Chapter 721

Several actors who were filming had just entered the state, and heard this voice all looking over here, including the director.

“Miss Palmer, what’s the matter?” The director looked back at Miana, still looking very polite.

“I don’t think the play is very logical. There are still abandoned teaching buildings in schools now.” When Miana spoke, she looked at Alyssa.

The director frowned tightly, and suddenly said: “When I was looking for a shooting location, several schools had a disused teaching building.”

Alyssa didn’t speak, but looked at Miana with a smile.

Miana looked at the desk for a while, just trying to pick something wrong in it. It turned out that she couldn’t find any problems, so she found a point that she thought was a loophole.

The result is now being said by the director, but Miana’s face is not good.

Alyssa didn’t speak, but it didn’t mean that Mattie couldn’t speak.

Seeing Miana’s face looking ugly, she took the opportunity to ask, “Does Miss Palmer still have any questions?”

What can Miana do? Can only bite the bullet and say: “You continue.”

Several actors finally got into the state, being interrupted by Miana like this, they have to adjust again.

Although they are a bit dissatisfied with Miana, they dare not show it. They had no choice but to continue shooting like a okay person.

“Everywhere!”

The filming continued, Miana had no face this time, so he threw the notebook away, pointed at Alyssa and said, “You, go buy me a cup of ice coffee, go now.”

Alyssa glanced at her, didn’t intend to care about her, but thought of something, stood up and said, “Oh, I will go now.”

Mattie was stunned to see, Alyssa really went to buy it?

Miana glanced at Mattie contemptuously.

Mattie was panicked and wanted to stop Alyssa: “Alyssa, youâ€™!”

Alyssa glanced at Mattie: “It’s okay, Miss Palmer wants to drink coffee, I just need to buy it.”

Miana thought that Alyssa had realized the reality because Karl spent 200 million to get her a brooch yesterday, and she would be so obedient today.

She touched the brooch pinned to her body and was extremely satisfied. The previous unhappiness was wiped out.

â€¦

After a while, Alyssa came back.

Her hands empty, she didn't have drink at all.

As soon as Miana's complexion changed, she knew that Alyssa would not be so obedient.

Miana walked to her and asked, "Where is the drink?"

"It's in the back." Alyssa said, looking back at the back.

Miana looked up and saw two waiters in restaurant uniforms, pushing the dining car toward this side.

And the dining car is full of drinks.

Miana was a little confused at first, she couldn't figure out what Alyssa was going to do.

Alyssa retreated to the side and let the dining cart push over.

One of the waiters came over and asked loudly, "Who is Miss Miana? The fifty drinks you ordered are here."

The director just yelled "What" and was telling the actors about the play.

Hearing the voice of the waiter, everyone looked over.

Alyssa pointed at Miana with a smile: "This is Miss Miana."

The waiter respectfully handed over the bill: "This is the bill. Please check and settle the bill."

Miana was about to explode with anger at this time, why would she want to take this bill.

However, the bill has been handed to her, and she can't help her at all.

If she doesn't answer, others will call her stingy. She took it, and couldn't swallow the breath again.

However, in full view, she had no other choice but to take the bill.

Miana gritted her teeth to control her facial expression, and reached out to take the bill.

Alyssa walked to the dining car and took a glass of juice, then turned her head and smiled brightly at Miana: "Thank you Miss Palmer, Miss Palmer is so generous."

Miana was signing, she couldn't help but tremble after hearing Alyssa's words, and the hand holding the pen also exerted a lot of strength, making a heavy mark on it, cutting the paper.

The waiter who delivered the drinks gave Miana a surprised look.

Miana gritted her teeth and raised her head again, with a generous smile on her face: "Everyone has worked hard, come over and have a drink."

“Thank you Miss Palmer!”

“Miss Palmer is too polite!”

Although the rest of the crew didn’t know what happened just now, they only thought that Miana was blaming herself for the previous filming, so she invited them to drink.

They all smiled and thanked Miana.

Miana felt aggrieved, but still smiled and told them you’re welcome.

Alyssa sat aside and drank the juice in a good mood, Mattie came over and pushed her shoulder.

Alyssa turned her head, glanced at the same juice in Mattie’s hand, picked up her own and touched her cup, smiling harmlessly.

“I really underestimated you! I thought you were really going to buy a drink for Miana.” Mattie took a sip of the juice and looked at Alyssa.

“I did buy it,” Alyssa said with a smile, and she couldn’t tell that she had just cheated Miana.

“Miana doesn’t know how angry she is now.” Mattie now thinks that Miana is so angry that she can’t attack, she feels particularly refreshed.

The smile on Alyssa’s face became colder: “Teach her a little lesson. I really thought that she was with Karl. Does anyone have to give her some points? She probably doesn’t know, I even am not afraid of Karl.”

Mattie eyes caught a glimpse of Miana walking towards this side, and whispered to Alyssa, “Stop talking!”

Alyssa stopped talking, waiting for Miana to come over.

After Miana came over, she said to Mattie, “Miss Adkins, I have something to tell her.”

“Say what? Can’t I listen?” Mattie did not intend to leave.

Alyssa pushed Mattie: “You go first.”

Although Mattie was reluctant, she still raised her foot and left. But she didn’t go very far, just staring at Alyssa not far away.

The little assistant ran over and asked Mattie: “Ms. Mattie, what’s the matter with Miss Palmer and Sister Alyssa?”

Several staff members on the side also raised their ears and waited for Mattie to turn her head. Mattie slowly said, “You want to know?”

“Ok.”

“Go ask Miss Palmer yourself.”

“!”

If they dared to ask Miana, they would have asked.

“Alyssa, I really underestimated you.” Miana looked at her coldly: “I start to admire your courage not to be afraid of death.”

Alyssa glanced at her, moved her lips, and said in a humble tone: “Acceptable.”

Miana choked: “Do you really think I was complimenting you? Karl only spent 200 million for me last night. You should know my place in his heart.”

Miana repeated these words over and over again, and Alyssa was tired of hearing it.

She raised her eyebrows, her beautiful eyes became cold, and her whole person looked a little bit colder: “What does your position in his heart matter to me? I’m not your Mom, what do you tell me about this?”

Chapter 722

“Youâ€¦!” Miana was so shocked by Alyssa that she didn’t know what to say.

Alyssa stood up impatiently, a pair of cat-like eyes filled with bone-piercing coldness, and the voice she said without a trace of emotion: “Miana, you have been aiming at me like this. You must know my past. You should know very well that my classmates were afraid of me when I was in school. As for why they were afraid of me, you can find out more.”

“Also, regarding the matter between you and Karl, whether he spent 200 million or 1 billion for you. No matter where you did it several times a night, I have no interest in knowing. So, for you itâ€™s not necessary to target me everywhere! The last and most important point: you donâ€™t want to cast your idea on Grace.”

When Alyssa said this, she paused slightly before continuing: “How good Karl feels with Grace, I must have understood in the past three years. If something happens, Karl will definitely not let you go!”

Miana came over to find Alyssa aggressively, intending to trouble her, but unexpectedly, she was overwhelmed by Alyssa’s series of words.

And the thing she cares most about is that during the three years when Karl lost his memory, she actually failed to make Karl fall in love with her!

Alyssa was still in front of her for three years!

“Are you threatening me?” Miana clenched her hands, her eyes full of resentment.

