

Predestined 1713

Chapter 1713

Tina felt an arrow in her knee.

Still the kind of arrow that stabbed very deeply.

“Yes, I am single now, but I am happy!” Tina spread her hands and made a happy expression.

Grace: “Oh.”

Tina felt that she could not play happily with Grace.

â€¦

The next day.

She took Grace out to play early in the morning.

In the beginning, Grace was very happy to play, but she was too young to have enough physical strength, and in the afternoon, she was too tired to play anymore.

Therefore, Tina took Grace back home very early.

As soon as she put Grace to sleep, there was a knock on the door outside.

It was the kind of very polite knock three times and it stopped.

Tina was a little curious, who would come to her at this time?

She walked to the door, looked out of the cat’s eye, and found a little boy standing outside the door.

Look familiar.

Tina opened the door, and before she could speak, the little boy said very politely: “Auntie, I am Ervin, I am here to pick up Grace.”

“Ervinâ€¦” Tina muttered the name, and then she suddenly said, “Your father is Mr. Smith?”

“Yes.” Ervin nodded, with a calm expression that surpassed that of his peers.

Tina didn’t have a chance to see Ervin, but she heard Alyssa talk about him. Grace always talked about him. Although she hadn’t seen him much, she had a good impression of Ervin.

When she saw Ervin now, Tina found that the child was almost as she imagined, very polite and well-behaved.

It’s a bit like Smith’s temperament.

butâ€¦â€¦

Tina looked out, “Did you come alone?”

“Yes.” Ervin explained: “Mom is on duty and Dad is busy, so he told me the address of your home, and I will pick up Grace by myself.”

Tina looked at him in surprise, then stepped aside: “Come in first.”

Ervin walked in and took off his shoes by the door.

Tina quickly found a pair of shoes for him. After he changed his shoes, he didn’t go inside immediately, as if waiting for host Tina to speak. If the host did not speak, he would not go in.

“Quickly come in, sit there.” Tina laughed. The kid was too good. She walked in, took Ervin and sat on the sofa, and poured water for him.

Ervin thanked her, and after drinking the water, he asked her, “Where is Grace?”

“She is sleeping. If you don’t wait a while, she wakes up before leaving. I’ll take you back.” The more Tina looks at the child, the more interesting the child is.

She had seen it many times that night and had dealt with it.

A very serious and rigid person, but unexpectedly, his son is much more interesting than him.

Tina couldn’t help but want to tease him: “How old are you?”

“Ten years old.”

When Tina asked something, Ervin answered, but afterward, his speech speed became a little faster, as if he was a little impatient.

Tina felt it out, but Ervin didn’t say anything.

This little kid!

At a young age, his mind is heavy.

It’s no wonder that adults can rest assured that he can come to her alone to meet Grace.

Tina didn’t say much, and stood up: “Come and see Grace.”

She walked in front and entered the bedroom, Ervin followed her in.

Grace had been playing with Tina for a day, very tired, and was sleeping deep at this time.

After Tina took a look, she stepped back and let Ervin take a look.

Ervin lowered his eyes slightly, his eyebrows were calm, he looked for a long while, and stretched out his hand to brush the hair on his forehead that covered his eyes to look for Grace.

Chapter 1714

Tina looked at Ervin’s subtle movements and couldn’t help smiling.

No matter how calm the child is, it is difficult to hide the emotions he has.

No matter how precocious and sensible, he is just a child.

Children are the most honest and least likely to deceive.

He probably felt Tina's gaze. Ervin turned his head to look at Tina, and explained: "Grace recognizes the bed a little. I'm afraid she can't sleep well in other people's houses, so Mom said that she should come to my house. So that she can sleep better."

"You like Grace very much." Tina just looked at him with a smile.

Ervin nodded without hesitation, and his eyes were very calm: "Yeah."

Tina laughed, the children's love is the most simple and pure.

!

At night, Tina called a car and personally sent Ervin and Grace back to Smith's house.

Later, she took the car back by herself.

Stephanie hadn't returned yet, and the house was still deserted and completely dark.

She just wanted to go for a walk.

She went to the park in the car. As soon as she sat down, her mobile phone rang. The call came from Smith, to thank her for sending Ervin and Grace back.

"Miss Weber, I'm causing you trouble. Ervin and Grace are in a good relationship. He is always worried that Grace can't sleep well at your house. We said we didn't care. Grace can adapt, but he doesn't believe it."

"It's okay, anyway, I'm idle at home!"

Tina and Smith greeted a few words, just after answering the phone and hanging it up, she heard the honking of a car not far away.

Tina didn't think much before, thinking that someone was just blocking the lane. Unexpectedly, she raised her eyes slightly and saw a familiar person.

It's Maria.

Maria sat in the car with cold eyes.

"Tina, why are you here?"

Maria walked to the dark side. Even if it was already night, the clothes and makeup on Maria were extremely appropriate. In this state, whether she is going to a dinner or a meeting, it is very decent.

Tina glanced lazily from Maria's body, with a loose tone: "Is this park built by your family?"

This is very unpleasant.

Besides, it was said in the indifferent sloppy tone that Maria hated the most.

When she was young, Maria hated Tina to speak in this tone, and seemed arrogant.

And this arrogance is exactly what Maria doesn't have.

When she was young, she could still tell herself that the reason she hated Tina's tone was because she felt that it was so impolite.

However, the reason is simply envy and jealousy.

Tina has arrogant and willful capital.

And she didn't.

She is not a few years older than Tina. At this age, she still has to plan for her marriage.

And Tina? But like the last girl who didn't know anything, she seemed carefree and could do whatever she wanted.

This gap makes Maria feel restless.

Maria took a deep breath, trying to calm the restlessness in her heart.

"Tina, you also know that Peter and I are already together, and my father and mother are already preparing for the engagement ceremony. Even for your own reputation, please stop pestering Peter."

Maria knows better than anyone else, if she wants Peter to stay away from Tina, this is probably unrealistic, and she can only start with Tina.

Tina is arrogant, especially when it comes to emotional matters, she is very principled, and she does not need more nonsense.