

Predestined 841

Chapter 841

After hearing Grace's words, Alyssa paused for a while before putting her changed shoes into the shoe cabinet.

The nanny was cleaning the kitchen, but she just heard the movement here and knew that Alyssa had come back. She put the cleaned bowl back in the cupboard and walked out.

"Miss Alyssa, you are back!"

"Aunt Stephanie, you have worked hard today."

The nanny aunt's name is Stephanie.

When Alyssa looked at her, the expression on her face had returned to her usual calmness.

"No hard work, Grace is obedient." Aunt Stephanie liked Grace very much.

Grace, who was going to get the painting, ran over.

"Mom, come and see!" Grace ran over and stuffed the painting she was holding into Alyssa's hands.

Alyssa took her painting and took her to the sofa.

The mother and daughter sat on the sofa, and Grace pointed to the painting to show her: "This is Dad, this is you, this is me!"

Children's paintings are very strange.

But Alyssa took it seriously.

Grace was still explaining to her: "This is my father at work and my mother is cooking!"

Alyssa looked at Grace softly.

Grace still doesn't know what happened, she still doesn't know that her father has disappeared.

!

At night, after Grace fell asleep, Alyssa took the pen and sat at the desk to look.

The paint on the surface of the pen has fallen off. Perhaps the person who kept the pen often took it out to look at it, so the surface looked extra smooth.

This is something that Karl cherishes.

If he can send this pen back, it means he is really fine.

But where did this pen come from?

Such an old pen!

The price of this brand of pen in those years was very common to the people, and someone like Karl would definitely not buy this pen.

So this pen must be given by someone else.

Karl's address was the street she passed through when she was in elementary school.

When Clifford stopped her in the alley before, he asked her if she rememberedâ€¦

Alyssa held the pencil to her front, looked and looked again, and was stunned as if thinking of something.

There is a guess in her heart.

This penâ€¦

Could it be she gave it to Karl?

On the surface, Karl looked very indifferent, but in fact he was a very affectionate and righteous person.

If he values â€œthis pen very much, he must value the person who gave him it more.

However, Alyssa has been with him for so many years, and the relationship with him is so close, and he has never seen any close relationship between Karl andâ€¦

Alyssa reached out and patted her head.

When she was just a year in elementary school, she hadn't reduced her strength because of Isabel and Rachel. She was the first in the exams every time, and she looked outstanding. Many classmates loved playing with her and won a lot of awards, big and small.

This pen is also a kind of award.

She remembers that at the art festival that year, she participated in the competition and won a notepad and a pen, and thenâ€¦

Then it seemed that on the way home, she ran into a little boy who was almost hit by a car when he ran away from home. Then she seemed to give him the pen?

Almost twenty years have passed, and Alyssa can't remember the specific details.

After all, she had a very selfless life in the following years, and she rarely thought about these past events.

When she first saw Karl's pen that year, she didn't think so much.

The little boy she met when she was a child was also very ordinary dressed. He was embarrassed and looked pitiful, not at all like a child from a rich familyâ€¦

It should beâ€¦ it can't be Karl, right?

Chapter 842

Alyssa sat at the desk for a long time, and went back to the room to sleep late at night.

It's just that she has been dreaming all night, and the scenes in the dream are constantly changing like a movie.

When she woke up in the morning, she didn't feel like she was asleep, but as if she ran a marathon overnight.

She got up from the bed, went to the window and opened the curtains to look outside.

Summer days are very long, and it's already bright at six o'clock.

Alyssa stood in front of the window and pondered for a while, thinking about Clifford who met in street yesterday, turned around and picked up the phone on the bedside table to call Alvin.

Although she didn't know how Karl was doing now, she knew very well that Clifford must have not given up to deal with Karl.

And Alvin has been looking for Clifford again, and Alvin is also very persistent in order to find out the truth about his father's death.

Even if Clifford is good at calculations and is entangled by Alvin, he always has to allocate some energy to deal with it.

The phone rang for a while before being picked up.

"Alyssa." Alvin was quiet.

Alyssa said directly, "Didn't you keep looking for Clifford? I saw him yesterday."

"In Rostenvel?" Alvin said in silence for a moment.

Alyssa: "Yes!"

"But I'm in United States." Alvin's muffled hammer fist sounded: "I thought Clifford was back in United States, so I came back to look for him!"

Alyssa also froze for a moment, and she did not expect that Alvin had already returned to United States.

