Chapter 811

Although Alvin didn't know who was calling, there were few people who could make Alyssa's mood fluctuate so obviously.

He glanced at Alyssa's cell phone calmly, and said, "I'm going back now."

Alyssa nodded towards him with a smile.

After Alvin left, Alyssa answered the phone while walking home.

After she answered the phone, she didn't speak immediately.

A rustling voice came from the phone, and after a few seconds, the other end of the phone became completely silent.

In the quiet background, Karl's voice sounded more low.

"What's the matter with you and Miana?"

Karl's tone was faint, and she couldn't hear any emotions.

Alyssa knew that this matter would surely reach Karl's ears sooner or later, but she never thought that Karl would ask her directly in person like this.

"This matter is not important." Alyssa's tone was also very weak: "Where will you meet today?"

Karl asked, "Is there a reporter in your community?"

Alyssa paused, and Karl confirmed that there was a reporter at the gate of Alyssa's community.

"You take Grace out, can you make sure that you won't be photographed by the reporter?" Karl asked.

To be honest, Alyssa cannot guarantee.

This is where she worries most.

Karl said directly, "I'm here."

Alyssa hesitated for a moment, and said aloud, "Okay."

This is the end of the matter, this is the safest way.

Grace wanted to see Karl.

She couldn't take Grace out of the house at the risk of Grace being photographed by the reporter.

â€¦

When Alyssa returned home, she saw Grace sitting on the sofa obediently.

She also put on a new dress that Alyssa bought for her.

As soon as she saw mom coming back, she ran over: "Mom, when shall we go to see Dad?"

“He will come, we don’t have to go out.” Alyssa touched her head and explained to her.

Grace blinked: “Then when will he come?”

As long as she can see Karl, it is the same for Grace whether she goes out or stays at home.

“Before noon.” In fact, Alyssa had not confirmed the exact time with Karl.

Grace’s eyes lit up: “Okay.”

For Alyssa’s shoulder injury, she has to go to change the dressing today, and it seemed that she could only wait for the evening to go out for a change.

As Alyssa guessed, Karl had come to see Grace before noon.

It was less than ten o’clock when he came.

Brought toys and dolls.

As soon as Grace saw him, she rushed over, raised her head and smiled at him: “Dad!”

Karl took the-toy to Grace, and she didn’t rush to take it apart, but talked to Karl arrogantly.

Alyssa stayed quiet and didn’t say much.

Grace probably felt that she was too enthusiastic about her father and left her mother indifferent, so she turned around and smiled and called Alyssa: “Mom.”

Alyssa laughed at Grace, and when she turned her head to look at Karl, the expression on her face gradually faded: “What to drink?”

Karl did not look at her either: “Water.”

Alyssa poured the water over, and when handed it to Karl, she whispered, “Will you stay for meal at noon?”

Karl finally looked up at her, his eyes a little strange.

Alyssa wanted to confirm something.

She thought about it, but was not sure about it.

Seeing Karl’s delay in speaking, Grace became anxious: “Daddy stay here for dinner.”

Karl lowered his eyes to look at Grace, and said, “Yes.”

Alyssa pursed her lips: “Then I will prepare lunch first.”

Chapter 812

As soon as Alyssa stood up, she heard Karl’s voice flashing again.

“No need.”

Alyssa looked back at him.

Karl said in a low voice, "I have already ordered food from Best Day."

Alyssa's eyes flashed, and she didn't say much, she just gave a faint "Oh".

Someone from Best Day soon delivered food.

Best Day has a special delivery service department. Of course, the delivery fee is also very expensive. After all, the style of the food delivered to the diners is exactly the same as the food eaten in Best Day.

The waiter who brought the food came in and arranged it before leaving.

There are a lot of dishes and a large table full of them.

Grace is the happiest, has a good appetite, and eats more than usual.

If it weren't for Alyssa to stop her, she could eat more.

After Grace was full, she went to the side to take apart the toys.

Although Alyssa's shoulder injury was not serious, it still affected the movement of her arms a bit.

She and Karl sat face to face without looking at each other.

Alyssa had almost eaten, turned to look at Grace who was not far away focusing on dismantling the toy, and then raised her head to look at Karl who was on the opposite side.

Karl felt Alyssa looking at him, so he glanced at her, and said quietly, "If you have something to say."

Alyssa slightly opened her lips, and asks: "Have you found the person who put the Miana video at your wedding?"

Karl's hand movement paused: "Isn't it you?"

Alyssa chuckled lightly: "Is it me? You know it best in your heart."

"Are you afraid that I will make trouble for you, and now you are starting to excuse yourself?" Karl's tone was with a trace of disdain.

Alyssa did not speak immediately, and Karl continued: "Do you still deny that you did not find Miana's video?"

"I didn't do it." Alyssa took a deep look at Karl, "Karl, sometimes people are always clever but they are mistaken for cleverness."

"If I had the ability to make trouble at your wedding, would I go around such a big circle and give the video to the media?"

