

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 291

Bang!

Adam rolled off the bed as he was still asleep and woke up when he hit the ground.

Adam would never have dreamed that one day he would be kicked off the bed like this. He glared at Hailey sternly.

“Allie, what are you doing?”

Hailey put her hands on her hips. “Adam, you’ve already divorced Celine, so who gave you the right to hold her when she’s sleeping?”

Adam had just woken up and had a displeased expression on his face. He froze when he heard Hailey’s words. Did he fall asleep holding Celine?

“Just now, your arms were around Celine’s shoulders and holding her close while you slept. I won’t allow it! If you want to hold anyone, go find Carly There I be other men who’ll hold Celine when she sleeps!!

There’ll be other men who I hold Celine when she sleeps....

Adam’s breathing faltered, and he yelled, “Shut up!”

All at the commotion had woken Celine up. She sat up and rubbed her sleepy eyes. “Hailey, Mr. Alvarez, you’re all awake?”

Adam glanced at Celine. She had just woken up and didn’t know what had happened. Her skin was pale with a healthy red blush as she looked at him innocently with confused and drooping eyes.

It was all her fault! What happened last night was because of her actively rolling into his embrace!

Before he closed his eyes, he hadn’t reached out to pull her toward himself at all, but once he had fallen asleep, he had pulled her into his embrace. Hailey had seen this and had kicked him off the bed.

However, despite being the guilty party in this, Celine was still totally clueless. Adam looked at her innocent demeanor and glanced at her coldly before turning to enter the bathroom.

Adam splashed cold water on his face. He could hear the two women talking outside the bathroom.

Celine was confused. “What’s up with Mr. Alvarez? It’s so early in the morning, and he’s already pissed off?”

Hailey answered, “I don’t know. He must have gotten up on the wrong side of the bed,”

Celine said, “Well, at least he’s rich. If he wants to buy a hundred beds to get up on the wrong side of, who are we to stop him?”

With that, the two women giggled

Adam could only bite his tongue inside the bathroom.

He was pissed. He was really pissed off

Adam dropped Celine and Hailey off at the front entrance of Yorhine University before leaving Celine and Hailey weren’t irritated by that at all. On the contrary, they walked into Yorhine University in a good mood.

Many people were gathered around the basketball court. Ewan was playing basketball

He was six feet tall with handsome looks. He dodged his opponent’s blocking and leaped into the air to dunk the basketball into the hoop

The adoring fans surrounding them shrieked. One could almost visualize the pink hearts in their eyes.

Melody ran up and landed a bottle of water to wain

“Thanks, Melody.” Ewan opened the bottle’s cap and drank the water.

Many of their classmates surrounded them. “What’s the situation here, Ewan? Is Melody your girlfriend now?”

“You’ve never accepted any of the water bottles the other girls gave you before, so why did you suddenly decide to take the water Melody gave you?”

“Somany people ser Melody as their target, but now you’ve quietly gotten together? You’re good at this, Ewan!”

“You should be a couple” The Divorce Prescription

Chapter 292

Ewan quickly reached out to catch Melody and pulled her into his arms. Everyone burst into laughter.

Celine and Hailey stood on the outskirts of the crowd watching them. Celine looked worriedly at Hailey. “Hailey, are you alright?”

Hailey raised an eyebrow. “I’m better than alright! Celine, wait here for me. I’ll just be a minute ”

As she said that, Hailey burrowed through the crowd to appear before Ewan and Melody.

When Melody saw Hailey, a frightened expression appeared on her face, and she quickly hid behind Ewan, sobbing.

“Hailey, please don’t hit me anymore.”

Ewan stood before Melody to protect her and looked at Hailey in dispassion, “Hailey, what do you want now?”

Hailey smiled. “Melody, why are you so scared that I might hit you? Or are you aware of the fact that since you’ve knowingly become a mistress, you deserve a beating Knowingly become a mistress? The students surrounding them all sucked in a sharp breath and started gossiping.

“Why did Hailey say that Melody knowingly became a mistress?”

“What’s Hailey’s relationship with Ewan?”

Ewan’s expression darkened. “Hailey, are you done stirring up trouble? Leave this place at once!”

