Chapter 51

As soon as Alyssa entered the villa door, she asked the bodyguard, "Is Luther there?"

"upstairs."

Alyssa brought the afternoon tea and went upstairs to find "Luther" in a good mood.

Where is his room?

She thought about it, she came out of his room yesterday morning! She found "Luther"'s room, she looked around, and the location of this room looked like the Sir bedroom.

Karl has a good relationship with him, even let him live in the Sir bedroom?

Alyssa reached out and knocked on the door, and the voice of "Luther" soon came from inside: "What's the matter?"

His voice was low and cold, and more indifferent than usual when talking to her.

Alyssa said, "It's me, I brought you afternoon tea."

In the room, Karl was looking at his gunshot wound.

After asking Alyssa to fetch the bullets for him, he went back and went to a private hospital for an examination. His life was bought by his mother, so he was actually very sorry.

Asking Alyssa to fetch the bullets for him was also a stopgap measure.

The wound healed very well, but it still left scars.

He put on his clothes, opened the door and saw Alyssa standing at the door carrying the packing box.

Alyssa also just looked up at him, with a plain face, she handed the packed afternoon tea to him: "Hey, I brought it for you."

Looking at the packing bag, he knew it was brought back from Best Day.

He took it and asked, "Have things gone well?"

"It went well, thank you."

Alyssa smiled involuntarily, with eyes that were as bright and beautiful as a cat slightly bent, which looked particularly moving.

Karl responded indifferently, "Yes."

Then he closed the door with a "bang".

Alyssa: "!" How does it feel that he was afraid of her just now?

She turned around and went back to the room, and received a text message from "Luther", which contained a dish name.

Immediately afterwards, she received several short messages in succession.

A dish name in a text message.

What kind of food do you want to eat? Just say no at once. You have to have a text message with a name of the dish. The rich is soâ€¦!

When she was poor, her mobile phone could not be used for half a year, let alone such extravagant textingâ€¦! But when she went downstairs, she realized that there was more extravagance.

â€¦! Alyssa originally planned to go downstairs to see what's in the refrigerator.

When she went to the kitchen, she saw two bodyguards taking the dishes out of the refrigerator.

She approached and asked suspiciously: "Why are you taking out the dishes?"

"This is the dish that was delivered at noon yesterday. I have to replace it today."

"Why have these dishes been replaced with new ones? You can still eat these dishes!"

Alyssa looked down, and the dishes were still very fresh.

The bodyguard looked at each other: "It's always been like thisâ€¦! I change new dishes every day."

Alyssa: "â€¦! Okay."

Every time she cooks, the refrigerator is full. She thought that someone would add food to it every day, but she didn't expect it to be replaced every dayâ€¦! When she was cooking at night, Alyssa served every dish. Do the biggest part.

Because she knows that if these dishes are not finished, they will be replaced.

Although she also felt that it was too extravagant to change dishes every day, the rich young masters had their own ways.

Halfway through the cooking, she heard noises coming from outside.

She just cooked another dish, brought it to the table, and took a look at it.

Apart from "Luther", there are two men in the living room.

Peter and Clayton.

"Luther" knows Clayton, and Peter also knows him. Naturally, it is not surprising.

Peter saw Alyssa with sharp eyes.

Probably because of Karl's illness, he had already exposed his nature, so he didn't wear glasses to pretend to be gentle and waved at her with a familiar smile.

He seemed to be less gentle, like the most naughty male classmate in the class when she was in school.

The most eye-catching, the worst, but also the most attractive.

Alyssa thought he was childish.

“Mr. Adams is too.”

After seeing Alyssa’s face clearly, Peter stammered.

He turned his head to look at Clayton, and Clayton spread his hands towards her, smiling innocently.

Peter felt that Clayton smiled hypocritically.

In the afternoon, he and Clayton were arguing about Alyssa’s appearance in the company, and then he decided to come to Karl’s house to see Alyssa directly with Clayton.

As it turned out, it was not that they were blind, but that Alyssa had changed her face! Peter asked nonchalantly: “Why do you look different from before?”

“Maybe it was because the bangs were too thick before, so the makeup didn’t look good.”

Alyssa finished jokingly and half earnestly, and greeted Clayton again, and went back to the kitchen.

Peter looked suspicious, but this is too much difference! It’s a heaven and an underground.

He was in a daze, until Alyssa entered the kitchen, he was still watching.

Karl came over, kicked him directly, and stared at him coldly, “If you have enough, you can leave.”

Peter hugged his leg so that it hurts, “Aao” and shouted, “Karl, you are inhuman!”

The ending sound was confiscated, and Karl glanced at him coldly. He suddenly realized what he had said, and quickly covered his mouth.

Fortunately, the kitchen was far away from the hall, and Alyssa was cooking again, so she didn’t hear the sound from here.

Peter looked at Karl with a look of horror: “Your wife didn’t hear it!”

“You can go now.”

After Karl finished speaking, he walked into the restaurant.

Peter smelled the scent of the dishes long ago, and followed Karl to the restaurant.

Karl turned his head and looked at him blankly: “Do you want to go to Africa?”

When the voice fell, he found that Clayton had also followed.

Feeling Karl’s gaze, Clayton nonchalantly lowered his head and adjusted his cuffs and looked at his toes, pretending that he didn’t feel Karl’s gaze.

For three hundred and sixty-five days a year, three hundred and sixty-six days are spent in the restaurant outside. Now there have ready-made home-cooked dishes to eat, why would he leave?

He has smelled the smell of spicy fish! Alyssa’s last dish, spicy fish, was prepared and brought out, and she saw the three big men blocking the entrance of the restaurant and not coming in.

She didn’t even know that these men had been naively stalemated at the restaurant door for a while, and thought it was “Luther” who wanted to keep them for dinner.

If you want to keep them for dinner, why not come in?

Alyssa looked at "Luther" and asked uncertainly: "Are you going to eat out with friends or eat at home?"

The dishes I cook are quite simple!" Peter's identity is there, and Clayton looks good. They may not be as picky as "Luther", and may be more willing to eat in high-end restaurants.

Peter squeezed into the restaurant from the side of Karl and said with a smile, "I like simple dishes."

Chapter 52

Clayton also walked in, politely smiled at Alyssa, and said, "Me too."

After he finished speaking, he naturally sat down at the dining table, and Peter also hurriedly sat next to him.

Only Karl stood at the door of the restaurant and did not enter.

Alyssa: "!"

Why does she feel that the atmosphere is not right.

Karl walked in with a cold face, and sat down at the dining table.

Seeing this, Alyssa wanted to go to the kitchen to add two more bowls.

Karl coldly kicked the two opposing people under the table, "I don't know if I'm going to get the bowl for dinner?"

His own wife can do it by herself, but he still needs to serve them?

Peter and Clayton immediately went to the kitchen to get bowls.

Alyssa was stunned as she watched these two men go to the kitchen to get bowls obediently. She really couldn't tell that "Luther" was so idling and could make these two men with extraordinary status obedient.

Alyssa herself also sat down at the table.

She picked herself up a dish, and was about to eat it, when she heard the crisp sound of chopsticks hitting the plate.

As soon as she looked up, she saw that these three people were robbing vegetables, "Luther" was especially excessive, and they had to rob them for every dish.

Alyssa took a bite of rice silently, feeling that she was not facing three men, but three kindergarten children.

It was Clayton who felt Alyssa's gaze first, and said apologetically: "Ms. Adams doesn't laugh. I haven't been home for three years and haven't eaten home-cooked food."

