

Predestined 1691

Chapter 1691

When Stephanie woke up, the first thing was to go out to find water.

As soon as she opened the door, she heard movement outside.

She walked out with some curiosity, through the living room, and found that the sound was coming from the kitchen, she continued to walk forward, walked to the kitchen, and found that Tina was making breakfast in the kitchen.

Stephanie rubbed her eyes again, making sure that he was not mistaken, and then looking down at the time, he made sure it was only seven o'clock in the morning, and strode over.

"Ms. Tina?"

Tina heard the movement and looked back at her. She curled her lips slightly: "Morning."

"Why did you get up so early?"

Stephanie discovered that Tina not only made breakfast, but also made several breakfasts, as well as other things.

It's only seven o'clock, and she has done so many things, so she must have gotten up very early.

Stephanie asked in shock: "My God, Ms. Tina, what time did you get up?"

"If I can't sleep, I will get up." Tina turned around and continued to make her breakfast.

Stephanie said behind: "Ms. Tina, these are enough, don't do it anymore, I will bring these to the table."

Tina didn't know if she was wandering, as if she hadn't heard her voice.

Stephanie then reached out to stop Tina, and stopped her from making breakfast anymore.

"Really enough, Ms. Tina!"

Tina was taken aback, then stopped and looked back at her.

After a few seconds, she said, "Oh, good."

Stephanie returned to the room, and after hurriedly washing up, she came out for breakfast.

When she came out, Tina was already sitting at the dining table, waiting for her to come over for breakfast.

The light in the dining room was brighter. After Stephanie sat down, she realized that she was sitting on the opposite side, with green marks under her eyes.

Because Tina's skin is very white, the blue marks left by the lack of sleepy eyes are also very obvious.

Seeing that her face was so ugly, Stephanie couldn't help but ask: "Did you sleep last night?"

Tina lowered her eyes slightly: "I was asleep, but I had a nightmare later and I couldn't sleep anymore."

Stephanie couldn't see the expression in her eyes, but she didn't think too much.

"Then you should rest at home today." She recalled today's itinerary in her mind. Today's dreary work is not very heavy, so she can push it later.

Tina: "No, it doesn't matter. I get older and feel less."

Stephanie: "â€¦"

â€¦

Tina had an event this morning, a meeting in the afternoon, and then an interview.

Stephanie has other work in the morning and will go there to accompany her in the afternoon.

Therefore, the assistant accompanied Tina to activities early in the morning.

Tina's arm-cast has just been removed, and the scars can still be seen, so the dress that Stephanie picked for her is also long-sleeved, but the sleeves are made of snow gauze fabric with a little lantern sleeve, which is hazy. The beauty is not enough to pressure the wound.

Before going to the event, Stephanie had been telling Assistant Molly to pay attention to the injuries on Tina's arm, and be sure not to touch them. No matter what the situation, Tina's body came first.

Molly answered earnestly: "I see."

Stephanie repeated it again with some worry, and said, "If you have any situation, you must call me as soon as possible and notify me."

Molly said, "Okay, don't worry."

"Okay, then I will go first."

Stephanie turned her head again to say goodbye to Tina.

Chapter 1692

Tina sat in the lounge, waiting for the activity to begin.

Molly was there to help her hold things and waited with her.

At first, Tina stared slightly, leaning against the chair and taking a nap.

After a while, Tina suddenly said, "Molly, I didn't sleep well last night and I am a little sleepy now. Can you go out and buy me a cup of coffee?"

"now?"

Molly hesitated. When Stephanie left before, she reminded her that she must be careful about Tina. Don't let her get hurt again. She must pay attention to Tina's injuries.

If she goes out now to buy coffee, if something happens to Tina, let alone no way to confess to Stephanie, she will not be able to pass that level.

"Well, the activity will start in a while, it's still too late." Tina also looked down at the time.

Molly had no way to refuse Tina's request, but she still hesitated: "But!"

