

Predestined 1591

Chapter 1591

Tina didn't sleep well at night.

She has been dreaming all night.

She dreamed that she had become a sheep, or a depilated sheep that had lost the face of the sheep race, and was pointed at wherever she went.

"So ashamed of our sheep clan."

"Yeah, she actually said that to Karl hahaha!"

The name "Karl" awoke Tina abruptly.

Peter slept shallowly, and he woke up when she moved.

"Want to drink water?" Peter's voice was still a little sleepy and hoarse.

"I was dreaming." Tina said in a very sad tone.

"What did you dream about?" Peter thought she had a nightmare, and asked in a very gentle tone: "Is it a nightmare?"

Tina nodded: "Yes."

"It's okay." Peter gently stroked the top of her hair and asked: "What did you dream of?"

Tina said quietly, "Karl."

Peter originally stroked the palm of her hair, but suddenly paused: "!"

How do you say this feeling?

His own woman told him that she dreamed of other men, he was still her own good boyfriend.

But she said it was a nightmare.

There was a period of silence in the room.

After a while, Peter finally couldn't help but laugh.

The more he laughed, the more exaggerated he was, and at last he thumped the pillow.

Tina was anxious and frustrated: "What I said is true, what are you laughing at? It's so annoying!"

Peter laughed so much that tears were about to fall, and finally stopped.

"Relax, Karl won't mind." Peter tried to comfort her.

"Really?" Tina was dubious.

"Really, what a big deal, Karl's temper is much better now than before, and he is not an unreasonable person!" Peter has always spoken smoothly.

Tina sneered: "Speaking as if he was reasonable."

She shuddered when she remembered Karl's previous behavior style.

One thing, Peter was right, Karl's temper was indeed much better.

"You, little things, go to sleep." Peter tucked her quilt.

Tina lay back, still tossing about, and couldn't sleep.

Peter asked her: "Can't sleep yet?"

"Yes."

"Then find something to do?"

"I'm sleepy, I fell asleep."

Then there was the sound of Tina getting into the quilt.

â€

She had an event the next night, she had to walk the red carpet.

The makeup was done in the studio in advance and the styling was done in advance. The drive to the event site was a long time, over an hour.

Last night, she was still thinking about asking Alyssa to ask Karl's reaction. But she was busy all day, and she was finally free now.

Tina sent a WeChat message to Alyssa: "Alyssa!"

Alyssa posted two in a row.

"Yes."

"I heard that you have an event tonight. Let me see if your makeup and hair are beautiful."

Tina is very satisfied with today's look: "n@ked must be extremely beautiful."

Before coming to the studio, she couldn't help but ask Stephanie to take a lot of photos for her. She picked a few of them that she thought was the best and sent them to Alyssa.

"Pretty! It is absolutely beautiful."

Alyssa blew a rainbow f@rt.

Then, she saw that Tina's display was typing, and it disappeared for a while, and then again, but she never sent a message.

Alyssa took the initiative to send a message and asked, "Do you want to ask Karl about it?"

"You know?!!!" Tina thought that Karl would not talk to Alyssa about this kind of thing, after all, the big boss wouldn't say anything like a woman.

Chapter 1592

Seeing the message sent by Tina, with question marks and sighs, Alyssa could imagine Tina's expression now.

She patiently explained to Tina: "I didn't know, but Peter called me in the morning and asked about it, and then went to Karl to make a conversation."

Tina asked, "What then?"

She felt that Alyssa was deliberately making her anxious and speaking slowly.

"He didn't take it to heart at all, and don't know why you are so afraid of him. You were afraid before, but you are still afraid now." After so many years, Alyssa felt that Karl now is the most gentleman in the world.

Although he is still indifferent to others, he is no longer as sharp as he used to be. He has become more restrained, and he is much gentler to those around him.

Tina replied three words very profoundly: "You don't understand."

She was someone who had seen Karl's methods, and Karl was a ruthless person in his heart from the beginning.

Even after so many years, because of the relationship between Peter and Alyssa, she and Karl would occasionally communicate a little bit, but the fear of Karl in her bones was the same as before, and it had not diminished.

