

The Divorce Prescription

Chapter 736

Adam held Bella securely in his strong embrace, then quietly reached up and plucked a strand of Bella's hair.

Bella was delighted and didn't notice anything amiss.

Just then, Celine returned. "Bella."

Bella's eyes lit up. "Mommy, you're back!"

Celine asked, "Bella, what have you been doing at home?"

Grace immediately picked up Bella's drawing. "Celine, this is the picture Bella just drew. Bella wants Adam to be her daddy and says she wants the three of them to always be together, never apart."

Celine froze as she looked at the drawing. Then, she lifted her gaze to Adam.

Adam smirked. "Bella, I'd love to be your daddy, but you'll have to ask your mommy first. Does she want me to be your daddy?"

Bella looked at Celine. "Mommy, I want Mr. Handsome to be my daddy. Can I?"

Celine hesitated. "Bella, things between adults are a little complicated . Let's not talk about this right now, okay?"

"But..."

Grace chuckled. "Let's eat first. Celine, go wash your hands and come have dinner."

"Okay," Celine replied.

Then, she went to wash her hands.

Grace took Bella from Adam's arms and gave him a look."

It looks like the road to winning your wife back is going to be a long one. Good luck."

Adam said nothing. He looked at the strand of hair in his hand. As long as Bella was his biological daughter, then Celine would be his, too!

Just then, Leo walked over. "Mr. Alvarez."

Adam handed him the hair. "Make sure the DNA test is done under your watch. I don't want anyone tampering with it. I want the results by tonight!"

Leo nodded. "Yes, Mr. Alvarez."

With that, he left.

Celine was washing her hands in the bathroom. She turned off the faucet and turned around, only to walk straight into a broad, warm chest. It was Adam's.

He had come in and was standing behind her without making a sound.

Celine's long lashes quivered as she blinked at him. "Mr. Alvarez, what are you doing standing behind me? Are you trying to scare me?"

She turned to leave.

Celine's clear, bright eyes landed on Adam's striking face.

"Mr. Alvarez, you're in my way."

Adam leaned in, placing both hands on the sink behind her, trapping her in his embrace as he chuckled. "Yeah, I'm blocking your way. What are you going to do about it?"

Celine fell silent. She raised both hands and pressed them against his firm chest, trying to push him away.

"Mr. Alvarez, move!"

Adam didn't budge. Not only did he refuse to move, but he also lowered his head, bringing his face closer to her delicate, elegant features. His voice dropped to a teasing whisper. "Give me a kiss, and I'll move."

What? A kiss?

Celine was stunned by his shamelessness and immediately refused. "No way!"

He pinched her dainty chin. "You don't want to, but I do."

Then, Adam lowered his head and captured her soft, rosy

---- Chapter 737 Celine trembled as she raised her hands and pressed them against his firm chest, trying to push him away. But Adam pinned her against the sink, trapping her delicate figure in his embrace. He kissed her forcefully, showing no intention of letting go. Celine opened her mouth and bit down hard on the corner of his lips. Adam flinched in pain and let her go. He wiped the corner of his lips with the back of his hand. He was already bleeding. Instead of getting angry, he smirked.

He looked at her and said, "Still as feisty as ever. You just love biting me, don't you?" She frowned. "Adam, what's wrong with you? Are you acting crazy because something happened?" She could tell something was off about him tonight. He was excited and possessive. Of course, Adam wasn't about to tell her he had secretly done a DNA test. He was waiting for the results, and just thinking that Bella might be his daughter thrilled him. He wanted to pull Celine into his arms and never let go.

---- "Why? Can't I kiss or hold you? I want to do a lot more than that." Celine quickly covered his mouth with her hand. "Mr. Alvarez, please watch your words. I'm already married. My husband is Perry!" Adam looked at her. Even now, she was still lying to him! There seemed to be a lot she was hiding from him. He lowered his head and kissed her fiercely again. She struggled. "Let go!" Just then, the bathroom door suddenly swung open, and a tiny figure appeared.

Bella's sweet voice rang out, "Mommy!" The next second, Bella saw Adam pressing against Celine, kissing her. She let out a little "uh-oh" and immediately covered her eyes with her hands. "Mr. Handsome is kissing Mommy! I can't look!" Celine shoved Adam away and rushed toward Bella. "Bella, listen to me-" At that moment, Grace appeared. She picked Bella up. "Bella, Mr. Handsome and Mommy are having a private moment. Come, I'll take you out to play." Then, Grace turned to them with a chuckle.

"Adam, Celine, carry on. I'll shut the door for you." ---- With that, she carried Bella out and thoughtfully closed the door behind her. Celine was speechless. Behind her, Adam laughed. She turned around and shot him a fierce glare. "How can you still laugh? This is all your fault! How am I supposed to face them now?" He reached out to pull her into his arms. "You've always been my woman."

It's perfectly normal for my mom and Bella to see this." Celine dodged his embrace, glared at him again, and stormed out the door. Adam, in high spirits, followed her out.

