

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 51

Chapter 51

However, Adam belonged to Carly,

This would make things complicated

The wealthy heirs at the table grew more excited. Tracy was a famously unattainable beauty. Due to her being single, many men harbored feelings for her.

Celine urged. “Tracy, it’s time to pick someone.

Then, she glanced at Carly with a teasing smile. “Carly, Tracy has always been proud and picky Who do you think she’ll choose?”

Carly shot Celine a glare. “Tracy is so exceptional that plenty of men are after her, of course, she’s going to be a little picky. Do you really need to point that out?”

Celine responded with a smile without saying anything

Carly turned her attention to Tracy. She was genuinely curious and had no idea whom Tracy would pick.

Tracy became Dr. C’s assistant not long after her return from abroad. Her immediate family was now flourishing in Sonia’s favor. They were actively seeking a wealthy husband for her among the high society in Mercity.

Carly looked at Tracy. “Who will it be, Tracy?!!

Everyone looked at Tracy curiously.

Tracy got up and cast an infatuated glance at Adam. “Alright, I’ll make my choice now.” She began walking in his direction.

As Tracy passed by one of the wealthy heirs, Carly’s eyes lit up “Tracy, are you choosing Mr Caster?”

Tracy walked past Ronald Carter and stopped near Marcus Quinn,

Carly’s eyes brightened even more. “Tracy, are you picking Mr. Quinn?

But it wasn’t him, either.

Tracy walked past all wealthy heirs, leaving only Adam

With a gasp, Carly jumped up and blocked Tracy's path, Carly asked incredulously, "Tracy, who exactly are you choosing? Are you picking Adam?"

With Carly blocking the way, Tracy couldn't approach Adam. She looked directly at Carly and said, "Yes, Carly. I'm picking Mr. Alvarez."

Carly's eyes widened in shock. She had never imagined that her arrogant and self-assured cousin would set her sights on Adam.

Adam was hers. And now Tracy wanted to snatch him away!

"No way, Tracy! You can't pick Adam!!"

Tracy was confident in her position as Dr. C's assistant. She believed she outshone Carly in every way.

"Why not? We're just playing a game. Celine asked me to pick any man here, including Mr. Alvarez. Carly, can't you handle just a little game?" "You!" Carly was infuriated.

The wealthy heirs pearly chuckled

"The Tate cousins are about to fight over Mr. Alvarez! They were joining allies just moments ago, and now they're ready to tear each other apart for him." Everyone was entertained by the unfolding drama.

Robin discreetly gave Celine a thumbs-up. "Celine, you're amazing! You've got them at each other's throats."

The alliance Carly and Tracy had formed to humiliate Celine had completely fallen apart, with a smirk, Celine watched the chaos unfold.

just then, she suddenly felt a cold and piercing gaze on her. When she looked up, her eyes locked with Adam's grim stare.

Instead of looking at Carly or Tracy, Adam fixed his gaze on her. His frosty gaze radiated a chilling intensity.

Celine ungraciously averted her gaze and got up. "Robin, I'm going to the restroom."

Celine splashed cold water onto her face in the restroom before heading o

As she walked past the men's restroom on the way back, a muscular suddenly shot out like lightning, grabbing her slender waist and yanking her inside. Celine gasped in fight.

Her delicate back was pressed against the cold and hard wall. When she looked up, Adam's aristocratic, handsome face loomed close to hers.

Celine frowned. "Mr. Alvarez, what are you doing? Why did you drag me in the men's restroom?"

Standing tall and imposing, Adam blocked her in, trapping her between his chest and the wall. He sneered and asked, "Celine, did you do it on purpose?"

Chapter 52.

Celine reached out to push Adam. "I don't know what you're talking about!

"Keep pretending" Adam's expression darkened with hostility. "You deliberately pushed me toward Tracy!"

He had figured it out. He had seen through Celine's scheme of using him as a pawn to sow discord between Carly and Tracy.

Without even batting an eyelid, Celine handed him over and let another woman hiss him for three minutes

Seeing no point in pretending anymore, Celine looked right into Adam's eyes. "Mr. Alvarez, Tracy likes you."

