Chapter 661

The next moment, Dave's voice rang.

"Does Miss Alyssa believe me?"

Alyssa turned her head and looked calmly: "The price I pay may not be as high as Claire."

When the voice fell, she clearly saw Dave's eyes changed slightly.

Is it because she mentioned Claire?

This discovery made Alyssa very interesting.

Dave took off the peaked cap from his head: "I am not short of money. I need a job and an employer who trusts me."

Dave is skilled, and those powerful and influential can naturally look at him as a bodyguard, and even pay him a lot of money.

But his experience is too complicated. There are too many things hidden in those eyes. Anyone who is a little cautious will usually check his details.

Although his identity cannot be found by ordinary people, it will only be a troublesome thing for Dave.

After quickly thinking about these questions in her heart, Alyssa said aloud: "I'm going to throw out the garbage now."

The elevator door was about to close at this moment, Dave directly stretched out his hand and pressed it, and walked in first.

Alyssa curled her lips, Dave was really interesting.

Alyssa followed in, and Dave pressed the number "1".

When the two got out of the elevator, Dave followed Alyssa a step away.

Now he has entered the working state.

"Am I going to praise you for your dedication?" Alyssa pretended to be making a joke while walking.

Dave didn't say anything, Alyssa didn't mind.

After she threw the garbage into the bucket, when she turned around, Dave had already walked behind her again.

Not good at skill.

Alyssa continued to talk to Dave: "I believe that with your ability, you can do other things well, why would you be willing to be a bodyguard for someone?"

For a long time, she didn't hear Dave's answer. Just when Alyssa thought Dave would not speak any more, Dave's voice rang.

“I can only do two things, killing and protecting people.”

Now that I have washed my hands in the golden basin, I will naturally no longer engage in murder and arson.

Alyssa was not so afraid of Dave now, so she dared to ask anything.

“Why would you wash your hand in golden basin?”

Dave didn't say anything, Alyssa took the next sentence to herself: “Because of Claire?”

After he finished speaking, she felt the cold air coming from behind her side.

“Angry?” Alyssa looked back at him.

Dave's expression was extremely cold: “Miss Alyssa is very interested in my personal affairs.”

Not interrogative sentences, but declarative sentences.

“Yes, I'm particularly interested.” Alyssa did not deny it, but admitted it generously.

At this time the two had entered the elevator.

When the elevator was almost on the floor where they lived, Dave suddenly said, “Miss Alyssa is so concerned about other people's private affairs because the relationship with your ex-husband is not going well, do you want to divert attention from it?”

Alyssa was startled, and a touch of anger surged in her heart.

Almost everyone has a person in their heart who they don't want to mention easily.

Dave didn't want to hear her mention Claire, she didn't want to hear Dave mention Karl.

The truth is the same.

Alyssa sighed, “Sorry.”

Dave accepts Alyssa's apology without reason.

Alyssa didn't expect Dave to be quite particular.

She and Dave separated at the elevator entrance and went back to their rooms.

After giving time to Grace, she left from Karl's villa and was later besieged by Robert and went to the hospital again. After so long a wait, it was almost evening.

Alyssa remembered that she hadn't eaten lunch yet.

She opened the refrigerator and looked at nothing.

In the end, she took an apple and felt that she had no appetite after eating half of it.

Sat in front of the computer and start writing the remaining episodes.

It was midnight when she finished writing in one breath.

Her stomach is uncomfortably empty, too lazy to cook, and no appetite.

Is it because the heart is too close to the stomach, so it is also affected, so it is also followed by transient abnormalities?

The scene where Karl and Miana hugged each other on the road before, seemed to be still in sight.

Alyssa sneered herself, and Karl went back to find a woman who was the right one. Why should she be like that?

Can she live without Karl?

She pressed her stomach, stood up and walked towards the kitchen.

Before reaching the kitchen, she heard a knock on the door outside.

The knock on the door was three rhythmic sounds, not hurried.

Alyssa turned to look at the time, half past one.

It can't be Tina. She saw a Reuters picture of Tina shooting a movie in the desert yesterday.

Naturally it could not be Peter, Mattie and othersâ€¦

Could it be that Robert came here so soon?

Alyssa took the phone and pressed the three numbers "110" out. If something goes wrong, she would press it immediately.

There was nothing to defend herself in the room, so she went to the kitchen and took a kitchen knife.

Then, holding a kitchen knife in one hand and a mobile phone in the other, she walked towards the door lightly.

She was sure that there was no sound when she walked.

But when she walked to the door, the people outside seemed to know that she had come, and said aloud: "It's me, Dave."

Alyssa was stunned for a moment, and immediately let go of deluge in her heart.

She opened the door and saw Dave standing at the door with a tray in his hand.

She glanced at the tray hurriedly, did not see what was inside, and asked him, "It's so late, what are you doing?"

Alyssa's eyes have an imperceptible vigilance.

She always felt that Dave would live in the same community as her, which was a bit of a coincidence.

Even if he is her personal bodyguard now, it does not affect her to doubt him.

Dave put down the tray in his hand: "Eat it?"

Only then did Alyssa see that the tray he was holding contained a bowl of porridge and two plates of side dishes, which looked fresh and delicious.

Alyssa widened her eyes involuntarily, "Youâ€¦ did it?"

"Take it and eat it." Dave didn't answer, and pushed the tray forward again. His brows were frowned tightly, as if what he was holding was not something to be eaten, but a Hot Potato that he disliked.

Alyssa couldn't imagine anyhow that people like Dave could cook and give her food.

This bodyguard is too dedicated.

If she hadn't seen Dave's relationship with Claire earlier, she would have wondered if Dave had a crush on her.

People like Dave should rarely give people anything, right?

For a while, Alyssa felt moved again.

She reached out and took the tray in his hand: "Thank you."

Dave didn't speak, as if it would be troublesome to say one more word, he turned around and left.

Alyssa stood at the door, watching Dave enter the opposite door, and then looked down at the porridge on the tray, feeling very complicated.

She closed the door, returned to the room, put the porridge on the table, sat down and started eating.

The porridge and vegetables are in good condition, but they are not bad.

Chapter 662

Early the next morning.

Alyssa's door rang.

She could vaguely feel that it would definitely not be Dave who knocked on the door so early in the morning.

She glanced in the cat's eyes. They were two policemen in uniforms.

The police will come here, it must be because of yesterday.

Alyssa didn't think it was any surprise. If she was actually carried in Robert's hands yesterday, she didn't know if she could come back alive, and Robert would naturally take care of the follow-up.

But yesterday, Robert and the others did not succeed, and naturally they would not deal with the follow-up matters.

Robert is an out-and-out villain. He suffered a loss yesterday, so naturally he will find ways to trouble Alyssa.

Alyssa was also mentally prepared for this.

She tidied her clothes and opened the door.

The policeman took out his ID and raised it to her, with a serious tone: "Is it Alyssa?"

"Yes." Alyssa's gaze stayed on the ID for a while before she looked away.

"Come with us. Regarding the car accident on Rexter Road yesterday afternoon, we would like to find out about the situation." The policeman said as he collected his documents.

"Can you wait for me to change clothes?" Alyssa said, closing the door and returning to the room.

After closing the door, Alyssa's face sank slightly.

She had only thought that Robert would trouble her in this regard, but she hadn't thought that even if the police asked to come to her door, at least they would contact her yesterday.

This action is a bit too slow.

