

Predestined 231

Chapter 231

Karl's eyebrows narrowed slightly, and the expression on his face softened in an instant.

He waved to Alyssa: "Come here."

Alyssa approached, only to find that he was holding her mobile phone.

When Mr. Adams saw Alyssa in the video, he smiled and called her: "It's Alyssa."

"Grandpa." Alyssa raised her eyes and smiled at Grandpa in the video.

Karl took the phone to himself: "Okay, go to bed early when you are old, and drink plenty of tea to stay fit."

His tone was faint, no different from usual.

Alyssa didn't know what they had talked about before, and nodded in agreement: "I think Karl is right. Grandpa, you should go to bed earlier and exercise more."

Elder Adams choked and waved his hand impatiently: "It's all right, I'm going to sleep."

Before the ending sound disappeared, Karl hung up the video call.

This speed is so fast that people feel very perfunctory.

Alyssa felt that she had to correct him: "You should wait for grandpa to hang up first."

"You're slow in your hands when you get older. Waiting for him to hang up is a waste of time." Karl's expression and tone were not too perfunctory.

When Alyssa thought about Mattie, she stopped persuading him.

About Karl's matter, she herself had a sense of measure.

â€¦

The next day.

Alyssa got up a bit late as usual.

As soon as she entered the restaurant, she saw Mattie serving dishes in silence, and the swollen bag on her forehead disappeared a bit, which looked less scary than yesterday.

Mattie brought the breakfast to the table without any expression.

While eating breakfast, Alyssa looked at Mattie calmly.

She always felt that Mattie became weird after returning from the hospital yesterday.

I can't say anything about the specifics, but the most obvious is that she has very few words and is still working very seriously.

She is afraid that she was beaten up yesterday, or Mattie finds it interesting to be a servant?

After eating breakfast slowly, Mattie suddenly walked towards her, as if she had something to say.

Alyssa waved her hand and motioned the other servants to go out.

When the other servants had retired, Alyssa looked at Mattie: "Just say if you have anything."

Mattie went straight in: "I want to go back."

"Huh?" Could it be because you had a fight with Anya and your mind is sober?

A trace of unwillingness appeared on Mattie's face. She took a deep breath and said, "Although I don't want to admit it, I can see that you and Karl have a very good relationship."

When she was in the hospital yesterday, she stood aside, seeing it clearly as a bystander.

After Karl arrived, Alyssa was the only one in his eyes.

Don't talk about her, even Anya, the man hadn't looked at her directly.

She is ambitious and occasionally goes to the head with her blind confidence, but she is also a judging adult.

She is the only child, from a superior family, with innate pride in her bones, and occasionally stupid, but not stupid.

Alyssa was turning her head to get the water cup, and she was slightly startled when she heard that, she didn't expect Mattie to say this.

She couldn't help but look up at Mattie.

Mattie seemed unaccustomed to being stared at like this, her expression turned a little uncomfortable and turned her head to look away: "I just think Karl likes you very much, and he indulges you."

"Oh, you can see it too." Alyssa blinked her eyes with a natural expression.

Mattie felt that the woman Alyssa was very scheming. At first glance, she looked good, and her appearance was not lethal.

However, she can always poke you inadvertently.

She is obviously a woman with no family background and not very good, but she always has a strong look. When she and Karl stand together, she can't help but feel that she is a good match.

Mattie felt this way when she saw Karl and Alyssa standing together yesterday.

She thought they are so worthy that no one can get in.

"Alyssa, I am negotiating terms with you today. You are currently writing a script, right? You want to sell the script, right? I'm a producer. I may give you resources to match up. And you, you want to return my employment contract, give it back to me."

Mattie felt that when she was standing and Alyssa was sitting, she would appear to be lower than her, so she sat down opposite Alyssa.

Alyssa was surprised.

Mattie can enter the villa as a servant to approach Karl, which shows that she is a courageous woman.

However, she put this courage into an improper place.

Alyssa didn't trust Mattie very much, but she couldn't doubt it either.

"I can give you the employment contract, and you can leave today. As for the matchmaking thing for me, it may not be necessary for the time being."

It's not that Alyssa's mentality is gloomy, and there are many stolen articles in the industry.

Although she is not well-known now, her scripts were written with countless thoughts.

If Mattie really wants to pit her, she can start from here.

Mattie was not surprised that Alyssa would be so simple: "Okay, if you need it then, you can call me."

After she finished speaking, she took out the phone number written in the morning from her pocket.

Alyssa still took it.

Mattie changed her maid's uniform, and Alyssa sent the driver to take her back.

Seeing Mattie's car leaving, Alyssa suddenly felt a little bored.

Fortunately, she can still go online.

It may be because there are so many trending searches. Alyssa, who didn't like to go to Twitter before, will log in to Twitter to check the trending search list if she has nothing to do.

She posted on Twitter, and the top hot topic was breaking news for her.

"Gerald and AdamPic terminate the contract"

Alyssa went in and found out that the netizens had already fried the pot.

"Really? The long Tweet that AdamPic mysterious founder XN wrote some time ago hasn't been too long. Now Gerald Cain has terminated the contract with AdamPic Media?"

"I think it may be that the Mr. Cain wants to be his own boss to make money."

"To be honest, AdamPic Media has been the best resource for Gerald in recent years. The resources have been tilted sharply. Looking at the scripts that Gerald has taken, is there any difference? If it is not for Gerald to fully support himself, AdamPic Media has been able to create many more stars, and as a result, it has just won the Grand Slam and is about to turn away from acknowledging people!"

this Tweet has thousands of likes and comments, which is very popular.

There are those who refute the bloggers and those who agree with the bloggers.

Even Alyssa read this Tweet and felt that the blogger made sense.

Gerald has been so popular in the past few years that he has basically had no scandals. For this, AdamPic Media has also spent a lot of effort.

The termination of Gerald's contract caused great loss to AdamPic Media.

But Alyssa thought more deeply.

Is Gerald going to terminate the contract or Karl is going to terminate the contract?

Chapter 232

Alyssa wanted to call Karl, thinking that Karl was in Adams' family right now, and fearing to disturb him, Alyssa called Peter.

Peter was probably busy too, and did not answer her call.

After a while, Peter called her back.

Without waiting for Alyssa to speak, Peter said: "I know, you want to ask Gerald's contract termination, right?"

Alyssa replied, "Yes."

"Karl called me early this morning and said he was going to terminate the contract with King Gerald, and he also released the news. It's really a big deal! Seeing it's going to be a holiday, it's such a big deal for me!"

Peter groaned and complained, and Alyssa comforted him and hung up the phone.

The phone just hung up and rang again.

She took a look and found that Colin was calling.

Colin hadn't looked for her for a long time, so what did he call her suddenly for?

Is it because of Isabel again?

Thinking that Gerald might get Isabel out, Alyssa felt uncomfortable as if a piece of cotton was stuffed in her throat.

Isabel wanted to kill Alyssa so many times, she finally got her into the prison, thinking that she would be able to reflect on it for a few years in the prison, and kill Gerald halfway!

Alyssa even thought darkly, she knew it would be better for Karl to torture her to death.

As soon as this thought came up, Alyssa was shocked.

She touched her belly and murmured: "Baby, the idea mom just said is wrong, don't learn!"

She was stunned, and the phone was automatically hung up because no one answered.

Alyssa put away the phone, and didn't plan to call back, anyway, if something happened, they would call again.

Within a few minutes, Colin called again.

This time, Alyssa answered the phone.

