Chapter 891

Karl's actions are intimate and attached.

Alyssa inevitably moved.

She gradually relaxed, leaning against his body, quietly speaking.

After a while, she asked him, "Where have you lived recently?"

Alyssa originally thought that Karl would pass vaguely, but he explained quietly, "At home."

After speaking, he added: "I'm usually very busy, but as long as I have time, I will go home."

Alyssa looked down at him, the doubts in her eyes were obvious.

Karl raised the corners of his lips slightly, raised her chin and picked her lips.

Alyssa hid back subconsciously, but he was holding the back of her head and couldn't hide.

Avoidance is completely subconscious.

She and Karl had been separated for a long time. Although they met intermittently in the middle, the gap between the two was already deep.

There are indeed feelings between them, but the problem that should be solved has not been solved, and Alyssa can't do intimate things with him like the one before.

And her avoidance seemed to anger Karl.

Karl's expression paused slightly, his pitch-black eyes fixedly stared at her for two seconds, and then he leaned forward again.

Alyssa knew what he was going to do, and turned her head as expected, but was pressed against the sand by Karl with her waist and backhand.

The positions of the two changed.

Alyssa was unable to play with his waist and both hands.

She looked at Karl angrily: "Let go!"

Karl had a successful smile in his eyes, looking like a kid who had succeeded in a prank.

"I don't let it go." Karl seemed to be very happy, smiling at the corners of his eyes.

He was very satisfied with Alyssa's inability to move at this time and only allowed himself to do whatever he wanted.

However, he couldn't mess around.

Alyssa would be unhappy.

“Orâ€¦!” Karl deliberately prolonged the tone, watching Alyssa’s reaction.

Seeing her finally looking at him, he smiled and said, “You g!ve me a k!ss and I will let go.”

Death does not change the facts!

Alyssa snorted: “Shameless!”

Karl was not angry, and allowed her to scold him, and reminded her very kindly: “It won’t be long before Tina will return with Grace.”

Alyssa was not sure if what Karl said was true.

She didn’t expect Karl to be here when she came, and Karl and Tina said something to make Tina cooperate with him, and Alyssa didn’t even know.

The matter was that he and Tina had discussed in advance, Alyssa had no idea when Tina would be back.

“Do you think I’m scared?” Alyssa bet that Karl didn’t just scare her, so she wouldn’t jump into the pit he dug.

Karl raised his eyes, the emotions in his black eyes difficult to distinguish.

Suddenly, he let go of her hand, and his tone sounded very regretful: “Not as good as before.”

As soon as Alyssa was free, she lifted her foot and kicked his calf.

Karl didn’t feel the pain either.

He sat down beside her, put his long arms on the sofa, and ran across to take her shoulders.

Alyssa took his arm away blankly.

After Karl’s arm was removed, he put it back again.

In this way, the two repeated this action tirelessly.

Finally, Alyssa couldn’t help it: “Karl, you are all bored!”

“Not boring.” Karl’s tone was extremely serious.

He was not perfunctory, but he was really not bored. On the contrary, he felt a little funny.

Chapter 892

What Alyssa didn’t know was that in the eyes of this man, doing anything with her was not boring.

It may be that Alyssa didn’t want to talk to him anymore. He turned his head to look at Alyssa’s face and said seriously: “I have a plan to acquire Hunt’s that is the most cost-effective and time-saving, do you want it?”

Alyssa was slightly shocked, and Karl knew that she was acquiring the Hunt’s.

This shows that even though Karl did not appear in front of her, he was always paying attention to her.

“Aren’t you busy? Where do you know so many things?” Alyssa asked back.

Karl leaned back and said, “I will always find out what I want to know.”

Alyssa just raised her eyebrows and said nothing.

She also tried to check where Karl lived and how to find him.

As a result, she later discovered that it was impossible for her to find Karl.

She didn’t know where he was, but he knew everything about her.

There is always a feeling of being controlled by Karl at all times.

“Aren’t you moved?” Karl’s tone was very serious.

He thought that Alyssa would be moved by what he said.

Alyssa said with a smile without any meaning: “Moved.”

Karl stretched out his hand and squeezed her face: “Telling lies.”

Alyssa patted his hand and looked at him coldly.

But she was thinking, let Karl be proud for a while.

When Clifford’s matter is resolved, when everything is over, she will slowly settle accounts with Karl.

She remembered every bill between her and Karl clearly.

