Chapter 861

The first person to see Alyssa was Rachel.

She greeted her as soon as she saw Alyssa.

Rachel’s complexion was a little haggard, but Alyssa didn’t think she was sad for Douglas’s death, but was so haggard because she was too worried about Isabel’s body.

When Douglas was seriously ill and was admitted to the hospital, he had already handed Hunt’s into the hands of Travis.

In other words, Douglas had no real power in his hands long ago.

Rachel naturally didn’t have to look at Douglas’s expression.

Travis has also lived abroad these years, and his relationship with Douglas was also relatively deep.

In the entire family, probably only Travis would feel sad because of Douglas’s death.

Alyssa raised her head to look at Rachel, with a cold expression: “Mrs. Hunt.”

There was a slight alienation in this tone.

Rachel was taken aback when she heard Alyssa’s address to her, and murmured: “Alyssa, youâ€¦”

Alyssa accidentally said to her, nodded slightly, turned and walked inside.

Extremely cold.

Alyssa’s heart was as calm as she showed.

She can now treat this family calmly.

There are many people inside, solemn and quiet.

Alyssa looked at the black and white photos of Douglas in the mourning hall, feeling a little surprised.

Time flies.

When she came out, she looked around and finally saw Travis.

Travis stood in the crowd with a haggard face, talking to the guests who came to mourn.

The more calm between the eyebrows.

About to feel Alyssa’s gaze, he turned his head and looked in Alyssa’s direction.

Immediately, he bowed his head and said something to the person next to him, and walked over to Alyssa.

After Travis approached, he only said two words: “You came.”

There are no superfluous emotional words, but there is a kind of familiarity.

“Yeah.” Alyssa nodded in response: “Just here.”

Travis lowered his eyes slightly and chuckled, “You are really cruel, you didn’t come to see Grandpa one last time.”

“I’m not cruel, but simply feel that it is meaningless. I am not an important person to the Hunt family. I am also not a relative to him, so there is no need to meet for the last time.”

The “him” in Alyssa’s words refers to Douglas.

Travis was silent for a while, and said softly, “You have been smart since you were a child, but you were a little soft-hearted.”

“Go ahead, don’t worry about me, I will leave later.” Alyssa turned her head and looked at the rain that was getting heavier outside.

Travis nodded: “Okay, I won’t send you off.”

Alyssa watched Travis walk into the crowd again.

Suddenly, a familiar voice rang in her ear: “Alyssa.”

Alyssa’s face was startled, she turned her head abruptly, and saw Clifford in black standing behind her.

Seeing her turning around, Clifford curled the corners of his lips and smiled.

How could Clifford be here!

“Speaking of it, the last time we met was not too long. Why are you so surprised?” Clifford was still gentle and reliant.

Before he showed his true colors, Alyssa had always trusted him.

She stepped back vigilantly: “What do you want to do again?”

Clifford’s gaze fell on Smith behind her, and then he looked at Alyssa again: “I just want to say a few words to you.”

Alyssa was silent for a moment, then turned to Smith and said, “You wait for me here.”

Smith hesitated and stood still.

Alyssa has gone to the other side.

Chapter 862

Clifford took a look at Smith and followed Alyssa.

Alyssa walked to a corner with no people, followed by Clifford.

She stopped and looked back at Clifford: “Just say anything.”

Clifford asked in the first sentence: “Karl found you.”

He said declarative sentences, not interrogative sentences.

This shows that he is very sure that Karl has already approached Alyssa.

There was a moment of panic in Alyssa's heart, she suddenly raised her eyes to look at Clifford.

Clifford chuckled lightly with a gentle voice: "Don't be nervous, just chat casually."

Then he said again: "But he will never come to you again."

Alyssa squinted at Clifford, without making a sound.

Upon seeing this, Clifford felt better.

He put his hands in his trouser pockets, his smile deepened.

"Done?" Alyssa asked, raising her eyebrows.

Clifford looked back at Alyssa, with a subtle expression.

"I have something else to go back to. The company still has a lot of things waiting for me to deal with."

Alyssa said, and raised her wrist to check the time, looking impatient.

Clifford seemed to be finally unable to bear it anymore. He turned cold and said, "Alyssa, do you believe that I really have a way to make you and Karl unable to be together forever?"

While talking, he stared at Alyssa closely, as if he wanted to find the expression he wanted from Alyssa's face.

However, Alyssa just asked in a flat tone: "So what?"