"Stop it, go now, do you want to watch me make a fool of myself at the event later? This is a live broadcast." Tina urged.

Molly thought for a while. She remembered that when she came in, she saw a coffee shop not far away. Now she would go out for a cup of coffee and then run back. It should take only ten minutes.

The event should not start so soon.

"Okay." Molly immediately stood up: "I'll be back soon, Miss Weber, call me immediately if you have anything to do."

"I know, don't talk nonsense, go quickly." Tina waved at her, urging her to go.

Generally speaking, it's impossible for a person like Tina to bring just one assistant. It's just that her studio has just been established and everything is still just starting out, and she doesn't want to bring so many people. Only a single assistant Molly accompanied her to the event.

Molly was still thinking about the way to buy coffee. After returning home, she must talk to Stephanie. Tina will go out to participate in activities in the future, and she must add a few more assistants.

After Molly went out, Tina's complexion gradually cooled.

Last night, after she returned to the room, she basically didn't sleep at night.

She can't sleep at all in bed, even if she fell asleep, she had nightmares.

So, she said she couldn't sleep anymore after having a nightmare, and it was not a lie to Stephanie.

She was thinking about texting photos and the things that Peter and Alyssa lie to her.

After one night, she also calmed down a lot.

She still needs to confirm whether these photos are real.

If it is real, then where did these photos come from, and what happened before she woke up in the hospital.

But if you want to figure this out, you have to see Peter.

She had a hunch that Peter must know everything, even if he didn't know anything, Stephanie had been in secret contact with him, he must have checked it out, and he knew something.

She wants Peter to find her by himself.

By this time, she began to rejoice that she knew about Peter. Otherwise, she couldn't let him take the initiative to come to her.

"Miss Weber, are you inside?"

The voice of the staff came from outside the door.

Tina regained her senses, raising her voice and asked, "Is there something wrong?"

The staff opened the door and said, "The activity will start in ten minutes, so you can prepare quickly!"

The staff paused and found that there was only one person left in the room, Tina, and asked in confusion: "Where is your assistant?"

Chapter 1693

"I asked her to buy something for me and she hasn't come back, but it doesn't matter, I can do it myself." Tina smiled and looked at the staff.

"That's fine, Miss Weber, come to us if you need help."

"OK."

It is not the first time that Tina has participated in this event. The organizer is also familiar with her and likes her very much. Every time she comes to participate in an event, she will receive preferential treatment from the organizer.

Precisely because she participated in this event several times, Tina knew that every event would even be a little earlier.

She just deliberately took Molly away.

After the staff left, Tina called Molly again.

"Just now the staff of the organizer came and said that the event will be delayed for at least half an hour. You go buy me a dessert again. It's hard work."

Molly didn't doubt Tina, she felt that Tina didn't have to lie to her on this matter: "Okay, Miss Weber."

After making the phone call, Tina got up and walked out to participate in activities.

Half of the time, she appeared on the red carpet and changed her clothes on stage.

There are several steps at the entrance of the curtain.

When Tina walked behind the scenes and stepped down, she pretended to slip on her feet inadvertently, and fell violently, her knees slammed on the steps, making a "bang" sound.

This movement shocked everyone in the background to come around.

"Miss Tina!"

"Miss Weber!"

People who are familiar with her call her "Miss Tina", and those who are not familiar with her call her "Miss Weber".

"Bleeding, how come you fell like this!"

"Get the ointment!"

The staff formed a group and surrounded her, some helped her up, some gave her medicine, some observed her legs.

These are all the character and connections she has accumulated over the years.

"It's okay, it doesn't hurt much." Tina said.

Molly also came back right after shopping at this time.

She also came back to find out that the activity had already started. When she came to look for Tina just now, she was still thinking, don't have anything for Tina.

However, the facts are often contrary to expectations, the good is not the bad spirit.

She didn't want Tina to have an accident. Tina happened to have an accident and knocked her knee.

