Chapter 1681

After Peter moved to her room and lived with her, most of his things were also moved to this room.

And because of this, the room he used to live in seemed empty.

Tina turned back to her bedroom door.

In her bedroom, there were traces of Peter's life everywhere.

She didn't think anything before, but now that she looks closely at it, she can see a lot of his things.

She stood by the door for a while.

Looking closely, she found that he didn't have a lot of things, not even half of hers. It may be that Peter's things are too scattered, and he intentionally or unconsciously put them together with her things, and it becomes obvious that there are traces of his life everywhere.

For example, the headphones he put on the bedside.

For example, on her dressing table, his two bottles of perfume, a tablet computer, and his towel

The bits and pieces are all things he uses every day.

Suddenly, Tina had an illusion that she had lived with Mr. Grant for many years.

But this illusion comes fast and goes as quickly.

She soon became calm again.

She found a cardboard box and started to pack his things slowly.

Sort them into categories and store them together.

Seeing that there are not many bits and pieces, she has been sorting them for two or three hours.

After finishing the order, the sky was completely dark.

She took a shower directly, changed the sheets, and lay down on the bed ready to go to sleep.

She lay on the bed and scanned the circle of friends.

She brushed the circle of friends and came to the post that Alyssa just posted: The gr@pes we picked in the mountains today are too sweet.

The photo should be taken secretly, so it looks extremely natural.

In addition, the appearance of the two father and daughter are not average, so this photo looks even more pleasing.

Tina commented below: "Little Baby Grace is so good."

After she commented, she continued to scan back.

Then she got a small photo.

The photo is the photo of the party.

Partying is a normal thing, and sending a photo is also normal.

But something abnormal is that Peter is in the photo.

And the person sitting next to him is Maria.

Tina opened up the picture and read it carefully several times, confirming that the person sitting next to Peter is indeed Maria.

More than that, Peter in the photo turned his head to talk to Maria, with a slight smile on his face. Maria raised her head slightly and looked at him, with a shy smile on her face.

Such a simple interaction, but it seems unusually sweet and close.

No wonder he agreed to break up so freely.

It turned out to be because!

Tina curled her lips and smiled mockingly.

She didn't have the mind to look at Moments anymore. She returned to the address book and was about to go to bed, and found that Alyssa had sent her a message.

"have you eaten?"

When Tina was asked so, she remembered the dinner.

Tina replied: "Forgot!"

She really forgot, completely forgot about eating.

Alyssa: "!"

Alyssa: "It's past nine o'clock, aren't you hungry?"

Tina replied weakly: "Not hungry."

She really didn't feel hungry, otherwise, she wouldn't forget to eat.

If she is hungry, she will definitely be able to get something to eat on her own, or just order takeaway.

Alyssa probably had nothing to say, so she replied, "Okay."

Alyssa asked, "How about these two days?"

s

Chapter 1682

Tina saw Alyssa's question and replied with a smile: "It's pretty good."

Then she sent another article: "The last time I met was only a few days ago, did you miss me so much?"

"Yeah, I'm worried about you. I've been worried recently. I can't sleep well or eat well." Alyssa also made a sigh.

Tina: "I believe you a ghost, if you are so worried about me, wouldn't you come to me?"

Alyssa: "Karl wouldn't let me."

Tina: "Does he let you make excuses?"

After Tina sent the message, she stared at the phone and waited for Alyssa's reply.

But after waiting for a while, Alyssa did not reply.

Tina guessed that she might be busy with other things.

She was about to put down her phone to pour a glass of water, and she saw "The other party is typing" at the top of the dialog box.

Seeing this, she waited for Alyssa's reply.

Soon, the message came.

"What she said is true."

Tina looked at the text, and couldn't understand what was going on.

Immediately after that, another one came over.

"I am Karl."

Well, she understands what this means.

The text that Karl sent, what he said Alyssa said was true, that he did not let her go out to see Tina.

Tina returned with a smile in a complicated mood.

The expression "smiley" has long been played badly, and it has long since simply represented a smile like before.

It's just a chat, and one has to be abused.

Tina sighed, put the phone aside, closed her eyes, and prepared to sleep.

â€¦

The next day.

When Tina woke up, she picked up her mobile phone and found that there were several unread messages.

Cody sent several pieces of text.

