Chapter 1701

"The doctor saidâ€¦!"

Stephanie thought that Peter was still asking her, so she wanted to relay the doctor's words to him.

But Tina took the lead.

"I can't walk recently," Tina said.

Her tone was very low, as if she was talking to an insignificant person about something insignificant.

Tina was sitting in the car, Peter was standing outside, and there was Stephanie between them, but Stephanie felt that she was superfluous.

She was clearly standing in front of Peter, but she seemed to be unable to interrupt.

"I can't walk anymore, and I have to go out to work. Are you so poor that you can't afford it?"

Peter suddenly changed his expression for some reason, and said as casual as before:

"Otherwise, you call me, how much do you want? I say straight, I will ask Rubin to call you."

He said these things in a joking tone.

Stephanie felt that she was even more confused and could not understand.

"You don't need to spend money, let's have a meal together." Tina said lightly.

Peter was startled, and his expression was a bit sluggish for a while.

Tina said, "Not willing?"

"Okay, how can I not, I have made a new girlfriend, and I haven't had a chance to introduce you to her."

Peter smiled faintly, with a relaxed and happy face.

New girlfriend.

Tina said these words for two seconds in the bottom of her heart, and then she said "Oh".

Although Tina's reaction was as early as Peter's imagination, but at this moment, she still felt panicked.

She is really free and easy.

Only she is sad.

Maybe she said before that she was with him and broke up again, just wanting to see him in pain, just angry, but who knows, she really doesn't have that idea in her heart?

She was always resentful towards him.

He can feel it.

After Peter finished speaking, he turned his head and waved to Maria, motioning her to come.

Maria couldn't help laughing when she saw Peter facing her, she knew she was right.

Maria walked over with a relaxed pace and gently asked Peter: "What's the matter?"

"Want to have a meal with my sisters in the evening? Shouldn't we invite them to dinner?" When Peter spoke, his eyes only fell on Tina.

Although Tina did not look at him.

Stephanie blinked, then blinked again.

What are "sisters"?

Even "sisters", isn't she Peter's sister? Why does Peter only look at Tina and not her?

Peter twitched the corner of his mouth and turned to look away.

The grown-up's world is really too complicated, and she really doesn't understand it more and more.

"Okay." Maria's tone was happier.

Peter said "Sisters", and Tina was also included in it.

Is he explaining to her, is he just treating Tina as his "sister" now?

Regardless of Peter's thoughts, Maria is satisfied with the current situation and also very satisfied with Peter's attitude.

Everything will develop in the direction she imagined.

Looking at Tina's face without the slightest change in expression, Peter's eyes sank and said, "Then Best Day."

Tina's tone was cold: "OK."

Peter nodded, then nodded again, as if suppressing anger.

But Maria was immersed in her own joy, and didn't realize what was wrong with Peter at all, and stretched out her hand to pull Peter: "Okay, let's go."

Peter turned around and strode forward ignoring Maria. He walked fast, and Maria's hand was also thrown away.

Chapter 1702

Best Day.

As before, Best Day still has people coming and going.

Best Day is still the same.

But the people who come and go are no longer the people they used to be.

When Tina entered, she was a little sad.

She found that even the greeter at the door was not what she had seen before.

Why did it suddenly start to hurt the spring and sad autumn?

It must be because of injury.

Tina felt that it must be so.

Peter has also been the boss of Best Day. Although the place has been taken back by Karl, the employees here still recognize Peter and he also has privileges.

As soon as Peter arrived, there was an exclusive box.

A group of people entered the box.

Peter and Maria were sitting side by side, and Stephanie and Tina were sitting side by side.

Maria was very satisfied.

In the past, she always watched Tina sitting with Peter, but she could only watch from a distance, but now she was finally elevated to the empress, making her sit with Peter.

Fortunately, she persisted for so many years.

The facts have also proved that her persistence for so many years is worthwhile.

Maria took the posture of the hostess and pushed the menu to Stephanie and Tina: "Look at what you want to eat."

Tina glanced at Maria, didn't even look at the menu, then leaned back in the chair lazily, not wanting to speak, and showing no expression.

Maria didn't feel angry, but the scene was still a bit awkward for a while.

She stood up and said gently to Peter: "Peter, I'll go to the bathroom first."

"Yeah." Peter responded with no emotion.

Before Maria went out, she looked at Peter with some worry, and then at Tina.

It's not that she is suspicious, but that the two of them are together. She feels uncomfortable and always worried, because Peter is so kind to Tina.

butâ€¦!â€¦!

This kind of thing is inevitable. She knows that as long as she is with Peter, she must be prepared for Peter to get along with Tina and care about her.

Even if they are not together, they will still maintain the close relationship of the past years.

Maria didn't want to admit this.

When she was younger, she always wanted to replace Tina, but now she recognizes reality and no longer makes senseless fantasy, Peter cares more about Tina.

When Maria went out, Stephanie felt at ease.

"I'll look at the menu." Stephanie picked up the menu and glanced at Tina, "Ms. Tina, what do you want to eat? I'll help you order it?"

"No, you just need to tap on it." Tina didn't lift her eyelids.

Stephanie ordered two random dishes, feeling that the atmosphere in the box was not right.

She was uncomfortable, so she stood up and said, "Well, when I think of it, I still have a call to make. I'll go out first."

She actually wanted to give Peter a chance to be alone with Tina.

Stephanie also knew Maria, but she didn't like Maria very much. She still hoped that Peter could be with Tina.

But these two people

Ugh.

Stephanie shook her head and went out with a sigh.

Only Tina and Peter were left in the room.

"You're going to join the team next month, will your legs work?" Peter still took the lead.

He was worried about her when he spoke.

He wanted to beat himself.

Why are you so boring?

He said he had a new girlfriend, and she didn't react at all.

He felt that he was cheap!
