

Predestined 1541

Chapter 1541

Cathy, who had already walked to the door, heard the movement behind her, turned her head suddenly, and saw that Tina had risen from the ground and was jumping to the window sill.

Tina felt a little anxious when she noticed that Cathy looked back.

Who knew who was going to come in next time, she had to escape anyway.

But her hands and feet were tied too tightly. She couldn't walk at all. She could only jump, and she could easily lose her center of gravity. In addition, she was anxious and fell down within two strokes.

Seeing that Tina had fallen, Cathy smiled contemptuously, and walked to her who was struggling to get up.

"Run? Stop?" Cathy lifted her foot and kicked Tina.

Tina grew up being held in the hands of her parents. When she suffered this kind of humiliation, it was her limit to tolerate Cathy's two slaps before.

Now that Cathy kicked her again, she couldn't help it anymore.

"Cathy, you, your mother, you better let me die here today, but don't let me leave alive!" Tina's eyes were cold and sharp, like a knife about to be unsheathed, and she screeched at Cathy.

Cathy, who thought she was with the upper hand, shivered abruptly in the eyes of Tina, and her back was chilly.

Inexplicably, she felt that what Tina said was serious.

As long as Tina leaves here alive today, then she is dead.

Cathy was palpitated for a moment before regaining her composure.

"At this time, you can still threaten me so calmly. To be honest, I actually admire you very much, but it's useless to speak aggressively. Today I will definitely make you pay for what you did!"

Cathy raised her foot, stepped over Tina, and closed the window, blocking Tina's last life.

Then she turned around and went to open the door.

As soon as the door opened, the person leaning on the door outside fell in.

Cathy stepped away and looked at Henry, who was drunk on the ground, and kicked him fiercely: "What are you doing with so much alcohol!"

Henry was so hurt by the kick, he frowned and opened his eyes slightly: "What did you mean woman do to me?"

Cathy directly pulled him in and closed the door with her backhand.

Henry had already drunk silly, and barely recognized Cathy. He grabbed Cathy's leg: "Where is she? Where is Tina?"

Cathy kicked him away: "Success is less than success and more than failure!"

Tina already understood what Cathy was going to do.

Although Henry was already drunk and unconscious, Cathy would definitely think of other ways to torture her.

Tina looked around and found that this was a bedroom.

This bedroom is very large. In addition to the bed, there are two single sofas, floor lamps, and some porcelain decorations.

She gritted her teeth, first violently knocked down the floor lamp, and then quickly hit the vase on the bedside with her head to the ground.

"boom!"

The vase shattered.

"You bitch, dare to play tricks!" Cathy walked towards her angrily.

When she walked up to her and had no time to start with Tina, Tina gritted her teeth and sat on the ground.

There were fragments of the vase that had just been smashed on the ground, and unfortunately, Tina sat on top of the fragments.

While she turned pale with pain, behind Cathy's invisible, with barely movable fingers, grabbed a fragment of a vase in his hand, and calmly began to cut the rope tied to his hand.

Chapter 1542

Tina cut the rope very carefully, and Cathy didn't notice it.

Cathy looked at Henry, who was lying on the ground sleeping like a dead pig, and then at Tina, and found that there was blood oozing out of Tina's body, and it should have been pieces of glass.

But Cathy is not worried about Tina's injury.

She squatted down in front of her, her eyes falling on Tina's neckline.

In summer, Tina wore a silk shirt and ankle-length skirt.

Tina noticed Cathy's gaze, shrinking back somewhat stiffly, and cutting the rope behind her faster.

Cathy went directly to unbutton her shirt.

At this time, Tina calmed down instead. She watched Cathy unbutton her clothes coldly, and continued to cut the rope behind her.

The fragments of the vase were too sharp, and her cold hands were cut in different depths, but she no longer felt the pain.

After Cathy untied the clothes, she dragged Henry over again.

Henry was drunk to death. After Cathy threw Henry on Tina, she began to take pictures with her mobile phone, changing from different angles, while bending her lips with a weird smile.

Tina smelled the wine, nauseated, and could only barely twist around to avoid Henry. It was very difficult to completely kick him away.

Cathy no longer cared about what Tina was doing at this time. Anyway, it can be seen from the photos she took that Tina and Henry were engaged.

These photos are hard evidence.

As long as the photo circulates, she will be ruined, and no one will believe that she is innocent.