"I will return to the country as soon as possible. Be careful!" In the second half of the sentence, Alvin hesitated for a while before speaking out.

Alyssa said nothing more: "Goodbye."

She hung up the phone, went to the bathroom to wash, then changed clothes and went out.

"Miss Alyssa is up." Aunt Stephanie got up early, making breakfast, and walked out of the kitchen when she heard the movement.

Alyssa responded, "Morning."

"Going to work? Leave after breakfast, I have made it all." Aunt Stephanie seemed to be afraid that Alyssa would leave without breakfast, and quickly went back to the kitchen to serve her food.

It was still early, and Alyssa sat down at the table.

Grace has been a little sleepy recently, and Alyssa hasn't gotten up after eating.

Alyssa opened the door lightly, walked to the bed and looked at Grace before turning around to go to the company to work.

â€¦

She sat at the desk, looked at the pile of documents in front of her, took a deep breath, and then resignedly looked at it.

The document has not yet been read, and there is another meeting.

After two consecutive meetings, Alyssa returned to the office, leaning back in her chair and looking at the ceiling, not wanting to move.

After giving her a cup of coffee, Smith went out without saying anything.

Alyssa took out the pen that she received yesterday again.

Karl only said six o'clock in the afternoon, but did not say a specific date.

After 6 o'clock in the afternoon yesterday, she saw Clifford. It is impossible to see Clifford in the past day, right?

And Alvin is coming back to Rostenvel.

Clifford was well-informed. If he knew that Alvin was coming back to Rostenvel, he would be prepared.

Besides, she didn't think Clifford was so idle.

When it was time for work, Alyssa stood up and took her bag out.

Smith happened to bring in the documents, and hit Alyssa at the door.

With a sound of "wow", all the documents he was holding all at once fell to the ground.

"I'm sorry, I am here to help." Alyssa didn't help him pick up things, and only hurriedly dropped a sentence: "I'm a little anxious to leave beforehand. Thank you."

Chapter 843

"Mrs. Adams!"

Smith's voice came from behind, and Alyssa waved at him without looking back.

Smith turned around, looked at the documents that fell on the floor, sighed, and started picking up things.

Alyssa left the Adams' and drove to the old street from yesterday.

She drove a little bit faster on the way here, and it was still early when she arrived at the old street, just when the nearby elementary school was left behind, there were many pupils on the way.

Alyssa parked the car on the side of the road, shaking her mind for a moment.

Later, she opened the door and got out of the car.

On both sides of the road, there are parents who pick up children, older children going home alone, and mobile vendors.

Alyssa stood by the roadside, looking around.

Did not see a familiar figure.

She walked along the street for a while, seeing the sky gradually darkening, she turned and returned to the car.

At this time, it was the peak time, and she got stuck in the road just when she drove out of the old street.

At this time, her cell phone rang.

It's Aunt Stephanie.

"Aunt Stephanie, what's the matter?"

"Nothing, it's Grace who asked me to call you."

Aunt Stephanie said, there was no sound. The next moment, Grace's immature voice rang from the other end of the phone: "Mom, are you coming back for dinner?"

Just as Alyssa was about to speak, eyes saw a man in black with a peaked cap stepping over the railing, opening her car door, and sitting in the back seat.

"I'll be back later." Alyssa looked at the rearview mirror and hung up the phone after speaking calmly.

The man sitting in the back row was wearing a black long-sleeved shirt and black pants, and the peaked cap on his head was also lowered.

From Alyssa's perspective, she could only see his exposed neck.

The button of the shirt collar was meticulously buttoned to the top, and the color of the neck looked strangely white against the black shirt.

"Beep"

The car behind her honked, urging Alyssa to drive.

She returned to her senses, locked the door, and continued driving.

The car drove steadily on the road in the dark, and Alyssa's complexion was always calm.

And the man sitting in the back row never looked up.

It was not as quiet as two people in the car.

After driving into the community, Alyssa drove the car directly to the underground parking lot.

The underground parking lot is quiet and there is no one in the distance.

She stopped the car and slowly stretched out her hand to release the seat belt.

She didn't look back, just looked up in the rearview mirror, moved her lips, and said the name she hadn't called for a long time.

"Karl."

The black-clothed man sitting in the back row slowly took off the cap that was pressing on his head, then raised his head, his eyes collided with Alyssa in the rearview mirror.

Alyssa slowly clenched her hand on her side.