Alyssa laughed, with a faint sarcasm in her smile: "Even if I can't be together in the future, but keeping the memories is enough for me to live a lifetime, you don't understand what love is!"

Clifford seemed to be irritated by Alyssa. He looked at her with a gloomy expression: "I knew that everything was acting with you and Karl."

It is indeed acting.

But Karl was only acting alone.

Alyssa has always been kept in the dark.

"Butâ€¦!" Clifford let out a long sigh of relief, and calmed down his emotions: "It doesn't matter, as long as you have a bad time, I will be happy."

Alyssa pursed the corners of her lips and said nothing.

Clifford is a pervert.

His purpose has always been clear, he just doesn't want Karl to get better.

As long as he can disturb everyone's peace, he seems very happy.

At this moment, Alyssa glanced up inadvertently and saw Isabel who was pushed over by Rachel in a wheelchair not far away.

Alyssa turned around and asked Clifford, "How is your sister?"

Alyssa noticed that Clifford's face changed slightly when he heard her mention his sister.

Clifford has always cared about his sister.

The girl named Muffi.

Everyone has weaknesses.

Some people's weaknesses are hidden in their hearts, and some people's weaknesses are exposed where others can see.

Clifford looked at the place where Isabel was, seemingly feeling.

After a long while, he said quietly: "Alyssa, you should thank Isabel, she saved my sister in your place."

Isabel's body was so weak that it could blow away in a gust of wind.

Sometimes sane, but most of the time he looks silly.

If this continues, Isabel won't live long.

Alyssa said coldly: "Your sister's fate is fate, isn't mine now Isabel's fate?"

Clifford smiled: "No, to me, your life is a bit more important than Isabel's. Besides, Isabel should have died. I helped you deal with her. Are you unhappy?"

Chapter 863

Isabel will end up today. To sum it up in one sentence, it can be said that the wicked have their own troubles.

However, Alyssa could not agree with Clifford's approach.

Her education and her moral views made her unable to agree with Clifford's approach.

"Do you want to find a sense of identity from me, so that you can feel more comfortable?" Alyssa looked at Clifford and sneered: "Your sister knows that her life is in exchange for someone else's life?"

Clifford's complexion suddenly became particularly gloomy: "Alyssa, it's no good for you to anger me now."

"I just told the truth, why are you angry?" Alyssa raised her head slightly, looking at the rain curtain outside.

Clifford let out a long sigh of relief, and looked at Alyssa with a faint smile: "You are smart, but sometimes smartness is useless."

When he finished speaking, he turned and left.

She looked at Clifford's leaving back, lost in thought.

“Mrs. Adams.”

As soon as Clifford left, Smith came over: “Are you okay?”

Alyssa shook her head, and immediately thought of something, walked to Smith, and said extremely quietly, “Has Karl contacted you?”

Smith shook his head with some doubts.

Alyssa hadn’t seen Karl in these two days.

When she didn’t see Clifford, she didn’t think there was anything in her heart.

However, when she saw Clifford, she suddenly began to worry about Karl.

Karl was always confident and deep-minded.

If he does not speak, it is really difficult for others to know what he is thinking.

Alyssa sighed.

Seeing Alyssa frowning, Smith couldn’t help frowning.

“Let’s go back first.” Alyssa said, and walked out.

Not a few steps away, she noticed that someone was looking at her behind her, so she looked back.

She saw Isabel.

Isabel had already paid the last visit to Douglas, and was pushed aside by Rachel.

Rachel was ordering something with the servant next to her, while Isabel was sitting in her wheelchair blankly, looking straight in Alyssa’s direction.

Alyssa and Isabel looked at each other for a few seconds, then looked back.

It wasn’t until she walked out of the funeral home’s gate that Isabel’s gaze was blocked outside the gate.

â€¦

The next night, when Alyssa drove away from Adams, Rachel suddenly came out and stopped Alyssa’s car.

Alyssa had long been bored with Rachel.

She just lowered the car window and looked at her blankly.

Rachel paled, and when she saw Alyssa, she called out: “Alyssa.”

The voice is very hoarse.

Alyssa just raised her eyebrows, but still didn’t say a word.

“Isabelâ€¦” Rachel’s voice was a little choked: “She left last night.”

Alyssa didn’t react for a while: “Gone?”

“Yes.” Rachel had already started to sob, tears streaming from her eyes.