Alyssa paused, as if suddenly thinking of something, and said casually, "Oh, one more thing, Alvin received a piece of evidence that Clifford killed Wilfred, and I don't know who gave it to him. Clifford found this kind of thing in his hands, and the entire Rostenvel didn't know how many people could be found."

Alyssa noticed that when she said this, Karl's face was expressionless, as if he hadn't heard the deep meaning of Alyssa's words.

It seems that these things really have nothing to do with him.

Alyssa's eyes were locked tightly on Karl's body, and she asked softly, "Karl, what do you think?"

Karl lowered his eyes and slowly took a towel and wiped his hands.

Then he slowly said, "Alyssa, you think we are in a relationship like before, do I have to tell you everything you ask?"

He sneered: "Don't forget, we are already divorced."

"Oh, you don't need to remind me. Alvin is chasing me. I think he is pretty good, and Grace likes him too." Alyssa picked up the cup and drank, as if she didn't care what she said to Karl.

However, when she drank the water, the corner of her eye was secretly aiming at his reaction.

The atmosphere in the restaurant has become somewhat depressing.

Alyssa raised her head to look at Karl, but found that his expression has not changed a bit.

Not only that, he also said: "If Grace really likes Alvin, it's okay."

Chapter 813

Alyssa looked at Karl in a daze, with a somewhat complicated expression on her face.

He seemed a little surprised, but also not surprised, and finally calmed down.

After a while, Alyssa said, "Okay, I see."

Then she got up and went to the bathroom.

At the same time, Karl picked up his chopsticks and continued eating like a okay person.

Alyssa spent a long time in the bathroom.

She is reflecting on herself.

Karl has always been a strong presence in her heart.

He can do many things that others cannot do.

Therefore, after Alyssa connected all these things together, she naturally thought of Karl.

No one can do these things at the same time.

Only he can.

But he denied it firmly.

She couldn't even find a flaw in his face.

Alyssa stayed in the bathroom for a while, then opened the bathroom door and went out.

At the dinner table, Karl was still sitting there eating.

He eats slowly.

Alyssa took a long look and found that he had eaten most of the dishes.

Has his appetite been so big recently?

Can one lose so much with such a big appetite?

It's also really strange!

Alyssa went to the side to accompany Grace to explore new toys.

After a while, when Alyssa looked up at the dining room, she found that Karl hadn't eaten anymore, but stood at the table and began to organize the lunch boxes.

The meals are basically eaten, and all the rest must be thrown away.

There are a lot of dishes, and there is also a big bag of lunch boxes.

Grace noticed that Karl had finished eating.

"Dad, come and see how to dress this toy, I can't."

"Wait a minute." Karl looked over here, "I will go down and throw these things away."

After he finished speaking, he went out with the bag.

Alyssa sat there in a daze.

She used to live outside, and Karl would also do these things when he was rubbing against her.

But now that he does these things, she always feels a little weird.

Moreover, what he has done in recent months is very abnormal.

After Miana became pregnant, he didn't even go to the scene on the day of the court hearing. It seemed that he didn't want Grace's custody at all.

Since the child in Miana's belly is so important, how could he not care about the wedding? How could he give others the opportunity to put Miana's video on his wedding.

With Karl's caution, it is really impossible to make such a low-level mistake.

And after this happened, Karl didn't deal with it much, leaving Miana to fend for herself, and no longer care about her!

This thing was so strange, but Alyssa couldn't find any breakthrough.

"Mom?"

Grace stretched out her hand and shook it in front of Alyssa, and Alyssa came back to her senses:

"What's the matter?"

Grace asked her: "Why do you keep distracting?"

"Thinking about something." Alyssa said.

The wound was a little painful, and she gently reached out and touched her shoulder.

"Does it hurt?" Grace remembered that Alyssa's shoulder was injured.

"It doesn't hurt!" Grace pursed her lips and whispered, "I'm sorry!"

Alyssa asked in surprise, "I'm sorry? You didn't do anything wrong."

"You are injured, I have to keep father for dinner, you can't cook!"

"Your dad asked someone to bring food over. Did I cook?"

Alyssa was slightly stunned. She didn't expect Grace to have such a delicate mind, and even thought of this.

Grace just shook her head: "I'm sorry!"

Alyssa wanted to say something, the doorbell rang.

Chapter 814

Karl returned after throwing out the garbage.

Grace called out: "Dad."

He walked over and touched Grace's head: "Show me the toy you made."

Grace listened to his words and obediently went to show Karl the toys she had assembled.

After Grace left, Karl said to Alyssa, "There are still reporters guarding outside the community. What do you plan to do with Miana?"

His expression is very serious, there is no trace of concern in it, only the cold-blooded business.

Alyssa said coldly: "Appeal."

She wants Miana to go to jail and wants her to pay the price.

"Do you think you can solve this problem yourself?" Karl asked her.

Alyssa looked at Karl in surprise.