Alyssa glanced in the direction of the door, walked to the sofa and sat down, took out her mobile phone and lost a few keywords to search for related news.

But she found that there was nothing.

The entertainment industry in Rostenvel is developing very well. How can there be no news about this kind of thing?

Alyssa was a little bit suspicious.

At this time, there was another knock on the door outside.

"Miss Alyssa, it's me." It was Dave's voice.

Alyssa heard this, got up, walked to the door, and opened the door.

As soon as the door opened, she saw Dave standing blankly at the door, while the two policemen were still standing there waiting for her.

As soon as the police saw Alyssa coming out, they asked, "Can you go now?"

"Where to go?" Dave asked aloud first.

Alyssa said, "Where else can I go."

Dave turned his head and glanced at the two policemen, and said to Alyssa, "I'll go with you."

"Who are you for Ms. Alyssa?" When the police heard this, his attention fell on Dave.

Without answering the police, Dave said: "Let's go together."

Alyssa noticed a subtle change in the complexions of the two policemen.

She and Dave looked at each other, Dave said nothing, motioning for her to leave.

Alyssa walked ahead, and Dave directly followed.

"You haven't answered our question yet!" The police followed, his face not depressed.

“Why should I answer your questions?” Dave sneered, “Because you are fake policemen?”

When the voice fell, Dave stretched out his arm to stop Alyssa. Alyssa stepped back with tacit understanding. He closed his hand, raised his leg, and directly knocked the two fake policemen to the ground.

“You are assaulting the police!” The two fake policemen fell to the ground and did not admit that they were fake.

“Then call the police.” Dave glanced at Alyssa. Alyssa understood, and took out the phone to call the police.

Seeing this, the two fake policemen scolded and got up from the ground and ran off the stairs. They didn’t even bother to wait for the elevator.

Alyssa looked at the direction where the two policemen disappeared, and frowned slightly: “It’s really fake, I just had a little doubt.”

Dave didn’t say much to her on this topic.

He took out his cell phone: “Leave a phone number, you can call me directly if you have something to do.”

Alyssa read her phone number, Dave called her, and she saved Dave’s phone number.

After exchanging phone numbers, Dave had to go back to the room again.

Alyssa thought that the bowl that Dave gave her food was still at her home in the middle of the night, so she stopped Dave.

“Dave, you wait.”

Dave stopped and turned to look at Alyssa.

She returned to the room and took out the tray and the clean bowl.

“Thank you for the porridge.”

Dave took the tray, and Alyssa couldn’t help asking, “You can cook?”

“No, I asked someone to do it.” Dave left after speaking.

Not two steps later, he turned around and asked her: “You haven’t eaten yet.”

“No.” Alyssa shook her head.

Dave didn’t say anything and went straight back.

Alyssa stood there for a moment in a daze.

He is really not short of money as a bodyguard, and he specially invited someone to cook.

How could a person like Dave cook.

After several years, Alyssa felt that she had come to a conclusion too early, and it was normal for people like Dave to cook.

Alyssa returned to the room, and after a while, the door rang again.

You don't need to guess she knows that it is Dave again.

She opened the door, and she saw Dave standing at the door.

He stood at the door holding a breakfast with no expression on his face, his eyes indifferent, as if someone was forced to give her breakfast.

"No use it, I'm not hungry." Alyssa seemed so reluctant to take it.

Dave seemed to pull the corner of his mouth and said, "If you do too much, you can't finish it anyway."

Alyssa had to take it over, she was a little unsure whether she had found a bodyguard or a babysitter.

Alyssa took the breakfast and Dave said, "What about the two fake policemen just now? Who did you offend?"

"Robert, do you know?" Alyssa had nothing to hide from Dave.

"Oh." Dave responded with no expression, and then asked in a flat tone: "How do you want to deal with him? The whole body is still crippled?"

Alyssa shook her hand holding the tray: "Huh?"

"If you think about how to deal with him, tell me, but if it's killing him, you have to talk again. If it's just a broken arm and a leg, you can just say it."

"â€¦" Alyssa didn't know what to say for a while, only felt that the breakfast in her hand was a bit heavy.

After Dave left, Alyssa returned to the room with breakfast, sitting at the dining table still blank.

Dave's tone was too easy and flat just now, which made Alyssa a little bit uncomfortable.

If this was said from someone else, it might not make Alyssa feel that way, but the person who said this was Dave.

Dave is serious.

Alyssa realized once again that Dave was a person with blood on his hands, not an ordinary bodyguard.

She remembered that she deliberately mentioned Claire in front of him last time. Although Dave was angry at the time, he didn't do anything. Now that she thinks of it, she is really lucky.

She dare not imagine that if Dave couldn't control himselfâ€¦

Alyssa shuddered, staring at the breakfast in front of her, and started eating carefully.

Chapter 663

In the next period of time, until Alyssa's neck injury was removed, no one came to trouble her.

In the middle, Clifford called her several times.

But it was just a phone call and never came to find her.

Alyssa didn't go out much, and naturally there was no news of Robert.

When Alyssa went out to remove the stitches, Dave accompanied her.

Regardless of Dave's past, he is a very dedicated and capable bodyguard.

And Alyssa also felt that Dave was a little bit talented to be her bodyguard.

But Dave himself didn't seem to feel that way, nor did he neglect Alyssa's low price.

Such a person will not be too bad if he was just a bodyguard and didn't do other things.

After removing the thread, Alyssa kept for a few more days, approaching New Year's Eve, Mattie called Alyssa again for a draft.

The first draft of "Lost City 2" Alyssa has completely written. Regarding the areas that may need to be revised and cannot be reviewed, she also marked out and wrote the revision plan.

Alyssa took the manuscript and went to Mattie's studio.

When she went, the little girl at the front desk greeted her very warmly as usual.

"Where is your boss? Is she in the office?" Alyssa and Mattie had made an appointment in advance. She would ask like this, just casually.

Unexpectedly, when she said her words, the little girl at the front desk was embarrassed: "The boss is seeing the customer."

It's normal for Mattie to have guests, and Alyssa didn't think too much: "Then I'll wait for her."

Alyssa then took the magazine and sat on the sofa waiting for Mattie.

After a while, the door of Mattie's office opened.

Alyssa raised her head when she heard the door opening, just in time to see the person coming out of Mattie's office.

Miana!

Rostenvel is really too small.

Alyssa squeezed her fingers on the magazine's title page and involuntarily tightened it a bit.

When Miana saw Alyssa, there was just a hint of surprise on her face, as if she didn't know Alyssa.

Then, she turned to look at Mattie behind her: "Miss Adkins, do you have any other guests?"

Miana pretended not to know Alyssa.

Mattie didn't know the relationship between Miana, Karl and Alyssa.

If you want to divide the winners and losers, at present, among these people, the biggest winner is Miana.

Miana did lose face much before, but now that she is finally with Karl, she naturally exhales and wants to find her place.

Mattie knew Miana's thoughts too well, but at the moment she couldn't offend Miana explicitly.

She handed Alyssa a look of "be calm and restless", and immediately said with a smile on her face: "Miss Palmer, let me introduce you. This is Alyssa. She is the screenwriter of "Lost City"."

"Alyssa, come here, Miss Palmer's boyfriend invested in the filming of "Lost City 2"." Mattie smiled stiffly.

Hearing the words, Alyssa stood up abruptly and looked at Mattie.

Mattie sighed, turned her head and avoided her eyes.

