

Predestined 751

Chapter 751

When the voice fell, Alyssa also parked the car on the side of the road.

Rachel's expression recovered a little, and she asked, "Do you really know where Isabel is?"

Alyssa looked impatient and murmured, "Get out of the car!"

There was a glimmer of hope on Rachel's face. Not only did she not get out of the car, but instead she leaned over and grabbed Alyssa's arm and asked excitedly: "Why do you dare me to get out of the car and not answer my question? Do you really know where Isabel is?"

Isabel! It's Isabel again!

Alyssa clenched her hand tightly, released it again, and coldly shook her hand away, staring at her with fixed eyes, and said word by word: "Please get out of the car now!"

Rachel was stunned. While such Alyssa made her feel a little scared, she was also shocked.

"You let me get out of the car?" She looked at Alyssa in disbelief, couldn't believe that this was what Alyssa had said.

Alyssa didn't blink her eyes, and the chill in her eyes was even worse: "Is there a third person in the car?"

The corners of Rachel's lips moved, but he couldn't say a word.

Suddenly, she seemed to be thinking of something again. She grabbed Alyssa's arm and said, "Clifford goes to a nursing home in the suburbs once a week. Did he hide Isabel there?"

Alyssa was about to rush her out of the car, and after hearing this, she paused slightly.

She looked at Rachel and asked: "Nursing home?"

Rachel replied immediately: "Yes, he will go to the nursing home in the suburbs once a week, sometimes for half a day, sometimes for a day, but every time he goes there will take a bunch of flowers."

"Take a bunch of flowers?" Alyssa curled the corners of her lips without smiling. "Do you think Clifford will take a bunch of flowers to see Isabel?"

Rachel shook her head solemnly, and said, "I didn't mean that, I have a hunch, Isabel is likely to be there."

"She's inside, you can just go find her." Alyssa pulled her arm out of Rachel's hand.

Rachel murmured: "The security in that sanatorium is very strict. Everyone who enters must register and verify their faces. You can't get in when you fish in troubled waters!"

Alyssa was a little surprised, such a strict sanatorium, it looked like it was not an ordinary sanatorium.

If what Rachel said was true, then Clifford took a bunch of flowers to the nursing home every week, he must be visiting someone, most likely a woman, and this woman must not be Isabel.

Clifford is not an ordinary man, let alone a romantic man. But did he bring that bunch of flowers over, just for a visit?

Bring a bunch of flowers every week and put them in a vase. If you take good care of them, it is not impossible to maintain a week of freshness.

If Clifford went to the nursing home to bring flowers to the nursing home every week, as she guessed, it was to arrange flowers in the room of the person he was visiting, then the person he was visiting must be extremely close to him!

Very close woman!

Alyssa murmured, "Could it be his sister?"

"What did you say?" Alyssa's voice was a little quiet and she spoke very quickly, so Rachel did not hear what she said.

Alyssa only said coldly: "It's nothing."

Then she got out of the car and went around to the other side, opened the door, and directly pulled Rachel down.

"Alyssa, what are you doing! Let go of me!" Rachel didn't get what he wanted to know from Alyssa's mouth, and was unwilling to get out of the car.

After Alyssa pulled Rachel out of the car, she stared at her and said, "If you want to find Isabel, just go and don't come to me again. I have nothing to do with you, and Isabel has nothing to do with me. , You should go to Colin and Travis, they are Isabel's relatives."

After Alyssa finished speaking, she turned around and returned to the car and drove away.

"Alyssa!" Rachel unwillingly chased forward for a short while, Alyssa's car had already driven far, so she had to stop and stomped angrily on the spot.

Alyssa was a little absent-minded while driving the car.

According to her previous guess, Clifford might have arranged his sister Muffi in the nursing home.

Muffi was very ill. When she was in the United States, Clifford also took her to see Muffi.

She did not forget the purpose of Clifford's approach to her at the beginning. At that time, Clifford cared about her body very much. He wanted to use her to save Muffi.

But there were too many things that happened later, and Clifford never mentioned it again. Instead, he returned to the country and became a university professor as if nothing had happened.

She didn't know what Clifford was thinking. He brought Muffi back to the country because he was in the country?

Did Clifford still not give up using her to save Muffi?

In the beginning, Clifford never made a move, because for him, Alyssa still has utility.

Now that Alyssa and Karl broke up for so long, Clifford did not move.

Alyssa was a little confused and at a loss for a while.

!

Alyssa didn't know how she drove back home.

As soon as she entered the house, she kicked her shoes away, sat on the sofa and did not move.

Very confused in my mind.

For a while, it was a matter of arguing with Karl for custody, and for a while, Clifford grabbed her to rescue Muffi.

Alyssa stretched out her hands irritably and hugged her head, curled up into a ball and fell into the corner of the sofa, motionless.

don't know how long it took, she heard the doorbell.

"Who?" Alyssa asked outside the door.

The doorbell didn't ring.

Alyssa walked to the door barefoot, looked out of the cat's eyes, and found that it was Dave, and opened the door.

Alyssa asked, "Anything?"

Dave had nothing to do with his eyebrows. He looked a little tangled, but he didn't speak.

Alyssa asked curiously: "What's wrong with you?"

"Can I come in and talk?" Dave looked up at her, his eyebrows tightened.

Alyssa thought for a while, then opened the door a little wider, stepped aside, and nodded towards Dave: "Come in."

Dave walked in, still looking a little cautious.

Alyssa closed the door behind him and looked at Dave curiously.

Dave is a person who usually does not speak as much as possible, and when he needs to speak, he hopes that a sentence can be omitted and finished in one word.

What happened this time, asked him to knock on the door to find her, and he looked like he needed someone to enlighten!

Alyssa walked around him and pointed to the sofa: "Sit down, I will pour you some water."

Dave really sat down.

Alyssa turned to look at Dave while pouring water.

Dave looked around, as if coming to her house for the first time.

Speaking of it, Dave has not come to her very much, and when he brought things, he basically gave them to her and left directly, let alone asked to come in like today.

Chapter 752

Alyssa poured the water, put it in front of Dave, and sat down opposite him: "Now you can talk about it, what happened to you?"

Dave held up the water glass to see Alyssa: "I'll drink some water first."

Alyssa nodded: "You drink."

Dave drank the water, looking a little confused. After putting down the water glass, he squeezed his face as if he did not know how to speak.

Alyssa tilted her head slightly and leaned back with her arms around her, with a calm expression: "Dave, you are very abnormal today."

"Yes?" Dave twitched the corner of his mouth, showing a very reluctant smile.

Alyssa felt even more weird.

She looked at Dave up and down. The clothes he wears are what he usually wears. After all, he only wears those two sets of clothes, Alyssa remembered it early.

He didn't look hurt, and there was no sadness in his expression.

This was weird, Alyssa couldn't think of anything that would make Dave so weird.

She looked blatantly, Dave was a little awkward and took a drink again, very uncomfortable.

After drinking the water, he looked at Alyssa: "Forget it, let's not talk about me. What about you, do you have any hope of winning the lawsuit with Karl?"

Alyssa was taken aback, and then said, "There is no hope, but I must win."

As if finally finding a suitable topic, Dave's whole person became more natural: "You want to beat him, but it's a bit difficult."

"I know."

"But there is still hope."

"Ok."

"..." Dave pursed his lips and didn't know what to say.

The two had nothing to talk about, but Alyssa was actually a bit embarrassed.

