

Predestined 1671

Chapter 1671

Stephanie nodded very satisfied.

It should be like this.

However, Tom's grateful heart is also very good.

Although he is annoying sometimes, but most of the time, he is quite good and has many advantages.

Stephanie straightened up and wanted to brush her teeth quickly and go to breakfast. When she walked to the door, she thought of the bracelet Grandma Allison gave her last night.

"Tom!" She called Tom's name, and sprinted in.

"Hmm?"

Tom heard the movement, and soon appeared at the door.

He first glanced at her, she screamed anxiously, he thought something had happened to her.

"What?" he asked.

"I have something for you."

After she finished speaking, she took out the bracelet Tom's grandma gave her last night, and handed it to him, "Hey, I'll give it back to you."

He glanced at the bracelet, his expression unhappy.

"What's your expression?" Stephanie saw that he was not moving, so she held his hand and stuffed the bracelet into his hand: "Such a valuable thing, you can quickly take it back and put it away, lest your grandma arrives. Give it to others at random?"

"Just give it to others?" Tom repeated the last half sentence.

"Yeah." Stephanie didn't hear the abnormality in his tone, and nodded in agreement.

Tom's grandma can give such precious bracelets to her casually, or to others. She still feels that Grandma Allison didn't do this out of her original intentions, it may be that she was too old to work her mind well.

Tom laughed angrily, took his hand out of Stephanie's hand, and ignored her.

"youâ€¦!â€¦!"

Tom packed up his things and walked out: "Get out of the way."

His expression was a bit cold, and Stephanie completely subconsciously stepped away.

Then she watched Tom leave with something.

"Hey! Breakfast!" Stephanie's eyes fell on the dining table. He hadn't eaten breakfast yet, so he left like this?

Finally, she ate breakfast alone.

Tom was obviously planning to have breakfast with her, because the breakfast seemed to be for two people, but she didn't know why he suddenly left.

Stephanie couldn't finish so many things by herself, so she put them in the refrigerator.

It's good to go, it's cheaper for her.

Stephanie went out after breakfast.

When she got out of the elevator, she called Tina.

"Ms. Tina, you have a script reading meeting for the new play today. The time is set in the afternoon. I will pick you up in the afternoon."

"OK."

Tina's tone was calm, and there were no extra words.

Stephanie went through this morning's work in her mind, and made sure to have time for lunch, so she said, "Let's have lunch together at noon."

"Okay," Tina replied in one word.

Stephanie hesitated and said, "Goodbye."

She felt that there was something wrong with Tina.

At noon.

Tina took a taxi to the restaurant Stephanie had ordered.

When she arrived at the restaurant, Tina was still on the way, so she looked at the menu first, and took a picture of the menu, and sent it to Stephanie, asking her what kind of dishes she wanted to eat.

After she ordered the food, it didn't take long for Stephanie to arrive.

As soon as Stephanie sat down, she found that Tina's expression on the phone was wrong, and asked quickly: "What's the matter? Is something wrong?"

Tina handed the phone to Stephanie: "An internet celebrity committed suicide."

Chapter 1672

The internet celebrity who committed suicide was called Kellie, who was born as a talent anchor.

A good guitarist.

"This one seems to be the one who went out of the circle, right?" Stephanie didn't know much about the internet celebrity circle, and asked uncertainly.

Tina corrected: "She was a talent anchor, who could play and sing, arrange music and write songs, and her fans are about to reach millions."

Once at a niche brand event, Tina saw her, a very quiet girl, and her song feels very different.

She just didn't expect to see the name Kellie in the real-time news.

Tina sighed, feeling a little depressed.

This kind of bad news can easily make people feel depressed and unhappy.

"Oh." Stephanie scratched her head awkwardly: "They all look too alike, I can't tell them clearly."

It seemed to her that she still felt that Tina was a rare and recognizable actress who was really beautiful.

Stephanie turned a few pages down and found that someone said that Kellie had committed suicide because of depression.

"It's depression again!" Stephanie murmured.

"Hello, the steamed fish you ordered."

The waiter came over to serve at this moment.

Stephanie was hungry a long time ago. Seeing that the food was coming up, she had no interest in watching the news anymore, and returned her phone to Tina: "Ms. Tina, your phone."