Alyssa came here in vain, and Rachel was dead when she said “gone”.

When she went to the funeral yesterday, Isabel was fine.

Although she looked weak, it was not to such an extent.

“I’m so sad now, but don’t know who to look for, can you accompany me Alyssa?” Rachel was crying bitterly after speaking.

To say that Alyssa didn’t move at all, was fake.

But when she thought that Rachel was so sad because of Isabel, her heart fell cold again.

Isabel put her to death again and again, she couldn’t be so magnanimous.

Chapter 864

Alyssa looked at Rachel, and said indifferently, “I’m going home.”

“Alyssa?” Rachel stood outside the car window with tears. She stretched out her hand to hold the window edge: “Alyssa, don’t be so cruel.”

“Beep”

The car whistle sounded behind her, urging Alyssa to drive quickly.

Alyssa looked at Rachel expressionlessly: “Go home early to take care of Isabel’s funeral. Don’t come to me again. No matter how many times you call me, I won’t take care of you anymore.”

Rachel looked incredulous: “Do you have to be so cruel? I am your biological mother!”

“You’ve said this before, so change it to something new.” Alyssa looked at Rachel lightly, without sadness or joy on her face.

Rachel looked at Alyssa, so shocked that she stopped crying: “You?”

Alyssa was impatient and pulled her away from the car she was still holding the window: “Don’t look for me again.”

She raised the window and restarted the car.

Rachel did not give up on the car window, patted the car window “bang”.

It seems that she is still calling her name.

But Alyssa had already made up her mind to ignore her and drove away.

After moving the car, Alyssa could still see Rachel standing by the side of the road looking at her car in the mirror.

It’s just that the distance is a little far away, and Alyssa couldn’t see Rachel’s expression clearly.

She retracted her eyes and focused on driving.

But she unconsciously thought of what Rachel said just now.

Isabel is dead.

too suddenly.

Alyssa couldn't say what it was like to hear the news of Isabel's death.

It just felt too sudden.

She remembered that when she left the funeral home yesterday, Isabel had been watching her.

Isabel has been treated in the hospital for so long, but her body is getting worse and worse.

It's normal not to survive, but she didn't expect her to die so soon.

"Buzzing".

Alyssa's phone on the center console rang suddenly.

She glanced at it, it was a strange number.

She burst into her heart and pressed the answer button.

The voice on the phone was indeed Alyssa's familiar voice.

But it was not the person she imagined.

"Isabel is dead, are you satisfied?" Clifford's voice came from the phone, with a gloomy chill.

Alyssa said, "You killed Isabel?"

She was still wondering just now that when she saw Isabel yesterday, she was still fine, why she died suddenly.

Clifford said, "Don't you sound very happy?"

Without waiting for Alyssa to speak, he continued: "Alyssa, there is one thing you said wrong, I did not kill Isabel. She didn't want to live anymore, so she might as well die as alive. Forget it, I was helping her."

Clifford was like a neurosis.

Alyssa said coldly: "It is difficult for a psychologist to treat himself. You can go to another psychologist for treatment."

Clifford's tone became colder: "You said I was sick?"

Alyssa hung up directly.

Driving back to the parking lot of the community, Alyssa did not get off immediately, but logged into Twitter in the car.

Gerald used to have friendship with Karl, but Karl still saved Gerald's face and did not disclose the truth of his death.

Gerald's fans still don't know what Gerald did and how he died.

Isabel used to be Gerald's girlfriend, and the news of her death should still have a lot of attention.

Chapter 865

Alyssa looked around on Twitter, and did not see any topics or news related to Isabel's death.

It may also be because the Hunt family did not disclose the news of her death.

Colin is a face-loving person, and to a certain extent he is still a bit old-fashioned.

On the day of Douglas's funeral, Isabel died, and it was not very good for such things to spread.

The grandfathers died on the front foot, and the granddaughters followed him back foot.

If this kind of thing spreads out, it will naturally become other people's talk after dinner.

Colin, who loves face so much, naturally wouldn't let out the news of Isabel's death at this moment.

Alyssa put down the phone, remembering what Clifford had said on the phone before, and his face became dark.

Clifford is like a lunatic now.

Alyssa didn't know what else he had to do.

â€¦

The next day, she received a call from the lawyer.

Before Miana stabbed Alyssa in the restaurant, Alyssa did not give up, but chose to sue her.