"If she likes me, that's her business, What does it have anything to do with me?" he retorted.

Many women had crashes on him, but that didn't mean he needed to take responsibility for each one Celine was rendered speechless. It seemed he wasn't interested in Tracy, Carly still held his undivided attention.

"Mr. Alvarez, why are you so angry? Carly and Tracy both like you. Their competition over you only proves how irresistible you are! Let go of me!"

Adam remained still and asked in a low voice, "Have you forgotten what I told you that night? Why are you still tangled up with Nathan?"

He smirked densively as he continued, "Celine, Isn't this just your way of provoking me and getting my attention?

Celine was stunned by how self-absorbed Adam was. "Mr. Alvarez, you have such a wild imagination. I don't like you anymore!

It was the second time she had said she didn't like him.

With a sneer, he brushed his slender fingers against her delicate face. He gently and suggestively caressed her soft skin.

His voice dropped to a deeply magnetic tone that could easily send shivers down anyone's spine. "You really don't like me anymore? It seems you've forgotten how my kiss left you breathless."

Adam was a master of seduction

Celine's small face flushed intensely because she still remembered that night. She hadn't forgotten how he kissed her with his eyes wide open and then mocked her for being dered by it
He had the audacity to bring it up again.

At that moment, he tilted her chin upward. His gaze was mischievous and certain. "Let's test it now and see if

He leaned in, aiming for her red lips.

This

jerk was so sure that she still liked him. He was taking advantage of her feelings

Celine seized the moment and struck her knee right at Adam's groin.

Caught off guard, Adam genuinely took the hit. It hurt so much that he could barely speak

He gritted his teeth and growled her name. "Celine Tate!"

Celine forcefully shoved him away. "Mr. Alvarez, surely you understand now that I don't like you anymore!"

Without sparing him another glance, Celine walked away.

Adam was left speechless.

if you truly have no feelings for me anymore."

When Celine returned to the booth, Carly and Tracy had already returned to their seats.

The previous round of Truth or Dare had been scrapped. No one wanted to sit idly by and watch them fightover Adam.

Adams also returned to his seat. He wore a dark expression, warning people to stay away.

Celine molded looking at him and pretend had happened.

The third round of the game began,

This time, the bottle's neck was pointed at Benjamin while the bottom was at Nathan.

Benjamin eagerly rubbed his hands together. “Finally, it’s my turn! Nathan, you’re playing Darel just be Tracy’s Dare earlier, I want you to pick one of the ladies here and give her a three–minute kiss, with tong!”

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 53

Prev ChapterNext Chapter

Chapter 51

Once again, the atmosphere reached another peak.

“Which socialite in Mercy will be the one to win Mr. Lynch’s heart? It’s time to find out! the group exclaimed

Under everyone’s state, Nathan got up and walked toward Celine. He had chosen Celine without hesitation

Carly and Tracy’s expressions both shifted

Adam was holding a cocktail with a poker face. But his handsome features were as cold as ice.

Robin was the happiest of them all. She exclaimed excitedly, “Wow! Could it be that Mr. Lynch has fallen for Celine?”

Celine looked up at Nathan. Having just closed the chapter with Adam, she had no intention of starting a new romance. Therefore, she didn’t want to give Nathan any false hope.

At that moment, Nathan leaned down and drew his handsome face close toward hers.

Celine said, “Mr. Lynch, 1 ”

Nathan winked and whispered, “Celine, I need you to play along”

Celine was stunned

Nathan explained, "It's just for the game. You wouldn't want me to face a penalty, would you? For the sake of that medicinal oil, help me out here."

Celine felt trapped, wishing she could return the medicinal oil to him instead.

Robin started to cheer. "Kiss! Kiss! Kiss!!

Nathan gently cupped Celine's face and leaned in closer. He kept on leaning forward until their lips were about to meet.

Adam watched as Nathan and Celine were about to kiss. His grip on the cocktail glass slowly tightened until his knuckles turned deathly pale.

The crowd erupted the moment Nathan and Celine finally kissed.

Carly was fuming. She yanked on Adam's sleeves and complained, "Adam, look! Celine really managed to seduce Mr. Lynch!"