After talking with Alyssa, Tina went to send a message to Peter.

She looked around in the emoji collection, found an emoji that was more than heart-like, and sent it to Peter, and then sent another message: "Sir Grant, enjoy a face and have a meal together at night."

She told Peter last night that she dreamed of Karl, and Peter laughed at her, but in fact, he gets up early in the morning, called Alyssa to ask about the situation.

Most men are a little deeper, and don't always say what they do, and don't believe what they say.

Somewhat strangely, Peter did not reply to the message immediately.

Tina thought, he should be busy.

However, until she arrived at the event and handed her mobile phone to Stephanie before entering the venue, he did not reply to her.

Even in normal times, he could not reply to her message immediately, at least within ten minutes.

Never let her wait so long.

Is something tricky going on in the company?

There was something in Tina's heart. When signing in and entering the venue, she was absent and almost tripped over the steps. She stretched out a hand behind her to hold her waist in time, which saved her from falling and embarrassing herself in front of the public.

At the moment she held on, Tina felt a familiar breath.

She was startled, and a flash of joy flashed in her eyes.

Peter, the dog man, didn't reply to her WeChat, because it turned out to be sneaking into the event.

After she stood firmly, the people behind her also released their hands in time, and Tina turned her head back: "You too!"

When it was clear that the person standing behind her was David, the smile on her face froze, but she quickly returned to nature: "It's David, thank you."

David is a traffic star who participated in "My Life and Me" with her before, and a polite junior.

When she was on the show, she got along pretty well, and she had a good impression of the young boy.

"Miss Weber, long time no see." David's eyes were clear, and he looked down at the steps: "You have to be careful."

"Well, let's go." There are still cameras taking pictures of them, so it shouldn't be too long.

David knew that, so he didn't speak anymore, and went to the front sign-in place with Tina one after another.

Chapter 1593

After signing in and taking a group photo, David happened to stand beside Tina again.

When the group photo ended and stepped down, she had to go down the steps again, the light was a little dim, and she was a little slow. He was behind her, reaching out to support her arm.

Tina hesitated, but let David help.

The lights here are too dim, the red carpet is not too flat, and her heels are relatively high, and if she accidentally falls off, it will really make headlines for entertainment.

After walking down the steps, David immediately let go of her hand, very gentleman.

"Thank you." Tina turned around and thanked him with a smile.

There is no shortage of handsome boys like David in the entertainment circle, but there are not many boys like him who are thoughtful and insightful.

To put it bluntly, in this circle, it is impossible to rely on the face alone.

The beautiful face is just a ticket.

Otherwise, Tina wouldn't have to spend so many years before entering AdamPic.

She felt that the future of David's child was unlimited.

Later, when he sat down, I don't know whether it was intentional or unintentional. David sat a row behind Tina, which happened to be behind her again. He had a few seniors he didn't know in the middle, and he leaned in to ask Tina.

She naturally answered him.

â€¦

The event ended at nine o'clock.

Tina returned to the backstage and greeted those familiar stars and the staff in the circle again. It was close to ten o'clock after the circle.

Back in the nanny car, Tina was so tired that she collapsed directly in the car.

"Drink some water." Stephanie handed Tina a bottle of water, and then reached out to press her waist.

Tina has filmed a lot of scenes over the years, her waist is not very good, and she will feel a little pain after standing for a long time.

"Where is my phone?" Tina drank water, gave the bottle to Stephanie, and asked her for the phone.

Stephanie quickly took out the phone and handed it to her, and asked her, "Is so anxious to ask for the phone, who are you waiting for news or phone calls?"

Stephanie naturally knew that it was Peter, and deliberately made fun of her.

Tina glanced at her: "The little girl is so courageous in the film, is she making fun of me?"

"No." Stephanie continued to press her waist, and said: "My cousin called her before and asked if you are coming in and when it will end. I originally came to pick you up directly, but there seems to be something. Things got stuck."

"Yeah." Tina replied casually and opened WeChat.

Peter replied to the WeChat she had previously sent: "Waiting at any time."

Although there are only four words, Tina can also imagine his cynical look when she sent the message.

