Chapter 1571

Seeing a large group of reporters pouring in, the three people in the studio were taken aback.

Stephanie followed Tina for so long, and her reaction ability was much faster than before. She quickly got up and blocked Tina.

Regardless of Tom's mindset just now, she said to him, "Call the security guard for me and I invite you to dinner later."

Tom focused on the second half sentence: "Okay."

He raised his foot to stand up, but didn't want the reporters to "click" and "click" when they saw him.

"It's Mr. Allison who is not easy to find!"

"CEO Allison, why are you here?"

"This is Miss Weber's studio. Do Mr. Allison and Miss Weber have a private relationship?"

"Does Mr. Allison and Miss Weber have close personal contacts?"

"Are Mr. Allison and Miss Weber dating?"

"CEO Allison once publicly said that he has a fiancée. Miss Weber, are you his mistress?"

"â€¦"

The reporter came up with a series of questions, like a firecracker, babbling, one after another, each question was uneasy and kind.

Tom was immediately surrounded by reporters, so there was no chance to get out and call the security guard.

His complexion is a little ugly.

"Ms. Tina and Mr. Allison are just in a simple friendship. Mr. Allison is just passing by and sitting in there. Please don't get me wrongâ€¦!"

Stephanie stopped reporters while responding to their questions.

But after responding to one, it became endless.

Tina watched the reporter being stopped by Stephanie and Tom, and then stood up silently and planned to leave through the back door.

When designing this studio at that time, this issue was considered, so a back door was designed especially.

The sharp-eyed reporter saw Tina was about to leave, so he shouted: "Miss Tina, don't go, please answer my question!"

With so many things happening recently, reporters have long wanted to interview her, but Tina has not been seen recently, and there is no news.

With this opportunity finally, how could it be possible to let her go so easily.

The reporter began to squeeze toward Tina desperately.

Stephanie looked back at Tina, and shouted, "Hurry up."

Tina was a little worried, Stephanie gave her a relieved expression.

Hiding from reporters, Tina is experienced and runs fast.

Fortunately, she has been resting at home for so long, and now her body has fully recovered, otherwise she would really not be able to run through these reporters.

Tina disappeared in a smoke, and successfully escaped.

But Stephanie had no such good luck.

The reporter squeezed so hard that Stephanie was squeezed to the ground. Tom was still suppressing his temper. When Stephanie was squeezed to the ground, he was stepped on a few feet. The decent expression on his face disappeared in an instant.

His face was cold, and with one hand he grabbed the wrist of a male reporter who was about to step over Stephanie: "Did someone fall and haven't seen it?"

Tom had been decent just now, and said nothing.

When the reporter heard him speak, they all turned to look at him, and there were even reporters who wanted to ask him questions.

"CEO Allison, may I ask?"

"Ah-hand, my hand!!!"

Half of the question was asked, but was interrupted by a scream.

It was the male reporter whose wrist was squeezed by Tom. The male reporter's expression was so terrible that he was still screaming, so that other reporters did not dare to speak for a while.

Tom didn't let go of the male reporter who was screaming like a pig.

Chapter 1572

Tom was irritated, and his aura was shocking. The other reporters stepped back, staring at each other, not daring to speak again.

Tom is an upstart in the Rostenvel, but such upstarts generally have a family background and cannot afford it.

Even the male reporter whose wrist was pinched by Tom didn't dare to shout for a while, and could only grit his teeth to endure the pain, his forehead was already full of sweat.

Tom didn't look at anyone, but looked down at Stephanie on the ground.

Stephanie tried to stop so many reporters just now, her hair was messed up, and there were a few footprints on her trouser legs, and the whole person looked very embarrassed for a while.

Stephanie also raised her head to look at Tom, seeing him staring at herself with an ugly expression, thinking that Tom was angry and implicated.

She didn't dare to say anything. At this time, in front of so many reporters, as Tina's agent, she made a mistake, and the person who paid for her was still Tina.

She leaned on the ground with one hand and wanted to get up, but she didn't know who stepped on her leg just now. She didn't feel much pain at the time. At the moment, she felt a little numb, and she couldn't get up at all.

"Are they all dead? Who pushed her down just now, who stepped on her, came over to help people up." Tom's voice was not serious, but it was so cold in people's ears that it was numbing. It seems to be able to penetrate through the bones.