Adam's eyes narrowed sharply as he stared at the pair.

Nathan held Celine's face as he kissed her. The group roared with excitement.

Celine turned her face away to break the kiss. Her cheeks flushed red as she buried her face in Nathan's arm.

Nathan glanced down at her. Her eyes simmered like spring water as she glanced at him shyly and bashfully

The sight was unbearable for Adam. He realized Celine could be just as soft and alluring while kissing Nathan Adam had always thought that side of hers was his alone to see. But it turned out that other men could experience it too. He started to believe that she had truly lost interest in him. The wealthy heirs began to cheer again. "Mr. Lynch, you promised a three-minute kiss. That one only lasted for a minute."

"Keep going! We want more!"

Nathan gave Celine a gentle look before smiling “Celine is feeling shy. Don’t overwhelm her.”

With that, Nathan picked up a bottle of liquor. “I’ll take the penalty.”
He began drinking.

The wealthy heirs erupted again. They were teasing Nathan and Celine ruthlessly.

Carly and Tracy could only watch as Celine became the center of attention of the night while they turned into a joke over their fight for Adam, Celine had effortlessly captured Nathan’s favor

They didn’t think she deserved it

Before Carly could continue ranting to Adam, a glass-shattering sound rang out

Adam had crushed the glass with his bare hands. The shards of glass cut deep into his palm. His blood began dripping onto the floor.

Carly gasped in shock. “Adam, your hand is injured! Quick, get a doctor to bandage it right away!”

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 54

Everyone was so caught up in the excitement that they didn’t notice what was happening with Adam.

Adam ignored Carly and got up to leave

Carly quickly chased after him. “Adam, wait for me!”

The game ended. Celine, Nathan, and Robin decided to leave the club

Nathan looked at Celine with a smile, “Celine, thank you for earlier,”

Celine shook her head. Nathan hadn’t actually kissed her earlier. Instead, he only cupped her face and kissed his own fingers.

But to everyone else, it appeared as a genuine kiss.

Celine chuckled. “Mr. Lynch, I guess that repays my debt for the medicinal oil, right?”

As soon as she finished speaking, Tracy’s voice rang out from behind. “Mr. Lynch, please wait.”

Celine turned around to see Tracy approaching

Nathan glanced at her. “Ms. Tracy, what can I do for you?”

Tracy walked up to him. “Mr. Lynch, don’t let Celine fool you. I’m here to expose her true colors!

Celine’s expression turned cold. She knew Tracy wouldn’t be able to hold back.

Nathan questioned, “Ms. Tracy, what are you trying to say?”

Do you know who Mrs. Alvarez is? It’s Celine!”

Nathan was stunned as he looked at Celine.

Tracy continued, “Over three years ago, Mr. Alvarez ended up in a coma due to a car accident. That’s when Celine, who had just returned from the countryside, took the opportunity to marry him. She’s the ugly duckling that Mr. Alvarez has never gotten intimate with!

She asked, “Mr. Lynch, are you seriously considering taking on the woman your good friend has discarded?”

At that moment, Adam and Carly also walked over.

When Celine glanced at Adam, she noticed the white bandage wrapped around his right hand. She wondered why he had gotten injured. After all, his hand had been fine in the men’s restroom earlier.

Carly turned to Nathan. “Mr. Lynch, Tracy is right. Celine is Adam’s wife! Don’t let yourself be her rebound!”

Under the dim lighting, Adam’s striking features were partially obscured. He looked at Celine with a hint of mockery.

Celine understood Adam’s unspoken message. When they were at Alvarez Residence the other night, he had told her that Nathan wasn’t one to be someone’s rebound.

She assumed Adam was enjoying her humiliation as much as Carly and Tracy did. They were expecting Nathan to reject her.

Nathan looked intently at Celine. "Celine, Is this true?"

Celine replied honestly, "Yes"

"

Tracy exclaimed excitedly. "See, Mr. Lynch? She admitted it"

Carly scoffed. "Could she dare denyin?"

Nathan smiled faintly. "Actually, I already suspected as much."

His response caught Carly and Tracy off guard.

