

Predestined 691

Chapter 691

As soon as the waiter left, Alyssa did not speak, and Rachel sat down opposite Alyssa.

Rachel stared at Grace closely, her eyes lighted, and the expression on her face was surprised and happy: "What's your name?"

Grace's eyes were full of curiosity, and her gaze kept falling on Rachel, and she said generously, "Grace."

"Grace?" Rachel said to himself, not knowing which two words Grace was talking about.

However, Rachel didn't want to know which two words it was. She smiled and tried to make herself more approachable: "You look like father, so cute."

Alyssa looked at Rachel coldly, and her dislike for her reached its peak.

Rachel is not going to leave. If she wants to drive Rachel away, she will only have to say bad words to Rachel.

She didn't want to show that ugly look in front of Grace again, and she didn't need to be like Rachel.

"Thank you." Grace obediently thanked her, she would be quieter in front of strangers.

Alyssa didn't speak, so Grace turned to look at her curiously, seeming to be a little confused why Alyssa didn't talk to Rachel.

Alyssa smiled comfortingly at her, and said, "Let's eat first."

Afterwards, she looked up at Rachel: "How to make a call to you, I don't have your phone number yet."

Rachel was stunned for a moment, and asked in disbelief, "Do you want my phone number?"

"Yes, yours." Even though Alyssa didn't have any expression when she spoke and couldn't see any happiness, Rachel was still extremely happy.

Alyssa wanted her phone number because Grace just called her grandmother, so Alyssa finally figured out that she wanted to reassure her?

"Okay, tell me your number, let me call you!" Rachel's hand holding the phone trembled with excitement-shaking slightly.

Alyssa glanced at the phone she put aside, and said quietly, "Don't you know my number?"

She was also a little curious, how did Rachel know her number.

Rachel heard her say this and patted her head gently: "Eh, yes! I have your number, I'm really confused."

Alyssa just sneered without saying anything.

Rachel quickly found Alyssa's number, called her, and Alyssa saved the number.

Under Rachel's nose, Alyssa picked up the phone, found Rachel's phone number, edited a text message and sent it.

Rachel was stunned for a moment when she saw the new text message reminder on her mobile phone. Alyssa was right across from her. What did she text her?

She looked at Alyssa in surprise: "What are you sending me?"

Alyssa only clicked her chin and said, "You can see if you look at it yourself."

Rachel took a deep look at Alyssa before opening the text message that Alyssa had sent her.

"If you want to know about Isabel's news, from now on until you leave, don't say a word, and you can't say anything about Grace. Otherwise, just wait for Isabel's body to be collected."

Rachel saw the content of this short message clearly, and her expression turned pale: "You know?"

Seeing Alyssa's warning eyes, Rachel quickly closed her mouth, and did not continue to say the rest.

Rachel lowered her head and replied a text message to Alyssa: "You have news about Isabel?"

Alyssa smiled when she saw these words.

It's just that the smile doesn't reach the bottom of her eyes, anyway, there is a bitter feeling.

Rachel didn't know why Alyssa laughed like this, and couldn't wait to send another: "Did you have news from her?"

Alyssa put down the phone and turned to look at Grace.

She put two chicken wings for Grace just now, and Grace was eating so much oil right now.

Feeling Alyssa looking at her, she picked up the chicken wings that she had just picked up in her hand before she had a bite of the chicken wings and handed it to Alyssa: "Mom."

Alyssa said softly: "I don't like to eat this, you can eat it yourself."

Grace likes to eat chicken wings the most, and when he hears Alyssa is not eating them, she stuffs her mouth and started chewing.

The opposite Rachel was even more anxious when she saw that Alyssa would not reply to her text messages, but instead watched Grace eat something. She wanted to talk and was afraid that Alyssa would really be bad for Isabel, so she could only continue to send Alyssa some texts.

Alyssa allowed her phone to vibrate and didn't want to look at it again.

Still Grace reminded her: "Mom your phone."

Alyssa picked it up and glanced at it, mute it, and said to Grace with a natural expression: "It's a wrong number."

Grace nodded and continued to chew the chicken wings.

Only then did Alyssa turn her head to look at Rachel, a cold light flashed under her eyes, and Rachel shuddered.

She deliberately sent a text message to Rachel to threaten Rachel with Isabel's news, but she didn't expect that she was actually drawn away from her attention like this, and she didn't pay attention to Grace anymore.

Although Alyssa had long known what kind of person Rachel was, when she saw Rachel speaking softly to Grace, she still had a slight expectation of Rachel.

She hoped that Rachel will change, and that even if Rachel doesn't like her, she will have a slight concern for Grace.

But it turns out that Alyssa still thinks too much.

Rachel didn't like Alyssa before, but now she still doesn't like Grace.

This has been the case for more than 20 years, and probably Rachel will never change in this life.

Alyssa was moved like this only because Grace called "grandma".

Therefore, she deliberately sent such text messages to Rachel to try her.

Rachel didn't disappoint Alyssa either, she was still the wife of Isabel's father who loved Isabel, and Rachel who closely followed all the movements of her stepdaughter.

But she will never become Alyssa's true mother.

After that, Alyssa no longer paid attention to Rachel. Although Rachel urgently wanted to know the whereabouts of Isabel, Alyssa's words still had a deterrent effect to a certain extent.

She was really afraid of Isabel's accident, so she didn't dare to act rashly. She just held back Alyssa and Grace after eating, without saying a word.

When Alyssa took Grace to pay the bill, she happened to meet Peter again.

Peter came up to tease Grace: "Will uncle take you to play? Uncle has a lot of good things!"

Alyssa glanced at Rachel not far away, and knew that Rachel would not give up, so she let Peter take Grace to play.

Unexpectedly, Peter took Grace away with her forefoot. As soon as Alyssa collected the receipt, Rachel followed.

"Alyssa, tell me, how is Isabel, where is she?" Rachel's eyes pleaded: "Isabel did a lot of bad things, but after all, she was the one who brought her up, just It was just the wrong way for a while."

Chapter 692

Hearing this, Alyssa laughed sarcastically: "You also know that Isabel has gone the wrong way and has not done good deeds?"

Although Isabel was not born to Rachel, she was the one who brought her up. She still loves Isabel even now, and naturally she doesn't want to hear Alyssa say Isabel in such a tone.

She subconsciously opened her mouth to defend Isabel: "You know, Isabel was spoiled and grown-up like that since she was a child. She later encountered so many setbacks, and since her boyfriend passed away, her mental state has become worse. It's getting worse, she really just..."

Alyssa listened to Rachel defending Isabel one by one, only to feel disgusting.

She trembled and trembled with anger, and yelled at Rachel: "Enough!"

"Setbacks? Do you think those things she encountered were setbacks?" Alyssa spoke as she approached Rachel.

Seeing Alyssa's face cold, Rachel stepped back subconsciously: "Isabel she..."

The place where the two talked was a corner, Rachel stepped back not much, and then hit the wall, and there was no way to go back.

Alyssa took Grace out without wearing high heels, but she was still one or two centimeters taller than Rachel who was wearing high heels.

As a result, Alyssa's momentum was even more so that Rachel did not dare to speak.

"Isabel has always been self-inflicted." Alyssa opened her lips slightly, her tone softly: "And the biggest frustration of my life is becoming your daughter."

Rachel shook all over, suddenly raised her head to look at Alyssa, the corners of her lips twitched twice, but she didn't speak.