In the next second, two male reporters came forward, trying to help Stephanie.

Stephanie was also shocked by what Tom had just said.

During this period of time, she would meet him from time to time, and occasionally have a meal together.

Tom has always been very kind. It was the first time that she saw him being so angry. She was as scared as the reporters, afraid of how to calm his anger later.

When Tom saw that two male reporters were coming up, he threw away the male reporters, walked over by himself, stood behind Stephanie, held her waist with both hands, and lifted her from the ground at once.

Stephanie was caught off guard and was lifted up. The whole person still didn't react, her body was a little weak and she couldn't stand firmly. The whole person fell back and fell straight into Tom's arms.

Feeling the warm and hard touch on her back, she panicked and became even more afraid.

Tom was already so angry, he kindly lifted her from the ground, but she couldn't stand still and hit him

She didn't dare to look at his expression.

Even if she didn't dare to look at him, she could guess what Tom was on at this time.

It must be as cold as when he was talking

But the next moment, she felt the generous warm hands holding her waist again.

The thin summer clothes can't stop the heat of his palm

At this time, the security rushed over.

“What are you doing all around here?”

After the security arrived, they drove all the reporters out.

After driving the reporter out, the security guard was ready to come over to give condolences to Stephanie.

The security guards all know that Tina is here to open a studio. Recently, Stephanie is taking care of the studio. The security guards have also known her when they come in and out.

But from a distance, she saw Tom’s appearance that strangers didn’t get close, and the security guard didn’t dare to come over, and only said from a distance, “Miss Stephanie, are you okay?”

“I am okay, thank you.” Stephanie said with a smile on her face.

“You’re welcome, let us go again if you have anything to do.”

After the security left, only Tom and Stephanie were left in the room.

Chapter 1573

“Hey! they’re all gone.” Before letting go of the hand on her waist supporting her, Stephanie was a little stuttered.

She has never been so close to a man.

Even those of the older brothers and younger brothers in the family will not be so close in daily contact.

“Can you stand firm?” Tom’s tone became serious and anxious, and his tone did not sound as cold as before.

But she felt that his words sounded like making fun of her.

Stephanie’s face blushed instantly, and she didn’t lift the bar anymore, and she stumbled out a word: “Yes.”

Only then did Tom slowly let go, as if he was sure she could stand firmly. The movement of letting go was a bit slow, giving her a gentle illusion.

As soon as he left his hand, she immediately jumped away.

“Thank you, for just now!” She tidied up her clothes and hair in a panic, out of order.

It’s okay for Stephanie not to tidy up. The more tidy up, the messier it gets.

“You don’t move.” Tom couldn’t stand it anymore, and stopped speaking.

Stephanie subconsciously stopped her movements and looked up at him motionlessly: “Huh?”

Tom walked to her, took her hand away, and reached out to tie her hair, lowered his head, and caught a glimpse of the shoe prints on her trouser legs, his complexion became difficult to look at.

Stephanie couldn't figure out what Tom was thinking, so she didn't dare to move when she froze. The main reason was that Tom was really angry. She was afraid that she would not listen to him and he would be even angrier.

She didn't know why but was afraid that Tom would be angry.

Tom did not speak, and she did not dare to speak.

Then, as she watched, Tom leaned over to help her gently pat the shoe prints on her trouser legs.

Stephanie's whole body froze into a stone, and she stopped moving, even holding her breath.

When she couldn't hold back anymore, she dared to breathe softly.

Tom patiently and meticulously patted the shoe prints on her trouser legs, but his brows were frowning tightly. In fact, he disliked her!

But why does he want to help her again?

She can do such a small thing!

Stephanie's heart was up and down, nervous for a while, flustered for a while, and then jumping like a race with 800 legs in it.

She has never been so difficult in her life.

Even when she was in elementary school, she scored three points on the math test, and she kept thinking about how she would be repaired by her parents on the way home. It was not so difficult.

Because she knew it would definitely be repaired.

At this time, Tom's series of behaviors seemed to her to be really confusing.

She completely reads and does not understand him.

Tom seemed to feel Stephanie's stiffness, he raised his head and looked at her face.

She stiffened and opened her eyes wide, her eyes were extremely uncomfortable, but she dared not blink.

She and Tom looked at each other for ten seconds, and when she felt that she was about to blink her eyes, Tom suddenly smiled.