Peter followed: "The company running is too busy, I eat takeaway every day."

Karl: "Don't listen to nonsense."

Peter and Clayton bowed their heads and grilled rice together, silent.

In the eyes of Alyssa, it was like “Luther” bullied them.

She slammed “Luther” with her arm, and when she saw him turning to look at her, she said to him: “Since you are keeping them for dinner, don’t do that. Let’s have a good meal.”

When did he leave them for dinner?

Karl sneered and looked at the two opposite people, and said coldly, “You guys eat more.”

Alyssa shook her hand, why did she think that these men might fight at any time?

â€¦

Alyssa found the atmosphere weird and went to the living room after eating.

She doesn’t understand these men.

As soon as Alyssa left, the dining room became harmonious again.

Peter finally found the opportunity to ask her doubts: “Alyssaâ€¦ what the hell is going on?”

Karl glanced at him coldly.

Peter made a zipper movement and fell silent immediately.

Clayton was originally with prudent temper. After spending a long time with Peter, he would occasionally be naughty, but when talking about business, he was still very serious.

He didn’t just stay here today, he had other things to say.

Clayton’s face was serious: “Colin’s share transfer contract to Alyssa is indeed a bit tricky, and it is a very low-level contract loophole.”

Karl sneered: “Colin’s wishful thinking is good, and Alyssa is not that easy to fool. She came to the Adams clan, and it will definitely disturb the Hunt clan’s life. Sooner or later, they will take Mr. Adams back to preside over the overall situation.

Not long after he and his mother were kidnapped and rescued back then, the Adams’ family suddenly entered into a marriage contract with the Hunt family. Father Adams also retired from the position of chairman of the family and went abroad to provide for the elderly.

In terms of family background, even if Karl was really disfigured and impotent, he would not have the turn to pick his fiancée at Hunt’s house.

It was precisely because the marriage contract was too coincidental and things were too abnormal. He suspected that something was related to the kidnapping of him and his mother more than ten years ago, so when Trevor asked him to marry, he agreed without resisting.

According to his original plan, he would look for clues from his fiancée Isabel and investigate the Hunt family.

However, it was Alyssa who got married, a little smart and a little silly woman who hid secrets.

Karl leaned back, a trace of helplessness appeared in his eyes.

Alyssa's cooking is the same as his mother's, so he can't help but approach, and then approach!

Peter knocked on the dining table a few times and said, "I think you can invite Mr. Adams back directly."

"No, that would be too horrible." Karl's expression was determined: "Old man was going abroad for retirement very suddenly. There must be something tricky about it. It has been fifteen years. I don't care if I wait for a few more days. Find out all the people involved in that matter."

Find them all? and then?

Although Karl did not speak any more, Peter knew that Karl would never let them go easily.

He suspected that in the kidnapping, the Hunt family and the kidnapers should cooperate with each other. After the kidnapping case passed, he repeatedly speculated and then followed the clues of the year to draw conclusions.

on Monday.

Alyssa is going to Hunt's report.

She didn't care what position Colin would arrange for her. Anyway, she had shares in her hands and was not afraid of it.

Now that she no longer pretends, she doesn't need to wear those clothes again.

There are no girls who don't love beauty.

She also has beautiful clothes, bought by herself, and Tina bought a lot for her.

Tina had a good family background. She was the school bully in high school. There were many people who followed her, and many people hated her, most of them were girls.

Girls deal with girls they hate, naturally, they use low-level methods.

They took advantage of the coolness and took advantage of the loneliness, and caught her in the abandoned teaching building to beat her!

Alyssa went to feed the stray cat. Hearing the movement, she picked up a rusty cement knife and passed by. She frightened them: "A fool will not be locked up for killing."

The girls ran away pale with fright.

Then, Tina had been good friends with her for many years.

Alyssa chose a red coat with a black sweater inside and a pair of small black leather shoes on her feet, which looked energetic and capable.

She went downstairs with her bag and just saw "Luther" reading the newspaper with a cup of coffee.

Hearing the footsteps, he raised his head and saw Alyssa at a glance, her red coat made her skin whiter. Slender, lively, and fragrant.

Karl looked at her for a few seconds, and said in a bad tone: "While cousin is away, you want to go out and find someone else."

What he said was not a question, but a statement.

When Alyssa looked in the mirror before, she thought she looked pretty, so she was in a good mood.

She walked up to Karl, condescending, looking at him contemptuously: "Even if I want to find it, I will only go to Karl. Don't always think of others so unbearably."

When Karl heard the words, his hand shook, and coffee overflowed from the cup and spilled on his suit.

Chapter 53

Seeing this, Alyssa raised her eyes and pierced him again: "Even a cup of coffee is unstable?"

Karl put the coffee cup on the coffee table and didn't wipe the coffee stains on his body, so he said in his spare time, "Don't you know if you try?"

Alyssa lifted her hair, glanced at him, then turned and walked towards the door, with a little arrogant voice coming out: "You want to be beautiful!"

Karl: "â€!"

This woman ate the bear heart and leopard gall?

Alyssa left the villa, patted her chest, and let out a long sigh of relief.

The enemy is like a spring, if you are weak, he is strong!

She spoke a few words of "Luther" confidently, and she felt like she was invincible in the world.

"Luther" is not that scary either!

If she is threatened by him again in the future, she will be a dog!

â€!

Alyssa went to Hunt's by car.

When she was very young, she followed Isabel to the Hunt clan once. When she grew up, she just stood outside and looked at each time she passed by.

In the past, her greatest wish was that Rachel could look at her more and pay more attention to her. She had never thought about entering the this family or taking shares.

Unexpectedly, one day, she would be invited back to work by Colin.

She took a deep breath, raised her chin slightly, and walked in.

Alyssa came on the first day without a work permit. As soon as she entered, she was stopped by the lady at the front desk: "Miss, who are you looking for?"

Alyssa turned her head to look at her, smiled slightly, a pair of cat eyes shining like stars: "Alyssa, came to work."

Last name Hunt? The lady at the front desk stared at her.

"Who is this?" Isabel's voice sounded behind her.

Then, the sound of high-heeled shoes, "ta-ta-ta" getting closer and closer.

Isabel walked to her, and when she saw her face clearly, her eyes widened in shock, and her voice changed: "Who are you!"

"Sister, I am Alyssa, you don't know me anymore." Alyssa's voice was extremely soft, and it could be heard in Isabel's ears, but there was an inexplicable gloomy feeling.

Isabel subconsciously took two steps back: "How did you become like this?"

"I've always been like this. My sister should take a good look at me. I'm your own sister. If you don't even know me, will others not laugh at me in the future?"

Alyssa approached Isabel while speaking.

Isabel was still immersed in the shock of Alyssa's changes in appearance. Alyssa took a step forward, and she took a step back passively.

At the ZVR Club that day, those people didn't succeed, and Isabel naturally knew it.

But she didn't believe it, she had clearly arranged it perfectly, how could Alyssa escape?

So she asked Rachel to invite Alyssa out to eat, and she wanted to see if Alyssa was really fine.

The front desks on the side were the people eating melons, and the melons in their hands were shocked to drop.

Isn't it rumored that Hunt's third lady is ugly and stupid? Is this a facelift after going abroad?

The Miss Isabel who is usually domineering in the company seems to be a little afraid of the third lady?

Isabel came back to her senses, resisting unwillingness and anger, gritted her teeth and said: "You are my biological sister. I love you so much. Even my fiance can let you go. How could I not know you."