Hailey stood her ground and didn’t move. She laughed coldly. “Are you afraid, Ewan? Are you afraid that others will find out that we’re already engaged, or are you afraid that they’ll find out you’re my fiancé?”

Hailey had only just realized how foolish she had been. The fact that Ewan had never made their relationship public should have already made things

Ewan wanted to speak, but Hailey interrupted him by saying, “Ewan, let’s break off the engagement!”

Ewan was taken aback. He had never thought that Hailey would decide to break off the engagement.

The Shaw and Young families were close. His parents wanted him to marry Hailey from the Young family, saying that she was his future wife, which was why he had gotten close to Hailey on purpose.

He deliberately complimented her looks and said that he liked her, and finally, he had been successful in winning over her heart.

She liked to follow him around and share any delicious food or fun things with him. She was positive and vibrant, always smiling and shining brilliantly, but Ewan only felt that she was foolish

He felt even more disgusted whenever he saw the birthmark on her face.

attracted to Melody, who had a curvaceous body. Furthermore, Melody had

Then, he saw Melody on the basketball court. As a young man, he was easily attracted all but leaped into her arms herself.

However, he had never imagined that Hailey would want to break off their engagement one day. How dare this ugly woman say that she wanted to break off their engagement!

Ewan looked at Hailey. For the first time, he realized how clear and pretty Hailey's eyes were as they shone brightly.

Hailey said, "Ewan, listen up. Right now, you're not the one dumping me, but I'm the one dumping you. Let's break off the engagement!"

Then, Hailey took off the bracelet on her wrist and gave it to Ewan

The bracelet was the Shaw family's family relic. Sally Shaw, Ewan's mother, had put it onto Hailey's wrist herself when they had gotten engaged. But now, she had taken it off and returned it to him.

Ewan's eyes grew cold. "Hailey, you're the one deciding to break off the engagement now. You'd better not regret it!"

"I won't," Hailey said firmly.

"Alright then. We'll break off the engagement!" Ewan took the bracelet back Hailey strode away. When she passed by beside Melody, she said loudly, "Everyone, you should be vigilant with your boyfriends and here loves to seduce other people's boyfriends. She loves being a mistress!"

Melody's face paled "You!"

However, Hailey spouted her and left.

All of the students around them started gossiping as they pointed at Ewan and Melody.

Melody was throwing herself at Ewan just now? She really knowingly became his mistress."

su open-minded? But it's understandable too. Look at her curves. What man would be able to resist her?"

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 293

Everyone started pointing fingers at Melody. Even the way they looked at her had changed.

Melody had never imagined that Halley would be able to recover so quickly and had even gotten in a good hit at her. Melody parted the crowd and ran off

"Melody!" Ewan ran after her. Ewan grabbed Melody's arm. "Melody, are you mad?"

's grasp. "Ewan, let's not acquaint ourselves with each other anymore. Everyone's Melody looked unhappy as she tried to pull her arm out of Ewan's p already gossiping about us.

However, Ewan pulled Melody into a hug. "No. Let's just ignore what they think about is. Melody, I'm asking you, do you like me?"

Melody had always acted frail and innocent. She blushed and nodded shyly. "I like you."

"Then let's be a couple, Melody. Tomorrow, I'll declare my love for you in front of everyone."

Melody's eyes lit up. She knew that Ewan was now firmly within her grasp.

The Shaw family

was one of the richest families in Mercity. If she could marry into the Show family, it would be a ticket into the upper echelons of “Ewan, isn’t what we’re doing to Halley a bit too cruel?”

Ewan was annoyed at the mention of Haley. Since that ugly woman had broken off their engagement in front of so many people, then the next day he would confess his love to Melody in front of everyone as well. He wanted to see Hailey regret her decision and sob her eyes out,

Wait a minute. Why was he thinking of Hailey, that ugly woman? He didn’t want to think about her.

Ewan reached out and took Melody’s pretty face in his hands. Men always loved beautiful women, and this face was what he truly liked. Hailey’s face, which was marked with a birthmark, was too ugly for him.