Alyssa knew that now is not the time to ask more, Miana is still here, and she has to wait until Miana is gone before she asks Mattie.

Alyssa pursed her lips, and walked towards Miana, in an official tone: "Hello, this is Alyssa."

She did not intend to reach out to shake hands with Miana, she knew that even if she did, Miana would definitely not shake hands with her.

Miana seemed to see her thoughts, a coldness flashed in her eyes, and her face became cold.

She didn't even look at Alyssa, turned her head and said to Mattie: "Miss Adkins, since Karl has taken a fancy to your team, I believe you must be unique."

"Thank you Miss Palmer for common sense." Mattie has become more sophisticated and smooth in recent years. Although Miana's words are uncomfortable, Mattie is still smiling.

"But ah€!" Miana said at this point, and the voice changed: "No matter how smart people are, sometimes they will not be able to see others. If you find someone to cooperate, you have to keep your eyes open, so as not to find some inconsistencies. Peopleah€!"

It was already obvious that this was aimed at Alyssa.

All fools could hear the obvious malice in this statement.

Alyssa didn't speak, but Mattie's complexion became a little ugly.

Mattie did not have a good impression of Miana, and her family was not bad, and she hated Miana's superior tone.

She didn't even bother to pretend to laugh, and took a half step back, with a cold and detached tone: "If there is nothing wrong with Miss Palmer, I will send you out. I have other work to do. I will ask you another day to have a cup of coffee."

Such an obvious order to chase away customers made Miana's face changed.

Mattie just treated her respectfully, what's going on now?

She sneered, but she really couldn't tell that Mattie and Alyssa had a good relationship.

Everyone can pretend, Miana smiled and said, "Then I will leave first, so that Ms. Adkins will talk about work."

As soon as Miana left, Mattie pulled Alyssa into the office inside.

Alyssa sat on the sofa without saying a word, Mattie locked the door, and hurriedly walked to Alyssa, and said nervously, "Alyssa, I can explain this."

"Just two days ago, a kind of subordinate of Karl's came"

Alyssa said at the right time in a cold tone: "Smith, Karl's special assistant Smith."

"Yes, that's the one called Smith. He came to the door and said he wanted to invest in "Lost City 2". Considering your relationship with Karl, I definitely disagreed, but he threatened me. He said if I don't accept Karl's offer. Don't even think about getting other people's investment."

"Then! Just as you saw, Miana ran over. She probably knew you were coming over today!"

Mattie wanted to discuss this matter with Alyssa, but there was something going on these days, Alyssa hadn't come to the office, so she kept delaying.

After Mattie finished speaking, she glanced at Alyssa with some guilty conscience, waiting for Alyssa to speak.

Alyssa was silent for a while before asking Mattie, "Has the contract been signed?"

Mattie quickly said: "Not yet."

Alyssa fluffed the hair scattered over her ears, and said in a serious tone: "Since Karl has to invest, you should sign it. How many crews want Adams' investment, he sent it to the door, why not sign it?"

"But you!" Mattie originally thought that Alyssa would strongly oppose her, but she didn't expect that Alyssa would not only oppose her, but would instead support her.

"Business cooperation pays attention to profit, and it has nothing to do with personal feelings." There is no warmth in Alyssa's tone.

Mattie was also willing to cooperate with Adams' family. After hearing Alyssa's words, she also nodded.

"One more thing, I think Miana must still be looking for trouble."

Alyssa looked indifferent: "Whatever she wants."

Chapter 664

Alyssa knew exactly what Miana was thinking.

Miana made up her mind to have trouble with her, of course she would not shrink back.

Alyssa knew that Miana had been depressed for too long. Now that she has finally turned over, she is naturally desperate to find a place.

“Don’t talk about it, let’s take a look at the manuscript.” Alyssa took out the hard drive she was carrying and handed it to Mattie.

The following episodes of her are all in it.

Speaking of business affairs, Mattie’s complexion also straightened up: “Let me take a look first.”

Mattie took it seriously, and asked a few questions from time to time where she didn’t understand.

“You may be required to follow the crew later, and some points still need to be changed later.”

“Even if you want to start up, at least you have to wait until the end of the year, right?” Alyssa didn’t have any comments on this.

Mattie gave a good price, and Mattie also respected her original scriptwriter.

“Yes, it must be until the end of the year.” Mattie finished speaking, and looked at the time: “It’s getting late, let’s have a meal together.”

Alyssa did not refuse, and nodded.

When the two went out together, Alyssa walked straight to a black car.

Before Alyssa came to Mattie’s studio by car, Mattie was familiar with Alyssa’s car. She glanced at the car and knew it was not Alyssa’s car.

There seems to be someone in the car.

Alyssa walked to the door and knocked on the window.

When the window was lowered, Dave’s face appeared in front of her.

As her bodyguard, Dave conscientiously followed her when going out.

“I want to eat with Mattie.” Alyssa lowered her head slightly and said towards Dave inside.

Dave nodded, unwilling to talk more.

Alyssa felt that Dave was actually a bit weird. When he was with her, he was very careful and cared about her, but he was usually too cold.

So cold, it doesn’t match his concern for her.

It was as if someone was forcing him, forcing him to treat her.

Alyssa was puzzled, and it could be that Dave was already awkward.

Dave did not want to talk more, but Alyssa, as a conscientious employer, still asked, “Are you eating with us or?”

“Don’t worry about me.” Dave replied blankly.

Ok.

Alyssa turned and returned to Mattie's side.

Although Mattie didn't follow her just now, she was not far away from Dave's car. She didn't see Dave's face clearly, only knew that it was a man.

As soon as Alyssa walked over, Mattie smiled ambiguously: "I said, why are you so indifferent? You found a new one."

"What's new and old?" Alyssa didn't react for a while.

Mattie glanced at Dave and leaned in Alyssa's ear and whispered, "New man."

Alyssa was taken aback, and frowned slightly: "He is my bodyguard."

"Huh?" Now it was Mattie's turn to be taken aback.

She just really thought that the man in the car was Alyssa's new boyfriend.

Mattie felt a little embarrassed.

She immediately changed the subject: "Get in the car first or I'll starve to death."

Alyssa went on the pole without continuing the topic.

After she fastened her seat belt, she looked in the rearview mirror and found that Dave was following up in the car.

After the incident last time, Alyssa's car was sent for maintenance, and never got it back. Dave drove his own car.

Dave's car is not expensive, 200,000 price tag, very low-key.

â€¦

Mattie took Alyssa to a newly opened creative restaurant, the taste was very ordinary.

To be straightforward, it is a bit unpalatable.

But Alyssa didn't care about this either, so she immersed herself in eating the dishes.

Dave also followed in, sat down next to them, and ordered a meal.

Alyssa just wanted to go home after dinner.

She didn't go to see Grace because of her injury.

The stitches are better now, and she wants to see Grace.

If possible, she would like to talk to Karl and take Grace to live with her for a while.

As the new year is approaching, she has nothing to do now, and with Dave, an outstanding bodyguard, she doesn't have to worry about safety.

When Alyssa was eating, she didn't pay much attention to Dave on the side, but Mattie frequently looked at Dave.

After a while, Mattie mysteriously moved from the opposite side to Alyssa: "Where did you find your bodyguard? It doesn't look easy."

"Huh? Why?" Alyssa couldn't help but glanced in Dave's direction.