Without waiting for Alyssa to speak, Karl continued: "So many reporters have been guarding the door, which will definitely affect your daily life. I don't care about how you are, I just hope that Grace will be safe."

Karl's voice was well controlled, not too loud, but it allowed Alyssa to hear clearly.

"So? What do you mean by that, do you want to take Grace to live with you?" Karl was always saying that this matter would affect Grace.

Therefore, it is not difficult to speculate that in order to protect Grace, Karl most likely wanted to take her to live with him.

If Karl really thought about it, it would be nothing to blame.

If he speaks bluntly, Alyssa has no reason to refuse.

It's just that there is always some fear for Karl in her heart.

She always felt that if Grace was really sent to him, he would not send Grace back.

"I have been very busy lately and have no time to take care of Grace, but I can arrange for you to go abroad." Karl's tone was very serious.

Alyssa was even more surprised when she heard what he said.

Karl actually wanted to arrange for her and Grace to go abroad.

"This is entirely for Grace's consideration, and you can disagree, but I want to arrange for the bodyguard to follow you 24 hours a day."

Karl's voice fell, and Grace's voice sounded over there: "Dad, come and see."

Alyssa and Karl heard the sound and looked over, just in time to see Grace raising the assembled toy in her hand.

"Yeah." Karl responded to Grace, then looked back at Alyssa: "You think about it, one day."

Although Alyssa knew that Grace was there, she and Karl couldn't really have any contact, but when this day came, Alyssa was still a little bit repulsive.

It seemed that Karl was sure she could not take care of Grace well and he had to arrange everything.

After Karl finished speaking, he turned around to find Grace.

Alyssa called to stop him: "I don't need to think about it. I can give you the answer now. I don't agree. Since Grace is with me, I will naturally take care of her. You should take care of yourself."

After she finished speaking, she turned around and poured water for herself.

Karl took a deep look at her back and went to Grace's side.

She poured water out, and the doorbell rang outside.

Alyssa looked out into the cat's eyes and found that the people standing outside turned out to be Hania and Smith.

Alyssa had a brief doubt, and then opened the door.

Very politely calling: "Mr. Smith, Mrs. Smith."

"Miss Alyssa." Smith nodded slightly, as polite as usual.

Hania was carrying a medicine cabinet, with a trace of pity in a calm expression.

Chapter 815

The visitors were guests, and Alyssa naturally wanted to invite them in.

Alyssa's eyes swept back and forth on Smith and his wife, and then said, "Please come in."

Hania followed Alyssa first.

Smith walked behind and closed the door.

Alyssa asked them as they walked in, "Are you here to find Karl?"

Smith said, "Yes."

Alyssa's expression was faint, and she came to see Karl all the time. She could understand, but what did Hania do?

Are the doctors so idle?

As if guessing what Alyssa was thinking, Smith explained: "I picked up my wife by the way on the way here, I'm sorry to bother you."

She smiled at Smith: "It's okay."

In turn, she felt that Smith's words sounded very familiar.

The last time she had a high fever and fell in the bathroom, and brought Hania to rescue her, which seems to be the same.

By the way?

Is there so much by the way?

Alyssa put aside these thoughts temporarily.

Karl was also assembling toys with Grace, Smith walked over, and slightly nodded and shouted, "Sir."

Karl did not lift his head, but said lightly: "Here."

Alyssa went to pour water for Smith and Hania.

Hania is a gentle woman. She warmly thanked Alyssa, "Thank you."

Alyssa smiled and sat down opposite Hania.

Karl and Grace were playing together, Smith was also there, there might be something to find Karl by Smith, she didn't need to go there.

Hania drank water and suddenly asked Alyssa, "Miss Alyssa was injured?"

Seeing Alyssa's face in surprise, Hania said, "I can smell the medicine."

Hearing this, Alyssa nodded: "A little injury, just going to change the dressing later."

Hania hesitated and said, "If Miss Alyssa doesn't mind, I can change the dressing for you and I have everything."

Alyssa was about to speak, but was taken aback.

She squinted her eyes slightly and said softly, "Mrs. Smith is really kind of a doctor. She always carries a medicine kit when she goes out."

Hania laughed when she heard the words: "It's personal habit."

The two women looked very polite on the surface, but in fact they had their own thoughts.

Alyssa was thinking about how Hania could drop by with Smith every time.

The last time she was sick, this time she was injured.

As for what Hania was thinking, Alyssa was not sure.

Alyssa looked at Hania and said with a serious expression: "It's really not convenient for me to go out recently. Since Mrs. Smith is here, I also thank Mrs. Smith for making it easy for me to change my dressing."

So Alyssa took Hania to the bedroom to change the dressing.

Hania skillfully changed the dressing for her, and she was able to separate her mind and chat with her.

"Miss Alyssa this injury may leave scars on your body."

"Ok."

Alyssa didn't care too much about whether it leave scars or not.

Hania added: "But it doesn't necessarily leave scars. Many things themselves are not as bad as we thought."

In the second half of the sentence, she spoke very slowly, as if she had something to say.

