

Predestined 761

Chapter 761

Since childhood, Alyssa has had a weak family relationship. When she was in school, she deliberately failed the exam because she was always pretending to be ugly, so she was always excluded. It was only when she met Tina that she was the first friend to treat her sincerely.

Tina probably never knew that Alyssa would save her back then, and it was only a momentary thought, but Tina remembered it for so many years.

When the island explosion happened that year, she was rescued by Clifford and spent three years as a vegetative. She also spent all her savings looking for her everywhere.

In a sense, Tina was more important to her than Karl.

But Miana wanted to attack Tina!

Alyssa's eyes were getting colder and colder, and she slowly tightened her hands holding the steering wheel. Miana asked for this!

Miana can do anything to her, but Miana wants to attack Tina.

Alyssa took a deep breath, calmed her mood, and then slowly started the car back.

After she got home, it was still early, just nine o'clock.

Alyssa found a mask and a peaked cap, and changed into inconspicuous black sportswear. After being fully armed, she went out.

But when she had just left the house, she saw the opposite door open.

Dave held a black plastic bag in his hand, and he was supposed to go downstairs to take out the garbage.

He looked at Alyssa's fully armed look, and a touch of surprise flashed in his eyes: "What are you going to do?"

Dave was very keen, and Alyssa felt that Dave probably guessed what she was going to do.

However, Alyssa still pressed the urn in her throat and said, "I have a cold, going for a walk."

Dave nodded and didn't ask anymore.

The two entered the elevator together.

When the elevator reached the first floor, Alyssa put her hands in the side pockets of her clothes, and walked out slowly, as if she was really going for a walk.

After Dave threw the garbage into the trash can, he glanced in the direction where Alyssa had left, and followed.

Alyssa noticed that Dave had followed, and turned around and asked him, "Are you going for a walk?"

Dave nodded: "Yeah."

Alyssa frowned slightly, she felt Dave deliberately.

After walking two laps in the community, Dave was still behind her.

Alyssa couldn't help it anymore, recalling people's footsteps, and walked outside the community.

Dave followed, with a very calm tone: "Miss Alyssa's dress is too conspicuous."

Alyssa's footsteps paused slightly.

Dave continued: "I never pretended to go out to kill people before."

Alyssa was a little helpless: "I said I was going!" Did she kill?

"You have murderous intent," Dave said faintly, his eyes sharp.

Alyssa was taken aback. She was just very angry and wanted to repay the revival of cotton. She had never thought of killing Miana. This is a legal society, and she is not a person outside the legal system like Dave.

"Even if it's not a murder, it's hurting. Do you know what to do to leave no trace?" Dave's eyes suddenly showed nostalgia.

Did he miss the days when he was a killer?

Dave's tone became more determined: "Maybe Miss Alyssa needs my help very much."

Alyssa hesitated without making a sound. After a while, she nodded and turned and walked out.

When she left the community, Alyssa was about to take a taxi, but Dave stopped her: "Walkout for a while and then take a taxi."

Alyssa listened to him, and after leaving the community, she took a taxi to a very lively street.

After getting on the bus, Alyssa reported an address, and after speaking, she changed her words and said a business world very close to that address.

Dave glanced at her with approval in his eyes.

The address she first reported was the address of Miana's house.

Along the way, she and Dave didn't communicate either. When they got off the bus at the mall, the two people took a taxi to the community where Miana lived.

Coincidentally, as soon as the taxi arrived at the gate of the community, Miana drove back.

Feeling Alyssa's gaze, Dave turned his head and looked out the window: "That's her?"

"Yeah." Alyssa nodded.

Dave looked familiar, but couldn't remember where he had seen her.

At this time, the driver's voice rang: "Here. Are you getting off here?"

Before Alyssa could speak, Dave said, "No, I found the wrong place. Let's go back to the previous mall."

Although the driver was a bit dissatisfied, he didn't say much.

After getting out of the car, Dave said: "I will get the woman's one-week itinerary the most in the morning. You can pick the most convenient time to start."

Alyssa was stunned: "How can you do it for a week?"

Dave shook his head: "You can wait for the result. As for how to do it, you don't want to know."

Alyssa suddenly felt a little bit shy. Is it good or not to find such a person as a bodyguard?

Her original plan was to follow Miana for a few days and find a suitable time to start. Dave saw through her thoughts and offered to help her check Miana's itinerary. Although this was a good thing, she could not accept Dave's help in vain.

She asked him, "Do you have anything you want me to do for you?"

Without even thinking about it, Dave said, "No, I have nothing to do with a woman's help."

The slightly arrogant tone of this self-confidence made Alyssa feel stunned for a moment, and Karl also had this temperament!

!

Back in the community, Alyssa and Dave went back to their houses.

As soon as Dave entered the door, he dialed Karl's number.

Karl had always answered his phone quickly, but it was the same this time, and he was picked up without a second ring.

"What's the matter?" On the other end of the phone, Karl's voice was mixed with a hint of imperceptible tension.

"What do you think your ex-wife wants to do to your current girlfriend?" Dave, who is usually unsmiling, said this with Karl in his tone of voice.

Karl only asked, "What?"

"Who knows? Immortal maybe half disabled." Dave's tone was as flat as he was talking about the weather with Karl.

Karl's voice was deep, "You help her, don't let her do it herself."

Dave sneered, "Karl, are you ordering me?"

There was no anger in Karl's tone, but he said lightly, "You can also choose not to do it."

But this was heard in Dave's ears, but it was full of threats.

People always start to regret and reflect when their lives become shorter and shorter, and Claire does the same.

After knowing that she had cancer, she was discouraged. Looking back on her for half a lifetime, she suddenly realized that she owed Karl the most.

Now, Karl is the only reason for Claire to survive.

Dave didn't want Claire to die, so he could only let Karl push her around.

Karl did not force him, because Karl knew that he would willingly let him be at his mercy.

Dave also knew Karl's thoughts, but there was nothing he could do. Who would let him not want Claire to die?

Chapter 762

Dave had never received such a threat. Although he felt a little unwilling, he could only swallow the breath aggrievedly.

He took a deep breath before saying, "I think Miss Alyssa wants to do it herself."

Karl just said, "She doesn't need to get dirty with these things."

"You mean, I deserved to do this kind of thing?" Dave really felt that Karl was a strange person. He was never soft on threats and exploits. He was cruel as long as he could achieve his goal, but he was really good to Alyssa. Careful and considerate is horrible.

"You have a bad memory, I said, you don't have to do it." Karl's tone remained calm.

Dave, who had experienced strong winds and waves, was also shocked by Karl's shameless look.

He was so angry that he hung up the phone and kicked the trash can next to him.

Karl was hung up by Dave and was not angry. He calmly put the phone aside, and his eyes fell on the computer.

â€¦

The next day.

Alyssa got up early and drove to find Alvin.

Yesterday, because of Tina, she released Alvin's pigeons, and Alvin was still a little angry.

Alyssa went to the morning tea shop to buy breakfast, only to find Alvin with the information she had compiled last night.

Alvin and Tina live in the same community. She has been here several times before. When she gets to the door, she has to call Alvin and ask Alvin to come down to meet her.

Before Alvin got up so early, Alyssa made several calls before he answered the phone slowly.

"Are you up? Can you come to the door to pick me up?"

Alvin, who had just woke up and was still half-asleep, immediately jumped out of bed when he heard that Alyssa was at the gate of the community: "Are you at the gate of the community? I will come down immediately, you wait!"

As soon as he finished speaking, he hung up.