Nothing will be missed.

Karl was already a little accustomed to Alyssa always being cold-faced at him.

He could understand Alyssa’s mood, but he didn’t think he was doing something wrong.

No matter when, Karl knew exactly what he should do.

When you start to do something, you have an assessment of the impact and risks of the event.

Alyssa said indifferently: “Since I know I will tell lies, why ask?”

Karl was choked by Alyssa’s words.

That’s right, he knew that Alyssa was still angry with him.

Karl smiled relieved, and reached out to touch Alyssa’s head: “Observe, go home, I will be back soon.”

Alyssa glanced at him disgustingly, without comment.

Karl raised his eyebrows, his expression looked a little unpleasant.

He stared at her, with emotions in her eyes, and a hint of helplessness in his cool voice: “You!”

Alyssa felt a little embarrassed inexplicably.

His tone was like she did something that made him helpless and unable to get angry.

He is obviously the one who overdo things.

“You said before that Tina and the others are coming back, why haven’t I seen anyone yet?” Alyssa moved aside, changing the subject and asked.

Karl seemed to listen attentively, and said, “Here.”

Sure enough, within two minutes, there was a knock on the door outside.

Alyssa and Karl looked at each other.

Seeing Alyssa staring at himself, Karl asked, “What?”

Alyssa said, “Tina doesn’t need to knock on the door when she comes in.”

She meant that Tina would not knock when she came in, so the person knocking outside at the moment was not Tina.

As a missing person, Karl should hide for a while.

Karl gave a chuckle, with a very clear joy in his tone: “Peter, come in!”

The next moment, the door of the room was pushed open from the outside, and the person who came in was really Peter.

“You didn’t do anything?” Peter’s gaze swept back and forth over the two of them, his expression was expressive.

Chapter 893

After listening to Peter’s words, Alyssa’s expression changed and she said nothing.

Peter touched his nose and walked to Karl with a smile and sat down: “You haven’t seen her for a long time, so don’t make any friends.”

Karl glanced at Peter.

Peter closed his mouth angrily.

Then he looked at Alyssa with a smile on his face: “Alyssa, have you had dinner, do you want me to order you something to eat?”

“I’ve eaten it.” Alyssa knew that Peter’s words were not malicious, just teased, and didn’t care.

“You came here after eating? I thought you were going to come over for dinner.” Peter didn’t know that Alyssa saw that Rachel and Travis had lost time.

While talking, Tina returned with Grace.

Grace sat next to Tina opposite Karl and Alyssa.

After Grace sat down, she kept staring at Karl.

The big and the small looked at each other for a while, and Karl said, “Come here.”

Grace pursed the corner of her lips and walked towards Karl.

As soon as she walked to him, he stretched out his hands to hug her, and she also stretched out her hands very consciously.

Grace clingingly nestled in Karl's arms without speaking.

The atmosphere in the box is unprecedented harmonious.

It's been a long time since they got together like this.

No one talked about the annoying things, Peter has always been active, talking about some celebrity gossip, and the relationship history of some sons.

After ten o'clock, Grace started yawning.

When she was sleepy, she started looking for Alyssa.

"Mom hug."

Alyssa took her from Karl's arms and asked softly, "Are you sleepy?"

Grace nodded obediently.

Karl on the side said, "Go home."

Karl said that he would go home, and naturally it was time to leave.

When Grace heard Karl say going home, she opened her eyes and looked at Karl, her eyes cleared a lot.

Karl touched her little head: "You and mother go back first."

Grace didn't look very happy, but nodded obediently, "OK."

â€¦

Alyssa and Tina took Grace out of the golden tripod together.

Back home, Grace was already too sleepy.

Alyssa bathed her and let her sleep first.

When Grace was put to sleep, Alyssa checked the time, it was almost early morning.

Alyssa took a bath herself.

When she came out of the bathroom, she could vaguely hear movement in the living room.

Alyssa hesitated, opened the bedroom door and went out, and saw Karl squatting in front of the TV cabinet, studying the small ornaments on it.

Alyssa breathed a sigh of relief.

Hearing the movement, Karl turned his head to look at her, his eyes dimmed: "Hair dry."

Although Alyssa's pajamas are very conservative two-pieces, they are light and thin in the end, and it is easy to see the slim figure and silhouette inside.

In addition, her hair is still wet, and the whole person is as fresh and tender as if it had just been fished out of the water.