Alyssa chuckled lightly and said half-jokingly and half-seriously: "Nowadays doctors are like you, and they treat people with illnesses, and do they also take care of life mentors?"

Hania also smiled: "Talk to you casually."

Alyssa was about to speak, and Hania said, "Okay!"

Hania changed her dressing, she didn't feel any pain at all, and it was over.

In my opinion, Korean noodles should also be a very good doctor.

Doctors like this are generally unable to get an operation, so where is such a leisure?

Chapter 816

Alyssa asked as she buttoned her clothes, "Is Doctor Hania busy?"

Hania bowed her head to receive things: "Busy, but if I have a personal matter, I have to make time and I have to ask for leave. The doctor is also a human being."

Alyssa paused slightly when she buttoned the button.

"If there is a private matter"

What Hania meant was that coming to Alyssa is a private matter?

She and Hania were originally not relatives, but if Hania came here really only for personal matters, who entrusted them?

Hania had already packed her medicine kit and smiled gently: "Miss Alyssa, take care."

Alyssa couldn't smile, "Thank you."

After Hania packed the medicine box and went out, Alyssa stayed in the room for a while before going out.

With the three of them, Karl stood in the middle of the living room talking.

Hearing the sound of the bedroom door opening, Karl turned to look at her with an indifferent expression: "I'm leaving."

"Yeah." Alyssa walked straight to the door: "I will see you off."

Karl turned his head and glanced at Hania.

Hania lowered her head to organize her clothes, pretending that she didn't see Karl looking at her.

Watching the three people leave, Alyssa stood at the door for a while before turning back to the house.

â€¦

They are now downstairs in the community.

Smith had already taken Hania's hospital box and carried it for her.

Karl said suddenly, "Sister-in-law, what did you say to Alyssa?"

It's okay for Karl not to speak, and Hania can pretend that she didn't understand the way he looked at her before.

But now Karl took the initiative to speak, and Hania had no choice but to speak out.

"Just chatted casually." Hania finished speaking, and noticed that Karl's face became heavy.

Smith also felt a trace of anger emanating from Karl's body.

At this time, Hania turned her head to look at Smith: "You go drive first."

When Smith stood still, Hania pushed him.

Smith had to turn around and left.

Looking back at one step three times, he glanced at Hania, and then at Karl.

He knew what Hania and Karl were going to speak.

Before Karl had to clean up Clifford and prepare to put a long line to catch a big fish, he couldn't hide it from Smith.

Later, Karl played more and more, and even had a wedding with Miana. He couldn't hold back talking to Hania all the time.

As a woman, Hania gave up on Alyssa and cursed Smith.

However, Alyssa was injured again.

Karl worried about Alyssa's injury and wanted to know how she was injured.

He couldn't directly follow her to the hospital, so he could only ask Smith to find someone to get Hania to change Alyssa's dressing.

Hania originally didn't agree with Karl's approach, she must have said something when changing the dressing with Alyssa.

After Smith left, Karl asked Hania again: "What did you say to her?"

"In fact, I didn't say anything." Hania smiled: "However, Miss Alyssa is a smart woman. If she is interested, she should think of something."

Karl curled his eyebrows, his face was scary.

Hania had little contact with Karl, but because of the Smith, she also knew something about him.

This man, who was two years younger than Smith, had an unfathomable mind and a strong aura.

Hania was still a little afraid of him.

She could feel that Karl was angry, but he didn't say anything, only strode out.

Hania heaved a sigh of relief when she saw that he was gone.

When he got to the outside of the community, he drove the car and waited there.

Karl drove over by himself.

He stood in front of the car and said to Smith: "You send sister-in-law back, and then arrange for reporters to block Alyssa's door."

Chapter 817

"What?"

Smith thought he had heard it wrong.

Why are you going to block Alyssa's door?

"She doesn't want to go abroad, I have to force her to go abroad!" After Karl said, he slammed the door and got into the car.

Afterwards, he drove away directly.

Hania asked Smith: "What's the matter?"

Smith looked solemn: "Sir wants to take Miss Alyssa away and advance the plan."

Hania sighed: "Can you persuade him?"

She felt that if Karl did this, if Alyssa knew about it in the end, she would not dare to imagine the consequences.

"If I could persuade him, I would have persuaded him a long time ago." Smith shook his head: "He has always had this temperament, putting everything down on himself, acting paranoid, even if Miss Alyssa persuade him it is useless."

â€¦

When eating at night, Alyssa always felt that there was someone at the door.

Alyssa looked outside through the cat's eyes, and she saw someone outside.

They are all journalists with cameras.

She called the security room.

When the security came, the person at the door disappeared again.

As soon as the security went away, those people appeared again.

Alyssa has never seen such an organized paparazzi, just like brown candy, sticking to it.

Alyssa didn't even dare to leave the house.

This community was originally based on strong confidentiality as its selling point, but it was unexpected that such a thing could happen.

Alyssa did not dare to go out at night.