“Don’t talk about her. You’ll ruin the mood.” With that, he kissed Melody.

Melody resisted at first but eventually gave in to the kiss. This only made Ewan’s desire for her burn stronger.

Ewan was a typical athlete, standing at six feet tall. He had a good family background and was handsome to top it all off. He pushed Melody against the wall and reached under her shirt.

Ewan bit Melody’s earlobe and snickered mischievously. “You can’t even catch one hand,”

Melody punched him gently

Half an hour later, Melody and Ewan finally separated from each other lovingly. Melody took out her phone and called Carly.

Carly was elated to hear the news Melody shared with her. “Melody, when Mr. Shaw confesses his love to you in front of everyone tomorrow, I’ll be there to see it with my own eyes! I want to see just how badly that ugly woman, Hailey, will react!”

Carly hadn’t forgotten the humiliation Halley had put her through at the Lambert residence. Tomorrow, she wanted to be there to make fun of Hailey Melody was still in a lovey-dovey mood. “Alright, Carly. I’ll wait for you tomorrow. That ugly woman, Hailey, won’t be the only one subbing tomorrow but the same will go for Celine!

Yes, the same would go for Celine! Celine was Carly’s true final target!

Carly said warmly, “Melody, you must be very happy with Mr. Shaw right now.”

Melody was very pleased with Ewan. Especially with the way Ewan had pushed her against the wall looking like a mischievous athlete. It made her warm all over just thinking about it, “Carly, I really am grateful that I listened to you back then. You really are the best for me.”

Carly laughed. “Alright, future Mrs. Shaw. Let’s enjoy the show tomorrow.

Celine was very pleased whom she saw how brave Hailey was standing up for herself. The birthmark on her face didn’t make Hailey pity herself. Instead, was just like a warm little sun with boundless energy.

Celine went out to get some hot water when she heard two classmates gossiping

“Did you hear that tomorrow Ewan’s planning on confessing his love to Melody in front of everyone?”

“I feel bad for Hailey, Even though she’s in the right, Ewan still doesn’t like her and insists on spoiling Melody rotten.”

However, there were still many people supporting Yorhine Uoliversity’s most handsome man and most beautiful woman’s relationship

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 294

Celine snorted derisively when she heard those words. These few days, Melody had been constantly causing problems for Hailey, Carly must have had a hand in that too.

They were planning on humiliating Hailey tomorrow? It still hadn’t been determined who would be the one humiliated yet, Celine returned to the females hostel. Halley was just about to go out with Declan's black jacket in her arms when Celine stopped her.

"Hailey, wait a minute."

Hailey had been planning on taking Declan's jacket to the dry cleaners. She stopped in her tracks.

"What is it, Celine?"

Celine took out a colorful candy. "Hailey, this is for you."

Hailey loved sweet foods, so she happily took the colorful candy and put it into her mouth. "Thank yo

Hailey immediately tried to spit the bitter candy out of her mouth you... Ah! It's bitter."

However, Celine covered her mouth. "Don't spit it out! The most bitter medicine is often the most effective. Quick. Swallow it"

Hailey could only swallow the bitter candy, "Celine, what's this? Why is it so bitter?"

Celine looked at Halley's pretty face under the birthmark and winked mysteriously. "It's a secret. You'll find out tomorrow."

"I'll get going then" With that, Hailey ran off.

Hailey dry-cleaned Declan's black jacket, folded it, and put it into a bag before going to the classroom to look for Declan.

"Hey there. I'm looking for someone" Hailey stopped a male student.

The student looked at Halley. "Are you looking for Declan?"

Hailey was surprised. "How did you know?" She hadn't said anything yet.

The student laughed. "Many girls come to our class looking for Declan. We're all used to

Was Declan that popular?

Even though Declan and Ewan were the two best-looking men at Yorhine University, Declan was comparatively more under the radar as compared to Ewan. Furthermore, Declan wasn't seen often in school.

Despite all that, many girls still came to him

“Then is Declan around? I have something for him.”

The classmate shook his head. “Declan hasn’t come to school for a few days. He must have been working.”

Hailey was stunned.