"From childhood to age, Isabel has done everything right, and what she did wrong is also right. And I do it right or wrong when done it is always wrong!" Alyssa took a deep breath and calmed down. Feeling emotional, stepped back, smiled and said, "Speaking of which, I also want to thank Isabel."

Rachel was a little dazed by Alyssa's series of words. Hearing Alyssa said to thank Isabel, she reflexively said: "Since you thank her, let her go!"

Alyssa folded her arms and said in a hurry, "I am grateful to her for the crime for me, and your love ruined her life. And if you don't like her but me, then I may also end up just like her, didn't it?"

"Alyssa, you... you..." Rachel has been living by a man all her life. She spent half of her life trying to please Isabel. At this moment, Alyssa pointedly said that she had ruined Isabel. All her life, she was so angry that she couldn't speak.

Alyssa felt that Rachel, this woman, was really annoying and hateful.

Even if Rachel is not her mother, but a passerby, Alyssa still feels annoying and hateful.

Obviously she has outstanding beauty and good hands. She can rely on her own ability to support herself in any way, but she has to live by a man until she finally loses herself. She can't even tell what is right or wrong.

"As for the whereabouts of Isabel... you go ask..." Alyssa originally wanted to tell her to find Karl, but when she got her words, she turned a corner and became: "Go find A person named Clifford, he knows where Isabel is."

Rachel's eyes flashed upon hearing this, "Clifford?"

Alyssa felt that Rachel was really helpless.

"Yes, his name is Clifford Dixon. He and Isabel have come over, so you are right to find him." Clifford has indeed used Isabel to find her, which is correct.

Let them bite the dog.

â€¦

Peter took Grace away from Alyssa, and led her around with excitement.

During the Festival time, many people came to Best Day for parties and dinners. Peter is the boss of AdamPic Media and Best Day, and many people know him inside and outside the circle.

He took Grace all the way, and people kept greeting him.

When those people saw Grace, they asked curiously, "Who is this little girl? Is she your daughter?"

Peter asked half-jokingly and half-seriously: "Why? Doesn't she look like?"

The person who asked this originally didn't believe that this was Peter's daughter, but Peter's attitude made him suspect that this was really Peter's daughter.

If this is really Peter's daughter, if he says that it is not like this, wouldn't it make Peter faceless?

Then, the man nodded repeatedly, saying that he had a nose and eyes: "It's more than just a look! It's so alike! This eye and nose are simply carved out in the same mold as Mr. Grant."

Peter didn't intend to explain anything to them either. They were all superficial friendships, so Peter just said a few words and conflated.

Some people saw Grace cute and wanted to touch her and hug her, but Peter was unsure and said scornfully, "What are you doing? Taking advantage of my daughter!"

"Just a child, so cute I want to hug herâ€¦"

"You want to hug my daughter and have one by yourself!" Peter smiled when he spoke, but it didn't make those people feel that it was a shame.

After shaking around, many people knew that Peter had a daughter.

One pass ten, ten pass a hundred, pass it with nose and eyes.

When Alyssa went to find Peter, she saw Best Day's employees on the side quietly getting together and saying that Peter had a daughter.

"Does Mr. Grant's daughter look good?"

"How ugly, but pretty."

"Who is the child's mother? Mr. Grant hasn't had any scandal girlfriends in recent years."

"Could it be that CEO Grant confessed to the wrong child and became the catcher?"

“Impossible, I saw the child with my own eyes, and she looks like CEO Grant!”

As Alyssa walked, listening to their conversation, she was shocked.

Does Peter actually have a daughter? He actually hooked up with other women with Tina behind?

Tina’s career in the past few years has been in full swing, not to mention having children with Mr. Grant, and he has never even talked about love. If Peter really had a daughter, she was definitely not born with Tina.

Alyssa was puzzled, and walked over as Peter told her.

When she passed by, Peter and Grace stood on the glass wall on the edge of the corridor of the spiral staircase and looked outside.

Peter bluffed and said, “Look, Grace, there is a plane there!”

Grace raised her head and looked at it seriously: “Yeah!”

Peter said again: “The people below are so small!”

Grace said with a surprised look: “As small as an ant.”

The dialogue between the two sounds particularly naive.

Alyssa always felt that Peter was unreliable sometimes, but she now understands that everyone’s personality is different, and the way of life and the way of handling things are also different.

She thought that if Peter has a daughter in the future, he would definitely spoil her.

Chapter 693

Early the next morning, Alyssa was awakened by the ringing of her mobile phone.

She stretched out her hand from the quilt, brought the phone to her, and saw that the name on it was Tina, which refreshed her spirit and sat up to get the call.

“Tina? What’s the matter?” When Tina was on the crew, she would only call her at night, and she would sleep in at ordinary times. There must be something wrong with the call so early.

“Do you know about Peter?”

The cold voice sounded a little hoarse, don’t know if I didn’t sleep well or I had a cold.

“What’s wrong with Peter?” When she took Grace to Best Day for dinner yesterday, Peter was fine, but what could happen in one night?

“Wait a minute.” There was a rustling voice on Tina’s end.

Not long after, a new WeChat message reminded Alyssa’s mobile phone.

Alyssa didn’t hang up, and opened WeChat to read the news.

The new message was sent to her by Tina.

Tina sent her several trending search screenshots and news screenshots.

“According to informed sources-Peter, CEO of AdamPic Media, has an illegitimate daughter!”

b@stard daughter? ? ?

Alyssa looked blank, where did Peter’s illegitimate daughter come from?

Reminiscing about Tina’s tone just now, Alyssa coughed and asked, “Tina, do you believe these messy media reports?”

“It’s clearly written above, it was Peter who took his daughter to sway openly in Best Day, and his daughter is several years old! Now the whole Rostenvel, who does not know that he has a three or four-year-old daughter!”

Tina got more and more angry as she spoke, kicking on the chair in front of her.

Alyssa felt that this matter was strange. She just glanced at the headline and general content of the news, and did not carefully see what was going on.

Alyssa went back to read the news carefully and found that the news read “Yesterday, according to an insider’s report” Alyssa vaguely understood something.

Alyssa thought for a while, and said, “Yesterday, I took Grace to Best Day for dinner. Peter was there at the time. He took Grace to play for a while, and many people saw it.”

“No wonder he likes Grace so much, because he also has a daughter, heh!” Tina sneered, making Alyssa feel her resentment across the screen.

Alyssa sighed: “Tina, why are you stupid at this time? It is written in the news that someone broke the news yesterday that Peter stayed in Best Day yesterday. Could it be those people who thought Grace was his daughter?”

Alyssa’s voice fell, and the phone went quiet.

After a while, Tina said leisurely, “Is that right?”

Alyssa said earnestly, “How about it? You never think that Peter really has a daughter with another woman! You don’t know who Peter is.”

Tina’s mood changed obviously. She was relieved by Alyssa’s words, but she refused to give in at all: “Who knows what kind of person Peter is? Who knows who he and I have a daughter? what relationship.”

“don’t know whose voice just sounded almost crying.”

“Anyway, it’s not me, I still have something to do, hang up first.”

As soon as Tina finished speaking, she hung up the phone in a hurry.

Alyssa sighed while looking at the cell phone that was seen hanging up.

See how long these two people can torture each other.

Waking up early in the morning by a cold phone call, Alyssa had completely lost her sleepiness now, so she just woke up.

The first thing after Alyssa wakes up and does is to see Grace.