Alyssa thought that Alvin had to finish washing, and would only come down after changing clothes.

As a result, Alvin came quickly instead.

He wore a windbreaker casually, slippers on his feet, and his hair was messy like a chicken coop.

Although Alyssa has seen how messy and dirty Alvin's house is, every time she sees Alvin, he looks like a neat noble son. This is the first time she sees him so grounded.

Alyssa looked at him blankly: "You?"

Alvin urged her: "Come in now, what are you doing in a daze? I heard that many celebrities in this community are so pretty. I plan to get one. If I let them see me like this, how can I get them!"

As soon as Alyssa walked in, Alvin dragged her inside.

"I'll go by myself!" Alyssa pulled her hand back.

Alvin only noticed that Alyssa was holding breakfast in her hand. He seemed to be taken aback for a moment, and looked down at Alyssa, "Brought it for me?"

"Yeah." Alyssa nodded, "I didn't eat either."

Alvin's eyes lit up all of a sudden, reached out and took the breakfast in her hand, and pushed her shoulder with a hand to let her go forward: "I'll mention it, you go faster."

Sometimes, the more people are afraid, they will come. This sentence is not totally unreasonable.

When Alyssa and Alvin walked to the elevator entrance, the elevator door just opened, and a delicate-faced woman came out from inside, who didn't look familiar, maybe she was a star who was not very popular.

Alvin reacted very quickly and dragged Alyssa to block him. He lowered his head to cover his face.

The woman glanced at them and left with a weird look.

When the woman walked away, Alyssa said angrily: "Since you are afraid of being seen by others like this, you can't wash your face and change clothes before coming down?"

"Isn't it because I was worried that you will be waiting below, and hurriedly came down to pick you up?" Alvin was convincing.

"Okay, okay, let's go in." Alyssa was too lazy to fight with him, and got into the elevator.

!

When she arrived at Alvin's house, Alyssa found that his house was much better than when she came last time.

Although it's still a bit messy, it's not dirty.

Alvin put breakfast on the dining table, dropped the sentence "You eat first" and I run into the bathroom.

There was a sound of water in the bathroom, and Alyssa did not eat breakfast first, but waited for him to come out to eat together.

She deliberately brought her breakfast, and of course she had to wait for him to eat it together, otherwise she would be very rude.

More than ten minutes later, Alvin came out.

There are still drops of water on his face, and the hair on his forehead is slightly damp. The hair is not as messy as before, but it is not as delicately groomed as usual. There are two bunches of dull hair on the top of his head, which looks a bit childish.

Alyssa couldn't help but take another look. Does Playboy Alvin still have another side?

Alvin felt that Alyssa was watching him, and smiled unkindly: "Alyssa, what are you staring at me like this? You suddenly discovered my handsomeness, so you want to... that?"

He made an ambiguous look.

Alyssa twitched her mouth, opened a box of breakfast, and threw the lid directly on him, saying without expression, "Are you as handsome as Karl?"

This sentence blurted out, and Alyssa herself was taken aback.

Alvin's face collapsed all at once, and he seemed very upset.

Alyssa remembered that Alvin had said before that his father was always admiring Karl, which made him reject Karl.

Alyssa knew that she had said something inappropriate: "Sorry, I have no other interest."

Alvin stared at her for a moment, and said uncharacteristically, "My dad always praised Karl. I think it was because my dad didn't look down on me, so he always praised others. But even you missed Karl. , Maybe he really excels."

"You..." Alyssa raised her head, looking at Alvin in surprise.

"I will have breakfast, I'm so hungry." Alvin didn't want to continue talking with her, so she changed the subject.

He opened the breakfast box, his eyes widened: "Is this breakfast so good? Which one? It looks so delicious."

As Alvin said, he picked up a rabbit-shaped rice ball and put it in his mouth.

From this breakfast shop food was bought for Grace by Alyssa before. The style is exquisite, there are many patterns, and the taste is good.

Alyssa opened the other boxes and arranged them in front of Alvin.

The two sat face to face at the table for breakfast, Alyssa had nothing to say, but Alvin said something from time to time.

Alvin seems to really like this kind of snack. Alyssa estimated the content of Alvin based on Karl's previous food intake, and bought a few more portions, but Alvin could eat them all.

After eating, Alyssa didn't expect Alvin to pack the lunch box, she started to pack it herself.

Alvin leaned back in a chair lazily, watching Alyssa standing at the table busy packing her lunch boxes, and suddenly said, "I haven't had breakfast at home in a long time."

Chapter 763

Alyssa didn't want to talk to Alvin, but as soon as she looked up, she saw his disappointed eyes and asked, "Why?"

"When I was born, my mother died of dystocia. My father was very busy. I was basically the only one eating at home when I was a child. Later I went out to live in high school. Since then, I have been eating out. During the holidays, if my father thought of his son, he would also come back for dinner."

Alvin's tone sounded calm, but his eyes betrayed him.

His eyes were full of regret, disappointment, and unwillingness.

It may be a disappointment to his father Wilfred, or it may be a disappointment to himself.

Alyssa could not guess, but grasped the point: "You had a bad relationship with your father?"

"He had so many adopted children, all of whom are better than me, such as that Clifford!" Alvin laughed disdainfully, as if he did not want to go on, summing up in one sentence: "In short, except for his own son, he had everything. All of his adopted children are excellent."

Hearing this, Alyssa paused slightly, put the last lunch box into the bag, and asked, "Is this the reason why you are at odds with Clifford? Because he is so good."

Alvin glanced at her, "What do you think?"

"I don't think you are jealous of Clifford, you are just jealous that your father spent too much effort on him, presumably among all your father's adopted children, Clifford is the best, and your father has spent the most effort." After Alyssa analyzed it, she said slowly.

Alvin's gaze flickered: "Alyssa, I find that your imagination is quite rich."

Alyssa's gaze moved down and found that Alvin's hand was holding the armrest of the chair slightly, which was a manifestation of nervousness that was exposed.

She guessed Alvin's thoughts, but Alvin was so stiff that he did not want to admit it.

Alyssa did not expose him, and followed his words: "You don't you know that I am a screenwriter? The screenwriter's imagination and feelings are very rich."

Although Alvin was straight-eyed, he was not a fool. How could he not see that Alyssa was following his words and showing him down the steps?

He stared at Alyssa for a few seconds, and then said quietly: "Before Clifford reminded me, let me stay away from you."

Alyssa was a little surprised: "Why?"

Alvin heard Clifford's words before, and only thought that Clifford himself was interested in Alyssa, so he didn't want him to approach Alyssa.

However, the more he gets along with Alyssa, the more he understands that there are reasons why Clifford would not let him approach Alyssa.

After Alyssa cleaned up the dining table, she took the information she had compiled and started discussing the lawsuit with him.

He flipped through the files She had given him: "These are all the information on Karl you have compiled?"

"Yeah." Alyssa nodded.

Alvin glanced through it and said: "Children under two years old will definitely be sentenced to their mothers. If Children are over ten years old, you can refer to the child's own wishes. But Grace is four years old this year. Her thoughts cannot be used as a reference. The game is with Karl!"

Alyssa lowered her eyes slightly, clasped her hands together, put them on her lap, and said, "I know, you have said this before."

"Karl has no serious diseases, no infectious diseases, no disability, and he has never abused Grace. He is healthy and has a rich family background. There is no bad effect on Karl living with her. These are all the advantages of Karl. But you are weak."

Alvin tapped his finger on the desk, and seeing Alyssa's face calm, he continued: "One more thing is that the parent who has no fertility any longer can be given priority."