Tina took the phone and saw that Stephanie could not wait to pick up her chopsticks and start eating.

Tina couldn't help but said, "Slow down, there are thorns."

"This fish is so fresh and tender, Ms. Tina, try it." Stephanie returned Tina with chopsticks.

Tina took two bites, and then she didn't move her chopsticks much.

After Stephanie found out, she looked up at her: "Why don't you eat anymore?"

"I don't really want to eat this."

Stephanie didn't think much, nodded.

But after serving other dishes, Tina didn't eat much.

"Ms. Tina, you can't eat so little. The script reading meeting in the afternoon is going till late night. I have to say if I have time to eat!"

Stephanie wanted to persuade Tina to eat more, but Tina seemed to have no appetite, so she could only give up.

Suddenly, she remembered the news about Kellie's suicide before. In the comments below, there was someone who was suffering from depression too.

Does it seem that there is no appetite?

Thinking about it this way, Tina seemed to have no appetite for a while.

It seems that the words have become less recently.

The more Stephanie thought about it, the more she felt a little flustered, and she stopped telling Tina to eat: it's okay, you really don't have an appetite, so don't eat it. I will buy something for you later."

â€

Stephanie really said that the script reading would not end until very late.

It was late at night when it ended.

The staff were still cleaning the scene, Tina stood in front of the window holding a glass of water, watching the traffic and lights outside.

Stephanie's voice sounded behind her, cautiously: "Ms. Tina, I'll take you home."

"It's late. After you send me home, you can stay at my house." Tina retracted her gaze and turned to look at her.

"Huh?" Stephanie thought, Peter seems to also live in Tina's house.

But after another thought, living with Tina just happened to be able to observe her up close.

Except for her lack of appetite and speech, there is nothing wrong with her.

Stephanie nodded and said, "Okay, I can drive you out of work just in the morning."

Chapter 1673

Stephanie sent Tina back home, only to find that Peter was not there at all.

It's so late, Peter hasn't come home yet?

She thought that Tina and Peter had been strained recently. It was probably because Peter had returned late or didn't even go home.

Can't help but ask in a low voice: "Is my cousin coming home late these days?"

After a deep pause, she turned to look at Stephanie.

Stephanie didn't know what was going on, she felt a guilty conscience when she was looked at by Tina, as if she was thinking, Tina could see it.

"He probably won't come to live with me recently." Tina didn't intend to explain too much, and took her to the guest room.

"I have toiletries, so just change the quilt."

After Tina finished speaking, she looked at her. Stephanie understood, nodded, and said, "Okay, I see."

Tina showed a satisfied smile, turned around, and returned to her room.

Thinking of Stephanie's previous question, she was slightly distracted.

Peter is not coming home late these two days, he is not home anymore.

Whether he didn't come back, she ended up at ease.

Perhaps it was because of what she said and made a decision.

â€¦

Kellie's affair, after half a day of fermentation, in the evening, it was on the trending search list.

It didn't come down until the evening.

Moreover, every time a period of time passes, something will be updated about her.

However, there is still no clear explanation about the cause of death.

Despite this, a large number of people are determined to call it a suicide because of depression.

As for why she had depression, the argument is even more bizarre. Some people say it is because the company was too squeezing, others say it is because of feelings, and even worse, it is because of online loansâ€¦

There are so many different opinions, and it is difficult to distinguish between what is true and what is false.

Tina thought that it must be a very painful thing for such a young and very talented girl with a bright future to make the decision to end her life.

She has never experienced anything that can cause her pain to such an extent, but she can understand the breadth of this girl.

Until the next morning, Kellie was still a trending search headline on various social media platforms.

After Tina woke up, she then turned over several Twitter posts to read related things, and found that after one night, there was still no progress on this matter.

On the personal homepage of Kellie, the top Twitter comments have increased by tens of thousands, most of which are words of regret.

Tina gave up, got up to wash.

After washing, she found that it was still early, and Stephanie's room was still quiet.

Recently, her hand was injured, she was idle, but Stephanie was busy.

The two sides of her arm can also be removed. In fact, it is not that difficult to move one hand. She can make a simple breakfast while it is early.

When breakfast was almost ready, Stephanie's voice came from the living room.