Colin's voice was cold: "You didn't see your Mom?"

"What's the matter?" Alyssa hadn't seen Rachel for a long time, except for one phone call with her.

Colin paused briefly: "She has been missing for several days, hasn't she come to you?"

Alyssa didn't intend to take care of Rachel anymore. Hearing this, her heart sank: "No."

In front of the Hunt family, Rachel's patience was extraordinary, and she would normally not leave Hunt's house, but Colin said that she had been missing for several days.

Alyssa asked Colin: "What did you do to her?"

"What can I do to her? She ran by herself!" Colin's voice was full of anger, and his voice was so loud that Alyssa's ears were numb.

"If it weren't for what you did to her, she would run away by herself, and you would treat me as stupid?" Alyssa didn't have a good tone, and went back coldly.

"Don't you care about her anymore? Now you want to ask me to ask questions? Even your own sister can be sent to prison. I don't have a vicious daughter like you!"

When Colin talked about this, his chest was very angry.

Alyssa gritted her teeth: "It's a coincidence, I don't have my sister or father who wants to kill me."

"Don't make things so bad, Isabel just couldn't figure it out for a while, aren't you good now! She has been spoiled since childhood, you don't know, you can't let her point!"

Colin felt that Alyssa was the fault.

"She has been spoiled since she was a child, you don't know it!"

"You can't let her order!"

Alyssa's hand holding the phone kept tightening, and the blood vessels on the back of the hand were clearly visible.

"I let her, who let me? You also know that she is spoiled, so now she is sent to prison to receive education. This is all made by you. You are such a good father. Your daughter is not well taught, in this case she will always be taught by others. You spoiled her but you don't have enough ability to indulge her. Guess whether Isabel hates you now?"

Colin's unprincipled indulgence towards Isabel, did not feel that he was wrong, and even if he was wrong, he would push it to others.

And what Alyssa said, all poked into his heart.

When he saw Isabel yesterday, Isabel still scolded him as useless.

Colin was so angry that he couldn't speak, and finally hung up the phone.

Alyssa put down the phone, thought carefully, and called the police.

Even Colin himself said that Rachel had been missing for several days, so it must not be short.

After calling the police, Alyssa thought that she could not sit and wait for the news, so she planned to go back to Hunt's house.

Karl does not restrict her to go out now, but she must take a bodyguard when she goes out.

â€¦

The car stopped at the door of Hunt's villa.

The bodyguard opened the door for Alyssa. She had just stepped on one foot, and a sports car did not know where it came from, wiping the corner of the bodyguard's clothes that helped Alyssa drive the door.

All this happened so suddenly, the bodyguard was stunned for a few seconds before reacting and asking Alyssa: "Madam, are you okay?"

She hasn't gotten out of the car, what's the matter!

Alyssa shook her head: "How about you?"

"I'm fine." The bodyguard shook his head.

But Alyssa still noticed that the bodyguard's footsteps were a little vacant when he walked, which seemed to be frightened.

Alyssa got out of the car and looked in the direction the sports car was driving away, only to realize that the shadow of the sports car was gone.

Alyssa retracted her gaze and keenly heard the sound of the sports car.

The sports car drove back again, and shook the front of the car at a 90-degree right angle in front of their car. Then, the young man who drove took off his sunglasses and threw off his hair thinking it was cool. Said in the direction of Alyssa and the others: "Hi, are you okay!"

This sentence sounds insincere.

The man drove a Ferrari sports car, his hair was carefully managed, and he also specially applied hairspray to make a very fashionable hairstyle. He was a famous brand shower and looked very humanâ€¦

Alyssa knew this person.

"Hey, what's your name, that girl, she looks familiar."

While talking, the young man jumped out of the car while holding the window edge of the convertible, and walked straight towards Alyssa.

After seeing Alyssa's appearance clearly, the young man whistled, "He looks very upright."

The bodyguard stood in front of Alyssa, looking like he was ready to fight.

Alyssa frowned slightly: "Brother, I am Alyssa."

The man in front of her is Travis Hunt, Alyssa's half-brother who has been studying abroad.

At the same time, he is also the brother of Isabel's father and mother.

"Huh?" Travis was shocked: "Who do you say you are? Alyssa? Although I haven't been home for many years, I know she doesn't look like this!"

Travis has been abroad for seven or eight years, and it is normal that he can't recognize her.

Colin, who had long heard the sound of a sports car, walked out of the villa: "Travis, did you go racing again?"

When Travis saw Colin, he said to him as if telling a joke: "Dad, this beauty said she is Alyssa!"

Chapter 233

After Travis finished speaking, he took a look at Alyssa and murmured to Colin: "No matter how old Alyssa is, it's impossible to grow like this. You think it's funny, hahahaha!"

Colin gave Travis a sullen face, then turned to look at Alyssa, "What are you doing?"

"Didn't you say that my mother has been missing for a few days? Let me ask about the situation." Although Alyssa had already looked at Rachel thoroughly, she still couldn't ignore her.

"There is nothing to ask, she's just missing." Because of Isabel's affairs, Colin was annoyed to see Alyssa.

Alyssa had anticipated that Colin would have such an attitude, and did not intend to say more: "I have already called the police, and the police will probably notify you when there is news."

She turned to look at Travis, then turned to get back into the car.

After hearing Alyssa's dialogue with Colin, Travis finally believed that the beautiful woman in front of him was actually Alyssa.

After listening to Alyssa's words, Colin gave a cold snort, turned around to see Travis still looking in Alyssa's direction, and scolded: "Look what to see, don't go in yet! As soon as you come back, you will talk to those friends. What is it like to drag racing together, you!"

Travis listened impatiently to Colin's nagging, and ran in the direction of Alyssa: "Alyssa, don't rush to go, have a meal together."

Colin's eyes widened and roared, "Travis, come back!"

Travis didn't care about his anger, just waved his hand, and said nonchalantly: "I haven't seen Alyssa for so many years. It's not okay to not have a meal with her. You go back first. Don't move when you are old. Don't get angry."

Alyssa was already in the car.

When the window came down, she also heard what Travis said.

In the whole Hunt family, if there is a person who really treats Alyssa warmly, it is Travis.

Travis is a boy, and he will inherit the Hunt's in the future. Naturally, he is loved by his family. Even the servants respect Travis a little bit.

He has been naughty since he was a child, and likes to mess around with things.

When he was in high school, he started to gather a bunch of friends to drag racing, clubbing, drinking, and playing around all day long.

He loves to play and does not do his job, but his heart is not bad.

At least, when he saw Alyssa being bullied by classmates on his way home from school, he would help her scare away those who bullied her.

This is enough to make Alyssa think of him for a long time.

It's just that the two are four years apart. When Alyssa was in junior high school, Travis was already thrown abroad.

Colin was so angry that there was smoke above his head, but there was nothing he could do with Travis.

This son only knows about eating, drinking and having fun all day long, and he doesn't know who he is like.

He can't control this son!

Alyssa saw that Colin was so angry that Travis had entered the villa, and Travis's smiling voice rang in her ears: "Find a place to eat, I invite you."

"I invite you." Alyssa turned her head and smiled at Travis.

Travis was stunned by her smile, and it took a few seconds to react: "Okay, you go ahead, I will drive behind you."

Alyssa thought of the speed that Travis had just driven, her scalp tightened, and said, "Go ahead, let's go to Best Day for a meal."

She was really afraid of Travis's driving skills.

â€¦

Best Day Senior Club.