“You should have heard about Declan’s family’s financial status before. His father had passed away a long time ago, and his mother’s blind. He has a younger sister too, who’s just started junior high.

“Declan’s grades are really good. He was the district’s top scorer in the college entrance exam, and Yorhino University only got him because it offered him full scholarship “However, he still needed to take care of his family, so he stepped into society and started working early on.

“If you’re looking for him, you can try going to his home.”

Hailey had only heard before that Declan’s father was a drug dealer, but she hadn’t known about his blind mother or younger sister,

“Then can you tell me where Declan’s home is?”

“Thank you ”

Hailey planned on going to look for Declan, but before that, she went to the supermarket to buy a few expensive supplements before taking an Uber to

Third Shanty

Third Shanty was located in the slum area, which was dark and wet. It was Hailey’s first time stepping foot in an area like this, as she lived in Mercity’s most expensive housing area, Francis Court. The difference between the two places was like heaven and earth.

Hailey held the luxurious gift box in her hands as she searched for his house according to the address she was given. It had just rained, and the muddy ground of the alleys dirtied the hem of her skirt and her leather shoes.

Hailey usually kept herself clean and tidy, but she suppressed her urge to wipe the ad off as

Chapter 205

Hailey raised a hand and knocked on the door. It wasn't long before the door opened. However, it wasn't Declan, but a young girl that opened it,

The girl looked at Hailey curiously. "Il, miss Who are you looking for?"

Halley guessed that this was Declan's sister, Alleen Zamora, as she was wearing a junior high school miform.

Alleen looked thin, but her clothes were neat and her hair was tied up in a neat ponytail. Her big eyes had an energetle light that was pleasant to look at. She bore some resemblance to Declan

Hailey liked Aileen at first sight. She smiled. "Hi, I'm Hailey. I'm your brother, Declan's, schoolmate, and I'm here for him. Is he home?"

Alleen shook her head. "Declan isn't back yet."

It was getting late, but Declan st

n still wasn't home yet.

Pamela Zamora

, Declan's mother, walked out. "Is it a friend of Declan's? Come in and have a seat."

Hailey looked at Pamela She was blind and half of her hair had already turned white. However, she looked friendly and approachable, and the tone of her voice was gentle. She must have been a Josanan beauty when she was younger.

Hailey walked in. "Nice to meet you, Mrs. Zamora."

Pamela received Hailey happily. "Miss, come in and sit here. Declan will be back soon."

Even though the house was small, it was clean and well taken care of. Hailey saw that there were several jasmine flowers in the vase by the window. The light and warmth of this house stood out amidst the dark and muddy alleys it was located in Hailey was still looking around when the door was suddenly pushed open with a creak. Declan was home, Declan was tall, six feet two inches to be exact. He looked like a guardian spirit standing in the doorway clad in all black. The sharp angles of his handsome face made Hailey's heart stutter slightly.

Pamela said happily, "Declan, you're back. Your friend is here to meet you."

Declan had already realized that someone was in his home the second he entered the house. His cold and sharp eyes swept toward Hailey.

Hailey immediately stood up. She was starting to understand the mindsets of the girls who were afraid of him but still liked to gossip about him anyway. "Hello, Declan. My name is Hailey. You saved me last night. Do you still remember that? I'm here to return your jacket and thank you in person." Declan glanced at Hailey emotionlessly, then at the expensive supplements Hailey had brought along. "Are you done? If you're done take your things and leave."

Hailey was speechless. He really was cold and unfeeling

Pamela immediately said, "Declan, what are you saying? Miss, Declan's always been like this. dinnertime now, you should stay with us for dinner."

1. s. His personality isn't one that girls would like. It's Halley looked at Declan. He wasn't someone girls would like?

7 On th

the contrary, actually. Girls loved him.

Aileen pleaded, "Declan, I like Hailey. Let her have dinner with us. "

Declan looked at Aileen and his cold features softened. He reached out and ruffled Aileen's hair. "Are you hungry? I'll make your favorite dish for you, sweet and sour pork ribs "

Only then did Hailey notice that D

Declan was holding a bag of groceries. Did he know how to cook too?

Declan ignored Halley and went into the kitchen.