The exposure was so severe at the time that even if Miana's father wanted to save her, he still had to heed public opinion.

After all, the incident of Miana stabbing Alyssa has been exposed.

And Miana's fatherhood is very sensitive.

The court day is Wednesday.

Alyssa took Smith to the court.

After spending so long in jail, Miana was very thin.

There is no way to see the former attraction, and the whole person looks very decadent.

Alyssa glanced at Miana in a distant way.

Miana looked at Alyssa with a dull expression on her face.

Probably already knew that waiting for him would be the disaster of prison, so Miana was already desperate.

Everything went well, and the first trial ended and Miana was sentenced to eight years.

Alyssa didn't particularly care about the sentence for Miana.

She only needs Miana to get the punishment she deserves.

Out of the court, she saw the cold car.

Tina had a very early announcement this morning, otherwise she would definitely come to the court to listen.

Alyssa walked over, and Tina lowered the car window.

Alyssa turned to Smith and said, "You drive back to the company, and I will go with Tina."

Smith nodded, then turned to drive.

Alyssa got into a cool car.

She opened the door of the back seat and sat in, and heard someone in front call her: "Alyssa."

She looked up and found that it was Peter.

"Peter?" Alyssa was a little surprised.

She just glanced outside the car just now, Tina was sitting in the back row, she thought it was Tina's assistant or manager driving.

Unexpectedly, Peter turned out to be driving.

â€¦

The group went to Best Day.

No matter when, Best Day has the most guests.

When Tina went to the bathroom in the middle, Alyssa asked Peter, "Is there any news about Karl?"

Peter was taken aback when he heard the words, and then shook his head: "No."

Alyssa pursed her lips slightly, stirred the soup in the bowl, and took a sip with her head down.

The feeling of not knowing the taste.

Karl disappeared again, as if disappeared out of thin air.

Peter looked at Alyssa thoughtfully, and stopped talking.

Soon, Tina came back.

When Tina came back, she held the phone in her hand.

Before putting down her mobile phone, she leaned over to Alyssa and said, "Have you heard about Isabel?"

Alyssa guessed that the death of Isabel was known to the media and was on trending searches.

Alyssa nodded, and said, "Douglas's funeral night, she left, and Rachel called me the next day."

Chapter 866

Tina listened to Alyssa's words, and was stunned: "So you already knew it?"

Alyssa asked her: "Is it on the trending search?"

"Yes." Tina handed the phone to Alyssa, motioning her to look.

Alyssa thought well before. Gerald had a huge number of fans, and it is only a few years after his death.

As his girlfriend at the time of death, Isabel did bring many topics and labels on her body.

There are three hot topics related to Isabel.

The first hot topic was Isabel's name: "Isabel."

The second is: "Isabel passed away."

The third is: "Sorrowful couple."

The third topic is the most popular, because the third topic is related to Gerald and also initiated by Gerald's fans.

Seeing that Alyssa had turned to the third topic, Tina reached out and clicked in: "Let me show you this long Tweet, I just laughed."

The user of the long Tweet that Tina showed her didn't know whether it was a passerby or a fan.

"I think we have all misunderstood Isabel. She truly loved Gerald. Since Gerald's death, she disappeared from direct sales, and then the news of her death. You know, she was entertaining. The reputation in the circle has always been bad."

There is a long string after that.

It is probably analyzing the relationship between Gerald and Isabel.

Tina sighed: "Our netizens always have a lot of imagination. The truth of the story is not so touching."

Alyssa put the phone aside: "No, Isabel really loved Gerald."

"Huh?" Tina was startled.

Alyssa smiled, and said to Tina earnestly: "Isabel really loved Gerald."

Tina shrugged and said no more.

Alyssa lowered her eyes, her gaze fell on the water glass in front of her.

Before Gerald's death, Isabel's hatred for Alyssa was entirely due to her jealousy of Alyssa.

After Gerald's death, Isabel blamed Alyssa and Karl for his death.

Although Isabel's thoughts were unreasonable, Alyssa can understand her love for Gerald.

She really loved Gerald.

She really loved Gerald.

Alyssa never thought of forgiving Isabel, and if Isabel were alive, she would never feel that she was at fault.

But now Isabel is no longer there, and Alyssa chooses to let it go.

Let go of the grievances with Isabel.

When a person dies, the past disappears with the wind.

Regarding Isabel's matter, Alyssa was still a little bit sigh.

However, Alyssa did not expect that the impact of Isabel's death would not end there.