"Tina, what's the matter between you and Peter?"

“If you have any questions, please make it clear and don’t have any misunderstandings.”

“It may be that I have experienced a lot, and I am not too young. Now I want everyone around me to be safe and happy.”

The time the message was sent was two hours ago.

It was only five o’clock then.

Waking up so early?

Is Cody not sleeping well?

Tina typed slowly and replied: “We are all right.”

Cody seemed to be guarding his mobile phone, and within a few seconds he replied, “Is it all right?”

Tina replied: “Yeah.”

Cody sent a message: “What happened last night, you should have seen it in Moments.”

Tina just got up from the bed, ready to get up. Seeing this text, the whole person paused and stopped.

“What?” She didn’t know why she was acting stupid.

In fact, she knew exactly what Cody was talking about.

It was the picture where Peter and Maria were sitting together for dinner.

Cody: “I was called by them to have dinner last night. Peter and Maria were also there. His attitude towards Maria seemed a little abnormal.”

Abnormal?

Peter expressed a little closeness to Maria, but Cody called this abnormal?

Tina smiled faintly: “It’s just getting closer, what’s abnormal.”

Cody replied in seconds: “You actually saw it, right?”

Tina was startled, she indeed saw it.

If she hadn’t seen it, she naturally didn’t know that Peter and Maria were close.

She was negligent.

“What happened between you?” Cody’s tone seemed very determined.

Tina also responded simply and neatly: “We have nothing to do.”

After a while, Cody returned a message: “Tina, you are just too stubborn.”

Chapter 1683

After talking on WeChat with Cody, Tina sat on the bed for a while before getting up and getting out of bed.

She washed and changed clothes, and then had breakfast on the way to work.

When she got to work, she had almost forgotten the phone call from Cody.

Once you get there, you have a meeting.

After the meeting, the whole morning didn't pass much.

Tina sat in the corner to rest, and the assistant went out to buy her coffee.

She has worked with some staff of this crew many times, and everyone is familiar with her and will come over to chat with her.

Tina responded one by one.

After a while, the producer came over.

"Tina, your hands haven't been unstitched yet?" the producer asked.

Tina glanced at her arm and said, "Going in the afternoon."

The producer nodded: "Well, it's too late."

Tina smiled as a response.

Then, she felt that the expressions of the girls next to her were a little weird.

She turned her head to see the producer without knowing it, and saw the producer put one hand on his lips and coughed, as if he had something to say.

"That's Tina!" The producer's voice still sounded hesitant.

"What's wrong?" Tina asked: "What's wrong?"

"No nothing." The producer waved his hand quickly: "Nothing happened, mainly because I want to ask you some questions."

"You say it." Tina was a little curious in her heart. Is there any problem that makes the producers who have met the world so embarrassed?

"I heard Mr. Grant has a new girlfriend again?"

The producer coughed slightly after asking her, as if to hide his embarrassment.

He probably felt embarrassed to ask such a question, that's why he made this look.

But Tina reacted at once. He said, "Mr. Grant" referring to Peter.

She remembered the WeChat sent to her by Cody in the morning.

She had already forgotten about this incident, but now when asked by the producer, she suddenly remembered everything.

Recalling that in the photo she saw in the Moments of WeChat last night, Peter and Maria were sitting together with smiles on their faces and it was a very close gesture.

Think of the words Cody said to her on WeChat in the morning.

He had said that she was too stubborn.

She broke up with Peter, what does it have to do with her stubbornness?

She just thought it might be better to separate.

She is too tired.

“Maybe, he has been busy at work lately, and I rarely see him. He came over yesterday and we just chatted casually and didn’t talk about these things.”

Tina and Peter grew up together as childhood sweethearts. The whole network knows about this, and she can’t avoid it too obvious, it will appear suspicious.

“That’s it.” The producer nodded clearly.

A girl on the side said: “Yesterday, someone saw Mr. Grant and a woman get in the car and go home. We were just a little curious and had no other meaning!”

“I know.” Tina smiled faintly, expressing understanding.

“I said before. Tina must have no idea about this. Although she and Mr. Grant grew up together and are familiar with each other, now everyone is busy at work, let alone parties, and there is little time to meet. Why? You may know if he has a new girlfriend!”

The producer turned his head and chatted with the girls.