In Karl's eyes, it was delicious.

But he also knew that Alyssa could not mess with him at this time.

Those things can only be thought of.

"Are you a thief? You always sneak in, in the middle of the night." Alyssa didn't take his words to heart, walked to the sofa and sat down.

Karl got up and walked over.

He stretched out his hand to lift her long wet hair, tilted his head to her ear, and said in a soft tone: "Shall I blow your hair for you?"

Alyssa froze and slapped his hands away: "I'm not without hands, I don't need you to help me."

Chapter 894

Karl chuckled lightly: "Now your temper is much bigger than before."

Alyssa gave him a cold look.

The smile in Karl's eyes remained unabated.

The next second, he suddenly leaned over and hugged her whole body.

He held her and walked straight to the bedroom.

"Karl!" Alyssa was startled by him, struggling to get down.

Karl's long arms trapped her firmly, allowing her to struggle without letting go.

He calmly said: "Be quiet, it will awake Grace."

Alyssa was quiet for a moment.

Karl took advantage of this opportunity to take her into the bedroom.

When he entered, he closed the door with his backhand and put her on the sofa.

Alyssa, who was put on the sofa, breathed a sigh of relief.

Fortunately it's not a bed!

Alyssa, who realized what she was thinking, turned a little red.

What is she thinking!

Fortunately, Karl had already gone to the bathroom to get a hairdryer.

When she was struggling, Karl had already come out with a hairdryer to blow her hair.

This man is always so domineering.

Alyssa was a little bit aggrieved, so she didn't cooperate and kept moving.

Karl still tolerated her at first.

When he got to the back, Karl turned off the hairdryer in his hand and said coldly, "Don't move."

The two short words contain majesty and irresistibility.

Although Alyssa didn't want to let herself obediently listen to him like this, she was already used to obeying Karl in her bones.

In other words, Karl's deterrent is too strong, and listening to his words is also an instinct.

Realizing that the woman in front of him looked something wrong, Karl realized that his tone was too cold, and softened his tone: "Blow dry your hair early and go to bed."

Alyssa looked up at Karl in surprise.

Karl's palm was placed on her head, and he pressed it gently: "Head down."

Alyssa lowered her head, feeling the man's broad palms gently grasping her hair, and patiently drying every strand of hair.

She sighed in her heart.

After a while, Karl dried her hair.

"You can sleep."

Karl said as he put the hairdryer in.

Alyssa walked to the bed in three steps and two steps.

Karl took the hairdryer into the bathroom.

Alyssa just waited for him to replace the hairdryer and come out.

However, he went in and did not come out, and turned on the shower in the bathroom.

Listening to the sound of water coming from the bathroom, Alyssa looked at the bathroom in disbelief.

Karl was actually taking a shower.

Really!;

She felt that it would be impossible in her life to meet someone with a stronger mentality and a thicker skin than Karl.

She clearly hadn't forgiven him, but he entered the room as if nothing had happened.

He completely regarded her home as his own.

As if nothing happened before.

Alyssa had already begun to feel soft, but after thinking of this, the more she wanted to get angry.

The more she thought about it, the more she felt that she couldn't forgive Karl easily.

She was so absorbed that she didn't even notice Karl came out.

It wasn't until he walked by the bed that Alyssa felt a familiar breath.

She raised her eyes and saw Karl standing by the bed.

He was wrapped in a bath towel.

Wrapped in a bath towel is nothing.

But this one belongs to her.

Can't hide anything at all.

Karl saw Alyssa's gaze falling on the towel wrapped around him, and he gave a serious explanation: "You don't have a men's bath towel here."

Chapter 895

Alyssa twitched the corner of her mouth and stared at him blankly.

Karl asked her after a pause, "Aren't you sleepy?"

The tone was natural as if the two had been living together.

Alyssa knew that it was useless to say more.

Karl's character is such that he would basically follow Alyssa if he could give in.

But it is impossible for him to enter the room so casually.

What he has to do is not something others can change her mind with a few words.

Seeing Alyssa's expression that was too lazy to take care of him, Karl was not discouraged.

He sat on the bed naturally, her eyes fixedly staring at him.

Alyssa was defeated in the confrontation and said angrily, "Can you not run to my house like you follow your own house every time?"

Karl raised his eyebrows: "Is there a difference between yours and mine?"

Alyssa sneered: "Back then, you drove me out of your villa."