But just then, Leo arrived. "Mr. Alvarez." Adam stopped in his tracks. Ahead, Celine had already walked into the dining room and was sitting down to eat with Grace and Bella. Adam looked at his trusted aide. "Is the DNA test result out?" Leo nodded. "Yes, Mr. Alvarez." He handed the DNA test report to Adam.

---- Adam took it and asked, "Is Bella my daughter?" "Mr. Alvarez..." Leo hesitated. However, Adam cut him off. "Forget it. Don't say anything. I'll see it for myself." Right now, Adam was extremely nervous. He gripped the DNA test results tightly in his hands. Aman like him, always calm and composed in any situation, had never been this nervous before. Could Bella really be his biological daughter?

---- Chapter 738 "Mr. Alvarez, the DNA test results are right here. Open it and see for yourself," Leo said. Adam took a deep breath. "Alright." He opened the sealed envelope in his hand and pulled out the DNA test results. The moment he saw the results, his pupils shrank. The report confirmed that Bella was his biological daughter! Leo said, "Mr. Alvarez, the DNA test results show that you are indeed Ms. Bella's biological father. Congratulations , Mr. Alvarez!" Bella really was his daughter!

Adam could hardly believe it. He had never dared to imagine that Bella was actually his child! He had always assumed that Bella was Perry's daughter , but she wasn't! Adam looked toward the dining room. Bella sat beside Celine , painting a soft and warm picture. So, they both belonged to him. They were his! Everything he had ever dreamed of was right in front of ---- him. Then, what exactly was the relationship between Celine and Perry? Suddenly, Adam realized the question he had overlooked.

What was the true relationship between Celine and Perry? He had to go find Perry and get to the bottom of it. Adam strode out of the bathroom. In the dining room, Bella spotted Adam and softly called out, "Mr. Handsome..." However , he didn't hear her. He walked away with large strides. Grace frowned. "Where's Adam rushing off to? He's not even eating." Celine's clear gaze lingered on Adam's figure. What was going on with him today? Why was he acting so strange?

Grace said, "Celine, Bella, let's eat first. We don't have to wait for Adam. He's probably heading to the office." Celine nodded. "Alright." Perry was in his apartment when the doorbell suddenly rang. ---- He walked over and opened the door. "Who is it?" Outside stood the tall and imposing Adam. Perry paused, then curled his lips into a smirk. "Mr. Alvarez, not the guest I was expecting. What brings you to my door?" Adam shot Perry a cold glare. "Bella is my daughter.

Why did you claim that Bella was yours?" Perry was startled. "You know about Bella already?" "That's right. Celine told me." "Celine actually told you about Bella?" Deep down, Perry was happy. He knew that Celine had never forgotten about Adam in the past three years. That was why he had made every effort to bring Bella to Kinthorne.

Adam remained expressionless. "Yes, Celine told me about Bella and about your relationship with her!" Perry looked at Adam.

"Celine told you that, too?" "Perry, why did you claim to be Celine's boyfriend? Why did you say Bella was your daughter? You made me miss out on the three years with them! Do you have any idea how furious I am?" Adam shouted as he grabbed Perry by the collar. ---- Perry let out a cold laugh. "Adam, why don't you take a good look at yourself? You were the one who hurt Celine first. As her senior, of course, I had to teach you a lesson!" Adam was shocked. So, Perry was actually Celine's senior!

He had always assumed that Perry and Celine were lovers. But now, this revelation seemingly exploded in his mind. He was her senior, not her boyfriend! "You're Celine's senior?" Adam repeated. "That's right. Didn't you just say Celine already told you about your relationship..." Perry suddenly realized something. "Adam, Celine never told you anything, did she? You were just bluffing me, weren't you?"

---- Chapter 739 Perry had already realized that Adam had tricked him. In fact, the moment Adam saw the DNA test results, he had already suspected that there was nothing between Celine and Perry. Now that he knew Perry was actually Celine's senior, he was truly shocked. "You're Celine's senior? So, you're really her senior?" Adam laughed in delight. Perry was furious. He threw a punch straight at Adam's face. 'Adam didn't dodge. He took the punch head-on and was slammed right into the wall.

He wiped the corner of his lips with the back of his hand. His lips were bleeding. Perry grabbed Adam by the collar. "Adam, laugh all you want! How dare you laugh out loud?" Even though Adam had taken a punch, he was in a great mood. "So, you're Celine's senior! Celine is mine. She has always been mine from the very beginning!" Just thinking about it made Adam ecstatic. He and Celine had a child together. Celine had never belonged to anyone else. She was his.

---- This feeling of getting back what was once lost filled his chest with immense joy. He was over the moon. Today, he had gained everything. Perry looked at Adam. "That's right. I'm just Celine's senior. Bella is your biological daughter. Adam, you should be grateful to Celine. She's the one who gave you all of this! "Do you have any idea how many top-tier men have surrounded Celine over the past three years, all trying to pursue her? But she never showed any interest in them.