"Ms. Tina, what's the matter with you?" Molly didn't even bother to ask Tina why she lied to her to postpone her activities. She just looked at Tina's injuries and felt she was going to be scared to death.

"Just a fall, it won't matter." Tina looked around and asked her, "Where is my coffee?"

"coffee?"

When Molly came in just now, she saw that Tina was injured. She put the coffee in her hand and ran over. At this moment, Tina asked about the coffee, and she remembered it.

She quickly got up and went to the door to fetch coffee.

"Miss Weber, do you want to drink now?"

"I'm going to be on stage soon, give it to me first, I'll take the time to drink."

Tina reached out to Molly and motioned her to give her coffee.

The staff had already brought the ointment over, and seeing Tina still in the mood for coffee, he felt relieved.

"Miss Weber, it might hurt to spray this medicine, so bear with me."

"Ok."

Tina's expression was faint, and she drank the coffee in her hand, just like an okay person.

But the next moment, she frowned.

This medicine is sprayed on the injured area, where is there a little pain, it is obviously painful.

Although she tried her best to hold it back, she still frowned.

This is her own fall, and she must not delay the event, so she has to pretend to be not very painful, otherwise, the organizer will not let her continue to participate in the following events, worrying that she will have an accident.

Chapter 1694

The person who sprayed Tina, frowned slightly when she saw her, and asked, "Miss Weber, how do you feel?"

"Fortunately, it hurts a little." Tina calmly lowered her head to drink coffee after speaking.

Seeing that Tina was so calm, the staff felt relieved.

"Hurry up, there will be activities in the second half next." She drank the rest of the coffee in a sigh and urged.

And it happened that someone came over to urge Tina to come on stage.

Tina was helped by Molly to change her clothes. The skirt was an ankle-length upper skirt, which could perfectly cover the knee injuries. After changing her clothes, she went to the front desk to continue participating in the following activities.

When going up the steps, she needs to bend her knees, and at this time, her injuries are even more painful.

But she hasn't been for nothing in recent years. When it is not painful, she can perform the extreme pain, and when the pain is extreme, she can also perform the painless feeling.

The following activities have several links, and they will not end until two hours later.

Molly waited in the background getting anxious, and couldn't help but notify Stephanie.

Stephanie came to the scene before Tina's event ended.

"What's the matter?" When Stephanie came, she was full of anxiety and ran towards Molly directly.

"Miss Weber said that she didn't sleep well last night, and asked me to go out and buy her a cup of coffee. When I came back, it was like this!" Molly actually didn't understand how this happened until now.

Stephanie didn't want to blame Molly either, and some self-blame: "I didn't think about it well, I should stay by myself, or arrange another person."

"It's me who didn't care too much." Molly also blamed herself very much.

The activities at the front desk came to a successful conclusion.

Molly has been paying attention to the movement at the front desk: "It's over!"

Hearing this, Stephanie quickly walked to the steps at the entrance of the curtain, trying to cool down.

Tina followed the host down, and the host supported her very intimately.

"Thank you, let me come." Stephanie stepped forward to hold Tina.

Tina was a little surprised: "Why are you here?"

Stephanie said, "Molly notified me."

Tina did not speak, she had no strength to speak.

Two hours of activity was very exhausting, her knee was also very painful, the pain was a little numb, as if she had lost consciousness.

Holding Tina back to the lounge, Stephanie realized that her expression was not right, and asked concerned: "Ms. Tina, are you okay?"

Tina frowned slightly, her face pale, and said, "Not so good."

Stephanie's face changed drastically: "I will take you to the hospital now."

Tina took Stephanie's hand and confessed, "You don't disturb the organizer, I accidentally slipped and fell while walking."

"Okay, I see." Now Stephanie just wants to quickly send Tina to the hospital, nothing else matters.

Originally, the organizers also prepared lunch for her, but Tina was injured, and they could understand that she had to go straight back without staying for lunch.

After coming out, Stephanie drove Tina directly to the hospital.