Alyssa said blankly: “No, I’m warning you.”

Miana smirked, “Who do you think you are? Do you really think I am afraid of you?”

“I don’t think I am afraid of you, but you. I always thought I was afraid of you. So everywhere you wanted to suppress me and deal with me.” Alyssa’s tone was extremely calm.

Miana stopped speaking.

She was not such an irrational person before.

She was also a proud person in her twenties. There was a large group of followers behind her, only she looked down on her, and there was nothing she looked down on.

Later, she suffered a lot from Karl. She failed to make Karl fall in love with her for three years. This hurt her self-esteem greatly.

After that, she became less like herself.

She felt that Alyssa was blocking her way and put all the resentment on Alyssa.

After being with Karl, she became more concerned about gains and losses, always feeling that Alyssa would come and snatch Karl away. So she targeted Alyssa everywhere, always seeing Alyssa not pleasing to her eyes.

Seeing that Miana stopped talking, Alyssa took a close look at her, and continued: "Karl and I really broke up. The separation is very thorough. If you really love him, stay with him. Don't waste time on me. Life is short and precious."

Alyssa's tone was somewhat emotional, and it seemed to be advice. Miana couldn't tell for a while, what exactly did Alyssa mean.

She looked at her with a weird expression, and said nothing.

Alyssa had to admit that she was indeed a softhearted person.

Even though she said that she would hate Karl, she still hoped Karl would be happy.

Probably because they were not happy before.

Probably because Karl had sacrificed his life to save her.

Probably because she still loves him.

Alyssa stopped her thoughts in time, and when she raised her eyes again, her gaze returned to her usual calmness: "You don't have to look at me with this kind of eyes, you don't want to listen to my words, anyway, your business has nothing to do with me. It's up to you."

After speaking, Alyssa left without looking back.

Miana turned her head, looking at Alyssa's back, a thought flashing through her eyes.

What did Alyssa just say?

Although Mattie was far away, she could still vaguely see Miana's expression.

As soon as Alyssa came over, Mattie pulled her to the corner and asked, "What did you say to Miana, her expression looked strange.

"I told her not to bother me again." Those words Alyssa said probably meant this.

Mattie frowned: "Really?"

Alyssa glanced at the director and smiled at Mattie: "Director, I'll go there first."

â€¦

Don't know if Alyssa's words had an effect on Miana, and Miana left the next day.

When she left, she didn't notify anyone, just talked to the director and left quietly.

Mattie became more curious, she thought that Miana would leave so quickly, it must have something to do with Alyssa.

During the filming, she asked Alyssa: "Miana left so soon, is it related to you?"

"Am I so capable? Or do you think she will listen to me?" Alyssa said without looking up, flipping the table in her hand.

Mattie thought for a while, and felt that neither was possible, so she stopped pestering her.

When she returned to the hotel from work, she received a call from Smith.

When Karl came to the crew with Karl, Alyssa only glanced at him, but didn't see it afterwards. It should have been after Karl had attended the charity party and left.

Alyssa answered the phone and yelled very politely: "Mr. Smith."

"Miss Alyssa, I took Grace home, and she said she missed you very much. Is it convenient for you to make a video call now?" The other side of Smith was quiet, probably in the car.

After hearing Smith's words, Alyssa also blamed herself.

It has been almost ten days since she joined the group, and she never called Grace in the middle.

She hurriedly said: "Yes, you can do it now, is it convenient for you now?"

"I'm driving, but I can take my phone to Grace."

"OK."

After Alyssa hung up the phone, she found Smith on WeChat and made a video call.

As soon as the video was connected, Grace's face appeared on the phone screen.

Not long after the end of the new year, it is still the first lunar month, the spring is cold, and the Rostenvel area is still somewhat cold. Grace was still wearing a sweater, with two small twitches on her head, a face tightly leaning against the camera of the phone, her face was all over the screen.

Alyssa couldn't help laughing, and said softly: "Grace, you put your face too close, take your phone away."

Grace didn't know if she was listening to her, but excitedly called her: "Mom!"

"Yeah!" Alyssa responded with a smile, and said: "You take your phone a little bit farther, mom wants to see you."

"Oh!"

Grace responded loudly, and then she took the phone a little farther away, leaning on the back of the chair, wearing a red sweater, with a round face, bright and dark eyes, pursing her lips and looking at Alyssa.

Alyssa looked at her carefully, and then said, "My Grace seems to have grown up a little bit again!"

"When will you come to see me? It's been a long time since you left." Grace pouted, looking very disappointed.

Chapter 723

The smile on Alyssa's face faded a little, and she explained to her softly: "Mom works in a field, and may not be able to come back to see you for a long time."

When she was in Rostenvel before, except for the one time she was injured, she usually went to see Grace every day when she had the time and went there every day or two.

Grace seemed to understand Alyssa's words, she nodded obediently, then suddenly looked up at the camera, and said seriously, "When will you be back then? You have time to see me."

Alyssa's heart was astringent, and she felt like something was blocked in her throat, which was uncomfortable.

Obviously not such a vulnerable person, but after hearing Grace's words, she felt very sad, and even felt like crying.

Alyssa reached out to touch her nose, calmed down for a while, and then continued: "Mom will be back as soon as possible."

Grace chatted with her for a long time before returning the phone to Smith reluctantly.

After finishing the video call, Alyssa sat down on the bench by the roadside.

There is no night shift today, and work ends in the evening, and everyone on the crew is almost gone. Alyssa was at the end because of the video call.

Her location at this time was in a park not far from the hotel.

There are not many people in the park, walking past Alyssa in twos and threes.

Alyssa leaned on the bench, a little lost.

When she said those things to Miana, she didn't actually want to bless her and Karl.

Judging from the current situation, the possibility of her and Karl being together is too small. But she still hoped that Karl could be happy.

In the past few months, her mood has risen and fallen. There were times when she was sad, and when she didn't believe Karl wanted to break up with her. Until now, she was finally willing to accept the fact that she broke up with Karl.

If they can't be together, then she hopes Karl can live well.

Even though Karl's behavior a few days ago made her very angry, after she calmed down, she still remembered Karl's treatment of her more.

She is still willing to believe that the Karl she loved is an upright person, and hopes that he can live a better life.

Alyssa let out a long sigh of relief, got up and walked to the hotel.

â€¦

After Miana left, everything in the crew returned to normal.

After filming closely for a whole month, the crew finally took three days off.

As soon as Alyssa received the holiday notice, she immediately booked a ticket back to Rostenvel.

She wanted to go back to see Grace, very much.

It was already five o'clock in the afternoon when she returned from work, and started booking tickets as soon as she finished work before returning to the hotel. But the latest flight ticket that night was also ten o'clock in the evening.

With a ticket at ten o'clock, it's early morning to return to Rostenvel.

But Alyssa was back home like an arrow, and couldn't manage so much.

If she can return to Rostenvel tonight, she can drive Grace to kindergarten tomorrow morning.

When Alyssa returned to the hotel to pack her luggage, they all hummed.

"Knocking!"

There was a knock on the door.

"Who?" Alyssa asked when she was loading her own toiletries, turning her head to the door.

"Me!"

With just one word, Alyssa could hear Mattie's voice.

Alyssa got up to open the door, turned back and continued packing.

Mattie didn't know that she had booked a flight back to Rostenvel tonight, and said, "What are you going to do to pack your luggage so early? Go out for dinner first, and then collect it when you come back at night."