Alyssa's eyes lit up when she heard the words, and Alvin raised his eyebrows and said, "Take away the thoughts in your heart. This one just allows you to be prioritized, rather than winning."

Alyssa pursed her lips, remembering something suddenly, and said: "It is said that if the other party has other children, the one without children will also be given priority."

This time it was Alvin's turn to be happy: "What? Does Karl have other illegitimate children?"

Alyssa's complexion darkened slightly: "No."

"Oh." Alvin was disappointed and suddenly said, "But!"

"But what?"

In Alyssa's surprised eyes, Alvin smiled badly: "He has no other children now, so he can make a child."

Alyssa was dumbfounded before reacting, "You mean, make Miana pregnant?"

“Miana? Karl’s fiancée?” Alvin said non-committal: “It doesn’t have to be that Miana is pregnant, other women are fine.”

Alyssa’s complexion changed slightly, not to mention letting others conceive Karl’s child, just thinking that Karl would sleep with other women, she felt that she was not in the mood.

The less she feels, the more uncontrollable thinking about those things in her mind.

Karl’s fingers are clean and slender. Those hands will touch the skin of other women, and Alyssa’s eyes will become dark because of other women’s emotions!

“Oh!” Alyssa suddenly felt nauseous, retching, and quickly ran towards the bathroom, covering her mouth.

Seeing this, Alvin stood up anxiously, “Alyssa, what’s wrong with you?”

Alyssa didn’t have time to answer him, lying on the side of the sink, retching all the time, feeling the stomach churning is uncomfortable, but she retched for a long time without vomiting anything.

She turned on the faucet, held the water and poured it on her face, her face was a little scary.

Alvin followed and took a look, then turned around and poured a glass of water over.

He held water in one hand and a towel in the other hand to Alyssa.

“Thank you.” Alyssa’s voice was a little hoarse, she took it, wiped her face, and drank some water, her complexion still pale.

Alvin looked at her for a while, then hesitated and said, “I heard that you women seem to vomit when you are pregnant!”

“I’m not pregnant, it’s just a bad stomach.” Alyssa sniffed and walked out holding the cup.

Alvin followed up: “Go to the doctor if you are sick.”

“I will!” Alyssa put down the cup and towel and picked up her bag: “I am a little tired and want to go back first.”

“Okay, I’ll take you down.” Seeing her face so ugly, Alvin picked up his coat and wanted to send her off.

Alyssa rejected his kindness and said in an alienated tone: “No, I’ll just go down by myself.”

Alvin frowned, a trace of displeasure appeared on his face: “How come there is so much nonsense, I will just send you to the gate of the community.”

Seeing that he insisted on giving it away, Alyssa didn’t want to shirk him. The two went out in silence all the way.

Chapter 764

Alvin sent Alyssa to the gate of the community and stood on the side of the road waving to her, his tone a little awkward: “Go back and rest.”

Alyssa gave him a surprised look: “You go back.”

Alvin shrugged and stood on the side of the road without moving, as if he was about to wait for her to get in the car before going back.

Alyssa didn't care about him, and drove away after getting in the car.

She saw in the mirror that Alvin had also walked towards the community.

At this time, her cell phone rang, and there was a new message reminding her.

Alyssa slowed down, took time to look around, and found that it was a new mail notification.

Yesterday Dave said that he would find Miana's nearly one-week trip to her this morning, most likely Dave sent her an email.

Alyssa didn't open it immediately, but put the phone back.

The phone rang again just after returning.

This time someone called her.

Alyssa glanced at Mattie's call.

Mattie kept dialing when not getting the answer.

don't know what is so urgent.

Alyssa had to slow down again and picked up the phone to answer Mattie's call.

There was a noise in the background of Mattie's end, as if it was outside.

Alyssa asked her: "Are you shopping outside?"

Mattie seemed to have taken two steps, and the murmur in the background was a little lower. She should have found a corner where no one was there, and then she said, "There is a good thing to share with you."

"What's the matter?" Alyssa thought for a while, but couldn't think of any good things Mattie wanted to share with her.

The drama under Mattie's hands was also very popular some time before, which is not a rare occurrence.

"Just now in a bridal shop, Miana fell down the stairs and was taken away by an ambulance. They said she broke her leg hahahaha!" After Mattie said mysteriously, she couldn't help but haha.

Happy misfortune is obvious.

"Miana broke her leg?" Alyssa asked with some confusion.

"Yeah! I just walked in when she fell down the stairs! I just wanted to laugh at the time, but I had to hold back in front of so many people!" Mattie's tone was very excited.

Alyssa parked the car on the side of the road and asked, "How did she fall?"

Mattie said: "I don't know, there are a lot of people who come to see the wedding dresses. There are so many people upstairs and downstairs in the bridal shop. Who knows if she fell down by herself or someone else pushed her?"

Alyssa was slightly lost, she hadn't done anything yet, Miana broke her leg first, wouldn't it be a coincidence?

With doubts in her heart, Alyssa dealt with Mattie a few words, and drove back hurriedly.

She returned to her community and knocked on Dave's door as soon as she went upstairs.

Alyssa knocked several times, but there was no response inside, is there no one inside?

After waiting for another moment to make sure there was no one inside, Alyssa returned to her house.

Before, Dave sent her Miana's schedule for nearly a week. Alyssa opened it and looked at it and found that it recorded her itinerary in great detail, including the specific time.

There is a party at a club at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, and an appointment at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

Even though Alyssa had known Dave's abilities a long time ago, she realized what kind of bodyguard she had hired after seeing this detailed schedule.

There are also records on the wedding gown this morning.

After scanning, Alyssa put her mobile phone aside, thought about it, and opened the door again to see if the opposite Dave was back.

The door was still closed, and Dave hadn't returned yet.

Alyssa was about to close the door when she heard the sound of the elevator stopping on this floor.

Alyssa paused with her hand about to close the door, poking out her head and looking at the elevator entrance.

The next moment, Dave's figure appeared at the elevator entrance.

"Dave!" Seeing that it was him, Alyssa called his name and strode towards him.

After Dave got out of the elevator, he stood there and waited for Alyssa.

After Alyssa approached, he asked aloud, "Miss Alyssa is waiting for me?"

"Yeah." Alyssa nodded, and said, "I received what you sent me. It's very detailed."

When Alyssa spoke, she also looked at Dave calmly.

Dave wore a rare shirt today, pure gray, and he looked a little gloomy.

"Do you know that something happened to Miana?" After Alyssa looked at it, she returned her gaze to his face again.

"I know." Dave paused, then added: "I did it, it's easy."

Alyssa originally thought about how to ask, but Dave took the initiative to confess.

“Youâ€¦!” Alyssa hesitated and was about to speak, but was interrupted by Dave: “You can add money to me. I’ll go back if there is nothing else.”

Alyssa looked at Dave’s back, a little lost.

Did he really do it like that?

This is not in line with Dave’s character. He takes money to do things, is very principled, and will never be nosy.

â€¦!

Adams Group.

As soon as Karl signed a stack of documents, he opened the door and walked in from outside, holding a paper bag in his hand.

Hearing the movement, he raised his head and glanced up, and when he saw it was Smith, he didn’t say anything, so he lowered his head to continue processing the file.

Smith took the paper bag and walked to Karl: “Sir.”

Karl raised his eyelids and asked, “What’s the hesitation?”

After a pause, the paper bag in his hand was handed to Karl.

