Chapter 821

Alyssa was ordering food, she just raised her eyes and glanced at Tina, and finished her order.

After hanging up the phone, she asked Tina, "What's wrong? What happened?"

Tina held the phone with a strange expression.

She turned her head and glanced at Grace.

Grace was already lying on the sofa and was about to fall asleep, with both eyes fighting.

Alyssa noticed the strangeness of Tina and walked over.

Tina's complexion was a little serious.

She paused, and handed her mobile phone to Alyssa: "Watch it for yourself."

Alyssa took the phone over, and it showed a top Tweets from a media official.

"There was a rear-end collision in the suburbs of Rostenvel city early this morning. Four cars rushed down the cliff. After investigation, one of the cars was owned by Karl Adams, the CEO of the Adams Group. According to relevant staff of Karl, Karl has lost contact. hourâ€¦!â€¦!"

Alyssa was stunned for a few seconds, then turned to look at Tina.

Tina did not speak.

Alyssa slowed down for a while, as if finally understood what had happened, a panic flashed in her eyes.

Tina saw Alyssa doing this, a little worried.

She said softly: "The news just came out, I called my friends in the country to confirmâ€¦!"

Tina picked up the phone, got up and walked out to the balcony, and called Peter directly.

This kind of thing, I believe Peter must be the most accurate.

As always, Peter answered the phone quickly.

"I saw the news, is it true?"

The tacit understanding of the two have been in love and killing each other for many years made Tina needless to say, Peter also knew what she was talking about.

"I just went to Smith, and he couldn't contact Karl for more than ten hours. There is no one at the company or at homeâ€¦!" Peter's voice was a little tight, and it sounded a little anxious.

Tina's expression changed slightly: "You mean, something really happened to Karl?"

Peter sighed: "Smith has been with Karl for so many years, except for three years ago, he has never been in without contact with Karl for so long."

"I know!"

Tina was about to hang up, and Peter asked anxiously: "Are you planning to return to the country recently?"

"Well, the ticket for tomorrow night." At this time, Tina didn't even bother to get angry with Peter.

Peter said, "Then I will pick you up."

Tina thought for a moment: "It's up to you."

After speaking, he hung up.

Tina turned around and walked inside, thinking about how to tell Alyssa about this.

Although Alyssa has separated from Karl, after all, he is the man who has loved like that before, and he is Grace's biological father!

Hearing this kind of news, Alyssa would feel a little sad and it can be explained.

Tina entered the room and found that Alyssa was holding her mobile phone and sitting on the sofa blankly, looking lost and not knowing what she was thinking.

Tina walked over and whispered her name: "Alyssa?"

Alyssa lowered her head and her voice was a little dumb: "Mattie just sent me WeChat. A friend of hers who is a reporter took pictures of the scene. The car that fell down the cliff is indeed his."

Tina sat down beside Alyssa.

Now that this was the case, she didn't need to say anything at all.

At this time, there was a knock on the door outside.

The waiter delivered the food.

Tina immediately got up to open the door.

The dining car is advancing, and the dinner is very rich.

Alyssa looked desperate, Tina just patted her on the shoulder, and went to wake Grace.

"Grace, get up for dinner."

Grace didn't like to cry, even if she was awakened from a deep sleep, she would not make trouble.

Grace was awakened, yawning, rubbing her eyes, and softly repeated: "Eat."

"Yeah." Tina led Grace to the table.

The three sat to eat together.

Although Alyssa had been shocked and a little flustered when she heard the news of Karl's car accident before, she quickly calmed down in front of Grace and ate as if she was an okay person.

â€¦

On the day of returning to the country, news of Karl's disappearance spread throughout Rostenvel.

Forty-eight hours have passed since the rear-end collision occurred.

Karl had been out of contact for forty-eight hours.

In addition to discussing Karl's car accident online, there are also people discussing Adams' family.

Karl manages the huge Adams'. Once he disappears, it will be left alone.

At this time, someone needs to stand up and preside over the overall situation.

On the way home from the airport, Alyssa put Grace to sleep.

When she got home, she let Grace stay asleep, went to the Internet to read the news, and then dialed Smith's phone.

"Miss Alyssa." Smith quickly answered the phone.

Alyssa said politely: "Hello, Mr. Smith, I am calling to ask about Karl."

"Even if you don't call, I will come to you. don't know when Miss Alyssa will have time? If it is convenient, I would like to come and see you immediately."

When Smith finished speaking, as if worried that Alyssa would disagree, he added: "I have very important things."

Alyssa frowned slightly: "Is it related to Karl?"

Smith: "Yes."

Alyssa thought for a while and said, "Thenâ€¦ tomorrow."

Smith said, "If it's convenient, I want to come over this afternoon."

Alyssa came from the airport, now it's a little too much.

After spending half a month outside, she needs to tidy up at home.

Alyssa originally planned to clean up the house today and settle down, so she said it was tomorrow.