Karl didn't like to hear Alyssa mention these things.

He frowned slightly, and then stretched out again: "If you don't want to sleep, I don't mind doing more meaningful things with you."

She threw a pillow at him: "Make a face!"

Karl curled his lips and showed a smile, and reached out to catch the pillow.

Alyssa got into the bed and turned her back to ignore him.

Karl turned off the light and lay on the bed.

Alyssa moved her body and adjusted a comfortable posture.

Although she was not forgiving, Alyssa had to admit that Karl was lying next to her in bed, and she felt particularly at ease in her heart.

“You will move to home tomorrow, with bodyguards and servants at home, it’s safer.”

Karl’s voice suddenly sounded.

Alyssa opened her eyes in the dark, but made no sound.

She pretended that she was asleep.

Karl naturally knew that she was still awake.

He said two more words: “got it?”

The tone sounded a little helpless.

Alyssa hesitated for a moment, and asked Karl, “How are you going to deal with Clifford?”

Without waiting for Karl to speak, Alyssa said again: “Clifford has a younger sister named Muffi. He cares about this sister very much.”

Alyssa didn’t want to be like this.

She also wants to be a kind person.

No matter what you encounter, you must keep your original intention.

However, what Clifford instigated Rachel to do this time made her feel uneasy.

If being a thoroughly good person is putting her daughter in danger, then she is willing to give up the principal.

Based on Alyssa’s understanding of Clifford, his most obvious weakness is Muffi.

Muffi hadn’t woken up for so many years, and Clifford didn’t give up on her.

He even tried to save Muffi and set up a round to win Alyssa’s trust, and wanted to use Alyssa’s organs to rescue Muffi.

Finally, he found her half-sister, Isabel.

When Isabel was found, she had been tortured into a human form by Clifford.

She didn’t know if Muffi was awake.

“Do you have any misunderstandings about your man? Do I need to use the same methods as Clifford to solve the immediate trouble?”

Karl’s voice was getting closer.

Close to the ear.

Alyssa tilted her head and rubbed Karl’s lips with her ear.

“What are you doing so close?” Alyssa said coldly.

Karl seemed to chuck lightly, then stepped back: “You are still very worried about me.”

Chapter 896

Karl was referring to Alyssa’s reminding him that Clifford has a younger sister.

Alyssa was indeed afraid that it would be more troublesome for Karl to deal with Clifford, so she told him about Muffi.

But listening to Karl’s tone, she was still very confident.

On the other hand, how could Karl not know that Clifford has a younger sister.

Alyssa felt a little bored as she thought about it, and said angrily, “Shut up, go out without sleeping.”

Karl really didn’t speak anymore.

â€¦

The next day.

When Alyssa woke up, her first reaction was to look at her position.

The side was empty, and there was no Karl.

He does this every time.

He sneaked in at night like a thief, and when she woke up, he had already left.

Alyssa came out after washing and went to the next door to take a look at Grace.

She opened the door and looked inside.

Grace was sleeping in a very comfortable position with her arms resting beside her head.

It looks like she should sleep for a while.

Alyssa closed the door lightly, ready to go to the kitchen for breakfast.

However, as soon as she was halfway there, the doorbell rang.

Who will it be so early?

Is it Tina?

Alyssa looked out from the cat's eyes.

Standing outside the door is a familiar face.

Alyssa opened the door and looked at the visitor with some surprise: "Dave?"

Although Dave had already washed his hands in a golden basin, he was still very valuable.

At that time, Dave said that he could be her bodyguard, and the price Alyssa could afford was actually very low for Dave.

It was later confirmed that Dave was her bodyguard because he was entrusted by Karl.

After learning about this, Dave didn't know what to do, and he didn't show up for a long time.

Alyssa did not contact him specifically.

"Miss Alyssa." Dave still looked indifferent, with firm eyebrows and a black dress.

"Youâ€¦!" Alyssa had some guesses in her heart, but she was not sure.

"Karl said you want to move back, I will help you move things." When Dave talked about Karl, he seemed to grit his teeth.

Maybe Karl threatened him with something again, so Dave would listen to Karl's words like this.

Otherwise, when he talked about Karl, he wouldn't show the appearance of gritting his teeth and wishing to bite Karl.

"Actually, there is nothing to move." After Alyssa finished speaking, she paused and stepped aside: "You can come in first."

Alyssa turned around and walked into the house: "Sit down."