Her expression was stiff and at a loss for a moment, then she curled her lips and revealed a slightly mocking smile: "It's really you."

Karl's hair was short and his face was thin, but his eyes, like ink, were still very energetic.

The whole person does not look haggard, but rather energetic.

Alyssa finally didn't hold back a sneer and said, "It seems you are doing well."

Throwing such a big Adams's Group to her, he was not as miserable outside as she thought.

Karl did not speak, but looked at her in the rearview mirror with his eyes focused.

Alyssa was angry from her heart, her voice a little sharp: "Speak!"

"For Adams' matter, you don't have to make yourself too tired. You can leave it to Smith, or ask a professional manager." Karl's voice was low and hoarse.

Chapter 844

There is a hint of sarcasm in Alyssa's voice: "I am not tired, how should I deal with Adams', does this have anything to do with you?"

When the voice fell, Alyssa could feel that the atmosphere in the car had become somewhat depressed.

Immediately afterwards, Karl called her name restrainedly: "Alyssa."

His voice is neither light nor heavy, but with some restraint.

But Alyssa heard the anger implied in his tone.

Alyssa took a deep breath, opened the door and got out of the car and strode towards the elevator.

A man's footsteps sounded behind her.

Karl got out of the car and caught up with her, blocking her way.

Alyssa wanted to bypass him and leave, he reached out and grabbed Alyssa's arm: "Alyssa!"

"Let go." Alyssa didn't look at him, and glanced at the hand that was pulling her arm.

His strength is well controlled, so that it will neither pinch her uncomfortably nor make her break free.

Alyssa is in a hurry, so he decides everything alone. He appears when he wants to appear, and disappears when he wants to disappear?

She lowered her head, opened her mouth and bit on the back of Karl's hand.

Alyssa got down hard, biting hard.

She felt Karl's body tighten, but he did not let go, letting her bite and vent her anger.

Karl used his free hand to buckle her into his arms at once, patted her long hair comfortably with his generous palm.

Alyssa gradually calmed down and spoke loosely, but her shoulders were shaking slightly.

He could feel that the chest of his shirt was immersed in warm dampness. Karl's body became stiff, and his arms around Alyssa tightened for a few minutes, but did not say a word.

In the dark and hot flashes in the underground parking lot, Alyssa was tightly clasped in his arms, and it didn't take long for him to sweat.

"Let go of me." Alyssa had just cried, with a thick nasal voice in her voice, slightly hoarse.

Karl's voice didn't sound any better than Alyssa's voice, he said in a low voice, "Hug again."

After speaking, he suddenly added: "Okay?"

With a hint of cautious prayer.

Alyssa's nose was sour, and the harsh and sharp words came to her lips, but they took them back abruptly.

don't know how long it took, when a car drove in, Karl finally let go of her.

The hair on Alyssa's forehead was completely sweaty and stuck to the corners of her forehead and cheeks.

Karl stretched out his hand and took away the hair that was stuck to her cheeks with sweat little by little, making her movements meticulous and gentle.

Alyssa was a little startled.

It seemed to have returned to those warm days she used to live with Karl.

"boom!"

The sound of closing the car door from the other side awakened Alyssa.

She turned her head away, avoided Karl's hand, and walked straight towards the elevator entrance.

After walking a few steps, she noticed that the people behind her did not follow, so she turned around.

Karl was still standing on the spot, his face was shrouded in shadow, looking at her gloomily.

Alyssa bit the corner of her lip, walked towards him without saying a word, took his hand and walked towards the elevator, moving neatly and simply.

Karl seemed to be startled by Alyssa's movements, and he slowly followed her.

When she was about to enter the elevator, Alyssa felt that the man behind her stopped and stopped following her.

Alyssa stepped in and stood face to face with Karl who was standing outside the elevator, and asked him expressionlessly, "You don't want to come in?"

Chapter 845

Karl didn't know what he was thinking, his expression was still a little gloomy, as if he was hesitating.

Alyssa thought that Aunt Stephanie was still at home and that Karl was still missing. He had not been showing up, just didn't want people to know his whereabouts.

Thinking of this, she raised her eyes to look at Karl: "I live on a few floors and I know in my heart that you will come up again in half an hour. If you don't come, you can figure it out by yourself."

After speaking, she pressed the elevator close button.

The elevator door slowly closed, Alyssa pressed against the wall, her expression a little startled.