Tina was once held so high, and now she is in the limelight. The taste of falling from the clouds is enough to make a person collapse.

She just wants Tina to live worse than death.

If there is no desolation, her life will not be like this.

It's all Tina's fault!

The expression on Cathy's face became more and more crazier, admiring the photos she took, and feeling that Henry's clothes were still intact and not convincing, so she walked over.

At this time, the rope behind Tina was about to cut.

After Cathy came over, she didn't even look at Tina. She felt that Tina was already under her control, and she didn't feel that she would have a chance to escape.

Henry was not lightly drunk, but being so tossed by Cathy, he woke up quietly in the middle, and immediately pounced on Cathy as soon as he woke up.

"Take off my clothes while I'm drunk, are you so impatient? I will fulfill you!" Although Henry was drunk, he was still a man with terrifying strength. Cathy was not his opponent at all.

She didn't expect that Henry would wake up midway, and would do this to her after waking up.

Cathy couldn't push Henry away, so she could only slap him: "He gave me a clearer mind. Didn't you always want to be with Tina? She's there, go you b@stard!"

Henry was beaten sober, and turned his head swayingly, and saw the shame of untidy clothes.

Tina is a natural beauty, and a younger one is a natural beauty. At this age, she has an outstanding temperament. Even if she is extremely embarrassed at this time, she is also surprisingly beautiful and has a fatal attraction.

Most of Henry's wine awoke, his eyes lit up all of a sudden, and he stared at Tina.

“Cathy, I underestimated you. I didn’t expect you to really get this woman over for me. When I look back, I will thank you very much.”

Cathy didn’t speak. Just now when Henry pounced on her, the phone fell out. She picked it up and turned on the camera’s video mode.

Chapter 1543

Cathy adjusted the position of the phone and watched Henry rush to Tina, his eyes full of revenge.

But the next moment, the scene she expected did not happen.

“what—“

Henry’s howl like a pig echoed throughout the room.

In the screenshot of the mobile phone, Tina was originally tied up, but at the moment Henry pounced on her, she suddenly stretched out her hand to cut Henry’s neck with something.

In the next instant, Henry’s neck was bloody.

Cathy was frightened for a moment by such a change, then moved her phone away, looked at Tina, and said sharply, “Tina, are you crazy!”

Henry clutched his neck, not daring to move, staring at Cathy with a fierce look in his eyes: “Call an ambulance!”

It’s right that his eyes are cold, he just wants to be happy, not to be a ghost.

How could Cathy care about Henry? She wished that Henry was dead.

After she was stunned, she calmed down and drew a weird smile: “Tina, you killed him.”

Although Henry failed to repair Tina, it was a good thing to turn Tina into a murderer.

What she wants is that Tina can’t turn over in this life.

Henry’s eyes widened, and he stretched out a hand to grab Cathy’s leg, and repeated: “Call an ambulance, bitch, you—“

Henry lost too much blood, turned pale, trembling all over, and looked very weak.

Cathy shook off Henry and continued to take pictures with her mobile phone.

She laughed while filming, thinking that she was about to ruin her reputation, she was very happy, and even wanted to celebrate.

Tina’s eyes stared at Cathy stubbornly. The hand holding the fragment of the vase did not loosen, but slowly stretched out her hand to snap back the buttons that Cathy had just untied.

Tina’s eyes were cold and sharp. Cathy was already taking the picture proudly, but after the shot was taken, she just looked at the cold eyes on the phone screen, and she became scared.

Tina cut Henry’s neck just now, what if she dared to kill her?

Henry was dying, and a trace of fear flashed in Cathy's heart.

The photos and videos she took are enough to make Tina unable to turn over in this life. For the sake of her life, she should leave first.

It's better to live than to die, she doesn't want to lose her life here.

Cathy put the phone away and looked at Tina vigilantly, and found that Tina slowly stood up. Cathy screamed and turned to run, but tripped on the sofa again.

Tina caught Cathy effortlessly.

She used vase fragments, gestured on Cathy's face, and said blankly: "In fact, you look pretty."

Cathy was trembling with fright, still subconsciously trying to break away from her, but her health is not good, and she is so thin that she is not an opponent for fitness all year round.

"What are you going to do? Don't mess around!" Tina, you are the hottest first-line actor right now, and your future is limitless!" Cathy could even praise Tina in order to survive.