Pamela wanted to help "Declan, I can do the cooking"

"Mom, go and rest."

Hailey stood outside watching as Declan worked in the kitchen. His large hands held the frying pan and ladle as he cooked, and the well-defined outline of his arms could be seen vaguely under his T-shirt's sleeves, looking strong and beautiful.

Declan really was different from any other man she had ever met. Adam, Ewan, and even her own father, James, didn't know how to cook as they had many servants at home. But Declan did.

It even seemed like his culinary skills were fairly good, as within minutes the delicious smell of sweet and sour pork ribs watted through the house. Halloy felt that it was a lucky coincidence that she also loved to eat sweet and sour pork ribs, just like Alleen. Halley's favorite dish was sweet pork ribs.

j

Everyone surrounded Ewan and Melody, cheering them on. Someone even pushed Melody, and she fell into Ewan's arms.

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 296

It wasn't long before Declan was serving the sweet and sour pork ribs. It looked and smelled delicious. He had also cooked some cucumber, which was less heavy on the taste buds. Hailey hadn't been hungry at first, but now she had started to feel hungry.

Suddenly, a cold voice sounded above her head. "Aren't you planning to leave?"

Huh? Halley quickly looked up. There was confusion in her pretty eyes when she met Declan's eyes.

She didn't know when Declan had come up beside her. He was looking at her coldly.

Halley was slightly embarrassed. She quickly said, "Mrs. Zamora, Aileen, my dad called me and asked me to return home now."

Panela and Alleen couldn't keep her there if that were the case. "Alright, miss. You can come and visit us again next time."

With that, Hailey walked out and waved back at them sweetly, "Alright, bye-bye."

Halley returned the way she had come. The alleys here were very muddy, and she could only lift up the hem of her skirt as she carefully stepped on the cleaner areas.

Suddenly, a large man walked up in front of her. He was drunk and smelled of alcohol. His eyes lit up when he saw Hailey.

“Where did this little girl come from? Come. Have a drink with me.”

The fear of facing Storm Killer last night was still fresh in Halley’s mind. Now that she had gotten herself involved with a drunkard, she thought fast and quickly turned to run away.

“Stop running!” The man quickly caught up to her. He cursed as he ran, “Little bitch, if you don’t come willingly, I’ll make you! Just wait and see how I’ll deal with you once I catch you!”

Hailey screamed in fright, “Help! Help...ahh!”

Suddenly, she ran into someone. When she looked up, the cold but handsome face seemed larger than life in her eyes. It was Declan. Declan had come. It was like Halley had found a lifeboat in the middle of the ocean.

“Declan, help me!”

The large man had caught up too. He stopped when he saw Declan “Oh, it’s you, Declan.”

The man was Declan’s neighbor, and they knew each other.

Declan remained expressionless as he lifted an arm and put it around Hailey’s shoulders, pulling her into his embrace. Hailey froze

Even though she had been engaged to Ewan before, they hadn’t even held hands, never mind embracing each other.

Right now, Declan’s arm was slung over her shoulders. Her body could feel the strength of his as heartbeat started to quicken.

The man looked at Declan and laughed. “Declan, is this your girlfriend?”

His girlfriend? Suddenly, Hailey heard Declan’s chilly reply.

He was saying that she was his girlfriend? Hailey looked up at Declan in shock.

Declan didn't look at her, but his gaze was fixed on the drunken man. From the angle Halley was looking up at him, she could only see his cold and handsome side profile.

Hailey had heard the man's mutterings. She looked at Declan

The dim streetlights cast a light on Declan's cold expression. When she looked at him in close quarters, Hailey could see a hint of youthfulness on his soon, but he was only about her age. They were only in their first year of university and were still young

He was expressionless and remained silent,

Hailey started, "You"

Before she could finish her sentence, the weight on her shoulders lifted as Declan let go of her. He said coldly, "You forgot to take your things."

He had brought all of the supplements she had gifted them.

"There's no need for that. It's my gift to Mrs. Zamora to give her health a boost. I'm very grateful that you saved me."

Declan didn't say anything but strode away holding the supplements.

Hailey quickly followed him.