"Stephanie, do you know what you look like now?"

"like what?"

"Like a good girl who has been molested and played by a bully but dare not resist."

"what?"

Stephanie couldn't keep up with Tom's rhythm.

It took a few seconds to react.

“No, no, how could it be?” she laughed dryly.

Tom stopped smiling, and she felt a little embarrassed again.

Seeing that he was going to continue with what was just now, she was so scared that she jumped away and said with a very exaggerated smile: “Hey, those reporters are so annoying, they are finally gone, Mr. Allison, you helped me a lot today. , I have to treat you to dinner.”

Chapter 1574

Tom glanced at Stephanie: “Yes.”

She also knew what he meant by looking at her, she could see through him.

“Let’s go too, I’m going to find Ms. Tina.” Stephanie just wanted to leave this place quickly.

She felt that everything was not right, she was wrong, Tom was not right, and the two of them were even more wrong together at this time.

She was eager to leave this place quickly.

“She left you and ran away. Are you still looking for her?” Tom’s tone was calm, as if to say casually.

“This is my job. I originally wanted to protect Ms. Tina. She gave me processing capital.” Stephanie thought that she would be able to support herself in the future without relying on her family or Peter. Happy, smiling unconsciously on her face.

“Do you really like this job?” Tom asked.

He knew of Stephanie’s salary, but he had done a little bit before, and it came out immediately.

Her salary is nothing at all. If it takes care of her usual consumption level, it is just a few pieces of clothing.

Tom also started his own business. He respected every profession and everyone who relied on their own hands for food.

Before today, he didn’t think there was anything wrong with Stephanie’s job as an agent.

But once surrounded by these reporters, he felt that the job was not very good.

This is a job that will hurt.

“Like, be recognized, accepted, and needed, I think it makes a lot of sense.” As Stephanie spoke, she went to grab her mobile phone and computer, ready to pack her things and leave.

Tom didn’t speak anymore.

She thought he was just asking casually, and she didn’t think too much: “I will leave after picking up things.”

“Yeah.” Tom was actually thinking about something else.

After getting married, he will definitely not let Stephanie do this job again.

She, this little girl, can neither escape his palm nor fight him, he can always have a way to make her resign.

The future is long.

â€¦

After Tina left through the back door, she directly called the security guard.

While squatting outside waiting for Stephanie, she called Peter back.

“What’s wrong, you haven’t answered the phone.” Peter’s tone sounded very anxious.

She said with a guilty conscience, her voice was a few degrees lower than usual: “It’s something that happened just now.”

It is impossible to say that she was looking after Stephanie and Tom dating, so she didn’t answer his phone.

“Heh.” Peter just sneered.

He knew her better than Tina herself, and her tone was a guilty conscience, which was a lie to him.

Tina pretended not to hear that the source has been seen through, and asked: “You keep calling me, what’s the matter?”

“A reporter touched your studio. I want to call to remind you that if you could answer the phone. It should have been fine. I’m on my way here now.”

“Ahâ€¦ this thing.” She is indeed fine now, but Stephanie and Tom are in trouble.

Peter frowned, thinking her tone was weird: “I will be there soon, you wait for me for five minutes.”

Tina added in time: “I’m at the back doorâ€¦”

There was a pause on the other end of the phone: “I see.”

Tina didn’t hang up, waiting for him to hang up.

But he also seemed to be waiting for her to hang up.

Tina didn’t hang up the phone, and the phone was connected until Peter drove the car to the back door of the studio.

Chapter 1575

“Tina.”

Peter drove the car to the back door of the studio. Before he got out of the car, the voice came over.

Tina hugged her arms and watched him hurry down, as if she was about to disappear one second later.

She couldn’t stand it anymore, she was right in front of him, why was he anxious?

“You slow down.”

Peter walked quickly to her, supported her shoulders with both hands, looked up and down, then said, "Nothing?"

"Do I look like something is going on?" Tina said in an angry voice, and couldn't help muttering softly after speaking, "Why have you become so cautious now? Karl is not as exaggerated as you are, Alyssa is still pregnant. I am in good health!"

Peter's eyes flashed slightly, and his expression became serious again: "I am happy, what's the matter? When you are pregnant, I will confess to you and give you incense every day! Oh!"