Alyssa and Travis sat face to face in the box.

Travis was next to the waiter. He turned the menu and ordered a dish: "This, this, this alsoâ€¦"

Alyssa laughed, Travis had been abroad for so many years, and his temper had not changed much.

Love to eat, drink and have fun, living a lavish life.

When the food was finally served, it was almost impossible to put it on the table.

"I heard that you married in place of Isabel into Adams house? How about it, is Karl easy to get along with?" Travis's tone was like chatting with an old friend who had been away for many years.

Alyssa was a little bit emotional, but she didn't tell Travis what she had to do with her heart.

"You came back because of Isabel."

Alyssa's calm tone caused Travis to pause.

He put down his chopsticks and looked at Alyssa with a smile: "You were smarter than Isabel when you were young, and luckier than her when you grow up."

Although Travis once helped her, he was Isabel's real brother.

Alyssa knew this very well.

"I have no luck better than her, but not as crooked as her." The smile on Alyssa's face faded little by little: "Do you know how many times she tried to kill me? I told the family has long been the most benevolent. She and Dad used me again and again, but I just decided not to bear it anymore."

Travis took a deep breath and asked, "What about you-mother? You don't care about her?"

Alyssa didn't speak, and Travis curled his lips and said: "This time, I did come back because of Isabel's affairs. No matter how many mistakes she made, she is still my sister. I can't just watch, if something happened to her."

"Are you blaming me?" Alyssa asked him back.

The two looked at each other and remained silent for a while. Alyssa laughed mockingly: "In the eyes of your group, even if I was almost killed by Isabel, I should be treated like an okay person in the end. Don't care about me, just Isabel, right?"

"I didn't mean that, I just—" Travis paused, as if he didn't even think of what to say, and finally fell silent.

"I'm a little tired, so I'll go back first, big brother, eat slowly."

Travis looked up at her with an expression hesitant to speak.

After Alyssa paid the bill, she left Best Day.

In the car, the driver asked her: "Young lady, going home now?"

Alyssa thought for a moment, and said, "Go to Karl's."

It's lunchtime. If she goes to Karl to find Karl, she should be able to have lunch with him.

Soon she arrived at Adams's house.

Alyssa didn't get out of the car, she glanced at Adams' gate through the window, lowered her head and took out her mobile phone, and was about to call Karl.

Looking up inadvertently, she found Karl walking out of the Adams.

Beside him is Trevor, and behind him is a group of men and women in suits, all in a hurry.

Alyssa hesitated for a while, but dialed Karl's phone.

Karl had already walked to the parking lot at this time and was opening the door to get into the car. It should have been the phone rang. He stopped and lowered his head to get the phone.

As soon as he took the cellphone on the other end, Karl's voice came from the phone: "What's wrong?"

Alyssa asked him: "Are you busy?"

Karl replied, "Hmm."

"It's okay, I just called and asked."

"Then first."

After hanging up the phone, Alyssa saw Karl getting into the car.

Seeing Karl and their car drove away, she told the driver: "Go back."

The driver started the car and was about to drive. A car came oncoming. The road was narrow here, and the driver could only slow down and let the car pass by.

As a result, the car stopped directly beside Alyssa's car.

The next moment, Karl's tall and slender figure walked out of the car.

Chapter 234

When Alyssa saw the familiar figure, she was still a little dazed.

She murmured: "Karl?"

The driver responded quickly and got out of the car and opened the door of the back seat for Karl.

Karl sat short and got into the car. Seeing Alyssa's face was surprised, he couldn't help reaching out and touching her head. There was a smile in his voice: "I saw you a long time ago."

Alyssa was taken aback: "How did you see me?"

"I saw the car." Karl stretched out his hand, using one of his hands hard, and he fished her into his arms.

He lowered his head and dropped a kiss on her forehead, and squeezed her hand in his hand to play: "When you come to me later, just say directly, if I don't see you, you will be angry with me again when I go back."

Hearing this, Alyssa pulled her hand back: "I'm so stingy? When did I get angry with you about such a trivial matter?"

"Um, no." Karl nodded, looking very serious.

Alyssa clenched her fist and struck him twice.

She is not strong enough to hit him without pain or itching.

Karl grabbed her hand: "Let's go eat."

Alyssa came to him at this time, and she must have not eaten yet.

"I saw you get in the car with your dad before, what are you going to do? Does it matter?" Alyssa really didn't want to delay his business.

"It's even more important to accompany you to eat." Karl said, reaching her belly: "You are two people now, so you can't be hungry."

Alyssa glared at him, but the smile on Karl's face deepened.

â€

The two found a restaurant for dinner.

Karl's dishes are all Alyssa's favorite.

Her taste hasn't changed much recently, and Karl just ordered according to her previous preferences.

Alyssa was a little hungry, so she picked up her chopsticks and started eating.

But Karl didn't eat much, Alyssa stuffed a potato chip into his mouth and asked him, "Why don't you eat it?"

"I have eaten it," Karl said, putting a piece of chicken in her bowl.

Alyssa's appetite had indeed increased recently, and the dishes Karl ordered again met her appetite, and she eventually ate most of it.

She remembered Gerald and AdamPic Media's termination of the contract, and couldn't help asking him: "I saw a hot topic on Twitter. Did you propose to terminate the contract?"

She didn't mention Gerald's name, and Karl naturally knew it.

"Yes."

Speaking of Gerald, the ease and joy on Karl's face suddenly faded, and his complexion became slightly heavy.

Gerald will go to the court, which shows that he has made plans to get Isabel out of it.

Since Gerald has been self-indulgent and must stand on the opposite side of him, then he does not need to be merciful.

This is just the beginning.

Alyssa got his affirmative answer and fell silent.

Karl offered to terminate the contract with Gerald, which was a signal, a signal that the two of them officially broke.

Alyssa thought of the long, emotional Tweet written by Karl.

She frowned slightly and asked Karl softly, "Have you never talked with him again? Maybe he has some unspeakable difficulties?"

She just habitually called Gerald "Big Brother".

Karl groaned for a moment, and stared at Alyssa with deep eyes: "Alyssa, you should understand better than me, hardship cannot be a reason for a person to let go of his self-esteem and roll into the mud."

Gerald did all this and got entangled with Isabel, completely losing his original demeanor.

Karl didn't seem to be sad, but he seemed to regret Gerald very much.

Alyssa couldn't explain this feeling. After all, Karl was hard to understand, and Gerald didn't understand it either.

In this world, no one has his own hardship, but hardship is not a reason for people to do evil.

â€¦

There is always no room for maneuver when Karl decides.

As soon as the news of the termination of the contract between Gerald and AdamPic Media broke out, the major media published articles one after another.

There are also many Twitter posts about this matter from the media.

For several days in a row, this matter was all over the Internet.

But Alyssa found that among the people who paid attention to this matter, in addition to some melon-eating netizens who were fans of Gerald, there was another person who paid attention to this matter because of "AdamPic founder XN".

On the day this incident broke out, AdamPic's founder XN posted a Tweet: "Mr. Gerald and AdamPic Media's contract ended peacefully. You don't have to speculate anymore, and we will help each other for ten years. Good luck."

A simple and terse Twitter has been retweet tens of thousands of times.

Some netizens even did a deep analysis of this Tweet.

"I feel XN's tone is so helpless."

"Can't figure out why Gerald suddenly terminated the contract with AdamPic Media."

"I think it's as everyone's guessed, Gerald just wants to make money alone!"