"I know she never forgot about you!" Adam felt his heart soften. So, all these years, Celine had been just like him-she had never forgotten him either. They still loved each other. "But Adam, you don't deserve Celine! Have you forgotten how much you hurt her in the past? And now, you're engaged to the Hampton family's heiress, set for a powerful alliance marriage. You're going to marry Carly. "You'll never be able to clean up the mess around you.

You don't deserve Celine at all!" Perry had never liked Adam, and now he unleashed all his anger on him in one go. Adam wanted to explain that the engagement between the Alvarez and Hampton families was never his choice. He would ---- take care of it now that he could reclaim what was his, after all. "Perry, I will never marry the Hampton family's heiress. The engagement between the Alvarez and Hampton families is officially canceled!" Perry let go of Adam.

No matter how much he disliked the man, Celine loved him. Ultimately, he wanted Celine to be happy. "Mr. Alvarez, you don't need to report your plans to me. Now that you know Bella is your daughter, all you have to do is take responsibility for Celine and your own child. Now, please leave." Perry was blatantly kicking him out. Adam took long strides toward the door. At the doorway, he turned back to look at Perry. "Perry, thank you." With that, Adam left.

Adam exited the apartment and got into his luxury car. Leo asked from the driver's seat, "Mr. Alvarez, where are we headed now?" Adam replied, "To the Hampton residence." Leo was curious. "Mr. Alvarez, why are you going to the ---- Hampton residence?" "I'm going to call off the engagement," Adam replied. Nigel and Fiona lay in bed together. Their clothes were scattered messily on the floor. Fiona rested on Nigel's chest, but suddenly, a thought crossed her mind.

"Is this the same bed you used with Anne? I don't want to be in this bed. It's disgusting!" She tried to get up, but Nigel held her down, refusing to let her move. "Relax. I knew you'd mind, so I already had that bed thrown out. This is a brand-new one, bought just to your liking." "A bed chosen to my liking? Oh? So, you've been planning all along to get me into this bed?" He looked at her flushed, alluring face. "You're Mrs. Hampton. You're obligated as my wife." Fiona was silent.

Nigel had kicked Anne out, and that moved Fiona. She knew that Nigel was a man of deep feelings and loyalty. If he had gotten rid of Anne, it meant he truly wanted to reconcile with her. He had already taken a step back again and again. Maybe it was time for her to change as well and take a step toward him. ---- Marriage needed effort. They weren't young anymore, and there was no point in wasting time. Nigel lowered his head and kissed her.

---- Chapter 740 Fiona quickly pushed him away. "Nigel, what are you doing?" "What do you think I'm doing? Let's go again!" he leered. Fiona was speechless. "Nigel, I'm serious. Take it easy!" He flipped her over and pinned her down. "Just one more time! Just as the two were tangled up, a sudden knock came at the door. A maid's voice came from outside. "Mr. and Mrs. Hampton!" Fiona immediately pushed him away. "Nigel, someone's here! Being interrupted, Nigel was displeased.

"What is it?" "Sir, you have a guest!" Nigel had no interest in entertaining anyone right now, "Tell them I'm not home. If they need anything, they can make an appointment!"

He leaned in to kiss Fiona again. Fiona opened her mouth and bit the corner of his lips. He winced in pain, and his eyes reddened with irritation. " ---- You're not going to behave, huh? Let's see how I deal with you! " "Nigel, stop messing around! Ah!" The maid's voice persisted from outside. "Mr.

Hampton, you must come out. Mr, Alvarez is here!" Adam was here! Fiona shoved Nigel away again. "Nigel, Adam's here!" Just then, Adam's voice rang from outside the door. "Where is Mr. Hampton? I need to see Mr. Hampton right now! Is Mr. Hampton in this room? If he is, I'm coming in!" The maid quickly stopped him. "Mr. Alvarez, you cannot barge in!" Fiona panicked. If Adam burst in and saw them like this, how would she maintain any dignity as an elder? "Nigel, get up now!" she urged.

Nigel got up reluctantly. As he sat on the edge of the bed, he suddenly felt a sharp pain in his waist. Fiona asked, "What's wrong, Nigel?" He rubbed his lower back. "I pulled my back!" She let out a soft snicker. He frowned. "What are you laughing at?" ---- She smirked. "I told you to take it easy, but you wouldn't listen. Now, you've thrown out your back. Do you think you're still the same man from 20 years ago?" "Are you doubting me? I-" Nigel wanted to prove himself. "Mr.

Hampton, I know you're in there. I have something important But outside, Adam was already about to break in. to discuss with you!" Nigel had no choice but to get out of bed. He dressed, opened the door, and saw Adam standing outside. Nigel pressed his lips together in displeasure. "Adam, what do you need?" Fiona also stepped out. "Mr. Alvarez." Adam glanced at Nigel, then at Fiona. He hadn't expected these two to be in the same room. He hesitated. "Mr.

Hampton, did I interrupt something?" Fiona quickly denied it. "Of course not. Mr. Hampton and I were just discussing-" Nigel shot Adam an annoyed look and cut Fiona off. "Young people these days have no common sense at all!" Fiona and Adam were speechless.