Tina listened to him more and more outrageously, and immediately started beating him.

Peter "ouch" avoided: "Oh, yes, if you don't want to have children, we will always live in the two-person world!"

Tina refused to listen to his nonsense, turned around, and went into the studio to take care of Stephaine.

When she came out just now, she called the security department. After the meeting, the security should have driven away from the reporters.

Peter followed Tina and walked in, whizzing crookedly as he walked.

Tina was too lazy to care about him, so she quickened her pace.

When they entered, they saw Stephanie packing things. Tom was standing by and waiting for her. His eyes followed Stephanie silently. There was no specific dialogue or eye contact between the two people. It was just the scene that looked like this. , It makes people feel warm.

Tina couldn't bear to break this warmth, stopped, and did not pass immediately.

"Why don't you move?" Peter followed from behind.

Tina turned her head quickly and made a silent gesture at Peter. Peter understood, looked inside, and frowned.

He thought it was a terrible scene, so he was embarrassed to go over, but Stephanie and Tom didn't do anything and didn't say a word.

Women are boring.

Although he thought this way, his body stayed beside Tina very honestly and peacefully without making a sound.

Stephanie packed up her things and walked towards Tom, and found that Tom was also looking at her. She turned her head a little embarrassedly, and saw Tina and Peter standing not far away.

"Ms. Tina, cousin? Why are you here too?" Stephanie looked surprised when she saw Peter.

Peter coughed lightly, lifted his foot, and walked in: "Passing by, come and have a look."

Passing by again?

Stephanie couldn't help turning her head to look at Tom.

She remembered that when Tom came before, he also said he was passing by.

This is a coincidence.

Tom pretended not to notice Stephanie's eyes looking at him, and greeted Peter: "Mr. Grant."

Peter: "Mr. Allison."

The two looked at each other tacitly.

Tom said again: "I have a meeting to be held later, but Miss Stephanie said that if you want to invite me to dinner, we might have to go one step ahead."

Stephanie was taken aback: "Ah, me?"

"Is it all packed?" Tom asked her.

"what."

"Let's go" Tom stretched out his hand, took the bag in Stephanie's hand, nodded to Tina, and walked straight out.

Stephanie didn't react yet, looking at Tina with a confused expression.

Tina waved her hand: "Go."

Chapter 1576

"Oh." Stephanie replied, and honestly turned and walked outside.

Finding Tom standing by the door waiting for her, she quickened her pace.

However, as soon as she walked outside, Stephanie was still a little confused about the current situation: "Mr. Allison, lâ€!"

"Move faster, I'm short on time." Tom raised his hand and looked at his watch, urged.

Tom helped her a lot today, and Tom is so anxious now, it must be because he just stopped the reporter for her and wasted his time.

Stephanie felt a little sorry: "Mr. Allison, if you are in such a hurry today, you might as well change your meal another day. Best Day used to take at least half an hour here."

Inviting people like Tom to eat, at least it must be Best Day.

Although she feels distressed about her wallet, a meal in Best Day will probably cost her a meal by swiping a credit card, but sincerity is very important for inviting people to eat.

Peter had said that it could be credited to his account, but this was because she invited Tom to eat. Without spending her own money, she didn't think it was her own invitation to eat.

"You don't have to go to Best Day." Tom walked to the front of the car before talking.

He opened the door of the car, put Stephanie's things in the back seat, and opened the door of the co-pilot again: "Get in."

"Not going to Best Day?" Stephanie quickly got into the car with doubts, and honestly remembered the seat belt, and sat upright, so serious, like a primary school student.

Tom couldn't help but curled his lower lip and looked at her more.

Stephanie felt that he was looking at her, so she raised her head, her eyes opened wide, full of doubts: "What are you laughing at?"

Stephanie's eyes are very clean, and when she looks up at people, she has a childish innocence.

Like some kind of cute animal cubs, they want to touch their heads, they want to touch their heads in their arms, or do other things.

Tom's Adam's apple rolled twice, and when he opened his mouth, his voice was a few degrees lower than before: "It's okay."

He closed the door and got into the car from the other side.

Tom started the car, and Stephanie was wondering where to take Tom to eat so that she could meet Tom's side.

She said several restaurant names, but they were all denied by Tom.

Stephanie had committed difficulties, except for Best Day, she felt worthy of Tom's restaurant.