Dave ordered two meals and had eaten cleanly. He was holding his phone and didn't know what he was looking at. He frowned as if he had encountered something upsetting.

Alyssa rarely saw Dave's emotional appearance like this. She secretly guessed that Dave might have something to do with Claire?

"Don't you think that your bodyguard looks a bit like the black boss in the movie? He seems to have a feeling of exhausted sails and hidden edges!"

I have to say that Mattie is still very accurate in seeing people.

"Is there? Why didn't I see it? He just looks a bit fierce." Alyssa was nonchalant, deliberately hiding his identity for Dave.

Fortunately, Mattie just mentioned it casually, a bodyguard is indeed not worth her attention.

After dinner, Alyssa and Mattie separated and went back in Dave's car.

Alyssa was distracted thinking about going to see Grace.

She thought for a while before calling Smith.

Smith answered the phone very quickly.

"Miss Alyssa." Smith changed words this time rather smoothly.

Smith has always been respectful and polite to her, Alyssa warmly said: "Mr. Smith, is Karl in in office?"

Although she and Karl were doing this now, Smith did not offend her, she was naturally polite to Smith.

There was a moment of silence on the other side of Smith: "Sir is in a meeting."

"Oh, after he finished the meeting, tell him, I want to take Grace to live with me for a while. I'm sorry to trouble you."

Alyssa's tone is so polite, Smith is naturally also the tone of business: "I know, I will pass your words to Boss."

After hanging up the phone, Alyssa looked at Dave: "Go to Karl's place, I'll go see Grace."

Dave glanced at her, seeming to have something special.

Alyssa frowned: "What are you doing looking at me like this?"

Dave didn't speak, and drove straight towards Karl's villa.

After arriving at Karl's villa, Alyssa got out of the car and walked inside with Dave.

Karl was having a meeting in the company, and Alyssa felt a little more relaxed when she came to see Grace.

She didn't think about how she would face Karl either.

However, when she walked into the lobby, she saw the man who was supposed to have a meeting in the company, coming down from upstairs.

Chapter 665

What happened?

Didn't Smith mean that Karl was in the company attending a meeting?

Why is Karl at home?

When Karl came downstairs, when he saw Alyssa, a flash of surprise flashed in his eyes.

Alyssa remembered the scene where Karl and Miana were hugging by the roadside on the day she was intercepted by Robert's people.

These days, the scene always reminded her that Karl was no longer the Karl he used to be.

Alyssa clenched her hands, feeling a chill from the top of her head to the soles of her feet.

She tightened her lips, and her voice was slightly chilly: "The Mr. Smith said that you were in a meeting and I came here."

"Really?" Karl had already walked down the stairs and walked towards her.

He stopped three steps away from Alyssa, "Did Smith say that I was in a meeting? Did Smith not understand enough, or did you not ask clearly enough?"

Alyssa felt that she was probably crazy.

Because at this moment, she didn't think how to refute Karl's slightly provocative words. What she thought turned out to be that Karl was thinner than before, and looked a lot less clear.

She and Karl thought about living too long, and they knew each other too well.

Therefore, after a period of time, she could easily find that Karl was thin.

Karl is a very self-controlling person. His weight has been maintained at a constant level and never rises. Except for overwork, he will reduce a little.

After being reduced, Karl looked a little sharper, his eyebrows were sharper, and he felt more aggressive.

Such a Karl was a bit strange to Alyssa.

For a time, there was a feeling of a world away.

"speak."

The man's low voice was close at hand.

Alyssa raised her head fiercely, only to realize that she was just doing a great job, and Karl had already approached her.

He lowered his eyes to look at her, with an imperceptible look in his eyes, and his eyes scanned her brows and eyes, and stayed on her neck for a moment.

Alyssa keenly sensed his gaze, and quickly stretched out her hand to cover the newly healed neck.

The location of her neck injury was actually close to the back of her neck.

This is entirely her subconscious action.

She stood in front of him and Miana with her wounds that day, very embarrassed, and his cold phrase "Irrelevant, don't ask more" every word hit her heart fiercely.

The chill rose from the soles of the feet again.

Alyssa shuddered involuntarily.

Karl, who was standing in front of her, didn't know what was thinking, and suddenly took a step forward.

Alyssa reacted very quickly and took a step back, her eyes full of vigilance.

She didn't know what Karl wanted to do.

She had seen the gentle and affectionate appearance of this man, and she had seen him indifferent and unfeeling.

But now, she can only use her little self-esteem to maintain her decency.

Since it was his decision to let go, then they should be a little bit decent.

"I'll go up to see Grace." After Alyssa finished speaking, she hurried past him, and went upstairs as if she had fled, without looking at Karl again.

Karl stood with his back to the stairs, even if Alyssa looked back, she couldn't see his face.

Where she could not see, Karl's face looked like frost and snow crossing the border, so cold that there was no trace of humanity.

In the empty hall, besides Karl, there was Dave.

Just now, Dave had a panoramic view of what happened between Karl and Alyssa.

Alyssa went up, and he stayed in the hall waiting for her to come down.

Seeing Karl standing still, he walked towards Karl.

Dave put his hands in his pockets, and said thoughtfully: "It is said that women's hearts are needles in the sea. I think men are sometimes difficult to understand, especially for men like you."

Karl lowered his eyes and slowly adjusted his cuffs. When he raised his eyes again, there was no emotion in his eyes.

He only said a word in a hurry, and Dave's complexion suddenly changed.

"Claire's treatment abroad is not going well."

"Karl!" Dave gritted his teeth and called out his name.

Karl curled his lips, looking evil, and there was a vicious atmosphere in his whole body.

"Follow our agreement well, so that Claire's treatment will be smoother." Karl's voice was low and soft, but Dave's ears had a creepy feeling.

Dave clenched his fists, looked at Karl with a green expression, and shouted, "She and you are the siblings of the same mother!"

"So what?" Karl's expression hadn't shown much on his face, and his voice was frighteningly cold: "I was forced to such a situation, and Claire's help was indispensable."

"But she already knew it was wrong."

Karl laughed lowly, the laughter sounded cold: "I forgive her, who will let me go?"

Dave shook his hand heavily, turned around and walked outside angrily.

Then, Karl heard several dull voices.

It was like the sound of a fist hitting a wall.

After Dave walked outside and slammed the hand against the wall, he took a few breaths, turned his head and saw a few bodyguards passing by, calling them out: "Let's learn."

Dave had lived here for a while at Karl, and the bodyguards in the villa knew him.

But they are all a little afraid of Dave.

They don't know Dave's strength, but they also know that Dave is not a small character.

"Go together." Regardless of their disagreement, Dave took off his jacket and nodded his chin at them: "Come on."

Karl in the room heard the screams of bodyguards outside, and did not respond.

He walked over to the sofa and sat down, lit a cigarette, took a puff, caught it between his fingers, and did not move.

â€¦

Alyssa went to Grace's room.

It was found that Grace was sleeping.

Although Karl was thinner, he took care of Grace very well, but she looked a little bit fatter than the last time she saw her.

The complexion is very good, the small face is rosy and fleshy, covered with a duvet, sleeping soundly.

Looking at Grace, Alyssa's depressed mood over the past few days has actually been relieved a lot.

She couldn't bear to wake her up, so she looked at her quietly, feeling very satisfied in her heart.

She looked at Grace like this for a while, got up and went out, closing the door gently.

After such a meeting, she thought that Karl was no longer in the hall.

