Chapter 20

When Zayne noticed Zivon's cold look, he didn't dare to say anything else and quickly examined Xavia's condition.

Xavia was already feeling better now. She took the initiative to speak up, "I felt pain coming from my chest when I first fell, but now I feel weak all over and I can't move my arm at all. Everything else is fine."

Zayne replied, "Nonsense. This is six meters high. You're lucky that you're still alive."

Xavia said awkwardly, "I...When I saw Maison at that time, I was very worried and I didn't think too much about it."

At that time, the only thought that filled her mind was Maison's safety, and that he shouldn't be endangered. That should be every mother's basic instinct.

Zayne was filled with heartfelt admiration for Xavia.

Zivon stared at Xavia with an unusually complicated and deep look in his eyes.

A few minutes later, Zayne was done with the medical examination and he said, "Fortunately, you fell onto the air cushion. There is nothing serious, but you have an arm fracture. You should be fine after receiving medical treatment."

Zivon's brows, which were tightly knitted together, gradually relaxed when he heard this.

sorry that this accident happened. We are really very sorry and we are willing to bear full responsibility and pay for both this young lady and the child's medical expenses. We will also strengthen the maintenance of our facility."

The manager of the mall finally gained the courage to stand up and said, "I'm sorry. I'm so

His apology was very sincere.

However, Zivon's cold and handsome face showed that he was not moved in the slightest. His thin lips parted as he said, "No need. There is no need for you to open this mall again. In addition, the lady who bumped into my son better turn herself in."

As soon as he said those words, Zivon then left immediately with the child in his arms.

His tall and strong figure carried a very powerful aura that could not be ignored.

Everyone at the mall could not help but shudder.

What kind of big shot was he? Did he actually say that there was no need to open the mall anymore?

He was terrifying.

•••

In less than half an hour, Galaxy Plaza's 'the fall of a mother and child' incident instantly made it to the news' hot search.

Someone recognized that it was Zivon and 'Jenna', and this news became even more sensational then.

#Jenna saved her son#

#Little Master Burton fell from building#

There were overwhelming descriptions of the scene at that time in the news with some thrilling high-definition videos attached to it.

Netizens exploded with excitement: [Oh my god! That's thrilling!]

[That's the famous agent, Jenna! She's so kind!]

[It's no wonder why she's a good match for Young Master Burton!]

[I'm in love! I'm in love!]

The Burton Mansion in Darlsbury.

The Burton couple was also shocked and surprised when they saw the news.

"How could this happen? That was really dangerous!"

"This Jenna is usually so cold and indifferent toward Maison. As a whole, she is always busy with work and she rarely accompanies Maison. However, she pulls off an act like this at the most critical moment? Not bad! Not bad!"

"I'll definitely acknowledge this daughter-in-law!"

In a dark room.

Jenna has already been imprisoned for two full days. When she woke up, her hands and feet had already been tied up with a hemp rope and her mouth was also stuffed with gauze. Pockmark Wilson also drugged her, so she couldn't resist and fight back because she had no strength at all.

desperation and agony.

A voice came from the television outside, "A sudden accident occurred when Zivon Burton

All that she had suffered was just abuse in the past two days. She was filled with extreme was shopping with his wife and son. His wife disregarded everything in order to save their son."

Zivon? Zivon?!

Jenna desperately moved toward the door to watch the news broadcast outside through the crack of the door. After that, she felt as though she was going to collapse emotionally.

That was not her! It wasn't her at all!

Damn that Xavia! She said she would never show up in front of Zivon. So why was she shopping with him? They even brought the child along with them!

She would never let Xavia off!

"Mm...Mm!" Let her out! She wanted to go out and kill that bitch!

Luke opened the door and walked in. "It seems as though you still have some strength."

"Mm...No!"

•••