Dave sat down on the sofa.

Alyssa poured him a glass of water.

"mom."

Grace's small voice sounded.

Dave looked over at the sound, and he happened to see Grace standing by the door.

Grace was still wearing a small floral pajamas, her hair was a bit messy, and she looked dumbfounded when she just woke up.

She looks soft and cute.

Dave smiled unconsciously.

Grace hadn't seen Dave for a while. She stared at him, and then smiled and said, "Uncle Dave?"

The reaction was a little slow when she woke up, she called and looked at Dave with her head, as if she was not sure.

Dave nodded at her, his tone softened unconsciously, "Good morning."

Alyssa originally thought that Grace would be unfamiliar after not seeing Dave for a long time, but she didn't expect that she would remember him.

She felt that sometimes she might underestimate Grace too much.

Four years old is already an older child.

At least she was more sensible than she thought.

Chapter 897

Alyssa walked to Grace, squatted down to meet her sight, smoothed her hair, and said softly, "Go change clothes first."

"Yeah." Grace scratched her head.

Alyssa pushed Grace back into the room, and turned back to look at Dave.

Without waiting for her to speak, Dave said: "You are busy first."

â€¦

Alyssa packed Grace out, and Dave still sat on the sofa.

However, Dave is looking at his mobile phone.

Hearing the movement behind him, he looked back at Alyssa's mother and daughter.

"Uncle Dave." Grace had already thrown out her hand and ran towards Dave.

As soon as she ran over, she climbed onto the sofa next to Dave.

Dave moved aside, gave way to Grace, and slightly stretched out his arm to let her hold it.

Alyssa originally wanted to make breakfast first, but now Grace has gotten up, so she decided to go out for breakfast when she didn't have time to make one.

â€¦

After eating breakfast outside, Alyssa took Grace back to Karl's villa.

Alyssa and Grace had both lived there before, so there was no need to buy anything else.

Moreover, the layout of the room was the same as Alyssa had lived in before.

Even the servants and bodyguards are still the same people.

Alyssa stood in the hall, feeling like a world away.

Grace has lived here for a long time and is familiar with it. As soon as he comes in, he will look around here and there, and play by himself.

Dave helped them move something and drove them over.

As soon as the car stopped, there were bodyguards to move things, and Dave didn't know where to go right now.

Alyssa sat down on the sofa and sent a message to Tina, "I moved back to Karl's."

"Really! Did you forgive him?"

Alyssa thought for a while, and replied: "No, I just think that the current situation will be better if I move back."

Although the community where she and Tina live is highly confidential, it is just a community, and there are many people living in it.

If Clifford wanted to do something and wanted to get in, it would be very easy.

Karl's consideration was correct, Alyssa could not expose Grace to possible danger.

She wants to make Grace safer.

After the chat with Tina, Alyssa called Smith again and said about not going to the company today.

"Thanks." Unlike Karl, she can arrange everything properly even if she doesn't go to the company temporarily. Once she doesn't go to the company, all the affairs in the company will be arranged by him.

Smith still replied as always: "It should be."

â€¦

Peter was very happy to know that Alyssa moved back to Karl's villa.

After calling Alyssa to ask about the situation, he said, "This is a good thing! Shall we get together tonight?"

"Do you want to get together with me, or do you want to get together with Tina?" Alyssa exposed him mercilessly.

Peter coughed slightly to hide his embarrassment: "I just want to get together with you all."

Yesterday in Best Day, although Tina and Peter were both there.

But they didn't speak much.

In the past, Tina had also ignored Peter, but Peter is still cheeky and approached Tina.

During this period of time, Tina's attitude remained unchanged, but Peter uncharacteristically did not join Tina's side.

Maybe it's just a lot of trouble.

"Okay, just tonight. I ask Tina if she is free tonight."

When she fell silent, she heard Peter say: "She will be able to finish work this afternoon in today's announcement."

Chapter 898

Alyssa teased him: "I didn't want to get together with Tina, because you knew her schedule clearly."

Peter defended himself: "As the boss of AdamPic Media, is it a problem to pay more attention to the artists that the company focuses on training?"

"No problem." Alyssa was very cooperative.

"â€¦"

Peter choked and said, "See you tonight."

Then he hung up the phone in a hurry.

â€¦

Peter said that he was going to get together, and Alyssa also fell in line.