The weather in winter is very cold. Although the heating is on in the room, Alyssa is still a little afraid that Grace will catch a cold, but Grace insists on sleeping by herself, and she can't help it.

Alyssa gently pushed open the door of Grace's room, walked gently to the bed, and saw that Grace had been awake long ago, and she was looking at her brightly with her big eyes open.

Obviously, she woke up for a while.

Alyssa was a little surprised: "Grace woke up so early?"

"Yeah." Grace turned over and sat up.

Alyssa helped her get dressed, and asked her as she put it on, "Grace would like to have breakfast later."

Grace rubbed her eyes, and said glutinously, "Eating."

"If you want to have porridge, mom will cook it for you," Grace said that rice was porridge.

She dressed Grace, went to boil the porridge in the pot, and then returned to take Grace to wash up.

When the breakfast was ready, the doorbell rang when the two sat down to eat together.

Alyssa has been somewhat sensitive to the doorbell recently.

She put down the spoon and did not get up immediately, but asked Grace who was opposite: "Grace, who do you think is outside?"

Grace first scooped a large spoonful of porridge and ate it, then turned her head and glanced in the direction of the door, and said seriously, "It's Dad."

Karl?

Listening to Grace's words, Alyssa's heart jumped fiercely, violently gaining and losing.

"Not always."

Grace raised her chin, obviously quite sure that Karl was outside the door: "Open the door and you'll know."

Alyssa originally asked casually, but Grace was so sure that even she felt that the person outside the door waiting to open the door was Karl.

Alyssa got up and walked to the door, without looking out from the cat's eye to see who was outside, she opened the door directly.

As soon as the door opened, Alyssa was startled.

After a snowfall at the beginning of the New Year, the temperature has been very low these days. Karl, who is not afraid of the cold, also wears a long woolen coat over his suit and a dark gray scarf around his neck. This makes him look more slender and also adds a touch of gentleness.

He looked down at Alyssa with a cold expression: "I'll pick Grace."

Alyssa regained consciousness, hesitated for a moment before retreating to the side and let Karl in.

When Grace was going to open the door, Grace craned her neck to look here.

When she saw Karl coming over, she smiled and said, "I knew it was Dad."

Alyssa pretended to give her an angry look, and Grace smiled sweeter.

After Karl approached, she took off the scarf and put it on the back of the sofa before walking to the dining table and sitting down.

Karl sat next to Grace, leaning slightly towards Grace, "What to eat?"

"Porridge" Grace took a spoon of porridge and handed it to Karl: "Are you eating?"

When Karl was about to open his mouth to eat, Grace retracted the spoon all at once, laughing crisply: "Dad can't eat mine, mine is too little, you go eat mom's."

Alyssa originally watched Karl eat at Grace's place, and was about to laugh. When she heard Grace's words, she couldn't laugh anymore.

She lowered her head, picked up the bowl in twos and then drank the porridge in the bowl.

Then her face looked at Karl as usual: "I'm going, you have to eat it yourself and serve it."

She didn't want to feed Karl porridge with a spoon.

Chapter 694

Karl glanced at Alyssa, his face even colder than when he entered the door just now: "I have eaten."

Alyssa frowned slightly, when did she provoke him again? What's he doing?

Alyssa snorted and took her bowl to the kitchen.

Grace always loves to eat, and she is very serious when she eats. Even if Karl is watching by the side, she is not disturbed and still eats obediently.

Karl sat by and watched Grace eat.

With his elbows on the dining table, he leaned on his side and propped his head, looking like he was very focused.

Grace finished eating soon. She jumped off the chair, took her bowl and ran to the kitchen: "Mom, I'm finished."

Alyssa took the bowl, and Grace ran back again and returned to the restaurant, talking to Karl.

Alyssa looked at it for a moment, then retracted her gaze.

She has to get used to such things, and she has to face such things.

Regarding Grace's custody rights, it is time to talk to Karl.

If Karl would really marry Miana, then Miana would definitely not treat Grace well.

Therefore, this matter is already imminent.

Alyssa couldn't figure it out. After washing a bowl for a long time, the tap was still flushing.

"A bowl has been washed for almost ten minutes. How did your efficiency in doing things make the "Lost City 2" script out before the New Year?"

Karl's slightly mocking voice sounded behind her.

After separation, Alyssa couldn't hear Karl talking like this.

She turned her head and looked at Karl with an expressionless face. After thinking that Adams' was now the financier of "Lost City 2" crew, she suppressed the words that came to her lips.

"Thank you, Mr. Adams, for recognizing my work ability. As for the efficiency of life, you don't have to worry about it. We won't live together anyway."

After Alyssa said with a smile, Karl's complexion became even more ugly.

Alyssa sighed softly, planning to walk past Karl.

However, when she was about to walk past Karl, Karl suddenly reached out and grabbed her wrist.

Alyssa frowned, trying to shake Karl's hand away, but after struggling twice, she realized that she couldn't get rid of it.

"What do you want? Let go!" Alyssa was worried that Grace was still outside, and when she spoke, she tried her best to keep her voice down.

But not only did Karl not let go of her, but she had to pull her tightly, and then she hugged her into his arms.

Alyssa was shocked and called his name warningly: "Karl!"

She was locked in his arms by Karl's owl, and was forced to look up at him.

Karl's perfectly contoured face was right in front of her, still heroic, with a powerful aura of aggression, and his eyes were complicated gazes that Alyssa couldn't understand.

Alyssa couldn't move by his complicated gaze, she knew very well in her heart that she should push him away at this time.

However, her hand stopped as if reluctantly.

The two didn't know how long they looked at each other. Suddenly, Karl lowered his head fiercely and grabbed her lips.

Alyssa shuddered, fully awake: "You meet!"

She opened her mouth to scold Karl, but she just gave him a chance to invade.

The deeper Karl kissed, the more sober Alyssa became.

The more sober she is, the cooler her heart is.

In terms of physical strength, men have inherent advantages. Alyssa couldn't push him away, so she could only bear it.

It wasn't until her lips were kissed by Karl that she almost lost consciousness, that Karl stopped suddenly and hugged her tightly into his arms.

For some reason, Alyssa felt a trace of fragility from this hug.

From the vulnerability of Karl.

He seems very tired.

Alyssa was stunned by her own thoughts. At this moment, Karl pushed her away and strode out of the kitchen.

As he passed the living room, Karl leaned over and picked up Grace who was still playing with toys with one hand, and walked directly outside without a second pause.

Grace's was suddenly picked up by him, and the doll in her hand fell out. She complained dissatisfied: "My doll!"

Karl didn't care what she said, he held her with one hand and went out.

When Alyssa chased her out, she only had time to see the door closed with a "bang".

She stared at the door closed, recalling the hug that Karl had just given.

Is she wicked? Or was Karl caught by evil?

Karl suddenly kissed and hugged her just now, shouldn't she be angry now? But her first reaction turned out to be that Karl was tired and needed her.

Ah.

Alyssa laughed at herself. It is really rare for a person like Karl to make people feel happy.

Even if he really needs someone now, it can only be Miana, how could it be her?

Alyssa thought about what she should and shouldn't, and finally she didn't hold back calling Smith.

"Mr. Smith, do you have time to meet me? I have something to talk to you about."

Of course Smith knew that Alyssa said that she had something to talk to him, and it must be something related to Karl.

Smith responded very simply: "Okay."