"I have a ticket at ten o'clock tonight. I packed my things and leave. I won't go out for dinner with you." Alyssa put the wash bag in the suitcase, with a brisk tone and a smile on her face.

Mattie was surprised: "The plane at ten o'clock? It's early in the morning when it arrives in Rostenvel, so it's too late!"

"It's not a big deal to be late." Alyssa didn't care, closed the zipper of the suitcase and lifted the suitcase: "Okay, I'm going to go."

Seeing that she insisted on going back so early, Mattie said, "Shall I let someone from the crew take you to the airport?"

"No, it's still early. I still have plenty of time. I'll just go by car." Alyssa took the bag, pulled the suitcase and walked out.

Mattie came out with her: "Why do you have to rush back tonight, you are so anxious that you want toâ€¦!"

"Well, you go to dinner earlier, and come back early after eating." Alyssa interrupted her, but she felt very happy when she thought of seeing Grace, and she also deliberately said: "Be careful. Don't play too late."

Then, under Mattie's dull gaze, Alyssa pulled the suitcase into the elevator.

"Even if you care aboutâ€¦ me?" Mattie stayed for a while, and when she said the last "me", she pointed her finger at herself.

â€¦!

When Alyssa arrived at the airport, there was still more than an hour before boarding.

She found a restaurant in the waiting room, ordered coffee and waited to board the plane.

Before she finished drinking a cup of coffee, someone sat down in front of her.

"Miss Alyssa."

This voiceâ€¦!

Alyssa looked up and saw Alvin's suave face.

He was wearing a light green shirt today, with the shirt's neckline open downwards, and three buttons without buttoned, which looked a bit bohemian.

But unlike those men who are pretentious and full of obscene thoughts, he looks much cleaner and magnanimous.

"We can meet here too. Does this mean that our fate is destined by heaven?" Alvin looked at Alyssa with a smile from the corner of his eyes, leaned forward slightly, staring at her nicely.

"The matter of fate is the most elusive. Moreover, God's will is often not perfecting people, but God's will is just making people." Alyssa stirred the coffee in the cup and looked at Alvin with a smile.

Alvin was taken aback. He did not grow up in the country. He couldn't react to words like Alyssa going around.

He thought about it for a while, and then said, "You mean, God's will is teasing people most of the time?"

"You can understand it this way." After Alyssa finished speaking, she asked, "Mr. Mann didn't grow up in the country? You speak very well, but sometimes you still have a special accent."

“Yes, I was born in United States.” Alvin did not evade this topic, and simply admitted the fact he was not from here.

Alyssa continued to ask: “Then you return to the country, are you planning to develop in the country?”

“If I knew that there are women as beautiful as Ms. Alyssa in the country, I would have returned sooner.” Alvin looked very serious.

When Alyssa heard the words, she laughed: “There are too many beautiful women in the country, and there are also many good-looking men, but there are not many men who are so good-looking and good-speaking like Mr. Mann.”

Alvin’s hands on his lap tightened, his eyes flashing slightly.

This woman is interesting.

Chapter 724

Alvin and Alyssa chatted for a while, and it was time for boarding.

“I’m going to board the plane.” Alyssa raised her eyes to Alvin, waiting for him to take the initiative to get up and leave.

“Ms. Alyssa is going back to Rostenvel? Me too.” Alvin raised his wrist to check the time, and said: “Now boarding at this time, we may be on the same plane.”

The smile on his face gradually deepened.

Alyssa knew that Alvin would suddenly appear here, and it happened to be on the same plane as Alyssa. It was not accidental.

Alyssa lowered her expression, and said quietly, “Really? Such a coincidence.”

Alvin was about to speak when his cell phone rang.

“Sorry, I will answer the call.” He lowered his head and took out his cell phone to answer the call.

The person at the other end didn’t know what he said, Alvin glanced at Alyssa: “I know.”

When Alyssa felt that Alvin wanted her, she looked down at her mobile phone.

Although Alvin didn’t say a few words when answering the call, Alyssa could hear that his tone was very impatient, but she was patient with him.

In this way, Alyssa was a little curious about who was calling.

Alvin quickly hung up.

He hung up the phone and said to Alyssa, “Let’s go and board the plane together.”

Alyssa said, “I am in economy class.”

Alvin smiled again: “Me too.”

“Really?” Alyssa didn’t believe that Alvin would buy economy class. He is a rich son who used to enjoy it. Of course, his comfort was the most important thing.

Economy class is no better than first class.

“You see through it.” Alvin stretched his hands, without any embarrassment after being seen through.

After Alvin finished speaking, he didn’t stay any longer, so Alyssa ruled out boarding.

After getting on the plane, she found her place to sit down, closed her eyes and prepared to rest for a while.

After a while, she felt someone sitting next to her.

She didn’t open her eyes either, just leaned in.

The people beside her seemed to be holding things, and she could hear the sound of rubbing and rubbing the clothes.

After the person next to her calmed down, she felt heavy on her body, and something was covering her.

Alyssa opened her eyes quickly, she first saw a pair of men’s hands, clean and slender. These hands were covering her with a suit jacket.

Turning her head again, she met Clifford’s smiling eyes: “I thought you were asleep, I was afraid you were cold.”

He simply explained that he didn’t think his behavior was untimely.

With a cold face, Alyssa took off the coat and returned it to him: “I am not cold. If I am cold, I will let the stewardess give the blanket.”

Clifford glanced at the suit, but didn’t say much, just took it over.

As soon as she took over the suit, Alyssa immediately let go of her hand, as if there was a plague on him, afraid of touching his hand.

Clifford saw her movements in his eyes, his face sinking.

Alyssa turned her head and looked to the other side, what day was it? First Alvin, then Clifford.

wrong!

Clifford and Alvin knew each other, maybe they both agreed to go back to Rostenvel together.

And Clifford knew that Alyssa loved Grace very much, and it was not a secret that the crew was on vacation. He must know that she would be eager to return to Rostenvel tonight.

So, she met Alvin in the coffee shop in the waiting room before, but it was actually Clifford who told Alvin of her whereabouts?

Clifford is smart and as careful as a hair, so he can definitely think of this.

Alyssa paused, without turning her head to look at Clifford, and asked directly: "You told Alvin, I will be back to Rostenvel tonight?"

"Yeah." Clifford answered very simply.

After confirming this, Alyssa just sneered without speaking.

The back of the chair sank back, it should be Clifford leaning on the back of the chair.

The next moment, his voice came over: "You don't need to waste time on Alvin, he doesn't know anything."

Alyssa sat up straight and fixedly looked at Clifford: "Grace is just a child and doesn't know anything. Why didn't you think about letting her go?"

The two people didn't speak loudly. People in the front and back rows were all talking, and they would not hear the conversation between them.

Clifford was choked by Alyssa's words and didn't know what to say for a while, only his face was strained.

Alyssa asked him, "Have nothing to say, right?"

Clifford moved his lips and stretched out his hand to pull his tie: "Alyssa, I didn't intend to hurt Grace, nor you."

"You don't need to say, I understand." Alyssa interrupted him, not wanting to listen to his excuses: "It's just because Grace is Karl's daughter. I was once Karl's wife. I and Grace are pawns that can be used to deal with Karl. So we are all used by you."

Clifford groaned for a moment, and said, "I know that you are stubborn about these things. If you are willing to be with me, I will compensate you well."