Hailey realized that Declan had led her out of the dark and wet alley to the main street outside. He called an Uber for her too, opening the car's back door and placing the supplements inside. He looked at her.

“Go home. Don't come here again. I've already accepted your gratitude.”

Hailey felt her heart melt a little. She realized that underneath his cold exterior, he had a warm and passionate heart.

He had claimed her as his girlfriend before that man to protect her. He even walked in front of her to lead her out of the alleys and made sure she got into a car. That was his way of protecting her too.

This was how a man would protect a woman. But didn't he think that she was ugly?

Ewan had never worried about Hailey's safety before because he felt that she was protected by her ugliness. In his opinion, she was perfectly safe. Hailey obediently entered the car. “Goodbye, Declan.”

Ignoring her, Declan cuned and left.

Hailey leaned against the window to sneak glances at his retreating back. He took a turn and quickly disappeared into the dark alley, Halley returned to the Lambert residence. Linda had made sweet and sour pork ribs for dinner too, and Hailey was quickly having seconds. “Linda, I want another serving.”

Linda quickly said, “My dear, two servings are enough. You can't eat too much or you might get indigestion. I'm already cooking some herbal soup for you to drink later.”

Only then did Hailey put down her utensils. She had already been hungry for some time after seeing the sweet and sour pork ribs made by Declan, but now she was full

Suddenly, her phone rang. It was a call from James, James had left Mercy for the past few days to work in another city.

Halley tapped on her phone to receive the call. “Hey, Dad.”

“Allie, I heard that that kid from the Shaw family bullied you? It's alright. Once I get back, I promise that the Shaws will bring that little cretin to us to apologize.”

James felt bad for Halley, but she wasn't sad at all. To be honest, she had never had a real relationship with Ewan, and they hadn't developed any romantic feelings at all.

"Dad, if Ewen doesn't like me you don't have to force him. I don't like him anymore either, and I've already returned the Shaws' family relic bracelet to him. We've broken off the engagement and there's no ties between us anymore."

James didn't sa

say if that was a good or bad thing. "Allie, I'll settle this matter when I get back."

With that, he hung up

Halley didn't return to the female hostel that night. She went back to her well-furnished room and took a comfortable bath filled with milk and rose

She suddenly thought of Declan. Rumor has it that his father had passed away when he was still in junior high. His mother was blind and his s Halley recalled the way he looked at Aileen. He loved his younger sister. If he had a girlfriend, would he treat her gently like that too?

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 298

Gosh, what was she thinking?

Hailey realized that she kept thinking about Declan. Her face instantly turned red. What was wrong with her?

Hailey didn't get a good sleep that night and was late going to Yochine University the next day.

When she reached Yorhine University's field, it was already crowded with people. Flowers and balloons were everywhere.

Ewan had a huge bouquet of roses in his hands as he knelt before Melody on one knee. "Melody, I've loved you since the first time I laid eyes on you. Will you be my girlfriend?"

Melody was wearing a beautiful dress as she looked at Ewan happily. She nodded vigorously. "I will."

Ewan stood up and took Melody's face in his hands before kissing her

Melody smiled shyly. It was then that she spotted Hailey and said fearfully, "Hailey."

Ewan looked in Hailey's direction as well. He put himself in front of Melody to protect her. "Hailey, you've seen it yourself. Melody has agreed to become my girlfriend. We're a couple now!"

Hailey Laughed coldly. "That's good then. Melody finally doesn't have to be a mistress anymore."

Melody's eyes darkened at the mention of the term "mistress"

"Hailey, you can't say that Melody's a mistress."

H

Carly appeared then and walked up to stand before Hailey. Today, she planned to get revenge for the humiliation she had received at the Lambert residence!

Carly smiled. "Hailey, since y you were a child, you've had a birthmark on your face, while Mr. Shaw has always been the most handsome man in Yorline University. You should know better than anyone just how the two of you got engaged.

"I heard that it was an engagement arranged by both of your parents, but Mr. Shaw had never liked you!"

The surrounding students all started gossiping

"So that's why Ewan was engaged to Hailey, I thought that maybe Hailey saved his life some time ago or something, but it turns out that it was arranged by their parents."