"I'm over here, I can go to eat now." Tina sent him WeChat.

But Peter still didn't reply immediately. She couldn't help but glanced at the reply time of the previous message and found that the reply was only an hour ago.

An hour ago, just after eight o'clock? At that time, it was almost three or four hours since she sent a message to Peter.

Peter didn't reply so late.

What is he busy this day?

Tina was about to call Peter directly to ask, and someone called her.

When Cody saw it, it was a familiar number.

It was from Cody.

She was so busy during this time that she almost forgot about Cody.

Maybe when everyone grows up, they are busy with their own things, as long as they are not people who can often see in daily life, it is difficult to remember.

Chapter 1594

After what happened last time, SHE knew in her heart that she and Cody probably couldn't go back.

They can no longer eat and chat as simple as friends.

Everyone has changed.

This call, whether to answer or not

Tina didn't expect that one day she would still be so entangled about whether to answer a phone call.

Cody seemed very patient, as if she didn't answer, the phone would keep ringing until she was hung up automatically.

Tina still couldn't bear to answer, and chose to answer the phone.

"Tina." Cody's voice came from the phone. The background on his end was quiet and empty.

It should be in a large space, and speech seems to have echoes.

"Anything?" Tina didn't plan to greet him.

To be honest, Cody would call her, and he shouldn't come to greet her.

If it was just a greeting, he could post a message to her on WeChat, so that it would only add embarrassment to everyone.

Cody laughed, helpless in her laughter: "There is something, I want to talk to you in person."

"Is there anything you can't say on the phone?" Tina didn't really want to meet him again.

If not necessary, it is better not to meet.

Now that everyone has changed, just live their own lives.

The last time she saw him, she felt that he might have encountered something, but he didn't say anything at the time.

In the past so long, Tina herself has encountered some things. She feels that with the relationship they grew up together, everyone knows each other so well, if Cody really needs their help, he directly speaks. And Peter who can help will definitely help him.

But Cody didn't say anything.

Or, what he encountered may have already been resolved.

Tina felt that he probably felt her impatience, so he fell silent and did not speak for a while.

When Tina's patience was almost exhausted, he spoke again: "It's something that can only be said in person."

His tone became low again, and Tina frowned slightly.

"What you don't want Peter to know, I think it's better for us to talk in person." Cody seemed to be certain that Tina would not refuse. After speaking, he asked: "Where do you want to meet, can Best Day be fine?"

Tina's heartbeat: "Change the place."

In Best Day, it is very possible to meet Peter.

Peter often has meals at Best Day.

And what Cody said, he didn't want Peter to know, it was just that.

She hid it for so many years, and finally decided to let it go. No one knew about it except for telling Alyssa.

Where did Cody know?

So many years have passed, why would anyone know.

Tina's heart was a little confused, and she didn't pay attention to listening to Cody's appointment: "Just send me the address."

Hanging up the phone, Tina held the phone in a daze.

She was still wondering if it was that thing.

Maybe that's not the case, right?

Cody had already gone to school in Westberg at that time, and went abroad after two years. How could he know about her?

She must be thinking too much, it must not be what she is thinking.

"Ms. Tina?"

Stephanie's voice pulled back her cool thoughts: "What?"

Stephanie pointed to her mobile phone: "Your phone rang, it looks like cousin is calling."

Chapter 1595

Tina picked up the phone and took a look, and found that Peter was indeed calling.

He didn't call in the morning and didn't call in the evening. It happened that he didn't call her until after she received a call from Cody.

Tina was irritable, and when she answered the phone, her tone was not very good: "What's the matter?"

Peter probably didn't expect her to be in this mood. After a while, he said: "I may have to work overtime at the company tonight, and I don't have time to eat with you. Let me have it some other time, okay?"

Peter's voice is very gentle, afraid of being cold and angry, but also with a little coaxing.

"I have never seen you so busy. I say I want to have dinner with you, so you are busy?" Tina sneered: "Okay, you are busy."

Although she has no time to eat with Peter now, she still feels a little angry.

Even if reply to the message so late, if call so late, and still say that don't have time to eat with her, and the reason is because of work!