"I predict that Gerald, who has left AdamPic Media, will not necessarily be more successful than before."

â€¦

Everyone seems to think that Gerald took the initiative to terminate the contract with AdamPic Media.

Think about it, after all, in everyone's eyes, the company is profit-oriented, and AdamPic Media cannot take the initiative to terminate the contract with Gerald, a moneymaker.

They naturally felt that Gerald wanted to terminate the contract with AdamPic Media.

On the day that the news broke, AdamPic Media conducted comprehensive public relations and guided the termination of the contract in the direction of “Gerald actively proposed to terminate the contract.”

Netizens also acquiesced that Gerald offered to terminate the contract.

Gerald saw that the direction of the wind had been guided by AdamPic Media, and did not explain too much. He just posted a long Tweet to express his gratitude to AdamPic Media for these and “Founder XN”.

His Twitter has received numerous praises.

When the news about the termination of the contract between Gerald and AdamPic Media fell, it was already close to the end of the year, and many companies began to take holidays one after another.

During this period, the Public Security Bureau contacted Alyssa once, saying that there was news from Rachel and asked her to go to the Public Security Bureau.

Alyssa called Colin, but Colin didn't answer the phone at all.

Alyssa had to go to the Public Security Bureau by herself.

As a result, when she went to the Public Security Bureau, she saw not only Rachel, but also Norris, who was safe and sound.

Rachel wears a maroon coat with exquisite makeup, and she is carrying the latest bag of a certain big brand. Where does she seem to be missing and suffering?

When Norris saw Alyssa, his face showed a smile, and he called her warmly: “Alyssa.”

Alyssa frowned, ignored Norris, walked to Rachel and asked her, “Where have you been recently?”

Rachel took Alyssa's hand and said in a tone of instructing her: “I haven't been anywhere recently. I just quarreled with your dad. I lived in Norris for a period of time. I told you that this time is fortunate I have to thank him for taking care of me.”

Alyssa was not used to being so close to Rachel, frowned and pulled out her hand, and said coldly, “Since it's okay, go home.”

Chapter 235

Alyssa's coldness made Rachel a little embarrassed.

She retracted her hand in a jealousy, and turned her head to look at Norris.

Norris smiled gently at her, with a very good temper.

Rachel's eyes became firmer: “Alyssa, let's go out and talk about something.”

Alyssa turned around and walked out.

After leaving the Public Security Bureau, Norris strode to Alyssa to talk to her.

However, before he could get closer, he was stopped by the bodyguard.

Norris's complexion changed slightly, and then returned to normal. He jokingly said, "I just want to talk to you. These bodyguards are so vigilant. Does Karl treat you as a criminal?"

At first glance, his tone seemed to be joking with a close friend.

But Alyssa knew that his friendship was not so good, so naturally she didn't think it was a joke.

He said this deliberately, and wanted to provoke her and Karl?

She didn't know what was wrong with Norris, so she had to hold on to her.

"Mr. Weber must be very poor language when he was studying? Otherwise, how could he not even know what a bodyguard is? Would you like me to explain to you what kind of profession a bodyguard is?"

Alyssa looked at Norris sarcastically.

Norris felt that Alyssa looked at him as if she was looking at a clown.

He has a dull face, but still insists on trying to win back a city for himself: "Of course I know what the bodyguards do, but they will stop me even if I come closer to you, will it not be too much?"

Alyssa's tone became sloppy: "It's not too much at all, after all, we don't know much."

Rachel on the side suddenly said at this moment: "Alyssa, don't talk to Norris like this. I know there is a misunderstanding between you and him. You can see that he has been taking care of me all this time. Do you shake hands?"

Early cold?

It was so affectionate.

Alyssa didn't know how Norris met Rachel, and why he would take good care of her.

What she knows is that she has nothing to do with courtesy, and whoever commits r@pe is steals.

She didn't think that Norris thought about having a relationship with Isabel before, so he took care of Rachel.

"There is no misunderstanding between us? What is the meaning of shaking hands?" Alyssa looked suspiciously at Rachel: "Isabel is your daughter. She had a marriage contract with Mr. Weber before, a kind person like Mr. Weber. Isn't it human nature to see you drifting away and take care of you?"

Rachel was helping Norris both in and out of his words. It seems that Norris has taken good care of her and coaxed her well these days.

"My girl!"

"I have something to go back." Alyssa looked at the time pretendingly: "Mr. Weber, who must be such a kindhearted person, surely wouldn't mind sending your ex-fiancée's mother home?"

In the beginning, Norris would take in Rachel in order to get close to Alyssa.

He knew something about Hunt's family, and naturally knew that Alyssa was very good to her mother.

But now it seems that it is not the same thing.

Speaking of Alyssa's words, of course he can only agree to it: "Why would I mind? Of course, I am happy."

"Then I will go first."

Alyssa didn't look at Rachel more, turned around and got into the car.

Rachel stood there in a panic, watching Alyssa's car go away, feeling completely at a loss.

Alyssa was too cold towards her.

As soon as Alyssa left, Norris's expression sank: "Mrs. Hunt, I will send you back."

Rachel saw that Norris's complexion was not good, and said, "Don't mind. Alyssa may be due to a recent pregnancy and is not in a good mood, soâ€¦!"

Her words irritated Norris, he slammed Rachel's arm, and said in a gloomy tone: "What did you just say, you say it again!"

Rachel was frightened by Norris's appearance: "Norris, what's wrong with you?"

In the past few days, Norris's attitude towards her was very gentle, and he even let people take her out to shop in the mall.

He suddenly changed his face, and Rachel was frightened.

Norris immediately changed back to his previous gentle appearance, and asked softly: "You said she is pregnant?"

"Yes."

Rachel breathed a sigh of relief when she saw that he had recovered as usual.

She was wrong just now.

"I see, I will send you back now." Norris lowered his eyes, his voice was still very soft, but there was a strange feeling.

â€¦!

This incident was just an episode for Alyssa, and she would forget it afterwards.

As the New Year is approaching, Alyssa guessed that this year, Karl might take her back to her old house.

After all, this was the first New Year's Eve for Karl to take over the Adams' family, and he had to go back to his old house because of reason.

Even if Karl had the right to do anything wrong, he would go if he wanted to, and would not go if he didn't want to.

But in the end, this account may still have to be counted on her.

Two days before the holiday, Alyssa was already preparing to bring back things to her old house.

There is nothing missing in the old house, but in the final analysis, it is better to use what you are used to.

At night, Karl came back a bit late.

Alyssa had finished washing, holding the computer and preparing to write a manuscript before going to bed.

Karl walked in from outside holding his suit jacket, his hair was a little messy, and his whole person looked extremely tired.

“came back.”

Alyssa looked up at him.

It’s cold, even if the heater is on, Alyssa is still wearing fluffy pajamas, making her whole person look soft and warm.

During this period of time after pregnancy, she stayed at home, the servants took care of her carefully, her own routine was also very regular, and her complexion was much better than before. Sitting under the light, she was as white as she wanted to shine.

She nestled in the corner of the sofa, straightened her legs, and the computer was resting on her legs, her hair draped, black hair and snowy skin, cat-like eyes looking at him intently, revealing a strange and moving look.

Karl dropped the jacket in his hand, walked to her, leaned over and threw the computer on her lap aside, sat down next to her, and embraced her.

Alyssa felt frightened when he took her computer: “You lightly throw it away!”

Suddenly, Karl said in a low voice: “Auntie is back.”

Chapter 236

Alyssa didn’t react for a while.