Alyssa didn't know where Clifford's face could say such a thing, she said mockingly: "You let me stab you and say sorry to you again, okay?"

Without waiting for Clifford to speak, Alyssa said to: "Even if I want to, I won't do it, because I am not an ungrateful person who will take revenge."

Clifford's mask-like face was always peaceful, and finally began to change, like glass shards after being cut, and it took a long time to calm down.

The two stood in a stalemate for a while, and Alyssa turned her head and stopped looking at him.

Clifford didn't make a sound anymore. He leaned back in his chair and stared slightly, but Alyssa knew that he was not asleep because he had kept a posture without moving, not even tilting his head.

It was exactly 12 o'clock when the plane landed at Rostenvel International Airport.

When Alyssa left the airport, it was 12:30.

She lined up and took a taxi home.

While sitting in the car, she was still fortunate, but fortunately she never met Alvin again.

It's two o'clock when she got home.

Alyssa took a brief wash, adjusted the alarm clock, and fell asleep in bed.

â€¦

Early the next morning, Alyssa called Smith when she left home.

"Miss Alyssa." Immediately afterwards, Smith said again: "Are you back?"

Alyssa usually doesn't call him so early, he guessed that Alyssa might be back.

"Yes, I'm back. I will take Grace to kindergarten today. I have already set off now." Alyssa had already walked to the parking lot at this time, and she opened the car door and sat in.

Smith only replied: "I see."

Alyssa drove to the door of Karl's villa, got out of the car and waited for Grace to come out.

Those who are so appropriate like Smith will definitely call the servant to inform her that she is coming to pick up Grace today, so she doesn't have to go in, lest she meets Karl.

Chapter 725

Alyssa waited at the door for ten minutes, and saw the servant leading Grace out of the door.

"Grace."

Alyssa only called her, and she let go and ran towards Alyssa quickly.

The servant with Grace fell down and followed behind her, saying in a flustered tone: "Little Miss, you slow down."

Alyssa was also afraid of her falling, so she ran up to catch her.

As soon as Grace pounced on Alyssa, she opened her hands to hug her: "Mom!"

Alyssa hugged her up, kissed her on the cheek, squeezed her lightly, and said with a smile, "Grace is so heavy now."

Grace pointed two fingers at her, and said seriously, "I just ate two bowls of porridge."

"So amazing?" Alyssa carried Grace into the car and fastened her seat belt.

"Yeah." Grace nodded heavily.

Although she was sitting in the back row, she tilted her head to look at Alyssa who was driving ahead.

Alyssa was amused by her: "Is kindergarten fun?"

Grace thought for a while and said, "It's more fun than at home."

Alyssa drove the car, listening to Grace's chattering all the way.

But Grace usually only talks about half of this matter, and then comes to another matter.

Alyssa didn't see Grace for a month. She listened carefully to what Grace said and responded seriously.

When she was approaching kindergarten, Alyssa found a car following her all the time.

Her heart tightened, and could not help speeding up.

At this moment, when the kindergarten is open, many parents bring their children to the kindergarten, and the flow of people is very large.

No matter how courageous those people are, even if they want to plot bad things, I am afraid they will not dare to do anything at the door of the kindergarten.

As soon as Alyssa stopped the car, her cell phone rang.

Grace heard the ringtone of the phone, tilted her head and asked her curiously: "Mom, who is calling you?"

Alyssa glanced at the phone screen before saying, "It's Uncle Smith."

"Timely help." Alyssa answered the phone and glanced in the rearview mirror again.

She found that the car following her had also stopped.

Smith's voice came from the phone: "Sir asked me to arrange bodyguards for Grace. They drove at the kindergarten gate every morning to guard."

"I see, it turned out to be like this, I thought it was!" Alyssa sighed, "I see."

After hanging up the phone, Alyssa sent Grace in.

Grace will stay in the kindergarten all day, and Alyssa will pick her up when she is over in the afternoon.

After Alyssa came out, she started the car, only to find that she had nowhere to go.

She stopped, sat quietly in the car for a while, took out her mobile phone and called Tina.

"Alyssa!" The cool voice sounded drowsy, and she should still be asleep.

Alyssa asked her: "Still sleeping?"

"Right." Tina's voice became clearer: "Why call me so early?"

"Are you busy today? Are you busy for having a meal together?"

"Huh?" Tina was stunned for a moment before asking, "Are you back?"

"Well, on holiday, and I came back last night."

Tina's voice sounded very excited: "I have time! Why not! Let's have dinner together at noon."

Alyssa asked her: "Where to eat?"

“Yeah!” Tina thought for a moment: “Go to your house and eat. If you eat outside, you are afraid of being photographed.”

“OK.”

Alyssa hung up and drove to the supermarket to buy things.

She also bought the dishes for the evening, and she plans to bring Grace to her tonight.

â€¦

After Alyssa bought things, someone knocked on the door before she arrived home.

Did Tina come so soon?

Alyssa opened the door and found that the person standing outside was Dave.

“Miss Alyssa, long time no see.”

Dave still had a “not easy to mess with” aura all over his body, and there was no extra expression when talking to her, but he looked a little thinner.

She hasn’t seen Dave since the New Year.

Alyssa couldn’t help asking him, “Where have you been during this time?”

“Something private.” Dave replied very briefly.

After thinking about it for a moment, Alyssa probably knew what Dave had done.

She was silent for a moment and asked: “How is Claire’s situation?”

Dave is a killer who has already washed his hands in a golden basin. What private matter can make him lose weight?

Only Claire is left.

Alyssa could guess that he was going to see Claire, and he was not surprised either, and his tone remained unchanged at all: “She is in a bad condition and may die at any time.”

He seemed calm, as if he was talking about an insignificant person.

“Then why don’t you stay with her?” Alyssa asked.

“I have something that must be done, and a promise that must be kept.” Dave’s expression was very solemn.

Alyssa didn’t think much about it. She thought it was Dave and Claire’s agreement, so she didn’t ask any more.

Alyssa nodded and asked him, “Are you coming to see me for something?”

Dave asked her: “When will you leave this time?”

“I have three days off.” Alyssa was a little surprised: “Do you know that I am with the crew?”

“Yeah.” Dave replied, “Notify me when you leave.”

After he finished speaking, he turned back to the opposite room.

At this time, the elevator door opened and Tina walked out of it.

When Tina came out of the elevator, she happened to see Dave walking past and returning to his own home.

“Your bodyguard just came to see you?” Tina asked Alyssa curiously.

“Yeah.” Alyssa’s gaze fell on Tina’s hand: “I’m here as soon as I come. What do you bring with you?”

Tina smiled and said, “Buy some food on the way.”

Alyssa reached out and took it: “Come inside.”

After Tina entered the house, she stared at Alyssa for a while, and finally said: “You seem to be darker.”

Alyssa didn’t care too much and said, “I follow the crew every day, and I’m going to be exposed over there. It will definitely get dark.”

She put away the things Tina bought, and then asked her, “What would you like to eat at noon?”

Tina said a few dishes, and Alyssa took out the dishes and started preparing.

Tina looked at her and chatted with her.

While chatting, Tina fell silent suddenly.

Alyssa didn’t hear her talking for a long time, so she turned to look at her: “Why don’t you speak anymore.”

Tina hesitated and said tentatively, “Do you know something?”