Smith is coming over today, which seems to be a very important matter.

"Miss Alyssa?" Seeing Alyssa hadn't spoken for a long time he called her out.

Smith was particularly impatient today.

It may be that something happened to Karl, and Smith also became a little anxious.

Alyssa responded, "Okay."

Stayed on the plane for more than ten hours.

Alyssa's mood also fluctuated, thinking about a lot of things.

Thinking of the past, thinking of Karl's car accident.

But in the end, she didn't want to believe that something happened to Karl.

It could also be said that she did not believe that such an accident would happen to Karl.

In her heart, Karl was such a powerful person.

How could he get into trouble easily?

â€

When Smith came, it was three o'clock in the afternoon.

There was a knock on the door, and Alyssa guessed that Smith was coming.

"Mom has guests, can you go back to the room and play for a while?" Alyssa coaxed Grace to let her return to the room before opening the door.

The people standing outside the door are indeed Smith.

It's just that there is not only one person at all times.

Standing next to him was Clayton.

Clayton is a lawyer. He appeared at Alyssa's door with Smith at this time, and it reminded Alyssa of things she had never thought of.

For example, Grace's inheritance rights.

She and Karl had divorced, and Adams's had nothing to do with her.

But Grace is Karl's daughter, and she has the right to inherit.

Chapter 822

Clayton noticed that when Alyssa saw him, surprise flashed in her eyes.

He nodded slightly: "Miss Alyssa."

Clayton was dressed in a straight suit and carrying a briefcase. He looked very strict.

"Lawyer Clayton." Alyssa nodded as a greeting, and then said, "You come in first."

Alyssa let Smith and Clayton enter the room.

"Sit down first, and I will pour water." Alyssa said, turning around to pour them water.

Soon, she came back with water.

Clayton took the waterway and thanked her: "Thank you."

Smith also took the waterway and thanked her, and then said, "Miss Alyssa, you should already know about Boss."

Alyssa gave a slight pause: "I have read the news."

After she finished speaking, she paused for a while before continuing, "You really didn't find Karl?"

Clayton explained: "Karl's car was found under the cliff, but Karl was not found, and several people who had a car accident were not found either."

Alyssa's face changed slightly when she heard this.

She was quiet for a moment and said, "If he is not found, it means he is still alive."

In recent years, Alyssa has encountered too many moments of life and death.

After hearing the news of Karl's car accident for the first time, she did experience flustered and unclear sadness.

But after calming down, a voice in her heart told her: Karl must be alive.

He must not die so easily.

It may be that Alyssa was too calm. When Smith and Clayton looked at her, there was a hint of surprise in their eyes.

Women have always been soft-hearted. Karl had such a big incident, and Alyssa was so calm, it was hard to let them not be surprised.

Alyssa didn't care what their expressions were, and said calmly: "If you have anything, just tell me."

Clayton and Smith glanced at each other before saying aloud: "That's right, Karl's life and death are unknown now, but Adams' can't be left alone without a take over for a day. We are here today to tell you about the group's inheritance. "

As he spoke, he opened the briefcase in his hand.

He took out a few stacks of documents from his briefcase and handed them to Alyssa, and said with a serious expression: "Karl gave Adams's to you before. This matter was handled by me and notarized by me. If Karl's existence is three long and two short, then you will take over Adams's House."

"What?" Alyssa thought she had heard it wrong.

Seeing Alyssa's face blank, Clayton said straightforwardly: "In short, you are Adams' boss."

"How is it possible?" Alyssa's expression changed suddenly.

She couldn't believe what Clayton said.

At that time, Karl did indeed take her to do these things.

But then the two separated, and even reached the point of breaking up, how could Karl not change these things, how could he still give Adams's group to her?

If he said that Karl had three strengths and two shortcomings, and Adams was inherited by Grace, it would be more credible than he said that Adams was taken over by Alyssa.

Smith paused for a moment and said, "This is all true."

After they left, Alyssa spent the whole afternoon looking at the documents that Clayton left her.

Of course, those documents are not originals, but photocopies.

The originals are kept in the safe and cannot be taken out casually.

Finally, she had to admit that what Clayton said was true.

Karl gave Adams's to her, and has not changed it.

Even if he drove her out of the villa, regardless of her life or death when the Adams building caught fire, he decided to marry Mianaâ€¦ he didn't change it.

What is this indicating?

Will Karl forget such an important thing?

It is impossible.

It can only be explained that after Karl transferred Adams's to Alyssa from the beginning, he never thought of changing it.

Alyssa sneered suddenly.

She took out her mobile phone and called Smith.

"Miss Alyssa." Smith's voice sounded tired.

While looking for the whereabouts of Karl, on the other hand, he had to take care of Adams' affairs. He hadn't closed his eyes for several days and nights.

Alyssa didn't make a sound for a while.

There was no sound from her at that time.

He probably knows why Alyssa made this call.

Alyssa finally said aloud.