Karl’s aunt?

She wondered for a while, and suddenly remembered, isn’t Karl’s aunt the biological mother of Gerald?

Although she had never seen Karl’s aunt, and Karl had not mentioned his aunt directly to her, but from the relationship between him and Karl’s brother Gerald, it can be seen that Karl and his brothers and His aunt’s relationship is not bad either.

Although Karl said such a thing lightly, Alyssa still heard the low tone in his tone.

Even if the relationship between him and Gerald broke down, he didn’t know how to deal with his aunt when he saw her, and he couldn’t have such big emotional ups and downs!

Alyssa raised her head, looked at him, and asked him softly, "Is there any problem with her coming back?"

She didn't know what Douglas said to Karl last time.

Karl stared at her fixedly for two seconds, and reached out to touch the bangs on her forehead. His expression and tone had returned to normal, and his tone was calm: "No problem, we may go back to the old house tomorrow."

Although Alyssa once said to help him, these things were too heavy and he didn't want her to be bothered by them.

When she was with him, he still wanted her to be relaxed and happy.

Alyssa knew nothing about the kidnapping case that year. The more time passed, the more Karl was reluctant to let her know too much about it.

Alyssa was ready to go back to the old house a long time ago, and nodded simply, "Okay."

This surprised Karl a little.

However, early the next morning, when he saw Alyssa take out the suitcase that she had organized, he knew that Alyssa was ready to return to the house.

Karl laughed and put her suitcase back: "You don't need to bring anything, just go back and have a meal."

"The New Year is about to come. You should go home for the New Year this year, right?" Alyssa glanced at the suitcase, and then wanted to bring it.

Karl quickly held her hand with his eyes quickly: "I haven't returned to the old house for the New Year for so many years. It doesn't matter if I don't go back this year."

Alyssa opened her mouth to say something, and was interrupted by Karl: "Okay, let's go, don't think about these boring things."

It's boring to go home for the New Year!

!

The two returned to the old house together.

At the door is still a group of servants and bodyguards to greet them back, but the pomp is a bit smaller than when they first came back.

Alyssa had already seen it once, and this time naturally didn't feel much.

It may be that the number of domestic servants and bodyguards has increased recently, and she has become a little used to this kind of life.

Thinking about it this way, she felt that Karl was really generous to her.

Others say that giants are as deep as the sea, at least so far, she hasn't experienced it much.

The main reason is that Karl's temper has improved too much recently and he has been relying on her almost everything.

"Sir, Young Lady."

Along the way, servants and bodyguards respectfully called them.

Arriving in the hall, Alyssa heard a woman's excitement sound before she even looked at the people inside.

"Karl."

Alyssa looked around and saw a middle-aged woman in a dark red coat walking towards this side.

She didn't wear much makeup, and she didn't wear extra jewelry on her body. She looked very elegant.

She walked towards Karl and reached out to hold his arm.

Alyssa understood in her heart that this woman must be Karl's aunt Lina.

"Auntie," Karl yelled expressionlessly, but calmly took Alyssa back for a while, avoiding Lina's hand.

A touch of astonishment flashed across Lina's face.

Her hand was still slightly raised, just like that, frozen in the air.

The atmosphere suddenly became a bit awkward.

Alyssa turned to look at Karl. Karl didn't look at her, but the hand that was holding her shoulders squeezed soothingly to signal her peace of mind.

"We haven't seen you for almost a year or two." Lina's complexion has returned to normal, she looked at Karl with a broad face: "I heard that Luther secretly ran back to the country to look for you, causing you trouble."

Karl nodded indifferently, "Yes."

"€" This man nodded unexpectedly??

"Cousin, you said I was troublesome, I didn't trouble you!"

Luther's voice suddenly sounded behind him.

Hearing this, Alyssa turned her head in surprise, and saw Luther wearing a blue down jacket walking towards this side.

"Luther!" She hadn't seen Luther for a while, so she missed him.

Luther grinned and ran towards her: "Sister Alyssa!"

"It seems to be taller again." Alyssa stretched out her hand to compare her head, feeling that Luther was a little taller than before.

"Right? I also think I have grown a little bit taller, but my brother€" Luther suddenly stopped talking, and his tone became a little reluctant: "They all said I didn't grow taller."

Alyssa naturally heard that he had just said the word “my brother”.

It seems that Luther already knew about Gerald and Karl.

Alyssa smiled sharply, stretched out her hand and patted him lightly.

Luther scratched his head, as if a little embarrassed, and asked concerned: “I heard you are pregnant?”

He looked at Alyssa: “But it doesn’t look like it.”

“Silly, he is still young now, and he won’t grow up in two months.” Alyssa couldn’t help but knock on his head again.

“This is Alyssa.”

Lina’s voice came in, and Alyssa and Luther both turned to look at her.

Only then did Alyssa realize that when she was talking to Luther just now, Karl and Lina seemed to say nothing.

She had just talked to Luther, and she was not so close to Karl. Karl pulled her to his side and introduced concisely: “This is my wife, Alyssa.”

Then he looked at Lina and said to Alyssa, “This is aunt.”

Now that Karl introduced Lina, Alyssa obediently called out, “Auntie, I am Alyssa.”

“You’re beautiful.” Lina laughed, feeling very gentle.

After she finished speaking, she added: “It’s more beautiful than the picture.”

Alyssa was surprised: “What photo?”

“I took a photo and sent it to my mother.” Luther walked to Lina and put his hand around Lina’s shoulder: “I told you a long time ago that Alyssa herself is more beautiful.”

Alyssa twitched the corner of her mouth and smiled.

Trevor didn’t know when he also walked in: “Don’t stand here, go in and sit.”

Alyssa is a bit tangled, Karl and Trevor have a bad relationship, so should she called Trevor?

Karl didn’t give her time to struggle, so he embraced her and walked inside: “Go in and sit.”

As soon as Alyssa sat down, Luther approached her and asked curiously about this and that.

No one mentioned Gerald.

At this moment, Gerald and Anya walked in from outside together.

Chapter 237

Since the last time she fought with Mattie in Karl’s villa and suffered a loss, Anya also kept an account on Alyssa, and hated her even more.

She saw Alyssa's expressionless face, and she glanced at her and looked away with disdain.

The conflict between Gerald and Karl also escalated due to the termination of the contract.

None of the four took the initiative to care about anyone.

The atmosphere in the hall has become stagnant and annoying.

Alyssa was uncomfortable. Looking at Karl, there was no abnormality on his face. He even reached out and picked out a few large macadamia nuts from the fruit plate on the coffee table, peeled them and handed them to Alyssa.

Alyssa admired how calm he was at this time.

Since he was like an okay person, Alyssa's heart calmed down.

Anyway, it's acting. The more you pretend to be, the more you look like a family.

"It's very crispy, you have one too." Alyssa said, and put a macadamia nut into Karl's mouth.

Macadamia nuts are creamy, and the fragrant and crispy taste is liked by girls.

Karl didn't like the taste, but he frowned and chewed it down.

"Mom." Gerald sat down beside Lina with a concerned tone: "Why don't you call me in advance so I can pick you up."

Anya also sat down next to Gerald, and said in agreement: "Yes, aunt, you finally came back once, the eldest brother happened to be in the country, so you should also let him pick you up."

The smile on Lina's face was light: "Gerald is too busy, and I'm not unattended, it's no big deal!"

The three people over there looked peaceful, and Alyssa looked deserted.