Ever since she guessed that Karl might not have had an accident, she had thought that he might come to her, it was just a matter of time.

Seeing Karl again, the emotions in her heart are very complicated.

After experiencing so many things, it is hard to tell what she thinks of Karl in her heart.

She doesn't know whether she loves or hates him.

She just wanted to let these things pass quickly and return to the normal life trajectory.

Some things that cannot be answered can only be handed to time.

Time is the wisest decision maker, and will give the most correct answers to all problems.

When the floor is reached, the elevator door opens automatically.

Alyssa got out of the elevator, calmed down her emotions, and walked to her door.

She took out the key and opened the door, with the usual smile on her face: "Grace, I'm back!"

Grace bounced out at her: "Mom!"

"Grace, slow down," Aunt Stephanie followed from behind.

Alyssa hugged Grace, nodded to Aunt Stephanie, then lowered her head to ask Grace, "Have you eaten?"

"She didn't, she said she would wait for you to eat together." Aunt Stephanie took the initiative to answer the questions for Grace.

Grace also shook her head: "Waiting for you to eat together."

Alyssa touched Grace's head, held her and walked to the dining table.

After sitting at the dining table, she said casually, "Aunt Stephanie, since you came to me, you haven't gone home to rest, right? I just want to rest at home tomorrow or not go to the company, you can go home today."

Aunt Stephanie smiled and nodded: "Well, I am going to wake up tomorrow morning! I am afraid that it will disturb you. I will wait for you to finish meal, then clean up the table before leaving."

"No, we eat very slowly. I can clean up the table myself. You go back early and be safer. I'll arrange a taxi for you."

Aunt Stephanie said very politely: "Eh, no need!"

"It's okay, I have already made an appointment, and it will be here soon. You can go down now, and I won't send you off." Alyssa put down the phone and said.

"Thank you, Miss Alyssa, you are so kind!" Aunt Stephanie said with a grateful expression, and went to pack her things.

She just went back to live for one day and didn't need to pack anything at all, so she left soon.

Alyssa and Grace escorted Aunt Stephanie out, watched her enter the elevator, and took Grace back to the room.

When closing the door, Alyssa paused without closing the door firmly.

It has been almost half an hour since she came back before, and if Karl would come up, it would be the next elevator.

Therefore, she does not need to lock the door.

The mother and daughter returned to the dining table. Alyssa looked at Grace and said softly, "Grace, wait for a guest at home."

"Uncle Alvin?" Grace looked up at her with bright eyes: "He hasn't come to see me for a long time."

Alyssa laughed: "Because Uncle Alvin is an adult, he has a lot of other things to do. He will come to see you when he has time."

Chapter 846

Grace curled her lips: "Okay."

She lowered her head and took a bite, and said seriously to Alyssa: "When I start school, I will be very busy."

Alyssa followed her words and said, "Well, Grace is also a busy person."

Grace was amused by Alyssa.

Alyssa didn't eat much herself, and kept looking at the hallway.

But the hallway was quiet and there was no one at all.

Until she and Grace finished eating, they didn't see anyone coming in from the hallway.

Alyssa lowered her head and smiled self-deprecatingly.

She thought Karl would come to her, and tell her everything that happened during this time!

She thinks too much.

Karl was still the only self-respecting Karl who only hid everything in his heart.

Alyssa tidied the dining table without saying a word.

She tidied the kitchen and came out, and Grace was watching the animal world.

Alyssa took a pillow and hugged it in her arms and watched the animal world with Grace.

"Which animal does Grace likes most?" Alyssa turned to ask Grace.

Grace tilted her head for a moment and said, "Polar bear and lion."

"Then we go to the safari park to see the lion tomorrow, OK?" Alyssa reached out and touched Grace's head.

Grace nodded heavily: "Okay!"

It may be because of going to Wildlife Park tomorrow, Grace is very excited and refused to go to sleep.

At eleven o'clock, Alyssa forced Grace into the bed, not allowing her to move, and she fell asleep.

From Grace's room, it was already 12:30.

Alyssa took a bath towel and went to the bathroom to take a bath. She took a slow bath and took a long time.

When she finished the bath, wrapped in a bath towel and opened the bathroom door, she found a person lying on the bed.

Alyssa was stunned at the same place, and after a few seconds, she stepped forward and slowly walked towards the bed.

The person lying on the bed was Karl.

She left the door for Karl before, but Karl never came, and she forgot to close the door.