Tina clasped her hands together on her knees, slightly lowered her eyes, staring at her clasped hands, and began to lose consciousness.

Chapter 1684

Tina wondered, is what they said is true?

After Peter agreed to break up with her yesterday, he went out to party at night and then took Maria home?

Thinking about it, she laughed.

No matter, whoever did he take home and what does it have to do with her.

In the afternoon, Tina went to the hospital to remove the stitches.

As early as noon, Stephanie called her to ask her about the stitches.

Tina has been very leisurely recently, but Stephanie has a lot of things to do.

When Stephanie contacted her at noon, she said that she could go to the hospital with her assistant, but Stephanie was still worried and wanted to go to the hospital with her.

Therefore, when Tina and her assistant arrived at the hospital, Stephanie also arrived.

“Ms. Tina.” When Stephanie saw Tina, she ran over and walked next to her: “I went to the doctor just now, and the doctor is waiting for you inside. You can just remove the stitches directly.”

“I thought you just arrived.” It turned out that she arrived earlier than her and had already gone to the doctor.

“Your stitch removal is such an important matter, of course, I have to go to the doctor to ask about the situation first.” Stephanie walked into the hospital withholding her arm.

“Small things.” Tina didn’t care.

“In case of scars.”

“What about scars on my arms? I can still eat on my face.” Tina joked with her.

Stephanie said with an “um”: “It makes sense.”

It doesn’t hurt much to remove the stitches, but the picture looks a little crippled.

When the doctor came over, Tina turned her head and looked aside, without going to see the doctor how to remove the stitches.

The doctor was skilled and quickly removed the stitches for her.

There is a slight pain, but this pain is not worth mentioning.

“Pay attention to rest, get up early and go to bed early, and pay attention to diet.”

The doctor’s orders are no different from before.

Stephanie listened carefully, then nodded in response, indicating that she would comply.

Doctors like Stephanie’s serious family members, so his attitude towards her is exceptionally good.

After leaving the hospital, Tina found an excuse to dismiss the assistant, and asked Stephanie: “How about the investigation of the photo?”

“The mobile phone number that sent the text message did not have a real-name registration. I found the owner of the number, but there is evidence that the owner of this number has not used this number for a long time. The current user of this number is someone else.”

Stephanie didn’t expect that a sunspot would take such pains to deal with Tina.

“If it’s really hard to check, just call the police.” Tina was not afraid, and it was not the first time she had met this kind of thing.

Stephanie said seriously: “I understand.”

She looked up at the sky, then looked at the time, and said to Tina, “There is no itinerary in the afternoon. I will send you home to rest.”

"I just took a thread, and it's not disabled. You don't need to take care of me like a disabled person." The calm tone was very helpless.

Stephanie was silent for a moment, then compromised and said, "All right."

Tina and her assistant left by car.

Stephanie watched their car go far, only a little annoyed with her hands on her hips, standing there for a while, thinking of something, took out her mobile phone and walked towards the car.

The thing about that photo is not that simple.

That photo is most likely not synthesized, but she is still unsure.

Stephanie could still be sure that Tina didn't need to lie to her about this kind of thing. That photo must have something else hidden.

Chapter 1685

In front of AdamPic Building.

Stephanie stopped the car and looked out, ready to open the door and get off.

After thinking about it, she turned her hand out again, found a mask and a hat in the car, and then opened the door and got off the car.

It was almost three in the afternoon, the hottest time of the day.

When she got out of the car, she was forced to frown by the heat wave.

Running around in the summer is indeed not a good job.

Entering the building, the cold air rushed to her face, the heat dissipated, and it cooled down.

"Miss, who are you looking for?"

The lady at the front desk looked in the direction of Stephanie and raised her voice, within a decibel that she could hear.

Stephanie didn't take the mask off: "Looking for your boss."

Her current identity is not only Stephanie, not just Peter's cousin, but also Tina's agent.

If the caring people know that she is coming to Peter, they still don't know how to arrange for Tina.

Probably because this is an entertainment company, there are too many people who come in and out like Stephanie who doesn't show their true colors, and the front desk lady is not surprised.

"Excuse me, do you have an appointment?" the lady at the front desk asked with a smile.

"No, I am his younger sister." As for what younger sister it is, she doesn't have to explain it.