In the afternoon, the servants were asked to buy a lot of dishes and things for the party.

In the evening, she began to prepare dinner.

Snacks and various stir-fries, stews, wineâ€¦

Everything is complete, and she is very prepared.

Because there are not many people, she only needs to prepare a little less.

Peter and Tina arrived one after another.

Tina looked at the dishes on a large table, and exclaimed: "Alyssa, you are too good, or else, don't you and Karl get back together. The two of us have made do with each other. I now save a little bit. Money, I will buy a mansion to support you!"

Alyssa also knew that Tina had begun to save money.

Alyssa was also a little surprised when she first learned that Tina, who was spending his money, started saving money.

"Aren't you going to keep the money for retirement?" Alyssa teased her.

At that time, Tina said that she might not get married in her life, so she should save her pension earlier.

When she was too old to move, she will lay at home and eat and wait to die.

"If you raise an old man, it might be possible to die early." Tina looked indifferent.

Alyssa turned her head inadvertently and saw Peter who she did not know when he appeared in the hall.

Alyssa glanced at Tina, looked at Peter and said: "Here."

Holding a toy box in his hand, Peter strode over.

He didn't look at Tina, and walked straight to Alyssa and asked, "Where is Grace?"

“Upstairs.” Alyssa pointed upstairs.

Peter put the toy box aside: “I’ll find her.”

“Call her down for me.” Alyssa said to his back there.

Peter just nodded.

When his figure disappeared at the top of the stairs, Alyssa tilted her head to look at Tina and smiled and asked, “What do you think?”

“Nothing.” Tina took a deep breath, looking thoughtful.

Alyssa patted her on the shoulder without saying much.

â€

Smith came last.

When Alyssa called Smith, she asked him to come home to have a meal after he was free.

When Smith came, he also brought toys for Grace.

Toys were brought when Tina came.

Even Dave bought toys for Grace.

However, Dave’s life experience is not very rich, and he still stays on dolls when he buys gifts for girls.

He bought a set of dolls for Grace.

Grace received four gifts and was very happy. She ate one more bowl for dinner.

That night, there was a wife and child at home, and all went back after dinner.

Grace helped Alyssa to send away Smith, and ran to play with her new toy.

Watching her run away, Alyssa went back to the table and jokingly said to other people: “I don’t always buy toys for Grace. If you give birth to children in the future, I will lose out and I will have to pay back one by one.”

Peter tutted twice: “Buying a toy can still make you poor? Karl has money, you can let him open a toy city.”

Dave, who has always talked little, said very seriously, “I want a daughter too.”

Chapter 899

He has not come into contact with many children, and the one he has come into contact with most is Grace.

His reason is simple, Grace is a very cute and a charming daughter.

Therefore, he also wants a daughter.

Peter heard Dave's words and nodded: "I want too. The more the better."

Tina said, "Is your wife a sow?"

"You can scold me, but you can't scold my wife!" Peter put his chopsticks aside and looked very serious.

Tina snorted: "Do you have a wife?"

"I'm so young and handsome, isn't it sooner or later to have a wife?" Peter argued with her seriously.

"Young? What misunderstanding do you have about yourself?"

"Why aren't you young in your 30s?"

"Have you met the new trainees in the company? That's young."

Recently, AdamPic Media has recruited a new batch of trainees. The youngest is only 16 years old and the oldest is less than 20.

He has tall legs and long legs, young and lively.

Energetic and youthful.

Peter's face turned dark: "Tina, do you think you are still an 18-year-old girl? Have you seen the new artists of our company? All are tender enough to pinch water!"

Tina looked at him blankly: "Oh, I have seen them, especially the new girl named Cathy Lee! Who doesn't know that she has received special care from Mr. Grant."

Hearing her mention Cathy Lee, Peter's expression became a little uncomfortable.

Peter paused and explained aloud: "I just watched Cathy that little girl worked hard and had a good attitude. I thought she was a talent!"

"Talented, it's my a$$s." Tina interrupted him, her face distorted.

Peter's complexion suddenly became difficult to look at.

Tina looked at Dave with a calm expression: "I'm sorry, let Mr. Dave watch all this. Peter and I have known each other since childhood. It is common to be noisy, we are just joking."

Dave nodded slightly as a response.

Tina actually didn't need to explain specifically, she just wanted to change the subject to make herself seem less concerned.

In fact, she also thinks she doesn't care about Peter.