But when she went down, she found Karl was smoking in the hall.

There were already several cigarette butts in the ashtray in front of him.

When they were together before, Alyssa didn't care about Karl's smoking, and Karl didn't smoke very much back then.

In such matters, he actually has a very careful side.

And now, Alyssa has no position to control him.

Chapter 666

Alyssa stayed there for a while, then raised her foot and walked towards Karl.

Karl leaned on the sofa, looking lazy and indifferent.

Hearing the movement, he raised his eyes and glanced at Alyssa, raised his eyebrows slightly, and motioned for her to say something.

Alyssa glanced at the sofa opposite him, did not sit down, just stood and said to him: "I have something to tell you. I asked Smith to tell you, but if you are here, I will talk to him directly. You said."

Karl didn't know if he was listening to her seriously, and he took another heavy cigarette. His fingers are long and beautiful, and even the action of smoking is especially pleasing to the eye.

He tilted his head slightly and pressed the half cigarette in his hand into the ashtray before he looked at Alyssa casually: "So what?"

"I want to take Grace to live with me for a while." Alyssa spoke directly.

Karl didn't react directly, he stared at Alyssa and didn't move for several seconds.

His silence made Alyssa a little nervous. Is Karl unwilling to let Grace go to her place?

After a long while, Karl sat up straight, and said without beginning or end, "It will be New Year's Eve soon."

There was a complex emotion in his tone that Alyssa couldn't distinguish.

Alyssa suddenly remembered that after they were together, it seemed that they had not spent New Year's Eve together.

On New Year's Eve of the first year, something went wrong at Adams' house.

Don't mention it in the middle three years.

And this yearâ€¦

Alyssa's mind gradually became clear, and she understood the deep meaning of Karl's words: "If you want to spend New Year's Eve with Grace, I can send her back in advance."

Who knows, Karl directly refused as soon as he spoke, "No."

Before Alyssa could react, Karl said, "There is an appointment on New Year's Eve, so I'm not free. You will pick her up tomorrow."

When he finished speaking, he stood up and turned upstairs.

The back is cold, without a trace.

Alyssa bit the corner of her lips, as if blocking her gas in order to regain a city, she immediately hurried out.

As if walking slowly, the wind fell.

Walking out of the hall, Alyssa looked around and saw Dave squatting on the ground holding his coat and smoking a few bodyguards, like a black boss in society.

The bodyguards were more or less hurt on their faces.

He had a fight?

Alyssa walked over without asking much, and said, "Let's go back."

After she finished speaking, she walked out, and Dave quickly followed.

Feeling Dave's footsteps getting closer and closer behind her, Alyssa's steps quickened, and she kept her pace, never turning back: "Did you fight with Karl's bodyguard?"

"Yeah." Dave only responded, as before, still reluctant to say one more word.

Alyssa had long been accustomed to Dave's appearance.

"I don't want to have anything to do with Karl now, and you know that. Although I am your employer, your personal behavior has nothing to do with me."

Dave understood the meaning of Alyssa's words, and he sneered: "He knows that I beat his bodyguard. It was originally my personal matter and has nothing to do with you."

"That's good." Alyssa was very satisfied with Dave's answer.

She really didn't want to get involved with Karl.

But the ridiculous thing was that she couldn't really have nothing to do with Karl at all.

Karl is the father of her daughter and an investor in her new drama.

On the way back, there was abnormal silence in the car.

Alyssa was not happy because she saw Karl. Dave didn't know why, and he didn't seem to be in a good mood.

The two people didn't mean to relate to each other, and remained silent all the way until they reached their destination.

After getting off the bus, the two went upstairs and parted ways.

Alyssa returned home, opened the refrigerator and took a look. There was nothing to eat.

Simply took a box of yogurt and drank it.

While drinking yogurt, she picked up her mobile phone to scan the news. Just when she saw a cold news item, her phone rang.

It was Tina who came here.

Once the phone was connected, Tina said, "I'm downstairs your house."

Alyssa was startled, the hand holding the yogurt box didn't control her strength, one inadvertently squeezed the yogurt out and spilled it on her clothes.

"When did you come back?" Alyssa hurriedly put down the yogurt, turned on the hands-free and called Tina while using a tissue to wipe the yogurt on her clothes.

"You don't care when get back, I'll be up now." Tina was upset, and hung up after speaking.

Alyssa wiped the yogurt, got up and went to the bathroom to wash her hands, and saw the scar on her neck that had not fully recovered in the mirror.

She wore a round-neck pullover today. When she went out, she wore a coat and a scarf. When she returned home, she took off her coat and scarf, and the scar on her neck was exposed.

Alyssa didn't know if Tina had found something in such a rush to find her, but she didn't plan to tell Tina about Robert.

After all, it's all over, it's better to do more than to do less, so as not to worry.

As soon as Alyssa changed into a turtleneck sweater and came out of the bedroom, the door was knocked "bang" from the outside.

She walked quickly to the door and opened the door, and she saw Tina at the door.

Tina obviously just came out of the crew, with a suitcase on hand.

She wore a peaked cap and a down jacket hat on her head. Her hair was messy and she didn't have makeup, but she looked very energetic.

"It took so long to open the door, what are you doing?" Tina complained and walked in directly with the suitcase.

Alyssa smiled, calmly adjusted her sweater turtleneck, and closed the door.

"Why didn't you say a word in advance, you came here suddenly?" Alyssa said as she poured water for Tina.

Tina entered the room, threw the suitcase aside and jumped on the sofa, lying on the sofa waiting for Alyssa to pour her a glass of water.

Alyssa poured water and handed it to Tina.

“Thank you.” Tina took a sip, and put it on the coffee table in front of her.

Alyssa knew she had something to say, so she sat down next to her.

Sure enough, as soon as she sat down, Tina leaned over with a serious face: “I heard that Adams’s is going to invest in “Lost City 2”?”

“Your news network is quite fast.” Alyssa only learned about it today, but Tina also knew about it.

Tina snorted, with a smug look on her face: “Look at me, my network is much stronger than yours.”

Alyssa smiled, and said nothing.

“Are you reconciled with CEO Adams?” Tina asked gossiping again.

“No.” The expression on Alyssa’s face faded a little, and she lowered her eyes, took a deep breath and said, “That’s it, there will be no reconciliation.”

“Huh?” Tina was dumbfounded.

She excitedly stepped off the plane and took a taxi directly, because she knew that Karl was going to invest in “Lost City 2”, she thought that Alyssa and Karl were good.

Chapter 667

Tina immediately chased Alyssa and asked, “What’s the matter? If you didn’t reconcile, what would he invest in your script? He has AdamPic Media, if he is interested in the entertainment industry. , It’s better to invest in prosperity.”

“Maybe it’s boring.” Alyssa couldn’t figure out what Karl was thinking. Although she thought this reason was a bit nonsense, she felt reasonable after thinking about it.

Karl is not someone who spends his energy on meaningless things. Since they are no longer together, he also deliberately invested in the scenes made by her script. Isn’t it boring?

Oh, it may also meet the requirements of Miana.

Isn’t Miana just trying to trouble her and suppress her now?

Adams’s invested in “Lost City 2” and Karl became the supporter of Miana. As Karl’s girlfriend, Miana wants to be aggressive in the crew of “Lost City 2”.

At least, it is possible that Miana is picky about Alyssa and making trouble.

Thinking of this, Alyssa felt simply boring.