Her voice is very soft, if it weren't for the surrounding environment is very quiet, and she is very focused all the time, he probably didn't hear these words.

She said: "Mr. Smith, please explain."

Smith was silent for two seconds: "This is a game Boss made to deal with Clifford."

A simple sentence explains everything.

The information revealed in this sentence is also sufficient.

Everything that cannot be explained can now be explained.

Alyssa repeated tauntingly: "A game?"

Smith hesitated and said, "Miss Alyssa, Sir Heâ€¦!"

If you donâ€™t listen to the latter words, Alyssa also knows what he is going to say later: "You should send someone to look for him first. I wonâ€™t take over for Adams. I only write scripts and donâ€™t run the company. Besides, Karl can do such a big game, presumably what happened this time is just to cover people's eyes."

"No, what happened this time was really an accident. It was not part of Boss's plan." Smith explained.

"Does the accident have something to do with me? He can put such a long thread, cast a big net, what can't he do?" Alyssa couldn't help but laugh at herself: "Okay. , Don't come to me again."

After Alyssa finished speaking, she hung up the phone with a "pop".

Don't know if it's because of anger, or she's afraid that she will feel soft when she hears the words from Smith.

At this moment, there was a knock on the door.

Alyssa got up to open the door, and saw Alvin standing outside.

Alvin had been busy following Clifford before, looking for evidence. Alyssa hadn't seen him for half a month after going abroad.

Alvin asked her before entering the house, "Do you know about Karl?"

At this time, Alvin came to the door, and he must have come because something happened.

After hearing Alvin's words, Alyssa was not surprised, and nodded directly: "I do."

Alvin's evidence solemnly said: "The day before he was in the car accident, Clifford also disappeared, completely gone, as if disappearing out of thin air."

Alyssa looked up at him fiercely, "Are you sure that Clifford disappeared the day before Karl's car accident?"

"Yes, I'm sure."

Alyssa glanced outside the door and said, "Come in first."

Before Alyssa said that she had something to do, she asked Grace to go back to the room to play, and Grace fell asleep in the room.

Just about to fall into the jet lag, Grace hasn't gotten up from bed till now.

Alvin looked around in the room and asked her, "Where is Grace?"

"Still sleeping, jet lag." Alyssa poured water for him and sat down on the sofa.

Alvin took the water, but did not drink it: "I think that Karl's matter may be related to Clifford."

Chapter 823

After listening to Alvin's words, Alyssa fell silent without speaking.

The grudge between Clifford and Karl has been around for a long time, but until now, Alyssa didn't quite understand why Clifford hated Karl so much.

He seemed to have a deep hatred for Karl.

However, why he hates Karl so much, no one knows.

"I think that if you want to find Clifford, you have to check Karl's whereabouts first." After Alvin finished speaking, she frowned.

Karl's disappearance is a major event. Even if there are no more people in Adams' family, other people related to his interests will also mobilize people to find Karl.

However, even if there were so many people looking for him, it had been forty-eight hours since the accident, there was still no trace.

Alvin said these words, and seeing Alyssa never reacted, a trace of surprise appeared in his eyes, and he said tentatively: "We have to go to the scene of the incident to see the situation."

Alyssa finally reacted, and she asked Alvin, "Have you been there?"

"No, the scene was blocked on the day of the incident, but I should be able to get in today." Alvin stretched out his hand and wiped his face, and sighed.

He also tried his best to check Wilfred recently.

Unexpectedly, Clifford disappeared suddenly, which made him feel very frustrated.

He had always thought that everything was under his control, but Clifford suddenly disappeared. He really has no way.

After a long while, Alyssa said, "Tomorrow."

â€

The next day, after Alyssa sent Grace to Tina, she went to the scene of the accident with Alvin.

The scene of the incident was in the suburbs, and it took two hours to drive from the city.

The cordon on the section of the road where the accident occurred has been removed.

Alvin parked the car on the side of the road, Alyssa opened the door and got off, standing on the side of the road and looking down.

Below is a cliff with thick woods.

At first glance, it makes people feel dizzy.

Alyssa held on to the guardrail and stabilized her figure.

From where Alyssa was standing, he did not move away.

There is still the wreckage of cars, as well as search and rescue personnel who pop up in the jungle from time to time.

It's just that the distance is too far, they can't see clearly.

Her mind seemed to have autonomous consciousness, constantly replaying the scene of the car running behind the cliff at the time.

She could even imagine that at the moment of the incident, Karl's face was still calm and indifferent.

He is such a person, no matter what happens, he can keep his face unchanged.

Alvin noticed that Alyssa's complexion was a little ugly, and asked, "Alyssa, are you okay?"

She shook her head and asked, "How to get down?"

Alvin pointed to a road on the other side and said, "You can drive the car down there for a while, but you can't drive far. There is also a search and rescue team car over there. The road below is a bit difficult. You have to go over."