Karl’s gaze had already been retracted, and it fell back on the file on the desk. He asked, “What is it?”

“The summons sent by the court.” Smith finished speaking, carefully watching Karl’s reaction.

Karl had a whole meal, like a movie with the pause button pressed, frozen.

After a few seconds, Karl’s deep voice sounded slow: “Let things down, you go out.”

Smith had already read it and knew that it was Alyssa’s subpoena for changing Grace’s custody rights, and Karl naturally knew better what it was, and he didn’t need to say much.

During the meetings these days, Karl had been a little absent, guessing from time to time that he was probably waiting for this.

Smith went out and after that Karl slowly processed the documents in his hand, he moved his arms before going to get the court’s summons.

He stared at the paper bag for a while, then threw it aside, got up, took the cigarette case and lighter on the table, and walked to the French window.

He lit a cigarette, stood at the floor-to-ceiling window and looked out, his eyes blank.

The spit out smoke swirled around his face, and when it dissipated, Karl’s eyes were slightly red.

He took a few more deep cigarette puffs, choked up too quickly, causing him to cough violently.

He twisted his eyebrows, and he was just about to pinch the cigarette, the phone rang.

Chapter 765

He took it out and took a look. The word "Miana" was beating on it, so that he didn't have the slightest desire to answer the call, and he threw the phone aside.

He smoked the cigarette that he was about to squeeze until only the cigarette butt remained, and then pressed it out in the ashtray.

After that, he reached out and picked up the phone he had thrown away before.

Just picking up the phone, another call came.

It was still from Miana.

Karl answered the phone expressionlessly, and he didn't speak, waiting for her on the other end to speak first.

Miana asked reproachfully: "Why don't you answer my call?"

"In a meeting." Karl lied without blinking his face.

Miana's arrogance suddenly disappeared a bit, and her tone softened a little, and she said compromisingly: "Karl, I was injured in the bridal shop!"

Karl turned on the hands-free, took the phone in his hand, walked to the desk and sat down, put the phone down, looking casually.

After a while, when she finished speaking, he added faintly: "There are still several meetings today. I will come to the hospital to see you after work."

Miana actually hoped that Karl would move to see her now, and wanted to get comfort from him, but he had already said that he has several meetings, so she has to act generously and wait for him tonight. Come see her again.

But when the words came to her lips, she reluctantly said: "In your eyes, it is all work! I am more important or work is important! If you accompany me to see the wedding dress today, I might not get hurt!"

Karl raised his eyes slightly, and said in a constant tone: "You are important, and work is also important, but you are more important than work."

After Miana said so much, she just wanted to hear something nice from Karl.

Karl's words caught her heart, her voice was already stained with a smile: "I know, you should also pay attention to your body."

"Take rest." Karl's fingers tapped slowly and rhythmically on the desk, revealing his impatience.

!

When Alyssa returned home, she always felt that Dave was weird.

Not only was Dave helping her deal with Miana, it was weird that Dave would appear here and promise to be her bodyguard from the beginning.

But Alyssa couldn't tell how weird it was.

Alvin's matter reverberated in her mind.

All things mixed together, there is always an inexplicable irritability, it seems that some inexplicable force is pushing them forward.

In the afternoon, she began to make soup for Tina.

Before the soup was ready, Alyssa's cell phone rang.

Alyssa helped watch the heat of the soup without paying attention to who was calling, so she called directly, "Hello?"

"Go to the kindergarten to pick up Grace today."

The man's low voice came from the mobile phone, and Alyssa gave a violent hand with the lid of the pot.

This is Karl's voice!

Alyssa did not make a sound during the meeting.

The man on the other end was already a little impatient: "Are you inconvenient?"

"Is there no time for the Mr. Smith to pick up Grace?" Alyssa asked on her behalf.

Karl seemed to not want to say a word to her, so he only replied, "Yes."

"Then I will pick her up later." After Alyssa finished speaking, she hung up the phone.

She always felt that if she hung up the phone first, she would have won something.

Alyssa couldn't help but laugh at herself.

There is still an hour before Grace is over from school, when the soup is ready, she and Grace have eaten, and they go to send soup to Tina.

Tina likes Grace, she must be happy to see her.

After the soup was boiled, Alyssa turned off the fire and drove to pick up Grace.

Grace obediently followed the teacher at the door of the kindergarten. Seeing Alyssa getting off the car from a distance, she raised her head and said a few words to the teacher, and then ran towards Alyssa.

Alyssa squatted down to catch Grace, and heard her milky voice asking: "Mom, why did you come to pick me up suddenly?"

"Don't you want your mother to pick you up?" Alyssa scratched her nose, hugged Grace and carried her into the car.

"Yes~" Grace snorted on Alyssa's face.

Alyssa laughed and buckled Grace's seat belt.

Grace murmured: "Dad said in the morning that he would come to pick me up."

Alyssa was taken aback for a while, stretched out her hand to pat Grace's small face, smiled and said, "He is busy at work, so your mother came to pick you up."

Grace nodded: "Yeah."

Alyssa looked at Grace from the rearview mirror, with a hint of discussion in her tone: "Remember Aunt Tina? She is injured and is admitted to the hospital. Shall we go see her after lunch?"

"Why is she injured?" Grace looked up, with doubts written in her big eyes.

"You get hurt by accident, so you have to be careful when you take the stairs and do what you do. Don't hurt yourself." Alyssa explained to her warmly.

Grace nodded again: "I know."

â€¦

She took Grace home, and after the two had eaten, Alyssa took soup and Grace to the hospital.

Before going, she called Tina.

Grace had never been to the hospital before, and was curious about everything the first time she came to the hospital.

The two entered the elevator, and the elevator stopped when it reached the floor of Tina's Ward.

This floor is a VIP ward. You can hardly see anyone when you enter and exit. It is quiet and confidential.

As soon as Alyssa got out of the elevator, she ran into a man who was approaching.

Grace was the first to say: "Dad."

Alyssa couldn't help but tightened her hand tightly. Her gaze fell behind Karl, Miana was sitting in a wheelchair, looking towards Alyssa.

This hospital has a good reputation. Basically, people with a certain status will come to this hospital for medical treatment and hospitalization. Tina is here, and it is normal for Miana to be here if she is injured.

But unexpectedly, Miana happened to be on the same floor as Tina.

Karl seemed to have not seen Alyssa, and only replied to Grace: "Yeah."

Grace stood quietly next to Alyssa, looking at Karl and Alyssa again, with a puzzled face.

Seeing this, Miana motioned to the nurse behind her to push her forward, and smiled at Grace: "Grace, I haven't seen you for a long time, do you remember me?"

Grace glanced at Miana and curled her lips: "I don't remember."

Miana's face changed when she heard this, and looked at Karl: "Karlâ€¦"

“Alyssa!”

Tina’s voice suddenly sounded, and Alyssa looked over, and saw Tina also coming out in a wheelchair.

“You sent me a message before saying that you are coming up. Seeing that you haven’t come, I came out to have a look” Tina slid over in her wheelchair. When she got closer, she realized that the person standing in front of Alyssa was Karl. , The person in the wheelchair is Miana.

Tina sighed secretly, this scene is really a bit exciting!

Chapter 766

Alyssa saw Tina sliding over on her own wheelchair, and quickly walked over with Grace, held onto Tina’s wheelchair, and whispered, “You don’t need to come out.”

“How could I see this scene if I didn’t come out” Tina lowered her voice, facing Alyssa’s direction, but eyes glanced at Karl and Miana on the other side.

