

The Divorce Prescription

---- Chapter 746 Celine opened her mouth to speak, but Adam cut her off." Celine, I know a lot has happened between us, but the truth is, I've only ever loved you. I never wavered . Give me another chance. Let's start over." "adam, we..." Celine started, but Adam cupped her delicate chin and captured her lips in a deep kiss before she could finish. With just one kiss, he swallowed all her protests. Celine gasped, pressing her hands against Adam's firm chest, trying to push him away. "Adam, no!

Let me go!" she protested. Adam didn't budge. "I won't. Celine, don't tell me you don't love me anymore. I know everything -even about Perry being your senior." Celine's body stiffened. She hadn't expected him to know about that. "Celine, I've had no one else these three years, and neither have you. You still love me. I know it," Adam murmured. Celine's heart wavered for a split second before she snapped, "I don't love you!" ---- Adam chuckled.

"Your mouth says no, but your body tells the truth." Before Celine could react, he captured her lips once more, deepening the kiss as he tasted her sweetness. His tongue pried past her lips, sweeping through her mouth with unrestrained dominance. Celine hated herself at that moment. She wanted to resist Adam, but her body betrayed her. Memories of their entanglement three years ago flashed vividly in her mind. Their chemistry had been undeniable.

They had always been in perfect sync, losing themselves in each other until they were completely spent. "Adam, stop-" she protested weakly, pushing at his shoulders. Adam trailed kisses down to her delicate ear, teasing her with his warm breath. With a swift motion, he slid her coat off her shoulders, revealing the thin slip dress underneath. His voice was husky as he chuckled. "Look at yourself -you're melting in my arms, yet still saying no.

Are you playing hard to get?" Celine's face flushed with heat. At that moment, she suddenly had an epiphany. If she couldn't escape tonight, then why not enjoy it? After all, she knew better than anyone that Adam was an ---- exceptional lover. Without warning, she wrapped her arms around his neck and kissed him back. Adam froze for a moment before a knowing smile spread across his face. The moment her soft lips moved against his, he felt fire rush through his veins.

Celine sucked lightly on his bottom lip, sending a shiver down his spine. Adam swallowed hard, and his gaze darkened. He tightened his hold around her waist. "You little temptress," he growled. "You're going to suck the soul right out of me." Celine pulled away just slightly, trailing soft kisses down his chiseled jawline before murmuring near his ear, "Mr. Alvarez, you seem quite excited right now." Adam's control was slipping . He wanted nothing more than to merge her into his very being.

Just then, Celine playfully pushed him back, making him fall into his sleek black leather office chair. Then, she straddled him, settling into his lap. Adam smirked, capturing her lips once more. "You like being in control, hmm?" Celine grabbed his collar and pulled him close. "Mr. ---- Alvarez, I want you." Adam's smirk widened. "What am I to you then? A tool?" Celine smiled mischievously. "You can be whatever you want to be." Adam's gaze darkened with desire.

"Have you missed me these three years, especially at night when you were alone? Did you think about me?" Celine shivered under his intense stare. Adam was dangerous, especially in moments like this. "Yes," she admitted. Adam's fingers trailed along her jawline. "And what exactly did you think about?" Celine leaned in, brushing her lips against his cheek before murmuring in his ear like a wicked temptress, "I thought about devouring you, Mr. Alvarez."

---- Chapter 747 Adam's throat bobbed as he swallowed hard. His temptress was back. While gripping Celine's soft waist, he smirked. "With an appetite like that, are you sure you can handle it?" Celine looked at Adam. He was the most handsome, powerful man in the Capitol. He was arrogant, domineering, and impossible to resist. As she wrapped her arms around his neck, she laughed. "Why don't we find out?" Celine had no idea how much time had passed.

By the time Adam carried her to bed, she felt like her entire body had fallen apart. She was utterly drained of energy. Bella lay beside her. Her small face was rosy and delicate, resembling a tiny, perfect apple that one would want to bite. Celine kissed Bella gently. At that moment, Adam returned from his shower and climbed into bed, pulling Celine into his embrace. Celine shot him a glare. "Don't sleep here.

Go sleep somewhere else." ---- At that moment, Adam returned from his shower and climbed into bed, pulling Celine into his embrace. Celine shot him a glare. "Don't sleep here. Go sleep somewhere else." Adam reached up and pinched her soft face. "Now that you're dressed, you're acting all distant? That's not what you were saying when you were on my lap earlier." Celine gave him another glare. "Go away!" "I'm not going anywhere.

Tonight, I'm sleeping with my wife and daughter," he said with a smile. With Bella nestled on one side and Celine in his arms, Adam felt a deep sense of fulfillment. He had waited too long for this moment. Celine huffed. "Who's your wife? Stop calling me that." Adam smirked. "You, of course!" Celine rolled her eyes at him. "You're shameless! Let go of me!" "That's not happening," he teased. With a swift motion, Adam flipped over, pinning her beneath him. Celine could see the fire in his eyes.