Alyssa followed Alvin's line of sight and looked over: "Let's go over."

They drove down and were stopped.

Alyssa and Alvin got off the car. Before the two of them spoke, Alyssa heard a familiar voice.

"Alyssa!"

When she turned her head, she saw Peter wearing sportswear, walking over with a lot of juice.

"Peter." Alyssa calmed down after a brief surprise.

Peter and Karl had such a good relationship, even though they almost broke up because of Miana's affairs, Peter was a man of love and justice after all, and Karl had such a thing, he couldn't ignore it.

They are located in a mountain col, not ventilated, and extremely hot.

When Alyssa got out of the car, she was uncomfortably smoked by the heat, and fine beads of sweat appeared on her forehead.

Peter walked up to Alyssa, took a look at Alvin, and said, "I said I would pick you up before, and there is no time to pass!"

Before Alyssa and Tina returned to the country, Peter originally said that he would pick them up, but after all, he failed.

"How is it? Did you find Karl?" Alyssa asked Peter, wiping the sweat from her forehead.

Peter twisted his eyebrows and shook his head.

The atmosphere was stagnant for a while.

After that, Peter took Alyssa to the place where the car fell.

Several people followed in the footsteps of the search and rescue team for a long time.

No gain.

When they were about to return to the market, it was almost evening.

When the group walked to the parking place, Peter suddenly stopped Alyssa.

“Yes?”

Alyssa looked back at Peter.

Peter glanced at Alvin, and said to Alyssa, “Take my car.”

Alyssa was silent for two seconds, then turned to look at Alvin: “I will pass.”

Alvin’s expression was hesitant to speak, but he didn’t say much, and drove away.

Watching Alvin drive away, Alyssa and Peter got into the car.

Peter drove, Alyssa took the co-pilot.

Both of them looked serious.

After the car drove up, Peter touched a box of cigarettes on the center console, turned his head and glanced at Alyssa, then put it back.

Alyssa said, “You smoke.”

Peter gave a short smile and lit a cigarette.

He took a heavy breath and said, “I heard Clayton say that they came to see you yesterday?”

“Yeah.” Alyssa guessed that what Peter wanted to ask might be related to the Adams’.

Peter sighed, squeezed out the smoke, shook his head, moved his neck, and said, “Karl has fooled us so badly this time.”

Alyssa said nothing.

Peter gave a dry laugh, and then solemnly said: “I have a hunch that Karl must be still alive.”

“It’s best to be fine. It’s better for Adams’ to deal with such a big Hot Potato.” Alyssa’s face was cold, and there was no emotion in her tone.

Peter’s tone was stagnant: “Alyssa, don’t get angry with Karl, heâ€¦”

“I’ve never understood him thoroughly.” Alyssa directly intercepted Peter’s words: “If changed to Tina, she did everything Karl did, what would you do?”

Peter moved his lips without speaking.

Alyssa continued: “Do you want me to accept all the arrangements of Karl with peace of mind? I am a thoughtful adult. Are my ideas so dispensable? In a relationship, It’s not just convenient control, but mutual dedication and understanding. Karl has done all this. How can I manage myself!”

Peter frowned: “But he did all for your goodâ€¦”

Alyssa retorted: "If Tina does it for your good, she doesn't care about your life or death, and marries another man, do you think it's for you?"

Her emotions were a bit agitated, and her voice rose uncontrollably.

Chapter 824

Peter was speechless for a while after hearing Alyssa's words.

After a while, he said: "But if Karl never shows up, there will always be someone who goes to Adams' to preside over the overall situation."

"Then get him back." A touch of firmness flashed through Alyssa's eyes.

Peter didn't say more.

â€¦

At the gate of the community, Peter and Alyssa went to Tina's home together.

Tina has always been relatively idle because of her previous leg injury.

When the two arrived at Tina's, she was cooking butterfly noodles for Grace to eat.

In addition to butterfly noodles, Tina is not good at doing anything else.

Grace was probably hungry too, waiting eagerly at the kitchen door waiting to eat.

Hearing the doorbell, Tina opened the door and saw Alyssa and Peter, he was surprised for a moment.

Tina retracted her gaze and said, "Come in first."

As soon as Alyssa entered the door, she saw Grace standing in the corner, leaning on the wall with one hand, tilting her head and looking towards the door.

When she saw Alyssa, her eyes suddenly lit up.

Alyssa shouted with a smile, "Grace."

Grace ran towards her at once and threw herself into her arms.

Alyssa bent over and hugged Grace.

Tina glanced at Peter, ignored him, and said to Alyssa, "I'm about to cook noodles for Grace."

Alyssa and Grace said a few words, went to the kitchen to take a look, and took the apron to prepare the meal.

Tina cooked the noodles, and Alyssa found some beef and made the sauce.

All people will have some meat sauce noodles for the meal.

After the meal, Peter and Grace left after playing for a while.