He didn't take the cap on his head, his eyes were slightly furrowed and his brows were furrowed as well.

Alyssa took a deep breath, looked up at the ceiling, somehow wanted to laugh.

She lowered her head again and looked at the man lying on the bed.

Karl was a very alert person. She had been standing here for so long, but he didn't even wake up.

It should be! very tired.

Alyssa reached out and took the thin quilt, and gently covered him.

However, when she was giving him a quilt, he opened his eyes suddenly.

With dark eyes like night, Alyssa had an illusion that she was about to fall into it.

She retracted her hand in a panic and straightened up abruptly.

Karl's reaction also shook her hand extremely quickly.

Just after a hot shower, the room was air-conditioned and Alyssa's hands were cold.

It's ice and soft.

Alyssa didn't twitch her hands, she lowered her eyes to look at him, and said in a calm tone: "I'm going to change clothes."

Only then did Karl let go.

Alyssa took out her p@jamas from the closet, hugged them in her arms, and went into the bathroom.

She chose a two-piece cotton p@jamas. The cotton pajamas are spacious and comfortable, and they don't have any fancy styles.

When she came out, Karl was sitting at her desk looking through the data files, looking very serious, as if very curious.

Alyssa walked over with her arms around her: "These are the documents I brought back from the company. You have nothing to do with me or Adams's. You can't read this kind of thing."

Karl glanced at her and closed the open file in front of him, very obedient.

Chapter 847

Regarding Karl, Alyssa was always worried about what he had done and couldn't talk to him peacefully.

However, Karl's sudden obedient behavior still made her a little uncomfortable.

She took a deep look at him, then turned and walked to sit down on the solo sofa on the other side.

She still embraced her arms and folded her legs together, looking at Karl blankly.

There is a quiet breath in the air.

The space in the bedroom is not small, but at this time, there is an additional person, which makes Alyssa feel that the bedroom is a bit small.

The two looked at each other without speaking.

Alyssa waited for Karl to speak.

And Karl just looked at her earnestly and intently, as if he didn't intend to speak.

Alyssa endured and waited.

Finally, when she thought Karl was going to look at her like this all night, Karl finally spoke.

"I want to see Grace." He looked at Alyssa with deep eyes, his eyes filled with emotions that made people hard to distinguish.

Alyssa waited for so long, thinking that he was finally going to explain what happened before, but she didn't expect that Karl just said that he wanted to see Grace.

Alyssa was startled for a moment, and then laughed out loud.

"Do you remember having a daughter?" Alyssa looked at him mockingly: "She's next door, you can go and see for yourself."

She didn't get up after she finished speaking, still sitting.

She didn't plan to take Karl to see Grace.

Karl did not move after hearing her words.

Alyssa raised her eyes to look at him, and he also looked at Alyssa.

Alyssa now hates him so much that she doesn't say anything: "I'm sleepy."

Obviously, she was sleepy and going to bed.

Karl slowly said, "You are angry with me."

As Alyssa was about to get up, Karl went on to say, "If you are angry, it means you still care about me."

"So?" Alyssa leaned back and said to herself: "Do you think that no matter what you do with me, I will forgive you and care about you?"

"That's why you always make these big decisions without shame from me! Do you think you are particularly great?"

Alyssa can imagine how she resembles a grudge when she said these things, but she couldn't control herself: "You have always been smart, and everyone is in your calculations. Grace and I are no exception."

"You are really confident. Are you really not worried that I will fall in love with other people?" Alyssa said this, and denied herself: "No, you will still be worried, otherwise you will not send someone. Send the evidence that Clifford killed Wilfred to Alvin and ask him to investigate his father's death, so that he has no time to come to me."

"Also, the incident of being stabbed by Miana in the restaurant before, and then there were a lot of rumors. In order to force me to take Grace abroad, you deliberately found a reporter to stop me at my door!"

Before Karl had set up such a big game, Alyssa couldn't figure out many things.

Now she can finally explain it.

Everything that was previously unexplainable can now be explained.

She had tried Karl before, and she didn't believe that he would change his heart so quickly.

However, Karl knew too well if she would give up her heart.

When he got up cruel, he was cruel to himself.

Alyssa was suspicious from the very beginning, and finally accepted the reality later.

But just after she accepted the reality, she discovered that this shot was just a game set by Karl, a self-directed and self-acted play.

Chapter 848

After Alyssa said so much, Karl's expression did not change much.