Karl just peeled the macadamia nuts slowly, and Trevor sat opposite him without speaking.

It's finally time to eat.

Alyssa thought that she could go back after eating.

As a result, when halfway through the meal, Anya pointed to the phone and said loudly, "Brother, someone hacked you on the Internet."

Alyssa's heart tightened, not that she was worried about how others would betray Gerald, but that he would be linked to Karl again.

Karl was the founder of AdamPic Media, and the Adams' family should have known it, but Gerald was not involved in the termination of the contract.

It may be that the elders of the Adams' family are too lazy to care about this, but now the parties on both sides are here!

Gerald was very calm: "Don't worry, let's talk about it after eating. Now some people on the Internet like to talk nonsense."

“No, you are on the trending search again, and the attention is very high. It is said that you have abused the puppy in the crew before? The person who broke the news is said to have worked with you on the crew”

Anya also works at a TV station, and when it comes to the entertainment industry, she naturally pays attention to entertainment news.

“It’s all a joke, how could there be such a thing, you are so nice” Anya deliberately pretended to have a natural tone, but the deliberate flattery in the tone could not be hidden.

Alyssa glanced at her.

Anya discovered that it was too difficult to hold Karl’s thighs, so she stepped back to hold Gerald’s thighs next?

Alyssa stretched out a finger and poked Karl’s waist under the table. She just wanted to ask him if he did this for Gerald.

She intuitively felt that Karl had to do more than just terminate the contract with Gerald.

He is a man with a lot of grudges, and he will definitely ask for something from Gerald.

She only prodded, and Karl’s entire palm was grabbed.

Alyssa raised her head, Karl turned his head, and if nothing had happened, he would pick up vegetables for her: “Eat more and go back when you are full.”

Alyssa tilted her head and blinked to express her doubts.

Karl shook his head imperceptibly and answered her question.

Immediately, he looked up to see Gerald.

The eyes of the two people met in the air, and neither one took the initiative to say a word, and there was no extra expression.

But everyone else felt the weird atmosphere.

Gerald took the lead to look away and smiled indifferently: “Of course there won’t be such a thing, it’s just a boring thing that a boring person said, Anya doesn’t need to watch it anymore, let’s eat.”

He said this, and Anya quickly agreed: “Yes.”

Anya put down the phone, her mouth was not idle, she asked curiously: “Brother, why did you terminate the contract with AdamPic Media? I feel that AdamPic Media is kind to you.”

As soon as these words were spoken, the atmosphere on the dining table fell into a strange stagnation.

Alyssa was a little surprised. Anya didn’t even know that Karl was the boss behind AdamPic Media?

After thinking about it, Alyssa felt understandable again.

Karl is a cold-tempered person. He didn’t like the Adams’ family at first, and he had no affection for Anya. It was normal for Anya not to know that he was the behind-the-scenes boss of AdamPic Media.

Gerald stopped smiling this time, and looked at Anya with an unpleasant expression.

Anya looked inexplicable, not knowing what she had said wrong.

Lina, who had not said anything, put some dishes into Anya's bowl, and said softly, "Anya, try this."

"Thank you, Auntie." Anya glanced at Gerald carefully, stopped talking, and immersed herself in eating.

â€¦

After finally eating, Alyssa thought that she could finally go back.

"Karl, come to my study, I have something to tell you."

As soon as Trevor said this, Alyssa knew that she would not be able to leave for a while.

Alyssa sighed and pushed Karl: "Go ahead, I'll be waiting for you here."

Karl walked directly towards Trevor's study without saying a word.

"Your father said he had something to tell you, what are you taking me to do?" Alyssa struggled to shake his hand away.

Karl's tone was very serious: "I just finished eating, I will take you two more steps to digest."

Alyssa murmured, "â€¦ Can the excuse be lower?"

"Say it again." Karl looked back at her.

Alyssa shrank her neck and shook her head to pretend to be dumb.

At the door of Trevor's study, Karl pushed the goalkeeper and brought Alyssa in.

Seeing Alyssa behind him, Trevor frowned slightly: "Will Alyssa chat with Anya and the others?"

The subtext when speaking is probably: I am talking to my son, what are you doing with me?

"Just say anything." After Karl took Alyssa and sat down on the sofa, he raised his head to look at Trevor.

Trevor's jaw tightened, it was obvious that he was angry with Karl's attitude.

Alyssa glanced at Trevor and Karl again, and found that the two father and son looked like when they were angry.

"I thought you were willing to take over Adams' family, but I already figured it out." Trevor's face was cold, and he didn't feel angry when he spoke.

Alyssa couldn't help but sit up righteously.

Karl smiled and said, "It seems that I need to correct you. It is because of my grandfather that I will go back to take over this mess."

Chapter 238

Trevor was so angry that his chest rose and fell violently. He stared at Karl for a long time before he suffocated two words: "Very good!"

Alyssa watched with horror.

Fortunately, Trevor is in good health, otherwise he will get sick sooner or later.

"Ah."

Karl sneered: "What's the situation in Adams' family now? You know in your heart that most of your power has been emptied by a bunch of old guys. How many false accounts have been made in finance? Do you know all about it?"

If it weren't for Adams' bad situation, he wouldn't have worked overtime often during that period.

Trevor knew that what Karl was saying was the truth, and had nothing to refute.

He let out a long sigh of relief, and asked Karl, "Let's talk about Gerald instead of this."

Karl raised his eyebrows, narrowed his eyes, and waited for Trevor's next words.

"You set up a film and television company outside. Gerald has been a contracted artist of your company over the years, right? You mentioned the recent dispute about your contract termination?"

Outsiders have heard that Gerald proposed to cancel the contract, and Trevor is not as foolish as those people.

Trevor's inquisitive tone sounded a little strange.

Karl said blankly, "Are you trying to fight for him?"

Trevor also seemed to notice that his tone was not right, and his tone was softer: "Your aunt and I are brothers and sisters. The relationship between you and Gerald has been good since childhood. How many people in this family look forward to it. Staring at your position, you also know that you and Gerald have been kissing since they were young, and the two must have a good relationship so that they can take care of each other in the future!"

"If you want to take care of it, you can take care of it yourself." Karl felt bored and stood up: "I don't care about you, and you don't care about mine."

After speaking, he turned around and stretched out his hand towards Alyssa: "Alyssa, let's go home."

The expression he looked at her was not as cold as when Trevor was speaking, his handsome eyebrows were tender, touching and warm.

Alyssa put her hand into his hand: "Yeah."

The two led them out.

Inside the open door, there was the sound of smashing things.

Alyssa looked at Karl worriedly.

Karl smiled soothingly, and the corner of his eyes was slightly mocking: "He will smash his own things."

Alyssa faintly worried, Karl and Trevor Adams were incompatible with each other, and it wasn't a day or two, but they couldn't do this for the rest of their lives.

She could tell that Trevor still intends to befriend Karl.

A man like Trevor, even if he was too much, could not arrange such a kidnapping case to deal with his wife.

Alyssa felt that there should be a misunderstanding between Karl and Trevor.

However, this misunderstanding was not formed in a day or two. If you want to solve the misunderstanding, you can only do it slowly.

â€¦

When the two of them went downstairs, they saw Luther jump up from the sofa and looked at the two of them eagerly: "Cousin, Sister Alyssa, are you going back?"

"Well, what's the matter?" Alyssa could see that Luther had something to say.

Luther scratched his head and said twitchingly, "I haven't been to your place for a long time. Can I live with you for a few days?"

"No way."

"OK."