Oh, she used to buy hot searches online and said that Alyssa had robbed her fiance, but now it is said to be given to Alyssa.

Alyssa replied with a kind-hearted smile: "Thank my sister for being so generous and letting me marry such a good person."

"You!" Isabel has always stepped Alyssa under her feet. Seeing Alyssa so proud of her nose and face, she couldn't wait to peel Alyssa's skin.

Alyssa stretched out her hand to hold Isabel's arm, she looked like a sister, and her smile remained unchanged: "Sister, let's go up first, don't let Dad wait long."

This is in the company, and there are employees who communicate with each other. If the two quarrel, it will not look good.

Isabel didn't say much, turned around and walked towards the elevator.

However, before the two of them had gone far, she heard several front desk ladies at the back discussing who they looked good.

"I think Miss Alyssa is pretty, isn't it a plastic surgery?"

"It looks natural!"

"If it's not trimmed, it will look much better than Miss Isabel!"

When Isabel heard this, she threw away Alyssa's arm with anger, her eyes looked disgusting as if she was looking at something dirty: "Don't touch me with your hand!"

Alyssa reached out and patted her arm, as if there were dust and dirt on it: "Oh."

She felt that Isabel was disgusting, even if she played around outside, she was still promiscuous.

Isabel was angry when she saw her movements, but when she thought of Colin's confession, she couldn't bear it.

â€¦

Out of the elevator, the two went to Colin's office together.

Although Colin didn't like Alyssa, he still greeted her with a smile: "Alyssa is here."

Colin was so gentle with Alyssa, Isabel was naturally unhappy. She helped Colin make a cup of tea and put it in front of him repeatedly to express her dissatisfaction.

Alyssa saw everything in her eyes, feeling a bit funny, Isabel really couldn't hold her breath.

"What position is Dad planning to arrange for me?" Alyssa sat down opposite him, with a gentle expression that was easy to talk.

Before Colin could speak, Isabel rushed in front of him and said, "I know that the marketing department lacks a market researcher. I think Alyssa is also a person who is willing to accept the challenge. Go ahead and do this."

Alyssa glanced at her and said faintly: "But I am not very willing to accept the challenge. I want to work easy."

She went to film school. As for marketing, she certainly didn't.

But she also knows very well that doing market research must be very hard work.

“Alyssa is young and really wants to exercise. You should try it first. If it doesn’t fit, then you can tell me.” Colin’s remarks are nice on the surface, but in fact they are determined to ask her to do market research.

Both he and Isabel were too used to the obedient Alyssa, so they wanted to sharpen Alyssa’s spirit.

Alyssa understood this simple trick at a glance.

Alyssa looked grateful: “If that’s the case, thank you dad for love to me.”

“Isabel, take Alyssa to the marketing department.” After Colin finished speaking, he looked down at the document.

Thinking of the suffering that Isabel was about to suffer, Isabel endured her pride and pretended to be calm and said, “Come with me.”

Alyssa was a little puzzled, how much she swallowed at Hunt’s house before, so that they still feel that they can manipulate her whatever they want?

Let her go to the marketing department to be the most basic market researcher? She just thanked Colin for his “great love”, did she say that she would do it well?

Chapter 54

When she arrived at the marketing department, Isabel took Alyssa directly to the manager’s office.

The marketing manager is a middle-aged bald man. When he saw Isabel, he narrowed his eyes with a smile and looked very greasy.

“Miss Isabel, what can you do when you come here?”

Isabel embraced her arms and clicked in Alyssa’s direction with her chin: “This is a new market researcher from the marketing department. Take her with you and take good care of her.”

She was talking about taking care of her, but Isabel was very alienated from Alyssa.

The marketing manager felt that he had grasped the key point: “I will take good care of her.”

“You do things, I don’t worry.” After Isabel finished speaking, she glanced at Alyssa, then turned and left.

Isabel’s words made the manager more certain. The “care” Isabel said was the kind of care he realized.

“Miss Isabel, go slowly!” The manager escorted Isabel away with a smile. He turned around and looked at Alyssa with a serious face: “What’s your name?”

The manager returned to his desk and sat down, only then began to look at Alyssa.

With this look, he almost fell his eyeballs on her, and he kept moving his eyes: “Your surname is Hunt? Are you related to the chairman and his family?”

Alyssa was disgusted by him, and said coldly, “It’s a bit related.”

At first glance, this manager was a sloppy idiot, and it's no wonder that the Hunt's family hasn't been able to get up for so many years.

It's a bit related, which means it's not deep.

The manager who thought he had figured out the situation smiled wryly: "Well, then do it well, I won't treat you badly."

He deliberately increased the word "dry", and Alyssa was overwhelmed by it.

But she didn't say much, and was taken to the small cubicle for work.

After a brief introduction, as soon as Alyssa sat down, she felt that her colleagues were still watching her.

Such a beautiful new colleague was brought by the Miss Isabel, and they were naturally curious.

Alyssa didn't care about this, she had nothing to clean up, so she sat down and took a picture and sent it to Tina.

Alyssa: I started to work at Hunt's.

Tina: What position? Vice President?

Alyssa: Market researcher.

Tina: [Black question mark.jpg], why don't you come to me as an assistant? I'll give you an annual salary of 500,000.

puff-

Alyssa almost laughed out loud, where is Tina who asked for assistant like this.

A colleague called her: "Alyssa, the manager asked you to go to his office, and he has something to tell you."

Alyssa smiled and said, "Okay, I see, thank you."

The colleague hesitated to speak, and gave her a self-seeking look.

Alyssa wasn't afraid at all, and the manager looked like an incapable and good-looking flatterer.

Besides, she was well prepared.

â€

Alyssa knocked on the door and entered the manager's office.

"Alyssa, come and take a look. This is the information I just compiled. You can take a look at it later."

Has this started to call so affectionately?

"Thank you, manager." Alyssa reached out to get the file.

The manager grabbed her hand: "Don't rush away, let's talk about work."

Alyssa tried to withdraw her hand calmly, but the manager grabbed her hand suddenly: "Sit next to me, we can talk a little closer."

Alyssa's face was slightly cold: "Manager, please let go of my hand."

The manager thought he had given enough hints to Alyssa, but he didn't expect Alyssa to be so insane.

He darkened and said anxiously: "You have heard what the Miss Isabel said before. If you are obedient, I will not embarrass you."

"Oh?" Alyssa looked at him with a smile, and put a hand into her coat pocket.

The manager thought there was a play, so he leaned over and wanted to kiss her, but before he could get closer, he felt numb all over and his eyes widened. He pointed at her and said the word "you" before falling to the ground with a bang.

Alyssa put away the anti-wolf electric stick, took the information, stepped on the manager's body, and went out swaggeringly.

She has a long memory after experiencing the ZVR Club.

When the colleagues outside saw her coming out so soon, they all looked surprised.

Alyssa just smiled back at their surprised look.

As soon as she sat down, the phone rang.

The number is a bit familiar and a bit strange.

She didn't want to pick it up, but thinking about seeing this person every day without looking up and lowering her head, she still connected to the phone: "Is there something?"

Karl felt the indifference in her tone, and suddenly regretted the whim at the time, and said that it was her cousin.

However, if she knew that he was Karl from the beginning, the following interesting things might not happen.

Karl's tone was as usual: "How is your first day at work?"

Alyssa was going through the information. Did he call specifically to care about her work on the first day at work?

Alyssa closed the information and asked him: "You are calling to talk about this?"