He then turned to Adam and said, "Adam, I had already guessed the nature of your relationship with Celine, so now I'm at ease."

Carly and Tracy didn't understand what Nathan was at ease about.

They felt that something was off. Celine had already stolen the spotlight, thanks to Nathan. They didn't think she deserved his attention and were determined to end this.

To them, the countryside was where Celine rightfully belonged. They were convinced that once Nathan found out Celine was Adam's discarded wife, he would never pursue her. They were waiting to watch Celine's downfall.

However, things weren't unfolding as they hoped.

"Adam, I know the one you like is Carly. Since you're not interested in celine, does that mean I can officially start pursuing her now?"

With that, Nathan took Celine's hand, holding it gently. He declared, "Adan, I like Celine, and want to be with her."

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 55

Not one did Nathan not look down on Celine, but he also confessed to her tight in front of Addams.

Cathy and Tracy were in utter disbelief. "Mr. Lynch

They wondered if Nathan had lost his mind for wanting to take over his good friend's ex-wife.

Adam's gaze fell on Nathan and Celine's intertwined hands. The temperature around him dropped instantly.

With an icy tone, he replied to Nathan, "Sure, do whatever you want and play however you like.

With that, he walked off.

Celine quickly went after him.

Celine watched Adam's departing figure, thinking about his indifference toward her. He allowed Nathan to pursue her and even let him treat her however he pleased.

"Helme, I've known Adam for many years. He will never leave Carly." Nathan said.

Celine quickly withdrew her hand from Nathan's grasp. "I know."

At that moment, Nathan suddenly stepped closer and pressed her against the wall. With a mischievous smile, he asked, "So, will you be my girlfriend? However Adam pampers Gary, I'll pamper you just the same."

Celine had no intention of getting involved with Nathan. Slightly startled, she responded, "Mr. Lynch, I appreciate your kindness, but I'm not worth it. I'm just a girl from the countryside without a proper education or a stable job. I'm not good enough for you.

With that, she pushed him away and hurried off. "Goodbye, Mr. Lynch."

As Nathan watched her run off, he laughed and found her even more interesting

He truly liked her

When Adam left the bar, a Rolls-Royce was already waiting by the roadside. Leo respectfully opened the backseat door for him.

At that moment, Carly caught up with him and hugged him from behind. "Adam, what's wrong with you? Why are you being so cold to me?"

Carly panicked because she couldn't make sense of Adam's attitude toward her.

Adam brushed off her hand without a hint of emotion. "I need to return to the office to handle some matters. You should go home."

With that, he got inside the car.

Leoveted to the driver's seat and drove away.

Carly stomped her foot in frustration. "Adam!"

While inside the car, Leo said, "Mr. Alvarez, it seems Mr. Lynch is genuinely serious about Mrs. Alvarez "

Adam loosened the buttons of his shirt, revealing his defined collarbone. He felt like only by doing so could be ease his breath.

Nathan's actions today had truly caught him off guard. He knew just how high Nathan's standards were, yet he was willing to settle for Celine

Adam's tone was icy. "She's just great at seducing men!"

The image of Celine bushing with shy allure while kissing Nathan flashed in his mind. No man could possibly resist her.

Even Adam succumbed to the temptation. He had had physiological reactions toward her several times. He thought Celine wasn't satisfied with just seducing him. Now she was going after Nathan too.

"Mr. Alvarez, are we heading back to Alvarez Residence? Leo asked.

To the office I'll stay there for the next couple of days"

He didn't want to go back and see Celine

Adam lowered the glossy glass window, letting the cold wind brush his face. He still felt a faint ache in his lower body

Her strike really seemed determined to ruin him. Only she would dare to do things like slapping him and kneeling his groin.

Her words of her not liking him anymore echoed in his ears. Adam tried hard to shake it off, convincing himself he didn't need her affection.

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 56

Adam couldn't help but mock his own behavior that day. He couldn't believe he had gone out of his way to get medicinal oil for Celine and admitted defeat in the first round of the game for her.

He even crushed a wine glass in his hand because of her!

He was aware that he had been falling hard for her over the past few days—so much that he no longer recognized himself

From now on, be reminded himself to just let her be.