"Ms. Tina, what are you cooking, it smells so goodâ€¦"

Stephanie's voice moved from far to near, and quickly entered the kitchen.

“Fried eggs.” Tina looked back at her.

Stephanie was so frightened that she was completely awake: “Your hands are not healed yet.”

“Small things, go brush your teeth, wash your face and change clothes.” Tina urged her.

“Okay.” she turned and left after speaking.

Tina took the cooked breakfast to the dining room and found Stephanie’s mobile phone on the table.

She walked over and planned to move her phone aside, and was attracted by the content on the screen.

Chapter 1674

Stephanie is an internet addicted girl who can’t do without a mobile phone.

Getting up every morning is to play with the phone for a while, and then get up again.

Tina actually has this habit.

Stephanie should have been busy washing up just now, fearing that he was carrying his mobile phone and thinking about playing with it, which would delay things, so she hurriedly put the mobile phone on the dining table, the page still stopped on a social media software.

At the top of this page is the title of this topic: Do you think there will be another suicide by Internet celebrities and stars in the short term? who can that be?

And the first highly praised answer was Tina.

“I think it is Tina. This is not a random guess, but after a deep analysis. In recent years, Tina has made rapid progress, and the resources are exceptionally good.

AdamPicâ€™s boss is her boyfriend. The screenwriter of “City” is her good friendâ€¦ The people around her don’t seem to be simple, other female stars should be envious of her? But I always think she seems to be unhappyâ€¦”

For this answer, he listed the events of Tina over the past few years and sorted out her network of relationships.

Finally, it is to analyze her mood or something.

If this person is not talking about her, but about someone else, Tina would probably believe it.

What kind of analysis are these?

However, she couldn’t help her curiosity, and continued to read the comments of this answer.

“I think this answer makes some sense.”

“I feel so too.”

“Written with your feet? Or sleepwalking?”

In the last comment, the author who answered the question replied: "It is definitely not written randomly. I have a basis. Tina's life is not as glamorous as everyone sees. She is actually quite miserable."

Tina laughed, where is she so miserable?

Obviously, these netizens who watched the excitement, like Tina, wanted to know what her misfortune was, and asked the author who answered the question.

But the author said: "This is a matter of privacy and a secret."

There are still some people who believe this author blindly, and some say that the author is talking nonsense.

Tina returned to look at the other answers and found that many people had written her name.

If she was just a spectator at this time, she would have to believe it.

It's just nonsense.

Where is she going to commit suicide?

Is there anything she can't think of?

Reallyâ€¦!

Such a neat statement does not seem to be a coincidence at all, but rather a deliberate act.

"Ms. Tina!"

As soon as Stephanie came out, she saw Tina looking at her mobile phone, and suddenly screamed inwardly.

She habitually scans various social media app when she wakes up to see what happens.

As a result, on this app, she brushed up on this topic. She originally clicked in and took a look, but she didn't expect that these people all mentioned Tina's name.

She naturally scolded these people, and couldn't help but continue to look down to see what other people were saying.

But she walked too quickly and forgot to lock her phone.

As a result, it was like this, and Tina saw it.

She saw everything.

She thinks it is not good for Tina to see this topic.

Who wants to be called by others like this?

"It's okay." Tina looked at the full expression and knew what she was thinking.

Stephanie moved her lips, not knowing what to say.

After thinking about it, she said: "We can take measures. I think these people are like trolls bought by someone and don't know what to post this kind of thing!"

Chapter 1675

Tina nodded thoughtfully: "This matter is indeed a bit weird, but it is temporarily difficult to determine what the troll's attempts are."

Stephanie said solemnly, "I will check."

"You don't have to spend too much time." Tina returned the phone to Stephanie: "Maybe it's just a conjecture produced by organized trolls."

Seeing that Tina didn't care very much, Stephanie was also relieved a lot.

"It should be." Although she said so, Stephanie decided in her heart that she would follow up on this matter.

Tina put the breakfast away and called her to have breakfast together.

Tina was eating breakfast and took out her cell phone to find the topic just now.

After she clicked on the topic, she refreshed it habitually, and she found many new answers.

And these answers are to help Tina speak, and the tone seems to be her fan.