When they arrived at the hospital, Tina's knees had been swollen into buns, and they looked a bit hideous.

Stephanie looked away. She didn't expect her injury to be so serious, and she thought it was really not serious as they said. After all, Tina insisted on participating in the activity for two hours, and she was standing all the way.

The doctor gave her medicine, and after bandaging, he found a crutch for her.

Chapter 1695

Tina's leg was hurt like this, and she couldn't walk by herself. She was leaning on crutches and walking very slowly.

Stephanie looked at Tina, frowning sadly.

"Sigh?" Tina heard Stephanie sigh and turned to look at her.

"Your old injury hasn't healed yet, and new injuries have been added. Are you getting evil eye? Should it be superstitious?" Stephanie didn't believe this before, but Tina has always been injured recently, and she thinks it's too evil.

Tina refused without hesitation: "Stephanie, you are a young woman, young people don't believe in feudal superstitions."

She herself knows best, but she suffered these injuries, all for a reason.

This time, she herself was injured deliberately, and in the previous few times, someone tried to harm her.

She didn't believe in what ghosts and gods said.

The more she thought about it, the more she found it feasible, so she persuaded Tina: "What if it really works?"

Tina's answer was, she pulled off Stephanie's hand and said quietly, "Forget it, I'll go by myself."

"I just made a suggestion." Stephanie hurriedly chased after her and continued to support Tina.

Tina didn't take off Stephanie's hand again.

When walked into the elevator, her cool complexion was already a bit unsightly.

"Are you okay?" Stephanie asked her, turning her head.

"Otherwise!" Tina paused and sighed: "You should prepare a wheelchair for me."

"! Okay." Stephanie also thought it was easier to use a wheelchair.

When she arrived at the parking lot, Stephanie let Tina sit in the car and wait for her. After she let Tina sit down, she turned around and ran away.

"Where are you going?" Tina asked her from behind, but she did not answer.

Stephanie only replied: "Ms. Tina, you can just wait for me in the car."

Tina didn't know what she was going to do, so she could only wait for her back in the car.

She was the only one left, and the expression on Tina's face faded.

She glanced down at her leg.

She is so injured, Stephanie should tell Peter, Peter should! visit her.

After all, since childhood, no matter if she quarreled with Peter or something unpleasant happened, he never ignored her.

This time! it should be the same.

But thinking of what happened before, Tina was also a little uncertain.

After so many things, she felt tired, so why not Peter?

After so many years, is Peter really not tired?

He agreed to break up, and he should have decided to give up.

Tina looked at her legs, and just as she could think about it, she heard Stephanie's voice outside.

"Ms. Tina, I'm back!"

Tina looked out of the car window and saw Stephanie pushing a wheelchair towards this side.

Tina didn't know what to make for a while.

Stephanie's mobility is really extraordinary.

She just said that she wanted Stephanie to find her a wheelchair, and Stephanie came over so soon with one.

The wheelchair can be retracted. After Stephanie pushed the wheelchair over, put it neatly in the trunk, and then opened the door to drive.

As soon as she got in the car, Tina asked, "Where did you get the wheelchair?"

"Don't ask where you can find it. Anyway, it's strong and easy to use." Stephanie started the car: "Go, go home now."

â€¦

Wheelchairs are indeed better than crutches.

After arriving at the garage, Stephanie took out the wheelchair and let Tina get into the elevator in the wheelchair, without having to use crutches.

When they arrived home, Stephanie said to pour her some water and let her wait in the living room.

Chapter 1696

Tina sat in the living room for two seconds. Thinking of something, she turned the wheel of her wheelchair and headed towards the kitchen.

She turned slowly, and there was no sound when the wheels ran on the ground.

Stephanie was boiling water in the kitchen, and it was impossible to hear the movement outside.

Tina came to the kitchen door quietly.

She didn't go inside anymore, but stayed at the door of the kitchen, listening to the movement inside.