Tina was indifferent, just turned her gaze to Cathy's already flat belly, and said with a light sigh, "The child is gone."

"No!" no more." Cathy felt that Tina at this time was terrifying, as if she could cut her neck at any time, and could only follow Tina's words with a trembling voice, not daring to disobey her.

She was afraid that she didn't fit Tina's mind at all, so Tina would kill her.

"You really have no heart." Tina's voice was soft and calm, revealing a bone-soaked chill.

Chapter 1544

Tina's hand holding the fragments of the vase pressed against Cathy's neck, and the other hand pressed against Cathy's lower abdomen.

"When you need him, you use him to deceive Peter, and if you don't need him, you can kill him immediately. How can someone like you deserve to be a mother?"

The calm tone couldn't tell what emotion it was, like a sigh, but also like being absorbed.

Cathy felt that Tina at this time seemed a bit abnormal.

But she still didn't dare to act rashly, and followed Tina's words: "Yes, you are right, I am not worthy to be a mother!"

Tina didn't speak, as if she was caught in her own thoughts, she seemed to be a little distracted.

Cathy felt that the time had come.

She wanted to take advantage of Tina's distraction, push her away and escape.

But as soon as she moved, Tina was alert, and the vase fragment on her neck pressed hard against her skin.

There was sticky dampness all over her neck, and Cathy didn't know whether it was her own blood or the blood on Tina's hands.

She was too scared to move, and her voice became crying: "Tina, I was wrong, please forgive me, I won't dare anymore, save me!"

Speaking of the latter, she began to cry, looking pitiful.

Finally a girl of this age should look like.

Tina curled her lips and smiled, her smile extremely cold.

With a slight force in her hand holding the fragment of the vase, she cut Cathy's neck out.

Cathy stopped crying with fright, and looked at Tina shiveringly: "You want Peter, don't you still have Peter? If you kill me, you will go to jail!"

"Go to jail?" Tina sneered, "Do you think Peter will put me in jail?"

Cathy stagnated and began to seriously think about what Tina said.

Peter is powerful and influential, and the Grant family behind her is also deep-rooted. Karl is still his good friend. If they have to keep her out, it is not impossible.

The more Cathy thought about it, the more terrifying she became, and she realized that Tina was really too lazy to take care of her before she ignored her.

If Tina wants to fix her, there are many ways.

Moreover, she was repaired without any consequences.

Cathy was overwhelmed by this kind of psychological suggestion, and tears flowed down: "Yes! I'm sorry Tina! It's not my fault! Someone gave me a lot of money and asked me to do this. It's! I just collect money to do things!"

Cathy was frightened and talked intermittently.

But Tina understood, someone instructed Cathy.

Just like her guess at the beginning, Cathy alone was not capable of doing this, and it was even difficult to tie her over.

Tina stared at Cathy coldly: "Who gave you the money?"

"I don't know!" Cathy shook her head.

"You don't know?" Tina repeated Cathy's words, and the hand holding the vase fragment exerted a little force.

Cathy was so scared that she increased the volume: "I really don't know! He came to me suddenly and said that he could help me. I was desperate at that time. I didn't know who he was, so I believed him. I didn't expect that he really gave me the money and let me successfully knock out the child!"

Looking at Cathy's appearance, it didn't seem like telling lies.

“You don’t tell the truth.” But Tina decided to cheat Cathy again.

After all, Cathy has no credibility, and she speaks like F@rting.

“What I said is true.” Cathy said with horror: “I really didn’t lie.”

Chapter 1545

Only then did Tina believe Cathy’s words.

Cathy had already been forced into a nervous breakdown by her, and no longer had the energy to make up lies and lie to her.

Tina grabbed Cathy’s mobile phone, and deleted all the videos and photos Cathy had just taken on the mobile phone.

Then, she lowered her eyes and met Cathy’s unwilling look.

She and Cathy looked at each other, smiled, and knocked Cathy fainted with her phone in Cathy’s puzzled eyes.

Then she got up and went to the bathroom.

She slammed the phone to the bathroom floor, but the quality of the phone was not bad and it was not that easy to break. She hit the phone several times in the bathroom before she broke it.

Then flushed the broken cell phone into the toilet.

The sound of the toilet flushing was a bit loud, causing her not to hear the footsteps behind her.

When she realized that there might be someone behind her, the back of her head hurt, and her eyes suddenly became dark.