She thought for a while, raised her head, and said to Stephanie, "If there is a suitable media to interview me next, you can pick it up."

She doesn't want to be a traffic star, but she already has traffic, so she still finds some opportunities to restrain fans.

Stephanie probably knew a little bit of her thoughts, and responded, "Okay."

Tina still has a meeting with the crew today.

After breakfast, Stephanie drove Tina to the meeting.

On the way there, Tina took out her cell phone again and swiped the news about Kellie on the Internet.

Just now, there is updated news about Kellie.

"It is reported that Kellie has been seeing a psychiatrist six months ago!"

This news is officially issued and has a certain degree of authority.

In this way, Kellie did commit suicide because of depression.

However, the cause of depression is somewhat unclear.

"Ms. Tina, what are you looking at?" Stephanie glanced, vaguely seeing that her screen was the interface for news.

"I am reading the news about Kellie." Tina didn't look up, "I heard that it was half a year ago, she started to see a psychologist."

“What was the reason?” Stephanie frowned slightly.

In the past few years, the psychological problems of people working in the entertainment industry have emerged one after another, and more and more. As an agent, you must not only care about the work of artists, but also pay attention to their mental health.

Tina: “It has a relationship with the company.”

Although the statement was not very direct, it vaguely revealed this meaning.

“Oh, soâ€¦!” Stephanie breathed a sigh of relief when she heard the words.

She was a little worried that Tina would have such a problem, but when she heard that Kellie had become this way because of the company’s business, she felt relieved.

After all, Tina had no such encounter.

When she was in AdamPic before, Peter was the boss, even if he praised her, he was very euphemistic, without putting too much pressure on her, and in a relatively relaxed state.

At work, she didn’t have much problem.

If there is, then it is other aspects.

“What’s wrong with you?” Tina also noticed Stephanie’s relieved expression, feeling a little puzzled.

“No, I just think it’s difficult for some artists.” Stephanie sighed.

Tina turned off the phone and didn’t answer the call.

Stephanie thought for a while, still said: “Are you and my cousin? Are you okay?”

Tina paused slightly: “What do you think?”

“I think you guys seem toâ€¦!” she fully deliberated, not thinking about what to say.

Tina said bluntly: “We are going to break up.”

Chapter 1676

Stephanie was startled slightly, she slowed down the speed a bit, and then whispered, “Did something happen?”

Tina was silent for a long time.

When Stephanie thought she could not speak anymore, she said slowly.

Stephanie turned her head to look at her, and she saw Tina’s thoughtful look.

“Maybe it was fate.”

When Stephanie heard this, he couldn’t help but let out an “ah” in surprise.

Tina and Peter are in a situation, what is called, prisoners of fate?

She really couldn't see how Tina and Peter seemed to be having such a fate.

If there is really no fate, they would have married each other a long time ago, and it is impossible to wait until now to be together.

"No fate" is really an omnipotent reason. Move wherever you need it.

"Here." A cold voice sounded.

Only then did Stephanie realize that she had reached the place where Tina was going to have a meeting.

Stephanie opened the car door, and when Tina got out of the car, she said, "When you are finished, I will pick you up."

Tina nodded: "Be careful on the road."

â€¦

As soon as Tina started the meeting, it was endless. She didn't order takeaway meals until 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The staff took a takeaway for Tina.

Because she is considered to be a patient, the meal ordered by the staff is also a healthy meal, which is light and nutritious.

Tina and the staff were sitting at the same table for dinner. They both took care of Tina. They chatted with each other. Sometimes the cue was cold, asking her if she would like to drink water or need paper towels.

Tina followed them, eating slowly, and eating more than usual.

Those staff members were almost eating, chatting with Tina on the sidelines.

Ding-

Tina's cell phone rang, which was the alert tone for new text messages.

Tina bit her spoon, picked up the phone, and slowly opened the text message interface.

In the preview of the text message content, the text content is not seen, it should be the image of the file.

Tina clicked on the text message, just glanced at it, and was stunned.

As she thought, the content of the text message was indeed a picture.

But this picture is not a simple picture, but a photo.

The content of the photo is also clear at a glance-a woman in disheveled clothes.

And this disheveled woman is not someone else, it is herself.