After she finished speaking, she noticed that Grace was also coming, and she was surprised: “Why is Ms. Grace also here?”

“Aunt Tina.” Grace cried out obediently, her eyes fell on Tina’s plastered leg, and curiously asked: “Are you hurt?”

Tina touched her face, smiled and shook her head: “It doesn’t hurt.”

Hearing this, Grace reached out and carefully touched her plastered leg, then raised her eyes to see Tina’s reaction.

Tina couldn’t laugh, and she held Grace’s hand and tapped on her leg twice, and said, “It’s really not painful, it’s not painful, you can’t knock the inside.”

Grace looked at it curiously, but didn’t reach out to knock again, only grinned.

Miana remembered that in the coffee shop that day, Karl had asked her a few times if she had done anything. She felt a little guilty when she saw Tina.

She said: “Karl, let’s go, are you going to take Grace with you?”

Miana’s voice caught Tina’s attention.

Tina first smiled at Grace, gently pushed her to Alyssa’s side, patted her on the head again, and then turned her head to look at Miana: “Oh, Miss Palmer, you are still broken. When you’re on your legs, you have to worry about other people’s children? Don’t worry about being so wide when you get older, and be careful to get older faster.”

Alyssa whispered her name: “Tina.”

Tina didn’t hear it, and continued to follow Miana.

Miana was very angry when she was cold, and few people dared to show her face in front of her, not to mention that after she and Karl were together, the limelight became more popular, and no one dared to shame her like this.

Miana suppressed her anger: "You lady, have I offended you in any way? Please pay attention to your words."

Miana can buy people to intentionally injure Tina, so it's impossible not to know Tina.

Tina's gaze fell on Miana's leg, which was also plastered, and said slowly: "There will be retribution for doing bad things, Miss Palmer has an experience."

"I don't understand what you are talking about!" After Ms. Palmer pretended to be calm, she urged Karl: "Let's go."

Karl said nothing, and went straight to the elevator entrance.

"Alyssa, let's go." Tina snorted as she slid her wheelchair toward the ward.

Seeing this, Alyssa reached out to help push the wheelchair towards the ward.

She noticed that Grace walked and looked back to see Karl.

Alyssa lowered her head warmly, and asked Grace softly, "What's wrong? Do you want to go to Dad's place?"

Grace shook her head, her little brows frowned slightly, her little hand resting on Tina's wheelchair, and walking with them to the ward, looking like a thoughtful little adult.

After entering the ward, Alyssa asked Grace to sit down first, and then opened the soup and meals that she brought over.

Tina teased Grace, but Grace seemed unhappy and didn't pay much attention to her.

Tina asked Alyssa in a low voice, "What's wrong with Grace?"

Alyssa also noticed Grace's abnormality. She glanced at Grace and said to Tina, "You can eat first. I'll take Grace home after you finish eating."

Taking advantage of the Tina eating, Alyssa sat down in front of Grace and asked her, "What's the matter?"

Grace curled her lips and said nothing.

Alyssa reached out and gave her a hug.

After Tina finished eating, Alyssa left with Grace.

On the way back, Grace fell asleep.

When she got downstairs, Alyssa held Grace upstairs. In a few months, Grace will be celebrating her fourth birthday. She weighs more than 30 pounds now, almost 40 pounds. She hugged her to the door of her house, panting with exhaustion and sweating profusely.

After opening the door and going in, when Alyssa put her on the sofa, she woke up in a daze, and screamed, "Mom!"

“Wake up? Wash your face before going to sleep.” Seeing her awake, Alyssa pulled her up: “Will you go by yourself?”

Grace rubbed her eyes and was led to the bathroom by Alyssa.

When Alyssa washed her face, she shook her head and said, “Dad and Aunt Palmer are together.”

“Huh?” Alyssa didn’t hear too clearly for a while. After a pause, she realized what Grace had said.

“Aunt Palmer” naturally refers to Miana.

Alyssa washed her face and started washing her hands again.

Grace looked up at her: “Why isn’t Dad with you?”

Alyssa was stunned. In the hospital before, Grace had been unhappy because of this?

The movement of Alyssa’s hands slowed down a lot, and she said softly: “No one and anyone has to be together, and your father and I don’t want to be together anymore, so he will be with Aunt Palmer.”

Grace, didn’t know if she understood. When Alyssa wiped her hands clean, Grace said again: “Then you want to be with Uncle Alvin?”

“Huh?” This time, Alyssa was completely stunned: “Why do you think I will be with Uncle Alvin?”

Grace thought without hesitation: “He is handsome.”

Alyssa was surprised and had nothing to say.

She felt that Grace could understand everything, but she just didn’t know how to express it.

It was precisely because Alyssa felt that Grace might understand these things, so she decided not to continue this topic with her.

Children’s attention is easily diverted.

However, when Grace was sent back to the room to sleep, Alyssa was stumped by her problem again.

“Mom, don’t you think Uncle Alvin is handsome?”

Looking at Grace’s innocent eyes, Alyssa couldn’t laugh or cry: “You think he is handsome, he is handsome. Okay, go to bed.”

â€¦

Early the next morning, Alyssa drove Grace to kindergarten.

As soon as she got out of the car, Alyssa felt that someone was watching her.

She looked around for a while and noticed an unremarkable black car not far away.

Although black is low-key, the license plate is not low-key.

Alyssa recognized at a glance that it was Karl’s car.

What did Karl drove to the entrance of the kindergarten to see Grace?

But if he came to see Grace, he could go to her in the morning to pick up Grace. Otherwise, he should get off the car at this time.

Since there are none, it means that Karl didn't come to see Grace, it was possible that he came to her.

Alyssa did not say anything, but sent Grace to the kindergarten.

When she came out, she saw Smith standing in front of her car.

"Miss Alyssa." Smith nodded slightly and greeted her.

Alyssa asked, "What's the matter?"

"Please come over." Smith glanced in the direction of Karl's car.

Chapter 767

Alyssa paused and walked in the direction of Karl's car.

She looked at it, and there was no one in the front row, so she opened the back seat door and sat in.

After Alyssa sat in, she didn't even look at Karl, and said businessly: "If you have anything, please tell me, I have something to do."

Karl seemed to change his posture, and she felt the slight vibration of the back of the chair.

Afterwards, Karl's low voice rang slowly in the car: "When you look for a lawyer, don't you ask about the origin of the other party? A lawyer like Alvin, you still want to rely on him. Win the lawsuit against me?"

"I want to correct you. I am not delusional, but I have trust. I believe Alvin will definitely win this lawsuit." Alyssa knew that Karl had mostly received a subpoena from the court.

"Blind trust, affection!" The short words, inexplicably implied a sense of helplessness.

Alyssa turned back to look at Karl, only to see his cold side face and the corners of his lips slightly pursed.

She chuckled, "Mr. Adams is worried that I will lose the lawsuit? I didn't expect you to care about me so much."

Karl looked sideways at her, with a cold expression: "We are husband and wife, but I don't want you to lose too ugly."

Alyssa was choked by him, bit the corner of her lip, her tone was a bit aggressive: "That's my business, it has nothing to do with you."

After she finished speaking, she pulled the car door and got out, slamming the car door.

After she left, Smith returned not long after.

He just stood not far away. When Alyssa got out of the car, the movement of the door slammed was a bit loud, and he saw it all.

Smith took a look in the rearview mirror, Karl was sitting by the window, looking out the window slightly, not knowing what he was thinking, but the low air pressure in the car let him know, Karl was in a bad mood at this time.