Suddenly, Dave "brushed" and stood up: "I remember that I still have soup at home, I will go back first."

Without waiting for Alyssa to react, he fled and left Alyssa's home.

When Alyssa looked back, she saw the door closed.

She was a little confused, what happened to Dave?

Outside.

As soon as Dave closed the door, he took out his cell phone and made a call.

The owner of the phone was very active in answering the phone, and he answered after only two beeps.

“Karl, what do you think of me? I’m a bodyguard and not an old mother. What happened to your wife, let me talk about it? I’ll not tell you something like this next time!”

Karl interrupted him: “Did she say anything?”

Dave said in a bad tone: “Nothing.”

There was a moment of silence on the other side: “I see.”

Feeling that Karl was about to hang up, Dave remembered something, and asked: “Don’t hurry up to hang up. You know that Alyssa stays up late, and you know that she is sick, even if she is in a bad mood. Also know! You didn’t install a monitor in her house, did you?”

Dave wanted to ask Karl this question a long time ago, but either he forgot or he didn’t have time.

Karl didn’t give him any answer, so he hung up the phone.

Dave sneered and said to himself: “This pervert.”

Then put the phone back in his pocket and strode back to his home.

!

On the other side, Karl hung up Dave’s phone and called Smith: “Come in.”

Smith soon came in.

“Sir, what’s the matter?”

Karl commanded: “Check who Alyssa saw after leaving Best Day.”

Since Smith learned of Karl’s plan, Karl blatantly asked him to check Alyssa’s whereabouts.

“OK, Sir,” Smith responded and turned and walked out.

When he walked to the door, Karl’s voice came from behind: “Hurry up.”

Smith had to answer again before opening the door.

It didn’t take long before Smith returned.

Smith stood in front of Karl’s desk with a stack of documents in his hand, and said, “After Mrs. Alyssa left Best Day, she originally drove home, but there was a car following her on the road, but the person who followed her was her biological mother, Rachel.”

Karl was looking through the file while listening. When he heard the name, his hand paused.

“Rachel?” He hadn’t heard this name for a long time.

“Yeah.” Smith nodded and continued: “Madame Alyssa and her biological mother chatted for a while in the car, but it seemed that the conversation was not pleasant. The two had a dispute. Then Madam went back.”

Karl leaned back in the chair and frowned slightly: “Can you find out what they talked about?”

“I didn’t install a bug-listening device in the young lady’s car, how can I find out what they were talking about?”

Smith was originally just complaining, but after seeing Karl’s expression getting more and more serious, he asked incredulously: “Sir, you don’t really want to pretend to be eavesdropping in Madam’s car-listening Right?”

Karl’s eyes were deep, and he asked, “What do you think?”

“This is not so good.” Smith could understand Karl’s thoughts, but could not agree with his approach.

Karl lowered his head and turned his attention to the file again: “You go out.”

Smith turned around and walked out.

After walking to the door, Karl’s commanding voice came from behind: “Find a chance to get things done as soon as possible.”

When Smith heard this, a stagger almost fell to the ground.

He originally thought that Karl had already given up the idea of installing a bug-listening device in Alyssa’s car, but he didn’t expect that Karl would actually do this.

“Sir,” Smith wanted to persuade him: “If the young lady knows about this, she will definitely be angry.”

The feelings between people are simple and complex.

Karl’s starting point is good because he cares about Alyssa, but this approach is not desirable.

Smith stood by the door and waited for a long time, but Karl did not look up at him either.

He knew that Karl had made up his mind to do this and couldn’t listen to other people’s advice.

Smith had to push the door out.

In the evening, when Grace was over from school, he drove to pick up Grace.

At the entrance of the kindergarten, he met Alyssa.

Alyssa took the initiative to greet him: “Mr. Smith.”

Smith smiled: “Miss Alyssa.”

Alyssa also smiled and said, “I plan to take Grace to my place today. I sent Karl a message, didn’t he tell you?”

“Sir didn’t say.” After Smith finished speaking, he patted his head: “I remembered that there was an emergency document that was not given to Sir. I’ll make a call first.”

After he finished speaking, he turned his back and walked a few steps forward, and dialed the number: “Find a chance to come over and puncture the tire.”

After hanging up the phone, he walked towards the entrance of the kindergarten again, and looked inside: “Grace is coming out soon.”

Alyssa nodded, feeling that today’s Smith was also a bit strange.

Not long after, Grace came out.

“Mom!” Grace happily ran up to Alyssa, and found Smith was also there, so she happily called out, “Uncle Smith.”

Then, a group of three people walked to the parking lot.

Smith just walked to the front of the car and said in shock, “Why did the tire break?”

Alyssa’s car stopped a little bit, and she turned her head to look at Smith after hearing this: “Mr. Smith, what happened to your tires?”

“Broken.” Smith frowned slightly, his expression a little ugly: “The tire was punctured.”

Alyssa thought that Smith had just called and said that there was an emergency document, so she offered: “Or I will take you for a ride, just on the way.”

Smith nodded, and said politely: “Then I can only trouble Miss Alyssa.”

He walked over to Alyssa and lied without changing his face: “Miss Alyssa, let me drive. I have an urgent business back to the company. After you and Grace arrive, can I drive your car to the company?”

Chapter 753

The place where Alyssa lived, the Adams’ office, and Karl’s villa were actually on the same road.

It’s normal to make such a request by Smith.

Alyssa didn’t think much, nodded directly: “Ok.”

After knowing Smith for a few years, her impression of him has always been upright and steady, and Alyssa can trust him.

Smith lowered his eyes slightly, covering his guilty conscience, and said, “Then thank you, Miss Alyssa.”

“Mr. Smith is too polite. Last time I fell ill at home, if it weren’t for you and your wife to save me!” Alyssa turned to look at Grace, caring that the child was here, and didn’t say any more unlucky words.

Had it not been for Smith and Hania, she might have died of illness at home and no one knew.

Smith knew how wrong to say more, and just nodded slightly, opened the door, and sat in the driver’s seat.

Alyssa took Grace to sit behind and gave Smith the car key.

At the gate of Alyssa's community, she and Grace got out of the car and let Smith drive away.

The two got off the car and met Dave who was shopping at a convenience store.

Dave doesn't seem to like to go out very much, and he doesn't go to the supermarket very much to buy things. He only buys in convenience stores.

When Alyssa thought about Dave's visit to her before, she pointed in his direction and asked Grace, "Remember who it was? Call him out loud and see if he shouldn't know you."

"Remember." Grace stretched out her hand to her mouth and made a megaphone gesture, shouting: "Uncle Dave."

Dave turned his head suddenly, his eyes stayed on the mother and daughter for a few seconds, then he turned his head, took a lollipop, and pointed in Grace's direction.

Grace understood it at once, turned her head and smiled at Alyssa and said, "Uncle Dave asked me to come over and get candy!"

Feeling that Grace was already holding her hand and running there, Alyssa was a little worried that the child could be cheated away by a little Candy, so she deliberately poured cold water on her: "Maybe he just showed you?"

Grace was not bluffed by Alyssa's words, and said with certainty: "No! Uncle Dave is going to give it to me!"

Alyssa was a little surprised, is Grace so keen?

Grace pulled Alyssa and walked over, Dave had already picked up things and settled the bill.

As soon as Grace passed, he took a lollipop and handed it to Grace.

Grace took it and said sweetly: "Thank you Uncle Dave."

Dave took out an apple from his pocket and handed it to her.