The lady at the front desk stared at her. These days, everyone is there, and there are people who pretend to be Peter's sister. No one on the Internet knows that Peter is the only child. Where did she come from?

Stephanie was faintly impatient: "Just call him and ask."

Although Stephanie didn't show her face, she could feel the confidence and determination on her body without looking at the face.

The two front desk ladies exchanged glances, one of them went to call, and the other smiled at Stephanie and said, "We are calling now, you can wait a moment."

â€¦

Peter just came out after a meeting.

The others went out. He leaned against his back, stretched out his hands and closed his eyes, and pressed his temples.

He went to a party that, don't know what it was. He drank some wine. When he went home, it was very late. He didn't sleep well and had a headache all day.

"CEO Grant."

Someone called him at the door.

Peter raised his eyes, looked at the door, and saw that he was in the secretary's room.

The secretary saw that Peter looked over and said: "The front desk called and said that someone who claimed to be your sister wanted to see you."

Claiming to be his sister?

Where did his sister come from, except for the close cousin of Stephanie, the other cousins are not very close.

Thinking of Stephanie, he took out his cell phone.

Turning on the phone, he saw the missed call from Stephanie.

But the phone was muted and he didn't hear the ringtone, so he didn't receive Stephanie's call.

When he was in a meeting, his personal mobile phone did not turn off the sound. The sound of the mobile phone was turned off when he went home last night, for fear of being noisy.

Peter turned his head and said, "Let her come up, and you will let her go when she comes again."

The secretary didn't ask much, just nodded and said: "Okay."

After the secretary left, Peter also got up and went back to the office.

He returned to the office, did not turn on the computer, and sat in the boss chair, waiting for Stephanie to come up.

After a few minutes, the office door was pushed open.

Walking in the front was fully armed, Stephanie. The secretary hurriedly followed behind, bending over to apologize to Peter: "Mr. Grant, this ladyâ€¦"

Peter waved his hand and motioned her to go, without saying more.

Chapter 1686

The secretary turned around and left.

Stephanie closed the door with her backhand and locked it.

“Gosh, it’s hot!”

She took off her hat, took off her mask, and walked quickly to Peter: “Is there any water? Hot and thirsty.”

“Get it yourself.” Peter pointed to the refrigerator not far away.

Stephanie opened the refrigerator, took a bottle of water out of it, and drank most of it in one breath.

Peter hugged his arms and stared at her expressionlessly. After she finished drinking the water, he said, “Is it a shameful thing that you came to me and you are armed like this?”

“If I’m just Stephanie, then, of course, it doesn’t matter, but I am now Tina’s manager.” Stephanie put Water aside and said to him seriously.

Peter narrowed his eyes and said nothing.

“I mentioned Ms. Tina, why do you look like this?” Stephanie tilted her head to look at his expression.

Peter’s tone was impatient: “If you have something to say, don’t talk nonsense.”

“Ms. Tina, something has happened, I can’t handle it.”

Although Tina and Stephanie had said that she and Peter were about to break up, Stephanie knew best that there was nothing left to break up with Peter. As long as it was Tina, he would definitely take care of it.

Peter’s expression was serious. Stephanie opened the photo on the phone and put the phone in front of him.

She noticed that Peter’s complexion changed when he saw the picture.

Become extremely gloomy.

“This photo was received by Ms. Tina yesterday, I went to check it, this number”

“You don’t need to check it.”

Stephanie was taken aback: “What do you mean?”

Before she finished her words, Peter directly said that she would not be allowed to check it. What did that mean?

“I will handle this matter.” Peter said.

Stephanie breathed a sigh of relief, and she knew that Peter would not sit idly by.

A smile appeared in her eyes: "Then when are you going to deal with it? This person is not good, and I feel that he will be a demon in the follow-up. I always feel that it is not that simple."

"It's already being processed. Don't think about things you shouldn't worry about." Peter said coldly.

"Do you know this too?" Stephanie was a little surprised: "Ms. Tina told you?"

Think about it and feel wrong, how could Tina tell Peter of this kind of thing.

But how did Peter know?

"Come here at noon, just for this?" Peter changed the subject, with an expression of no longer answering her questions.

Stephanie: "Ms. Tina took off the stitches today. I went to the hospital to accompany her to finish the stitches and came here on the way."

"She took the stitches today?"