"Don't forget that you still owe me a meal. It is better to hit the sun if you choose another day. I will pick you up after you get off work tonight." After Karl finished speaking, he hung up the phone without giving her a chance to refuse.

Alyssa thought with some suspicion, she smashed "Luther" in the morning. Logically speaking, he should be angry, and then find a way to fix her.

As a result, his tone was calm as if nothing had happened.

This made her a little flustered.

“Come on, the manager passed out.”

The manager’s office was not far from Alyssa’s cubicle. Alyssa looked up and saw a woman standing at the door calling someone.

Alyssa lowered her head to reduce her sense of existence.

Finally, the manager was sent to the hospital.

Alyssa touched the anti-wolf electric shock stick in her pocket, it was really great, and she directly electrocuted the bald head into the hospital.

The manager didn’t come back in the afternoon after entering the hospital, Alyssa had a peaceful day.

â€¦

When she got off work, Alyssa met Isabel at the elevator entrance.

After reading the information for a day, she was a little tired and didn’t have the energy to fight Isabel anymore, so she stepped aside and let the others go first.

Isabel didn’t get into the elevator either. As soon as the others left, only the two of them were left.

Neither of them took the initiative to speak.

After entering the elevator, Isabel turned her head and glanced at her, and asked casually, “Is there a driver from Adams’ family who will pick you up? If not, I will come to pick me up for dinner later in the cold, but I can take you.”

Hearing this, Alyssa gave Isabel a surprised look.

Norris and her were reconciled again?

Feeling Alyssa looking at herself, Isabel raised her chin very proudly.

“No.” Alyssa remembered after speaking, “Luther” said that he would come to pick her up.

Chapter 55

Before, Isabel and Rachel had always mistakenly thought that she had something with “Luther”. Now if she sees “Luther” picking her up, wouldn’t it beâ€¦

Alyssa felt a little headache.

After getting out of the elevator, Isabel went out first, and Alyssa dangled behind and called “Luther”.

He answered the phone quickly. Before Alyssa could speak, he asked aloud: “You didn’t want to invite me to dinner, so you sneaked away with black card?”

Alyssa: “â€¦” The dog can’t spit out ivory!

and many moreâ€¦â€¦

“Where are you now?” Alyssa seriously suspected that he had already come to Hunt’s, otherwise why would he say she was “sneaking”!

Karl raised his eyes and looked at Hunt’s door: “At Hunt’s door, hurry up if you don’t sneak away. There is no place to go late.”

After speaking concisely, he hung up the phone.

Alyssa called him again, and he hung up directly.

She had to linger for a while before leaving, hoping that Isabel and Norris had already left.

If Isabel saw “Luther” pick her up, she might have to spread her rumors around.

Although Karl’s attitude towards her has been somewhat eased recently, her relationship with his cousin “Luther” is better. If she and “Luther” gossip, there is no doubt that Karl will not stand on her side.

It’s a pity that the sky is not as expected. When she went out, Norris and Isabel did not leave.

Norris’ car stopped at the door, and Isabel lowered the window and sat in the car and called her: “Alyssa, we will take you in the car.”

Where Alyssa couldn’t tell, Isabel wanted to show off that she and Norris were reconciled.

Alyssa said without a smile: “No, you can go first, we won’t go along.”

However, Norris opened the door and got out of the car at this time, and looked in Alyssa’s direction: “Alyssa, don’t you!”

When he saw Alyssa’s appearance clearly, he gave a sharp tone, and a touch of surprise flashed in his eyes. Isabel yelled “Chill” in dissatisfaction. Only then did he come back to his senses. Completion of the words: “Don’t be polite, I’ll send you back.”

He said that he would take her for a ride before, but now he wants to take Alyssa back?

Just as Alyssa was about to speak, she heard the sound of closing the car door with a “bang”.

When she followed the sound, she saw the slender figure of “Luther” walking towards her.

Only then did Norris and Isabel discover that a black Bentley had been parked next to them.

Most men love cars, and Bentley models are smooth and beautiful. Norris couldn’t help but take a few more glances. In this view, he released the Bentley Yazhi 728, which had been restricted for sale and discontinued several years ago, as a customized model.

As for the price, it starts at 10 million. It is tailored according to the owner’s request. The price of each car is different. From his professional eyes, the price of this car is at least 20 million.

Most of the children of the rich in Rostenvel, Norris knew them, but he didn’t know the man walking towards Alyssa in front of him.

Karl walked to Alyssa, looked down at her, then turned to look at Norris, his tone indifferent but very imposing: "This gentleman thinks we have no one in Adams' family? So we need someone else to pick the daughter-in-law?"

Norris was shocked, this man turned out to be from the Adams' family?

But didn't Karl say that he was already a useless person? Who is the handsome man in front of him?

Isabel on the side reminded him: "This is Karl's cousin, Luther."

When Norris heard this, he sneered: "How do you know him?"

Norris suppressed the disgust of Isabel from the bottom of his heart, turned his head and smiled and said, "Mr. Adams has misunderstood. I am a friend of Alyssa. I just want to take her on the way."

"Really?" Karl turned to look at Alyssa.

Alyssa naturally wanted to help "Luther": "It's not so easy."

Karl was very satisfied with her cooperation, the expression on her face did not change much, but a smile appeared in his eyes: "Since it's not going in the way, then let's go first."

Until Karl and Alyssa got into the car, Norris hadn't looked back.

Why did Alyssa suddenly become so beautiful?

Even if she did undergo plastic surgery, it hadn't been many days since he saw her last time, and she couldn't recover so quickly.

This can only show that she was already beautiful.

Why is she?

Isabel originally wanted to show off before Alyssa that she and Norris had reconciled, but she forgot that Alyssa suddenly became beautiful today, which would attract Norris's attention.

Isabel was very angry, and sneered at him: "What do you look at, she is also the Adams' daughter-in-law!"

Norris was stimulated by her words and looked at her disgustedly: "You shut up!"

The carriage was quiet.

Alyssa took the phone and sent Tina a WeChat message.

She told Tina about the reconciliation between Norris and Isabel.

Tina made a shocked expression: she couldn't imagine that among the Weber clan there would be such a god-man with a grassland on his head!

She recently filmed a costume drama, with a little line tone when she spoke.

Alyssa felt that it was possible that Isabel was holding Norris's handle, so Norris was forced to get along with her.

After all, how could a person who loves face like Norris willingly wear a green hat to get along with her?

She told Tina what she was thinking. Before Tina could reply, she felt that the car had stopped.

Alyssa unlocked the seat belt and got out of the car. As soon as she looked up, she saw Isabel and Norris coming out of the car nearby.

"â€" What's the saying? Such a small world!

Norris happened to see Alyssa and seemed to speak, but was pulled away by Isabel.

Alyssa really couldn't think of the reason, so that Norris, who loves face so much, could still get together with Isabel.

A gloomy voice of "Luther" sounded in her ears: "People are already walking far, so I can't bear to go in and watch."

When Alyssa turned around, "Luther" had already turned and walked towards Best Day.

The other person has long legs and big steps. Alyssa ran to catch up with him: "What are you talking about! Who can't bear it?"

"Norris." Karl stopped and glanced at her faintly.

Alyssa was shivered by him.

"Do you know him?" Alyssa reacted and followed, with a flash in her mind, and grabbed his arm: "You checked me!"

Chapter 56

Karl lowered his head and glanced at the slender and white fingers she clasped on his arm. He didn't break free, but said in a deep voice, "Isn't it normal for you? Do you really think our Adams' family can tolerate your Hunt family fooling around? "

His expression was unusually serious and cold, and Alyssa wanted to shiver again.

