

Predestined 1717

Chapter 1717

Peter did not answer Stephanie's question, but walked directly outside the door.

Stephanie thought that Peter was going to find Tina, so she hurried out to tell him where Tina had gone.

Peter didn't turn his head back, and didn't know if he heard it.

â€¦

The rumors of Tina's abortion came quickly and went quickly.

After all, many years have passed, and Tina at that time has already grown up, and Peter has intervened in it again, and it has long been difficult, to tell the truth of the matter.

And Tina's reputation over the years is very good, and there has been no negative news. By that night, netizens were already attracted by other news.

It's passed.

Stephanie was busy all day, and ordered a takeaway at ten o'clock in the evening to eat today's first meal.

At this time, she also remembered that Tina never called her.

It stands to reason that Tina should have arrived in the afternoon.

Stephanie called Tina while eating.

"The number you dialed is temporarily unavailableâ€¦"

Tina couldn't get through, so she called Peter again, and Peter couldn't get through either.

At the same time, the two people could not be contacted. There must be something between the two people. Therefore, Stephanie was not worried.

However, when the two people couldn't be contacted for a week, she began to panic.

She first called the crew and wanted to apologize and explain to the crew, but the crew gave the news that the project was postponed and the specific time was uncertain.

Stephanie was no longer a rookie when she first entered the circle, and she realized it after thinking about it. Peter must have taken care of this secretly.

Now that Peter has taken care of everything, Stephanie is also happy to be free, so she will take a vacation.

â€¦

When Tina came back from the street, she found that the door of the house opposite had been locked open.

"Tina, are you back?"

Tina turned around and saw Grandma Marie coming out of the house.

“Yeah.” Tina pointed to the house opposite: “Has the owner of this house come back?”

“Someone came to this house a few days ago. It’s a young guy who looks pretty handsome.” Grandma Marie has lived in this remote but beautiful town all her life, so she speaks with an accent.

Tina was amused by Grandma Marie’s accent, “Really?”

“I’m going out for something. I’ll come back to cook for you in the evening. If you are hungry, pick some fruit in the yard and get it ready..”

“OK.”

After Grandma Marie left, Tina glanced at the opposite side before entering.

That morning, after Stephanie sent her to the airport and left, she did not board the plane to go abroad as Stephanie thought, but left the airport and went to a remote town more than 400 kilometers away from Rostenvel City. Borrow to live in Grandma Marie’s house.

The small town has beautiful scenery. She had come here before to film, and she liked it very much at that time. The young people all went to the city. Those who stayed here are old people. Although the old people watch TV, they don’t remember the faces of the actors when they are encountered in real.

Tina lived here for a week, and occasionally met one or two people who would say that she looked familiar.

And she doesn’t go out too much, she wakes up naturally every day, after eating, she stays in the yard and stays quiet for a day, away from the chaos.

She went back to the room and changed her clothes. She went to read a book on the couch under the grape truss in the yard. When she looked up inadvertently, she saw a figure flashing in front of the window of a room on the second floor opposite.

However, she did not see clearly.

Chapter 1718

When going for a walk in the morning, Tina saw someone moving furniture to the opposite house.

A lot of furniture, it looks like they are here to live for a long time.

But in the following days, she never saw the owner of the opposite house.

Until the town entered autumn, it became a little bit cooler sooner or later, and Tina was about to go out to buy a few coats. As a result, as soon as she left, she saw smoke billowing in the opposite house.

“It’s on fire!” Tina shouted and ran to the opposite house.

She ran while calling the police.

The fire in the house is already very strong, it seems to be coming from the kitchen, and there is already thick smoke at the door.

Tina was so smoked that she could barely open her eyes, and her tears were smoked out, and she couldn't get in at all.

"Is anyone inside?" she shouted at the top of her lungs.

No one responded.

Some neighbors came over after hearing the shouts, standing behind and talking.

Someone saw Tina wanting to walk inside, and quickly stretched out their hand to hold her: "Little girl, you can't enter, you will be dead!"

Tina's eyes were red: "There is a very important person in it, I have to go in."

"No matter how important it is, is that person more important to you than your own life?"

"Please, let me in."

Those people still held her tightly.

Tina couldn't escape, watching the fire getting bigger and bigger, finally couldn't help but call out the name.

"Peter!"

"Yes."

Someone responded to her.

Tina almost thought she was hearing a hallucination.

Until, someone called again: "Tina."

Tina looked back blankly and saw Peter standing not far away, smiling quietly at her.

He walked towards Tina, looked down, and said softly: "I'm fine, I'm here."

He didn't even ask her how she knew he lived in this house.

Because it is not necessary.

Just like, when he came out of AdamPic that day, he didn't go to the address that Stephanie told him to find Tina, because he knew that Tina definitely didn't go there.

The tacit understanding between them is carved in the bones.

"You don't cry." Peter looked slightly anxious, and reached out to wipe her tears.

Tina stared at him for a moment, as if to confirm whether he was safe, and then violently pushed him away: "If it wasn't for the fire in the house, were you planning to live here secretly and never see me?"

Peter reluctantly pulled out a smile: "I dare not come to see you."

He didn't know until now what kind of damage he had caused her to let her escape.

He was also afraid of it.

That was something he couldn't forgive himself for, and he didn't dare to ask her to forgive him. He only dared to look at her from a distance and didn't dare to disturb her.

Tina also smiled, a smile from the bottom of her heart: "It's all over, we can't go back to the past, but we still have a future, and there is a long rest of our lives."

After her story was exposed on trending searches, Tina discovered that she did not suffer as much as she imagined, but felt relieved.

An indispensable process for wound healing is to face it, and then scavenge the rotten flesh. After the pain, the scab can heal.

Tina didn't understand such a simple truth until now.

Peter lowered his eyes and said nothing.

Tina tilted her head to look at him: "Cody is actually quite good."

"No." Peter suddenly raised his head and firmly grasped her hand.

Tina held him backhand and clasped his fingers: "Then don't waste time."

â€

A week later.

Tina's Twitter posted a Tweet:

â€â€I went on my honeymoon.

The attached picture is a photo of a marriage certificate.