“I didn’t even say what it, how would you know.” Tina said this without end, and Alyssa felt a little strange.

Tina’s tone suddenly became serious: “They are getting married.”

“Who?” Alyssa had a knife in her hands.

Tina looked at her as if she was okay, and was relieved, but the next moment, she saw Alyssa’s fingers stained with blood.

“Alyssa! You have cut your hands!”

Chapter 726

“Huh?” Alyssa was taken aback when she heard Tina’s words, and then looked down at her hand.

The blood from her fingers had dripped onto the cutting board, and she felt the pain from her fingers.

Tina stepped forward and quickly took the kitchen knife in her hand and put it aside, helping her pinch her fingers: "Be careful!"

Alyssa curled her lips and said with a smile: "It's okay, it's just a small wound."

"Small wounds? Look at it for yourself, it will leave a scar if it is deeper!" Tina was a little angry, pinching Alyssa's finger and holding it up to her, letting her see for herself.

"Hiss!" Alyssa felt the wound hurt with such a big movement.

Tina glared at her, squeezing her finger angrily and lowering it to the faucet.

After washing away the blood on her hands, she was about to ask Alyssa if she had band-aids, when she heard Alyssa asking her: "Who did you hear it from?"

Tina didn't react a little at first, and realized that Alyssa was asking about Karl and Miana's marriage, she couldn't help but glared at Alyssa again: "Your hands are like this, and you still want to take care of other people's affairs. ."

Although her mouth was fierce, Tina still told her: "From Peter."

It turned out to be Peter!

"If Peter said it, then this might be true." Alyssa muttered with her eyes down.

Tina saw her look unsettled and squeezed her wound with hatred of iron and steel, "You should tell me if there are band-aids first!"

Alyssa frowned in pain: "In the cabinet in the living room."

Tina found a band-aid and put it on Alyssa. Alyssa still wanted to ask something, but when she saw Tina looking fierce, she didn't ask anymore.

Tina helped her put the band-aids on, and took a closer look before saying: "Your hand is also injured and it won't get wet. Let's go out and eat."

"It's okay, just this finger can't get wet, it won't affect cooking, I!"

Alyssa didn't finish her words, but after seeing her cold and unhappy face, she didn't say any more.

Finally, she was pulled out by Tina.

Tina didn't bother to discuss with her and drove directly to Best Day.

Today is a working day, and the restaurant inside Best Day is still overcrowded.

They didn't ask for a box, but found a card table.

After ordering the food, Tina fixedly stared at Alyssa, not knowing what she was looking at.

Alyssa was uncomfortable with her: "If you have something to say, don't look at me like this."

“Your ex-husband is going to get married, how about you?” Tina paused, tapped her fingertips on the dining table twice, and made a crisp voice: “You also hurry up, find someone to marry! I really can’t find someone. Now, I can introduce to you.”

Alyssa whispered: “What are you talking about!”

Seeing Alyssa doing this, Tina sighed, lowered her voice and said, “I can’t swallow this breath! The big boss lost his memory for three years. He and Miana had such a good time and place, and he didn’t see her. Takedown the big boss! You and the big boss got through everything, but he fell in love with Miana again! What’s the matter!”

Listening to what Tina said so much, Alyssa was very calm.

She lowered her eyes, and the bits and pieces that she had experienced with Karl appeared in her mind, but she knew that she was very calm at the moment.

“Those things are over. When I was with him, we didn’t disappoint each other’s feelings. That’s enough.”

Alyssa smiled helplessly: “Besides, I have let it go too.”

“Let it down?” Tina glanced at Alyssa’s fingers still attached to the bandage, and expressed suspicion.

Alyssa touched the injured finger, her face calm: “I have not completely let go, but I have decided to let it go. Now, the most important thing for me is not to pay attention to Karl’s marriage. , But to win Grace’s custody.”

Hearing this, Tina suddenly raised her head to look at her: “Yes! Why did I forget this!”

Regarding Grace’s custody rights, Alyssa had thought about it before, but it hadn’t been until the time to fight for custody.

If Karl and Miana really decide to get married, she must take over the custody rights.

Alyssa didn’t know whether Miana really loved Karl. What she knew was that Miana would definitely not treat Grace well.

Before she woke up and hadn’t fully recovered her memory, she ran into Grace who was lost in the mall. At that time, Miana wanted to throw Grace away.

Her Grace must not live under the same roof as Miana.

“But, if you want Grace’s custody, will the big boss give you?” Tina felt that Alyssa’s chances of winning were not great.

Alyssa saw the cool thoughts: “My chances of winning are indeed not great. Back then, on the small island, I thought I was bound to die, but I am still alive and well? As long as I have a chance, as long as I don’t give up, I believe , I will definitely get custody!”

Seeing her so firm, Tina shook her hand and said, “Well, you can do it. If you need me, just say it!”

No matter when, Tina will always be on her side.

Thousands of words can only converge into one sentence: “Thank you, Tina.”

Tina let go of her hand with a “heap”, “It’s boring for you to say that. Why do we have friendship, do we need to say thank you?”

Alyssa smiled without speaking.

It just so happened that the food they ordered was brought up, and the two of them ate and chatted.

“Karl is getting married, is it accurate?” Alyssa asked again.

Tina thought for a while, and said, “I just heard him mention it, but the news must be accurate, but don’t know when it will be.”

Alyssa thought for a moment, and came to the conclusion: “In this way, it should be too early, it won’t be recently. If the wedding is really ready, there will definitely be news.”

â€!

In the evening, Alyssa drove to the kindergarten to meet Grace.

At the entrance of the kindergarten, she met Smith.

Smith nodded slightly, still very respectful: “Miss Alyssa.”

Alyssa nodded politely, and said, “I’m at home these few days. I want to pick Grace to stay with me for a few days. If it is not a trouble, Mr. Smith will talk to Karl?”

“Ok, Miss Alyssa.” Smith didn’t seem surprised at all.

“Sorry, I didn’t tell you in advance and let you run for nothing.” Alyssa was actually afraid that she would tell Smith in advance, and Smith would tell Karl, and then she would have to talk to Karl again.

She is now trying to avoid direct contact with Karl.

Because she has to accumulate her strength, and when she fights with Karl for custody, she still has a tough battle to fight.

Smith was not angry at all: “It doesn’t matter, this is my duty. Since Miss Alyssa picks Grace back, I will leave first.”

Chapter 727

After Alyssa watched Smith leave, she waited for Grace to come out at the entrance of the kindergarten.

When Grace saw Alyssa, she was particularly happy and ran towards her directly.

She ran over and hugged Alyssa’s legs directly, raised her head and blinked her eyes and smiled at Alyssa: “I was just thinking about whether my mother would come to pick me up.”

Alyssa pinched her nose and hugged her up: “Didn’t I tell you this morning? When you are over from school, I will come to pick you up.”

Grace said seriously: “But what if you want to work! If you go to work, you won’t have time to pick me up.”

Alyssa didn't know what to say for a while.

Every time she didn't have time to see Grace, it was because she was busy with work, and Grace had already remembered it.

Alyssa put Grace down, she squatted in front of Grace, her eyes were level with Grace, and she said slowly and clearly: "Mom said she will come to pick you up, she will definitely come to pick you up. Unless something serious happens. It's something, otherwise, Mom won't miss the appointment, remember?"

"Remember." Grace nodded seriously.