Grace loves sweets the most, and her interest in fruits is very common. She shook her head: "I only have sweets, not apples."

Dave raised his eyebrows. Seeing Grace was wearing a small hooded sweater today, he put the apple directly into her hat.

Putting the apple in the hat, Grace tilted her head back and turned to look at the apple in her hat.

Alyssa laughed, and helped Grace take out the apple and put it in her hand.

It is a little coincidence that Dave also wore a black sweater today. Grace held a lollipop in one hand and an apple in the other, and kept looking into Dave's sweater hat.

She also wanted to stuff the apple into Dave's hat.

Dave noticed Grace's small eyes and stretched out his hand to pull the hat up and put it on his head.

Grace frowned and pouted, "Uncle Dave!"

Dave curled his lips, his smile was not obvious.

He looked at Alyssa: "Did you not drive to pick her up?"

"The car is lent to Mr. Smith." After Alyssa said, she thought that Dave might not know Smith, and said, "It's Karl's assistant."

Dave squinted his eyes slightly, and his expression became unpredictable.

He nodded to show that he knew, and then speeded up and walked to the front.

Grace chased up with her short legs, Dave's steps were too big, he took one step and Grace took three.

Alyssa followed behind and told her: "Grace, slow down."

Feeling Grace chasing after him, Dave actually slowed down.

When Grace finally caught up with his footsteps, she raised her head and said something to Dave, and the two of them had a conversation like this.

Alyssa followed behind and couldn't help slowing down.

Dave usually looks like a stranger shouldn't get close, but Grace is not afraid of him.

Compared with Dave, Karl was completely better than Dave. Grace was not afraid of Karl, and naturally it was impossible to be afraid of Dave.

What surprised Alyssa was that Dave was so patient with the children.

â€¦

Back home, Alyssa changed Grace's clothes and asked, "What did you talk to Uncle Dave?"

"Nothing to talk about." Grace put her coat aside, took the clothes in Alyssa's hand and wore it by herself.

Alyssa was taken aback for a moment: "Ah? You don't tell me?"

Grace smiled "hehe", with a mysterious look, humming and ran to her schoolbag after getting dressed.

Alyssa followed out and asked her, "Aren't you afraid of Uncle Dave?"

"Uncle Dave is very cool." Grace dug out the paintbrush in her schoolbag and puts them side by side.

Alyssa laughed uncontrollably after hearing this, "Do you know what is cool?"

Grace thought about it for a moment, and said solemnly: "Uncle Dave is just very cool and doesn't like talking."

Alyssa raised her eyebrows and found Grace's drawing board to her: "It's cool if you don't like to talk? Doesn't your father like to talk either?"

"Dad is cooler and handsome." Grace smiled, seemingly embarrassed.

Alyssa touched her face and asked tentatively, “Then if I let you leave your father and mother to live together, would you like it?”

“Leave Dad? Why leave him? I am with you now, and I will be with Dad tomorrow, why should I leave?” Grace didn’t understand Alyssa’s words.

It would be too hard for Grace to understand those things about adults.

However, Alyssa didn’t know how to speak when facing Grace.

The eyes were facing each other, Grace’s eyes were so pure that there was no trace of impurities, simple and pure, facing such a pair of eyes, Alyssa’s thoughts were stuck in her throat.

However, these words are always meant to be said.

Alyssa took a deep breath, reached out and put Grace into her arms, touched her head, and said warmly, “Because Dad will be very busy at work, so you have to live with your mom and wait until Dad is free. He will come to see you.”

She didn’t know if Grace would understand what she said.

Grace’s voice sounded: “Are you as busy as you were before?”

She was referring to Alyssa entering the crew before and returning once a month.

Alyssa sat up slightly, held out her hand to hold her face, looked at her eyes and said, “Well, I might be busier than I was before.”

Grace’s eyes widened, and said in surprise, “Will father be very tired?”

Alyssa was stunned, she didn’t expect Grace to pay attention to this.

Chapter 754

The conversation between Alyssa and Grace ended without a problem. It did not achieve the effect she wanted, and she couldn’t say what she wanted to say.

Doing psychological work for children is actually the easiest and most difficult at the same time.

They are easy to believe what you say, and they are easy to suffer from bad influences.

â€¦

The next day, after Alyssa sent Grace to kindergarten, she planned to join Alvin.

They have filed a lawsuit now, so Karl will receive the summon from the court in a few days.

What she and Alvin have to do now is to find evidence and find a breakthrough to win this lawsuit.

After Alyssa watched Grace enter, she returned to the car.

She had just gotten into the car when she heard the sound of a “ding” news push.

Alyssa took out her mobile phone while buckling her seat belt.

She was about to clear the push news directly, but when she saw the news headline, she suddenly stopped.

“Filmstar Tina was injured at the event yesterday!”

Tina injured?

Alyssa quickly clicked on the news and took a look.

There are only a few pictures above, just a few specious words.

Alyssa dialed Tina’s phone directly.

The phone rang for a long time and no one answered it. Alyssa hung up the phone and went to WeChat to send a message to Tina: “The news says you are injured. What’s the matter? Are you really injured?”

Tina replied quickly: “It’s nothing, it’s a little bit of a skin bruise, a little injury.”

“Really?” Although the media tends to exaggerate, Alyssa is still a little worried.

Tina replied again: “It’s really nothing.”

Alyssa didn’t believe it, and said, “Then why don’t you answer my call?”

Tina didn’t reply, Alyssa sent another message: “Which hospital, send me the address, hurry up.”

After half a minute, Tina sent the hospital address.

Alyssa looked at the hospital address and sighed slightly. She knew that Tina was lying to her.

Although Tina looked careless, she was actually very careful. When something really happened, she didn’t like to say anything and didn’t want others to know about it.

Alyssa drove to the hospital where Tina lived.

Tina lives in a high-level ward, and two bodyguards are guarding outside the door. Fortunately, Tina’s agent is also there. She knows Alyssa.

She saw Alyssa and asked, “Miss Alyssa is here.”

“Well, how is Tina?” Alyssa asked.

The agent hesitated and said, “You go in and have a look.”

Alyssa’s face changed slightly when she heard this. If it was really just a minor injury, the agent could just say where the injury was, but she didn’t say anything. Instead, she let Alyssa go in and see by herself, saying that Tina was seriously injured.

Alyssa opened the door and walked towards the ward.

Tina, who was lying on the hospital bed, heard the movement and looked back and found that Alyssa was coming. She pulled a smile at the corner of her mouth, and said in a lively tone: “Alyssa, why are you here so soon?”

Alyssa didn’t speak, standing in front of the hospital bed, frowning at her.

Gauze was still wrapped around her sullen forehead, one leg was hung in plaster, and one arm was also wrapped in gauze. She had a pale face and looked at Alyssa with a smile.

Alyssa was angry and distressed. She looked at Tina angrily and asked, "Is that what you said was a little skin injury?"

Tina lowered her head with a guilty conscience, and whispered: "It's not just the skin, but also a bit of bone!"

Alyssa slowed down, and increased her tone and said, "I just hurt a bit of bone?"

The low air pressure on Alyssa's body was too obvious, and Tina said honestly, "I broke my forehead and broke this leg."

Alyssa snorted coldly and walked aside to look at her legs.

However, with such a thick cast on her leg, she couldn't see anything at all.

Tina began to chatter: "Alyssa, it's not that I said so for no reason, you are not happy now, the aura is as gloomy as the big boss, it's scary, you, don't!"