He has been busy looking for Karl these days, and he is also busy with AdamPic Media and Best Day.

He still has many things to go back to and deal with.

After Peter was sent away, Tina asked Alyssa if she had found anything when she went to the scene today.

Alyssa shook her head.

Tina pondered for a moment, and then asked, "How is the terrain at the accident site? How can a living person disappear out of thin air if he falls down, and he wants to see people when he lives, and corpses when he dies!"

You don't see people alive, you don't see dead bodies.

It can only be defined as missing.

However, the consequences of Karl's disappearance were beyond the reach of ordinary people.

"Yes, you want to see people when they live, and corpses when they die." Alyssa also believed that Karl was still alive.

Alyssa asked, "Is there any news from your agent?"

Alyssa decided to find a nanny to take care of Grace. Tina's agent had a wider network, so she asked her agent to help find someone.

"She said she found a few people, and then let you go over and pick one out for yourself."

"Okay, trouble."

â€¦

The next day.

Tina accompanied Alyssa to see the nanny her agent helped to find.

After Alyssa went over all CVs, she was not satisfied.

When she returned, she received a call from Smith.

Alyssa thought that Smith was calling about Karl.

In the end, it was Alyssa asking for a nanny.

Alyssa asked him: "How do you know I'm looking for a nanny?"

Smith paused for a while and said, "Heard from Mr. Grant."

Tina is now an artist of AdamPic Media, and her agent helps Alyssa find a nanny. It is not difficult for Peter to know this.

After thinking about this, Alyssa said, "Yes."

"When my wife and I divorced before, I asked a babysitter to take care of the children. I was more assured. If you can trust me, I can give you her contact information."

Smith's tone was very sincere, and Alyssa had no reason to refuse: "Okay."

Chapter 825

Alyssa contacted the nanny introduced by Smith.

The nanny is a native of Rostenvel, but lives in the suburbs of the city.

A very simple aunt.

Alyssa believed that she was looked at by Smith, and after chatting with the nanny, she decided on hiring her.

The nanny moved into Alyssa's home.

Grace didn't reject the new aunt, which was much better than Alyssa expected.

â€¦

The rear-end collision continued to make headlines for several days.

After the casualties were finally confirmed, two more people were missing.

One of them is Karl.

Grace gradually got along with the new aunt, but it just didn't exclude it.

Karl has not been found, and someone on Adams' board of directors cannot sit still.

Can't stand the pressure Smith came to Alyssa.

He sat on the sofa in Alyssa's living room, and she sat opposite him.

"Miss Alyssa, you also know that Sir has been missing for so many days, Adams' board of directors can't hold it down."

Smith was a little more haggard than when Alyssa saw him last time.

Maybe he's too busy and tired recently.

Alyssa stared at Smith for a moment, and said with a serious expression: "Mr. Smith, tell me the truth, is the rear-end collision a part of Karl's game?"

Smith was stunned for a moment and said, "No."

Alyssa just watched him without speaking.

After a long while, he took a deep breath and said: "For a long time, Clifford was in the dark, and Boss was in the light. He originally planned to withdraw from the public line of sight and go to the dark to solve Clifford's matter, but this accident is not Within the plan."

Speaking of this, Smith gave a slight pause, and said: "This accident is most likely because Clifford detected Boss's intention and took the initiative to attack, wanting to get the upper hand."

Alyssa paused and asked, "Why does Clifford want to deal with Karl?"

Smith did not hesitate this time: "I don't know."

He also asked Karl before, but Karl said nothing.

Alyssa remembered that the final report of the accident showed that two people were missing.

"Except for Karl, who are the two people missing in this accident?" Alyssa asked Smith.

Smith heard this and looked at Alyssa with a shocked look: "You mean, the person who disappeared with Boss, is it possible that it is Clifford?"

"It's just a guess." Alyssa narrowed her expression: "I heard Alvin say that after Karl's car accident, Clifford has disappeared."

"Although the terrain below the cliff is a bit steep, there is no river, no sea, nor no man's land. It is impossible for a living person to live without seeing people or corpses."

After listening to Alyssa's words, her expression changed slightly.

Alyssa continued, "There are two possibilities. First, Karl did not fall down the cliff with the car at all. Second, after Karl fell down the cliff, he was taken away by Clifford."

"If it is the second possibility, it means that Karl must be still alive. If Karl has something short and long, Clifford will not disappear with him, because his original purpose was to fight Karl."

If Karl was gone, Clifford naturally didn't have to do these things.

After listening to Alyssa said so much, Smith's expression changed for a while, and finally frowned and said: "If we want to find Boss now, unless he contacts us himself, or we find Clifford."

Alyssa nodded: "That's right."

Chapter 826

But the problem is that they haven't heard of Karl yet, and Clifford hasn't been there yet.

Judging from the current situation, they have no news of Karl.

It is difficult to say whether Karl will contact them actively.

But the most pressing problem before them is that Adams has no leader, and with Karl's disappearance for one more day, the business and its employees are even more panicked.