That night, as soon as Alyssa got home from work, she received a call from Smith.

"Mrs. Adams, someone on the Internet broke the news that before Gerald's death, you and Sir were with him, saying that you killed him, do you want to suppress it?"

After listening to Smith's words, Alyssa was stunned for a while before realizing what Smith said.

After an explosion on the island that year, she and Karl were both seriously injured.

Gerald himself died in the explosion.

Claire also handled all subsequent matters.

Although Claire was targeting Alyssa at that time, she was born in the Adams' family and grew up in the family. She was also very skilled in handling matters.

At that time, this matter was completely blocked by Claire, and Isabel would know the cause of Gerald's death, and it was also because Clifford had troubled him.

This time Isabel died, and this matter was mentioned again. You don't even have to guess who was the one who secretly played the ghost.

Chapter 867

When Smith on the other side of the phone did not hear Alyssa's reply, he asked again: "Mrs. Adams?"

Alyssa paused and said, "No hurry, I will check it online first."

"OK." Smith didn't say more.

Alyssa went online and took a look.

Sure enough, several authoritative media copied this news.

Three or four years have passed since the incident of Gerald.

Sometimes Alyssa would forget that Gerald still exists.

The relationship between Gerald and Karl's "cousin" has never been publicly announced.

Outsiders don't know this.

The fact that Karl was once the boss behind AdamPic Media has not been known to the outside world.

Therefore, no one thought of Karl's body after Gerald's death.

Very few people know these things.

Peter and Smith were even more unlikely to expose this matter.

Only Clifford would spare no effort to target Karl,

As long as there is something that can make Karl suffer, whether it is economic or reputation, Clifford will not let go.

The person who spread Karl's various "scandals" on the Internet last time was Clifford, and he must be the leader of this incident.

This reminded Alyssa of Gerald.

She gradually felt that Clifford and Gerald had similarities.

These two people are very similar.

After Gerald knew his life experience, he became distorted and paranoid, and finally wanted to die with Karl.

And how different is Clifford's various behaviors from Gerald?

They are also jealous of Karl.

What makes Clifford a little better than Gerald is that he has greater power and financial resources.

"Mom, eat!"

Grace's voice sounded from the side, she didn't know when she ran over.

Alyssa thought about things too seriously just now and didn't even notice her coming.

Alyssa put the phone aside and reached out to hold Grace in her arms.

It seems to sink a bit again.

Grace didn't go out much at home during the summer vacation, but she was taken care of by Aunt Stephanie very well, and she sank again.

Alyssa squeezed her fleshy cheek, and said softly, "Okay, I'll go to eat right away."

She hugged Grace over to eat.

Aunt Stephanie saw that Alyssa had come, and started to serve food.

After serving the meal, Aunt Stephanie looked like she wanted to talk

Alyssa asked her aloud, "What's the matter with Aunt Stephanie?"

"It's a€" Aunt Stephanie seemed a little embarrassed to say.

"It's okay, just say what you have." Alyssa put down her chopsticks and looked at Aunt Stephanie seriously.

"My daughter-in-law, she is pregnant with a second child. She is not in good health, and my son is also very worried. I just want to a€"

Aunt Stephanie looked embarrassed and didn't go on.

Alyssa naturally understood what she meant.

Aunt Stephanie wants to go home to take care of her daughter-in-law.

Alyssa smiled and said, "I see, I will pay you all this month's salary later."

"Miss Alyssa, I a€" Aunt Stephanie looked a little ashamed.

She also knew that this incident was too sudden, and she saw Alyssa's situation in her eyes.

If she leaves now, it may not be so easy to find a trusted person to take care of Grace.

Alyssa did not continue this topic with her: "Let's eat first."

Grace listened to the two adults talking, looked at Aunt Stephanie and Alyssa, bowing her head and picking up rice.

When Aunt Stephanie went to the kitchen to clean up the dishes and chopsticks after the meal, Grace asked Alyssa in a low voice, "Is Granny going away?"

Chapter 868

Alyssa touched Grace's head and said, "Well, she has very important things at home, so she has to go back."

Grace nodded as if understanding.

a€"

Aunt Stephanie wants to go home to take care of her daughter-in-law. Although Alyssa simply agreed, it was indeed a bit troublesome.

Aunt was looking after her all time, she was a nice and trustworthy person.

It would be a little difficult to find another person like Aunt Stephanie in a short time.