On the first day Alyssa entered Hunt's house, Karl had sent someone to check her up, and naturally knew that she liked Norris.

As for her pretending to be silly and ugly, it was because it took too long to verify.

Alyssa was taken aback for a moment, and couldn't help becoming serious: "Karl asked you to check it?"

"How about it?" Karl turned around and stood face to face with her, looking down at her.

Seeing her look shocked, he didn't say much, and went straight into Best Day.

Karl originally wanted to sit in the box, but Alyssa felt that he had bad intentions, so she asked to sit in the lobby.

So, the two of them finally found a card table by the window in the hall and sat down.

After ordering food, Alyssa asked "Luther": "When will your cousin come back?"

"do not know."

After Karl finished speaking, seeing Alyssa's expression of disbelief, he put his arms around his chest, looked at her blankly and said, "Even if I know when he will be back, I need to take him tell you about the schedule?"

It seems to make sense!

Alyssa lowered her head and fiddled with the mobile phone in her hand.

Karl would give her a mobile phone, which might be just a handy move. His whereabouts became a mystery, so naturally he didn't want others to know his schedule.

Alyssa sighed and thought that Karl was actually living quite hard.

Karl, who was living very hard, glanced at Alyssa who was opposite, and saw her frowning and "sad", thinking that she was saying too much, so after thinking about it, he reported a bunch of numbers.

Alyssa looked confused: "What?"

Karl curled his eyebrows slightly, seemingly impatient: "Cousin's call."

Alyssa suddenly came to her senses, and quickly opened the phone's address book to prepare to save the number. "You say it again."

Seeing that she was so happy, Karl said it again patiently.

"Thank you!" Alyssa saved the number and asked him with a smile: "Do you want to order more dishes?"

Karl looked indifferent: "No need."

He was clearly right in front of her, but he couldn't directly say that he was Karl.

The sudden heart congestion made him a gloomy face during the whole meal.

However, Alyssa didn't care about his expression, she was thinking about calling or texting Karl later.

It's better to send a text message. Calling him would be embarrassing, right?

She felt that it was more likely that he would block her by hanging up directly.

After the two of them had eaten, Alyssa and Karl stood up and left one after another. The exit was at the counter, and she went to pay the bill.

When paying the bill, she met Isabel and Norris.

Norris smiled softly towards Alyssa, "Alyssa."

"Yeah." Alyssa nodded, not really wanting to care.

Isabel looked at the two of them, gritted her teeth with hatred, but she insisted on making a smile: "In the first cold, by the way, help Alyssa pay the bill."

"No, I have already bought it."

Alyssa's voice fell, and the cashier lady just handed back the black card to Alyssa respectfully: "Miss, please keep your card."

The voice of the cashier lady caught the attention of Isabel and Norris.

Alyssa took the card: "Thank you."

But the other two were shocked when they saw the black card in her hand.

As a top giant, Adams' family has countless industries, including banks, exclusively issued global limited black cards, and even Adams' family has important talents.

Although Alyssa took a secondary card, it was enough to show that the Adams' family took her seriously.

Alyssa glanced down at their expressions and glanced at the black card in her hand.

This black card seems pretty awesome.

Alyssa said calmly to them, "I'll leave now."

As soon as she got back in the car, Alyssa asked "Luther": "What is the origin of your card?"

Karl's answer was simple and rude: "It's for shopping."

Alyssa felt that "Luther" was bluffing her. She felt that holding the black card in her hand was like a hot potato. She immediately gave the card to "Luther": "Now the meal is also for you. The card will be returned to you."

Karl gave her a cold look and threw the card back.

"What are you doing?" Alyssa gave her again.

Karl directly picked it up and threw it out the window, his tone calm and indifferent as if he was commenting on whether the food today was delicious: "Don't just throw it away."

Alyssa opened the car door and went down and picked up the card.

She didn't dare to give "Luther" anymore, she didn't dare to provoke this young Sir.

When Karl came back, she gave him the black card.

The next day.

Alyssa took the bus to Hunt's, mainly because the taxi was too expensive.

As soon as she got off the bus, she saw someone she didn't want to see.

Norris walked over to her: "Alyssa."

Alyssa took two steps back: "What's the matter?"

Norris didn't seem to notice her indifference, a touch of loss flashed through his eyes, and he added a gentle and melancholic aura: "I just saw you and want to say a few words to you alone."

Compared with him, Alyssa's attitude is much colder: "You have said a few words now, I have to go to work, I will leave first."

She used to like Norris, yes, but because of the sc*mbag-human eye, she automatically added a filter to Norris, so she thought he was good everywhere.

Now that the filter is removed, Norris has only one identity for her, that is, Isabel's boyfriend.

Norris laughed mockingly, and said in a low tone: "He is kind to you, I'm relieved."

Alyssa: "â€¦" Rachel would never say this to her. Where did Norris get the courage to say this to her?

"If you are so free, go to the hospital and have a look." But don't break your brain.

Norris looked at Alyssa's leaving figure, and the loss on his face gradually receded, revealing a look that was bound to win.

The reason why Alyssa is so indifferent must be to avoid suspicion. She has liked him for so many years, it is impossible to say that she does not like him or not.

Karl could even give Alyssa warmth with the limited number of black cards in the family, which must be very good to her.

The Weber family has been going downhill in the past few years. As long as he coaxes Alyssa well, let Alyssa blow some pillow air at that time, so that Karl can give Weber some benefits, and it will also make the Weber family's situation better.

â€¦

Alyssa warmed to the grid, and just as soon as she sat down, Isabel came over.

She could not hide the gloat in her eyes: "Dad asked you to go to her office."

"Did he say anything?" Alyssa picked up the phone, got up and looked at her.

Isabel obviously wouldn't say more: "If you go, you will know."

When she arrived at Colin's office, Alyssa saw the marketing manager who was stunned by her with a wolf-proof electric shock device yesterday.

Chapter 57

Alyssa walked in with her feet raised, leaving a heart that didn't close the door tightly, and smiled innocently: "Manager Cross is discharged from the hospital? I am going to visit you in the hospital today."

The marketing manager, whose name is Melvin Cross, is married and has a daughter. His wife is very aggressive. He used to be chased after by his wife in the company because he was ambiguous with a female colleague.

Since then, everyone in the company knew that Melvin was afraid of his wife.

Yesterday, she offended the department manager on the first day at work. Naturally, she had to do some preparatory work.

When Melvin saw Alyssa, the muscles on her face twitched twice. This woman looked weak, but she was not afraid of things.

He has been in the company for more than ten years, but he can't just be bullied by a little girl!

A shadowy bird appeared in Melvin's eyes, do not start coldly, ignore Alyssa.

Of course Alyssa didn't care, she walked directly to Colin: "Dad, what can I do?"

Although she knew in her heart that Colin and his daughter were only dissatisfied with her and they wanted to use the topic, but she had to pretend not to know.

Colin said with a cold face, with a stern tone: "Alyssa, if you are not satisfied with the job I arranged for you, you can come directly to me and tell me, what is it that you put your anger on Manager Cross? When it spread out, others thought Colin's daughter was too domineering in the company! It would affect the corporate image!"

Alyssa did not interrupt him in the middle to try to defend herself, but listened carefully, pretending to be surprised, and said, "It sounds like the consequences are serious."

Isabel snorted coldly: "Knowing that the consequences are serious, you still don't apologize to Manager Cross!"