He couldn't care less about what she did with Nathan!

Back at Tate Manor, Carly was throwing a tantrum in the living room.

“Dad, Mom, Adam is ignoring me!” she exclaimed.

Hayden was taken aback. “How could he do that to you? Have Mr. Alvarez and Celine finalized their divorce? When is he planning to marry you?”

Carly paced angrily. “They're still not divorced yet! It's all Celine's fault—she doesn't want the divorce!”

Hayden's expression darkened. He turned to Lucy and asked, “What's the meaning of this? Isn't Celine your daughter? Why aren't you keeping her in check? Why does she keep getting in Carly's way?”

Lucy replied in a soft voice. “Don't worry

, honey, I'll make sure they finalize their divorce soon.”

“How do you plan on doing that?”

“In two days, it'll be Mom's 80th birthday banquet. I've got a little plan that should get things moving...” A vicious smirk appeared on her face as if she already had it all figured

QUE

Hayden quickly comforted Carly. “Don't worry, Carly. Just bear with it for a few more days.”

Carly stood up. “Fine! I'll be heading upstairs now.

After Carly went upstairs, Harden also stood up to leave

However, Lucy stopped him. “Honey, it's already so late. Don't go.”

Ever since the night when she failed to drug Celine, Hayden had been very cold toward her. He didn't bother returning home, leaving her all alone,

Lucy leaned into his arms and gently traced her fingers across his chest. “Honey, I miss you...”

Hayden immediately pushed her away. “I’ll come back when Mr. Alvarez divorces Celine. It’s all up to you now,”

With that, he walked out, leaving Lucy frozen on the spot. Her expression darkened.

She knew that Hayden had been seeing his secretary recently. She wouldn’t stand for sharing her husband with another woman!

She desperately wished that she could fast forward to Sonia’s Both birthday. She would do whatever it took to make sure that Adam divorces Celine.

On the day of the banquet, Tate Manor was brightly decorated and bustling with guests. They had invited all of the most influential people in society. Celine had also returned for the occasion.

As she stepped inside, she noticed Sonia seated in a chair. Hayden, Lucy, and Carly stood on her left, and Wayne, Hazel, and Tracy stood on her right side. Everyone was gathered around, offering

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 57

As Celine entered the room, no one bothered to acknowledge her presence. She quietly stood at the side, feeling completely out of place amid the lively atmosphere.

Lucy finally spoke up. “Celine, you’re back.”

with that, all eyes turned toward Celine in unison.

The smile on Sonia’s face instantly disappeared and was replaced by a look of disdain. “What are you doing here, Celine?”

Lucy chuckled awkwardly. “Mom, since it’s your birthday today, I thought it was only right to have Celine come.”

Sonia looked displeased. “I didn’t ask for her. Look at how outstanding Tracy and Carly are! And then there’s Celine—just a country bumpkin who doesn’t belong here. She’s nothing but a disgrace!”

Sonia disliked Celine,

Carly and Tracy looked exquisite they had carefully dressed up for today’s banquet. They glanced coldly at Celine, then turned to reassure Sonia.

“Grandma, since Celine’s already here, just let her stay. She’s still your granddaughter, after all. You can’t just turn her away,” Carly said sweetly. There was a hint of mockery in her tone.

“Grandma, today’s your special day. Don’t let something so trivial ruin your mood,” Tracy added with an insincere smile on her face.

A small smile appeared on Sonia’s face once again. “I’m truly blessed to have both of you as my granddaughters.”

Her words, however, carried an implied meaning—she didn’t see Celine as her granddaughter.

Celine couldn’t help but scowl inwardly.

The Tate family was nothing back in the day. Her father, Aaron Tate, had built the family’s fortune from the ground up.

When Aaron started making money, he sent Hayden to university, making him the first university graduate in the family. He also introduced Wayne into the steel business, making him the successful businessman he is today.

However, when Aaron passed away, none of them mourned his loss. Instead, they were quick to fight over his assets.

Everything they had today was the fruit of her father’s hard work

Sonia was the shrewdest of them all—she only favored those who brought glory to the Tate family.