â€¦

Alyssa had an appointment in a remote cafe with Smith.

He was very punctual and arrived at the coffee shop at the appointed time.

“Mr. Smith, I will ask you out today, I might as well say straight, I want to ask you some things about Karl.” That’s the point for smart people to talk about, and everyone doesn’t need to be ambiguous.

Smith nodded slightly, and said sincerely: “Miss Alyssa, don’t hesitate to ask anything. If I know, I won’t hide it from you.”

“I want to know what Karl is doing recently.”

A hint of surprise flashed on the face of Smith, maybe he felt that Alyssa’s question was too casual.

“Sir recently, in addition to going to the company for meetings, he also occasionally goes to a dinner, but he basically just sits and leaves, and then—”

He was embarrassed, as if he didn’t know how to speak.

Alyssa took the initiative to make up the unfinished words for him: “Then he will date Miana, right?”

“—Yes.” Smith lowered his head, very embarrassed.

On the contrary, Alyssa’s expression looked more natural, without a trace of uncomfortableness: “Is he happy with Miana?”

“When Boss met with Miss Palmer, I was not there, don’t know.” Smith thought that Alyssa was going to ask something, but it was all about Boss and Miss Palmer.

He couldn’t guess Karl’s thoughts, and Alyssa’s thoughts, he couldn’t guess.

Chapter 695

After hearing the words, Alyssa thought for a while, and said, “You think about it again, is there anything unusual about Karl recently?”

Smith contemplated for a moment, then hesitated for a while and said, “The abnormal place—nothing.”

If you really want to say something, the most unusual thing about Boss is that he broke up with Alyssa, and is still with Miana?

It’s just that Smith just thought about this in his heart and didn’t say it.

Alyssa was lost in thought.

Is she thinking too much?

Seeing that she had not spoken at all that night, she leaned forward slightly and called out, “Miss Alyssa?”

Ms. Alyssa came back to her senses and smiled politely: “Thank you, Mr. Smith, who can spare time to see me in the busy schedule, thank you.”

“Miss Alyssa doesn’t need to be so polite, even if you and Sir are no longer together, we are just friends,” Smith said from the heart.

Alyssa chuckled lightly: “Since you treat me as a friend, don’t keep calling me Miss Alyssa. That would be too boring.”

“No, no,” Smith’s face changed slightly, and he waved his hands repeatedly to express his rejection.

He has been with Karl for so many years, and Karl has accumulated prestige in his heart for a long time. Even if Alyssa is not together with Karl, she has long been accustomed to putting Alyssa to Karl. In the same position, how dare to call so affectionately.

Alyssa was just talking casually, but she didn’t expect Smith to be so scared.

“Mr. Smith you are usually busy, if you have something to do, please do it first, I have nothing else.” Alyssa was actually a little embarrassed in her heart, he was busy all year round, and finally she had a few holidays during the New Year and she called him out.

Smith didn’t immediately stand up and leave. He took a sip of the coffee in front of him, his expression was hesitant to speak.

Alyssa asked, “Is there anything wrong with Mr. Smith?”

Smith coughed lightly and said, “Did you see the news about CEO Grant?”

“You said that it was reported in the news that Peter had an illegitimate daughter?” Alyssa did not expect that there would be such gossips coming from Smith: “Fake, I took Grace to Best Day for dinner yesterday, maybe others thought Grace was His daughter.”

Smith nodded, did not stay any longer this time, got up and left.

After he left, Alyssa leaned back on the chair, thinking flashes in her eyes.

Even when she was closest to Karl, he said that everything was normal for Karl, so what was wrong?

Or is it just that she thinks too much?

Alyssa sighed irritably.

“

Not long after the New Year holiday, Mattie notified Alyssa to join the crew.

Before joining the group, Alyssa went to Karl to see Grace. Karl was not at home when she went.

The servant is an old employee who used to work in the villa. They all know Alyssa. Seeing Alyssa staying in the lobby for a while, he proactively said: “Boss has been out early and returning late in the past few days. He is very busy. Goes out early and come back to eat with the little lady in the evening.”

“Oh.” Alyssa was a little embarrassed, she smiled at the servant, and went upstairs to see Grace.

She wants to take care of Grace very much, but now she wants to join the group again.

Karl was busy, and Grace was often alone at home.

Too much happened last year, otherwise Grace would have been sent to kindergarten a long time ago. Alyssa felt that if Grace was sent to kindergarten and so many children played together, Grace would be happy.

“Grace, do you want to go to kindergarten? Play with many children.” Alyssa asked Grace with a smile.

Grace reacted very quickly, and after hearing Alyssa’s words, she asked back: “You want to send me to kindergarten?”

“Yeah.” Alyssa responded and said, “You want to go?”

Grace continued to ask: “Is it fun?”

Alyssa reached out to touch the small hair on Grace’s forehead, and said, “It should be fun to be at home alone, but you may meet children with bad tempers.”

Grace frowned, then smiled again: “I want to go.”

“Then mom will discuss with dad and send you to kindergarten.” Alyssa squeezed Grace’s face gently.

Grace shook her head and threw Alyssa’s hand away: “Okay.”

Mattie informed Alyssa that there were still several days left to join the group. Although the time was a bit short these days, she and Karl’s connections and abilities should be able to quickly find a suitable school for Grace.

After Alyssa left Karl’s villa, she drove to Adams’.

She took the time to go. When she got to Adams’ downstairs, it was time to rest and eat at noon.

She called Karl when she got under the Adams building.

When she made the first call, she was hung up as soon as the call was connected.

Alyssa stared at the phone for a few seconds, then dialed the phone.

After the call was connected this time, it rang four or five times and was picked up.

The person who answered the phone hadn’t spoken yet, but first came the voice of another woman: “he’s calling you again after he hasn’t finished?”

Alyssa’s hand holding the phone suddenly stiffened. The voice was familiar, it was Miana’s voice.

Karl is with Miana at this time?

Alyssa squeezed her hand tightly, and did not speak immediately.

After a while, Karl’s low voice came from the other end of the phone: “What’s the matter?”

No extra emotion could be heard in his voice, cold and indifferent.

“I want to talk to you about Grace going to kindergarten. I will be in the drama in a few days. I hope that before I enter the crew, you can spare time to talk about it with me and find a good kindergarten”

Alyssa is also speaking in the tone of the business.

The two closest people ever had a reason to call because of their children.

"I have time now. I'm in the restaurant opposite Adams'. Come here." Karl's final tone fell, and there was a busy tone that the call was hung up.

Alyssa slowly put down the arm holding the phone, biting the corner of her lip and didn't move.

Karl actually asked her to find him now?

The voice that came out on the phone just now was clearly Miana's voice. He was with Miana, but he wanted her to come and talk to him?

What is he going to do?

Fortunately, she was still thinking about Karl's previous actions, and she went to Smith and asked him about his current situation.

Now it seems that she is a complete fool!

Alyssa clenched her fists and hammered hard on the steering wheel. After taking a few breaths, she turned the steering wheel to start the car and went to the opposite restaurant.

She parked the car in the parking space at the entrance of the restaurant, slammed the door and entered the restaurant.

The waiter greeted her: "Miss, hello, how many?"

"Here to find someone." Alyssa looked around, did not see Karl and Miana, turned to ask the waiter, "Is Karl with you?"

The waiter was stunned for a moment: "Are you talking about the CEO of the opposite Adams's?"

Alyssa nodded: "Yes."