Alyssa ignored Isabel at all, but turned to look at Colin, and said very seriously: "Dad, when it comes to affecting the corporate image, have sister's affairs been handled? I heard someone say on the Internet the other day. They saw my sister go to the ZVR Club for a banquet again."

When Isabel heard the words, her face turned pale, and she wanted to excuse herself: "Dad, I'm!"

Alyssa interrupted her and said with a smile: "Of course I know that my sister is not that kind of person. How could my sister go to the ZVR Club? I think it must be a competitor in the industry. She deliberately spread rumors to frame my sister. After that, they will feel that father did not educate sister well, and they think that Hunt's is a less positive company."

Alyssa was so serious that she almost believed it herself.

Isabel's indecent videos and photos were suppressed by Colin on the day they were topped.

But then he was made to hang out for one day and one night. Colin exhausted the relationship and couldn't suppress it. Only after Isabel's hot search became popular, he bought the platform again and asked them to remove Isabel's video. And photos are deleted.

The heat has finally gone down these days, and Colin never expected that Isabel would go to the ZVR Club again!

Alyssa's words successfully diverted Colin's attention. Although he also wanted to suppress Alyssa, Isabel's affairs were more important to him.

Colin said with a cold face: "You go out first!"

Alyssa took the lead to go out. Although Melvin was a little unwilling, he knew that the chairman was going to handle housework, so he had to go out immediately.

As soon as he went out, he saw Alyssa standing outside the door with her arms around.

Alyssa warmed her lips, her smile didn't reach the bottom of her eyes, and her fair face revealed a sense of coldness: "Manager Cross, the chairman said that I sprinkled fire on you. Did you say this yourself?"

When Melvin saw Alyssa's cold and glamorous look, he felt like a hook was hooking him, which made him itch.

He is not tall. Standing in front of Alyssa, he has no height advantage. He can only raise his chin to support his momentum: "When the chairman finishes handling the housework, you can just wait. If you beg me now, I might pay it back. I can beg for you and let the chairman let you go."

The smile on Alyssa's face deepened, and Melvin thought she was afraid of trying to please herself, so he was proud.

At this moment, he saw Alyssa raising her feet fiercely. He had a bad feeling in his heart. The next moment, he clutched his crotch and screamed: "Ah—"

Alyssa let out a cold snort, took out a paper towel and wiped her shoes, and said, "You said, I sprinkled the anger on you. Now you have what you wanted."

Melvin turned pale with pain, and pointed to her that he couldn't even speak clearly: "You—!"

Alyssa used to live in a slum for more than half a year. Sometimes when she went back at night, she would encounter some little gangsters. Although she was ugly at that time, she was a woman after all, and she was naturally harassed.

Therefore, she has never been afraid of being harassed.

This kind of workplace harassment, most people will choose to swallow their anger, the same reason, Melvin was taught by her, it is impossible to go around and talk about it, can only suffer a boredom.

However, she was certain that Melvin would not just let it go.

—!

On the other side, the chairman's office.

After Alyssa and Melvin left, Colin said angrily to Isabel: "What did I say before? Let you be a bit safer recently, you still go to the ZVR Club! Have you put dad in In the eyes!"

“Dad!” Isabel didn’t expect that Alyssa would fight against her. She said anxiously, “Those are my friends. They are all powerful at home. Maybe it will help us? If I don’t get past to attend the banquet, they might not take me to play, otherwise I will miss a big opportunity!”

“Huh! Friends? What kind of friends is a group of rich second generations who only know how to eat and wait to die? You still think that your reputation is not bad enough, and I don’t lose too much of my face? The most important thing for you now is to tie it well. Live in Norris!”

Colin has been in business for so many years, has a seasoned experience, knows everything about the ZVR Club, and has a far-sighted vision than Isabel.

Isabel was scolded by Colin and felt uncomfortable, but she knew that Colin loved her, so she put the debt on Alyssa’s head.

Although she felt that she was not right, in order to let Colin calm down, she confessed her mistake immediately: “Dad, I know I was wrong, and I will hold Norris well.”

Colin sighed, “Oh, all right, let’s go ahead.”

Alyssa returned to the grid room and wandered at the information.

She had Karl’s phone number, but she hesitated when she went back last night and finally did not dare to call Karl.

It’s nine o’clock, and it should be eight o’clock in the evening on the American side. He shouldn’t be asleep yet.

Send a text message?

[This is Alyssa, how are you in America?]

Is this appropriate? Is it too abrupt?

Alyssa deleted, deleted, modified, and the last message sent out was: [I am Alyssa, thank you for sending me the mobile phone, I like it very much.]

Chapter 58

After Alyssa sent the text message, she waited nervously for Karl’s reply.

When she texted Norris before, she was never nervous.

A colleague’s whispering voice came from nearby.

“I heard that Melvin took time off and went home to rest.”

“What’s wrong with him these past two days? He used to wish to pretend to be dedicated to the company every day!”

Alyssa was very interesting, so one more colleague joined the discussion.

The voices of their words also became quieter.

But Alyssa still heard a few words: “â€¦Nuanâ€¦ did itâ€¦ yesterdayâ€¦”

Alyssa sneezed suddenly, are they talking about her?

â€¦

AdamPic Media.

The meeting room was quiet, and Karl sat in the first place, with his eyes down, blankly turning over the project in his hand to report the evaluation.

The high-level managers underneath were all sitting in jeopardy, and the atmosphere didn't dare to make a sound. After all, the big boss behind the scenes was much worse than General Grant.

The outside world only thinks that Peter is the big boss of their AdamPic Media. In fact, only the senior staff of the company know that this is the big boss of the company. His whereabouts and identity are very secret. Whenever there is a major decision in the company, he will come out to preside over the meeting.

Karl hasn't come to the company for a while, and everything in the company has fallen on Peter. It is indeed hard work to manage the company and attend various activities.

Alyssa went to the Hunt's family, and he happened to be able to come to the company to handle things.

There are indeed several directors in the company who want to turn things around together with some senior management, but that is not a big problem.

Finally, after reading the documents, Karl put some of them neatly aside, and the others were thrown directly into the middle of the conference table with a “pop” sound.

Everyone was shocked.

Karl raised his eyes and slowly swept his gaze over the people present, with a stern voice: “Everyone is the veteran of the company, and we have worked together for so long. I will give you one last chance to pick up things by yourself and do well. Bring it to me again.”

After speaking, he got up and left the meeting room. Peter followed behind him and took away the neatly folded documents.

Back at the office, Karl loosened his tie, sat on the chair behind the desk, and rubbed his temples.

Peter followed in, put down the papers in his hand, frowned and said, “Those old things, can they be so obedient, and send them well?”

The expression on Karl's face became cold and cold: “Which company in the industry dare to accept the person who was dismissed by AdamPic?”

His words sound arrogant, but Peter knows that he has arrogant capital.

Although Peter also felt that Karl had a bad temper and was also arrogant, he was actually a kind person. Those old things were too much this time.

“If there’s nothing else, you can go ahead.” Karl said as he opened a drawer under the desk and took out a mobile phone from it.

After pressing the power button, the screen lights up with an unread text message displayed on it.

As expected, it was a text message from Alyssa: [I am Alyssa, thank you for sending me the mobile phone, I like it very much.]

His gaze paused slightly above the three words “I like it very much,” and then he curled his lips and smiled.

Peter hadn’t gone out yet, seeing Karl smiling at his mobile phone, he couldn’t help being curious: “It’s okay for you to smile at the mobile phone so happily, what do you do? I’m afraid of you like this.”