When did Peter love work so much?

He didn't eat with her because of overtime.

Who will believe it?

After Tina finished speaking, she hung up.

"What's wrong?" Stephanie asked cautiously.

Tina raised her head to look at her: "Your cousin said that he is very busy and has to work overtime, so there is no time to eat with me."

The smile on her face made Stephanie shudder at the sight, and touched her arm unconsciously: "No, when did my cousin love work so much? Is he kidding?"

Tina curled the corners of her lips without a smile.

Look, Stephanie knows that Peter is not the kind of person who refuses to eat with her because of work.

The man-made it clear that he was hiding something from her and used such a clumsy excuse.

Hum

Tina's cell phone shook. It was the address sent by Cody.

"parking!"

The driver heard Tina's words and stopped the car on the side of the road.

"Ms. Tina, what are you going to do?" Stephanie saw Tina about to get off the car and quickly stopped her.

"If Peter doesn't eat with me, I can't go to have a meal by myself?" Tina pushed Stephanie away and opened the door to get out of the car.

Stephanie said, "I'll eat with you."

"No, you go back early, will be busy tomorrow, leave me alone."

When Tina got out of the car, a taxi happened to pass by. She stopped the car and got in. Stephanie couldn't chase after her, so she could only watch her go.

And Peter's phone call came at this time.

"You accompany Tina to dinner, and take her home after the meal. I have something to do on my side. I will pay you back." Peter seemed to be walking, hurriedly, and hung up after speaking.

Stephanie opened her mouth, didn't say a word, and was hung up with a busy tone on the phone.

She leaned back and lay on the back of the chair. What's the matter?

"Stephanie, where are you going now?" the driver asked her.

"Go back to the studio first." Where else can she go, she is going to work overtime.

â€¦

A very atmospheric restaurant selected by Cody.

The name looked a little strange, Tina had never been here.

The lights in the shop were dim and the privacy was good. She found him by the table number.

Cody sat leaning against the window and looked out of the window, looking a little surprised.

She stretched out her fingers, tapped twice on the tabletop, making a dull sound, which caused him to return to his senses.

"Here." Cody turned his head and smiled when he saw his, his expression haggard.

Chapter 1596

She looked at Cody, pulled a chair across from him and sat down.

"Your complexion looks a little bad." Tina said.

A trace of uncomfortable flashes across Cody's face, and he smiled a little awkwardly: "I have recently started to take over the company. Many things have to be dealt with. I am relatively busy. I have never touched these before. It is a bit tricky and relatively busy."

This explanation sounds reasonable.

Tina is right to think about it, no one knows everything from the beginning, and there are not so many business geniuses in this world.

She suddenly thought of Peter.

At that time, Peter and Karl started a business together, so he probably suffered a lot.

However, when she and Peter met again, AdamPic had grown bigger, and Peter had already become a big boss in the entertainment industry.

Anyone in the entertainment circle who sees him must give three points.

Perceiving her thoughts drifting a little far away, she returned to her senses: "It should be like this at the beginning. Everything is difficult at the beginning, but it should be fine when you adapt later."

"I used to think it was easy to do business. Peter seems to have come here very easily. Everything seems pretty simple."

Cody laughed mockingly and sighed: "I don't know how difficult these things are if I don't experience it."

Tina was not here to listen to Cody sighing the sadness of the spring and autumn.

She just looked at Cody and stopped talking.

Cody sighed for a while, as if finally realizing that Tina didn't speak much, he looked up at her.

Tina's expression was faint, and there was no expression.

They looked at each other for a while, no longer said anything, and took a piece of paper from the bag to her.

When Tina took it, she glanced, but didn't see clearly, because the light was too dim, and she couldn't see the words clearly until she got it.

Her eyes fixed on the top of the paper, her fingers curled up unconsciously, holding the paper tightly.

Cody looked at her without saying a word, just carefully observed her expression.

"Little Miss Weber has really grown up and become stable. My memory always stops when I was young. You were wearing a school uniform and standing at the door of the classroom called Peter. At that time"

Cody's tone was full of longing for memories.