He looked at Alyssa calmly, as if he was a passerby who was out of the way.

Alyssa calmed down instead: "It's a pity, if you really had an accident in that car accident, I can take your money to date other men, and be with whomever I want to be with."

There was finally a crack on Karl's face that had not changed his expression.

Alyssa smiled: "You left the entire Adams' to me, you must want me to live a happy life, why don't you just find an excellent father for Grace, so that my life will be complete."

"Alyssa!"

Karl's voice sounded a bit of gritted teeth.

Don't mention how happy Alyssa was.

She thought Karl could keep calm like this forever.

Alyssa said slowly, "I'm really touched by your consideration for me."

"Even if I really can't come back, I still have a way to keep you widowhood for forever!" Karl suddenly curled his lips and smiled, looking a little gloomy under the dim light of the bedroom.

Alyssa was taken aback for a moment, and laughed extremely angry.

She really didn't know where Karl was confident.

However, based on her knowledge of Karl, she also knew that he must have such an ability.

It seems that there is really nothing in this world that he can't do.

Thinking like this in her heart, Alyssa's mouth did not forgive others: "You are so confident, what are you doing with Alvin?"

The room fell into a strange silence.

Alyssa narrowed her eyes slightly, could it be that Karl was really worried about her being with Alvin?

Karl was silent for a few seconds and said, "You go to sleep."

Alyssa was stunned.

“I’ll take a look at Grace and leave.” Karl seemed to see her doubts, and then stood up and walked outside.

Alyssa opened her mouth slightly, not knowing what to say for a while.

She found that since Karl entered just now, she has been talking almost all the time.

Karl hardly said anything.

When he came this time, he didn’t seem to have any plans to explain to her at all. Instead, he seemed to want to prove whether she cared about him.

Alyssa came back to her senses with a “squeaky” door opening sound.

Karl had already left.

Alyssa stretched out her hand irritably and grabbed her hair, sat on the solo sofa for a while before getting up and walking towards the door.

When she reached the door, she suddenly stopped.

She hesitated to go out.

After hesitating for a few seconds, she opened the door and walked out, walking to the door of Grace’s room next door.

Grace’s door was ajar.

Alyssa walked to the door and could see the scene inside.

Karl sat by the bed and looked down at Grace who was sleeping deeply. He reached out and pulled Grace’s quilt up, leaning over and kissing her on the face.

The movements are very gentle.

Alyssa felt a little moved, turned around with a complicated expression and walked to the kitchen to pour herself a glass of water.

After taking a sip, she leaned on the edge of the dining table in a trance.

Very light footsteps sounded outside the living room.

Alyssa looked up and saw Karl walking towards her.

He walked straight to Alyssa, reached out and took the cup that Alyssa had only taken a sip in her hand, and drank most of the water in the cup in one breath.

Alyssa pursed her lips, and swallowed back when the words she wanted to say reached her lips.

Seeing her staring at him, Karl asked, “Were you still drinking?”

Chapter 849

Alyssa didn’t want to care about Karl.

She really didn't know what to do with him.

In terms of tactics, she could not figure out Karl.

As for her face, she was not as thick as Karl's face.

She was angry, she knew it, and Karl knew she was angry.

But he just didn't explain to her.

One thing Karl was right, she still cared about him.

For a while, she really hated Karl and thought about being with others.

But after such a long time, even if Karl and Miana announced their marriage, she couldn't imagine what it would be like to live with other men.

Alyssa glanced at Karl, then turned to look away.

Karl placed the water cup on the flow table that was leaning behind Alyssa, and then put his free hand on Alyssa's side.

Feeling Karl was close, his breath was close at hand.

Alyssa turned her head to find that he was standing in front of her, holding her hands on the desk beside her.

Behind her was the icy wall, and in front of her was Karl.

Alyssa was trapped in front by Karl, unable to move back or forward.

She had to look up at him: "What do you mean?"

Karl moved slowly and lowered his body, like a slow motion in a movie, slowly leaning over to approach her.

The two were too close, Alyssa's pupils shrank sharply, and she leaned back subconsciously.

There was no room behind her, and she soon had no place to look up.

Karl reached out in time to support Alyssa's waist.

The clothes in summer are thin, and the man's powerful arms are wrapped around her waist, which is full of presence.

Alyssa hadn't been so close to Karl for a long time, her body suddenly stiffened, and her breathing couldn't help but relax.