But Tom didn't want to eat in these restaurants, where did he want to eat.

Just when she was full of doubts, Tom's car stopped in front of a restaurant.

She turned her head and found that it was a fast-food restaurant.

She turned her head to him in disbelief, would he want to eat here?

Tom responded to her doubts with actions.

He unfastened his seat belt, opened the door, and went down.

She watched Tom go around the front of the car, walked to the car door on her side, opened the door, and leaned in to untie her seat belt.

Because his series of smooth actions were too sudden, she didn't react at all to refuse.

When she felt that this was not appropriate, the man's breath and side face were already close at hand. As long as she leans forward so two or three centimeters, she can touch his face.

And his lips.

The feeling that there were hundreds of rabbits jumping in her heart appeared again.

The simple action of unfastening the seat belt took only a few seconds, but Stephanie felt that it took a long time.

She stiffened even after a long time.

Chapter 1577

Tom straightened up and was about to tell Stephanie to let her down, when she found her whole body stiff and tightly pressed against the back of the seat, with a serious and nervous expression as if her life was threatened.

“Why this expression?” Tom stood alone on the car door and looked at her.

“Maybe getting older, and I’ve stayed up a lot lately, so I always feel heart palpitations, beating too fast, maybe my heart problem?”

Stephanie only thought of where to say at the beginning, but at the end, she felt more and more that this was the case.

It must have been too late lately, causing her heart palpitations, so her heart beats so fast.

Tom repeated: “Are you getting older?”

She reacted and said in front of him that he was old, which seemed a bit too stressful.

After all, Tom was thirty.

“Mr. Allison, you are different. You are in a good body and in good shape. You should be exercising regularly?” Stephanie wanted to quickly say two nice words to please him, so that he would not be offended.

“Oh? You know me well.” Tom looked at her with a smile but a meaningful smile: “You even know whether my body is good or not.”

“It’s just you can see it.”

In order to make his words more convincing, Stephanie also made a gesture and pointed at him.

In fact, I didn’t see it, but I felt it when I was in the studio before.

Outstanding people with high IQs like Tom have not only gotten a lot of trouble in their careers, but also have not fallen behind in fitness, which makes Stephanie only envy.

She couldn’t do it like Tom.

After she was busy every day, she just fell asleep when she went home and lay down. Sometimes she forgot to take a bath.

Tom is not the kind of person who makes an unexpected appearance, but Stephanie’s words make him very useful.

Her eyes told him that she said these things from the heart, not flattery.

“Okay, let’s get down.” Although he was happy, Tom didn’t show it too clearly.

The two entered the fast-food restaurant together.

It is the first time that she has come to eat in this kind of place. She is usually busy ordering takeaways. Now the quality of life has declined, and she will also order takeaways from ordinary restaurants, but this is the first time she has come physically to such a place to eat.

After she walked in, she was still studying how to order.

“Find a place to sit down and wait for me.” Tom finished speaking, and went over to the queue.

Stephanie looked around and found that there were too many people and there were few places, so he hurriedly found a small table and sat down.

The small table is really small, so two people sit face-to-face, and the tabletop only has enough space for two dinner plates.

After sitting down, Stephanie looked over to Tom.

He has long legs, good proportions, and an outstanding temperament. With so many people in line, Stephanie saw him at a glance.

So eye-catching.

Tina said before that Tom was a profiteer.

But looking at it him in this way, Stephanie found that she actually didn't really see the businessman's sense of calculation and shrewdness, but instead had the confidence and elegance of a nobleman.

After a while, Tom bought two meals and Stephanie got up and took one.

After she put it down, she did not eat immediately, but looked at Tom's white shirt: “Your clothesâ€¦!”

When Tom brought the food, he was accidentally hit by someone passing by, and the vegetable juice on the plate splashed and spilled onto his clothes.

The stains on the original white shirt were very eye-catching.

Chapter 1578

When Tom came here just now, he had been frowning, obviously very concerned about the vegetable juice on his clothes.

The time she spent with Tom wasn't too short, and she also vaguely felt that this man was a bit clean, not that serious, but it could be vaguely seen from the usual performance.

“Eat first.” Tom raised his eyes to look at her, his frowned brows eased a little.

Stephanie obediently picked up the chopsticks: “Oh.”

After taking two bites, she secretly glanced at Tom.