"Why do you have this thing?" She interrupted him coldly.

Tina's eyes were cold, her face was cold, her tone was cold.

But even so, Cody still couldn't distinguish her from the smart and proud little girl in his own memory.

It seemed that she was still her no matter what.

No matter what the situation is, the arrogance in her still exists.

Cody suddenly understood why Tina said they weren't all the same before.

Sometimes, people's awakening is instantaneous.

The kind of feeling that can only be understood and cannot be expressed.

I can't tell, I don't know.

Cody said, "It doesn't matter how I got this thing until now."

"What on earth do you want to do?" There was a trace of defensiveness in the cold eyes.

Cody will never be purposeless.

He seemed to be struggling a little, he lowered his head, without looking at her cold eyes: "I just, want you to do me a favor."

Tina laughed: "Help? Is it a help or a threat? You can be more accurate. We are already adults. Adults are responsible for doing things themselves. Don't be so vague."

Chapter 1597

Don't know which word in Tina's words stimulated Cody.

He, who was still calm at first, jumped on his feet: "Tina, how do you talk? I just asked you for a favor. Do you say that I am threatening you? We grew up with each other, like you. Look at me, do you miss me that way?"

Cody's face was wounded.

"Listening to your tone, you are quite aggrieved." Tina looked at him blankly: "If you are just asking for help, you can just say directly, you specially asked me out and show me what you want to do with this. Did you not count yourself!"

Tina patted the piece of paper he had given her on the dining table with a "pop".

The noise on their side was a bit loud, and the waiter who was not far away looked over here, and even politely walked over to ask.

"Sir, miss, is there anything we can help with?"

"No thanks."

Tina declined, and her tone was milder.

The waiter left without feeling relieved.

Both Tina and Cody became quiet.

After a certain amount of time, he spoke: "Tina, I can't help it either."

"You have no choice, so you choose to threaten me," she answered coldly.

"Youâ€¦!" Cody was angry: "I've said it, I'm not threatening you."

"Then tell me where did you get this thing." Tina insisted on asking this question.

Only by finding out where this thing came from can the matter be resolved.

"Someone sent it to me, I really don't know where it came from." Cody had to tell the truth.

But Tina doesn't believe him now.

"The truth." She still felt that Cody was lying.

"Really tell the truth, Tina, have you already begun to disbelieve me?" Cody sighed.

Tina said: "You gave this to me when you came up, and then asked me to help. How do you make me believe you?"

Cody's mentality also collapsed: "If I ask you to help me, will you help directly?"

“As long as I can do it, I will naturally help you, Cody, in your heart, how fragile the friendship we grew up together is? Or is it that, in your heart, I and Peter are narrow-minded villains?”

Tina always felt that the attitude shown by her and Peter was obvious, as long as Cody spoke, they would definitely help.

But Cody didn't believe them.

He took the thing she cared about most and asked her to help.

Is this what a friend should do?

Is this help?

This is the threat.

After a long while, Cody denied: “I didn't.”

However, in this denial, there is still some distrust.

Tina understood, Cody didn't believe them anymore.

He doesn't believe them anymore, it's no use saying more.

“What happened to you?” Tina felt that Cody might have encountered something last time.

But she didn't wait until Cody took the initiative to speak.

Later, she stayed in the hospital again and forgot about it.

Had it not been for Cody to come to her door, she might really be unable to remember him.

“Our family's capital chain is about to break, and we need a large amount of funds urgently. If we don't have this fund, our family will really be over, Tina, can you talk to Peter and let him help me?”

As Cody said, he hugged his head in pain: “I really didn't expect this to happen.”

Chapter 1598

“The capital chain is broken?” Tina looked at him incredulously, “Why? How long have you been back? Now that the market is sluggish, your Scott family has been affected, but this is not the case?”

The roots of the Scott family are really deep, and the family is the brightest group in the family that has climbed up at a time.

In normal business dealings, there are fixed partners. Maintaining normal operations is not a problem, but it will not be as profitable as before.

“I don't know how this happened!” Cody just shook his head, unable to say anything.