"You are in good spirits." Alyssa interrupted her and gave her a stare.

Tina stopped immediately, smiled, and patted the edge of the bed: "Oh, come and sit."

Alyssa sat down by the bed, her eyes fell on the gauze wrapped on Tina's forehead, and frowned and asked, "Why did you hurt so badly? The news said that you were injured during an activity, why? What's the matter?"

"People who are not the organizers are not doing things badly. Those equipment are not fixed. An indoor event. The shelf fell down and suppressed me!"

Tina put it lightly, but Alyssa was shocked when she heard it: "How could there be such a big mistake? They don't know how important the face and legs are to an actor?"

Tina saw that Alyssa was so angry, she quickly calmed her up: "The doctor said that the problem is not big, just keep it well, and the legs won't be affected, and there will be no scars on the forehead. Let's talk about it. My agent has already contacted the lawyer and is going to go through the legal process."

After hearing her say this, Alyssa's complexion looked a little better.

"I haven't taken many vacations in the past two years, so I can take a long vacation," Tina said to her, not knowing whether she was comforting herself or comforting Alyssa.

Alyssa groaned for a moment, and said, "It's okay to take a break."

Even if Tina recuperates for half a year before going out, she doesn't have to worry about not being filmed. She didn't plan to take the road of traffic stars at the beginning, so she didn't want to keep the heat so that others would remember her. She just needs to ensure that every work is available with a quality and she is fine.

Moreover, Peter couldn't prevent Tina from filming.

Although the two seem to be very different, and they are still a couple after so many years of entanglement, but the friendship between the two is deep, even if it is not loved, there are other affections.

Tina moved her neck and said, "It's too boring to be in the hospital. Come and chat with me if you have nothing to do."

"I will come when I have time." After Alyssa finished speaking, she looked around and said, "Did you not tell your family?"

"My mom and my dad went abroad to travel," Tina said pitifully.

Alyssa laughed: "I didn't plan to write a new script during this period. I will bring you to stew every day."

"You are better than my mother!" Tina was so moved that she almost called her mother.

Alyssa chatted with her for a while before leaving.

When she was out of the ward, the agent came back from outside with something in his hand: "Miss Alyssa is leaving."

"Yeah." Alyssa's gaze stayed on the bag held by the agent for a moment, and asked as if thinking of something: "How did you find out about Tina's injury this time? Are there any results?"

The agent shook his head: "The scene of the accident seemed to be an accident, but the mistake was too big. The organizer has cooperated several times before and has always done things very rigorously!"

Chapter 755

Tina's agent seemed to have something to say. Alyssa gave her a surprised look and asked, "Have other people who worked with this company ever had such a big incident?"

The agent shook his head: "Never before. This organizer is famous and respectful of artists."

Alyssa furrowed her eyebrows tighter, took a short step forward, and whispered to the agent, "Do you suspect that someone might have instigated this matter?"

The agent didn't say anything, it was acquiescence.

Alyssa's face suddenly became serious: "Has Tina offended anyone recently?"

"No, the last drama she has just finished filming, and the next one has not yet started. In the meantime, there are some activities that have been discussed before. She hasn't had any unpleasant things with anyone recently." The agent said to Tina. The itinerary and interpersonal relationship are well understood, and Alyssa believes that what she is telling is the truth.

Since the agent has said so, it shows that she does have doubts about this matter.

Alyssa said, "Where did Tina participate in the event at the time, would you please give me the address?"

"OK." The agent read Alyssa an address, and Alyssa wrote it down.

Before leaving, Alyssa said again: "Don't tell Tina about this, let her get well."

The agent nodded: "I know."

Before Alyssa left, she asked Tina's attending doctor again to confirm that Tina's injury could be recovered, and then left with confidence.

As soon as she got out of the hospital, the phone rang.

She walked to the parking lot while holding her mobile phone.

After seeing who the caller was, Alyssa paused, then laughed, and then answered the phone.

Alyssa said teasingly: "Why is CEO Grant calling me suddenly?"

Peter didn't know that Alyssa was making fun of him on purpose. He didn't mind, and asked directly, "Alyssa, have you seen Tina? How is she?"

The tone sounded very anxious, he was always nervous and depressed.

The more anxious he was, the more Alyssa called him, and said indifferently, "Don't you know what happened to her? if you don't go and see for yourself?"

"Alyssa, I know you are the best, don't you?" Peter began to beg Alyssa softly.

"It's okay, you can talk to me." Alyssa couldn't stand his soft tone, and said sternly: "She didn't take the injury seriously, but the injury was quite serious. She broke her leg and was put in a cast, her forehead and arm are also injured, so she could only stay in bed and rest for the time being."

Her voice fell, but the phone was quiet.

Tina's temperament is carefree, and she suffered some injuries when she was going to school, but it was the first time that Alyssa felt such a serious injury, let alone Peter.

Alyssa comforted him: "Don't worry too much. I asked the doctor. As long as she recuperates, it won't have any effect."

When Peter spoke again, his voice was a little hoarse: "How did she get hurt?"

"When participating in the event, a shelf fell over and hit her," Alyssa told Peter what Tina's agent had said.

Peter sneered, his voice was rare and cold: "How many artists in AdamPic Media, there are not tens of thousands of large and small events in a year, but there are also thousands of events. There has not been such a big accident in the past five years! The probability of a minor accident is also very small."

Peter's words sounded very reasonable for Alyssa, and she became more and more sure that Tina's injury was not just an accident.

Alyssa said: "Tina's agent also thinks this accident is a bit weird. I plan to visit the place where Tina participated in the event."

Peter immediately said: "I will come too."

Alyssa thought for a while and said, "Where do we meet?"

Although Tina and Peter have not been together, she certainly does not want Peter to take care of her affairs, but this time the matter is a bit serious. Anyway, Peter is also the CEO of AdamPic Media and the boss of Tina. He intervenes in this matter. Things make sense.

"I'm at the entrance of the hospital, you can see me when you drive out."

Alyssa had walked to the front of her car and just opened the door. After hearing Peter's words, she turned her head and saw a white car flashing its lights not far away.

Alyssa hung up the phone and walked quickly towards the car.

After approaching, she found that Peter was sitting in the car.

Peter lowered the car window, and Alyssa asked him, "Are you here to see Tina?"

Peter didn't answer her question, only asked her: "You go in my car or drive your own?"

His expression was a little cold, and his eyes were a little gloomy, Alyssa knew that she was doing this because of the coldness.

"I drive my own car, I will lead the way, and you will follow me behind." If she takes Peter's car and has to come back to pick up the car, it will be very troublesome.

Peter only nodded quietly.

Alyssa returned to her car, and after driving out, she called Alvin.

As soon as Alvin answered the phone, he said impatiently: "When are you coming?"

She had previously made an appointment with Alvin to discuss the lawsuit. She knew that Tina was injured and came to the hospital directly. Although she also called Alvin and said that she had something to do, she had to wait for a while, but Alvin also waited a long time. For a while, resentment was already high.

Alyssa said apologetically: "I'm sorry, but there is something else temporarily, let's meet again another day."

"What is more important than your lawsuit? Now for us, one more day will give us one more chance of winning." Alvin's tone already had obvious anger.

This was the first time Alyssa saw Alvin's anger so obvious.

Alyssa could understand Alvin's intentions, and said calmly: "My best friend has something wrong, custody is important to me, and my friend's matter is also very important. I will organize the information and contact you later. Sorry."

