"That was unfair, you know." Crew murmured from the wall, his eyes flickering from Luna to me but she was hugging me closer to her body purring like a cat.

"I don't care what is fair or not. You blocked me away from my own mate." She said into my neck, cuddling me tighter around her like she wanted to enter me.

"Baby, are you up for another round?" She whispered in my ear making goosebumps rise all over my arms as I shivered but I am truly sore.

"How about a hot bath?" I breath around her hair feeling our sweaty bodies sticking to one another.

That was what happened for the next forty minutes while Crew was sent away to go to their other room to shower. Luna was attentive to my needs as she washed my body, fondled with me here and there while I smiled at her drunkenly. I love what we did and won't mind doing it to her again.

Luna's fingers traced patterns along my skin as the warm water cascaded around us. The gentle caress of the water mimicked the tenderness of our conversation. Seems like we both can't get our hands off one another.

"Sel, love, have you thought about how we'll reveal our bond to our friends and the kingdom about us?" Luna asked, bringing my head down to her pert breasts and I smiled.

"I have, babe." She emphasized the babe earning a chuckle from Luna. "It's just... it feels surreal, you know? I never imagined we'd be here, sharing this connection. Me having second chance mates!"

I felt Luna nodding as she said. "It is a lot to take in. But I believe our friends will understand. It's not like we are the first to be mated in three. Edie is mated to two males."

"Yes, but I worry about how others might perceive it. A love that goes beyond the conventional norms. And Crew and you are the leaders. All eyes are on you and the Moonlit Council members, I don't even want to think of what they are going to say." I shake my head bitterly. I hate those groups of people.

"Selene, our love is a force that transcends norms. We shouldn't hide it. Let them talk. We owe it to ourselves to be true. Especially after everything you have endured. You deserve this and more." Luna cupped my face in between her wet soft hands.

I leaned into Luna's touch like a needy cat. "You're right. I just hope they see what we see."

"They will, my love. And besides, we're not just telling them about us –we're showing them what true love looks like." She grinned mischievously and I am already pitying Daniel who has been searching for his mate for a while now.

"Luna, I never expected to find this kind of love. Especially not in the midst of all the chaos. Two mates? It has never occurred to me I would be amongst those lucky ones. After Alpha Archer rejected me, everything else didn't matter then came Adrian..." I trail off because the rest is history.

She brushed the hair from my face, very much wet hair and said. "Love has a way of finding us when we least expect it. And ours is a story worth sharing. If anyone deserves this, it is you?"

"I never thought I'd find myself in a conversation like this while bathing and that too with a gorgeous female who happens to be my mate." I chortled, leaning into her.

"Life is full of surprises, my love but I am here to take care of you not the other way around. Now, about the Crew..." She trailed off and wiggled her brows on her forehead.

I blush then smirk. "Oh, he's in for a shock. But he'll understand. I just hope he's not too shocked we are already ganging up on him."

"Well, he has seen his fair share of surprises." She giggled then her eyes widened like she had forgotten something crucial then I shook my head. I won't talk about my s*x after just hours of having it. It is so uncomfortable.

I gave her a shy grin though. "True. I can't believe we're doing this. Telling everyone about our bond."

She nuzzled my neck then inhaled the left side of my neck, her teeth grazed the place a little making me shiver in pleasure. Is she also going to mark me? Do I get to mark her too? The thought sent wetness straight to my core.

Marking is as pleasurable as s*x and after experiencing s*x just a few hours ago, I don't mind getting marked this instance. I want everyone to know that I got mated to these amazing souls.

"It's a beautiful bond, Sel. And I wouldn't have it any other way."

"Nor would I, Luna. Nor would I."

Luna blow dried my hair and braided it into a single braid in between my head with the tail falling to my mid back, she did the same to her hair. She gave me a green shirt while she took a red one then gave me one of her baggy jeans knowing hers won't fit me.

We got dressed into jeans and T-shirts then went to the nursery where Adrian is still fast asleep. If I hadn't known any better, I'd think Crew gave him some sleeping pills so he wouldn't disturb us. The thought made me chuckle in my head.

should have felt uncomfortable or weird especially with the three people we are about to tell our relationship to first but it doesn't feel any of that. I feel eerily content just holding her hand.

Crew was sitting in the dining room with Nick, Daniel and Lilith who was rushing to finish so she could go to school. She gave me a small smile which I returned then her eyes flickered to the hand holding Luna's and she frowned in question.

Here comes nothing.