Tina looked at his state not quite right, as if he was under too much mental pressure.

She couldn't bear to ask him: “How big is the gap?”

Cody: “800 million.”

“So much?” Tina felt it was not simple: “Mr. Scott, did you not tell me the truth?”

“Iâ€¦!” Cody hesitated, with a hesitant expression.

“You can tell me if you think about it clearly.” Tina felt that Cody’s state would have no result even if the discussion continued.

She didn’t know what Cody was doing.

Why did he make the Scott family like this?

She stood up, still holding the piece of paper Cody gave her just now: “And this, I really don’t want Peter to know, but you want to use it to threaten me, that’s impossible. If you really want to tell him, just tell him.”

She can accept a friend’s request for help, but she cannot accept being threatened.

Cody looked embarrassed, looking at Tina, unable to speak.

After she got up, she did not leave directly, but went to the bathroom.

She stood in front of the toilet, tore the piece of paper Cody had just given her into pieces, pressed the flush button, and watched the shredded paper being washed away by the toilet little by little before turning around.

She washed her hands and looked up at herself in the mirror, a little weary.

She suddenly felt very tired, and wanted to see Peter.

She took out her cell phone and called him.

But the call did not get through, and a mechanical female voice came from the phone.

“Sorry, the number you dialed is temporarily unavailable.”

The phone rang until it turned off automatically.

Tina didn’t even remember, when was the last time he didn’t answer her phone.

The mood that was originally a bit bad has become worse.

She took a deep breath, calmed down, put the phone back in her bag, and walked outside.

When she reached the hall, she saw a man and a woman walking outside in front of her.

Man is tall, women is thin and petite.

Although it is only a back view, it can be seen that both of them have good temperaments.

When the man was talking with the woman, he tilted his head slightly, revealing a handsome profile face, serious and focused.

She didn’t know what the girl said, he frowned slightly, and then the girl said something again. He curled his lower lips and smiled.

Tina followed them and walked outside.

Until the girl got into a car and left, the man took out his mobile phone and dialed a number and put the phone to his ear.

Her phone rang in the next second.

She stood in the shadow, where the man could not see, and answered the phone.

She heard the calm voice: "Hello."

"What's wrong? Did you miss me? I'm still working overtime at the company."

Tina looked at the man calling not far away, and asked softly, "Are you really working overtime?"

The man not far away smiled and said to the phone: "Yes."

Chapter 1599

Tina held the phone, speechless.

She didn't know what to say, and she suddenly lost her voice, unable to speak.

Peter stood there obviously.

A few minutes ago, he and a woman walked out from this restaurant talking and laughing, and he sent the woman away.

At this time, he stood on the side of the road to answer her phone.

When she asked him where he was, the smile on his face didn't even diminish, let alone the guilty conscience caused by deceiving her.

Absolutely not.

She didn't even know that Peter would lie to her without changing his face.

"Why don't you speak?" Peter's voice rang on the phone.

Tina looked at Peter from a distance, and finally there was a slight change in the expression on his face, with a little doubt, he should be wondering why she didn't speak.

Speak?

What are you talking about?

Tina was afraid that when he opened his mouth, she was asking where he was, who he was with, and why he lied to her!

And what kind of answer will she get after asking these questions?

Back then, Peter left her behind. It wasn't that she didn't ask him the reason, or that she didn't ask him for the answer.

But did he give her the answer?

Nothing from beginning to end.

She thought that after all these years of separation and torment with each other for so many years, they are no longer the same.

She should try to trust him again.

However, only now did she realize that no matter how many years have passed, the things that have not changed will not change.

Or maybe, many things have long been concluded.

She looked forward to a different ending between her and Peter.

But now it seems that between them, there is only one ending from the beginning.

“never mind.”

Tina’s voice was very soft, so light that it quickly dissipated in the wind and disappeared completely without a trace.

Peter probably heard the wind on her side and asked, “Are you still outside?”

“You continue to work overtime, don’t worry about me.” The calm tone sounded, be more sensible and considerate, be more considerate andâ€¦!

Peter asked: “What’s wrong?”

She has to admit that Peter really knew her, and there was something wrong with her tone, which he could quickly detect.