The sullen complexion suddenly changed.

She didn't remember when she had such photos.

She can't remember it at all.

"Miss Weber, are you uncomfortable in any way?"

Tina grabbed the phone tightly and stuffed it into her pocket. When she looked up, she saw the staff on the opposite side looking at her worriedly.

"My stomach feels a little uncomfortable, I'll go to the bathroom." Her complexion has long returned to normal, and she got up and walked towards the bathroom.

"Miss Weber, do you still want to eat your meal?"

"No more, thank you."

Tina entered the bathroom, locked the door, and opened the photo.

She hasn't been exposed to all kinds of weird photos before, but the photos this time are particularly lifelike.

If she hadn't had any impression of the scene in this photo, she would almost believe that this was exactly what happened to her.

Tina looked at it for a while, and after confirming that she had no impression of it, she took another look at the cell phone number that sent the text message, and asked Stephanie to check who sent the photo.

It was the first time that she saw such a rampant sunspot, and even sent the photo to her mobile phone.

Chapter 1677

Tina was thinking about telling Stephanie about this, and asking Stephanie to find out who the number belongs to, when she heard the door pushing outside.

Soon after, someone called her.

"Miss Weber, are you inside?"

"What's wrong, what happened?"

She locked the phone screen, opened the door, and walked out.

When the staff saw Tina, they immediately greeted her with a smile: "Miss Weber, someone is looking for you."

"Who is looking for me?"

"You'll know when you see them."

Tina followed her out and went to the meeting room.

Pushing open the door, saw Peter standing in the room.

The moment she saw Peter, the expression on Tina's face sank.

He looked like he had come in a hurry, and there was still an undissipated rush on his face. The moment he saw her, his expression calmed down.

"Tina." He strode towards her.

He was going to pull her when he came over.

She reacted extremely quickly, avoiding his stretched hand.

"What are you doing?" Tina stood aside, her expression is very cold.

Peter didn't move on, but looked at her expression, as if after confirming that she was not abnormal, he said aloud: "Came over to see you by the way."

Tina said in a low voice: "It's not necessary, you can be busy with your things."

Peter's complexion sank: "You don't have to reject me like this. I am also considering what you said about breaking up. After breaking up, can we not even be friends?"

Tina looked up at him suddenly: "Have you considered it?"

Peter took a breath slowly, as if suppressing the anger in his heart.

After a few seconds, he said again: "It looks like you are looking forward to it."

Tina raised her eyebrows: "So what's your answer?"

"I haven't been home in the past few days. You don't seem to want me, but you want me not to come back anymore, don't you?" Peter sneered, with a mocking expression on his face.

"Since you know, what else to ask?"

At this time, there was a knock on the door outside.

Someone pushed in.

"CEO Grant, water for you to drink."

When someone came in, Peter and Tina looked away.

The man glanced at Peter and then at Tina, feeling that there seemed to be a strange relationship between the two.

After watching for a while, he turned and left.

When the people left, the two stood face to face again.

Ding-

Tina's cell phone rang suddenly.

She frowned. What day is it and why are there so many text messages?

She took out her phone and felt Peter still looking at her.

When she looked up, she saw Peter staring at her mobile phone with a serious face.

He seemed to be very interested in her cell phone text messages.

“What are you doing?” she asked.

“There are still people sending text messages these days? don’t know what it is.” Peter said casually.

Tina glanced at him, did not say anything, opened the text message, and found that it was an advertising text message.

And, unfortunately, it was a text message sent by software that Peter had invested in.

Tina curled her lips, raised her eyebrows, and looked at him with a smile: “I thought it was some old-fashioned one who texted me.”

Peter raised his chin slightly and looked away calmly.

“You have seen me, should you not go now?” Tina said.

She still has work to be busy next, and Peter is here to delay her work schedule.

Besides, he doesn’t seem to have anything important.

Chapter 1678

“I plan to leave.”

Peter’s tone was casual, his eyes lowered slightly, but his eyes were still on her cell phone.

Tina felt strange, why did he keep looking at her phone.

“You…”

She was about to ask, but Peter suddenly reached out and took her mobile phone away.

Tina glanced at his empty hand before reacting to it for two seconds.

