

The Divorce Prescription

---- Chapter 785 Celine was sitting in the dressing room while the makeup artist worked on her. Her skin was flawless -so smooth and radiant that she looked stunning no matter what makeup was applied. Grace arrived with Bella, and the little girl happily threw herself into Celine's arms. "Mommy, Mommy, you look so pretty today! But, of course, you look pretty every day!" Bella started off by showering her with sweet compliments. Celine immediately planted a kiss on Bella's cheek. "I've missed you so much, Bella." Grace stepped forward. "Congratulations, Celine." Celine smiled. "Mrs.

Alvarez, I've been so busy lately. Thank you for taking care of Bella." "Bella's my own granddaughter. She's part of the Alvarez. bloodline. It's only natural that I, her grandma, take care of her. I love spending time with Bella more than anything." Grace looked at Bella with pure affection. Bella giggled. ---- "Celine, Mr. Hampton and Fiona officially made you their goddaughter. Who would've thought that the connection, between the Alvarezes and the Hamptons would keep going strong? I'm genuinely happy for you," Grace said. Grace truly meant it. She was happy for Celine.

Celine smiled warmly. Outside , in the grand hall, Nigel and Fiona stood under dazzling lights. Nigel wore a custom -tailored black suit, looking dashing and composed. Fiona was dressed in an elegant gown, dignified and graceful. They made a stunning pair. Several CEOs were gathered around Nigel and Fiona, offering their congratulations. "Mr. Hampton, Mrs. Hampton, congrats on gaining another precious daughter." "We've heard all about Ms. Tate. But from now on, we should be calling her Ms. Hampton, right?" Fiona smiled. "Celine is the apple of our eye now.

You all better not try to take advantage of her." "We wouldn't dare to! We're lucky to just be friends with Ms. Hampton." ---- "We hope she'll have time to join us for tea sometime." This ceremony made it crystal clear how much the Hampton family valued Celine as their goddaughter . In this social scene, where everyone chased status and power, it was obvious that people couldn't wait to cozy up to her. Hailey had also come. It was a big day for Celine, and of course her best friend had to be there. 1 She brought Aileen with her.

After three years, Aileen had grown into a graceful young woman -remarkable and stunning. The Zamora family really had some good genes-Declan was a campus heartthrob, and Aileen was a campus belle. Hailey said, "Aileen, it's been a long time since you've seen Celine, hasn't it?" Aileen nodded. "Yes, it has." "Celine's always talking about you. I'll make sure you two catch up later." "Okay." At that moment, a stir rippled through the crowd. Someone whispered, "Look! Ms. Carly's here!" ---- Carly had arrived. Hailey turned and saw Carly walking in with Anne.

The main focus of today's ceremony was Celine, but Carly still drew a lot of attention. After all, she was the Hamptons' legitimate daughter by birth. Now that Celine had been officially recognized, the gossip swirling between the two heiresses was more than enough to keep everyone entertained. This was an event with two main stars. As soon as Carly appeared, the crowd's attention immediately snapped to her. Carly was dressed to the nines today. She wore a form - fitting gown that perfectly showed off her hourglass figure.

Her beautifully styled curls cascaded lazily over her shoulders, making her the center of attention the moment she stepped in.

---- Chapter 786 Anne was dressed in an evening gown. She looked elegant and well-maintained , giving her a graceful and gentle appearance. The two of them entered together, instantly drawing everyone's attention. One of the CEOs standing beside Nigel said, "Mr. Hampton, Mrs. Hampton, Ms. Carly has arrived." Nigel and Fiona stepped forward. They were very disappointed with this daughter of theirs. "Carly." Carly shot a resentful look at Nigel and Fiona. "Don't say my name!" The moment she said that, the atmosphere became frosty. Hailey stepped up. "Ms. Carly, today's a big, joyful day.

You should check your attitude." Carly scoffed. "What's so joyful about today? My parents are making Celine their goddaughter? So now I get to share their love with someone else?" Her eyes locked onto Nigel and Fiona. "Do you two even see me as your daughter anymore? What does it say about ---- me when you go and make Celine your goddaughter?" Whispers broke out among the nearby CEOs. "What's going on? Ms. Carly doesn't approve of Mr. and Mrs. Hampton making Celine their goddaughter?" "Looks to me she just came to stir up trouble." "She's clearly not here to celebrate.

She started drama the moment she walked in." Carly had definitely not come to show support. Even though Nigel and Fiona had sent her a gilded invitation , she came to crash the party. Anne was very pleased with Carly's behavior. Pretending to persuade her, she said, "Carly, let it go. They have every right to choose a goddaughter." "Why should I let it go? I'm the real daughter of the Hampton family. Mom, Dad, I don't agree with you making Celine your goddaughter !" Carly openly voiced her disapproval. The crowd was stunned. Nigel frowned. "Carly, Celine is already our goddaughter.

That's not something we need your approval for." Fiona added, "Carly, your opinion doesn't change ---- anything. I really think you should learn a thing or two from Celine. Just look at all the messes you've made lately and how many people you've hurt." Carly's expression darkened. "Mom, Dad, I've said I don't agree, and you're still going through with it?" Nigel and Fiona replied in unison, "Yes. Celine is our daughter." Carly's hands clenched into fists at her sides. Nigel and Fiona had just embarrassed her in front of everyone.

Being the "biological" daughter had never felt more humiliating. Hailey smirked. "Ms. Carly, those who walk the right path gain allies. Those who don't are left alone with none. Instead of throwing a tantrum here, maybe you should use your time to work on your character. Figure out how to be a decent daughter and a person with some integrity. Carly loathed Hailey. Her sharp tongue was just like Celine's. Carly looked at Nigel and Fiona. "Mom, Dad, you have to make a choice today." "What choice?" Nigel asked. ---- Carly raised her voice. "I don't like Celine. I've made that clear.

I don't want you to make her your goddaughter. So now you have to pick. Between me or Celine, who do you want as your daughter?" 1 Both Nigel's and Fiona's expressions turned cold. Carly pressed on, relentless , "If you choose Celine, then you've completely lost me, your real daughter. Now, make your decision!" Carly was now forcing Nigel and Fiona to choose. Whispers filled the air again. "T didn't expect Ms. Carly to stir things up at this event." "Now they have to choose between their real daughter and their goddaughter . What will Mr. and Mrs. Hampton do?"