The next morning, when Tina came over, she was blocked by the media reporters.

Alyssa heard the movement and told Grace to stay in the room obediently, and she took the key to open the door and went out.

Tina was besieged by the reporters and backed away again and again.

When she saw Alyssa come out, her face changed slightly: "Why are you coming out?"

Alyssa tilted her head helplessly: You are like this, can I not come out.

When the reporters saw Alyssa, they swarmed up.

"Miss Alyssa, please tell me about what happened in the restaurant that day."

"Why does Miana want to find you all of a sudden?"

"Apart from the rivalry relationship between you and Miana, do you have other grievances?"

"Can you answer me? Miss Alyssa?"

These reporters came up with one question after another.

Alyssa's face was cold and calmly said, "Can you all go back? My shoulder injury hasn't healed yet."

Upon hearing this, the reporters stepped back.

Alyssa said, "Before I answer the question, I want to know who sent you here."

The reporters fell silent for a while, staring at each other without making a sound.

Seeing that no one of them was speaking, Alyssa continued: "No one instructed, it doesn't matter at all, how could you block the door of my house? Even the security guards can't help it."

"This community is so confidential, they will not self-destruct their signs and let you in."

But these reporters just came in again. This can only show that the person behind these reporters is very powerful.

After she finished speaking, she looked over one by one and found that the expressions of the reporters were a little uncomfortable.

"As long as you said who asked you to come, I'm willing to accept your interview." Alyssa pulled her hair down and said slowly.

At this time, the elevator door opened and a group of security guards came up.

They rushed over: "Who are you! What do you do! Please leave immediately!"

When all of them were around Alyssa just now, Tina was relieved and called the security room.

Chapter 818

After the group of reporters were bombed away, Alyssa and Tina entered the room.

Grace sat on the sofa obediently and waited for Alyssa.

When she saw Alyssa coming in, she yelled, "Mom."

"Grace." Tina walked over and hugged Grace amused.

Alyssa went to the side to pour water for Tina, and Tina followed.

"What do you mean by what you just said? Someone deliberately brought the reporter to you?" Tina asked.

Alyssa nodded in a daze, and handed the water in her hand to Tina.

Tina took a sip and put it aside: "Who could it be? Miana is still in the detention center. She won't have a chance to do this kind of thing, right? Who wants to make trouble for you in the mess?"

"Probably someone strong." Alyssa turned her head and looked at Tina, "Didn't you say you want to travel with us before? Is the time set?"

"I can do it at any time. The work in the past six months has been very loose. The first few scripts I received will be filmed at the beginning of next year at the earliest." When it comes to traveling abroad, Tina is also excited.

At the end, she said: "There are so many things now, and it's too chaotic. Traveling abroad is just a good way to relax and avoid."

â€¦

Alyssa and Tina decided to travel abroad and set about preparing.

In fact, there is nothing to prepare, there is another thing that is not easy to handle.

That is the matter of suing Miana.

Alyssa has made up her mind and must sue Miana.

However, a series of procedures have gone down, and the time for the hearing has not been determined.

Alyssa had already contacted a lawyer before, but the process was a bit slow

As a client, Alyssa naturally has to keep in touch with the lawyer at any time.

In the case of Miana, as long as Alyssa wanted to sue, she would definitely put Miana in jail.

After Alyssa asked Tina to look after Grace for a while, she went out to meet with the lawyer.

She is idle at home now. If she wants to talk about work in the future, she will often go out, and she can't always take Grace with her.

She has to find a nanny as soon as possible.

After meeting with the lawyer, Alyssa was about to drive home.

As soon as she arrived in the parking lot, she was stopped by a middle-aged man.

Middle-aged men's shirts and trousers look very strict.

"Miss Alyssa, our boss wants to have a cup of tea with you." His tone was very polite, but there was an inexplicable arrogance in his eyes.

Alyssa could probably guess who sent him.

She raised her eyebrows: "What if I say I don't want to have tea today?"

The middle-aged man said in a hurry, "Ms. Alyssa always wants to have tea."

This clearly meant that Alyssa had to go if she didn't go, this is not an option.

Alyssa looked straight, and said in a calm tone: "Trouble you to lead the way."

Alyssa was taken to a tea room that looked very low-key and simple.

It doesn't look big on the outside, the signs are small, and the doors are not big.

Entering inside, she found that there was something else.

The inside of the tea room is very large. Unlike other tea rooms, it is decorated in a retro style. The decorations and tea tables in this tea room are very elegant.

It's a bit original.

The middle-aged man took Alyssa to the door of a box.

"Sir, Miss Alyssa is here."

"Please come in." The man's calm voice sounded inside, sounding older than the middle-aged man.

The middle-aged man opened the box door and stood aside: "Miss Alyssa, please come in."

After Alyssa entered, the middle-aged man closed the door outside.

The boxes in the tea room are small and very quiet.

At the tea table sat a kind-faced old man over 50 years old.

Said he was an old man, but he looked very energetic.