Peter used to gossip with those little stars before, and this is nothing new.

Tina was used to it.

â€¦

The party ended at ten o'clock.

Dave is not a lively person, Peter answered the phone and wanted to go to Best Day to deal with something.

The dining room has a maid to clean up.

Alyssa nestled on the sofa to help Grace study the new toy she received today, and Tina sat next to her.

Alyssa asked like a chatter: "What's the matter with that Cathy Lee?"

"A new artist from the company, young, beautiful, tender enough to pinch water," Tina said loosely.

When she spoke, her eyes were still fixed on Grace who was assembling the toy. After she finished speaking, she pointed to a place and said to Grace: "Grace, this is the reverse."

Grace disassembled and reinstalled.

"Really? A girl who is so beautiful that you can remember, she should be particularly beautiful." Alyssa did not reveal Tina, but just followed her words.

Tina paused, and said: "It's spreading in the company, and Peter really looks at Cathy differently. To put it bluntly, he is in love with Cathy. In fact, Cathy's resources are indeed much better than other newcomers."

Alyssa asked her: "What do you think about this?"

"What can I think?" Tina laughed mockingly: "The company is Peter's, he can do whatever he likes, who can control it."

Chapter 900

Alyssa laughed and said, "You're talking angrily again."

"I didn't say anything angry, I didn't." Tina pretended to be calm.

Alyssa patted her shoulder: "I will put Grace to sleep first, and we will talk about it when she sleeps."

Tina nodded: "Yeah."

â€¦

After Grace was put to sleep, Alyssa returned to the room.

Tina just came out of the shower and leaned on the bedside to play with her phone.

Hearing Alyssa coming in, she looked up at her.

"Grace fell asleep?"

"She seems to have not slept well recently." Alyssa was talking to Tina while taking her clothes to take a bath.

Tina asked: "Why? Is she uncomfortable in some way?"

"I have eaten a lot of dinner, and then look at it." Alyssa had already found clothes: "I'll take a shower first."

After Alyssa came out of the shower, Tina was still playing with her mobile phone by the bedside.

Seeing Alyssa coming out, she put her phone aside.

It's been a long time since the two of them slept in a bed like this.

As soon as Alyssa lay down, she heard Tina asking her: "Remember when we were in high school?"

"Yeah, remember." Alyssa couldn't help but smile when she thought of the high school.

If it weren't for Tina, her youth might have been spent in depression.

No one in the Hunt family cared about her, Rachel's mind was all on Isabel.

Some people have blood ties, but they don't have relatives.

Some people are not related by blood, but are closer than their relatives.

"At that time I thought you were just a timid but particularly brave ugly girl, but I didn't expect you to fight more fiercely than me." There was a feeling of nostalgia in the calm tone.

Alyssa pouted, "Which fight wasn't because you got into trouble, and I helped you carry it?"

Tina laughed happily.

As a student, Tina was not a fuel-efficient lamp.

The family background is good, her parents are open-minded, and she grew up arbitrarily and freely.

Courageous enough to go to heaven, fear nothing.

At that time, Tina's temper was not very good, she was rampant, and when she was provoked, she threw her fist and threw the bench.

Alyssa kept her strength and stood silently, waiting until Tina couldn't stand it, and then shot.

Alyssa lived depressed in Hunt's house and developed a cautious character.

It was all because of encountering Tina that her repressed and gloomy youth had a gleam.

"Oh, where are they? Obviously those people causing trouble." Tina didn't bear the trouble.

Alyssa changed a comfortable posture and hummed silently.

"Actually I was thinking back then, you were so ugly, what if you couldn't get married in the future!"

Alyssa turned her head and gave a cold look.

Tina laughed, and then pretended to be angry and said: "It turned out that you look better than me, and now you are better married than me! Jealousy has made me totally unrecognizable."

"What's wrong with you tonight? Why are you talking about this all of a sudden?" Alyssa felt Tina a little strange.

Inexplicably, she began to recall the past of her youth.

And also very sad.

"I just remembered these things suddenly." Tina lay flat, staring at the ceiling in a dream, not knowing what she was thinking.

Alyssa remembered that when she officially met Tina, there was no Peter with Tina at that time.

Later she learned that Peter happened to be abroad at that time.

She vaguely remembered that during the time she first met Tina, Tina was indeed in a bad mood.

She burned at one point, and she would fight directly if anyone was not pleasing to her eyes.