After returning home, Alyssa went to cook.

Grace took a small stool and ran to the kitchen, put it in front of the flow table, stood on the stool, grabbed the table, and went to help Alyssa with food.

At this time, she saw the band-aid on Grace's hand.

Grace leaned over half of her body and grabbed Alyssa's hand: "Mom, you are hurt!"

"It's okay." Alyssa couldn't help laughing as she looked at her fuss.

"Does it hurt?" Grace looked up at her, her watery eyes full of worry.

Seeing Alyssa's heart was about to melt, she leaned over and kissed Grace's cheek: "It's really okay, it doesn't hurt at all."

"Mom, wait for me!" Grace suddenly jumped off the stool and ran out.

"What are you going to do?" Alyssa asked her in a loud voice.

Grace didn't answer her, she turned in the living room, Alyssa was about to go out to see what was going on, Grace had already ran in with a small pink paper box.

The mini paper box is really small, it's a big palm, the color is pink, and there is a bear pattern on it.

Grace came over with the small paper box, and while climbing on the stool, he handed the paper box to Alyssa.

Alyssa saw her crawling awkwardly, stretched out her hand to help her, and took the box: "What did you take?"

"Little bear band-aid." After Grace stood up, she reached out and took the small box that Alyssa had just handed over: "I'll open it for you. This band-aid will not hurt after you put it on."

If you coax children like this, only children will believe it.

But Alyssa still cooperated with her very seriously: "Really? Then I will try it too."

Grace opened the box and took a powder bandage from the inside, tearing it apart and putting it on Alyssa's finger.

Alyssa tore off the band-aid that Tina had put on her before, and handed her finger to Grace.

Grace opened her mouth slightly and exclaimed, "What a big wound."

"Huh~" She blew for Alyssa, and then asked: "Does it still hurt?"

Alyssa shook her head: "It doesn't hurt anymore."

Grace gave a small face and snorted: "Mom is a liar, it still hurts after screaming!"

"â€¦" Alyssa was a little embarrassed. She originally wanted to coax Grace, but she didn't expect to be exposed instead.

After Grace finished speaking, she cautiously helped Alyssa put the bandage tape on. When she applied it, she was so careful that she could not breathe easily.

After she finally posted it, she straightened up, let out a long sigh of relief, and clapped her hands: "It's done! This time it really doesn't hurt, right?"

Seeing Grace's appearance as a little adult, the smile on Alyssa's lips could not help deepening.

Grace murmured again: "I'm not a stupid kid! it's useless at all, but putting on this band-aid makes it less painful!"

"Yes, this time it doesn't hurt much. Thank you Grace." Alyssa touched her head.

Grace raised her head and smiled happily: "No thanks, because I love you~"

"Hahaha~" Alyssa really couldn't hold back her laugh this time, she really didn't expect Grace to say such a thing.

Grace's small eyebrows frowned and looked at Alyssa with dissatisfaction.

Alyssa quickly stopped her smile, calmed down, and asked her: "Mom loves you too, but mom still wants to know who taught you this."

"Taught by the teacher." Grace carefully packed her band-aid box, jumped off the stool and prepared to put it back.

"Did your teacher give your band-aids?" Alyssa hadn't prepared anything like this for Grace.

Grace's voice came from the living room: "Daddy bought it!"

"Your father bought it?" Karl bought something like this for Grace?

"Ok!"

Alyssa was a little dazed, would Karl buy such things?

It is also possible that he ordered Smith to buy it, but Smith bought this.

After Grace came back after putting the small box, she said to Alyssa, "I went to the supermarket with my dad that day after school. My dad bought it."

Alyssa was speechless for a moment, and she could hardly imagine Karl taking Grace to buy such things.

â€¦

After dinner, Grace sat on the carpet and read a comic book, and Alyssa went to the kitchen to wash the dishes.

As soon as she finished washing the dishes, the phone rang.

Alyssa hesitated slightly before going to get the phone.

Seeing the name noted above, she did not immediately answer the call.

Because this call was from Karl.

Karl's purpose for calling her was nothing more than to ask about Grace's situation.

Alyssa took a deep breath and answered the phone.

She put the phone to her ear and did not make a sound immediately, waiting for Karl on the other end to make a sound first.

Karl really spoke first.

"Grace is with you." His voice was cold and distant, and Alyssa could even imagine him sitting at the desk in the study at this time, answering the phone expressionlessly.

"Well, I just came back for few days, so I picked her up." After Alyssa said, she waited for Karl on the other side to speak.

But there was only silence on the other end, and Alyssa had to continue: "I will send Grace back then."

After a few seconds, Karl's voice came from the phone: "Yes."

"Then if nothing else—"

Karl interrupted the last half-sentence "I'll hang up" before finishing saying, "I and Miana are getting married."

For a moment, Alyssa felt that her mind was blank.

But she quickly recovered her voice: "Congratulations."

"You should cherish the time you spend with Grace. After I get married, you can no longer take her to you casually." don't know if it is Alyssa's illusion, she always feels Karl's voice sounds colder than before.

Chapter 728

At the same time, Alyssa's heart tightened as he said that.

Alyssa asked, "What do you mean?"

After listening to her, Karl said straightforwardly: "I know you want Grace's custody, but I won't give it to you."

Alyssa couldn't help tightening her hand while holding the phone, her voice was full of icy cold: "So, we still have a tacit understanding. My thoughts are the same as you."

The voice fell, and the phone was silent.

After a while, Alyssa heard Karl's low and cold voice: "Then see you in court."

Alyssa returned only one word, with a firm tone: "Okay."

Then she hung up the phone.

Putting the phone aside, Alyssa's body was a little soft, she supported the flow desk to prevent herself from falling.

At noon, Tina told her that Karl was about to get married, and she calmly talked about Grace's custody.

However, when Karl personally told her that he was going to get married and wanted to take Grace's custody, Alyssa still found it difficult to accept.

She had never thought that one day she would meet Karl in court, just to fight for Grace's custody.

Alyssa could see from the kitchen door, she could just see Grace who was leaning on the coffee table to read a comic book, she still couldn't understand the words, she only looked at the pictures, pointed with one hand on it, and muttered something in her mouth

Looking at Grace in this way, Alyssa's hand on the stage slowly tightened. In any case, it was impossible for her to let Grace and Miana live together.

She must contend for Grace's custody rights, even if it is unscrupulous

After Karl hung up the phone, he put his elbows on the desk and held his fingers together against his forehead.

Smith knocked on the door and came in: "Sir, are you still going back from work?"

Karl did not look up with his head up, and his voice was slightly muted: "Even Grace is not at home. I won't go back tonight. You go back."

Smith looked at him like this, and he couldn't bear to say, "Sir, do you have to go this far with Madam?"

Karl did not speak. After a while, he straightened up, retracted his hands and raised his head.

His eyes were filled with things that could not be understood all the time, and they were dull, as if they could not see the side at a glance.

"This is the last step. After this step, you can close the net." Karl's voice was still dull, and there was a tiredness that was rarely seen in his voice.

"I think

Smith also wanted to persuade Karl, he always felt that Karl actually didn't need to bear these things alone.

The two have been together for many years and have had a deep understanding. When they Smith spoke, Karl knew what he was going to say.

He interrupted Smith's words: "You don't have to say, go back."

Smith sighed and turned around and went out.

He should have known that he could not persuade Karl.