She didn’t see who knocked her out until she completely lost consciousness.

â€¦

Beep–

When Tina woke up, the first thing she heard was the sound of the instrument.

This sound is not unfamiliar. When she was filming the drama, she was injured and hospitalized. After waking up, it was like this scene. The first thing she heard was the sound of the instrument.

Opening her eyes, it was a vast expanse of whiteness.

“Tina!” Peter’s voice sounded from above her head.

He leaned over, his expression nervous, his eyes were red as rabbits.

Tina stared at him and found that he looked ugly like this, and even began to reflect on why she had liked him for so many years.

She didn’t speak, and had no other reaction, just staring at Peter blankly.

Peter felt awkward, too scared, but then softly asked, "Where is it uncomfortable?"

The nervous look looks a bit silly.

Tina tilted her head and hissed with pain.

Said: "The head hurts a bit."

"Headache?" Peter immediately rang the bell on the bedside and called the doctor over.

Tina moved her head again, feeling that the pain was more obvious, frowning and asked: "What's wrong with me? Didn't I buy books for Grace in the bookstore with Alyssa? Why did I come to the hospital?"

The expression on Peter's face instantly solidified.

The change in his expression was subtle, but Tina still noticed: "What happened?"

Peter's expression quickly returned to normal, and he chuckled, "It's okay, we have come to see the doctor."

He straightened up, as if worried, took a deep look at Tina, and exhorted: "I will be back soon."

Tina looked at a fool's expression.

Peter laughed again.

When he turned his back and walked out, the expression on his face disappeared for an instant, and his expression became cold.

At the door, he met a doctor who hurried over.

Seeing Peter, the doctor stopped: "Mr. Grant."

Peter put his index finger to his lips, made a silent motion, walked to the side, and signaled the doctor to follow.

Going far from the ward, after confirming that Tina in the ward is absolutely impossible to hear their voices, Peter said: "After the inspection, please leave, don't talk too much, and don't mention how her injury came."

Although the doctor was puzzled, he still nodded: "Understood."

This is a private hospital that does business, and naturally it unconditionally agrees to the reasonable requirements of customers.

"Go in." Peter raised his hand slightly, indicating that the doctor could go in for an examination on Tina.

Chapter 1546

After the doctor entered, Peter took a few more deep breaths to calm his emotions, and then walked inside.

The doctor has already started to ask Tina and give her a basic examination.

At this time, footsteps sounded outside.

“It should be Karl and the others are here. I’ll take a look.” Peter said softly to Tina and went to the door.

Open the door, just to see Karl’s family of three standing outside the door.

Alyssa saw from the crack in the door that a doctor was turning around Tina, and she was happy: “Tina is awake?”

Peter nodded, then raised his chin slightly.

Alyssa and Karl glanced at each other, then turned and walked outside.

Peter closed the door and walked out.

As soon as she came out, Alyssa asked worriedly: “What’s wrong? Tina, sheâ€¦”

“She doesn’t seem to remember how she was abducted. She can’t remember what happened after she was abducted. Since she forgot, let’s unify.”

Peter’s tone was very calm, but there was a gloom between his eyebrows that seemed to be irremovable no matter what.

What he meant was to conceal the fact that Tina was kidnapped.

Alyssa nodded without thinking, “Okay.”

She did not follow Peter and Karl to rescue Tina.

But when Tina was rescued, she was very embarrassed, some buttons on her clothes had fallen off, and a lot of blood was on her body.

Anyway, the situation was not good.

And now Tina wakes up, but just doesn’t remember what happened after being tied up, maybe this is God’s will.

Peter didn’t seem to want to mention it again.

In this case, assuming that nothing happened is also a solution.

â€¦

Tina was surrounded by doctors asking some questions, and then checked the wound.

When the inspection was almost over, Peter and his entourage walked in again.

“What were you doing outside? How come you come in.” Tina whispered when he saw them.

Alyssa walked over with a smile and said, “I want to give you a bravery award.”

“Huh?” Tina was stunned for a moment, and then asked: “By the way, what happened before? It was a little bit painful. I remember we were buying books for Grace, so why did I get injured in the hospital? “

“I’m so embarrassed to ask, when we came out of the bookstore, someone tried to snatch my bag. You went up to fight with that person, but the person knocked to the headâ€¦”

Alyssa's expression was so natural that she couldn't tell that she was lying.