He smiled gently at Alyssa, raised his hand slightly, and made a "please sit down" gesture.

Alyssa sat down opposite him.

"Miss Alyssa, please have tea." The old man poured tea for her.

Alyssa stretched out her hands to hold the tea cup, thanked him politely, took a sip to her lips, and put it back.

"How does Miss Alyssa feel about this tea?" the old man asked her.

Alyssa smiled and said, "I don't usually drink tea, and don't know how to taste tea."

The old man laughed, his expression still very calm: "It's okay, just drink more."

Alyssa didn't go down the pole, but said coldly: "But I don't like tea."

The old man squinted and stared at Alyssa for a long time before saying, "Miss Alyssa, it's different from what I heard."

Alyssa replied: "Mr. Palmer is also different from what I imagined."

That's right, the man in front of her is named Norven Palmer.

Norven Palmer, Miana's father.

In this rumor, his power is so powerful that countless people will give him three points of the thin-faced Miana's father.

When Alyssa invited a lawyer to sue Miana, the lawyer told her something about Norven.

She just probably know Norven's official position and his age.

As for the others, Alyssa didn't know anything about it.

Norven heard Alyssa's words and was startled for a moment, then laughed: "Since Miss Alyssa knows who I am, she probably knows what I am doing today, right?"

"I don't know what to say, how do I know?" Alyssa lowered her eyes, unconsciously stretched out her hand and shook the tea cup in front of her, pretending to not understand the meaning of Norven's words.

Norven sought her because of Miana.

Since Norven took the initiative to look for her, he must have an attitude of proactively asking for help.

If Alyssa took the initiative to tell Norven's purpose for looking for her, wouldn't it have lost the initiative.

On the other hand, Alyssa is biased against Norven.

Because he is Miana's father.

Which of the things Miana has done is not disgusting?

In the restaurant that day, if it weren't for Alyssa's keen awareness of the strangeness.

I am afraid that not only will something happen to her, but even Grace would have to face it.

Thinking of these, Alyssa couldn't have a good expression on Norven.

She looked at Norven with a cold face, waiting for him to speak.

Norven noticed Alyssa's expression and smiled: "Young people are always uncomfortable and impulsive."

"Miana was quite calm. Three years ago, she joined Claire and deceived Karl. Three years later, because of her own personal enmity, she caused others to break her leg, and she took a knife to kill me in public."

After Alyssa spoke with a mocking expression, she noticed that Norven's complexion had become very ugly.

Since she came in, Norven has been taking caution, relying on his high position, relying on the old to sell the old, and teaching her!

If he just came to her as a father and wanted to reconcile with her, Alyssa might still want to hear his thoughts.

But in this situation, Alyssa stopped listening to him, and didn't even want to sit more.

"I know Mr. Palmer is busy on official business, and I also have my own business to be busy with, goodbye." Alyssa finished speaking, picked up the tea in front of her, drank it, and got up to leave.

Chapter 819

"Wait!"

Norven saw that Alyssa was really going to leave, and was also anxious.

He stood up and stopped Alyssa: "I know that you and the Adams' family have already severed the relationship. Although you gave birth to a daughter for Karl, he will not take care of your business, no matter what you want. There are still other ways for me to achieve the result with the fastest speed. I think I should have the ability to do it!"

Norven found her and went around a long way, and now finally opened the skylight to speak brightly, making his purpose clear.

At the beginning, he didn't clearly state his purpose, that is, he wanted to show off the score, thinking that he could put pressure on Alyssa in his own capacity and let Alyssa take the initiative to speak.

But his estimation was wrong, Alyssa was not that kind of very utilitarian woman, and she was calmer than him.

Finally, let him take the initiative to speak, and lost the initiative.

"Mr. Palmer thinks, I will agree to your terms?" Alyssa looked back at Mr. Norven with a pale expression.

Norven's complexion had long since become difficult to look at because of Alyssa's "not knowing good or bad".

"Naturally, I hope you can be a practical child and agree to my terms." Norven didn't move his brows, obviously confident.

"What if I don't agree?" Alyssa laughed after hearing this.

"Miss Alyssa is also a mother. Please be considerate of my feelings as a father." Norven lowered his head slightly, looking like he was begging Alyssa in a low voice.

But in fact, his tone sounded very high.

Is this to make Alyssa not considerate?

"Because I am also a mother, I should learn more from you. In the future, I must educate my daughter well and don't let her become like Miana!"

Speaking of this, Alyssa felt that she and Norven naturally had nothing to talk about.

When she was about to leave, she heard Norven's threatening voice behind her: "Miss Alyssa, the media has always been interested in your movements. If they know that you and Karl have a daughter who has not been exposed, they will definitely be more interested."

Norven meant that if Alyssa did not agree to his terms, he would expose Grace.

Alyssa was taken aback for a moment, and then said mockingly: "Mr. Palmer said this, I'm really a little scared."

Norven narrowed his eyes slightly, and his expression seemed to ease.