This "sorry" Alyssa said sincerely. Although Alvin was still angry, he didn't say anything more.

"Okay, it's your business anyway." Alvin's tone could be heard that she was still angry, and she hung up after speaking.

Alyssa put the phone aside and started to concentrate on driving.

After driving for nearly an hour, Alyssa arrived at the address given to her by her agent.

After she stopped the car, she unfastened her seat belt and opened the door.

Peter followed her closely, got out of the car, and walked to her in two to three steps: "Is it here?"

"Yeah." Alyssa nodded in response. Just as she was about to speak, she noticed a few people with cameras on the other side.

She looked horrified, then fell silent, pulled Peter aside, and whispered, "There are reporters."

Chapter 756

Peter followed Alyssa's gaze and saw several men in peaked caps sneaking together over there and talking.

"I'm afraid of what they do!" Peter raised an eyebrow and walked over to the reporters indifferently.

Alyssa had to keep up.

Peter approached, and the men who were talking together also just raised their heads. One of them whispered to the other two people: "CEO Grant of AdamPic Media!"

Peter lifted his chin slightly, pointed at their camera, and asked, "What did you take?"

One of the reporters replied: "We didn't photograph anything, we just came, and now the major media are changing the law and want to know why Tina was injured."

Seeing that they didn't know anything, Peter didn't ask much, turned around and walked inside.

At this time, he heard the "click" sound of taking pictures behind him.

Peter turned his head and glanced at Alyssa, and Alyssa said softly, "They are photographing me."

Peter fell back again and slapped the person on the top of the head: "What kind of shot did you take? Did I let you do it? Don't you want to be a reporter?"

"I didn't take anything, I'll delete it right away! I'll delete it right away!" The man's face changed in fright, shaking his hands and began to delete the photos.

AdamPic Media is the leader of the entertainment industry. Peter wants to keep a reporter in the industry. That is to say, it is a matter of stretching his fingers. The average young person really dare not provoke him.

After Peter patted him on the shoulder, they looked at him as if: "Delete it clean, you know?"

The man nodded repeatedly: "Know!"

"Let's go, go in." After Peter finished speaking, he turned to Alyssa and said.

The two walked in one after another.

The staff inside saw the two of them rushing inside and wanted to stop them.

Peter's eyes stared: "Look clearly, I'm Peter from AdamPic Media. You stop me and try?"

"CEO Grant, you're!" The staff naturally didn't dare to stop, but they didn't plan to put Peter in just like that.

But how could they stop Peter, he rushed in.

The venue for the event fell off because of the desolate incident yesterday, and today there are other events temporarily canceled.

Some of the decorations in the venue were still there, but they did not see the so-called "shelf" on the scene.

Alyssa turned around on the stage and said, "I don't know what the agent said that it hit Tina's. It was cleaned up so quickly. It must be a guilty conscience."

"It must be a guilty conscience." Standing in the center of the stage, Peter said, facing the audience, "I just rushed back from the field in the morning, and the idiots in the company didn't know that they came to the spot to check. They only knew to question the staff, Let them clean up the scene."

Peter pressed his tongue-head against his chin, getting more and more angry, and kicked a chair on the side that was too late to be removed.

Alyssa asked, "What kind of activities are there? There should be photos and videos?"

"It is said that it was just a rehearsal. don't know if there are any video photos or the like." Peter walked back and forth on the stage, looking very anxious.

After a while, he took a deep breath and said, "I'll go back and check the artists who have recently competed with Tina."

"I don't think it's very likely. Tina's agent told me before that she hasn't had a grudge with anyone recently." Alyssa paused and continued: "The person who can have grudges with Tina must be with me. She has a competitive relationship. Those who have a competitive relationship must be in the same position as her, but does the artist who shares the same position in her have the ability to buy the organizer's staff?"

Peter listened to Alyssa's words, and he nodded thoughtfully: "Alyssa, you go on."

"This organizer has cooperated with you several times, and they must also be very clear that AdamPic Media has given Tina a good resource. He is very concerned about Tina, let alone hurting Tina, even if it is easy to neglect. But yesterday Tina was injured, so blatantly attacking Tina, it shows that the person who bought the organizer's staff has a strong background."

"At least this behind-the-scenes master gave a lot of benefits to the staff member who was bribed. This benefit made them not hesitate to offend AdamPic Media."

The more Alyssa analyzed it, the more weird she felt.

"It makes sense." Peter sneered: "I don't even know when Tina offended a big man who even AdamPic Media doesn't care about."

Alyssa murmured, "Perhaps it wasn't Tina who offended someone, but"

"What?" Peter heard Alyssa say halfway and stopped talking, and asked, "Why didn't you say it?"

Alyssa shook her head with a thoughtful look, but did not speak.

Peter didn't ask too much: "I will look for the video and photos of the scene at that time to see if I can find something."

"Okay," Alyssa responded, walking out a little absent-mindedly.

The two separated at the door.

After Alyssa drove the car for some distance, she stopped again.

She sat in the car for a while, then dialed the phone to Mattie.

Mattie was very quiet on the other side, she teased: "Is the sun coming out from the west today? Since you will take the initiative to call me!"

Alyssa asked her: "Do you have Miana's phone number?"

"I knew you were nothing but the Three Treasures Hall'." Mattie sighed and asked, "Why do you want Miana's phone? Last time you asked for her address, this time you want her phone number. Do you have a crush on her?"

"Just forget it if you don't know." Alyssa said, she was about to hang up.

"When did I say I don't know! I know Miana's phone number, I'll find it for you!" Mattie was walking, and the sound of her heels on the ground was clear: "You don't know how to be gentle when I ask for help."

Alyssa grabbed her hair a little irritably, trying to calm her tone: "Thank you."

"Okay, I'm used to it." Mattie turned for a while and found Miana's phone number: "I found her number, I read it to you" But why are you looking for her?"

"There's something, thank you." Alyssa was afraid that Mattie would ask more, and said directly: "Goodbye, I won't disturb you."

"I'm not busy" Before Mattie finished speaking, Alyssa hung up the phone.

Alyssa looked at Miana's call that had just been saved on the phone with a serious expression.

In the past few years, Tina's resources are very good, but it is the kind of good that does not show the mountains and the water. There are no negative comments in the shows. The shows are not necessarily the protagonists, but they are very pleasant Assumingly.

There are actually a lot of such people in the entertainment industry. They are not so popular, but they are not jealous.

Chapter 757

Taking 10,000 steps back, if people are really jealous, those people won't wait until Tina has developed to this point before starting to attack her.

And there are no secrets in the entertainment industry. Artists who need to grab resources from Tina will not have much background. They will be found out in the end, and there will be no good endings.

In this way, it can be ruled out that Tina has offended others and that someone has to deal with her assumption.

Not afraid that AdamPic Media is looking for trouble, and bought the organizer's staff to start with Tina!

Such a person, Alyssa has one by her side.

That is, Miana.

Alyssa and Tina are good friends, and Miana knows this.

She couldn't get any benefit from Alyssa, and she would really attack Tina if she wasn't sure.

Alyssa suspected that it was Miana, but was not sure.

She held the phone, squeezed it and then released it. After hesitating for a while, she directly called Miana.

The phone is connected, but no one answers.

For some reason, Alyssa had a very inexplicable intuition. She felt that Miana did not answer her phone on purpose.

After a while, Alyssa continued to dial, but Miana still did not pick up.

Alyssa decided to send a text message to scam Miana.