Tom is very attentive when eating, and he doesn't play with mobile phones when he eats like other people, and she also likes to play on mobile phone when she eats.

But Tom didn't even take the phone, and she was too embarrassed to take it.

Tom didn't speak, and she didn't know what to say, so she bowed her head to eat.

Halfway through the meal, Stephanie suddenly remembered something and looked up at him.

Perceiving her gaze, Tom asked, "What's the matter?"

"Didn't you say that you would treat me to food?" Tom had just bought the food, and the money was also paid by him.

Tom thought it was something, his eyebrows were slightly relaxed, and he said quietly, "Next time."

"Also." Stephanie nodded.

Next time, next time.

The next time, it means that Tom is actually not that angry.

He didn't seem to be eating fast, but he still ate before Stephanie.

He eats cleanly.

Stephanie actually couldn't finish eating. Seeing that he didn't have any leftovers, she was embarrassed to eat the leftovers, so she ate slowly.

She thought she didn't show it, but Tom still found out.

Tom's voice came from above her head.

"If you can't eat it, don't eat it."

"I can eat more!"

She said that she could eat a little more, really just a little, and then put down her chopsticks.

Finding Tom had been staring at her, she was a little embarrassed: "I'm eating well."

Tom held out his dinner plate without saying a word.

Stephanie wondered, Tom's quality is so good that he wants to help the restaurant close the dishes, right?

But the next moment, her eyes widened: "Allison! Mr. Allison!"

"Huh?" Tom didn't look up either.

"That's what I eat!" the rest.

She thought that Tom was going to help the restaurant collect the plates, but she didn't expect that he would take her plate over and eat what she left.

Is he not full?

Can she order another if he's not full?

Besides, isn't he a hobbyist?

Ah ah ah ah ah! ! ! !

Stephanie was in a mess in the wind.

What on earth did Tom do! ! !

She was full of air and did not dare to take a breath, she really couldn't understand Tom's behavior.

She was so frightened that she stopped talking.

Tom quickly ate the food she hadn't finished.

He put down his chopsticks and raised his head, Stephanie hurriedly turned her head and looked away.

At this level, she was a child in Tom's eyes. What she was thinking could be shown by her face.

"If you don't eat it, it will be wasted. It just so happens that you don't have much left." Tom explained calmly, naturally.

She turned her head and said quietly: "Wasting food is not the point!"

Tom: "Then what is the point?"

Stephanie: "!" The point is that she ate leftovers.

But she really didn't have the courage to say this sentence.

Tom didn't seem to understand her meaning at all, and stood up: "Let's go, where are you going next? I'll take you there."

"Don't you have a meeting?"

"Not short of this time."

"!" Doesn't it mean that time is tight?

Chapter 1579

Tom didn't seem to see Stephanie's stunned expression, and walked straight out, walking fast.

She needs to run small steps to keep up with him.

As she ran small steps to follow him, she rebuffed him: "No, I'll go to see an assistant next. The appointment is not far away, so I won't be wasting your time."

As Tina wants to open her own studio, and she has to find people for publicity, operation, and business. However, Tina has a wide network of contacts, and Peter, for these positions are easy to find reliable people in the circle, and there is no need Stephanie was worried about these things.

But she has to find a life assistant for Tina.

"I won't delay." Tom stopped suddenly.

Stephanie didn't react for a while, and rushed forward. When she realized that Tom had stopped, she looked back, "Mr. Allison, I don't think it is necessary."

Tom had eaten the rest of her meal just now, and she was shocked.

He then raised his foot and continued to walk forward. It was just that his steps became smaller and he walked a little slower. She didn't need to trot to keep up with him, and she was now able to keep up with his usual walking speed.

The two quickly walked to the side of the road.

Tom's car stopped across the road. When he drove there, she didn't go there.

But Tom started to honk as soon as he got into the car, which made passersby wait and see.

Seeing that she was too late, Tom pressed again.

Stephanie had no choice but to bite the bullet and walked over, quickly opened the co-pilot's door, and sat in.

After she got in the car, she didn't dare to see him, she just turned her head and looked out the window, pretending to be looking at the scenery.

"address."

Tom's voice sounded.

Stephanie hurriedly entered the address on the map, the map planned the route, and she handed her mobile phone to Tom for him to read it himself.