The two of them fell silent after speaking.

After a long while, Smith said aloud: "Miss Alyssa, please think about it."

What he meant was to let Alyssa think about taking over Adams's.

Alyssa's complexion faded a lot: "I can't do business."

Smith's eyes flashed a touch of joy: "It doesn't matter, I will help you."

Emotionally, Smith was actually a person who came by compared to Karl.

He and Hania were in love together when they were in college, and finally got married. Their life stabilized, and their children got older but they divorced.

Later, he went around and remarried.

Good relationships can make people grow up, but also make people feel happy.

In other abilities, he was no better than Karl, but in terms of emotions, he felt that he was more transparent than Karl.

Karl was a little bit paranoid about feelings.

From the very beginning when Karl had to do this round, Smith didn't agree with it.

Karl tried his best and finally let Alyssa give up completely, but now he is missing again and wants to throw the huge Adams' Group to Alyssa.

Where does this put her?

As Alyssa said, how would she deal with herself?

Smith had actually thought about it, even if Alyssa didn't stand up, he had no reason to be strict with her.

At that time, only the documents can be published, but it may not be so convincing.

After a long time, Alyssa said, "I will think about it again."

Smith respected her thoughts and nodded slightly.

Although Adams' people are panicking now, there won't be any major problems in such a short period of time.

But after all, this kind of time is handled as soon as possible.

Adams' Stocks has already begun to fall.

After Smith left, Alyssa went to see Grace in the room.

She is still taking a nap.

Alyssa sat by the bed and looked at Grace for a while, then opened the door and went out.

The aunt who was taking care of Grace happened to come over, and Alyssa called her to stop and said, "Auntie, please take care of her. I am a little uncomfortable. I go back to my room and rest. I don't need to have dinner.

The aunt asked Alyssa: "Miss Alyssa, what is wrong with you?"

Alyssa shook her head: "I am okay."

She went back to the room and lay on the bed looking at the ceiling with her eyes open, without a trace of sleepiness.

There was some emptiness in her mind, and she thought about many things.

Some anger, and a feeling of “it is so”.

She and Karl are destined to entangle in this life- are these not confusing times?

â€¦

A week after Karl’s disappearance, a relatively authoritative financial media reported a piece of explosive news.

“According to reliable sources, when Karl had divorced his ex-wife, he had gone out of the house and transferred Adams’ to the name of his ex-wife. His ex-wife is the real boss of Adams.”

When this news came out, it shocked the entire Rostenvel.

The identity of Karl’s ex-wife is not a secret in Rostenvel.

After all, some time ago because of the injury at the restaurant, she only went on a trending search.

However, everyone was shocked that Adams had already been in the name of a different boss.

And Karl was so willing to give it to his ex-wife!

Chapter 827

Smith took the newspaper to Alyssa to read.

Alyssa took the newspaper with a calm face, and put it aside after only one glance: “I have read it on the Internet before.”

Even if she didn’t read it, she knew what was written in these newspapers.

Smith didn’t say anything when he saw it.

As if thinking of something, he said to Alyssa: “There may be a press conference soon.”

“I see, you can just notify me after you arrange it.” Alyssa knew in her heart that this kind of thing must be arranged in advance.

â€¦

The time of the press conference is mainly scheduled in three days.

When she went out, Grace was still sleeping.

She went to Grace’s room and took a look, came out and told the aunt, and then went out.

Smith drove to pick her up. The car drove into the community and stopped downstairs.

As soon as Alyssa passed, Smith walked out of the car and opened the door for her.

Alyssa noticed that Smith had stepped down from the passenger position.

Isn’t the car that Smith drives?

Originally, she thought Smith was driving.

But when she got in the car and saw who was driving, she froze for a while before she said: "Long time no see, Dave."

The driver is Dave who she hasn't seen for a long time.

After Alyssa moved, Dave naturally did not move over.

Although Dave said he was willing to be her bodyguard, the two did not sign a formal employment contract.

Afterwards, she was busy with her own affairs, and Dave had no news.

Unexpectedly, he would be with Smith.

Dave still looked unsmiling, he nodded to Alyssa from the rearview mirror and started the car.

At this moment, Alyssa suddenly thought of something and turned to look at Smith.

At the place where the press conference was held, Alyssa called Smith aside while Dave was parking.

"Dave will agree to be my bodyguard, is it related to Karl?"

"Yes." Smith explained: "Boss used his sister to make a deal with Dave. He persuaded Claire to go abroad for treatment, and Dave will come to you to protect you."

Alyssa looked at Smith blankly: "Is there anything else you are hiding from me, tell me everything."

Smith hesitated for a moment, and said, "You can go back to the villa when you have time."

He was talking about going back to the villa to let Alyssa go back to Karl's villa?

Alyssa wanted to say a thing more, and found that Dave had already parked the car and had to give up, without saying more.