Celine shot them a cold glance. One day, she promised herself, she would make them lose everything that didn’t truly belong to t to them.

Lucy turned to Celine and snapped, “Celine, don’t just stand there. Your grandma doesn’t want to see you. There are so many guests here tonight, and the nsaids are short- banded. Go help out ”

Lucy treated her like a maid

Celine kept her expression neutral. She nodded obediently and replied, “Okay.”

As she made her way to the group of maids, one of them instructed her, “Hurry up and take these wine glasses to the kitchen ”

Celine didn’t fight back. She just did as she was told. She was aware that she was a nobody in Tate Manor, even the maids felt they could command her.

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 58

As she made her way toward the kitchen, murmurs suddenly rippled across the room.

“Look, it’s Mr. Alvarez!”

Adam had arrived. He was dressed in a tailor-made suit with a shiny tassel brooch pinned to his pocket. He looked sharp and sophisticated.

He walked in with an effortless confidence. The warm glow of the chandelier highlighted his striking features. His icy gaze swept across the room, sending a chill down the spines of those who met it.

His entrance caused quite a stir in the banquet.

Carly happily rushed over to him and linked her arm with his “Adam, you’re here!”

This time, he didn’t push her away.

Sonia smiled broadly. “Mr. Alvarez, welcome!” she greeted him warmly.

Adam nodded politely. “Happy birthday, Mrs. Tate Senior. I’ve brought you a gift”.

Leo stepped forward to present the gift. He carefully opened the box to reveal an exquisite painting.

Sonia’s eyes immediately lit up with excitement. “Mr. Alvarez, is this ‘Elegance in Bloom’ by Zachary Foster from the Earan Age?”

Chapter

Over the past few years, the Tate family had risen to prominence with Adam’s support. Over time, Sanishad also developed a fondness for antiques and she had been searching for this particular painting for quite some time Now, Adam had gifted it to her

The crowd quickly gathered around, and murmurs erupted across the room.

“Mr. Abacer really knows how to make a statement. This painting is a rare find.”

Carly couldn't take her eyes off Adam Admiration gleamed in her eyes—he was not only wealthy but also incredibly thoughtful. The thought of him made her heart flutter.

Calamed shyly. “Thank you, Adam.”

Meanwhile, several prominent businessmen approached them.

“Mr. Alvarez and Ms. Tate are truly a match made in heaven. Should we take your presence here tonight as a hint that we can expect a wedding announcement soon on businessmen, David Weston, teased.

“I'm sure it won't be long before we'll have to start calling Ms. Tate as Mrs. Alvarez another businessman, Robert Lanning, added with a grin..

As the conversation unfolded, Hayder and Lucy made their way toward them

Hayden's current status wasn't quite on par with the businessmen present in fact, they had just rejected a proposal he had made a few days ago.

He chuckled awkwardly and said, “Mr. Weston, Mr. Lanning please enjoy the evening!”

David smiled. “Mr. Tate, send over your updated proposal tomorrow. We can discuss our collaboration father.”

Hayden's eyes instantly lit up. “Really? Thank you so much, Mr. Westen.”

Robert smiled warmly. “No need to thank us, Mr. Tate. You're fortunate to have adegther like Ms. Tate”

Sonia squeezed Cathy's hand. “Of course, Garly is truly a blessing to our family”

Hayden and Lary couldn't have been prouder, with Adam's presence, the banquet had been elevated to another level. They could hardly imagine the glory that awaited them once Adam became their son-in-law

Adam was the and of many who could satisfy every woman's dreams of prestige

Surrounded by compliments, Carly felt like she was on top of the world. She gazed at Adam, admiration shining in her eyes.

Adam lowered his gaze and glanced at Carly. His usual roll gate instantly softened Celine, who was holding a tray of wine glasses, watched them from afar.

Adam and Carly stood in the center of the spotlight, being adored by everyone. This was the special honor that Adam had given to Carly

It was clear that when Adam loved a woman, he spoiled her to the core

Celine's mind drifted back to a few years ago in the cave, when he had held her tightly and whispered, "I'll take you away with me. I want you."