"Then Melody isn't his mistress at tall. St.

She's Ewan's true love."

"Ewan's really brave. He defied the chains of his family just to pursue his true love."

"One of them is Yorhine University's best-looking man, while the other is Yorhine University's most beautiful woman. This is heaven for those of us who enjoy looking at pretty people. I support these two as a couple!"

"Haley's the more devious one. How dare she come out and criticize Ewan and Melody? Didn't she look at her ugly reflection in the mirror? She isn't a good match for Ewan at all."

The students surrounding them started to change their points of view upon hearing Carly's inflammatory words. They started to Melody's pursuit of true love instead.

Halley said, "That was what happened"

Pitt. Ha ha ha. This time, Carly wasn't the only one laughing. Instead, she was joined in by all the surrounding students. "Hailey, do you even believe yourself? That Mr. Shaw would have complimented your beauty and said that he liked you?" "Stoplying Mr. Shaw would never like an ugly girl"

The surrounding students were all laughing at Halley, Jeering at her, and calling her "ugly woman". Hailey's face quickly turned white.

Ewan looked derisively at Hailey. How dare this ugly woman break off their engagement? She should have sobbed and begged him to stay with her.

Melody smirked. So what if she was a daughter of the Lambert tally? She had still lost to Melody.

It was then that a sweet sounding voice rang out, “It sure is noisy today.”

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 299

Carly looked up and saw Celine, Celine was here!

Carly’s smile grew wider. She had been waiting for Celine all along, and Celine had finally come!

Celine walked up to stand beside Hailey. Halley said angrily, “Celine, these people really are disgusting. They keep twisting the truth to suit their own

“I know, Halley.” Celine gave Hailey a reassuring glance, telling her to be patient.

Carly smiled. “Celine, you came at just the right time. Your friend Hailey just said that Mr. Shaw likes her. Do you believe that? As humans, we should all recognize our limitations. So I’m asking you this, do you think that Hailey is ugly?”

Carly was trying to put Celine in between a rock and a hard place.

Celine raised an eyebrow as her clear paze tell on Carly’s face. “Of course, Halley Isn’t ugly. To the contrary, Hailey’s a great beauty.”

What? Ha Ha ha ha.

Carly, Ewan, and Melody all laughed. In fact, Melody laughed so hard that she doubled over “Celine, you’re saying that Hailey’s a great beauty?”

Carly felt that Celine had fallen into her trap. “Celine, you must be in cahoots with Halley!”

Ewan looked at Hailey. It was obvious that she was an ugly woman, but her eyes were clear and bright. They were the prettiest set of eyes he had ever

The students around them all laughed. “Celine, you’re ruining the meaning of the word beauty.”

“Celine, we know you’re good friends with Hailey, but even so, you can’t lie through your teeth like this.”

Carly fell supremely satisfied watching how Celine and Hailey had become the targets of all the students there.

However, Celine wasn’t anxious. She stood there calmly and winked at Hailey. “Hailey, since it’s already come to this, you should just tell everyone that.... the birthmark on your face is actually fake!”

Hailey was stunned. Everyone there was taken aback. The birthmark was fake?

Hailey was completely thrown into confusion. She pulled at Celine’s sleeve and said quietly, “Celine, this birthmark is real!”

Carly took a step forward. She didn’t believe Celine’s words “Celine, if you’re saying that Hailey’s birthmark is fake, then prove it to us!

Ewan and Melody came forward as well. Ewan said firmly, “I’ve known Hailey for a long time. She was born with this birthmark. It’s impossible for it to be a fake. She’s an ugly woman alright.”

Celine looked at Ewan. Her clear gaze turned cold and sharp, “Are you scared, Mr. Shaw?”

Ewan was was startled “What should I be scared of?”

“You’re scared that Hailey will suddenly turn from an ugly woman into the type of woman you like. You’re scared that you would regret everything!” Ewan snorted coldly. “I won’t regret anything!”

“Alright. You said it yourself. I hope for your sake that you won’t eat your own words in the future.”

As she spoke, Celine took out the makeup removal tissue she had prepared beforehand. “Hailey, stand here and don’t move. I’ll remove your birthmark for you now.”