Tina twitched the corners of her mouth. After thinking for a while, she said very seriously: “I don’t believe it, the big boss has a relapse of his old illness and amnesia again?”

Her tone was so serious that Alyssa almost believed it.

But the fact is that Karl is very well, there is no problem with his body, he just decided whether to be with her.

“No, quarreled, and then he drove me away!”

Before Alyssa finished speaking, Tina exploded: “What? You said that Karl would drive you away? Who can’t afford a house or something, drive his sister!”

Alyssa waited for Tina to finish her complaints before continuing, “I left at the time, but after thinking about it, I always felt that Karl might not really want to be separated from me. There might be other reasons. After all, He used to be a man who wanted to save my life.”

When she doesn’t think about it, it doesn’t feel like there is anything.

But once she remembered the past, Alyssa found that she and Karl shared too many memories.

Except for the occasional paranoia, Karl was fine.

Tina slapped her thigh, agreeing: “Yes! I don’t believe it either! Does the big boss have any difficulties?”

Alyssa noticed that Tina was talking about “big boss” this time.

Tina’s temperament is so straightforward. When she complained, she called Karl directly. At this moment, she felt that Alyssa’s words made sense, so he changed his name to the big boss.

“I thought about that too.” Alyssa took a deep breath and continued, “So I went to him.”

Then, Alyssa told Tina what happened after they ate in Best Day last time, she went to the box to find Karl by herself.

Tina’s first reaction was to ask Alyssa: “What did Robert do to you, right?”

“No, I didn’t suffer, but Karl didn’t say a word from beginning to end, even if Robert treated me like that, he never stood up.” Alyssa laughed at herself.

Tina moved her lips, but didn’t know what to say.

She thought that although Karl looked fierce, he was not so completely impotent, and he looked very affectionate.

She would never believe that Karl would dump Alyssa just like that.

However, what Alyssa said made her have to believe that Karl was determined not to follow Alyssa.

Karl is a domineering person, and is indifferent to Alyssa in front of Robert. What does this mean?

This shows that he really doesn’t like Alyssa anymore!

She turned her head to look at Alyssa. Although Alyssa’s face was calm, she still saw the loneliness in her eyes.

Karl would stop Alyssa as soon as he was so unfeeling, Alyssa still loved him.

She would come to Alyssa because she really thought that Alyssa and Karl had been reconciled, but she didn't expect that not only did they not reconcile, they were separated completely.

Tina feels a little irritable, Alyssa must be very uncomfortable in her heart these few days, she even came to the door to talk about this.

"Alyssa, I'm sorry, I am not."

Alyssa glared at her pretendingly: "Tina, put away your expression. Isn't it normal for adults to fall in love and break up? I'm fine."

Tina curled her lips: "Just say it well."

They are all grown up, and they are no longer as stubborn as they were when they were teenagers about why they want an accurate answer and explanation.

Even if Tina could clearly see Alyssa's sadness and sorrow, but Alyssa said she was fine, and Tina couldn't explain it.

Even if it is broken, she and Alyssa are friends, very good friends.

But feelings and friendship are not the same. For Alyssa, Karl is her medicine for feelings.

She couldn't help Alyssa.

If so, then help her be happy.

Tina thought for a while, and turned her head to look at Alyssa: "Let's go out and play!"

Alyssa looked back at her: "What are you playing?"

"Go to our previous school and we'll find something."

"Ok?"

Tina smiled mysteriously at her, then took out her cell phone and walked aside to call her agent.

After a while, Tina's agent came with two big bags in his hands.

The agent knew that Tina and Alyssa had a good relationship, so he didn't wait much, threw the things down and left.

Before leaving, she only exhorted Tina: "Don't play too crazy."

Tina made an "OK" gesture and drove the agent away.

When the agent left, Tina opened the two bags.

Alyssa walked over and saw that what was in her bag turned out to be two sets of high school uniforms.

"Surprise, right?" Tina took out her school uniform and asked Alyssa excitedly as she gestured on her.

"Fortunately." To be honest, she didn't feel any surprises.

“You should cosplay with me. The next play I will take is a school play. Let me review the feeling of my student days in advance.”

Tina saw that Alyssa was not very interested, so she stuffed her school uniform on her body: “Hurry up and change it.”

Alyssa couldn't bear to waste a piece of cold pains, and directly put the school uniform jacket on the outside of the sweater.

Tina saw that Alyssa was wearing her school uniform, and she said: “After so many years, I see you wearing this school uniform again, I always feel very lusty and affectionate.”

Alyssa was startled, took the pillow on the side, and smashed it on Tina's body: “You're so charming and passionate! Who are you talking about? You tell me again.”

At Alyssa's age, she has fully grown up. She has black hair and snow skin, fresh eyebrows and beautiful eyes. She really feels like a uniform Play in school uniform.

Tina stood up and ran from end to end of the sofa, yelling as she ran: “Alyssa wears school uniforms- s3xy, love!”

Alyssa jumped on the sofa and chased after her.

Chapter 668

Alyssa and Tina had a fuss for a while, then packed up and prepared to go out.

When the two went out in high school uniforms, the opposite Dave also opened the door.

Dave's gaze swept back and forth over the two of them mechanically.

Then, he took out his cell phone and dialed a call.

Soon, Alyssa's hand bell rang.

Alyssa took out the phone and raised it to face Dave, looking a little embarrassed.

Dave was so surprised that he wondered if she was Alyssa, so he called her.

Alyssa was extremely embarrassed. She had just had a fuss with Tina in the room and ran into Dave as soon as she came out.

Embarrassing enough.

Dave's complexion quickly returned to the original condition, and while putting his phone back, he asked, “Are you going out?”

“Well, going out with friends.” Alyssa nodded and replied.

Tina on the side poked Alyssa's arm, and whispered: “Who is this? He still has to take care of where you go?”

As soon as she finished speaking, Tina heard the opposite Dave say: “Miss Weber, I am Miss Alyssa's bodyguard.”

Tina opened her eyes in surprise when she heard this.

Does this person have a thousand ears? Can he hear such a small voice?

Alyssa patted Tina's hand and said, "We are going out, you don't need to follow us."

Dave nodded and turned to enter the house.

They are well dressed, he still doesn't want to follow them.

After Dave left, Tina pulled Alyssa and asked, "Did something happen to you? Why did you suddenly find a bodyguard?"

"Beware of Robert." Alyssa said with a smile.

"That's right, Robert will retort for sure. It's not a thing, it's better to guard against it."

After all, Alyssa stood in front of her alive, and Tina naturally believed Alyssa's words.

"However, your bodyguard also looks scary, not like a bodyguard at all."

"His identity is a bit complicated, but very powerful."

"Yeah." Tina would also bring bodyguards when she went out.

After all, she is a public figure and has many fans, so she's afraid that there will be some irrational fans!

Alyssa and Tina went to the high school where they used to study.

The winter vacation is now, and there is no one in the school.

Alyssa didn't think it at first, but after coming out, she felt silly wearing school uniform.

Even if they have to pretend to be students, how do they explain to the security that they come to school in school uniforms this time?

After the holiday, which female classmate is not always wearing her own uniform and wants to dress beautifully?

Tina also considered this question, and said with an idea: "Then we'll go over the wall?"

Without giving Alyssa a chance to react, Tina dragged Alyssa to the back of the school.

As she walked, she said, "Didn't there used to be a low wall? We used to climb in from there."