“Peter, what are you doing, why are you crazy?” Tina was about to go to Peter’s hand with a mobile phone.

“Look at it.” Peter raised the phone, avoiding Tina’s hand that was coming to grab the phone, and not letting her take the phone back.

No matter in terms of momentum or physical strength, Tina couldn’t compare to him. He deliberately didn’t let Tina get the phone, and she naturally couldn’t get it.

Peter turned directly to her text message.

Tina grabbed the phone, not knowing what he was looking at: “Return the phone to me.”

“I will return it to you after reading it, let me see if you have quietly contacted other men behind my back these days…”

What Peter said was completely different from what he did.

Tina didn't delete the photo after receiving the text message just now. She still took the photo to Stephanie and asked her to check the incident.

In fact, she was also a little worried about Peter seeing the picture.

Based on her knowledge of him, he either helped her to deal with this matter directly, or mocked her and dealt with this matter afterwards.

She didn't want him to intervene in her affairs anymore.

She doesn't want to be entangled with him anymore.

Since it is going to be broken, it's fine to break it.

Peter deliberately avoided the coldness of the phone screen. When he saw the photo, his expression changed slightly, but he quickly opened her WeChat account.

Pretending to read the WeChat content, he said boredly: "There is nothing to see."

As soon as his hand dropped, Tina grabbed the phone directly.

She raised her hand in anger, but after another thought, she lowered her arm and kicked Peter's leg.

"hiss!"

He hissed coldly, his expression a bit exaggerated: "Isn't it just looking at a mobile phone, is it so cruel?"

"Get out if you are done." Tina ignored him, and after putting the phone in her pocket, she turned and walked out.

She didn't see it. After she turned and left, Peter's expression suddenly changed.

His expression was so gloomy as the dark night.

That person really sent the photo to Tina's phone.

She woke up at the time and couldn't remember what happened after being kidnapped by Cathy.

Now when he saw this photo, most of them think it is a composite, so it is so peaceful.

He must deal with this matter before Tina discovers it.

It's just that he had found someone to investigate this matter before, and not only has he not received any news yet, even that person has disappeared.

This is very unreasonable.

He was looking for a gold-medal intelligence officer from the world's top intelligence organization "YJ".

It stands to reason that this little thing should be easily found.

But after so long, there is no news.

If the person entrusted by him does not have an accident, then there is only one possibility left.

That is, the person who sent the photo knows the person he entrusted.

Although he had this kind of speculation in his heart, he still believed in that person's behavior, and he didn't quite believe that that person would shield the person who sent the text message.

The person he was looking for was unreliable, so he had to do it himself.

Chapter 1679

Tina didn't know when Peter left.

Anyway, when she finished her work, he was gone.

Stephanie came to pick her up as scheduled.

"Ms. Tina." Stephanie's complexion looked a little tired, but her eyes were bright and she looked good.

When Tina walked over, she opened the car door for Tina.

"Get in the car, Ms. Tina."

Tina bent over and got into the car.

Stephanie followed closely and talked to Tina about the work today and some details of the work arrangement.

After hearing her talk about it, Tina slowly said, "I have something to tell you."

"What's the matter?" Just after the traffic light, she stopped the car.

Tina sent photos of the text messages received in mobile phone and showed them to Stephanie.

"This?" Stephanie only glanced at it, and her complexion changed drastically: "How come there are such photos? They don't know that it is illegal to distribute such composite photos?"

Stephanie also believes that this kind of photo is synthesized.

"I didn't seem to offend anyone recently." Tina said thoughtfully.

She hasn't had much activity recently, so there is no way to block anyone.

"Is it a new drama?" Stephanie said tentatively.

"The new play was decided very early, and the crew has been in touch with me." The play was not picked up suddenly, but the director had intentions early in the morning.

The director is not very young and is not considered a senior director, but he has great ideas. He once worked with Tina to make a charity film. Later he contacted Tina and said that he had a good book in his hand, which was especially suitable for her.

She trusted the director and took it directly.

“It may also be because you recently terminated the contract with AdamPic, so those people think that you don’t have an umbrella, and they want to step on you at this time.”

Stephanie felt that this possibility was very high, and she was already angry.

If there is something about this job that makes her feel uncomfortable, it is that certain people in the circle are unscrupulous in order to gain a position.