â€

The press conference was overcrowded.

The entire Rostenvel and even the entire business community are paying attention to Adams' situation. The reporters who can attend the reception today are also selected.

It is not easy to get in.

"Hello everyone, I am Alyssa. The purpose of this press conference today is to answer some questions about me taking over Adams Groupâ€"

As soon as Alyssa spoke, the audience fell silent.

In the beginning, reporters would ask some questions about Adams'.

Smith told Alyssa about these issues in advance, and she knew them all.

But when she got to the back, she didn't know which reporter suddenly asked, "Who would like to ask Miss Alyssa. When you divorced Karl, it was not a peaceful divorce. He was able to hand over this to you, enough. Explain that he trusts and values you, but why did you get divorced again, and why did he want to marry another person? Is there anything in the middle that everyone doesn't know?"

Alyssa glanced at Smith and said, "Mr. reporter, today I only answer questions related to Adams' Group."

Chapter 828

Alyssa didn't let the reporter end the topic, but he continued: "I think this is also a problem related to the Adams'. You are now taking over the Adams family. We just want to understand why."

Alyssa said: "Private questions cannot be answered."

The man wanted to say something, but Smith had ordered someone to go down and get the reporter away.

Adams is the leader of the business world. Even if Karl is missing now, his status is still there. It's not just a little reporter who wants to be presumptuous.

The reporters afterward asked mediocre questions.

The press conference was relatively smooth.

The press conference was edited before the video was released.

As soon as this video was released, it caused a lively discussion among the people eager to know.

But these have nothing to do with Alyssa.

After the press conference, she went home and walked to the door of her house, and she found Tina was blocking her door.

Tina hugged her arms and said with a smile: "Mrs. Adams, the scenery is amazing."

Alyssa knew that Tina was angry, and Alyssa didn't tell her these things.

There are too many things these days, and Tina took the ad and was shooting, so she didn't have time to say.

Since Tina injured her leg, her workload has been greatly reduced, and she only took on some lighter tasks.

Alyssa nodded, and said solemnly: "It's okay, I just almost became your big boss."

According to Smith's statement, all the assets in Karl's name belonged to Alyssa.

It's just that Karl has directly transferred AdamPic Media to Peter, otherwise she really wants to become the big boss of AdamPic Media.

Tina glared at her, "cut" and said, "If you don't say anything about such a big thing, you will scare me to death when I see the news."

“Come in first.” Alyssa took out the key and opened the door.

Tina followed behind her and entered the door.

Tina had a lot to say, but Grace was at home, she could only bear with it for a while, and then talk about these things later.

Grace was very happy when she saw Alyssa come back.

On the way back, Alyssa brought Grace cakes.

She hugged Grace, watched her finished the cake, and let her go play by herself.

After Grace left, the two of them were left.

Tina didn’t talk about the press conference anymore, instead she talked about another thing.

“I went to the hospital for a review today. Guess who I saw in the hospital?” Tina asked Alyssa mysteriously, with an expression of “just ask who I am”.

Alyssa asked cooperatively: “Who?”

Tina said, “People from the Hunt family!”

Alyssa glanced at her: “Oh?”

She wasn’t very interested in this matter, but seeing Tina still talking, Alyssa said, “Mr. Hunt was a bit sick before. It’s okay for them to go to the hospital often.”

“No!” Tina said, “I inquired about it. They went to the hospital to see a female patient. They heard that she is very sick.”

Alyssa’s complexion had a halt.

People in the Hunt family are not so good.

They can’t be kind to someone who matters for nothing.

Being able to run to the hospital repeatedly only shows that the person in the hospital is still important to them.

For the Hunt family, who can be considered a more important woman?

It can only be one person.

That is, Isabel.

When Tina saw Alyssa’s expression, she knew she had guessed who it was. Tina asked her, “Who are you guessing?”

Chapter 829

Alyssa chuckled, and the expression on her face followed: “Before, Rachel had been looking for Isabel. I guess they found Isabel.”

“Sure enough, I guessed it. I also guessed that they found Isabel, but I’m not so sure.” Tina immediately patted her hands, very excited.

“I know the people in the Hunt family best. They can’t care about strangers for no reason. The ones who can let them take care of them so carefully are either people who have an interest in the Hunt family or Isabel.”

Alyssa recalled the past with a cold expression.

Everyone knows what kind of family the Hunt’s is.

“Didn’t Isabel disappeared before? Where did she go? I asked the doctor on the side. Anyway, the doctor vaguely said that she was very sick!” Tina obviously felt very particular about Isabel’s affairs. interest.

“If you have a chance to look back, don’t you know what happened?” Alyssa’s eyes had a chill: “They will contact me soon.”

Tina didn’t respond for a while: “What would they contact you for?”

“I just held a press conference today, and the people in the Hunt family should also know. They never let go of any opportunities to use me.” Such things happen often before, and it is not unusual.