The two voices sounded in unison.

It was Karl who said "No" and Alyssa who said "Yes".

Alyssa glared at Karl, and said in an accentuated tone: "You can't do it?"

Karl wanted to nod his head.

But instinct told him that if he nodded, he might be driven out of the bedroom by Alyssa tonight.

Karl glanced at Luther, then faintly replied, "Oh."

Alyssa felt the deep sense of reluctance that came out of the word "oh".

But she also pretended not to feel it, and smiled and said to Luther: "Have you told your mother?"

Although the relationship between Gerald and Karl broke down, Luther was just a child.

Don't be so indifferent to a child because of adults.

Luther nodded wildly: "I have said it."

â€¦

Luther had lived with Karl before, and he still had his clothes there. Now he has to live there again. You don't even need to pack things, you can just go there.

When getting in the car, Luther seemed to be afraid of Karl's remorse. He jumped into the car like a rabbit and beckoned to Alyssa: "Sister Alyssa, come on."

Karl glanced at him coldly, and Luther shut up quickly.

Alyssa was about to get into the car, but was pulled by Karl.

After he got into the car in front, he stretched out his hand towards Alyssa to signal her to get in the car.

Alyssa rolled her eyes, is this man so stingy?

She got into the car and Karl sat in between her and Luther to separate the two.

Alyssa and Luther looked at each other across, and saw the contempt for Karl in their eyes.

Alyssa thought of being at the dining table before, and Anya said that Gerald had been hacked again, so she took out her mobile phone to go online.

The online situation is worse than Alyssa thought.

Alyssa leaned in to Karl's ear and asked him in a low voice, "Really you didn't do it?"

Karl still had that expressionless appearance, but his tone was very arrogant: "Is this kind of trivial matter need me to do it?"

Depending on how a person's character is, it is usually based on the small.

The topic of the death of a puppy by Gerald is very hot, and there are pictures.

It's just that the picture is not very clear, but the silhouette of the figure is obviously Gerald.

The photos were taken continuously. When Gerald picked up the puppy and threw it to the ground, five photos were taken in a coherent process.

In the words of netizens, this is a real hammer.

This time, most of the netizens stopped standing with Gerald.

For a big celebrity like Gerald who has almost never had any negative news, this kind of black material may be a devastating blow to his acting career.

"The human design has collapsed!"

"It's been strange to see Gerald for a long time. There is no negative news anywhere."

"This is the consequence of the termination of the contract with AdamPic Media. The big tree of AdamPic Media is still unsatisfied. As soon as the contract is terminated, it will be so dark and sour, right?"

Alyssa's gaze fell on the last comment.

The water in the entertainment industry is very deep. Although Gerald is a big man, it is also because AdamPic Media, the leader of the entertainment industry, is covering him.

However, he and AdamPic terminated the contract and lost AdamPic's umbrella. Those who wanted to climb up would naturally take this opportunity to step on Gerald.

One will succeed.

There are always people in the entertainment industry who want to climb up.

And there are only a few top positions, so naturally you have to step on others to get a chance to climb up.

In just ten years, Gerald has become the youngest Superstar in the entertainment industry, and someone has long wanted to step him down.

Chapter 239

People are like this sometimes. For people who have never made a mistake, or who rarely make a mistake, as long as they make a small mistake, they will be infinitely amplified.

And the kind of people who are extremely sinful, as long as they do a good deed, they will be infinitely amplified.

Most of the time, people are more tolerant of evil people.

Alyssa is not sure about the authenticity of Gerald's black material, but she knows that Gerald's reputation will inevitably suffer severe damage.

After all, she has been a fan of him for so many years, Alyssa's mood is a bit complicated.

Along the way, Alyssa's mood was a little low. When she returned home, she couldn't help but ask Karl: "Is this true?"

Alyssa suddenly understood that when Gerald was secretly photographed and brought to a trending search, why did Karl still think about giving Gerald a chance.

Because he is just like Karl at that time.

Regardless of the identity of Karl's cousin, Gerald, who has been an actor for seven or eight years, really didn't want to believe that he would actually torture and kill small animals.

A roommate in her university didn't like small animals. He saw kittens and puppies go far, but he didn't see how she treats them.

Psychologically, it has been said that will torture and kill small animals is a manifestation of mental disorders.

If this distorted psychological barrier is not relieved in time, the persecution target may change from animals to humans.

In short, it is a psychopath.

"True or false, who cares?" Karl obviously didn't care much about it.

What he cares about is the result.

Seeing Alyssa's eyebrows frowned, he thought a little, and said seriously: "I haven't heard of this before. The authenticity cannot be completely determined, but those who want to deal with him are prepared. Yes, they dare to explode such black material, and they are not afraid of finding loopholes."

No loopholes found

"You mean, this thing is true?" Alyssa's complexion changed slightly.

Karl continued this topic, just patted her on the head: "Go back to the room and rest for a while."

He knew that Alyssa was a fan of Gerald, and if this matter was true, it would still affect her a little.

Alyssa nodded: "Yeah."

She does need to go back to the room and rest for a while.

When passing by Luther's room, Alyssa stopped.

When he came back before, Luther went back to the room, saying that he hadn't lived in for so long and it was still not the same.

At this time, the door was suddenly opened from inside.

"Sister Alyssa?" Luther was surprised when he saw Alyssa standing at the door.

Alyssa curled her lips and revealed a very faint smile: "I just passed by and I am going to go back to the room."

Luther lowered his eyelids, wondering what he thought of: "Oh, are you going back to the room?"

Alyssa looked at Luther carefully, only to realize that his eyes seemed a little red.

She didn't ask him directly what was wrong, but said, "Are you fine?"

Luther obviously had something to say to her, but pretended to be relaxed and said, "Well, let's watch the movie together?"

"Yes." It's hard to hide the child's mind, but Alyssa didn't pierce him.

There is a projection room in the villa, but Alyssa usually has no interest in watching alone.

This is the first time she has entered.

There was a lot of space inside, and the sofa was very wide. The two sat in a row holding a box of potato chips, waiting for the movie to start.

The movie was selected by Luther. In the beginning, Alyssa realized that it was a baby cartoon

"Crack."

Alyssa put a potato chip in her mouth: "Are you sure you want to watch this?"

Luther grabbed a handful of potato chips and stuffed it into his mouth, and said vaguely, "Is it true that we respect the old and love the young? We can't just consider ourselves, but also the nephew."

“Nephew?”

Luther pointed to her belly: “Now, he is here.”

“â€¦”

Alyssa couldn’t laugh or cry: “He is just an embryo now.”

Luther turned down the sound of the movie a bit and looked curious: “Then he can’t hear us talking?”

“Ok.”

Alyssa lowered her head, gently touched her flat belly, tilted her head to look at Luther, “What do you want to tell me?”

“I know about my brother and cousin.” Luther sighed after speaking, looking like a little old man.

“Yeah.” Alyssa knew he had something to say, so she didn’t interrupt.

“As I said before, I spend more time with my cousin than with my parents and my brother. My parents look very affectionate, and my brother looks very gentle. Yes, but I always feel like somethingâ€¦”

Alyssa was taken aback: “What’s the point?”

Although Luther’s words sounded a bit mysterious, Alyssa could hear that they were the true words in his heart.

“I can’t tell you this feelingâ€¦” Luther scratched his head in distress, and suddenly ran to the side of the vase and pulled a fake flower.

He held the flower in front of Alyssa: “Like this flower, it’s very beautiful and realistic, but it’s a bit fake.”