Karl was in a good mood, and said smoothly, “You are afraid to leave?”

Peter walked around to see what he was looking at, but Karl seemed to have eyes on the top of his head. When he flipped his palm, he covered the phone on the desk.

Peter: “â€¦”

Well, Karl is ruthless!

After Peter went out, Karl returned the text message to Alyssa.

[You like it.]

After all, “Karl” didn’t want to see Alyssa, it didn’t seem to fit the style of “Karl”?

[Bought it all night.]

Too deliberate.

In the end, Karl only sent one word: [Hmm.]

Putting down the phone, he leaned on the chair, a rare trace of irritation flashed through his pitch-black eyes.

Peter left and returned, and opened the door to walk in front of him: “Karl, this is a big IP invested by the company recently. I will put the information here for you. You will look at it later.”

“and many more.”

Peter put down his things and was about to go out, but he was stopped by Karl nonchalantly, and he turned his head back in a daze, “What else?”

Karl gave a concealed cough, reached out his hand and knocked on the table a few times, and said blankly, “Do you think I should tell Alyssa that I am Karl?”

After speaking, he added coldly: “If you dare to laugh, I will let your little star not receive the script to act.”

Although he knew that Karl was only threatening him, Peter still suppressed the smile that had already reached his lips.

Peter suffocated a smile and flushed, and said seriously: "Yes, you'd better tell her immediately."

Karl certainly understood that Peter was cheating him.

He picked up the file at hand and threw it at Peter: "You get out of here."

"Okay, I roll hahahahaha!" Peter didn't hold back a smile, smiling very arbitrary.

Peter felt that he hadn't lived in vain in his life, and in the rest of his life he had ever seen Karl bewildered by women!

He is going to share this interesting news with Clayton.

Karl pressed his lips tightly, picking up the pen holder blankly, and quickly hitting Peter who had already walked to the door.

"what--"

Peter's screams made Karl feel a little relieved.

Immediately, he raised his eyebrows again, and now directly told Alyssa that he was Karl, obviously the timing was wrong.

He needs an opportunity.

Alyssa waited for a long time, and finally waited until Karl gave her a text message back.

Although it is only one word, it is already pretty good for Alyssa.

When she went to dinner at noon, a few female colleagues came and went with her.

"Alyssa, let's go eat together."

The gossip fire in the eyes of the female colleague did not escape Alyssa's eyes.

Alyssa felt that they might have known about her repairing Melvin.

She didn't know how long she would stay in the Hunt's, so she smiled and nodded: "Okay."

Although they were all women, Alyssa smiled and looked forward to the brilliance, still making several female colleagues dumbfounded.

There are not many restaurants near the company. Even though the group just found a restaurant to eat, they met Mr. Hunt and his daughter by coincidence.

They were all bosses, and the female colleagues went over to say hello: "Chairman, Manager Isabel."

Isabel is the project manager. Of course, she doesn't have the ability, and the people who do the real thing are people under her hands.

Alyssa did not behave too strangely, and followed the past to say hello.

"Dad, sister."

Chapter 59

With other people around, Colin took care of his face, and casually said to Alyssa: "Let's eat together."

"Okay." After Alyssa finished speaking, she saw that Colin's face changed slightly, and she went on to say, "But not today. I want to eat with my colleague and eat with Dad another day."

Colin and Alyssa were not close, and didn't like her, so naturally they didn't want to eat with her.

Hearing Alyssa's refusal, his expression relaxed, and the whole person looked a lot milder: "Okay, you go first."

At this moment, Isabel suddenly turned her head and smiled and added food to Colin: "Dad, you try this. I think their food is doing well today."

Colin smiled and said, "You eat yourself, and you have lost weight recently."

What a harmony between father and daughter!

Isabel smiled contemptuously at Alyssa, her eyes seemed to say: You poor parents who don't hurt.

I have to say that Isabel did poke Alyssa's weakness.

She thought that she had already cultivated a heart of steel in the Hunt's family's use and abandonment of her time and time again, but she was still easily stabbed by the scene of father and daughter's harmony.

When she sat down with her colleagues, Alyssa's complexion was still a bit bad.

Some time ago, the matter between her and Isabel was raging on the Internet. These female colleagues are young girls, so naturally they will also go online and know about them.

They also saw what happened just now, and they could feel it somewhat, Colin didn't seem to like Alyssa very much.

One of them pushed the menu to her: "Look at what you want to eat."

Alyssa smiled and pushed back the menu: "I'm not picky, you can order first, and I have never been here, and I don't know what dishes are delicious."

After listening to her, other colleagues were not polite and started ordering.

They thought that Alyssa was quite easy to get along with, so someone asked her: "Do you know why Melvin took a leave of absence today? What happened in the chairman's office before?"

"I don't know, did he do a lot of bad things in the past? Maybe it's the reincarnation of Heaven who wants to clean up him." Alyssa was serious nonsense.

The others didn't mind, and laughed, and then began to expose Melvin's old bottom.

Alyssa interjected a word from time to time, and the atmosphere was considered harmonious.

Until, a word broke harmony.

“Alyssa, since you are already Adams’ daughter-in-law, why do you still come to work at Hunt’s?”

The person who asked the question was not malicious, but this question is really difficult to answer.

Alyssa paused, her voice a little hesitant: “Thisâ€¦”

Someone took the initiative to relieve Alyssa: “Oh, eat quickly. Time is running out. After eating, we can rest for a while.”

The person who asked the question did not follow up.

In fact, everyone in the company felt that Alyssa was not welcome at Hunt’s house.

Although the disfigured and impotent Young Sir Adams was the first heir to the Adams’ family, his physical condition was not suitable for taking over the Adams’ family. Many people speculated that the heir might be replaced, but there was no definite news.

Fading-Departing from the aura of Adams’s heir, Young Sir Adams is just a waste person, and Alyssa has to go out to work when she is unwelcome.

Even if she get out to work, she still has to do such a hard job as a market researcher, which looks really pitiful.

Alyssa looked at her female colleagues in a dazed manner, who kept picking up vegetables for her. The look in her eyes seemed to be sympathy?

After thinking about it, she understood what was going on.

From a bystander’s point of view, it seems quite pitifulâ€¦

â€¦

Karl stayed in the company for a day.

When he got off work, Peter rushed over to look for him: “Let’s go for a drink!”

When Karl came to the company, his job was much easier, and he wanted to go out in a good mood.

“No.” Karl refused without raising his head.

Peter rolled his eyes and said, “Why are you going back so early? Just stay at home when nothing is wrong, go home after get off work, and don’t participate in any activities. You are totally an elderly person.”

Karl’s light and fluttering words slammed Peter back.

“Everyone with a wife is like this.”

Peter twitched the corner of his mouth: “Haha.”

At this moment, Clayton also came in.

He didn’t know that Peter had just encountered Karl’s crit, and asked, “Can you go now?”

“Go.” Peter said and walked outside.

Clayton glanced at Karl, "Are you not going?"

Peter answered Karl with an indifferent expression: "People with a wife do not live overnight."

As Peter had expected, Clayton showed an expression of consternation.

"Let's go, the two of us can just go for a drink, who will let us have no wives?" Peter put his hand on Clayton's shoulder and pulled him out.

Clayton frowned, pulled off Peter's hand, and turned his head, with a sympathetic tone: "What about a wife? It's not just about watching."

Karl sneered, "Don't even think about going to the house for dinner."

Clayton's face became stiff, and the conversation turned, and said, "Envy you who have wives."

Peter couldn't help kicking Clayton!