“Did Boss talk to the young lady about Alvin? I have investigated that Alvin, and he is not completely innocent. When he was at school, he helped people win a lot of lawsuits, but later he spent time drink. He’s not working as a lawyer”

Karl looked back at him suddenly, his eyes darkened and terribly dark, and he silenced Smith unconsciously.

Before Karl asked him to check Alvin’s information, he could guess that Karl’s approach to Alyssa was about Alvin.

He could feel that Karl looked down on the lawyer Alvin, but based on Smith’s experience, Alvin’s ability might not be that bad.

Karl said blankly, “Do you really admire Alvin?”

“No, I just think” Smith wanted to say something, but seeing that Karl had his eyes lightly closed, he had to swallow the rest of the words.

Smith started the car and drove to the Adams Group.

Karl opened his eyes and looked at the roof of the car, slightly distracted.

Alvin’s information has been investigated carefully by Smith, and even the kindergarten he went to was found.

Just because there are so many things that can be found, this also shows that Alvin’s background is very simple.

Even if he is Wilfred’s son, his life is much simpler.

Bereavement at a young age, go to school, make friends, spend a lot of time after graduation, no different from ordinary dudes.

Such a resume is considered clean to people like Karl.

Although Alvin spends time drinking wine, he is principled and open-minded.

So far, this is the simplest and most upright growth environment among the men Alyssa has met.

The former Norris had an unbearable life experience, hiding it deeply and using many tricks.

Later, Clifford had no purpose when he approached Alyssa from the beginning, and Alyssa was wary of him.

As for himself

Karl laughed mockingly and stopped thinking.

Alvin gave him a sense of crisis inexplicably.

This sense of crisis comes from his intuition. As for why he has this intuition, he himself is somewhat unclear.

â€¦

Alyssa was angry all the way because of Karl's words.

She was talking to herself while driving.

"Who should I look for a lawyer. He has anything to do with it?"

"Do you think I will lose before you start?"

"Who does Karl think he is?"

Alyssa thought about it more and more, and after stopping the car on the side of the road, she called Alvin: "I think your previous proposal is feasible."

"Which proposal?" At this time, Alvin hadn't gotten up yet, listening to Alyssa's words, he still felt that there was a cloud in the mist.

Alyssa explained: "The child's proposal."

"Ah? Child?" Alvin jumped out of the bed with a carp, "Alyssa, don't scare me early in the morning, what child, we are nothing!"

Alvin, who didn't wake up in the morning, may have some brain problems.

Alyssa was too lazy to explain to him, and hung up.

She drove straight home and took a look at the week-long schedule of Miana that Dave gave her.

But Miana is already injured, is this schedule still useful?

It looked like that yesterday, Miana might not have been in the hospital either.

If you decide to start with "Karl has other children", then the most important person is Miana.

As long as Miana tried her best to conceive Karl's child, would her chances of winning be even greater.

As Alyssa thought this way, her hand on the table tightened involuntarily.

Miana and Karl's childrenâ€¦

Alyssa got up with an ugly expression and poured herself a glass of water, her hand holding the glass trembling slightly.

At this time, mobile phone rang, and Alyssa almost fell to the ground with the cup in her hand.

She glanced at the phone on the table, calmed her mind, and walked to the table to look at the phone.

The call was from Alvin.

"Where do you live? The houses in this community are all the same, densely packed like a maze!" Alvin's voice sounded a little frustrated.

Ask her where she lives!

Alvin came to see her?

Alyssa asked: "Are you coming to me?"

"If I don't find you, I will go around in this neighborhood. Is it fun?" Alvin's tone became even worse.

Alyssa felt that Alvin's temper was getting bigger and bigger.

"Where are you? What landmark buildings are nearby, I'll come to you."

"Nothing, just a house!"

"Yes, you send me a position, and I will come out to find you." Alyssa felt that if she asked more, Alvin might just run away.

Alvin hung up the phone and gave Alyssa a position.

Alyssa has lived here for more than half a year and is familiar with the neighborhood. She quickly found the address sent by Alvin. It was at the east gate of the community. There were few people coming in and out, and it was a bit remote. She didn't know how Alvin was. Found him there.

Alvin drove a very irritating pink sports car, which was obviously painted by someone behind him.

Chapter 768

Alvin was already bored and wanted to climb onto the roof of the car.

As soon as he saw Alyssa, he said angrily: "What kind of shabby place you live in, I walk around, but I can't find where you are."

Alyssa has never seen a man driving a pink sports car. She circled the car and asked, "Your own this?"

"Otherwise?" Alvin patted the car body, tilting his head to look at Alyssa: "You like it? I'll give it to you!"

Alyssa twitched her mouth: "No need."

"If you really like it, I can really send you, I have a lot of cars!" Alvin's tone is as relaxed as if he invites people to have a meal, and it is not at all like sending people a car worth millions or more.

Alyssa glared at him, and he shrugged: "Okay, get in the car."

Alyssa followed in the car and showed him the way to drive to the front door.

After stopping the car, Alvin entered the community with her.

Alvin's sulky pink sports car has attracted the attention of many people. People who can afford to drive this kind of car are not cheap and will basically not live in this kind of community.

"Have you seen it? No matter where I go, your brother is the focus of the crowd." Alvin reached Alyssa's ear and whispered.

Alyssa's face was faint, and she only asked, "Brother?"

Alvin softened his throat in embarrassment, and hit his arm with her shoulder: "Don't be like this, just give me some face."

Alyssa raised her eyebrows: "I don't seem to know you so well."

"Why are you unfamiliar? We are allies now!" Seeing Alyssa ignored him, Alvin said awkwardly: "Can you tell me what you are talking about in the future? You called me before. Speaking of the child, it scared me to death!"

It was only after he drove the car out that he wanted to understand that the child Alyssa said was that Karl and another woman had a child they had discussed before.

Thinking that he had already driven the car out, he simply came to Alyssa.

Alyssa listened to him muttering all the way, and for the first time felt that a big man talked too much.

After finally going upstairs and entering the room, she quickly poured him a glass of water, hoping Alvin could shut up.

"Thank you, how did you know that I was thirsty?" Alvin took the water glass and drank it clean in one go: "Some more."

Alyssa glanced at him, then turned around and poured him some more.

When she poured the water over, Alvin was already attracted by a box of puzzles under the coffee table.

He took out the puzzle from under the coffee table and asked her, "Is this Grace's?"

"Yeah." she lowered the water cup and went to wash the fruit again.

She came out with the fruit, Alvin was already playing puzzles.

Alyssa sat opposite him, watched him fight a few pieces, and said in a low voice: "Naive."

He can also play with the puzzles that children play!

Alvin installed a piece of the puzzle in his hand, pointed in Alyssa's direction, and said without raising his head, "You said bad things about me, I heard it."

Alyssa didn't bother him, and waited for him to finish before talking about business.

Not long, Alvin said, "What's the matter, I can't find this piece."

"Where?" Alyssa leaned over and took a look, and she was still one piece short.

Before Grace was playing puzzles in the living room, Alyssa thought for a while and said, "Not under the coffee table?"

After she finished speaking, she went to look for the puzzle piece under the coffee table, and Alvin followed the probe to find: "Where?"

Alyssa squatted on the ground and looked under the coffee table. She quickly found the puzzle piece. She picked it up and raised her head sharply: "I'm looking for it!"

She didn't know that Alvin was also looking for the puzzle. As soon as she raised her head, she met Alvin's face. Alvin looked at her condescendingly, and their faces were only five centimeters apart.