“You need to control it!” Tina snorted coldly.

This is like her usual.

In front of him, she is always very tempered, and rarely is she obedient.

Peter was relieved because of this: “I will be back soon, don’t miss me too much.”

“Dreaming, who miss you, go away!”

After she finished speaking, she hung up.

She did not leave immediately, she still stood still looking at him.

She found that after Peter answered the phone, the smile on his face no longer existed. He sighed, and after putting away the phone, he stooped into the car.

So when calling her, is the smile in the voice pretending to be?

Perfunct her?

As soon as Peter got in the car, he drove away.

After his car disappeared from view, Tina was still standing in the dark.

Before long, Cody came out.

“Cody.” Tina walked out of the dark.

Cody didn’t expect Tina to be there, and said in surprise, “Tina? You haven’t left yet?”

“I can’t help you with money, but I can help you from other places.” Tina said.

Cody was startled: “What do you mean?”

He asked like this, not because he really didn’t understand the meaning in her words, but he was not sure if it meant what he thought.

Although Tina is an actor, she is also in the flow.

In this era, traffic can be realized.

Chapter 1600

Tina is another group of actresses with the most commercial value in the entertainment industry today.

To put it more straightforwardly, it is extremely monetizable.

Although Cody is an outsider, he also knows how many brand merchants are looking for Tina’s endorsement, advertising and promotion.

If she can help him, although he can’t fill the hole in the company at once, he can also relieve his urgent need.

“It’s what you understand. It’s too late today. I’ll talk tomorrow.” Tina’s tone was very firm.

Cody didn’t know why she suddenly changed her attitude. He was surprised at the same time, but he nodded in response, “Okay.”

He is almost at the end of his way. At this time, he has no reason to give up such an opportunity.

â€¦

Tina returned home, it was already twelve o’clock.

After taking a shower, a dozen unread WeChat messages were displayed on the phone.

Ten of them were sent by Stephanie, and a few were sent by Peter.

Tina first read the message from Stephanie.

“Ms. Tina, are you home?”

“Why don’t you reply?”

“My cousin just called to ask me.”

“Squeak? What did you do?”

“How do you think this pajama looks good?”

“â€¦”

At first, Stephanie was still asking her if she had gone home, but after that, she started to post something else.

“Back, this pajama is not for you.”

After returning to Stephanie’s text, Tina went to see what Peter had sent.

“go home now.”

“Would you like supper?”

The display was posted half an hour ago, and it should be almost home by now.

Tina didn’t reply, put the phone aside, and got directly into the bed.

Her heart is chaotic, but very calm.

Calmly, she had long felt that there would be such a day, and it finally came.

It was only now that Tina realized that she had such a pessimistic attitude towards the relationship between herself and Peter.

When deciding to be with Peter again, she thought, try again, maybe everything is different, if she doesn’t try, she will regret it.

In the current situation, there was a voice in her mind telling her: Look, it’s still the result.

This gave her an unspeakable sense of calmness.

She doesn’t seem to be sad, she thought it should be the result.

Tina thought this way, and fell asleep unconsciously.

When she woke up again, she was awakened by heat.

Behind her, there was a chest firmly against her, the man’s arms were wrapped around her waist, and he was breathing smoothly in her ears.

The whole person was immersed in the familiar breath.

Her body was more adapted to the feeling of being embraced by this man than her heart, and she was very relaxed.

Tina reached out to check the time on the phone beside the bed.

It is already three o’clock in the morning.

When this happened, she could still sleep, and even Peter did not wake her up when he came back.

She didn’t make much movement with her mobile phone, but the man behind her was still awake.

Peter tightened his arms slightly, and dropped a fragile kiss on the back of her white neck, with the tiredness of waking up in voice: “How come you woke up.”

Feeling sleepy and heavy, as if to sleep at any time.

Tina didn't make any movement, only asked him aloud, "Are you going to work overtime recently?"

"Yes, there are a lot of activities in the middle of the year, and a few projects are also stuck, and I need to organize a few meals! But don't worry about your studio, I will let Rubin come to help!"