The waiter looked at Alyssa's eyes, but he answered truthfully: "He is not here, and he didn't come at noon today."

"Not here?" Alyssa thought the waiter was lying to her: "He told me that he was eating here."

The waiter explained to her: "Mr. Adams often eats here, but he really didn't come at noon today."

At this moment, Alyssa's cell phone rang.

Alyssa picked it up and found that it was Karl who had come.

She clicked the connection button, her tone was cold: "You lie to me, you are not here at all!"

Chapter 696

As soon as Alyssa's voice fell, there was a burst of laughter from the other end.

Miana followed with a deep mocking voice: "Alyssa, we are just joking with you, did you really go?"

When Miana spoke, there was an open smile in her tone.

Alyssa didn't say anything and stood motionless with her mobile phone.

Miana laughed and pretended to say generously: "Forget it, Karl, she really wants to see you, just let her come. I know you don't want me to misunderstand, after all, she is also your ex-wife, even if the feelings are not there. The love is still there."

Miana softly persuaded Karl, and Alyssa kept listening to it.

Karl was probably moved by Miana. After a few seconds, Alyssa heard Karl's benevolent voice on the other end of the phone: "Then come here."

The laughter in Miana's tone is even more obvious: "Alyssa, I won't lie to you this time. We are next door to that restaurant. Come here quickly!"

In the restaurant next door?

Then when she drove to the door of this restaurant and stopped, hadn't Karl and Miana seen her?

They fooled her around. Do they find it funny?

Alyssa sneered in her heart, Karl was able to accompany Miana to lie to her and play her like a monkey. She is really the most ridiculous fool in the world.

Alyssa hung up the phone and went directly to the restaurant next door.

She stood at the door, and at a glance she saw Karl and Miana sitting by the dining room.

The two of them were talking and did not see Alyssa coming in.

Miana didn't know what she was talking about, she smiled pretty deftly, Karl didn't smile, and leaned lazily on the sofa, looking down as if listening to her seriously.

Karl and Miana are both outstanding people. Miana is over 30 years old, but they are well maintained. Sitting together, they look very right and seductive to others.

Alyssa walked over slowly and sat down directly opposite them.

The first thing she sat down on was to turn her head and glance out the window.

Sure enough, where Karl and Miana were, one could just see Alyssa's parked car outside.

Alyssa retracted her gaze, turned her head to meet Miana's, and Karl raised his eyelid and glanced at her.

Miana deliberately leaned against Karl, narrowing the distance between her and Karl, and then looked at Alyssa with a smile: "Here."

"You are so kind, how can I not come?" Alyssa curled her lips, but there was no smile on her face.

In the past, Alyssa was standing next to Karl, but today, she is sitting opposite Karl.

She and Alyssa changed their positions. Just now, Karl still followed her words and tricked Alyssa into the restaurant next door.

Karl's indulgence towards her made her more confident that Karl really loved her, and she became even more unscrupulous.

"We have eaten almost, what do you want to eat?" Miana said on purpose, unhappy with Alyssa.

In fact, Karl was the only one who really cared about Alyssa and was really angry and sad. What Miana said and did, for Alyssa, could not affect her at all.

She just glanced at Miana, and said lukewarmly, "Miss Palmer is all thinking about eating? I came to find Karl, there is business."

Miana thought of Alyssa's sadness and despair. She didn't expect that Alyssa would attack her when she came.

"Alyssa, what do you mean? You have been pestering Karl, and Karl doesn't want to see you at all! He will agree to see you, and it is because I persuaded him that he must see you! Why do you just come!"

Miana paused deliberately, turned her head, and looked aside, as if she was wronged and did not show it.

Alyssa thought it was ridiculous, but she didn't have time to laugh, because she came to have a business.

She didn't want to look at Miana anymore. She turned to look at Karl who had not spoken: "I'm here to tell you about Grace's kindergarten. I'm going to join the crew soon. After we have discussed it, you can take care of it."

Karl finally said aloud the first sentence after Alyssa's arrival: "I will let someone arrange this."

Miana wanted to pretend to be wronged and let Karl comfort her.

But Karl didn't seem to notice what she looked like just now, so she had to accept his aggrieved expression and interjected in a modest sentence: "I know a very good kindergarten, and the principal is a friend of mine!"

"I'll take care of my daughter's affairs. Don't bother Miss Palmer." Alyssa didn't leave any affection when she interrupted Miana directly.

Miana was waiting for Alyssa's strong and domineering refusal. She hooked her lips unnoticeably. When she looked at Karl, she frowned slightly and said aggrievedly: "Karl, I just want to help you share a little!"

"I know." Karl turned to look at Miana, with a gentle voice: "However, you don't need to be distracted by these trivial matters, you just need to be happy."

When he spoke, he narrowed his eyes slightly, still looking lazy, the gentle expression on his face was very obvious, but it gave Alyssa a very distant strangeness.

In Alyssa's impression, Karl was a deep and introverted person. Unless he is particularly happy, and only when you are with her, you will show particularly obvious emotions.

And such a gentle expression, she rarely saw him in when she was with him.

If Karl and Miana asked her to come over to make her jealous, then they had already done it.

She found this scene extremely dazzling.

Alyssa couldn't control herself, she couldn't even pretend to smile.

She looked at Karl with a cold face, and continued to talk about Grace: "I will go to some kindergartens that I think are good. It may be the most expensive, but it must be the one with the best overall strength. We choose a few of them. In kindergarten, we will do the final assessment together in three days."

Alyssa felt like she was discussing work projects with others. After the small-scale meeting, she went back to prepare, and then worked together on follow-up work, and finally to get the results.

Karl didn't speak, just nodded imperceptibly.

Alyssa got a response and got up and left.

Miana knew that he would accept it when he sees it, and honestly watched Alyssa leave.

As soon as Alyssa turned her back, she heard Miana's voice behind her: "Why are you so indifferent to her? Anyway, she is Grace's mother."

Alyssa slowed down subconsciously. After two seconds, she heard Karl's faint voice: "The person next to me is you. Do you want me to be enthusiastic about her?"

Miana said angrily: "I will hate it!"

Karl's chuckle followed.

Chapter 697

Alyssa quickened her pace and hurried out.

As she hurriedly walked out with her head down, she did not notice that someone was also going out on the other side. In this way, she collided with another person who was going out.

Alyssa said, "I'm sorry."

"Alyssa?"

Alyssa heard this voice, stopped abruptly, looked back, and found that it was Clifford.

It's really lingering.

Seeing her looking back at him, Clifford smiled at her and asked, "Came here to eat?"

Alyssa looked at Clifford, who just came out of the restaurant.

"All are here to eat, don't you know?" Since Clifford was in the restaurant just now, Clifford must know what she did in the restaurant just now.

Clifford must have seen her sitting opposite Karl and Miana.

Alyssa said that, and Clifford no longer pretended to meet by chance.

He walked up to Alyssa and said with a smile: "Yes, I have seen it all. Do you believe me now? You and Karl are simply inappropriate."

Alyssa was in a bad mood, and Clifford didn't say this once or twice.

She snorted coldly: "It's your a$$s."

Just strode towards the parking spot.

Clifford stood there watching Alyssa drive away, and lit a cigarette with interest. The smile on his face remained undiminished and he didn't know what he was thinking.

He stood at the door, finished smoking the cigarette, then turned around and returned to the restaurant.