“You mean, do you think your family is fake?” Alyssa said very quietly for the last word “fake” because she wasn’t sure if Luther meant it.

“I think they all wear masks.”

Luther lowered his head, his small face was tight, and his brows twisted together.

Alyssa didn’t know Luther’s family situation, how his parents’ feelings were, she didn’t know.

But what she knew was that his brother Gerald must have a problem.

Alyssa asked him tentatively: “Did you see your brother’s news on the Internet?”

“I saw it.” Luther’s complexion changed: “When I was very young, our family had a big white cat. My cousin and I liked it very much. It often slept in our room, but one night I went to my brother’s room and when I got up the next morning, I saw it lying on the edge of the fence covered in bloodâ€¦”

His voice trembled slightly: “Mom said, it was killed by the German Shepherd next doorâ€¦”

Alyssa couldn’t bear to ask any more, and touched his head: “Don’t think about it, since you-mother said that Demu killed him, that must be it.”

Luther shook his head: "But the neighbor's sister said that their German shepherd has always been tied to the yard. She will not lie. She also likes our big white cat."

Alyssa didn't know what to say.

Luther is the most rebellious at this age, but also the most sensitive.

He can keenly feel the changes in the relationship between each family member in the family.

According to his statement, except for Gerald, who has been exposed, the relationship between his parents is definitely not as harmonious as it seems.

There must be a problem in their home.

Chapter 240

In the end, the movie did not turn out to be, Alyssa has been chatting with Luther.

Luther lived abroad for a long time, and he didn't have many friends in the country. It is estimated that these words have been held in his heart for too long, and there is no one to talk to.

It just so happened that Alyssa was willing to listen, so she just said nothing.

From the things he said, some clues can also be vaguely heard.

The parents who looked like angels and the brother who was gentle on the surface but actually tortured and killed small animals, these things did have some impact on Luther's age.

Alyssa came out of the screening room and met Karl who was going in to find her.

She walked ahead, and Luther followed behind.

Karl's face was sullen, obviously a little angry at Luther's move to tell Alyssa to watch a movie.

Alyssa was already a little tired from dealing with the group of people before, and she agreed to go to rest, and was dragged by Luther to watch a movie together. Of course, he had no good expressions on Luther.

Luther curled his lips and moved behind Alyssa's body.

After so long, his cousin's eyes are still so lethal.

Scared.

Alyssa glanced at Karl disapprovingly, then turned to Luther and said, "Luther, you can go back to the room and rest for a while."

"Okay." Luther ran as fast as he received a pardon.

Karl pressed the corners of his lips, his eyes were cold: "Alyssa, you are two people now, don't need to bring him up, he is just a kid who loves to do foolish!"

"Don't listen or hear the chants." Alyssa covered her ears with her hands, and walked toward the bedroom while talking.

Karl's face turned black all of a sudden, and his voice became heavy with anger: "Alyssa!"

Alyssa turned her head, stretched out her hand to caress her lower abdomen, blinked and said seriously, "Don't be so loud, it scares the baby."

Karl took a deep breath and told himself not to worry about the stupid woman Alyssa.

Alyssa watched him forbearing his anger and couldn't help but smiled, but when she thought about it, he was doing it for her good, so she went back and took his arm to please him. Now, let's go back to the room and rest."

In front of Alyssa, Karl's temper has always come and gone fast.

Back in the room, Alyssa was pressed by Karl on the bed, covered her with a quilt, and ordered: "Sleep."

Alyssa talked with Luther for so long, but now she is not sleepy: "I have something to tell you."

"Wake up and talk about it." Karl ignored the look in her expectant eyes.

Alyssa ignored it and said directly: "How is your aunt and uncle's relationship?"

"In Grandpa's eyes, they are very loving model couples." Karl smiled self-deprecatingly after speaking. In the eyes of Grandpa, his mother and Trevor were also loving.

"But Luther told me just now that he thinks his parents are not very affectionate, and they have a feeling of detachment" Alyssa was a little emotional: "If we are together for a long time, will we also become that kind of detached husband and wife?"

Karl answered very positively: "No."

"Really?" Alyssa was moved.

As a result, in the next second, she heard Karl faintly say: "I'm thinking about this kind of thing with my child. Do you want to go out and find a wild man?"

This tone is dangerous.

Alyssa took a peek at him from the corner of her eye, and found that he was looking at her with a slight squint, as if she would give him an unsatisfactory answer, he would fix her.

Alyssa has always been a person with a strong sense of survival.

She grabbed Karl's hand and smiled brightly: "How is it possible, which wild man looks better than you and richer than you?"

"You mean, if there is a man who looks better and richer than me, you don't want me?" The expression on Karl's face became even more dangerous.

Alyssa felt that her answer was already very deliberate, but Karl just didn't take the usual path.

There are men who look better and richer than him in the entire Rostenvel?

It's impossible!

She is changing the law to praise him!

As a result, his focus was completely different from what she wanted to express.

She really couldn't keep up with the brain circuits of smart people.

"How is it possible!" Alyssa raised her volume, trying to make her tone sound more sincere.

Karl's expression was a little dark, but he didn't speak.

Alyssa pulled his hand to her lips, and gently kissed the back of his hand: "What I said is true."

She felt Karl's hand stiffen, and when she looked up, she found that Karl's expression was a little uncomfortable.

Karl was originally sitting on the edge of the bed. As soon as she saw him, he immediately turned and began: "Go to sleep, I have something to deal with."

Alyssa was startled, he was embarrassed?

It's pretty slippery when teasing her. She just kissed the back of his hand sensationally, so this man is awkward and embarrassed?

Alyssa wanted to come again, but Karl seemed to expect her next movement, and quickly took his hand away: "I'm going to the study."

Karl left the bedroom with his front foot. Before closing the bedroom door, he heard Alyssa's unbridled laughter from inside.

Karl's face turned dark, and he closed the door with a "bang". There was a burst of red and white on his face, and he didn't notice Aunt Tami who was able to come by with something on his face.

So he collided with Aunt Tami.

There was a bowl of sweet water in Aunt Tami's tray, ready to serve Alyssa warmly.

As a result, all this sweet water was sprinkled on Karl's body.

Karl reacted extremely quickly, and subconsciously raised the hand that Alyssa had kissed just now to avoid being drenched by sweet water.

Seeing him raising that hand, Aunt Tami asked with some concern: "Sir, is your hand hot?"

"No."

Aunt Tami was worried: "May I help you see?"

"No." Karl took a step back, and simply grabbed the hand that was kissed by Alyssa with his other hand and walked sideways around Aunt Tami and left.

Aunt Tami looked at Karl's back and murmured: "Why is that precious hand? It must be injured!"

!

So when Alyssa woke up, she heard the servant say that Karl's hand was injured.

Alyssa's face tightened: "How did you get hurt?"

hE was okay when she slept before, why did Karl's hand hurt when she woke up from sleep?

"Where are the others?" Alyssa asked.

The servant respectfully said: "Boss is still in the study and has never been out."

Alyssa was a little confused when she said this. If he had been in the study, how did he get hurt?

Alyssa was puzzled, but still went to Karl's study.

Standing at the entrance of the study, Alyssa knocked on the door, pushed the door and walked in:

"They said your hand hurt? Let me see."

Karl was working at the desk, and was a little surprised when he heard that, but he quickly understood what was going on.

His complexion became unnatural, and his tone was a little irritated: "No injury, I still have to work, you go out first."