Peter's voice was a little low, and Stephanie distinguished it for a while before distinguishing what he had said.

"Well, just have to take a good rest. don't know if it is inconvenient for her to be at home alone." Stephanie had something to say.

She actually wanted to ask them about the breakup.

But dare not ask.

She always felt that when she asked this question, she was afraid that she would be kicked out by Peter.

"Knowing that it is not convenient for her to be at home, and you still don't want to take care of her, what does your agent do for food?" There was no emotion in Peter's voice.

Stephanie felt that she was being scolded.

She hadn't asked them about the breakup, so she was so angry that she didn't ask.

"Okay, well, I know!" Stephanie whispered, "What are you doing so fiercely?"

Peter didn't care about her whisper, and asked her, "Aren't you going to live at Tina's house recently?"

Chapter 1687

"Huh?" Stephanie thought about it carefully, "I don't seem to have said it before!"

She didn't remember talking about this with Tina.

Peter: "Oh."

It turned out to be a lie.

Therefore, Tina called to tell him before that Stephanie was going to live in her house, so he wanted to vacate the room. Was it a random reason?

In other words, Tina just wanted to find a reason to call him?

Stephanie found it strange. Peter had an angry cold face just now. Why is it that the ice and snow melted now?

Stephanie asked Peter: "What's wrong? Why do you suddenly ask like this?"

Peter glanced at her: "She has just taken the stitches and it is not convenient to be at home alone. As a broker, shouldn't you live in her house to take care of her?"

Stephanie subconsciously wanted to refute Peter's words, but after thinking about it, she felt that Peter's words were very reasonable.

Just now, she had been thinking about Tina all the way. What to do if living alone at home would definitely become inconvenient in life. Peter reminded her of this.

"What you said makes sense. This is a good idea. I will move to Ms. Tina's house at night." She just needs to bring some daily necessities, and it won't last long.

When Peter heard the words, he only faintly responded, "Yes."

"You remember to deal with that. I have something to leave first. I am a busy person now." Stephanie stood up, took the water she hadn't finished drinking just now, and turned around to leave.

Peter's voice came from behind: "Wait."

"What else?" Stephanie felt that Peter was very wordy.

"Recent work should not be arranged so intensively, it is best not to arrange work." Peter said seriously.

"You said lightly, and I don't want to arrange work for Tina now. Those cooperations have been negotiated long ago, and Tina certainly doesn't agree to rest like this. She has been working lately."

Most of the time, people are involuntarily, but Tina is very hot by this job, and her arm injury is not what she wants. Stephanie also made some work adjustments for her, which is what Tina can bear. Kind of manageable workload.

Peter whispered: "I know."

Stephanie: "What do you know?"

Of course, he knew that Tina had been working recently, and he knew where and what she was doing.

Although he did not go home.

Although he and Tina "broke up".

Peter stretched out his hand and turned on the computer, looking cold and unwilling to pay attention to her.

But for all that was said, Stephanie couldn't control her curiosity anymore.

"Cousin, I have something to ask you."

“Say it.”

“Maybe this question is a bit presumptuous.”

“I feel presumptuous to ask?”

“â€¦”

Very good, this is a real Peter, really is he her cousin?

But Stephanie got used to it, cheeky, and continued to ask: “I heard Ms. Tina say that you are going toâ€¦ break up?”

Peter’s hand was tapping on the keyboard. As soon as Stephanie said what he said, his movements suddenly stopped, raised his eyes slightly, and looked at Stephanie with a heavy gaze.

Stephanie screamed in her heart, and she knew that she couldn’t ask this question.

Curiosity can kill a cat.

But she couldn’t control her curiosity.

“If youâ€¦â€¦”

“Already divided.”

What Stephanie wanted to say was “If you don’t want to say it”, Peter answered this question before she could finish her words.

Chapter 1688

“Dividedâ€¦ divided?”

Stephanie was so scared that she stuttered.

She noticed that there was a problem between Peter and Tina.

But these two people have always been awkward. Stephanie is familiar with these two people. After a long time, they have become accustomed to their state.

But now Peter told her that they have broken up.

This is too sudden.

“Are there any questions?” Peter looked at her coldly.

His tone sounded like a question.

However, Stephanie knew that if she dared to ask any more questions and touched his minefield, she would not be so good to get out today.