"But it's been so many years, can you still go in?" Alyssa felt that almost nine times out of ten could not get in.

Tina said, "It should be there."

Two walked for a while before they reached the low wall.

At this time, the sky was already dark, and the street behind this low wall was a bit desolate, with few pedestrians and dim street lights.

The two stood outside the low wall, smiled at each other, and then reached out their hands to climb the wall in a tacit understanding, and turned inside.

This high school is not a key school, and its construction is very general, so there are old buildings that are vacant.

Even after so many years, Tina could still find the direction accurately.

Tina took her to the old building.

“It was in this building that year. You saved me. See if you can find the broken classroom back then.”

Tina was talking about the first time they met.

In fact, it's not the first time they have met.

Tina was a celebrity in school at the time, the kind of girl who would shine in the crowd. Beautiful and lively, very likable, even if you do something illegal, as long as it doesn't cause bad effects, the teacher will always open one eye.

Whether it is a boy or a girl, many people liked her.

Alyssa knew her before that, but their first official contact was in the building.

After growing up, the memories of youth are always involuntarily cherished and moved.

Alyssa thought for a while, and said unsurely: “I remember it was the first classroom on the second floor?”

“Is it the second floor? How do I think it is the first floor?”

“It's the second floor, right?”

“First floor!”

The two argued for a while, and finally when they went up the stairs on the second floor, Tina suddenly said, “It is indeed the second floor. At that time, you scared those people away, so you carried me downstairs. I remember very much. clearly.”

“I said it was the second floor.” Alyssa walked in front and pushed open the door of the first classroom on the second floor.

The smell of dust rushed in, and a dim light poured in from the window, and the outline of the room could be seen roughly.

There are a few old desks in the classroom, as well as some papers and books.

Tina walked to a desk and said to Alyssa, “They just pressed me here and beat me back then!”

She is angry now when she speaks: “My mother has never beaten me like that. I have always beaten others. Several high school children dare to beat me.”

"I haven't asked, how did you transfer them?" Alyssa was a little curious. Afterwards, she only knew that the female classmates who bullied Tina had been transferred to another school. At that time, she and Tina were not particularly acquainted, so Never asked what else happened.

Tina said in a sentence: "I was timid, I was scared."

"Don't talk about it." Tina walked over, put a hand on Alyssa's shoulder, and exclaimed: "I can still think of your cool look. I wanted to worship you at that time."

Alyssa teased her: "If you are not as cool as you, you are fighting and drinking outside. The teacher still thinks you are a good student, and your classmates like you."

Tina screamed: "I was an adult, okay? I drunk legally. As for fighting, it's not like that, they provoke me."

Indeed, Tina would fight back then. In addition to the girls who were jealous of her asking for troubles, there were also a lot of boys who didn't want to treat her wrongly.

The two talked a lot more before they knew it.

After chatting started, they went to the classroom again.

When they looked at the classroom, they were spotted by the guards on patrol.

"Who is there?"

The bright flashlight shone, Alyssa and Tina ran out together.

The guard also ran behind them.

When the two passed the Fame Wall, Alyssa pointed to the photo above: "Tina, there is also your photo!"

"Run! If you are caught by the guard, I won't be able to hang my photos on it."

"puffâ€¦!"

Alyssa couldn't help but laughed out loud.

The two covered their faces all the way and ran out of the school gate.

Chapter 669

The two of them ran far away to the snack street behind the school before stopping.

There is a public restroom on the side of the snack street. Alyssa and Tina went there and took off their school uniforms. They were wearing down jackets.

Dress the school well, and the two talents came out of it.

When Tina came out of the public restroom, she took a look around the wall, and then walked outside with confidence.

"Good risk, almost caught."

Although Tina said so, Alyssa couldn't feel the thrill in her tone at all.

“Getting caught is a trivial matter.” Alyssa walked slowly beside Tina, and said coolly: “If the reporter photographed, tomorrow’s headlines will be available again, the trending searches must be all you, is the actor Tina actually a transvestite “The woman who sneaked into the campus late at night’”

Tina twitched the corners of her mouth: “Don’t tell me, why you’re so perverted?”

“The media doesn’t care if you are perverted or not, anyway, they just need to be hot and clicked.”

“Isn’t this not being photographed? Hey, I’m so hungry, let’s find something to eat.”

“Next time”

“It’s alright, I know.”

Tina was too lazy to listen to Alyssa’s lesson, and ran forward while pulling her.

Because of the winter vacation, it has been closed again in recent years. Many shops on the snack street have been closed, only a few are still open.

The two randomly found a store to go in and order something to eat.

The school has not changed much, but the snack street has changed a lot.

When they were in school here, they had eaten at the snack street all over.

The boss is a middle-aged man, who looks like a taciturn man.

The boss came over with the menu and asked: “What to eat, take a look.”

Just after Alyssa took the menu, the boss suddenly lowered his head, leaned slightly and said in a low voice, “Are you two?”

When Tina heard what he said, her eyes suddenly became full of vigilance.

The boss didn’t care, and continued to whisper: “Just now you have been followed by a car. I thought it was with you. If it’s not someone you know, please call a friend to pick you up or call the police directly.”

“What? You said” Tina was sitting with her back to the door, and suddenly felt a bit chilly on his back. Realizing that the voice was too loud, she quickly covered her mouth and stopped talking.

Alyssa was sitting right in front of the door, glanced outside the door, pointed to a dish name and said to the boss: “We know, thank you boss.”

After ordering the food, Alyssa called Dave.

Dave didn’t know what he was doing, and took a while to answer the phone.

“Dave, I’m in a situation outside. It seems that someone is following us. Can you come over now?”

Dave asked concisely: “Address.”

Alyssa told Dave the address.

Tina heard Alyssa’s words clearly, and when Alyssa hung up, she frowned and asked, “You call your bodyguard? Or should you call the police directly?”

In Tina's view, the bodyguard can only block one block at most. It is best to call the police for this kind of thing.

Alyssa shook her head: "We just came out from school to the snack street. The distance is not short. If the people following us are trying to get rid of the law, they have many opportunities to start. But we are not sure what they want to do."

"It's okay, how many people can be in the car, the big deal is for this lady to train her muscles and bones." Tina said, trying to roll up her sleeves.

But the clothes were too thick, she didn't get it after a few strokes!

Alyssa smiled, pretending not to have seen it, got up and went to the bathroom behind the snack bar.

There is a small window in the bathroom, just to see the street outside.

Alyssa didn't turn on the light when she entered, and she stood by the window and looked out.

Sure enough, she saw a black car parked not far away.

It happened that the car parked in a dark place. There is a shop in front of the car, and the lights in the shop shined through, but the people in the car were still invisible.

The people in the car have been quiet, Alyssa has been standing in the bathroom.

She checked the time, and the people in the car had been sitting there for ten minutes.

She thought it was impossible for Robert's people. Robert's people were rash men. If they wanted to deal with her, they would have had a chance before.

Alyssa guessed that the people in the car might not want to treat her and Tina.

She came out of the bathroom and went to the kitchen.

"Boss, can you open the back door behind you?" When she just came over, she found a back door in the shop, but it was locked.

The boss looked up and asked her: "What are you going to do?"

Alyssa smiled and said very gently: "My friends are coming over soon. I want them to come directly to the back door and go with them to see who is following us."

"All right." The boss didn't doubt her and opened the door for Alyssa.

She went out from the back door and made a long circle before reaching the street at the front door of the shop.