Alvin didn't expect that she would suddenly look up, and he was stunned.

It was Alyssa who stepped back first, stood up, and threw the piece of puzzle she found to him.

Alvin blinked his eyes, looked at Alyssa, then at the puzzle piece, touched his nose, and whispered: "You look pretty?"

Alyssa pretended not to hear what he said and asked, "What did you say?"

"Nothing." Alvin twitched the corners of his mouth, a little coldly.

Afterwards, he put the jigsaw away and put it back under the coffee table: "Talk business!"

When it was time to talk about business, Alyssa said sternly: "I thought about your proposal and thought it is feasible. The important thing now is to get Karl's fiancée Miana pregnant, and now Miana's leg is injured. She wants to marry Karl so much, she must really want a satisfactory wedding, and she will definitely wait for her leg injury to heal before marrying, so we have plenty of time again."

Her voice was a bit obscure at first, but after speaking, it became smoother.

Alvin looked at her so calmly, and a suspicion flashed in his eyes: "Are you really willing to let Karl and other women have children?"

Alyssa lowered her eyes slightly and her voice was unusually calm: "Why don't I, our marriage relationship over long ago, and we have nothing to do with each other. If it weren't for Grace, I don't want to interact with him again."

Looking from Alvin's direction, he could only see Alyssa's firm face. As for the emotions in her eyes, he could not see.

"Okay, since you have decided to use this plan, we will start with Miana." Alvin stared at Alyssa for a few seconds before saying: "As far as I know, Miana and you are rivals. Will she be willing to cooperate with you?"

"She wouldn't want Grace to stay with Karl." Alyssa couldn't be more clear about Miana's Forbidden Thunder Method.

Miana regarded her as a thorn in her eyes and would not treat Grace kindly, and naturally she would not want Grace to stay with Karl.

Miana hates her, and naturally hates Grace.

Miana has always been at odds with her, but if the two have a common goal, they can naturally cooperate.

Alvin nodded when he heard the words, "It makes sense, but how to do this?"

Alyssa looked up at him: "I have Miana's contact information, I will handle this matter."

Alvin nodded and said nothing.

Alyssa stood up and said, "I will send you out."

"I've been driving the car for so long and I got lost. I came to talk to you, so you can drive me away and don't care about it?" Alvin knocked hard on the coffee table a few times, expressing his dissatisfaction.

Alyssa checked the time. It was eleven o'clock, and it was indeed lunchtime.

"Let's go." She took the key and stood up.

Alvin asked: "Where to go?"

"Didn't you mean eating?"

Alvin pointed to the kitchen: "You can cook, right? Your kitchen seems to be used often."

Alyssa narrowed her eyes slightly: "You are very careful to observe."

"Look for what I want!" Alvin said with a smile, and put his legs on the sofa, clasping his hands together behind his head: "I woke up in the morning and didn't sleep enough. I will rest for a while. You can call me when food is ready."

Chapter 769

Seeing that Alvin was really ready to go to bed, Alyssa asked angrily: "Are you like this in other people's homes?"

Alvin closed his eyes and slowly said, "How?"

Alyssa asked, "You don't know how to write the word 'Polite'?"

"Talking to friends is polite, so I'll see you outside." Alvin turned over and changed into a comfortable posture. It seemed that he didn't plan to get up again.

"You're really welcome!" Alyssa murmured, seeing that Alvin was really lying down and couldn't do anything to him, so she turned and went to the kitchen.

Opening the refrigerator, Alyssa looked inside. There were some dishes inside, but she didn't particularly want Alvin to be happy.

What if he also plays to eat at her house in the future?

Alyssa thought for a while, took the vegetables and eggs from it, and cooked two bowls of egg noodles with vegetables.

She brought out two bowls of green vegetable egg noodles, put them on the table, and shouted to Alvin, "Alvin eat!"

Alvin was just taking a nap, and didn't fall asleep.

Hearing Alyssa calling him, he turned over from the bed and sat up: "It's all right so soon! You're here."

Alvin rushed to the table eagerly and saw the two bowls of noodles, but he couldn't react for a while.

Alvin pointed to the surface on the table and asked Alyssa in disbelief: "Just eat this?"

“You don’t want to eat?” Alyssa stretched her hand over, as long as he said “I don’t want to eat,” she would take the noodle bowl.

“Eat, eat, let me eat!” Alvin hurriedly walked over, and reached out to bring the noodles to him, for fear that Alyssa would take him away.

The two sat down to eat noodles face to face.

Alvin ate very elegantly at the beginning, but later he “sucked” and ate so much that he didn’t care about the image.

He quickly finished eating the noodles, staring at Alyssa and complimenting her: “Your cooking is so delicious, you see, I ate it all.”

As he said, he turned his bowl to Alyssa and motioned her to look.

She didn’t raise her head, but just said “um”.

“Your noodles are so delicious, so your cooking skills must be better?” Alvin dragged his chair towards Alyssa, tilting his head to look at her.

Even without asking, Alyssa knew what Alvin was thinking.

“Just leave when you’re full.” Alyssa issued the eviction order and went to the kitchen with the bowl.

Alvin followed in: “What will you eat tonight?”

Alyssa turned her head and glared at him, and Alvin touched his nose: “I’ll leave soon!”

At this time, there was a knock on the door outside.

The two looked at each other, and Alvin said, “May I open the door for you?”

Alyssa pushed him aside: “No need.”

In her home, where does Alvin need to help her open the door?

She walked to the door, glanced out of the cat’s eyes, and was a little surprised to see Smith standing outside the door.

She opened the door, looked at Smith, and said in surprise: “Mr. Smith, why are you here?”

Why did Smith come to her house at noon?

Smith looked serious and said, “Can I come in and sit?”

Alyssa was stunned for a moment, but she didn’t expect to make such a request by Smith, nodded and said, “Of course you can.”

She stood aside, remembering that there was still Alvin at home, and Smith explained: “However, you have other guests.”

“Is that inconvenient?” Smith had already stepped into the door with one foot.

"It's okay, he will leave right away." Alyssa finished speaking and looked inside and found that Alvin had walked out.

Alyssa opened the door a little bit more, and said to Alvin, "Aren't you going to leave? I won't send you down, I have a guest here."

Alvin raised his eyebrows, looking a little dissatisfied, but did not say anything.

As he walked out, he was looking at Smith. When he was about to go out, he suddenly stopped and asked, "This gentleman looks familiar. Have I met you?"

Smith was Karl's special assistant, and he was almost inseparable from Karl. Alvin would say that he had met him, it was normal.

It's just that the scene at this time is a bit out of date. Alyssa directly ignored Alvin's words and smiled and said to Smith: "Sit inside."

Alvin saw that Alyssa's attitude towards Smith was so good, compared with her attitude towards him, it was completely the opposite.

He snorted coldly, then strode away.

Seeing him leaving, Alyssa closed the door and turned around to pour water on Smith.

"Is there anything important? You came to the door in such a hurry Mr. Smith?" Smith usually doesn't look for her. If it is a trivial matter, he'll just call.

"Thank you." Smith took the water cup and thanked him, took a sip, and then became silent again, looking a little restless.

Alyssa felt more weird in her heart, she suddenly thought of a possibility, and her face turned pale: "Did Grace have something wrong?"

"No, no, Grace is in kindergarten and is well." Smith quickly denied.

The more he denied it, the more suspicious Alyssa's heart became.

Suddenly, a bell rang.

Smith seemed to have been waiting for this call, and immediately took out his mobile phone to answer the call: "I'm outside! well, yes! how could this be? I'll be back soon!"

