a pointed look: "When the time comes, won't you have as much money as you want?"

Henry hadn't thought about this before, or didn't dare to think about it.

But Cathy's words at this time caused the depressing thoughts in his heart to start to rise, like a fountain, and could not stop.

Seeing Henry lost in thought, Cathy knew that Henry was moved by her words.

Henry, an idiot, who has been with him for so many years, knows him no better, arrogant and self-righteous, as long as he decides what he wants to do, he always feels that he can do it, he will do it.

"You help me? What is your idea?" Although Henry was moved, he was not completely brainless. He knew how Cathy was thinking about him. She could not be so kind.

"I want to follow you in my life anyway. Even if I don't plan for us, we must plan for him. We need money." Cathy touched her belly and said sincerely.

Henry looked at her and made sure that there was nothing unusual on her face, before he believed her: "That's right, we have to fight for our son."

Cathy sneered in her heart, and Henry really took the bait.

If he really wanted to take action against Tina, no matter whether this matter could be done or not, he would be over. Not to mention the Weber family, at least Peter would not be able to let him go.

Henry's life or death doesn't matter, she just couldn't see the appearance of Tina high above.

Chapter 1509

Tina drove the car home, feeling a little heavy.

It can be seen that Cathy is not doing well.

Can't say sympathy, but she feels a little sorry.

Most of the time, women like to embarrass women.

For example, Cathy always had deep malice towards her, and when facing Henry, she seemed to be only afraid.

Until returning home, Tina's mood was still a bit complicated.

After she parked the car in the underground garage, she took the elevator upstairs. As soon as she got out of the elevator, her mobile phone rang, and Alyssa called.

"Alyssa, are you home?" Tina answered the phone and asked in her usual tone.

"No, in Karl's company, not long after I came out, he called me and asked me to come over and wait for him to leave work."

Tina listened carefully, and could still vaguely hear the sound of flipping files in the background of Alyssa.

"That's good, you are like this. It would be nice to go home with Karl." Tina was also a little relieved that Alyssa would go home alone.

Although she knew it was fine, but too many things had happened before, which made her think about bad things easily.

"It's okay, don't think about it." Alyssa knew what Tina was thinking. After comforting her, she asked, "Where is Cathy? Did she do nothing?"

"No, after you left, Henry came over and took her away." Tina said.

Alyssa was silent for a moment. She remembered what had happened in the restaurant before. Henry didn't seem to be a good person, and he certainly didn't treat Cathy very well. She can see from Cathy's condition.

This can be regarded as Cathy's retribution.

"Just fine." Alyssa didn't say more.

Tina was about to respond when she heard Karl's voice resounding from Alyssa: "Come and see this."

It was obviously a call for Alyssa.

It was indeed for her.

Recently, Grace's kindergarten assigned homework to raise a plant. Karl didn't know what happened. After raising a small wild flower with Grace, he became interested in plants.

He is thinking about growing flowers and grass when he has time.

Alyssa felt that it might be because she was older, but she didn't dare to say that.

Afraid of Karl being angry.

The man's temper is getting better and better, but he is still stingy and holding grudges. This point will probably remain the same for a lifetime.

“Go ahead, I think about something to eat at night.” Tina smiled and urged Alyssa to find Karl. Without giving Alyssa a chance to refuse, she hung up the phone.

Sitting on the sofa, Tina swiped the Moments absently, swiping to the Moments Cody posted three hours ago.

The content of this circle of friends is only one word.

Concise and full of meaning.

This word is: grass!

After all, they were playmates who grew up together when they were young, and had many mutual friends.

Tina glanced at it, and there were already several rows of likes, and those who knew the situation responded “hahaha” below.

Those who don’t know also reply below: “?”

Tina thought for a while, and also clicked like.

After she clicked the thumbs up, she looked forward again. When she finally refreshed, she saw a new message reminder. She clicked in and took a look. It was Peter who replied with a smiling face to Cody.

Immediately afterwards, a mutual friend who knew Peter replied to Peter under Cody’s circle of friends: “Hahahaha, brother is here.”

Tina thought for a while, and felt that Cody was also quite miserable.

It took him three hours to post to Moments, probably because he only woke up three hours ago.

After sobering up and discovering that he had done a good job, Peter still ridiculed him.

Chapter 1510

Peter appeared under Cody’s circle of friends, and Cody’s circle of friends was even more lively.

In addition to a lot of onlookers who watched the excitement and made a fuss there, Cody also replied to Peter.

His reply was: “Mr. Grant!!!!”

Although he got a big embarrassment from being drunk the day before yesterday, it is the friendship that grew up together when they were young.

But the four exclamation marks following this “Mr. Grant” are very spiritual.

Tina looked at the like she had clicked again, and felt a little inappropriate, as if she had teamed up with Peter to bully Cody.

After thinking about it, she canceled the like.

Who knows, as soon as she liked, Cody’s message came over.

Cody: "Miss Weber, you canceled the like!!!"

Three exclamation marks follow.

Cody likes to use exclamation points now.

People with experience are different.

Tina thought for a while, pretending not to see it.

But soon, he sent a message again: "I see you are 'typing', so don't pretend you haven't seen it, squeak!"

Tina: "€!"

She was silent for a long while, and replied with two words: "Hands slippery"

Cody: "Guess I believe it?"

Tina: "I guess you really believe it."

Cody rolled his eyes back.

Tina comforted him again: "Mr. Scott, it's okay, isn't it just a swim in the lower reaches of the public? Who has never swam before?"

As soon as the message is sent out, it displays "typing" on the other end.

She waited for a while, but before he returned the message, she returned to the chat list.

Peter's head was marked with red, and he sent a message over.

Tina opened it, and Peter said, "Is Cody chatting with you?"

"You monitored my phone?" Otherwise, how could he know that she was chatting with Cody.

"Oh, I have battled with him for three hundred rounds in the circle of friends, and he suddenly stopped returning to me." Cody's mouth was so cheap that he never confessed to the battle easily, and he would not return to him. He must be chatting with people.

He saw Tina's likes before, and Tina canceled the likes. He naturally knew it, and guessed that Cody must have been chatting with her.

Tina understood this when she thought about it, a little bit dumbfounded: "My mind is pretty delicate."

Peter: "All men in love are Sherlock Holmes."

Tina: "€!"

Just when she didn't know what to return, Peter made a video call.

She clicked the connect.

"Tina!" As soon as the video was connected, she heard Peter calling her name.

She replied: "Yeah."

Peter: "Are you still chatting with Cody?"

"Yes." Tina nodded.

Speaking of Cody, Tina remembered to go and see if he has responded to her.

She lowered her eyes, looked back, and found that Cody had replied to her just now, the time was still three minutes ago.

Cody replied: "Miss Weber, I was serious that night."

Tina paused.

She knew that Cody was talking about what he confessed to her on the night of the party.

To confess this kind of thing, Tina has encountered countless times since childhood.

But he is different from those who confessed to her. He is the young one of her and Peter, and his attitude seems very serious.

Tina typed slowly in reply: "Make an appointment to meet and chat."

This kind of thing must be resolved face-to-face and seriously.