There was the sound of boiling water and the sound of talking.

Stephanie was the only one in the kitchen. She could talk and naturally, it is on the phone.

"Ms. Tina is injured! She has been injured recently, I think someone must be hurting her, are there any eyebrows on your side?"

"Her injuryâ€¦ Fortunately, there are no stitches this timeâ€¦"

"No, I don't mean it is not serious without stitches, I meanâ€¦ not as serious as beforeâ€¦"

"Yes, I'm wrong, I didn't take good care of her, can you stop being angry? Will you ask me to settle the account after this is over?"

Listening to Stephanie's tone and the content of her words, Tina had already guessed it. Stephanie was calling Peter.

Tina was still wondering, Peter might not be the same as before.

But now that she heard what Stephanie said, Tina could be sure that Peter would still come to see her as before.

Between her and Peter, no matter how clear they were, they couldn't tell.

In this way, she was relieved.

She would ask Peter what had happened before she woke up in the hospital that day.

And what happened when she received those photos!

Before being discovered by Stephanie again, Tina slowly left the kitchen door, went to the bedroom, and changed her clothes.

She has injuries on her legs and it is not convenient to wear pants, so she can only wear skirts.

Her leg is injured, which is not as convenient as usual, but self-care is not a problem.

Tina changed her clothes slowly, and when she came out of the bedroom, Stephanie also boiled water and came out.

When Stephanie saw Tina changing her clothes, she shouted, "Ms. Tina, why don't you call me when you change your clothes? How can you do it yourself?"

Tina glanced at her: "Didn't I put it on?"

Stephanie choked: "Yes!"

She patted her brain, feeling that she was busy and stupid recently, and quickly turned around to pour water for Tina.

"Ms. Tina, drink water."

As soon as Tina took the water, Stephanie's cell phone rang.

As soon as Stephanie took out her cell phone, she said "Oh".

Tina asked, "What's wrong?"

"You still have an interview this afternoon. That magazine called me." Stephanie explained.

Tina nodded her chin and said, "Take it."

Stephanie didn't quite understand what Tina meant, but she answered the phone. Regardless of whether she could take this interview or not, she still had to answer the call.

"Hello, I am Stephanie, yes, yes!"

Tina typed on the phone and showed it to Stephanie.

Stephanie took a look at it and found that Tina's cell phone read: Accept interview.

Stephanie frowned, but as Tina said, she accepted the interview for her.

"The interview is half-past four. It's still early. I'll show you what clothes to bring." Stephanie said helplessly.

Tina: "Thank you."

Stephanie sighed.

She also knew that some jobs couldn't be turned away. She felt distressed that Tina was injured, but the injury was really not serious.

Chapter 1697: Sarcastic

Apart from accepting the interview, Jessica attended a meeting with the film crew before that.

The crew was surprised to see Jessica sitting in a wheelchair.

The director and producer were the most shocked of them all.

They asked, "What happened to you?"

Jessica answered, "I just tripped and fell. I am not hurt that bad. No bones are broken and nothing needs to be stitched up. And the pain is trivial. I'm scheduled to start filming in a few days, and so I plan to rest more these days. I don't want to delay our schedule."

Jessica saw that they were not convinced, so she stood up and said, "Look, I'm really fine."

Jessica walked a little with the support of the table.

The crew was finally convinced when they saw her walking.

At 4:30 in the afternoon, Jessica took the interview right on time.

As soon as she came out of the interview room, Molly pushed her wheelchair over.

Molly accompanied Jessica all afternoon to the meeting and the interview.

wheelchair and said, "Alright, everything is whatever you want,"

suddenly turned to look the matter?" Molly was panicked by her inexplicable glance for a moment. She thought her contact just feel that you are becoming more and more calm and mature. What are you panicking about?"