There were three or four cars parked on the side of the street, and Alyssa had already determined the location of the car following her and Tina, and walked directly towards it.

As Alyssa walked, she clenched the brick in her hand.

When she just came out from the back door of the snack bar, she picked up a brick to protect herself.

When she was only two meters away from the car, Alyssa speeded up and quickly ran over and opened the door of the cab.

There was no light in the car, only the faint silhouette of a person could be seen.

Even if it was just a silhouette, Alyssa recognized who the person in the car was.

The people in the car didn't seem to expect her to appear suddenly, and there was no response for a while.

After a long while, Alyssa murmured, "Karl?"

How could he appear here?

She thought about countless possibilities, but she did not expect that the person in the car would be Karl!

At this moment, Karl pushed the door of the car and walked directly out.

When he was in the car, Alyssa didn't feel anything, just surprised.

However, when Karl got out of the car, his height advantage and strong aura showed his familiar agility again.

He looked at Alyssa blankly, with a cold tone: "Passing by, can't I?"

"You lie." Alyssa subconsciously clenched the brick in her hand: "The owner of the snack bar said, you have been following us."

"This street is yours, only you can walk?" Karl put his hands in the pockets of his suit pants, with a hint of sarcasm in his tone.

"It's up to you!" Alyssa directly threw the brick in her hand to the ground, turned and walked towards the snack bar.

If it was in a commercial street, it would be no surprise to meet Karl at the party, but it would be strange if Karl would pass by such a place, Alyssa would believe him.

Who knows what he did in such a place at night!

Alyssa couldn't tell him, and simply ignored him.

Chapter 670

Alyssa took a few steps forward, and felt something was wrong.

There was movement behind her.

When she turned her head, she saw Karl also followed.

She stood there, waiting for Karl to come closer, then said, "You are not going to tell me, are you going to eat in the store?"

Alyssa pointed to the snack bar she had just entered with Tina.

Karl still looked lukewarm, he went directly over Alyssa and walked into the snack bar.

Looking at Karl's back, Alyssa froze in a daze.

Karl actually wants to go in?

If it hadn't been for the previous events, Alyssa would doubt if Karl did it on purpose.

After all, Karl had done such things before.

Tina didn't know that Alyssa had gone out from the back bathroom. Seeing that Alyssa hadn't come back, she was about to call her.

At this moment, she heard someone push the door behind her.

In winter, it is cold outside and the doors of the snack bar are closed.

Tina turned her head curiously, and when she saw that the person coming in was Karl, her eyes widened suddenly: "Big boss?"

Karl glanced at her, and said, "Eating?"

"Ah." Tina responded blankly. Seeing Karl frowning, she quickly added: "Eat."

At this time, Alyssa also walked in.

Tina saw Alyssa coming in from the outside, and she was dumbfounded.

"Alyssa, you're not!" Tina pointed to Alyssa, and then to the bathroom, not knowing how to speak for a while.

Alyssa went straight to the opposite of Tina and sat down, ignoring Karl, and asked Tina, "Have they not served food yet? Very hungry."

The boss just came out with the dishes.

"Come on."

"Thank you boss." After Alyssa said, she bowed her head and started eating.

"Hey, you're welcome." The boss looked up and saw Karl.

What day is this today? First came two women who looked like a rich, and then came another man who seemed to be a big boss!

His small shop is usually crowded by a group of students with little money. Otherwise, it is the nearby residents, who rarely see such beautiful and distinguished rich people.

Alyssa ignored Karl, and it was naturally impossible for Karl to speak actively.

He directly sat down at the table beside Alyssa and Tina.

The boss walked over and asked cautiously: "What does this gentleman want to eat?"

This man looks very young, but his momentum is compelling, and the boss is a bit annoyed.

Karl flipped through the menu and ordered two dishes.

After he ordered the food, the boss quickly went back to the kitchen to cook.

In the front hall, only they were left.

Tina glanced at Karl, and then at Alyssa.

Karl sat upright on the chair, looking forward blankly. He's probably not used to this kind of shop, so his sitting posture is a bit rigid.

And Alyssa, like a okay person, lowered her head to eat her own meal, as if she hadn't seen Karl at all.

When these two people didn't exist, Tina couldn't treat Karl as nonexistent.

Because Karl's aura is too strong, she feels uncomfortable now and feels uncomfortable at all.

She reached out and pushed Alyssa's arm in a small arc, and Alyssa looked up at her.

Tina suppressed her voice as low as a mosquito: "What's the matter? How did you come in from outside?"

"Eat first, then turn around." Alyssa only raised her eyelids, then lowered her eyes to eat.

But Tina couldn't eat anymore.

She admired Alyssa a little. After all, she had lived with a big demon like Karl for a long time, and she was used to big scenes, but she was not afraid of Karl at all.

But the fact is that Alyssa's heart is not as relaxed as it appears.

She had clearly warned herself not to think about anything messy.

But her heart didn't listen to her very much, and she had already thought about some very unrealistic things on her own.

For example, Karl might be following her when she appeared here.

For another example, Karl would follow her because

Can't think about it anymore.

Alyssa's complexion darkened slightly, she felt that she couldn't eat this meal.

She wants to put down her chopsticks and leave immediately, but this behavior is too obvious.

Why did she hide from Karl?

Although the two who broke up have no relationship, there is still Grace.

Now her situation is not very stable, so she can't claim Grace's custody right now, but soon, she will talk to Karl about Grace's custody right.

She couldn't make it as if Karl did not exist, nor could she really get stiff with Karl.

Alyssa thought for a while, then continued to eat.

Halfway through the meal, Dave came over.

Alyssa almost forgot that she had called Dave.

When she saw Dave, she pointed to the place next to her: "Have you eaten?"

Dave first glanced at Karl, a flash of surprise flashed across his face, and then sat down beside Alyssa.

He scanned the food on the table, his tone was cold: "I have had meal."

"Have you eaten enough? Since he's here, let's go back first." Tina couldn't stand the depressed atmosphere here, and wanted to leave.

Alyssa saw the cool thoughts, and stopped staying: "Okay, let's go."

Alyssa went to the boss to settle the bill, and when she left, she couldn't help but glanced at Karl.

There were two dishes in front of Karl, and he didn't eat either. She didn't know what he was doing with his mobile phone.

When Alyssa passed by him, she took a look and found that it was the WeChat interface.

At this moment, Karl clicked on a voice, and the woman's squeamish voice came from the phone: "Karl, will you watch a movie together tomorrow?"

Then, Karl held down the voice button and replied: "Okay."

Alyssa had already reached the door at this time, Dave walked ahead and opened the door. The cold wind blew in, and it was bitterly cold and painful.

Alyssa's footsteps paused slightly, her lips curled, her expression terrifyingly cold.

Tina had never seen Alyssa's expression. She had heard Karl's WeChat voice just now, and she pulled her arm with some worry.

Alyssa turned to Tina and smiled soothingly, indicating that she is okay.

After leaving the store, Tina asked, "Alyssa, are you really okay?"

"Okay." Alyssa smiled, without seeing a trace of abnormality: "It's normal to fall in love and break up. Who has never been broken in love? Besides, it is impossible for a person to live a lifetime of love. I still have Grace, you and work, I am not as sad as you think."

Yes, thinking about it this way, she wouldn't be so sad.

Looking back on this little half of her life, Alyssa felt that the suffering of love was nothing at all.