She has gradually adapted now, but occasionally she still finds it unacceptable and can’t help being angry.

“Let’s check it out first.” Tina felt that Stephanie’s guess was not very likely. The specific truth would have to be checked before she knew it.

“Okay, I will check it out as soon as possible.” Stephanie still had anger on her face.

The light is green.

Stephanie continued to drive forward.

She was afraid that Tina was upset because of this, so she thought of something and said something funny to her, trying to make Tina happy.

Tina laughed enthusiastically, and her expression relaxed.

She inadvertently turned her head and looked out the car window. She just saw a pair of student-like men and women walking side by side. The girl had been looking at her mobile phone. The boy said a few words to her. She seemed to have not heard him. The phone was taken away.

The girl seemed to be a little angry, looking at him angrily, going to his hand to grab her mobile phone.

The boy was very bad and deliberately raised the phone to prevent her from getting it.

She stood on tiptoe to grab the phone.

The boys also circumvented her badly.

The two became entangled.

Tina suddenly thought of Peter.

He suddenly went to her before, saying that he was on the way, and robbed her of her mobile phone, somehow saying that it was to see if she had any other men.

Thinking about it now, these things he said were full of loopholes, and besides robbing her of her phone, he was also weird as well.

Chapter 1680

People say that there must be demons when things go wrong.

Every time Peter did something that did not suit his personal habits and style, he always had another purpose.

Although he did this very rarely.

However, just because he did not have many abnormalities, it is more telling that things are not small.

Until he returned home, Tina was still thinking about Peter.

After thinking about it, she was still a little frustrated, and took out her cell phone to call Peter.

The phone rang several times before it was connected.

“Tina.” Peter’s voice with a slight smile sounded from the phone, and there was a teasing that seemed like nothing.

She began to regret for a while.

Why did she call him suddenly?

But Tina’s mind turned fast, and soon came up with a very reasonable reason.

“In order to make it easier to cooperate with work, I decided to let Stephaine live at home. When will you take your things?” The calm tone was more indifferent than usual.

Peter fell silent.

Tina called him suddenly, and he was still wondering.

It turned out to be talking about this.

Think about it.

Tina was arguing about breaking up with him recently. How could she call him if she was okay?

Even if you take the initiative to call, it is impossible to do anything well.

Peter laughed at himself and said to her, “We have officially broken up?”

Tina’s breathing was stagnant. Peter said before that he would consider it carefully. After thinking about it for a few days, she didn’t even think about wanting him or something.

“So, how did you think about the breakup?” Tina asked along the way.

Peter fell silent completely.

“Do you really want to leave me that way?” Peter’s tone was low and heavy, so heavy that even his breathing seemed to be lost.

Tina moved the corners of her lips. When he reached his lips, he couldn’t say anything for a while.

He asked not why she wanted to break up, but why she wanted to leave him so much.

She wants to break up, she wants to end this relationship.

But, ending the relationship and leaving Peter are the same thing?

Go away! ! !

Tina discovered that she was actually a little sensitive to these two words.

Whenever she heard such words, she still felt tingling.

Peter didn't seem to be waiting for her answer.

He no longer waited patiently for her to speak, but said: "Okay, I promise you to break up."

For a moment, Tina felt a slight buzzing in her ears, and Peter's voice was not very real to her.

Until she heard his next sentence.

"As for my things, put them aside first. If you feel that putting them is an eye-catcher, just throw them away."

After Peter finished speaking, he paused for a moment, and then asked without emotion, "Is there anything else?"

Tina realized that she had been silent for a little longer, and shook her head quickly and said, "Nothing."

After shaking her head, she remembered that she shook her head, and Peter couldn't see it.

Suddenly she was a little lost.

"Then hang up," Peter said.

Tina hung up the phone directly.

If she hung up one second late, it will be hanged up by Peter first.

After thinking about it, even if Peter hangs up first, there is actually no problem.

But in her heart, she was thinking about hanging up in front of Peter.

The call on the phone ended, and the room was silent.

Tina got up, walked to the room where Peter had lived before, and gently opened the door.

There are not many things in the room, the quilts are all her own.

She just remembered that Peter recently moved to the master bedroom to live with her.