To this day, she never understood why the man who once claimed to want her no longer did. Celine lowered her gaze and turned away

Just then, Adam lifted his gaze and spotted her retreating figure.

A businessman standing beside him followed his line of sight and noticed Celine as well. "Mr. Alvarez, do you know that woman?" he asked.

"No, I don't," Adam replied coldly.

Carly silently let out a sigh of relief. She couldn't explain why she'd been so nervous in the first place. There was no way that Adam would take an interest in country but like Celine!

She then turned to Lucy, who gave her a knowing nod. The show she had planned for tonight was about to begin

When Celine made her way to the kitchen, a maid suddenly spoke up. "Hurry up and take this bowl of soup to the room. Mrs. Tate has requested for it."

The maid was referring to Lucy, who had ordered the soup to be delivered to her room.

ng their birthday wishes to Sonia

Sonia was beaming with joy as she held Tracy's hand. "I heard that Tracy is now an assistant to the legendary Dr.C. Is that true?"

Wayne and Tracy proudly replied, "Yes, Mom, It's true! Dr. Cis a medical prodigy, and she personally chose Tracy to be her assistant." Celine was left speechless by their words.

Sonia smiled even wider. "That's amazing! You're really making our family proud, Tracy"

Not wanting to be outshined, Hayden quickly interjected, "Mom, Carly is now the prima ballerina as well!"

Although both families appeared harmonious, there was always some underlying competition between them.

Hayden and Lucy weren't about to let them steal the spotlight in front of Sonia!

As expected, Sonia immediately reached out to grab Carly's hand. "You're doing great too, Carly! Both of you are truly making our family proud."

Sonia beamed with pride as she held Tracy's and Carly's hands in each of hers. She was in a great mood today- until her eyes landed on Celine, who had just stepped through the door.

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 59

Chapter 59

Celine didn't respond.

The maid immediately mocked her "Celine, do you really think of yourself as the eldest daughter of the Tate family? Let me remind you, the Tate family only has two daughters-Carly and Tracy"

"That's right! Ms. Tracy is now Dr. C's assistant, and Ms. Carly will soon be Mrs. Alvarez. But look at you-you're nothing!" Another maid chimed in.

"and take the soup upstairs!" they laughed.

"Hurry up a

The two maids clearly looked down on Celine.

Celine remained silent. She simply took the soup and made her way toward the room.

As she entered the hall, Adam, who was talking to a few other businessmen, noticed her. He frowned Wasn't she supposed to be the eldest daughter of the Tate family? Why was she acting like a maid? Was this the kind of treatment she received at home?

Adam's expression hardened. He couldn't believe that Celine, who was usually bold and defiant with him, had suddenly become quiet and submissive in front of others

So, it seemed that she one dared to act out toward him.

The room was empty when Celine entered. Just as she placed the soup on the table, she suddenly caught a strange scent in the air.

Although the smell was faint and colorless, her sharp senses immediately picked up on it. Within the next second, her eyes closed, and she collapsed onto the bed.

Moments later, the door creaked open, and someone slipped inside.

It was Hansel Garcia Lucy's nephew. He was known for being a player.

Hansel made his way to the bed and leered closer to Celine, who was passed out on the bed.

"Why didn't Aunt Lucy tell me this country bumpkin was so pretty? Looks like I hit the jackpot tonight."

Hansel reached for the hem of her clothes.

"You've got no one to blame but yourself. If you hadn't insisted on the position of Mrs. Alvarez, none of this would've happened.

"You're all mine now! Aunt Lucy will lead the others in soon. Your reputation will be completely ruined—it's such a scandal that even Mrs. Tate Senior won't be able to protect you! Adam will surely divorce you and marry Carly.

"And just in case you try to deny it later, I'll take some explicit photos and videos of you... That way, you'll have no choice but to obey me from now on."

He chuckled darkly.

Suddenly, Celine opened her eyes

Hansel froze. "H-How are you awake?"

Celine looked at him coldly. "I was only pretending to be unconscious. Otherwise, how else would I have learned about Lucy's interesting little plan?" Hansel's expression turned pale. "Y-You!"

Before he could react, Celine swiftly grabbed a packet of powder and threw it at him.