Adam's stamina was off ---- the charts. They had already gone from the office to the couch to the shower, yet he was still burning like a wildfire, ready to consume her. Celine quickly closed her eyes. "I'm tired. I want to sleep." Adam lowered his head and kissed her lips. "Okay, then sleep first." Adam reached for her nightgown. Celine hurriedly pressed his hand down. "Adam, Bella is here. Don't you have any shame?" "It's fine," he murmured against her ear. "Bella's fast asleep."

She has no idea what we are doing." Celine wanted to smack him. "Adam!" Adam nibbled on her earlobe. "Bella might hear you." Celine was speechless. The next morning, Celine was woken by a noise. She opened her sleepy eyes and saw Bella sitting on the bed, staring at her and Adam with joy as she clapped her hands. "Wow, Mommy and Mr. Handsome are sleeping together!" Celine, who was still in Adam's arms, felt her face flush with ---- embarrassment as she tried to get up.

"Bella..." Adam laughed and hugged her tighter. "Bella, you need to change what you call me. You can't call me 'Mr. Handsome' anymore because I'm your daddy." Bella's eyes lit up. "Mr. Handsome is my daddy? Mommy, is that true?"

---- Chapter 748 Celine didn't want to hide the truth from Bella either, so she nodded. "That's right, Bella. Mr. Handsome is your daddy." Bella's eyes lit up with joy. "That's amazing! I have a daddy now! I love having Mr. Handsome as my daddy! From now on, Daddy, Mommy, and I will always be together and never separate!" Adam pulled Bella into his arms, pressing a loving kiss on her cheek. "That's right. Today, Mommy and I are going to get our marriage certificate.

From now on, our family of three will never be apart." Celine widened her eyes in surprise. "We're getting married today?" Adam sat up, a teasing smile playing on his lips. "Of course. Celine, after everything last night, you almost drained me dry. Shouldn't you take responsibility?" That was ridiculous. If anything, it was he who acted like a beast. "I don't want to get married," she said. Celine had never considered marrying Adam.

At that moment, Bella wrapped her small arms around Celine's neck. "Mommy, why don't you want to marry Daddy? ---- Guilt flickered through Celine's heart. For three years, Bella had longed for a father and a complete family. It was Celine who had denied her that. "Bella, I-" "Oh! I know!" Bella interrupted, puffing out her cheeks in determination. "Daddy must have done something wrong to make Mommy mad! That's why you don't want to marry him.

Daddy, this is definitely your fault!" Celine couldn't help but smile. Bella was truly her little angel, always siding with her. Adam looked at Celine with deep affection. "Bella, you're right. I made a lot of mistakes in the past, and I hurt your mommy. However, I want another chance. You can be the judge -if I ever make your mommy sad again, she can leave me anytime." Bella turned to Celine. "Mommy, if Daddy did something wrong, we won't forgive him easily!

Let's give him another chance, and he has to make it up to you, okay?" Celine chuckled. Bella was too clever for her own good. Celine found herself at a loss for words while looking into Bella's hopeful gaze. Then, Adam took her hand. "Celine, stop running from your ---- feelings. I know you still love me. I love you too. We've already lost three years, so let's start over. Be my wife, and let me love and cherish you the way you deserve." Celine's heart wavered.

Even if she refused to admit it, deep down, she knew the truth-she still loved Adam. She had loved him for so many years, and even now, she still did. Besides, they had Bella. Perhaps marriage wasn't such a bad idea. Just as she was about to speak, a knock sounded at the door. "Mr. Alvarez, Mrs. Alvarez is here," Leo said from outside. Celine instantly tensed at the mention of Grace. She remembered how Grace had always pushed for Adam to marry Carly.

After all, the Hampton and Alvarez families had been close for generations. Grace and Fiona were best friends. If she and Adam got married, would Grace even approve? Sensing her hesitation, Adam tightened his grip on her hand. "Don't worry. I'll handle my mom. She adores you and Bella. I'm sure she'll support our relationship." Bella adored Grace and beamed with excitement. "Grandma is here! I'm going to see her!" She jumped off the bed and skipped out of the room.

---- Grace stood waiting in Adam's office. The moment the lounge door swung open, Bella came running out, calling excitedly, "Grandma! Grandma!" Grace immediately crouched down and scooped Bella into her arms. "Bella, what are you doing here? I was so worried when I didn't see you today, so I came looking for you!" Bella giggled happily. "Grandma, Daddy brought me here!" Grace froze for a moment. "Daddy?" Bella nodded eagerly. "Yes! Mr. Handsome is my daddy!"

---- Chapter 749 Grace froze. She couldn't believe what she was hearing. "Bella, who did you say your daddy is?" she asked. Bella sweetly replied, "Grandma, my daddy is Mr. Handsome! You're my real grandma!" Grace was stunned. Just then, Adam and Celine came out. Adam smiled and said, "Mom, you didn't hear wrong. Bella is my biological daughter." "What? What's going on here?" Grace exclaimed. Adam handed her the DNA test result. "Mom, take a look." Grace took the paper, flipping it open.

When she saw the DNA results, she was shocked to confirm that Bella was indeed Adam's biological daughter. It was no wonder she had always felt such a strong connection with Bella. It turned out that Bella was really her granddaughter, the true heir of the Alvarez family. "Mom, Celine and I have been through a lot. Years ago, I hurt her deeply. Perry wasn't her boyfriend-he was just her senior.