Clifford looked at the positions of Karl and Miana, curled his lips slightly, threw the cigarette butt into the trash can beside him, and walked towards Karl leisurely.

The plates in front of Miana and Karl had been removed, and coffee was placed in front of them.

Miana kept talking, Karl held his head and looked out the window, as if he was listening attentively, but also as if he was absent-minded.

Clifford walked over, stood at the table and smiled and asked, "Do you mind if I sit down?"

Karl ignored him, but Miana asked with an unhappy expression, "Who are you?"

She finally had a chance to have time with Karl, so why would someone always bother them!

Clifford sat down, glanced back and forth between the two people, and then deepened his smile: "Of course I am Mr. Adams' friend."

Miana heard this and turned to look at Karl.

But Karl was still looking out the window, not knowing what he was looking at.

Miana whispered: "Karl."

Only then did Karl turned his head, he glanced at Clifford with a cold expression, and said nothing.

He just looked down at the watch on his wrist and stood up and said to Miana, "It's late, let's go."

Seeing that Karl ignored Clifford, Miana stood up and planned to leave with Karl.

However, she accidentally touched the coffee cup when she stood up. Fortunately, Karl quickly grabbed her shoulders and took her back, otherwise the coffee would spill on her.

The coffee drips from the table and flows down the edge of the table.

Miana looked back at Karl, smiling shyly.

Karl glanced at Clifford blankly, and left with Miana.

Clifford looked at the back of the two with a deeper smile.

As soon as he left the restaurant, Karl withdrew his hand holding Miana's shoulder, so fast that Miana felt that the things Karl did in the restaurant just now were just for others to see.

Miana felt a little uncomfortable thinking about this, she looked at Karl dissatisfied.

Karl didn't look at her at all, and took out his hand and dialed the phone: "I'll let Smith send you back."

Hearing what he said, the dissatisfaction in Miana's heart disappeared again.

Miana smiled and wanted to hug Karl: "Thank you."

However, Karl inadvertently took a step aside, making Miana unable to hug him.

Miana looked at Karl with an ugly expression, and found that he was only focusing on the call, so she had to put away her unhappiness.

Karl has been very kind to her recently, and he can give whatever she wants, being considerate. Especially when she saw Karl's attitude towards Alyssa today, she was even more convinced that Karl liked her.

As long as Karl likes her, nothing else is a problem.

Soon, Smith drove over.

Miana reluctantly got into the car, and when the car drove away, Karl didn't even look at it, and went straight back to the opposite Adams's office.

â€¦

After Alyssa left the restaurant, she drove around aimlessly.

She didn't know what she wanted to do.

She almost ran out of gas driving around aimlessly. When she was refueling, she called Tina.

"Are you busy? Come out for a drink."

When Tina heard Alyssa's tone, she felt something was wrong.

Tina immediately asked, "What's wrong with you, where are you?"

Alyssa turned her head and looked around, and found that she didn't know where it was, so she asked Tina, "Where are you, I'll look for you."

Tina was at the company right now. After Alyssa refueled, she drove to AdamPic Media to find Tina.

As soon as Alyssa arrived at AdamPic Media, she was recognized by the front desk lady.

"Who is Miss Alyssa looking for, do you have an appointment?" The lady at the front desk was kind to Alyssa.

Alyssa is a new up-and-coming screenwriter in the entertainment industry, and it will be a big fire after the lack of security. In the entertainment industry, it is difficult to say that, 30 years in Sky and 30 years in a quagmire.

Therefore, it is best not to offend anyone easily.

"I'm looking for Tina." Alyssa was not surprised that the front desk would take her seriously.

"Sister Tina!" The front desk glanced to the other side and saw Tina's assistant: "Her assistant is here."

The assistant walked over and glanced at the front desk: "Tina's friend."

Alyssa entered the elevator, and the assistant explained to her: "Tina was just called for a meeting. I will take you up."

Alyssa went up and waited for a while before Tina came out.

"What's wrong with you? Why do you want to drink?" Tina sat down next to Alyssa, half-lengthed over and asked her.

Alyssa's complexion was as pale as water: "I want to drink if I'm not happy."

"Okay, wait for me, I'll get something." Tina said, and got up to collect the things.

When the two went down, they met Peter in the elevator.

"Alyssa?" Peter was surprised to see Alyssa: "You come to AdamPic and don't come to me, let me know in advance."

"I was looking for Tina, nothing else." Alyssa found that Peter and Tina were talking to each other.

Peter patted Alyssa's shoulder very enthusiastically: "Okay, you must look for me next time."

Alyssa responded, "Yes, sure."

Chapter 698

Peter entered another elevator, and the elevators taking Alyssa and Tina also came soon.

When the two entered the elevator, Alyssa asked Tina, "What happened to you and Peter?"

"What can I do with him? He is the boss and I am an employee. Isn't it normal to have such a sparse relationship?" Tina stared at her reflection on the elevator wall, saying that it didn't matter.

Alyssa smiled, and didn't take Tina's words seriously.

It seems that there is another quarrel.

And this time it was very serious. No matter how severe the quarrel between Tina and Peter before, Peter could not ignore Tina. Just now, Tina didn't look at Peter, and Peter didn't look at Tina more.

don't know why this time.

These two people have spent so many years, and they have a feeling of "immortality".

There are some things that outsiders can't get through except the authorities.

Just like the relationship between Peter and Tina, just like the relationship between her and Karl.

Thinking of Karl, Alyssa's eyes dimmed again.

Neither of them spoke again until they left the door of AdamPic Media.

The two opened the doors from both sides and sat in. Only then did Alyssa asked Tina, "Where to go?"

Tina said, lacking in interest, "Anywhere."

Alyssa thought for a while, and drove to Best Day.

After all, it's not the teenage age that she didn't care about before. Now she looks forward to everything she does, and she wants to find a relatively safe place to avoid crime.

After arriving at Best Day, Tina was a little dissatisfied: "Why come here again."

"The environment here is good." Alyssa said as she unfastened her seat belt.

The two went directly to the bar inside.

There were no people in the bar at noon.

The bartenders also knew Alyssa and Tina, and they were a little surprised that they came to drink at noon. But still enthusiastically asked: "What would you like to drink?"

The two ordered a glass of wine, and after a few sips, Tina began to retching.

Alyssa put down her wine glass quickly: "What's the matter? Did you not eat?"

Tina has stomach problems, so she will definitely feel uncomfortable without eating and drinking.

Tina vomited her eyes wide, and shook her head: "No!"

Alyssa immediately took down the wine glass in her hand: "Don't drink, let's go eat."

"It's okay, don't I often do this, drink a little more!" Tina said as she picked up the glass to continue drinking.

"Drunkard!" Alyssa patted her on the head, but the action was light.

Tina pouted her lips, put the wine glass back, and went to eat with Alyssa.

When Alyssa went to find Karl before, it was time for lunch, and she was going to have food and talk with Karl, but after going there, she found that he was eating with Miana.

Now that she thinks about it, she feels quite ridiculous.

How come she still can't recognize the facts?

Karl is no longer the same Karl he used to be. Even if he is talking about things, he is not necessarily willing to talk with her over dinner.

After all, Karl had already said that she was an irrelevant woman.

Karl never spends too much time and energy on irrelevant women.

Neither of them had a meal, and they didn't even bother to talk when the food was served, so they started eating.

After eating and drinking, people calm down and think about things well.

Alyssa no longer wants to drink, but Tina wants to go.