When he hung up the phone Smith stood up and said, "Miss Alyssa, there is something urgent in the company, I'll go back first."

After he finished speaking, he couldn't wait to go out.

"Eh, you!" Alyssa stood up and saw the back of Smith hurriedly leaving.

Alyssa frowned slightly and stood there for a moment.

Why is Smith weird? He is the most reliable in handling things, how could he make a special trip to the door and say nothing, answer the phone and leave?

â€¦

As soon as Smith went out, he sighed with relief and murmured: "Next time I will resolutely not do this for Boss."

When he walked to the elevator entrance, Dave's door opened. He looked at Smith and said with a smile, "Karl asked you to help him catch someone red-handed?"

Karl had also called him before, and he had decided not to help Karl with such things, so Karl had to call Smith to come over.

Smith sighed and ignored Dave.

Dave didn't care, closed the door and went back to the room.

When he left the community Smith saw the pink sports car still parked there.

The next moment, the door of the sports car opened, and Alvin got out.

Smith stopped and watched Alvin walk towards him.

He curled his lips, his eyes were confident and determined: "Go back and tell Karl that I will win the lawsuit between him and Alyssa!"

After Alvin left the community, he remembered that Smith was the assistant that Karl had brought with him at that time, and he stayed in the car waiting for Smith to return.

Before Karl asked for Alvin's information, he personally investigated it, so he knew exactly what happened to Alvin.

Chapter 770

Smith said with a faint expression: "Mr. Mann is really enthusiastic. He doesn't care about his own father's death at all, but is so enthusiastic about other people's affairs."

"What do you mean?" Alvin's expression changed, staring at Smith closely.

"Mr. Mann really thinks that your father died in an accident? Do you know what your father had been doing?" The hour ends, and there is no plan to say more, so he will leave.

Alvin took Smith's arm: "Speak clearly!"

"This is Mr. Mann's business, how can I be an outsider to say clearly?" Smith didn't even blink his eyes, his complexion calm and stable.

"Heh! I see, you told me this deliberately to distract me, so that I might lose Alyssa's lawsuit!" Alvin let go and sneered: "Go back. Tell Karl, tell him not to use these messy methods to bully a woman, what kind of ability is this? Not to mention Alyssa was his woman before!"

Alvin is a playboy, and he is very good to every girlfriend.

Women are delicate and should be pitied.

He is a pitiful person.

Smith felt that Alvin didn't understand anything. He and Alvin were playing the piano to a cow.

After he returned to the Adams' Group, he went directly to Karl.

"Sir, I think you take Alvin too highly, he is not our opponent at all, he is just a playboy." Smith's remarks can be said to be vague, to be more blunt, he thinks that Alvin is in the head simple.

Karl was silent for a while before lowering his voice and said, "Smith, you are not me, you don't understand."

Smith's thoughts were different from those of Karl, but after Karl said this, he stopped talking too much.

â€¦

In the evening, Alyssa routinely went to the hospital to deliver soup to Tina.

For several days, she gave Tina soup in a variety of ways, and Tina's complexion was ruddy after drinking.

"I drink like this every day. What if I get fat? If the legs are well raised and the person is fat, I can simply pull back." Tina said on her mouth, but she still carried Alyssa's hand in her hand. The soup was delicious.

Alyssa came to the hospital today and had other things besides delivering soup.

She asked Tina, "Do you know which ward Miana lives in?"

"I know, it's next doorâ€¦" Tina raised her head from the soup bowl and said, then lowered her head: "Why, are you going to find her?"

Alyssa did not say "yes" or "no".

Tina was anxious: "If you really go find her, take me with you."

Alyssa was taken aback, and asked, "Tina, you know?"

"I got it." Alyssa did not explain, but Tina knew that Alyssa was talking about Miana buying through the staff who caused her to break her leg.

Tina put down her lunch box and looked at Alyssa and said, "Yesterday afternoon, Peter came to see me and told me."

At that time, Peter was still very disappointed and said that he was looking for someone to break Miana's leg, but he didn't expect that the villain Miana would break her leg first.

In this regard, Peter repeatedly expressed great disappointment.

Alyssa sighed, "What will I take you to?"

"If you negotiate with her, I can give you a shock. If you fight with her, I can watch and shout for you." After Tina finished speaking, she laughed first.

"Okay, good one." Alyssa got up, put away the insulated lunch box and planned to go out.

Tina didn't know what Alyssa was doing with Miana, but she was like this, and she could only add chaos to the past, and simply did not follow.

Alyssa walked to Miana's ward and knocked on the door.

After the nurse opened the door, she saw Alyssa and said, "Is this Miss Palmer? What's your name?"

Alyssa glanced at the nurse and smiled slightly: "My name is!"

After only saying two words, she squeezed in directly, while the nurse relaxed her vigilance.

"Hey, you can't go in lady, what are you going to do?" The nurse hurriedly followed, trying to stop Alyssa.

Alyssa had already prepared, bypassing the nurse and entering the ward inside, and locked the door back.

Miana was leaning on the bedside reading a magazine. She heard the movement outside and said impatiently, "What is the noise!"

"It's me." Alyssa approached, staring at Miana and said blankly.

Miana's eyes were still on the magazine. Hearing Alyssa's voice, she immediately turned around and looked at Alyssa vigilantly: "What are you here for?"

"What are you afraid of? I'll come to see Tina and take a look at you by the way. Are you unhappy?" Alyssa was very satisfied with Miana's scared look. It is a good thing to know that she has a guilty conscience after doing bad things.

Miana still stared at Alyssa vigilantly, guessing her intentions, while her other hand was reaching out to the mobile phone placed on the bedside table.

Alyssa noticed Miana's movements and smiled and took Miana's mobile phone from the bedside table.

"What the hell are you doing!" Seeing Alyssa put away her mobile phone, Miana became even more afraid.

When she faced Alyssa, she was still a little guilty, mainly because Alyssa's eyes looked a little scary.

Alyssa's eyes were not fierce, and there was a clear light in her eyes, which made Miana more afraid.

"Don't be afraid, you also got the retribution you deserve, what can I do? Am I going to kill you?" Alyssa knew that Miana was afraid of this, and said this deliberately.

Miana realized that Alyssa had deliberately scared her, and was very angry: "You!"

Alyssa interrupted her and said seriously: "I'm here to find you to cooperate."

"What kind of cooperation?" Miana looked suspiciously at Alyssa, not quite convinced of Alyssa: "What can we do to cooperate?"

Alyssa leaned forward and slowly said, "Do you want to give Karl a baby?"

“What the hell do you mean, just say it!” Miana’s eyes flashed brightly, obviously she was very interested in Alyssa’s proposal.

Alyssa said in a hurry, “I will help you, and all you have to do is to get pregnant with Karl’s child and give me a list of confirmation of pregnancy.”

Miana thought for a while, and understood what Alyssa was going to do.

She smiled and said, “Are you fighting for custody rights with Karl? Why should I cooperate with you, and why should I help you?”

“You don’t like Grace, so naturally you are not willing to let her stay with Karl. When she grows up, she will share Adams’ property with your children.” Alyssa hit the point, Miana said nothing. It can be said.

Alyssa was right, she hadn’t used Grace for a long time.

“You’d better cooperate with me. Except for Grace, I have no relatives and no reason. If she is gone, don’t know what I can do.” Alyssa smiled very mildly: “As for Tina, You don’t want to play with her, CEO Grant of AdamPic Media is a ruthless character.”