I know the Hampton and Alvarez families had an arranged marriage, but I personally went to the Hampton family yesterday and ended it. I will never marry Carly. The ---- only woman I want to marry is Celine," Adam explained. He paused and continued,

"Bella is my daughter. [want to give her a complete family. From now on, I'll love Celine and Bella with all my heart. I hope you can support me." Grace clutched the DNA report tightly. "Adam, do you think I would try to separate you and Celine?"

"Do you really believe I would oppose your marriage?" Adam was taken aback. "Mom, isn't Mrs. Hampton your best friend? I thought you wanted to strengthen our families' bond through this marriage." Grace let out an exasperated sigh. "You underestimate me! I know exactly what kind of person Fiona is. If she knew you didn't love Carly, she wouldn't force this marriage either." With that, she stepped forward and took Celine's hands. "Celine, so Bella is really Adam's daughter?" Celine nodded.

"Yes, Mrs. Alvarez. I'm sorry I didn't tell you sooner." Grace shook her head. "Celine, you don't need to apologize. I'm the one who owes you an apology. Three years ago, I was too forceful in keeping you and Adam apart. I'm truly sorry for that." Celine smiled softly. "Mrs. Alvarez, I've said it before- everyone has their own standpoint. You weren't wrong." ---- Tears welled up in Grace's eyes.

"I once wanted Adam to marry Carly because she's Fiona's only daughter, and our families had an agreement. However, I saw Carly for who she really is over time. She's spoiled, selfish, and arrogant, but you are intelligent and kind. My view of you changed, and now, I sincerely hope you will become my daughter-in-law." Celine was slightly startled. She hadn't expected Grace to stand by her side so firmly. Grace added, "Celine, thank you for giving birth to Bella for the Alvarez family.

"We love her so much. Please give Adam another chance. I've seen how much he loves you over the years. He truly does. Marry him. I'll help you with the children, and you two can enjoy your married life, whatever you want to do!" Adam was deeply moved by his mother's words. "Mom, you're not what I thought you were!" Grace rolled her eyes at him. "Did you think I was just some stubborn old hag? I have eyes too. I can see what's right and wrong." Bella immediately gave her a thumbs-up.

"Grandma, you're awesome!" Grace chuckled and took Adam's hand, then placed it together with Celine's. "Celine, for Bella's sake, give Adam a chance. If he ever dares --- to hurt you again, I'll be the first to deal with him!" "Mom, am I even your real son?" Adam groaned. Celine couldn't help but smile. Adam turned to her. "Celine, let's get married." Celine's heart finally softened. There was no need to keep living in the past. What truly mattered was the present. She nodded.

"Alright." Adam immediately swept her into his arms and spun her around in excitement. "Yes! Celine, we're getting married! I'm finally bringing you home!"

---- Chapter 750 Bella clapped her hands excitedly. "Congratulations, Daddy! Congratulations, Mommy!" Grace beamed with joy as well. Adam and Celine had decided to register their marriage. Since it was a weekday, the city hall was open. That morning, Adam called Celine while she was at her studio. "Celine, you haven't forgotten what today is, have you?" "Of course not," Celine replied.

"Today is the day we register our marriage." Since she had chosen to reunite with Adam, she was fully committed to building a life with him. Adam glanced at the time. "I'll come pick you up." "No need," Celine refused. "The city hall is closer to my studio. I'll drive myself. Let's meet there." Adam nodded. "Alright." After hanging up, Leo entered the office. "Mr. Alvarez, there's an urgent document that needs your signature." ---- "Cancel all my meetings," Adam said decisively.

"I'm getting married today." Leo immediately shut the folder. "Mr. Alvarez, you and Ms. Celine are finally getting together? Congratulations!" Adam raised a brow, his handsome face brimming with happiness. "Why are you still calling her Ms. Celine? You should get used to her new title, Leo." Leo caught on quickly. "Mrs. Alvarez!" "Exactly," Adam said as he grabbed his car keys and headed for the door. Just then, Carly walked in. "Adam, where are you going?" she asked.

Adam had no patience for her, especially not today. He frowned and asked, "Do you need something?" Leo took the hint and left the room. Carly looked at Adam. "Adam, we've known each other for so many years. Why are you so cold to me? I don't believe you never had feelings for me." Adam coldly replied, "Carly, the only reason I was with you was because you pretended to be Celine. I never loved you. The person I've always loved is Celine." ---- Carly clenched her fists.

Why was he so cruel to her? Adam glanced at her and said, "Since you're here, I might as well tell you something." Carly narrowed her eyes. "What is it?" Adam replied, "I'm marrying Celine today. We're registering our marriage." Carly was stunned. It was like a bolt of lightning had struck her. "Celine agreed to marry you?" Adam nodded. "Yes. She's giving me another chance, and we're starting over." Carly couldn't believe it.

After everything she had done, Adam and Celine still ended up together. Adam looked at her and said, "Carly, Celine is about to become my wife. Don't come looking for me again. I don't want to see you, and I won't let my wife misunderstand anything."