"Is that so?" Tina touched her head, no doubt about him: "Just hit the head like this, I have amnesia?"

The doctor explained in a timely manner: "This happened. Miss Weber's injured part is close to the hippocampus, and her memory is also affected. This is a normal thing!"

Tina blinked, then slowly nodded, thinking: "It's really like a drama in life. I haven't acted amnesia in filming, but now I am really an amnesiac."

Peter looked at Tina, his eyes flickered twice, and he moved his eyes away.

When he turned his eyes to Tina again, a smile was already in his eyes: "It is said that actors should experience life more, and your experience is rich enough."

Tina glared at Peter with a sullen look: "I'm like this, you still say cool things, you can live me alone!"

"I don't, I was wrong." Peter leaned over and rubbed his head on Tina.

Chapter 1547

Tina's body was fine, and she was discharged after two days of observation in the hospital.

Stephanie picked her up the day she was discharged.

It's just that Tom was the one who came with Stephanie.

Tina glanced over Stephanie, squinted her eyes and smiled and cried out, "Mr. Allison."

"I heard that Ms. Weber was injured and was hospitalized. As a friend, I followed to come and visit." Tom also bought flowers and handed them to Tina after speaking.

Before Tina reached out, Peter took Tom's flower.

Tina retracted her hand somewhat disappointedly, and looked at Peter with some dissatisfaction. Peter pretended not to see Tina's eyes and smiled perfunctorily at Tom.

"Thank you Mr. Allison for the flowers."

Tina glared at Peter: "Mr. Allison gave it to me."

"It's all the same." Peter grabbed her shoulders and said with a smile.

Tina raised her eyebrows: "Where is the same?"

"It's the same everywhere." Peter stuffed the flower into Stephanie's hand: "Take it."

Stephanie took the flowers with a dazed expression and gave them to Tina, why did they get into her hands?

Tina shook off Peter, stepped forward to take Stephanie's arm, and whispered in her ear, "What's the matter with you and Mr. Allison?"

“It’s nothing, it’s just that when he heard that I was coming to pick you up and as you are leaving the hospital, he said he wanted to come with me, but I was embarrassed to refuse!” Stephanie said hesitated, obviously because of a guilty conscience.

Tina smiled: “Oh, it is like this.”

It seems that for the past two days in her hospitalization, there has been a situation between Stephanie and Tom.

“Ms. Tina, why are you doing this?” Stephanie heard the deep meaning in her calm tone.

Tina spread her hands and looked innocent: “What?”

Seeing that Stephanie was about to get angry, Tina said in a serious tone: “Mr. Allison, although he is a profiteer like your cousin, he is also a gentleman and his character is decent. He is a good man.”

Stephanie bit her lip and whispered, “But, he likes you.”

“What?” Tina looked at Stephanie in shock, “You say it again, I didn’t understand.”

Tina’s volume was raised a lot because of shock, Peter and the others looked sideways.

Stephanie was startled, and buried her head low, trying to pretend that she didn’t say anything or knew anything.

Tom glanced in Stephanie’s direction, and the corners of his lips were slightly curved.

Watching Stephanie’s reaction, it was obvious that she didn’t know that Tom was her rumored fiance.

Tom can really hold it back.

Tom felt Tina’s gaze and smiled at her.

Tina looked away, the man didn’t have a good thing.

If it weren’t for looking at Stephanie as if Tom were also a little bit interesting, she would just expose him directly.

Tom is too shrewd and a very good businessman.

Will there be such a thing as love for a scheming man?

However, the cousin Peter is indeed a bit stupid.

Tom was full of loopholes, and Stephanie didn’t even doubt his identity.

“Eh, Stephanie.” Tina went to chase Stephanie who was in front: “Silly sister, wait for me.”

Stephanie’s tone was helpless: “Ms. Tina!”

When Peter saw Tina running so fast, his heart jumped to his throat: “Tina, slow down!”

How could she care about what Peter said, her little injury was almost healed, what happened to her running a few steps?

Chapter 1548

Tina's slender arms rested on Stephanie's shoulders, and Stephanie looked worried: "Ms. Tina, don't run, go slow."

"Don't follow your cousin. At a young age, just like an old man, worry about this and that. I just have a small injury and it's almost healed. If it's not for worrying about my head, I don't want to live with these two."

After all, she had been smashed in her head, and she had some memory loss.