Hansel's vision blurred. He immediately collapsed onto the bed, unconscious.

Celine sneered coldly. She didn't expect Lucy to try the same trick twice. Couldn't she come up with something new?

Nevertheless, Lucy did step up her game this time.

While Carly was enjoying her time in the spotlight with Adam downstairs, Lucy was trying to ruin her—hoping to tarnish her reputation with explicit photos

How could any mother do that to her own daughter?

As Celine stood up, a plan formed in her mind—she wanted to give Lucy a taste of her own medicine.

As she reached for the door, she froze on the spot. There was someone outside who was trying to open the door.

Celine was curious about who it could possibly be. She quickly hid behind the door, her eyes sharp and alert. She moved her hand to her waist, where she quietly pulled out a silver needle.

The door creaked open..

The Divorce Prescription Chapter 60

Someone walked in

Celine quickly lunged at that person with the silver needle in her hand. But she missed

The person swiftly dodged her and grabbed her wrist. “Celine, what are you doing? His voice was cold, with a hint of anger.

Celine froze, and the needle slipped from her hand, clattering to the floor. It was Adam “Why are you here?” she asked.

Adam released his grip on her wrist. He carefully scanned the rooms, and his gaze quickly landed on Hansel “Who is he?”

Adam had noticed Hansel sneaking around and following Celine downstairs. So, he decided to follow him upstairs.

Just as Celine was about to respond, she heard footsteps approaching from outside. It was time for Lucy to face the consequences of her actions. She grabbed Adam’s arm and quickly pulled him behind the curtains

The door slammed open, and someone walked

“What-

Adam started, but she immediately cut him off.

“Shh! Be quiet,” she whispered urgently

Back in the hall, Carly, Hayden, Lucy, and Sonia were happily chatting with several businessmen. Wayne and Hazel, on the other hand, stood off to the side, their eyes filled with jealousy

Tracy is so much more talented than Carly! All Carly is good at is flirting. She just got lucky with Mr. Alvarez. Look at how proud Hayden and Lucy are now!” Hazel grumbled. Wayne quickly comforted her. “Don’t worry. Tracy will surely find someone as successful as Mr. Alvarez.”

Both Wayne and Hazel had high hopes for Tracy’s future partner. They were determined not to lose out to Hayden’s and Lucy’s family.

Sudden, a sharp scream echoed through the hall

Everyone in the hall froze. Murmurs began to spread as everyone started to grow curious about what had happened.

The corner of Lucy’s lips grew upwards. She eagerly anticipated the drama to unfold.

Just then, Carly grabbed her arm. “Mom, is this your doing?” she asked.

Lucy chuckled. “Mr. Alvarez and Celine will be finalizing their divorce very soon... You’re going to be Mrs. Alvarez!”

Carly smiled. “You’re the best, Mom.”

Lucy then turned to Hayden. “Honey, why don’t you stay home with me tonight.”

He pulled her closer. “As long as you handle this well, I’ll do whatever you want.”

Lucy sighed in relief. Then, she turned to the crowd and began her act. “What’s that noise? It sounds like it’s coming from that room. I’ll go check and see what happened.” The crowd quickly followed behind her. “Let’s go check it out too.”

Wayne and Hazel also followed suit. Soon, everyone was gathered outside the door.

A maid, one of Lucy’s accomplices, stood outside the door.

Lucy rushed up to her and asked, “Who’s inside?”

“Mrs. Tate, I saw Celine going in there..”

“Celine?” the crowd murmured in disbelief. “Isn’t she the country bumpkin? She’s not having an affair in there, is she?”

Sonia slammed her walking stick on the floor angrily. “I knew she was a disgrace! How dare she cause trouble at my birthday banquet!”

Lucy and Carly exchanged a quick, satisfied glance. All the influential people in Mercity were here today. If Celine were caught in the act, her reputation would be completely destroyed.

Lucy pretended to show deep concern. “I don’t believe that Celi

With that, she opened the door

Celine would do something like that I need to see it for myself.”

Inside, there were two figures entangled on the bed. Hansel was on top of a woman, ripping her clothes off