And she goes to the company every day.

As soon as Aunt Stephanie left, Alyssa would either take all the work home or take Grace to the company.

Obviously, the latter is better implemented.

Alyssa could not handle Adams' official duties independently.

In the end, she decided to take Grace to the company.

Fortunately, there is a dedicated elevator in the parking lot that goes directly to the CEO's office, and the first floor of the CEO's office is rarely visited.

In this way, even if Grace followed Alyssa to the company every day, it would be fine.

Early the next morning, Aunt Stephanie left Alyssa's house.

Smith drove to pick up Alyssa.

As soon as Grace saw Smith, she yelled sweetly, "Uncle Smith."

Smith replied, and said softly, "Good morning Grace."

Smith realized that Alyssa was going to the company with Grace, and he was a little surprised: "Where is Aunt Stephanie?"

"She wanted to go home to take care of her daughter-in-law, so I let her go back." Alyssa said as she carried Grace into the car.

Smith frowned slightly after hearing this: "Then I will find someone for you?"

Alyssa shook her head and refused: "I can't find one for a while, so let's not look for one for now. It won't be long before Grace will start school."

She changed her conversation: "Furthermore, let Grace stay by my side, and I will feel more at ease."

Smith heard this and said nothing more.

After getting in the car and drove to the company, Alyssa noticed that Smith looked back in the rearview mirror several times, as if he was hesitant to talk.

Alyssa knew vaguely that he wanted to talk about the news online.

She said: "I have seen it online."

Smith was startled and asked: "Then what do you want to do?"

Smith's meaning is very clear, Alyssa can do what she wants to do.

As expected, he was someone who had been with Karl for many years, and his ability to do things was amazing.

Alyssa used to think that Smith was just a more thoughtful assistant. After taking over Adams' affairs during this period, she realized that Smith was almost omnipotent.

Alyssa turned her head and looked out the window, and said, "I will think about it."

Clifford made up his mind to ruin Karl's reputation. This may be just the beginning.

She had to find a way to know what Clifford had to do next.

Clifford knew everything about Adams' family.

Alyssa even suspected that Clifford would shake out all the Adams' family affairs.

Then, it's not just Karl that will be affected.

There is also Luther.

Karl and Luther had a deep relationship. He didn't tell Luther about Lina.

In order to protect Luther, he directly sent him to the military academy, and she did not see him several times a year.

At that time, if Lina and Trevor were involved, the person who suffered the most would be Luther.

The matter between Lina and Trevor has affected too many people.

In that incident, the person who suffered the most was Luther.

Luther didn't know the truth, but for him, he lost his elder brother Gerald, his biological father, and his mother went to a mental hospital.

Chapter 869

As soon as Alyssa brought Grace to the office, she received a call from Peter.

"Alyssa, I temporarily suppressed the news on the Internet."

Alyssa was taken aback: "You?"

Peter didn't wait for her to speak, and then said, "Karl contacted me and he let me press it down."

Alyssa glanced at Grace, turned around and walked to the window, lowered her voice and asked Peter, "Did Karl contact you?"

"Well, he contacted me last night." Peter paused, and said, "He also said that he would give you peace of mind."

"I feel very at ease." Alyssa's tone sounded with a hint of anger.

When Karl said that he appeared, he would appear, and he would disappear when he said that he disappeared. Without any news, he did not contact her, so she was relieved?

How can she feel relieved?

In a dream?

Peter also knew that Alyssa's anger was because of Karl.

He still speaks for Karl: "You don't know what kind of person Karl is. Why are you angry with him? No need."

Peter and Karl were both men, and they had a deep friendship. Of course, he was speaking for Karl.

Alyssa turned off the topic: "Thank you in advance for the news, but the people behind the ghosts will not just let it go, there must be a later move."

“Then I know.” After Peter finished speaking, he said with some puzzlement: “Actually, I have never understood. No matter how good Clifford is, if Karl has to deal with him, there is always a way? Why should he step back?”

Alyssa only said three simple words: “Because of me.”

Peter said: “It doesn’t matter, right? No matter how frustrated Clifford is, Karl should still be able to protect you.”

“The thing Clifford has always wanted to deal with is Karl. If he can’t find a sense of accomplishment from Karl, he will turn his spear on me. As long as Karl gives way to Clifford, Clifford will feel it. The pleasure of achieving the goal will not be shot at me.”