"Do you know where Karl slept last night?" Alyssa quickly typed this line of words on the screen with her finger, and sent it out without hesitation.

Sure enough, as soon as the text message was sent, Miana called.

Miana asked her in a bad tone: "Alyssa, what do you mean by that text messages?"

"Want to know? Meet and talk." After Alyssa said, she hung up the phone.

Miana quickly called, Alyssa did not answer the phone, and sent a coffee shop address.

Afterward, she drove towards the cafe.

!

When Alyssa arrived at the cafe, Miana was already there waiting for her.

Alyssa warmed her lips and smiled, Miana's weakness is really obvious.

As long as it was something related to Karl, she cared too much.

In other words, as long as Alyssa mentioned Karl, Miana was very alert.

She treats Alyssa as an imaginary enemy and is very afraid of her.

Alyssa had no choice but to use this to draw Miana out.

Miana's expression sank when she saw Alyssa.

Alyssa had just sat down opposite her, she stared at Alyssa and asked coldly: "What do you mean by the text message you sent me, make it clear!"

"What message?" Alyssa deliberately pretended to be stupid, trying to make Miana anxious.

"Are you kidding me?" Miana's expression became more gloomy: "You went to Karl again last night? Are you not shameless?"

"Isn't Karl your boyfriend? You don't know where he was last night?" Alyssa spoke deliberately to stimulate Miana.

Miana was indeed irritated by Alyssa. She clenched her hands, her expression fierce as if she was about to tear Alyssa in the next moment.

But the next moment, the expression on her face suddenly eased, and she smiled and said softly: "Don't be too proud, you probably don't know what happened to your good friend, right?"

Alyssa's gaze flickered, she couldn't help but straighten up, but she pretended to know nothing on her face, and asked, "Who?"

Miana has calmed down at this time, and her tone is tepid: "That actor, she seems to be Weber or something, who has played a lot of supporting roles. She has a good relationship with you. She seems to be a high school classmate."

Alyssa's eyes gradually became sharp, and she sneered, "It really is you."

Miana was a little confused before reacting, Alyssa already knew about Tina's injury.

The text message that Alyssa sent to her also deliberately deceived her and asked her to tell her what she did to Tina.

"Oh, what about me? What can you do with me?" Miana raised her chin slightly and looked at Alyssa domineeringly.

Even if Alyssa knew that she had bought the staff and caused Tina to be injured, so what?

She did this because she wanted Alyssa to know.

Alyssa was very angry, but she could only pretend to be calm: "Are you capable of this? Dare not come to me when something happens, but dare to count others."

After Miana understood Alyssa's intentions, she became more calm and smiled and said, "I'll just give you a lesson, don't be too proud of yourself."

"Really? Then do I have to give Miss Palmer a gift in return?"

Alyssa looked at Miana with clear eyes, making Miana feel a little flustered.

The next moment, Alyssa stood up suddenly, raised her hand and slapped Miana's face fiercely.

Miana screamed: "Ah!"

With this slap, Alyssa used the utmost strength to slap her palms with a layer of ice in her voice: "Don't be too smug, this is what you told me, Miss Palmer."

Miana covered her face and was a little dumbfounded by Alyssa's sudden slap.

Suddenly, her gaze fell behind Alyssa, tears filled her eyes, and she said softly, "Karl, why are you here?"

Alyssa's face became stiff when she heard this, Karl came?

She slowly turned her head and saw Karl walking straight towards this side less than two meters away behind her.

Miana glanced at Alyssa, a coldness flashed in her eyes. When she raised her head to look at Karl, the tears filled her eyes suddenly and fell out.

Karl had already walked up to them. He frowned, not looking at Alyssa, only Miana was in his eyes, and a clear anger was mixed in his low voice: "What's the matter?"

Miana hurriedly wiped away her tears and showed a smile, with a generous expression that was wronged but did not say: "It's okay, Miss Alyssa may have some misunderstandings with me."

Only then did Karl turn his head to look at Alyssa, his eyes were dark and she couldn't see what he was thinking.

"Ms. Alyssa and my fiancée have any misunderstandings, you might as well tell me." His words sounded very polite on the surface, but Alyssa heard the threats implicitly in his tone.

She was sure that she was right.

Alyssa twitched the corners of her lips, but she couldn't care about her smile unnaturally: "This is my business and Miss Palmer's, it has nothing to do with you."

Karl narrowed his eyes slightly and said in a low voice: "Her business is mine."

When Karl said this, Miana was naturally very happy.

She pulled Karl's arm, and said softly, "Karl, forget it, you don't have to be familiar with Miss Alyssa."

Karl's gaze fell on the side of Miana's face that had been beaten. Alyssa really used all her strength. Miana was well maintained, and her white and tender face was already swollen.

He lowered his eyes, his voice was very soft: "Does it hurt?"

Miana just shook her head, looking generous and forgiving.

Alyssa's hands were clenched and then loosened, loosened and clenched.

Chapter 758

Until she couldn't stand it anymore, she stared at Miana fiercely and said, "This matter won't be the same!"

After speaking, she got up and left.

As soon as she stood up, she was grabbed by Karl's arm: "What matter? You might as well say it all at once."

"Let go!" Alyssa stared at the ground, not wanting to look at Karl's expression.

Karl and Miana have been together for so long, this is the first time that Karl has given Miana his support.

Thinking about it, she still feels a little ridiculous.

At this time, a familiar male voice rang.

"Karl, what are you doing? You are a big man, are you trying to bully Alyssa, a weak woman?"

Alyssa raised her head when she heard the sound, and saw Peter approaching with a casual expression on his face, but his eyes were staring straight at Karl.

"Peter, you're!" Alyssa was a little surprised. How could Peter be here?

After separating before, she clearly watched Peter leave from the other side.

Peter only explained one sentence: "I followed you."

Alyssa's heart was clear. When watching the scene of Tina's injury, Peter probably noticed that her expression was wrong. On the surface, he said she wanted to go back to look for videos and photos, but actually followed her quietly.

She and Miana were sitting by the window. If Peter had followed all the way, he would have watched outside for a while, and naturally saw her slap Miana!

Alyssa was still selfish. She didn't want to deal with this matter in front of Karl. She originally planned to "repay the gift" to Miana later.

But now Peter knew that it was Miana who was making trouble. He took Tina so important, and he would not give up so easily.

Peter stretched out his hand to hold Karl's wrist with a smile on his face: "Karl, you and Alyssa have been divorced a long time ago. Now in front of your fiancée, Alyssa is not afraid of your fiancée. Are you jealous?"

Peter shook Karl's hand secretly, and turned his head to look at Miana: "Miss Palmer, am I right?"

Miana knew that Peter was the CEO of AdamPic Media, but she did not know that the founder of AdamPic Media was Karl, let alone the relationship between Peter and Tina.

In her opinion, AdamPic Media is inferior to Adams's, and naturally she is not afraid of Peter at all.

She glanced at Peter, then set her gaze on Karl, and said with a smile: "Karl has a sense of measure. He is also angry at Miss Alyssa because she has done too much to me."

Miana said softly and pleasantly, and people who didn't know though she was really a knowledgeable person.

"Excessive?" Peter sneered, and said gloomily: "If a slap is excessive, what is it that you caused someone to break their leg and lie in the hospital?"

Alyssa sighed slightly, and Peter saw it all.

Miana didn't arrive at what Peter meant, her complexion changed slightly, but quickly returned to normal: "I don't understand what Mr. Grant said."