Alyssa was dragged by Tina to the bar, and was forced to follow: "You have eaten so much, can you still drink?"

Tina snorted: "You still think I eat too much? I can afford it, why can't I eat so much!"

Alyssa choked for a while and had nothing to say, so she could only follow her to the bar.

When they went there before, there were no guests in the bar, but now they have passed by and there are a few more guests in the bar.

It is a few young boys and girls, at most 18 or 9 years old.

Best Day will not allow minors to drink in bars.

Those drinking over there are three men and two women in a group, and the relationship is unknown.

Tina joked with Alyssa while drinking, "Guess who is a couple over there?"

Alyssa stared at the three men and two women over there for a while, and then said, "There are five people over there, two girls, and three boys. One of them is a couple, and the other two boys like the same one girl as well."

"How do you know?" Tina got interested, and kept staring there.

Alyssa raised her eyebrows: "Guessed it."

In fact, it is not just speculation.

The interaction between lovers can be seen at a glance. The other two children have been paying tribute to the same girl again, and the girl has the same attitude towards the two boys, and it is obvious that she doesn't like anyone.

Alyssa and Tina looked at them for a while, and they felt that they were not interesting, and began to chat about other things.

After a while, another boy came in from outside.

The light in the bar was not good, and Alyssa just glanced at it roughly, and did not see what the person who came in looked like, only knew that it was a tall boy.

Alyssa was about to talk to Tina when she heard a loud "boom" from there.

Alyssa and Tina turned their heads together, and saw that the three boys over there had been beaten into a ball, and everything they could get was used as a weapon.

Wine bottles, fruit plates, chairs—all were picked up and smashed.

Tina couldn't help sighing: "Young people are just full of blood!"

Alyssa glanced at her: "We are also in the twenties, and we are also young people."

The two of them calmly drank while watching people fighting over there.

The bartender has already called the security guard.

Alyssa originally looked at the show, but after watching it for a long time, she found that the tallest boy among them became more and more familiar.

She put down her wine glass, took a look at him, and called out a name in surprise: "Luther?"

"Who?" Tina asked again without hearing what Alyssa said.

"Luther! Karl's cousin!" Alyssa's expression was a little anxious, she put down her wine glass, stood up and started walking there.

Tina quickly grabbed her: "What does Karl's cousin have to do with you!"

"Except for Karl's cousin, Luther is also Luther. He calls me sister, so I can't just sit idly by."

Hearing Alyssa said that, Tina had to let go.

Alyssa walked over, pursed a face, and let out angrily: "Stop!"

Several boys who were still fighting were startled by the sudden anger and stopped.

Alyssa's gaze fell on Luther's body.

Speaking of it, she hadn't seen Luther for more than three years.

Boys change every year during their teenage years.

With all the money, Luther is nineteen years old this year.

The nineteen-year-old boy has begun to take on the figure of a man, and his figure is taller. It seems to be much darker, but he is still a beautiful child.

Luther was also startled when he saw Alyssa: "Sister Alyssa!"

Chapter 699

"It's really you!" Alyssa hadn't seen Luther for several years. She didn't expect the two to meet again. It was on such an occasion and in this way.

Alyssa took another step towards Luther and stood in front of him.

Before Luther was taller than her, now she is standing in front of Luther, and she has to look up to see his face clearly.

The height of Luther and Karl was not much different from the visual observation.

"Sister Alyssa, wait for me by your side. I haven't done anything. I'm done. Please drink." Luther leaned slightly, holding Alyssa's shoulders with both hands, and pushed her aside.

His expression was calm and his tone was calm, Alyssa saw in him a decisiveness similar to Karl.

Without waiting for Alyssa to speak, Luther rolled up his sleeves and moved his neck. He looked unruly and extraordinarily arrogant.

“You two come together, let’s make a quick fight!” The boy was dumbfounded by Luther, and he didn’t even dare to move for a while.

Luther was anxious to invite Alyssa to drink, and said impatiently: “Hurry up!”

Seeing that Luther had to do something, Alyssa frowned and called him: “Luther!”

Luther seemed to be taken aback for a while before turning around to look at Alyssa. He smiled brightly: “Sister Alyssa, I haven’t heard anyone call me that for a long time.”

Alyssa was slightly stagnant, and the other two boys had already started to attack Luther while he was talking.

Alyssa exclaimed: “Be careful!”

Luther regained his senses, and reacted extremely quickly to avoid the fist that the person shook, and the expression in his eyes suddenly changed, and the whole person was full of hard to ignore hatred.

Although it is the nature of boys to be brave and combative, at this moment, Alyssa felt that Luther’s body had changed too much.

Luther was a child before, kind and enthusiastic. But now, there is too much in his eyes.

Tina saw that the three boys were fighting again. Alyssa was still standing on the side and didn’t move, so she immediately walked over and pulled Alyssa over: “What are they fighting again, you stand a little further away.”

Even if it was one on two, Luther still had the upper hand.

But in Alyssa’s inherent impression, Luther is just a child, and fighting is always bad.

She turned her head and hurriedly looked at the bartender: “Why haven’t the security guards come yet?”

The bartender was also a bullsh!t. Seeing that they were fighting again, he shrank away and didn’t dare to move.

He glanced at the door and said in surprise: “The manager is here!”

After the manager came over, he greeted others to come to the fight.

However, Luther’s fierce energy made the other people who were struggling a little afraid, and he didn’t dare to step forward.

Alyssa didn’t expect them, and planned to go up on her own, but she was held back by Tina, “You don’t care about him, you can’t stab him. Just observed it. The kid is picking a place to fight, and nothing will happen!”

Fortunately, the facts are true as Tina said. Although Luther made a ruthless attack, the attack was not the point, and it would make them feel very painful. He also stopped before the security arrived.

The general manager came with the security guard.

The manager does not know Luther, but he also knows Alyssa and Tina. Both of these girls have a close relationship with the boss, and they are now on Luther's side.

Although the general manager still called the police, he made some mud in the middle. Luther went to the police station and only made a transcript, walked through the scene, and came out.

When the three of them came out of the police station together, they saw Peter hurriedly park the car and got out of the car and ran to this side.

He didn't know what he was thinking, and when he ran to the front, he saw Alyssa, Tina and Luther.

After seeing them, Peter glanced over the three of them one by one, and finally returned to Tina to take one more look, then retracted his gaze and walked to a few people without squinting.

"Are you all okay?" Peter asked such a sentence first, then looked at the three people, and then looked at Luther, "When did you come back?"

Luther smiled and said, "I came back on the holiday."

He put his hands in his pockets, wearing a hooded sweater inside and a down jacket outside. He looked no different from an ordinary college student, even extraordinarily sunny.

"It's okay if you have nothing to do. On your cousin's side, turn around and explain it yourself." Peter is not a nosy person. Karl is Luther's cousin. He made trouble in Best Day, so naturally there is Karl. The owl will take care of him.

Luther didn't care very much and replied, "Oh."

â€

Alyssa was originally looking for Tina to drink, but the wine didn't make it. She met Luther in a fight, and then ran to the police station.

The two have no interest in drinking.

Tina and Peter left one after another. Alyssa asked Luther: "Are you going to find Karl now?"

"Huh?" Luther looked at Alyssa blankly: "Don't you live with him?"

Alyssa raised her eyebrows, and said calmly, "Not together, we broke up."

Luther was even more puzzled: "Huh?"