Hailey was completely in the dark about what Celine was doing. She kept casting anxious looks at Celine. “Celine!”

Celine looked at Hailey calmly and took a step forward. Her hands landed on Hailey’s face as she gently rubbed away at the birthmark.

“This birthmark has followed you around for so many years, but now we don’t need it anymore. Our Hailey’s going to turn into a great beauty!”

Melody didn’t believe that the birthmark was fake, but the next moment she was paralyzed where she stood. This was because she was watching with her own eyes as the birthmark on Hailey’s face was slowly rubbed off little by little.

“They didn’t know who was it that sucked in a sharp breath, but several people probably did. Everyone there was shocked.

The birthmark was slowly removed and underneath it, Hailey’s beautiful creamy skin was revealed. It was observed Hailey’s beautiful face slowly being revealed like chiseling a diamond out of a rock as they Hailey’s features were beautiful. Her beauty was the type that had been cultivated carefully by one of the richest families in the city, being both delicate and brilliant..

Once the birthmark was removed, it was revealed there was even a beauty mole under her right eye.

She was a beautiful sight to behold. Gosh!

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 300

Everyone kept sucking in sharp breaths. The ugly woman had made a comeback and turned into a great beauty.

Carly and Melody couldn’t believe their eyes the most. Their eyes widened. Hailey’s birthmark had really disappeared? How was this possible?

Celine took her hands back. “It’s done.”

She took out a small hand mirror and gave it to Hailey. “Hailey, it’s time for you to get reacquainted with yourself.”

Hailey took the mirror and saw herself in the reflection. Was this really her? Hailey slowly put a hand on her right cheek. After the shock and confusion, tears finally wet her cheeks.

To tell the truth, when she was alone with her thoughts at night, she would sometimes wonder just what she had done wrong

Hailey looked at Celine with tears in her eyes. Celine's eyes were full of warmth and gentleness as she smiled. "Our Hailey's become a great beauty!" Hailey wanted nothing more than to lunge at Celine and give her a big hug

However, Ewan's voice rang out. "This isn't possible!"

Hailey turned to look at Ewan. Ewan's vision was instantly filled with her pretty little face and he froze where he stood.

It turned out that Hailey wasn't an ugly woman! It turned out that Hailey was beautiful!

Hailey looked at Ewan and smiled coldly. "Ewan, I've finally seen your true colors today. You know your sins the best. I don't want to involve myself any further with someone like you. We've already broken off the engagement, so from now on let's live our own lives peacefully."

With that, Hailey turned and was about to leave. But then at that moment, a cool and lean figure entered Hailey's vision. Declan was here.

Hailey's eyes widened. She hadn't thought that Declan would come to school today.

Declan wasn't interested in the commotion there at all. He strode toward the classroom with a jacket in his hands.

Hailey was very happy and immediately ran after him. "Declan, wait for me!"

In a flash, Hailey had run off after Declan. This caused another commotion among everyone there.

"Isn't that Declan?"

"It's a rare occasion for Declan to show up at school, but still there are many girls who go after him. Additionally, most of those girls are from rich families."

"Is it possible that Hailey likes Declan too

**?"

"Hailey doesn't like Ewan, but she likes Declan instead?"

the top scorer. Declan had

Ewan knew about Declan too. At the college entrance exam, he was the district's second-highest scorer, but Declan was the top scor surpassed him by a large degree.

After that, both of them entered Yorhine University and shared the title of Yorhine University's most handsome man. It was difficult for Ewan not to know about Declan.

But now Hailey had left him behind to chase after Declan? She liked Declan?

The hands that were dangling by Ewan's sides curled into fists.

Hailey caught up to Declan "Hello, Declan!"

Declan looked at Hailey expressionlessly. He really was cold.

Hailey smiled sweetly at him. The beauty mole under her eye made her look even prettier and delicate. "Declan, don't you recognize me? I'm Halley!"

Just as those words left her lips, her wrist was grabbed by someone. She turned to see Ewan's furious face.

Ewan said through gritted teeth, "Hailey, what's the meaning of this?"