She has just taken a bath, with the familiar fragrance of shower gel.

When she lived with Karl before, she also used this shower gel. She is a dedicated person. She likes to use one perfume all the time, and she likes clothes of the same brand.

Karl curled his lips and laughed silently.

Alyssa vaguely sensed what Karl was going to do, she clenched her hand, and wanted to push him away.

But the next moment, Karl, who had been quiet, suddenly lowered his head and grabbed her lips.

Alyssa struggled, but was quickly restrained by Karl.

This place that Karl chose is very suitable for this kind of thing.

Alyssa had almost nowhere to escape.

Karl started to be tender and kissed gently, but became more and more fierce afterwards.

But there was a strange tenderness in this fierceness, and undisguised feelings.

Karl has always been an emotionally restrained person. Alyssa has always wanted to correct some of his ways of treating his feelings and lovers, but has never been successful.

But this does not mean that she does not recognize Karl's feelings.

Alyssa didn't know how long it had passed.

When she felt that her lips were a little numb, Karl finally let go of her.

When he left her lips, his breath was a little unstable.

But he didn't have any excess heat, just holding Alyssa to calm the heat in his heart.

Karl's voice was good at first, but when he was emotional, his breathing sounded a little bit more sexually.

Alyssa flushed with hearing, she pushed Karl: "Let go of me!"

"If you are willing to take the initiative to help me solve the problem, I will let you go." He said, clasping her arms a little bit on purpose.

Chapter 850

Alyssa could feel the changes in Karl's body.

She froze suddenly.

Karl's voice sounded very pleasant: "If you don't want to do it, don't move."

Alyssa gritted her teeth: "Karl, don't forget, we are already divorced!"

Karl: "We can remarry."

"Just like you, still want to remarry?" Alyssa said coldly: "I am the richest woman now. How many men want me, why should I remarry you?"

Karl: "Because you love me."

Alyssa was taken aback for a moment, and was so angry that she could not speak: "Bah!"

Karl laughed lowly in her ear, but did not speak.

He knew that Alyssa would be angry.

He also knows that if two people want to be together again, it is only a matter of time.

Although Alyssa has either ridiculed him or treated him coldly since the meeting.

But Karl knew that she still cared about him, that was enough.

From another perspective, if Alyssa doesn't love him, it is impossible to give him the opportunity to kiss her.

He never did anything uncertain, but the longer he was "separated" from Alyssa, the more anxious he felt.

He forced Alyssa to go abroad and advanced all plans.

The sooner all this ends, Alyssa will be able to return to him sooner.

Don't know how long it took, Karl's voice sounded from Alyssa's ear again: "don't worry about me, everything will end soon."

"Being affectionate, I'm not worried." Alyssa didn't lie. Except that she was particularly worried about Karl at the beginning, she hadn't worried about Karl in recent days.

He directly ignored her words: "How do you want to deal with the company's affairs, whether you want to deal with it, it's up to you."

Alyssa: "I will sell Adams's tomorrow to raise a hundred little white faces."

Karl: "I will come back to see you and Grace when I have time."

Alyssa: "I have a hundred little white faces, I don't need you! Ah!"

Karl suddenly bit her on her neck, and Alyssa screamed with pain when he squeezed hard.

She stretched out her hand to cover her neck: "Are you a dog!"

"Heh." Karl just sneered.

Immediately, he straightened up, looked down at Alyssa, and said with a faint smile, "You can try to raise a hundred little white faces."

"I don't think I dare?" Alyssa looked at Karl defiantly.

Karl narrowed his eyes and kissed the place he had just bitten, "I'm leaving."

When he finished speaking, he turned and left, without any lingering.

Alyssa was taken aback for a while before reacting and chasing him up: "Karl!"

Karl heard her voice and did not look back.

Alyssa chased to the door and asked, "What's the matter with the pen you have kept?"

Karl glanced back at her, and said unpredictably, "Think for yourself."

Alyssa frowned and said, "I gave you the pen? But how could you go to that street at that time, and you were too ugly when you were a kid?"

Karl, who was about to enter the elevator, stepped back when she heard what she said, watching Alyssa coldly and said, "It's not as ugly as you!"

He did not deny.

In other words, she really gave him that pen?

Alyssa's heart was filled with mixed feelings.

But when she thought of the words Karl said just now, she said angrily: "Then you have the ability, don't remarry me!"

The elevator door closed at this moment, and Karl did not hear her.