"Huh, what!" Alyssa patted his head, "Do you know where he lives? I'd send you there."

Luther touched his head and said with a grin: "don't know, you send me there."

Such Luther seemed to be no different from the teenager a few years ago.

“Then go to Adams’ office to find him.” Alyssa said, pressing the car key in her hand.

“Hey, sister Alyssa, don’t leave me. Letâ€™s go to your house for a meal first. You donâ€™t know how hard I have been in school these years. I am locked in it every day, like a prisoner. I really want to eat your dishesâ€”!”

Luther said, shaking Alyssa’s arm.

Alyssa knew that Luther had deliberately pretended to be pitiful, but she still couldn’t help but feel soft.

His father and brother died one after another, and his mother was in a mental hospital. This is already a big blow to the young Luther.

Alyssa felt a little distressed for Luther.

She sighed and felt helpless to her heart: “Okay, let’s go to my house for dinner, and I will send you to Karl’s house later.”

Hearing the words, Luther quickly let go of Alyssa’s arms, stood up straight, and replied with a bright voice: “Okay!”

Alyssa laughed: “Get in the car.”

Luther opened the car door first for Alyssa, who was especially dogged: “Sister Alyssa, you get in first.”

Alyssa walked to her and was about to bend over to enter, and Luther said again, “Or I can drive, I also have a driver’s license.”

Alyssa didn’t look at him, always feeling that this child was much smarter than before.

“I’ll take a look at the driver’s license.” Alyssa stood up straight, nodded her chin, and motioned him to take out the driver’s license for her to take a look.

Chapter 700

Luther digs out on himself, and after a while, he finally touches his driver’s license.

Crumpled, as if pulled out of a garbage dump.

Alyssa took a look and agreed to let him drive.

She nodded, and Luther ran to the other side and opened the door of the passenger seat: “Sister Alyssa, get in the car.”

After Alyssa got in the car, she teased Luther: “Do you have a girlfriend?”

“No, there is only one woman in the cafeteria of the school. Where can I find one?” Luther said pitifully.

At this time, there happened to be a cake shop on the side of the road, and Luther said excitedly: “Sister Alyssa, I want to eat cake.”

Alyssa motioned for him to stop, and the two of them went to buy.

On the road after that, Luther saw that he had to get off the car to buy food, like a child.

Alyssa smiled and said, "I now believe that you had a hard time inside."

"That's not it." Luther did not let go of any opportunity to pretend to be pathetic in front of Alyssa.

During the New Year, Alyssa stocked a lot of food at home. When she arrived at the residence, she took it out to entertain Luther.

Luther took a packet of beef jerky and ate it around the room, checking the layout of the room.

He watched for a while, and said sensibly: "Sister Alyssa, your house is too small. When I make money, I will give you a big house."

Alyssa laughed, he was still a child, and every thought came out.

She glanced at Luther and said, "I rented this house."

Sure enough, Luther was surprised.

Alyssa resisted the urge to laugh, and nodded to him.

Luther came over and sat down next to Alyssa: "Although I don't have much money now, I still have money to buy this house for you."

Alyssa couldn't help laughing: "Why do you have to buy me a house?"

Luther's complexion suddenly became very serious. He looked at Alyssa and said seriously, "Because you are good to me, and I want to be good to you."

Alyssa thought about it carefully. She felt that she was not particularly good to Luther, but Luther had always liked her.

Alyssa shook her head and rejected his kindness: "You don't need to buy a house for me, I don't lack money."

Luther obviously didn't believe it, and Alyssa increased her tone: "What I said is true."

"I'm serious too." Luther put down the beef jerky and took another pack of marshmallows.

Alyssa didn't argue with Luther, and went to the refrigerator to see what to eat for him at night.

In fact, after so many years, he doesn't remember what Luther likes to eat.

Luther was not at all polite. He ran to the refrigerator and pointed to the dishes inside and said, "I want to eat this dish, I want to eat this, eh, and this!"

This makes Alyssa save a snack.

Alyssa thought that Luther would go to find Karl, and dinner was made before five o'clock.

Luther ate quickly and had a lot of appetite.

After Alyssa helped him serve two bowls of rice, he simply put the rice cooker in front of him and let him serve it himself.

Alyssa couldn't help but persuade: "You eat slowly, no one will grab yours."

"I'm used to it, we have time limits for eating!" Luther was talking with food in his mouth, and his voice was a little vague.

Alyssa pursed her lips, feeling distressed.

Luther has a nonchalant temperament, and should not like to study in that kind of militarized school.

If it weren't for Lina and the others! Maybe Luther is still a free and easy son now, and he doesn't need to be sent to such a strict school by Karl to keep him away from right and wrong.

Perhaps the road that Karl arranged for Luther was not bad, but if he could live according to his own wishes, it would not be a happy thing.

Alyssa curled her lips and smiled and gave him food: "Then eat more."

"Well, sister Alyssa's cooking is still so delicious, if only it can be eaten every day." Luther sighed, and then sighed: "But I will be back to school soon."

Alyssa didn't speak, but looked at him in silence.

After eating, Alyssa wanted to send Luther back, but before she could speak, Luther stood up and began to collect the dishes: "I'm washing the dishes! I want to move when I'm too full."

"Leave me alone!"

"I can wash, sister Alyssa, you rest."

After such a long time, when they were about to set off, the sky was already dark.

Luther reluctantly followed Alyssa out, walking slowly, obviously not wanting to see Karl at all.

"Since you came back from the holiday, you should go to see Karl, he is your cousin." Although Alyssa felt sorry for him, she still had to say what she should say.

Luther lowered his head and replied, "Yes."

The two reached the elevator entrance, Alyssa stretched out her hand and pressed the elevator, waiting for the elevator to come up.

Ding-

The elevator is coming up.

After the elevator door opened, Alyssa was about to walk inside, but when she raised her eyes she saw Karl walking from inside.

Alyssa paused slightly and looked back at Luther.

Luther stood half a step behind her, looking at Karl blankly, without a trace of joy in her eyes.

Alyssa was secretly surprised. From the time she said she asked him to find Karl, Luther had been looking around and talking about him, as if she didn't want to find Karl at all.

This speculation was confirmed at this moment.

Karl walked out of the elevator in two steps, staring at Luther with a heavy gaze, and his voice was cold: "Came back secretly, and ran to Best Day to make trouble. He didn't dare to see me after the trouble, so he ran here to hide. Luther, You only learned this in school?"

Luther sneered: "I don't dare, I don't want to see you."

Alyssa whispered: "Luther!"

"Sister Alyssa, I won't tell you because I don't want to mention him to make you sad. I know, he abandoned you and the woman Palmer, and has been like a fool for the past three years. play€"

Alyssa's complexion suddenly changed, she didn't expect Luther to think of Karl like this.

"Luther, shut up!"

As soon as Alyssa's words fell, there was a flash in front of her, and Karl had already kicked Luther.

Luther was kicked out by Karl in this way. Such a heavy force is enough to show how angry Karl is.

Alyssa yelled: "Karl!" No matter how great the anger, he can't do it casually like this!

She took a deep breath, said nothing, turned around and helped Luther up.

She asked Luther in a low voice, "Is it all right?"

"I'm fine." Luther clutched his stomach and shook his head, strained his jaw to endure the piercing pain, forced a smile, and stared at Karl and said to Alyssa: More powerful than him, he knows what strength can make people hurt the most without making people die."