“Then I’m leaving. If there is any progress on that matter, you must notify me.” This matter worries Stephanie a little, and she thinks it is not that simple.

Peter didn’t speak, the information revealed in his eyes was only four words: You are so annoying.

Stephanie turned around cautiously and left.

A man who is broken in love is not to be provoked, and looks terrible.

â€¦

That night, Stephanie moved to Tina's house.

Tina didn't expect Stephanie to move over suddenly. When she called Peter that day, she called him on the pretext that Stephanie was about to move.

Now Stephanie really moved in, and the room that Peter lived in before became Stephanie's.

"The switch is here, this quilt needs to be changedâ€¦"

Tina took Stephanie into the room where Peter lived before, and she was going to pack things up, get it here and look there.

"Okay, I'll do it myself, I'm good at it, I'm here to take care of you, where can you do this?" Stephanie pulled Tina aside and told her to sit still.

Tina glanced at his hand that had just been stitched, and stopped making trouble for her.

Peter later moved to the master bedroom to live with Tina, and there were not many things in this room.

After Stephanie escaped from the marriage, her ability to take care of herself in life has also risen sharply, and she quickly cleaned up the room.

Stephanie made the bed and said with a look of expectation: "I have never shared a lease with anyone since I was young, and I have never lived in a dormitory. Now I can finally realize my dream."

Tina: "â€¦"

She lived in a dormitory when she was in University, so she could not understand Stephanie's mood.

"I still think that I am doing a very right thing to escape the marriage." If she did not escape the marriage, she might have been trying on the wedding dress right now, preparing for a banquet.

Married an early business marriage, so where can she have such a rich and varied life experience?

Tina shook her head, indicating that she couldn't understand the young people now.

She got up and walked out, took two bottles of water out of the refrigerator, and then raised her voice to Stephanie.

"Come out for a drink."

"Okay."

Stephanie ran out.

Tina handed a bottle of ice water to her. After she took it, she picked up another bottle of ice water.

Upon seeing this, Stephanie quickly took away her ice water: "Please, you are a patient now. If the patient looks like a patient, you should not drink ice water."

"Eh, myâ€¦!" How can one not drink ice water on such a hot day.

Stephanie just put the ice water back in the refrigerator and reopened her a bottle of ice-free water.

Tina curled her mouth in dissatisfaction, but still took a sip from the bottle of ice-free water.

Humâ€¦"â€¦"

The sound of the cellphone vibrating came from nowhere.

Tina looked at Stephanie, "Your phone rang."

Stephanie took out her hand and found that there was no phone call and no new text, so she said to Tina, "It's your phone that vibrates."

Chapter 1689

"My phone?"

Tina touched her pocket and looked around: "Where is my phone?"

When a person is at home, she can't always find a mobile phone.

Stephanie searched for it and found the cell phone under the coffee table.

"Your cell phone is here." She picked up the cool cell phone under the coffee table.

After getting the phone, Tina was still whispering: "Why is it under the coffee table."

Tina turned on the phone and found that it was another new text message.

Seeing that it was a text message reminder, Tina felt that this text message might not be an ordinary text message. Could it be the person who sent her text message before sent it back?

Stephanie hadn't found the person who sent the text message before, so this person was very rampant and unscrupulous.

Tina pursed the corners of her lips, walked to the side, and sat down on the sofa before turning on the phone to read the text messages.

After seeing the attachment from an unfamiliar number, Tina was almost certain that it was that kind of photo again.

It's just another number this time.

Tina paused, clicked on the text message, saw the photo content of the text message, and sighed slightly from the bottom of her heart, it turned out to be a photo again.

This photo is not much different from the last photo, even the background is the same.

Do people nowadays have so much work? Still, peeking into a series of photos?

After Stephanie found the phone for Tina, she went to drink water again.

After drinking the water, she walked over, saw Tina still looking at her phone, and thought of a place with Tina, and asked tentatively: "Did someone text you?"

Tina handed the phone to Stephanie.

Stephanie looked at it and her complexion changed drastically, "These people are still endless!"

"Ms. Tina, don't worry, I will find out soon." Stephanie was full of anger and her face was bulging.

She was not so angry, and calmly discussed with her: "What should I have for dinner? I kind of want to eat hot and sour fish."

She has started to have an appetite these days, and she wants to eat something heavy.