When she handed him the phone, she also turned her head and looked out the window.

Tom slowed down the car a little, took the cell phone that she handed over, and saw that she didn't even look at him, so he glanced at her.

After he put the phone in, he called her name.

"Stephanie."

"Yes."

She answered outside the window.

"Will you lose your life at a glance?"

Tom's words were somewhat abrupt.

She turned her head to look at him with a look of confusion: "What?"

"Nothing." Finally, she was willing to give him a glance.

Tom slightly curled the corners of his lips, looked at the front, and drove the car very intently. There was no abnormality on his face, just like an okay person.

Stephanie reacted to what he had just said, and cleared her throat a little embarrassingly: "I just ate too much food, a little motion sickness, so I kept looking out the window."

"Really?" Tom's tone had an inconspicuous smile, which became more and more ambiguous.

She was uncomfortable, but she didn't dare to jump off the car, so she had to deal with it dryly and smiled, "Yes."

"Ding Dong!"

It is the sound of the new message push of the mobile phone.

She turned her head: "Is it my phone?"

Tom: "Yes."

There was no smile on her face, because she saw what he didn't want to read from the push message on Stephanie's mobile phone.

"What did you push?" Stephanie turned her head to look.

But what was displayed on the phone was a map. She took the phone away, and Tom couldn't read the map.

He saw her thoughts and said aloud: "It's just a turn ahead. Take your phone back."

Chapter 1580

Stephanie took the phone back cautiously, clicked on it, and cursed: "These reporters are writing nonsense again!!!"

Tom asked: "What did they write?"

Although he had already seen the news headline and guessed the content, he wanted to see Stephanie's reaction.

Stephanie hesitated, "Didn't write anything, just the mess!"

How could she tell Tom that this news is not about others, but about him and Tina.

Probably the reporters who rushed into the studio before took the photos, and then they started to write nonsense about Tom and Tina's tryst in the studio, and the agent let them out!

These people can really cook up things.

At that time, it was obvious that she was closer to Tom. She was sitting next to him and Tina was sitting on the other side.

Talking nonsense with your eyes open.

Fortunately, it was sent by a small newspaper, so there is nothing to read, and no one believes it. This kind of small news is also very good for public relations.

Tom asked, "What's the mess?"

Stephanie was thinking whether, to tell the truth, she suddenly realized something, and turned to look at Tom: "Mr. Allison, when are you so curious about this entertainment news?"

"It's boring to drive," Tom said in a kind-hearted manner.

His expression was too natural. Stephanie didn't have any doubts, but rather embarrassed: "Then I will chat with you."

Tom said that this proposal was good.

But at the corner, Stephanie's destination was reached, and the car stopped steadily.

Stephanie was also a little embarrassed. She was thinking about Tom eating her leftovers along the way. On the other hand, he felt more at ease, as if he didn't take this seriously.

It is possible that he really simply felt that it was too wasteful and had no other ideas.

On the contrary, she thought too much by herself.

Tom also drove her a gentleness, and she turned her head to look out the window all the way, and didn't say a word to him, so she seemed too rude.

Stephanie, with a guilty heart, grabbed her seat belt when got off the car and said sincerely to Tom: "Wait for my salary, please."

After getting her salary, she can ask Tom to eat more expensive things to make up for her guilt.

Tom didn't need to ask, he could guess what she was thinking from her expression.

"Okay," he answered.

"Then I'll go first, see you, Mr. Allison." Stephanie got out of the car and waved at him.

Tom didn't immediately drive away, he hooked his finger at Stephanie.

She turned her head with a look of confusion, and bent over to the car window: "Mr. Allison, are you okay?"

"Are we friends?" Tom asked.

Stephanie felt that Tom's question was a bit strange, but she nodded honestly, "Of course we are."

What Tom wanted was this answer, a look of satisfaction appeared in his eyes, and asked: "Then you still call me Mr. Allison?"

"What's should I call you?" Stephanie asked in a daze.

"What do you mean?" Tom put one hand on the steering wheel, and turned his head slightly to look at her with a smile, simple and wanton, and kind of unspeakable suave.

Stephanie felt that a rabbit was jumping into her heart again.

She thought about it seriously, she should change the name to something kind but not offensive.

So, she tentatively said: "€ Old Allison?"

Tom's smile froze in the corner of his eyes.