Alyssa continued: "I'm afraid, Karl is not afraid. You are a father, and Karl is also a father. If you really want to do this, just do it well, provided that you are willing to bet on yourself for the rest of your life. Consider your reputation."

“Youâ€¦!” Norven pointed to Alyssa, speechless.

Originally thought that Alyssa was just a helpless woman, so he could just say something to bluff her, but now he was bluffed by Alyssa.

“Farewell.” Alyssa didn’t want to say a word with Norven anymore, opened the box door and went out.

She walked through the lobby of the tea room, and as soon as she left the door, a black car stopped at the door of the tea room.

The car braked firmly, and the door of the cab opened before the it stopped.

The tall and slender figure of the man appeared in Alyssa’s vision.

He slammed the door with a “bang” and walked around the car towards the tea room. He seemed to be in a hurry, if there was anything particularly important.

However, after he saw Alyssa standing at the door, he stopped abruptly.

Alyssa looked at him without speaking.

The man just mentioned appeared in front of her at this moment, still in a hurry.

The two looked at each other for a moment.

Karl walked over first. After reaching Alyssa, he slightly frowned and looked at her, “Why are you here?”

There was an obvious impatience in his tone.

It seemed that he didn’t want to see her at all.

“What incredible place is this? You can visit, but I can’t come?” Alyssa raised her eyes and fixedly looked at Karl.

“Take care of Grace.”

Karl dropped these words and walked past her into the tea room.

Alyssa paused for two seconds, then looked back into the tea room.

The air conditioner was turned on and the door was closed. She could only see the hard door.

What did Karl do in such a hurry?

â€¦!

After Karl entered the tea room, he stood at the door for a moment.

Afterwards, he walked to the window and watched Alyssa’s car leave, his eyes darkened.

At this time, Norven just came out of the box.

Hearing the movement, Karl turned his head and collided with Norven’s sight.

He looked at Norven coldly and walked towards him with his foot raised.

Karl's eyes flashed with a gloomy tone, and his tone was gloomy: "People outside have always said that Mr. Palmer is an upright person, but now he has been reduced to threatening a woman to achieve his goal. Is this suspect that others can't catch you? Or say, You don't want to sit in this position anymore?"

Norven had only been rejected by Alyssa before, and now Karl had said this in person, his anger soaring.

"If it weren't for you, my daughter wouldn't be what she is today!" In Norven's view, Miana would fall into the field today because of Karl.

Karl sneered: "She is your daughter, not my daughter. Why did Miana become like this? You should ask yourself."

Norven opened his mouth slightly, and was choked into speechlessness.

The video of Miana carrying a dagger in the restaurant was posted on the Internet. Everyone knew that Miana wanted to kill Alyssa.

If the video is not posted on the Internet, Norven does not need to come to Alyssa at all, and he can settle the matter. It will not give Alyssa a chance to report to Miana.

"Alyssa is my person, Grace is my daughter, don't move them, otherwise!" Karl paused slightly, sneered, then turned and left.

Norven has never been threatened so unrelentingly.

He staggered two steps, stabilized his figure, and gasped with anger, but he couldn't take Karl what to do.

Karl's identity was too complicated, and Karl could not be moved casually.

If he moved Karl, the movement would not be too small.

There was a lot of movement, and those who wanted him to step down heard the wind and would definitely take the opportunity to do something against him.

He didn't want Miana to go to jail, but he didn't dare to risk his career.

Compared to his daughter, the career that he manages in his lifetime is more important.

â€¦

On the day Alyssa took Grace to travel abroad, Peter came to see him off.

To put it bluntly, Peter was mainly here to send Tina.

Tina and Alyssa went together.

After Peter watched Alyssa and her party through the security check, they turned around and walked out.

Just a few steps away, saw Karl.

Chapter 820

The air conditioner in the airport was slightly lower, and Karl was dressed in black, and he looked deserted.

Peter walked towards him.

When he reached Karl, he tilted his head to meet Karl's gaze, raised his eyebrows and asked in surprise: "Why are you here?"

Karl said very perfunctorily: "Passing by."

After speaking, he turned and walked outside.

Peter chased him up: "Are you a busy person, passing by the airport? If you say this, your little Grace doesn't believe it."

When Karl heard the words, he paused slightly before moving on.

When he reached the parking lot, Karl walked straight to his car.

Peter followed Karl like a follower.

Karl took out the car key and opened the lock, reaching out to pull the car door, but Peter slapped the door on the car door, secretly using force to make Karl unable to open the door.

He raised his eyes and looked at Peter blankly, his eyes cold.

Peter looked at Karl's gaze a little dizzy, but after another thought, Karl wouldn't really do anything to him, simply moved a few steps boldly and blocked the door.

"To be honest, why are you here at the airport?" Peter was surrounding Karl today, and he had to let Karl give him an answer.

Karl was silent for a moment, his expression becoming colder and colder: "Get out of the way."

Peter shook with the simple words.

The aura is too strong, even if he and Karl have known each other for so many years, it is inevitable that he lacks confidence at this time.