Even if Alyssa came, she might not be able to persuade him.

Once Karl decided something, no one could persuade him.

â€¦

The next day was Saturday, and Alyssa planned to take Grace out to play.

Grace is still very interested in playgrounds.

Halfway through, Alyssa sent a video to Tina, with a sad expression on her face: "If I hadn't announced today, I would also come and play with you."

"You better go to work!" Alyssa pulled Grace over: "Say hello to Aunt Tina."

Grace smiled happily, and did not forget to show off with Tina: "Aunt Tina, we are going to eat French fries soon~"

"I'm so pitiful, I don't even have French fries to eat~" Tina narrowed her mouth and Grace pretended to be pitiful.

Grace blew a kiss to Tina, "You have to go to work!"

Tina was amused by her, pretending to be a ferocious snort.

Alyssa ended the video call with Tina, and took Grace to eat French fries.

The mother and daughter played all day and were tired when they got home. When she helped Grace take a bath, Grace had been dozing off.

After she took Grace back to her room, she checked on the Internet a law firm in Rostenvel that specializes in custody cases.

Karl told her personally that he was getting married, which meant that this matter was urgent.

She was about to start preparing for this now. She wanted to know how likely she was to win against Karl.

But there is another problem. They have not disclosed Grace's existence to the public. Once they go to court, they will most likely expose Grace.

With such an identity as Karl, someone would definitely want to take pictures of Grace.

She didn't want Grace to live in the public eye, and everyone knew that her parents had divorced since she was a child.

It is not a shame to have parents divorced, but a child is sensitive. Everyone knows that her parents divorced since she was a child. This must have an impact on her growth.

Alyssa stretched out her hand and rubbed her eyebrows, lost in thought.

She sat in front of the computer in the middle of the night, and after searching a lot of information, she did not leave the phone number of any office.

In the end, she decided to ask Clayton.

Although Clayton is only good at fighting business and economic lawsuits, he should also have some understanding of these. She just asked Clayton to ask how likely she is to win.

â€¦

Alyssa has a total of three days off. On Saturday, he went shopping, and on the weekend she took Grace to the zoo.

It's a small zoo. She passed in the morning and went home at three in the afternoon.

Alyssa booked a plane ticket for Monday night. On weekend night, she sent Grace back to Karl's villa.

Before going, she called Smith and asked him to tell Karl that she sent Grace back.

When she took Grace to the door of Karl's villa, she saw Karl standing at the door waiting.

Alyssa got out of the car and carried Grace out.

Grace didn't see Karl for two days, so she happily yelled, "Dad!"

Karl stood still and didn't speak or move. His gaze came over and fell on Alyssa.

Alyssa stood by the car and looked at him.

Grace pulled her clothes corner: "Mom, I'm going to my father's place, when will you come back to see me?"

"Maybe you will have to wait a few more weeks." Alyssa touched her head.

Grace's expression was a little disappointed, and she reluctantly walked to Karl's side.

"Goodbye, Grace." Alyssa waved at her.

Grace walked to the side of Karl, and even though he was reluctant, he still waved to her.

Alyssa glanced at Karl again, always feeling that he seemed to be thinner than before, she frowned slightly, and then stretched out again.

Maybe he is about to get married, so he has to deal with the work to make him so thin.

Alyssa laughed at herself, turned around and opened the door to get into the car, and drove away without looking back.

Until Alyssa's car disappeared, Karl was still standing there.

Chapter 729

Grace reached out to grab Karl's hand, her hand was small, and she could only hold one finger of Karl.

Karl squeezed her hand in the palm of his hand with his backhand, a limp, he didn't use much force for fear of pinching her.

Grace raised her head laboriously, trying to see Karl's face clearly: "Dad, are you reluctant to part with Mom as well."

For her, Karl was too tall, her neck was sore, and she couldn't see Karl's face clearly.

She simply ignored her, leaning her head on Karl's body, and whispered: "Mom took me to the zoo today, so tired."

At this time, Karl said a word: "Yeah."

But Grace was already yawning, she didn't know that Karl was answering her previous question.

Karl leaned over and hugged Grace. As he walked into the villa, he asked, "What animals are there in the zoo."

Speaking of the zoo, Grace became interested again, and she became a little more sober: "Many birds, and tigers."

Karl asked: "Then what animal does mother like best?"

Grace was really tired and panicked, put her head on Karl's shoulder, and whispered: "Mom said she likes them all because the animals are so cute."

Karl did not speak anymore, because Grace's breathing gradually calmed down, and she fell asleep.

â€¦

After returning home, Alyssa called Peter.

Peter has always been active in answering the phone, and it is the same this time.

The phone rang twice, and he answered, "Alyssa, what's the matter?"

"I want to know Clayton's phone number." Alyssa didn't say politely to Peter, and directly said her purpose.

"Okay, let me tell you, would you remember it, or wait for it to be sent to you on WeChat?"

"You tell me now, I'll remember."

Peter told Alyssa the phone number of Clayton.

"Okay, I'll take it down." After Alyssa finished remembering the phone number, Peter asked in confusion, "What do you want the phone number of Clayton for? Are you going to file an economic lawsuit?"

"Do you know the specific date when Karl got married?" When Alyssa asked, Peter understood. Alyssa asked him what Clayton's phone was doing.

"But, Clayton is not good at fighting this kind of marriage lawsuit?" After Peter finished speaking, he added: "How many lawyers should I arrange for you?"

"I just want to consult him first, not let him help me with the lawsuit. Thank you for your kindness. This is a matter between me and Karl. I want to solve it myself. Besides, if you let Karl know that you help me find a lawyer"

Alyssa paused deliberately when she said that, Peter quickly said: "Okay, then I won't help you find a lawyer. But if you have anything to do, you should still find me. We are friends."

"Yeah." Peter is very loyal.

After finishing the phone call with Peter, Alyssa tried to call Clayton.

It is less than seven o'clock, and Clayton shouldn't be busy either, but he might be eating.

After the phone was connected, it rang for a while before someone answered it.

"Who?" The man's voice was very clear.

Alyssa asked, "Is it Lawyer Clayton?"

Clayton glanced at the phone number again, and after confirming that the number was not familiar, he said, "Sorry, this is my personal phone number, not for official business."

Alyssa was afraid that he would hang up, and said anxiously, "I am Alyssa."

"Alyssa?" Clayton said her name in surprise, isn't this the one from Karl's family?

Rules are rules, but they also divide people.

Clayton asked, "Do you have anything to do with me?"

"I want to ask you something."

"You say." Clayton's crisp temperament is very similar to Peter's.

"If I want to fight for custody rights with Karl, what is my chance of winning?"

"Huh?" It was Clayton who was used to seeing the world and seeing all kinds of bizarre cases. It was the first time someone approached him to ask about Karl and his chances of winning a lawsuit against him.

Since he became Adams' legal counsel, he has never lost. Even before joining Adams' family, he never lost the case.

Although he does not fight for custody cases for others, he can still help her analyze the situation.

Seeing that he hadn't said anything, Alyssa explained: "Lawyer Clayton, I just want you to tell me how much I have the chance to win. I also know that it is difficult to win against Karl."

Clayton has principles of life. Since Alyssa found him and asked, he still said truthfully: "If Karl is determined to fight for custody with you, you won't have a chance of winning."

Although Alyssa had thought about this possibility a long time ago, she still found it difficult to accept Clayton's words so decisively.