After she finished speaking, she stretched out her hand again for Karl: "Karl, I'm a little hungry, let's find a place to eat."

Karl didn't know what he was thinking. He looked back at Miana, and he could hear a gentle hint in his voice: "No hurry, since they are all here, I have to make things clear."

"Karl!" Miana was still a little guilty of doing something like that. She didn't know what the relationship between Tina and Peter was, but she knew that Karl and Peter had a close friendship. If Karl had listened to Peter's words!

Karl retracted the hand that was holding Alyssa's arm, supported Miana's shoulder and pressed her back on the sofa chair very thoughtfully: "No hurry, sit down and speak slowly."

Seeing this, Peter turned his head and glanced at Alyssa.

Alyssa shook her head invisibly and sat down.

Standing next to Alyssa, Peter pointed at Miana and said to Karl, "Do you know what she did? She bought the organizer's staff and caused Tina to fall and get smashed during the rehearsal of the event. She broke her leg and she is lying in the hospital!"

Peter almost finished speaking with his teeth. He stared at Miana, his eyes fierce as if he could go up and beat her at any time.

Like Karl, he has no habit of not hitting women.

Alyssa was slightly disturbed when she saw the hand that was hanging down beside him move.

Karl paused, then turned to look at Miana, his tone so flat that she couldn't hear any emotions: "Is what he said is true?"

Miana shuddered, but still bite the bullet and shook her head to deny: "No! I don't even know the person he named, so how could I harm her?"

At first, she spoke very quietly with a guilty conscience, but when she said the second half of the sentence, she became confident and even the volume increased.

Karl asked as if confirming, "Really not?"

Miana carefully looked at Karl's expression. Although she didn't know what Karl thought, her face was calm and she couldn't see a trace of anger, indicating that he was not angry!

Thinking about it this way, Miana relieved her heart and became more confident: "I don't have any, I have no reason to do that."

After hearing Miana's words, Peter twitched the corners of his mouth, suppressing the urge to hit someone, and asked Karl patiently, "Do you believe her or me?"

Karl didn't even blink his eyes, and said, "She said no. Naturally, there is no. There must be a misunderstanding."

Peter raised the volume abruptly, and shouted: "I'll ask you again. You believe her or believe me?"

The waiters and guests in the cafe looked over here.

Peter and Karl looked at each other, not giving way to each other. Seeing Peter almost couldn't help but start, Alyssa yelled, "Peter."

Peter snorted coldly, and reached out to grab Karl's collar: "It's your business how you want to protect this woman. She caused Tina to lie in the hospital now, and I have to break her leg. Leave her alone."

Karl was a little taller than Peter. He took Peter's hand away without a face, and said in a deep voice, "I can't leave her alone."

Peter was also angry at this time, and blurted out: "You don't care about us or brothers!"

Karl stood still on the spot, Peter was extremely angry, and directly fisted, Karl quickly avoided his punch, and Peter swiped it from the other side.

Grant's family has always been black and white. Now although the industry has been washed out, Peter's skills are excellent. Clayton has never beaten him, and Karl has to deal with it seriously.

The two were almost tied, and they fisted and beat with one hand.

Alyssa stood aside and dared not approach, she could only say anxiously, "Peter, stop!"

Chapter 759

Peter had red eyes at this time, and he could not hear Alyssa's words.

Alyssa wanted to stop them, but couldn't get close at all.

She raised her eyes to Miana, expecting Miana to stop her voice, but Miana did not see a trace of anxiety, but a slight smile appeared on Miana's face, which seemed to be very proud of Karl because he was fighting Peter.

The store manager had already brought people over, and they separated Karl and Peter.

One is the CEO of Adams' and the other is the boss of AdamPic Media. Both are characters that ordinary people can't afford to copy. The store manager didn't dare to step forward. He only persuaded them from the side: "Mr. Adams, Mr. Grant, You guys don't fight!"

A waiter walked over and whispered to the shop manager's ear and said, "Manager, I have called the police."

Alyssa was very close to them and heard what the waiter said.

If the police came, it would be no good to Karl and Peter if the incident became a big deal. After the trouble, they might really not be brothers.

Their friendship for so many years does not have to end up that badly.

Seeing that no one dared to go up and persuade, Alyssa pressed the corners of her lips tightly, turned around and picked up a coffee cup from the table, and slammed it to the ground.

The coffee cup fell to the ground with a loud "pop".

The whole cafe suddenly became quiet, and Karl, who was still fighting with Peter, paused slightly and looked over at Alyssa, before being kicked to the ground by Peter.

Alyssa was also taken aback. She dropped the cup to interrupt Peter's attention and pull Peter away. Karl was focused on doing things, even if he was fighting, he would not be easily affected. Even if he was affected, he would look at the place where the cup fell instead of looking at her.

And there seems to be a trace of worry in his eyes.

Alyssa didn't have time to think about it. Seeing Peter still going up and fighting, Alyssa walked over in three steps and two steps, pulling Peter hard.

Half of Peter's face was red and slightly swollen.

He gasped and pointed at Karl and said, "Alyssa, what are you trying to do with me? I'll beat him up a little sober today!"

Alyssa grabbed him tightly, lowered her voice and said to Peter: "It is your and Karl's matter, find a place to solve it in private, don't you want to make a big trouble tomorrow, will the headline be seen by Tina!"

Peter was still unconvinced at first, but after hearing Alyssa mentioned Tina, he calmed down and didn't struggle to rush over to continue the fight.

"Karl, how are you?" Miana exclaimed, and walked over to help Karl up.

Karl's face was calm, even though the corners of his mouth were red, his eyes were still sharp and frightening. After he stood up, he pushed Miana away.

Miana's expression looked distressed. Before Karl could speak, she said aggressively, "How can you do this? First came up and slandered me, and now you beat Karl like this again. Is there something less evil? Waiting to receive the lawyer's letter!"

Regarding Miana's threat, Peter didn't even pay attention to it. He sneered, "Is it Miana? Wait, I will break your leg sooner or later!"

"Alyssa, let's go!" Peter took a deep look at Karl, then turned and walked out.

Miana has never been threatened like this before. The men and women who appeared next to her either bowed under her pomegranate skirt or were polite and obsequious to her.

Her face turned pale with anger, and she couldn't speak for a while, and could only watch Alyssa and Peter walking outside.

Miana turned her head to look at Karl, complaining a little, "Why don't you say a word, they are all gone!"

Peter's fierce presence was in sight, and no one dared to stop him.

After Karl's gaze followed the two of them out, he looked around at the people watching the play again. His eyes were cold, and the people who watched the play were so swept by him, they turned their heads and did not dare to look again.

At this time, Karl was looking at Miana, he fixedly looked at Miana, his eyes deep, without saying a word.

Miana was uncomfortable looking at him, and asked with a dodging look: "You're why are you looking at me like this?"

"I'll ask you again, did you really do nothing?" Unlike the calm before, Karl's voice was very gloomy.

Miana hesitated for a moment, and then he said the same answer as before: "I don't have one."

Karl curled the corners of his lips, and a dreadful bird flashed in his eyes, but he spoke with a gentle voice: "I see."

Miana felt that Karl was a little weird, but when she heard Karl's voice, she didn't think much about it, and said aggrievedly, "I really don't know why they slandered me like this. What's the misunderstanding!"

She said this deliberately, just to make Karl think that Alyssa deliberately slandered her like this.