Speaking of this, Alyssa couldn’t help but sighed slightly: “Karl—he doesn’t want to put Grace and me in danger. He has to bear even the slightest risk.”

Peter was silent for a long time, and said in a daunting tone: “So, Karl is quite persuasive. When he comes back, I have to laugh at him!”

“Mom, I want to drink water.”

Grace’s voice interrupted Peter’s voice.

Peter looked at the time and guessed that Alyssa had already gone to the company, and asked, “Did you take Grace to the company?”

“Well, the aunt at home has resigned, I can only bring her to the company.”

Peter said eagerly: “Let me talk to her, I haven’t seen her for a long time!”

Alyssa asked Grace: “Would you like to call Uncle Grant?”

Grace nodded, and reached out to her, indicating that she wanted to take the phone.

Alyssa handed the phone to Grace, turned around to help her pour water.

When she came back, Grace was still chatting with Peter on the phone.

She fed Grace a few sips of water, and after she let Grace sit on the sofa, she went behind the desk to deal with documents.

She looked at it and thought of Peter’s question just now.

In Peter’s view, everything or many of Karl’s actions.

But Alyssa knew very clearly what Karl really thought.

With Gerald’s lessons learned, he would give way to Clifford to avoid Alyssa and Grace being implicated.

If Karl hadn’t had any worries, he wouldn’t always give in.

Chapter 870

If Karl had no worries for the future, and had a head-on confrontation with Clifford, after Clifford had nothing to threaten Karl, Clifford could not be so rampant.

Alyssa was naturally shocked and angry at Karl's decision to do these things without authorization.

But what about being angry.

Karl has always been such a person.

Moreover, his intentions, Alyssa knew better than anyone.

Even though she was angry, she was still worried about him.

Alyssa could understand Karl's intentions, but could not agree with his approach.

After everything is over, she will fix him well.

When Alyssa thought of this, she sighed and bowed her head and began to process the documents.

After Grace answered the call, she took the phone and handed it to Alyssa: "Mom, your phone."

Alyssa took the phone and touched Grace's head: "Play by yourself."

"Yeah." Grace responded and ran away.

Alyssa looked at Grace's back, smiled, lowered her head and started to deal with work.

â€¦

When leaving the workplace at noon, Alyssa received a call from Rachel.

It was an unfamiliar number, Alyssa didn't know that Rachel was calling.

She was afraid that it was the call from Karl, and worried that if she didn't answer the call, she would miss it, so she answered the call.

Rachel's voice was abnormally calm: "Alyssa, I have something to tell you."

"I'm done listening to everything you should say." Alyssa was about to hang up after speaking.

Rachel seemed to have guessed that Alyssa was going to hang up. Before her ending, she heard Rachel's voice ringing: "Don't hang up in a hurry, you will regret it!"

There was a rare coldness in Rachel's voice.

Rachel has always been cautious at Hunt's house.

She is not tough by nature, has a weak personality, has no right to speak in Hunt's family, and has always been cautious in her words and actions.

Only in front of Alyssa can she have a tough and domineering side.

But because she feels that Alyssa is her daughter, she should be obliged to do so.

Alyssa sneered: "The thing I regret most is that I became your daughter."

“Youâ€¦!” Rachel exclaimed with anger: “Do you think I want to have a vicious and conscientious daughter like yours? You even killed Isabel, are you not enough?”

“When did I kill Isabel? Go to the doctor when you get confused and don’t come to me every time, and don’t call me in the future.”

Alyssa hung up after speaking.

She squeezed her eyebrows.

After pacing in place for a while, in the end, she could only blacklist the phone number that Rachel had called from.

She calmed down for a while, then turned to see Grace in the lounge.

Grace fell asleep after playing.

She glanced at the door, Grace was sleeping soundly.

Alyssa closed the door gently, and when she came out, there was a knock on the door.

Alyssa said to the door: “Come in.”

Pushing the door Smith came in with packed meals in his hands.

“I ordered food for you in Best Day.” Because Grace is here, he specially ordered food from Best Day.

Smith went in and looked around and found that Grace was not there, so he asked, “Did Grace go to bed?”

“Yeah.” Alyssa nodded, “Just put the meal down.”

Smith put it down and was about to go out, Alyssa called him: “Mr. Smith.”

Smith turned around: “Is there anything else?”

Alyssa smiled: “Thank you.”

She noticed the Best Day logo on the lunch box.