It's because Alyssa had lost her memory before, so she could accept her amnesia so easily. Fortunately, she just lost that little memory, which has no impact on her life.

Stephanie had already heard Peter talk about Tina.

But like Peter, she was still a little worried, and she reached out her hand to hold Tina cautiously: "After all, you have been in the hospital, so be careful. Your body is more important."

Tina couldn't help rolling her eyes: "As expected, they are all named Grant."

â€¦

Stephanie and Tom came together to pick up Tina and leave the hospital. Out of courtesy, Tina felt that they should invite them to dinner.

But before Tina told Peter of this idea, Tom answered the phone and left.

Seeing Tom driving away, Tina patted Stephanie's shoulder: "Okay, then Stephanie will eat with us."

Stephanie also looked out of shape: "Where to eat?"

"Of course it's the old place." Tina smiled.

"Best Day?" Stephanie shook her head quickly: "I don't think this is necessary, Tina, you just got out of the hospital, you should go home and take a good rest. Your health is important."

At this point in the parking lot, Tina opened the door and got in the car: "Peter, to Best Day."

Peter didn't say a word, and drove forward silently.

After a while, Tina realized that the direction was wrong.

"Go to Best Day." Tina sat in the back row, leaning forward, lying on the back of the chair and said to Peter.

"Fully right, you should go home and rest first." Peter said without looking back.

Tina felt an inexplicable desire for victory and defeat. The important thing now is not to go to Best Day, but to fight for victory: "No, go to Best Day."

But no matter what she desires to win or lose, the steering wheel is in the hands of Peter, and it is useless for her to object.

When they got home, Tina was still sulking with him, pulling Stephanie into the elevator and ignoring Peter.

Tina did not live at home for a few days. Although the house is not messy, it still needs to be cleaned up.

She entered the door and lay on the sofa. Peter and Stephanie, the brother and sister, were busy cleaning the room for her.

Tina felt that she was a little ignorant of good and bad, a little too pretentious, so she got up and poured a glass of water for Peter.

While Stephanie was going to the kitchen to collect water, she walked to Peter with the water, pinched her throat and spoke to him: "Brother Peter, drink water."

Peter was stunned for several seconds, and Tina impatiently plugged the water into his hand before he realized it.

He looked at the water in his hand, then at Tina: "No poison?"

"â€¦!" Tina gritted her teeth: "Am I that kind of person?"

Peter nodded solemnly: "Yes."

After he finished speaking, before Tina became angry, he drank the water and returned the cup to her: "Thank you, Miss Weber."

Stephanie just came out of the kitchen after fetching the water and heard Peter's "Miss Weber" clearly.

She touched her nose and stepped back silently, feeling that it was not the right time for her to come out.

Chapter 1549

Peter and Stephanie helped Tina clean up the room all morning.

Tina lay on the sofa all the way, eating snacks, playing games, and watching videos.

Peter also came over halfway and asked her to get up and walk a little bit instead of staring at the phone screen.

She couldn't help but complain: "You really look more and more like Mom."

Peter's reply was to glance at her coldly.

Tina pursed her lips, straightened her back, and obediently got up from the sofa and walked around.

â€¦!

Peter cooked lunch.

Looking at a table that looked mediocre, but definitely not a dark dish, Stephanie was stunned.

After a while, Stephanie reacted, as if she had met Peter for the first time, and said quietly, "Cousin, I never dreamed that I would eat your dishes."

Peter was the king of children when he was a child, and when he grew up, he is still the best person among the juniors of the Grant family.

If someone says how much money Peter made when he started a company, and how much interest he made, Stephanie would not be surprised at all.

Peter is almost the idol of all Grant family juniors.

As for him wearing an apron and cooking in the kitchen, that is simply a fantasy.

But at this time, the facts are in sight.

Peter actually learned to cook quietly.

He was not surprised at the surprised look of Stephanie. He put chopsticks of shredded chicken into Tina and squeezed to Stephanie: "Hurry up and leave after eating."

"Okay." Although Peter knew that she was here to prevent him from falling in love, what can she do?

Of course, hurry up and leave.

Stephanie left after eating.

Peter cleaned up the tableware after eating.

Tina was sitting at the dining table with her chin supported, watching Peter come over and put the tableware into the kitchen, and then came to wipe the table.

Peter was methodical, and his expression seemed unusually calm.

He cleaned up the table and went into the kitchen to wash the dishes.