Stephanie snorted coldly: "What do you think? Look at your arm, you still want to eat hot and sour fish, save it."

Tina looked at her arm, then raised her head to look at Stephanie: "Stephanie, you have changed."

Stephanie: "I'm doing this for your own good."

Tina: "My mom loves to say that too."

Stephanie: "â€¦!"

â€¦!

In the end, Tina still didn't eat hot and sour fish.

Tina hadn't joined the group for a while, the jet lag had already reversed, and her work and rest had become normal.

After dinner, she and Stephanie chatted for a while, and they talked about work together again, and she started to feel sleepy.

Stephanie is a night owl, it is impossible to go to bed early.

After she was sure that Tina was really asleep, she went to the living room lightly, walked straight to the balcony, closed the door, and called Peter.

She had to tell Peter about Tina's receipt of the photo. The other party was too unscrupulous. The sooner this matter is resolved, the better.

"Cousin!" Stephanie had a guilty conscience. When the phone was connected, she glanced inside and turned to face outside the balcony.

"What's wrong?" Peter knew that something must have happened when calling him at night.

Stephanie's tone became very serious: "Ms. Tina received a text message again today, it's still a photo, even the background is the same."

There was a moment of silence on the other end of the phone.

“How did she react?” Peter asked.

Stephanie: “Ms. Tina should still think that the photo, so it will not affect her temporarily.”

Chapter 1690

Behind the balcony door, standing calmly and quietly in the corner.

Stephanie’s voice came in clearly from the crack in the door that was an inch wide, and it reached her ears.

Why would Stephanie say this?

Isn’t that photo from P?

And she really didn’t have the slightest impression of that photo, and she didn’t even remember that she had such an experience.

Outside, Stephanie was still talking.

“You don’t worry, cousin, I know that I will take good care of Ms. Tina.”

“Notify me as soon as you have news.”

“Let’s do this first, I know.”

Realizing that Stephanie was about to hang up, Tina turned and left.

Her footsteps were so light that she didn’t even alert Stephanie at all.

After Stephanie made the call, she looked back in the living room. Apart from a few dim lights, there was no other movement in the living room.

When she called before, she had confirmed that Tina was asleep, but she contacted Peter with Tina on her back to discuss the text message photos. If Tina knew about it, she would definitely not be happy.

Therefore, she must not let Tina know that Peter was helping to investigate this matter.

Stephanie opened the balcony door, entered the living room, and walked gently to the door of Tina, listening to the movement inside the door panel.

After listening for a long time, and didn’t hear any movement, she returned to her room with confidence.

What Stephanie didn’t know was that Tina was standing behind the door. She stood silently holding her breath without making any movement. Even when Stephanie came over, she could still hear Stephanie’s movement, and Stephanie returned to the sound of the room closing.

After the outside was completely quiet, Tina slowly opened the door.

She stared at the door of Stephanie opposite to Stephanie for a while before closing the door again.

It turned out that Stephanie so vowed that she would find out this matter. In fact, she has been in contact with Peter.

It was not Stephanie who was investigating this matter herself, it was Peter who was investigating this matter.

Moreover, that photo is indeed not as simple as she thought, and that photo must be hidden.

Stephanie would not say that for nothing.

Tina walked to the sofa in front of the floor-to-ceiling window and sat down, turned on the phone, and repeatedly checked the two photos she had received in the past few days.

The photos look very realistic indeed.

But the problem is, she can't remember at all that she has been to such a place in the picture.

By the way, she rememberedâ€¦

Some time ago, when she and Peter went to Best Day to have dinner with Karl and Alyssa, she and Alyssa took Grace out for a stroll in Best Day.

Then something happened, she went to the hospital and suffered some skin trauma.

Afterwards, she couldn't remember what happened.

But they told her that when someone wanted to grab Alyssa's bag, she went straight up to fight with that person, and was knocked to the head by that person, so when she woke up from the hospital, some clips could not be remembered.

And until now, she still didn't remember what the specific situation was like at that time.

If this photo is realâ€¦ then they are all lying to her!

Everyone is lying to her.

Her heart seemed to be heavy, and she fell into the abyss without seeing the sun.

In that memory that she couldn't remember, what happened that made them all join together to lie to her?

Tina's eyes returned to the phone.