Alyssa asked again: "Is there really no chance of winning a point?"

There is still some fluke in her heart.

There was a hint of eagerness in her tone, Clayton was silent for a moment and said: "What I said has no chance of winning. It is only on the premise that Karl has to have custody rights. If he relaxes a little bit, you still have The odds of winning."

Saying this is the same as not saying it.

Because Karl had said plainly in the previous phone call, he would definitely not give her the custody of Grace.

Karl was already determined to fight her for custody.

Alyssa took a deep breath and said in a low tone, "I see, thank you, Lawyer Clayton."

Clayton was also very clear about Alyssa and Karl. He and Karl had been in friendship for many years, and couldn't bear to watch them come this far.

He hesitated for a while, and finally said: "There are many factors to win a lawsuit, none of which are indispensable, not just relying on strength, Cox said it all, Miss Alyssa cherishes it."

He actually didn't see Alyssa many times this year, but his impression of Alyssa remained with the face that smiled and looked forward to brilliance when he first saw it.

Alyssa is undoubtedly a rare beauty. What's rarer is that she is smart and calm.

He remembered the days when he and Peter went to Karl's house to have a meal, and he missed somehow.

He didn't actually have any pity for Alyssa, but he just felt it was a pity.

It is a pity that this period of their relationship was also a pity that Alyssa was bumpy.

Clayton's words were somewhat unexpected to Alyssa. She said gratefully: "I understand, thank you, Lawyer Clayton."

"Goodbye." Clayton hung up the phone, always feeling a little depressed, so he picked up the phone and called Karl.

After the call was connected, it kept beeping and then disconnected.

Huh? Karl still hung up the phone?

Clayton felt uncomfortable. He was depressed because of Karl's affairs. How could Karl not answer his phone?

He made seven or eight phone calls, and finally Karl became impatient and answered the phone.

Chapter 730

"Clayton, you'd better tell me something terribly important, or you can prepare a coffin for yourself!" Karl's voice was gloomy.

Clayton had no doubt that if Karl was in front of him at this time, he would definitely be beaten up.

Clayton was still a little scared. After all, he couldn't beat Karl, and he didn't say those useless, and said directly: "Your ex-wife called me just now."

"Alyssa?" Karl paused and asked, "What does she call you for?"

This tone sounded a bit unusual, Clayton couldn't think of the unusual.

"She asked, I have some chances of winning against you for custody."

"What did you say?"

"I said there is no chance of winning a point, let her die this heart!" The latter sentence was deliberately added by Clayton to Karl.

He didn't know what Karl was going to do. For a long time, Karl would approach him if he had something to do. It was all legal. As for relationship issues, he couldn't control it, and Karl couldn't tell him.

He just felt that Karl's behavior this time was weird, unlike his previous behavior.

With Karl's temperament, if he really made up his mind to take Grace's custody, he would definitely not show any affection, let alone give Alyssa a chance to file a lawsuit.

He had also seen Karl's determination and cruelty.

Karl didn't have any special reaction after hearing what he said. He just asked, "What else?"

"I also reminded her that proper methods will definitely not be able to deal with you, so that she can consider crooked ways. For example, find a backer that is stronger than you or something!"

Although Clayton's tone was not very serious, he was serious.

"Heh." Karl just laughed coldly, and then said: "Can she find a backer bigger than me?"

Clayton thought of another thing at this time, and there was a trace of worry in his voice: "Did you forget one thing?"

"what?"

Clayton's tone suddenly became extremely serious: "Adams' current legal person in power is Alyssa! When you transferred Adams' to Alyssa, I did the procedures for you."

He also just remembered this incident, after so long, he almost never remembered it. If it hadn't been for Alyssa to call him today, and he and Karl had talked about this, he would have forgotten.

Clayton's heart also followed up. He couldn't know what Adams' wealth meant.

Including Karl's private property, real estate, everything added up, such a large fortune, even he would be moved.

Compared with his sudden nervousness, Karl was much calmer.

He just asked lightly: "So what?"

“Youâ€¦” Clayton was speechless for a while, and after a while, he continued: “So what? That’s all your wealth!”

Karl fell silent this time.

Clayton thought that Karl had really listened to it this time, and after thinking about it, he said, “Although the procedures have been completed, they have not been made public. If you want to take Karl back to your own hands. Now I can think of a way to help you, but it will be a little troublesome.”

As soon as the voice fell, he heard Karl’s unhesitating voice: “No.”

“Then youâ€¦” Clayton couldn’t figure out what Karl thought.

Karl said in a calm tone: “If one day I encounter an accident, please come forward and publicize the documents to prove that Adams’ real power holder is Alyssa.”

Clayton had been a lawyer for nearly ten years, and it was only in Karl that he could encounter something that even he couldn’t figure out.

“What nonsense are you talking about! A cruel-hearted person like you, isn’t everyone dead? Are you still alive? I’m afraid I won’t wait for you to die in front of you on the day of the accident.”

Clayton didn’t take Karl’s words to heart, and Karl didn’t say much, “As long as you remember my words.”

“No, I have a question. I especially want to know what you are going to do! Such a big Adams’ Group gave it away without blinking. Now it is competing with others for custody of the child. Youâ€¦beepâ€¦”

Hearing the “beep”, Clayton thought he had heard it wrong, and then “heed” to the phone, then took the phone down and took a look, only to find that the phone had returned to the address book interface.

Again! Karl’s problem with hanging up the phone at all times is reallyâ€¦ annoying!

â€¦

Clayton’s words made Alyssa stay awake all night.

She was almost completely sleepy.

She completely believed what Clayton said, but she couldn’t admit defeat.

This is a lawsuit that she has no chance of winning a single point, but she must win.

She remembered that Clayton said at the end “not just relying on strength”.

“It’s not just strength!” Alyssa murmured this sentence again. After thinking about it for a moment, she reacted fiercely. Clayton meant to let her use some extraordinary means.

The so-called “extraordinary” means must not be serious means.

For example, during the trial, something went wrong with the lawyer, or something went wrong with Karlâ€¦

Karl was powerful and influential, but he was not really invulnerable. There is nothing perfect in this world, let alone human beings.

There is always a simplification in Hundred Secrets. Under normal procedures and under normal circumstances, Alyssa will never win the lawsuit. If she really need to use meansâ€¦!

Alyssa sighed long.

If that day is really reached, can she only rely on such ill-conceived means?

Alyssa couldn't help tightening her hand on her side.

The next day, Alyssa contacted several law firms to inquire about the situation and met with two lawyers.

Every lawyer feels that he has outstanding ability and thinks that he will be able to win the lawsuit, so he talks in front of Alyssa.

Naturally, Alyssa didn't directly specify that he was going to compete with Karl for custody, but just mentioned that the other party was rich and powerful. As a result, they hesitated slightly and asked to know the details of the matter.

After contacting the two lawyers Alyssa had met, they felt a little untrustworthy, so they didn't contact them again.

In the evening, she was going to the crew again by plane, so she went directly to the airport with her luggage.

On the way to the airport, she received a call from Mattie.

"What time is your plane?" Mattie asked her.

"Six o'clock."

There was filming the next day, and Alyssa didn't book a ticket too late, so she booked a ticket at six o'clock. It was still early to get there, so she could sleep peacefully.

But now it seems that she can't sleep peacefully at all.