Tina got up and followed in, standing next to him watching him wash the dishes.

Peter took the time to look at her: "What's so good about washing dishes?"

Tina said regretfully, "I knew I should buy a dishwasher. I never thought that my kitchen could still be used to cook."

"Yeah." Peter continued to wash the dishes without lifting his head.

Tina didn't speak anymore and just watched from the side until Peter washed the bowl and put it away.

After Peter had done all this, when he looked back at her, he found that she was still staring at him.

He walked up to her, put one hand on the platform behind Tina, leaned over slightly, and smiled narrowly: "Tina, why keep staring at me? You will misunderstand me like this."

Tina raised her head, met his narrow smile, and whispered, "Peter, what happened to you?"

Peter was taken aback: "What?"

"When you were washing the dishes, you kept thinking about other things. One of the dishes was in it. You washed it twice with dish soap."

Tina fixedly looked at Peter's eyes, as if to see through him.

On Peter's face, there was a rare look of astonishment.

Like a child whose prank has been exposed, he has to deny and cover up in a panic.

Tina asked, "What are you thinking?"

In fact, these days, she has always felt that Peter is weird.

But whenever she went to carefully observe what was wrong with him, she couldn't see what it was.

Tina thought that she was thinking too much, until today when she returned home, that feeling resurrected from the bottom of her heart.

Chapter 1550

In the morning, she appeared to be just watching videos and playing games intently, and in fact, had been observing Peter.

In fact, there is no obvious abnormality in him, that is, when he is doing things, he is a little too focused, and the concentration makes the whole person feel deep.

It's like something on his mind

Peter, this man, has nothing to worry about.

Because, whenever he wants to do anything, he will do it directly.

It must be a tricky thing to let him get distracted like this.

The abnormal look on Peter's face was fleeting, and he quickly returned to nature.

He responded kindly to the cold question: "I'm thinking, if I move to your house to take care of you, you will let me sleep in the master bedroom or the second bedroom.

If you let me sleep in the second bedroom, I will pretend that the power is cut and I am afraid of the dark. The master bedroom rub on the bed and was awakened by pretending to have a nightmare! Ah!"

He bent his knees slightly and shook the leg kicked by Tina: "Tina, you are murdering your husband."

"Make up again." When Tina heard him speak, she knew that he was going to make up, and it was quite outrageous.

"No, I really think so." Peter said solemnly: "The bedroom bed is too small. I sleep, in the middle of the night, I will fall on the floor.

"Heh." Tina sneered: "Of course you can get up? Do you still want to sleep on the ground and catch a cold, and then blame it on me?"

Peter was sneered and touched his nose: "You mean, agreed that I moved to your house to take care of you?"

When she refused, he stopped.

Because Tina thought that Peter could cook now.

She can't learn the skill of cooking, and she doesn't want to eat takeaway anymore. Where can there be delicious home-cooked food for takeaway.

With this hesitant effort, Peter has made a final decision: "Okay, I will get things right away and wait for me."

He patted her on the head, turned, and walked out.

Tina didn't react until she heard the closing of the door. It was obvious that she wanted to ask him if he had something on his mind. How did Peter lead his nose away in the end?

She couldn't help but touched her head. Could it be that her head was hurt so badly that her IQ dropped, so she couldn't do it with Peter?

â€¦

Peter went into Tina's house in such a grand manner.

She was sitting on the sofa and playing video games. Peter watched the recipe carefully while watching the cooking video on his tablet computer.

Completely look like a housewife.

After dinner in the evening, Tina lay on the sofa and watched TV. Peter sat aside with his mobile phone.

She leaned over and found that Peter was reading a recipe for mushroom Hot Pot.

Feeling her approaching, he handed the phone directly to her, motioning her to look.

Tina looked puzzled: "You want to do this?"

"How about eating this at noon tomorrow?" Peter asked.

"Youâ€¦" Tina paused and asked cautiously: "Are you really all right?"

"I'm okay, what can I do?" Peter had a usual smile on his face, with a bit of teasing and joking.

"I have been hospitalized for the past few days, what happened to AdamPic?" During her stay in the hospital, Peter stayed in the hospital every day and refused to let her play with her mobile phone, saying that he wanted her to rest.

Peter hasn't gone to work for several days.

Therefore, she felt that something went wrong with AdamPic.

Otherwise, how could he be so idle?