He had to step aside unwillingly.

While Karl got into the car, he still couldn't help but said, "Karl, you are here to send away her, right?"

Karl had a pause when he got into the car.

This time he paused for a little longer.

Peter affirmed his thoughts and said excitedly: "Sure enough, we were all deceived by you! From the beginning I didn't believe that you would be separated from Alyssa, you are a stubborn person, look for someone alone. It's definitely a lifetime, and it's impossible to change your mind."

"Also, with your temperament, it is impossible for you to see a woman like Miana!"

After Peter said a lot of things, Karl's reaction was rather cold: "Anything else to say?"

“Said already it’s over.” Peter was just like that.

When Karl’s face became cold, he froze.

“Then I will go first.”

When Peter reacted, Karl had already drove away.

Peter sighed with hands on his hips, and then exploded a little irritably, “f*ck!”

â€¦

The first stop for Alyssa and Tina with Grace was a city with sea.

Sun, sand, blue sky and sea.

“If you don’t have to work in your life, you can only have a vacation.”

Tina was wearing a bikini with a sun protection shirt outside, lying under the parasol, squinting her eyes and talking to Alyssa.

Alyssa hadn’t spoken yet, and Grace, who kept sucking on the juice, said, “All those who don’t have to work are salted fish.”

Tina choked, stretched out her hand and gently poked Grace’s face: “Then I want to be a salted fish.”

“Salted fish will be eaten.” After Grace finished speaking, she added: “You will be eaten by Uncle Grant!”

Tina bounced from the recliner suddenly and opened her eyes wide: “Ms. Grace, what are you talking about?”

Grace had just been exposed to the sun, her face was slightly red, and the hair on her forehead was slightly sweaty.

She finished the last bit of juice in the cup, got up and ran.

She ran and said, “Uncle Grant said it. He said he will eat you sooner or later!”

“You stop for me! I will throw you into the sea to catch fish today!” Tina chased after her with teeth and claws.

The two ran away frolicking.

Alyssa put her hands to her mouth to make a horn shape, and shouted at Grace: “Grace slow down.”

Grace ran a little bit obediently, but was quickly caught by Tina.

Alyssa looked for a while, then looked back.

She took out her phone, took a few photos, and posted a Tweet with a location.

There will be fan comments soon.

“Going abroad for vacation?”

“The Tweet that Tina sent yesterday is also the address!”

“Visually, I went on vacation with Tina!”

“â€¦”

Alyssa swiped through the comments and put the phone aside.

The scenery is beautiful, but she can't let go as she imagined.

She always feel restless, as if something is about to happen.

Tina and Grace came back after playing for a while, seeing Alyssa still sitting there, they wanted to drag her to play together.

Alyssa couldn't stand the young and the big, so she got up and went to play with them.

When returning to the hotel at night, Grace was sleepy after eating.

Alyssa showered her, hugged her to the bed, and she went to sleep.

Little children do like to play, and Alyssa and Tina are taking her out to play. They are all people she knows, and she has a better time.

When she came out of Grace's room, Tina waved to her with a glass of red wine: “Alyssa, come over and have a drink.”

The sea view room they live in is a bit cold at night.

Tina was wearing a bathrobe, leaning on the balcony, her hair being blown by the night wind.

With a goblet in her hand, Alyssa stood on the balcony looking into the distance.

Tina turned her head and asked her: “Are you worried?”

Alyssa was silent for a moment, and said, “I always feel a little uneasy.”

“Is it because Miana was scaring you before?” Tina felt that this possibility was very high. After all, not only Alyssa, but Grace might also be injured.

Alyssa said quietly: “Maybe it is.”

But she knew in her heart that this was not the reason.

She couldn't tell why on earth.

â€¦

Tina likes to travel and can travel a lot, and the itinerary is basically arranged by Tina.

After playing abroad for half a month, Alyssa plans to return to the country.

Before returning to the country, Tina took Alyssa to go shopping.

Grace's enthusiasm is even higher than Alyssa.

When it comes to shopping, Alyssa is not a cool opponent at all.

Wander around all day without stopping.

Alyssa was tired, so Grace accompanied Tina to look at her clothes.

Finally Grace was tired too, she leaned against Alyssa's arms and murmured: "Mom, I never want to go shopping with Aunt Tina again."

"No, Grace, you want to know the good news, you see she bought you so many things!" Alyssa pointed to seven or eight bags next to her.

Grace's face collapsed: "She has to buy!"

"Haha." Alyssa was amused by her and touched her head: "That's because Aunt Tina likes you."

Grace pursed her lips and stopped talking.

Tina was very generous to Grace, even more generous to Alyssa.

Alyssa felt that she was not her real mother, but Tina was her real mother.

When they finally returned to the hotel, they bought too many things, so they asked someone to send it back.

Back at the hotel, Tina and Grace collapsed on the sofa.

Alyssa called for dinner.

Suddenly, Tina exclaimed: "God!"