"Really so?" Karl said these two words meaninglessly, then turned to look at the store manager who was hiding from the side and dare not say anything: "My assistant will come to compensate your store for the loss later."

After he finished speaking, he raised his foot and walked out.

Miana hurriedly followed and said dissatisfied: "Obviously it was Peter who did it first. Why do you want to compensate for the loss? I know you don't care about the money, but how can you swallow it?"

Karl's steps were big and fast, and Miana could only keep up with a trot.

He opened the car door and sat in. He ignored Miana until he started the car and drove far.

Miana thought with some worry, does Karl know what she did?

In a black car in the parking space on the other side of the road, Alyssa and Peter sat in the car and watched Karl's car drive away before lowering the windows.

Peter clenched his fist and hammered the steering wheel fiercely: "Alyssa, you shouldn't have stopped me just now, you should let me deal with that stupid Karl!"

Peter was still angry, he could say anything with one mouth, even he dared to scold Karl.

Although Alyssa was also a little angry, she was still calmer than Peter.

She said leisurely: "Do you dare to scold Karl like this in front of him?"

Peter choked for a while, then twitched his mouth: "Alyssa, we are now allies on the same front. Is there any such thing as you who stabbed allies like this? I usually don't dare to scold him!"

Having said this, he paused slightly, shook his head and said, "Speaking of which, I never thought in my life that one day I would dare to shoot against Karl and defeat him."

There was a hint of pride in his tone, and Alyssa couldn't laugh or cry.

If it hadn't been for Karl to walk away when she dropped the cup before, Peter would definitely not have the upper hand.

Chapter 760

Alyssa lowered her eyes, looking at her fingers in a dream.

In the coffee shop just now, the scene of Karl standing in front of Miana relentlessly replayed in her mind, making her upset.

"I really don't know what Karl is thinking, Miana, that woman!"

Peter on the side was still whispering, Alyssa listened halfway but didn't want to listen anymore.

Peter sensed that Alyssa did not listen to him anymore, so he stretched out his hand and waved in front of Alyssa. Alyssa recovered, and looked at Peter blankly: "What?"

"What do you think? I just spoke to you and you didn't listen anymore?" Peter tilted his head and looked at Alyssa.

Alyssa groaned for a moment, then sighed slightly and said, "Miana will deal with Tina like this because she hates me, and she tried it on Tina."

"Don't say this kind of thing, it doesn't matter to you." Peter didn't get angry when he said this: "If you have to be blamed, blame Karl, what you found!"

When Karl had amnesia before, Miana regarded herself as his fiancée. Peter had been among thousands of flowers, and there was no way to see what kind of woman Miana was. Since then, Peter has not had a good impression of her.

Alyssa frowned slightly, this incident still caused a rift between Peter and Karl.

At this time, Peter's cell phone rang.

Don't know what the person on the other end of the phone said, Peter's voice suddenly fell cold: "I found it? I'll come over right away."

After hanging up the phone, seeing Alyssa watching him, he explained, "The staff member who was bought by Miana is found."

He laughed hard: "We will pass now."

â€¦

Alyssa drove along with Peter again.

The place was chosen in an underground garage.

A thin man stood there timidly, guarded by two of Peter's men.

When his men saw him passing by, they respectfully yelled, "Mr. Grant."

Peter walked straight to the thin man, his lips evoked a curve of evil, and he reached out his hand and gently patted the man's face. There was no anger in his tone: "Do you know who I am?"

"Knowâ€¦ I knowâ€¦" The organizer's staff are naturally in contact with people in the entertainment industry for a long time, and of course they know who Peter is.

Peter's expression suddenly changed, and he suddenly raised the volume: "Those who know you dare not to play me!"

He suddenly roared like this, and the men next to him trembled. Alyssa also felt a little intimidating.

"Iâ€¦Iâ€¦" The thin man's legs trembled with fright, "I" didn't say a word for a long time.

Alyssa looked down on the phone for a while, found a few photos and took the phone over, handed the phone to the person, and asked, "Did this woman instruct you?"

What she showed the thin man first was a photo of an internet celebrity. The thin man shook his head quickly: "Noâ€¦"

Alyssa showed him several pictures of the 18-line celebrities she found online, but he denied them all.

Finally, Alyssa turned over Miana's photo: "Is that her?"

The man nodded immediately: "Yes, yesâ€¦"

Alyssa paused, then looked back at Peter.

The reason why Alyssa found some pictures of other women for this man was because she was worried that the man would identify a woman casually. Although at Miana he almost admitted that she did it, Alyssa still wanted to confirm again.

When Peter heard that the man has identified Miana, he was so angry that he was about to go up and beat someone again. Alyssa quickly stopped him: "Peter, calm down!"

Peter said loudly: "I can't calm down!"

Alyssa stopped in front of him, and said firmly, "This matter happened because of me, and I will take care of it."

Peter asked her: "How do you deal with it?"

"I have my own way." Alyssa didn't want to involve Peter because Miana and Karl were really against him, so she didn't want Peter to intervene. As for her, she had broken up with Karl anyway, she was not afraid of anything.

Alyssa said again: "You should go to the hospital to see Tina. don't know what happened to you, but the love for each other is still there. It's okay to look at each other. She is just bragging."

Peter nodded silently and said nothing.

After Alyssa and Peter separated, they went straight back to cook soup for Tina.

She said she would cook soup for Tina every day.

â€¦

Alyssa boiled chicken soup for Tina, simmered in slow heat all afternoon, and sent it to the hospital to Tina in the evening.

She called Tina before she went, and Tina was waiting for her soup.

Alyssa brought not only soup, but also rice and a light side dish.

As soon as she entered the ward, Tina stared directly at herâ€¦ the bag in her hand.

The bag contains an insulated lunch box.

Tina rubbed her hands happily: "Alyssa, what soup did you make for me?"

"Chicken soup." Alyssa put down the bag with a smile, and asked her: "Where are your agent and assistant?"

Tina struggled to sit up and said, "I let them go out for dinner."

Alyssa reached out to help her, put two pillows behind her, opened the tabletop, and took out the lunch box from the bag.

Tina patted the table childishly, yelling: "I'm starving, I'm starvingâ€¦!"

Alyssa glanced at her with a smile, took out the food and soup, and put them on the table.

Tina couldn't wait. She picked up the spoon and opened the soup box, scooping the soup into her mouth, and sighed after drinking, "If it weren't for the injury, I wouldn't have a chance to drink your soup. It's pretty hurt." and soup is worth itâ€¦!"

Alyssa's face was pale, her voice sinking slightly: "What nonsense, what's good about being injured, you want to drink soup, just call me and let me cook a pot for you."

Tina scooped the spoon, and said in surprise: "Oh, it's a joke, why are you so angryâ€¦!"

Alyssa felt a little irritable in her heart. She lowered her eyes, trying to make her tone sound as relaxed as possible: "You drink the soup while it is hot."

Tina ate all the food and soup that Alyssa had brought. After eating, she patted her stomach and lay on the hospital bed and rubbed her stomach: "I start to like the feeling of being hospitalized."

Alyssa glanced at her, and she immediately grinned.

“Take it well, I’ll come back tomorrow.” Before leaving, Alyssa reminded Tina in a worrying manner, and then left with the warm rice.

She unlocked the car, opened the door of the back seat and put the bag in her hand on the back seat. When she opened the door of the front seat again, she paused for a while before sitting in.

Alyssa sat in the car with a cold face, and did not start the car for a long time.

Tina was injured, and Grant became angry. Why should he not be angry?