Jessica laughed. She knew what Molly was thinking, but she did was a little angry when she knew that Molly and Carl contacted each other behind her

no reason to blame glad to be praised and relieved for the first your first impression of careless, thoughtless, and a lot. I don't about I

"Don't bother, please."

was obvious. To sum up, she meant that Molly

Christopher also said so!

that she hadn't seen

Chapter 1698: You Think Differently

"How did that happen?" Sophia somehow wanted to get to the bottom of it.

Jessica was a little annoyed.

She couldn't even tell the exact reason for this annoyance. Maybe it was because she was at odds with Sophia or because she had seen pictures of Sophia and Carl sitting together intimately.

This confusion upset her even more.

Jessica couldn't put on a friendly face when she was disturbed. She said, "I fell on purpose. Are you happy now?"

"You..."

Sophia was lost for words. After a while, she said, "Jessica, I'm just trying to be nice. That's why I want to know what happened. You don't have to treat me as an enemy. I thought that we were getting over our past conflict. It seems that you think differently and that I was wrong."

Jessica sneered.

She was telling the truth.

However, sometimes truth couldn't convince others.

Sophia felt that Jessica was mocking her when she saw her sneer.

She was also mad.

"No wonder Carl wants to make up with me. Look at yourself. You're still so bad-tempered in your late 20s. You're not a teenage girl were with you? If you intend to annoy us, please felt that this was

special because of her tough

...

might not be an easygoing person, but she totally fine

not mind

after all. She would seem to ignored Molly and to stand my temper. I can live well on my own." Jessica replied with wanted to talk back but

Jessica had despised everything that that got older and was in her early thirties, she was free and that Jessica could easily obtain a lot of things that she needed to strive meant losing. And it would become a fact that

The elevator door opened.

Chapter 1699 A Tacit Knowledge

Jessica narrowed her eyes slightly and glanced at Carl before shifting her gaze.

She could clearly see what was going on over there only through a glance.

Carl lowered his head and spoke to Sophia in a gentle way.

Such a sight was somewhat an eyesore.

It was just an eyesore for her, so she could choose to ignore it.

Jessica dropped her gaze and stared at her hands.

She played with her hands and took a close look at them. They were a little dry. She should spare the time to have hand care and then have a manicure.

But she couldn't have a manicure now. After all, she was going to shoot.

She would leave it until she finished shooting.

In filming, she had to listen to the costume designer and the stylist. Then she couldn't change her hair and nails. It was a costume drama this time, so it was especially strict in terms of costumes and styling.

and spoke intimately, Molly couldn't help but look down was staring at her hands. Then she couldn't help but

"Jessica..."

"What?"

and looked anything else seeing that Jessica remained didn't know whether Jessica was really actress, in front of
felt a familiar gaze
Instead, she bent and slowly put the look up at Carl who was not far away until she got remained there, standing beside the car
Jessica, Sophia was unhappy. But she did not show it.

Carl shifted his gaze to her faint smile, "Since Jessica can come to the show, her legs might not be serious. But she remains the purposely paused for a moment before the

Chapter 1700: Pretending to Be Something

Even if Carl could not forget Jessica, she was his only wife.

It was enough.

After following Carl for so many years, she always hoped that Carl could see her goodness and love.

Now that Carl was finally willing to be with her, what other request could she have?

In her youthful years, she had fantasized countless times that Carl would love her as much as she loved him.

But now, after so many changes, she also changed.

Love was not the most important.

What she needed was the marriage. She had to be his wife. It was too important to her. Not only was it the love she longed for, but it was also the glory she wanted.

She wouldn't love someone so purely anymore.

it? The older you were, the less pure love that she

Thus, she stopped.

her, but she would take this people had less hope, they would find know that she was the most suitable knew about Sophia's thoughts, even the wheelchair and sat in the car. Seeing Carl walking over, she did not start the saw it." Jessica leaned back in her chair, her Carl had already arrived. at him and raised her eyebrows slightly. He was so tall that it only took him several was her, she would have to was thinking about such a boring thing, Jessica a coincidence." Molly lowered the window and