Why can't I be more promising? Why do they have to lose in front of Karl every time?

Clayton didn't seem to feel the pain and didn't bend his legs.

Peter took him and walked out: "Don't be embarrassed here."

After speaking, he turned back to Karl and said, "Let's go first."

Karl was in a good mood, and he could hear a bit of joy in his low voice: "Go ahead, count me in the account."

It's just that when Karl drove home and looked at the empty villa, his good mood disappeared.

He took out his cell phone and called Alyssa, but the call was not answered until he was hung up automatically.

He pressed twice in a row, but no one answered.

Didn't pick up on purpose, or something happened?

Karl stood in the empty hall for a while, until the bodyguard beside him couldn't help but ask him: "Sir, what happened?"

The young Sir looked serious, presumably something great happened.

Karl didn't say anything. He picked up his jacket and walked out. When he arrived at the door, he seemed to think of something. He turned around and said, "If the young lady comes back, call me."

"â€¦" Could it be that the young lady hasn't come back yet?

â€¦

At this time, Alyssa was being dragged to the mall.

When she was off work, she wanted to go straight back.

However, the colleagues who ate with her at noon probably thought it was too pitiful for her to face the empty villa when she went home alone, so they had to drag her out to go shopping.

In fact, she felt that she was really not pitiful, even if she went home to face the empty villa, it was a luxury villa, a thousand times better than the small rental house she used to live in.

However, the hospitality of the colleagues was difficult, so she had to go out shopping with them.

Chapter 60

Alyssa had been thinking about cooking for “Luther”, after all, that was what she promised him.

But since entering the mall, Alyssa was dragged by them to watch this one try that one.

When the sky was getting dark outside, Alyssa found an excuse and said, “I’m tired. Find a place to rest.”

Then they found a place to drink drinks.

Alyssa took out her mobile phone, only to see two missed calls from “Luther”.

She thinks that “Luther” should have poor patience. She didn’t expect him to call her twice. She can even imagine that after he finished the second call to her, he was angry. He can’t bear it.

Alyssa stood up and said, “I’m sorry, I have to go back first. Thank you today and invite you to dinner next day.”

Out of the mall, she walked toward the bus stop while calling “Luther”.

After a few rings, the phone was answered.

“Where?”

“Luther”’s voice is already very low, but if his mood is not right, his voice will naturally become a little gloomy in others’ ears.

Alyssa felt that her neck was a little cold.

She reached out and touched her neck, and said, “Still outside, I will be back soon. If you are hungry, you can find something to eat.”

He repeated it again: “I asked where you are.”

The impatience and anger in the tone were no longer concealed.

Alyssa turned her head and glanced, and then told “Luther” the name of the mall.

Since the last time “Luther” threw that awesome-looking black card in front of her, she never dared to mess with this young Sir casually.

Alyssa turned around and walked to the door of the mall again, waiting for “Luther” to come over.

She waited at the entrance of the mall and saw the car after a short time.

She was about to go there when she heard someone calling her: “Alyssa, you haven’t left yet?”

Alyssa turned her head stiffly, and saw that the colleagues standing behind her were those who were shopping with her.

“Yeah, I still”

Only halfway through Alyssa’s words, she was interrupted by “Luther”.

“Alyssa, get in the car.” Karl drove the car to her side and stopped, lowered the window, and looked at her blankly.

Those colleagues showed a shocked expression in unison: “

Alyssa felt like it was over.

Alyssa turned to look at “Luther,” and said with a smile, “Although I am younger than you, I am also your cousin anyway.”

Karl tilted his head slightly, glanced at the colleague behind Alyssa, raised his eyebrows, and said in an impatient tone: “Get in the car.”

Alyssa felt that he was starting to be impatient again. She was afraid that he would make trouble again, so she turned her head and said to the person behind her: “My husband’s cousin, he picks me up on the way, so I will leave first.”

She didn’t dare to stay any longer, opened the door and got into the car.

When “Luther” started the engine, Alyssa looked in the rearview mirror, and she could still see the female colleagues gathered around and violently talking

Alyssa sighed and turned to look at “Luther”: “Why are you here so fast, do you work around here?”

“Luther” ignored her.

Alyssa turned her head and looked out the window, he didn’t want to talk to her yet.

Back home, Alyssa went to the kitchen to cook.

In the past few days, she has been familiar with the taste of “Luther”, he is a person who is not spicy and unhappy.

After eating, the two went back to their rooms.

Alyssa took a shower, lay on the bed and played a video with Tina.

Tina wore an ancient costume with antique buildings behind her.

Alyssa asked her: “Are you still in the studio right now?”

“Yes, shooting night scenes.” Tina ran to a corner with few people and whispered to her, “Do you know who I am playing against today?”

“Who?” Alyssa thought of something suddenly, and said: “It can never be Gerald Cain? Didn’t he go abroad to study?”

“It’s him!” Tina’s tone was very excited: “The director seems to have met with the film emperor, so I asked him for a cameo appearance. I happened to have a match with him. What should I do if I am so nervous that I am shaking all over?”

Alyssa pursed her lips and said quietly, “I don’t know, I’m also nervous.”

Gerald is the youngest Grand Slam actor among all the previous actor, Alyssa has been a fan of him for eight years.

There was a voice on the other end of the phone: “Tina, come over and play!”

“Come right away.” Tina replied and said to Alyssa: “I’ll go there first. I will help you find Gerald for an autographed photo. You may not get a photo, but I will try my best.”

After speaking, she turned off the video.

Alyssa: “â€¦” She is not as wretched as Tina!

â€¦

The next day.

When Alyssa arrived at the company, she felt that the eyes of the female colleagues looked strange at her yesterday.

She had expected this kind of scene early in the morning and didn’t care much.

Melvin was probably terrified by Alyssa’s lesson, and the next few days were as quiet as a chicken without trouble with Alyssa.

It was not until Friday that he brought someone to find Alyssa: “Today you two go out to do market research. Today is already Friday. You will report to me next Monday.”

What he brought was a tall man who looked very simple and honest.

Alyssa glanced at the man, very strangely.

There are so many people in the marketing department. Not everyone knows Alyssa a few days after coming, so she didn’t think much about it.

When the two left the company, they took a taxi.

Alyssa asked: “Will the company reimburse?”

“Reimburse.” The man gave her a weird look.

Alyssa was vigilant, turned her head and looked out the car window, and found that he was driving towards the suburbs.

When she came out, she had read the information. The product released this time was a household daily necessities, and the place they were going should be a residential area.

Just passing by a drugstore at this time, Alyssa lowered her eyes, bit her lip fiercely, and twisted her eyebrows to make a look of pain: "Could you stop the car, I'll go buy something."

The man asked her: "What are you going to buy?"

"Pain reliever." Alyssa turned her head to look at him: "In my menstrual period, my stomach hurts."

The man realized after thinking about it, and said: "I'll come with you."

"Okay." Alyssa knew that even if she refused his request, he would think of other ways to prevent her from getting out of the car.

She can now be sure that Melvin asked for revenge from this man.

The two got out of the car and went into the pharmacy. The man followed her closely. Alyssa bought the medicine and walked out slowly.

At this time, a man wearing a mask and a peaked cap walked in from the outside, coughing slightly with his hand against his lips. When Alyssa passed by him, she suddenly reached out and grabbed his arm with a look of surprise: "Cousin, Why are you here?"

The man with the mask seemed to be taken aback for a moment, and he stretched out his hand to lift the cap up, revealing a pair of familiar warm eyes.