Tina heard this and sneered: “There is nothing good! If you want me to say, if they want to come to you, you just kick them out. You are now the big boss of Adams’, powerful and rich, you Do what you want!”

Alyssa smiled and said, “I know in my heart that they don’t dare to mess with me casually now. Are you curious about Isabel? Then you will go to the hospital with me to see her.”

â€¦

Facts have proved that Alyssa’s idea is correct.

Because that night, Alyssa received a call from Hunt’s family.

Rachel called.

“Alyssa, how are you doing lately?” Rachel didn’t go straight to the subject, but first exchanged greetings with Alyssa.

Alyssa’s voice is not emotional: “If you have something to say, don’t care about me like this. You are making me uncomfortable, and I am fully uncomfortable to listen to it.”

“Alyssa, I’m notâ€¦” Rachel’s tone was embarrassing that she was poked.

Alyssa said coldly: “You don’t say it, I’m hanging up.”

Rachel hurriedly stopped her: “Wait a minute, Alyssaâ€¦ listen to me.”

Alyssa did not hang up, waiting for Rachel to speak.

Rachel was silent for a moment, and said, “Alyssa, Isabel is found. Anyway, she is your sister. Youâ€¦ you should come back and see her.”

“Anyway.

Each is this sentence.

“Anyway, you are from the Hunt family.

“Anyway, she is your sister.

“Anyway, you can’t ignore the Hunt family.

Alyssa snorted: “Anyway, I don’t want to go back to Hunt’s house to see your disgusting faces.”

“Don’t say that!” Rachel’s tone changed slightly: “I don’t think that you are the boss of Adams now, so you don’t put us in your eyes. You have to know that the boss of a big group, the more personal image Important, if you let others know!”

Alyssa interrupted Rachel’s words lightly: “Okay, isn’t there something new? It’s all this every time, you don’t think it’s annoying to say it, I’m tired of hearing it.”

Chapter 830

Early the next morning, Alyssa went to Adams’ Group.

This is the first time she officially came to Hunt’s after the news about her taking over Adams’ was released.

The people of Adams’ Group are not unfamiliar with her. Even those who don’t know her, must have found her information to understand her.

Smith went to Alyssa’s house to pick her up to work at the company.

As soon as she entered Adams’ door, she received gazes from all directions.

There is curiosity and contempt.

Alyssa walked toward the elevator entrance without squinting.

Karl had his own elevator, and Alyssa was standing in front of her own elevator, but her mind suddenly shook the scene when Karl went to work.

Counting up and down, she and Karl have been together for more than four years, but they rarely come to the Adams’ family with Karl upright.

She also didn’t see Karl coming to work, walking from outside to wait for the elevator.

She could still imagine scenes she hadn’t seen before.

–Ding.

The elevator doors opened.

“Mrs. Adams.” Seeing her not moving Smith behind her, reminded her aloud.

Alyssa listened to what Smith said to her, froze for a moment, then looked up and entered the elevator.

Because it is an exclusive elevator, she and Smith are the only people in the elevator.

Alyssa stared at the constantly changing floor numbers, and asked Smith coldly, "Is there any news about Karl?"

Smith gave Alyssa's expected answer: "Not yet."

Alyssa curled the corners of her lips, without a smile: "Oh."

When the elevator reached the top floor, Alyssa took the lead and walked straight to Karl's office.

Smith followed her closely and helped her open the office door.

Alyssa is still very familiar with the layout of Smith's office, and it has not changed at all.

She paused, walked to the desk and stood still.

Pushing two piles of papers on the desk,

Smith did not urge her, but reported today's itinerary behind her: "There are three meetings in the morning, one of which is a video conference. Some documents are to be signed in the afternoon, and there are two meetings in the evening!"

Alyssa had a headache listening.

She bypassed the office and sat on the boss chair, reaching out and pressing her eyebrows: "When will the meeting begin?"

"Ten minutes later, I will show you the information." Smith went to get the information after speaking.

Smith brought the information to her.

There was almost no place to put it on the desk, so he had to pass it directly to Alyssa's hand: "Mrs. Adams."

This new name sounds awkward.

Alyssa took the information, and on the way there, Smith probably talked to her about several recent key projects of Adams' and the theme of today's meeting.

She flipped through the information at random, then pointed to the piles of documents on the desk in front of her, and asked: "These are all the documents to be signed in the afternoon?"

Smith nodded: "Yes."

"Do you think I can finish signing this afternoon?" Alyssa twitched her lips, feeling that she could never finish it.

Smith lowered his head slightly and said, "These are the documents that I have screened, and most of them are not particularly urgent and have not been delivered yet."

Hearing this, Alyssa paused for a while, and then asked seriously, "Have Karl said that when this company is in my hands, I can deal with it at will?"

Smith glanced at Alyssa: "In principle, this is the case."

Alyssa put down the documents in her hand, wrapped her arms and said, "Then how about I sell Adams's Group?"
