The Divorce Prescription Chapter 791

---- Chapter 791 Adam had agreed to marry Carly. Nigel and Fiona came forward. "Nigel!" Hailey's expression shifted in an instant. "Adam!" Carly smiled, exchanging a brief glance with Anne as they silently celebrated their success. Carly's wish had been fulfilled. Despite the fallout with the Hampton family, she had secured her place as Adam's wife. To her, a woman's success wasn't measured by her work but by her marriage. With the Heartstring Venom controlling Adam, she knew she would be his wife for the rest of her life.

Carly reached out and linked her arm through Adam's, flashing him a sweet smile. "Adam, you've finally come around. Let's get married as soon as possible. Becoming your wife has always been my dream." Adam glanced at her but said nothing in response. Anne felt a surge of satisfaction as she observed the defeated expressions on Nigel, Fiona, and Celine's faces. She was determined to make them suffer and ensure they could never find peace. "Mr, Alvarez, Carly, congratulations," Anne said with a smile. ---- At that moment, Grace and Bella walked over.

"Adam, are you really going to marry Carly?" Grace asked. Bella ran to Celine's side. "Mommy!" Celine picked Bella up and kissed her on the cheek. "Sweetie."" Carly turned to Grace with a sly smile. "Mrs. Alvarez, soon we'll be in-laws, and I can call you 'Grace.'" Grace frowned and looked at Adam. "Adam, this is a big decision. You need to think carefully." Adam pursed his lips. "My marriage to Carly is final," he said firmly, making it clear he wasn't open to discussion. Anne smiled. "Mrs. Alvarez, let's pick a date. I think the 15th of this month would be perfect.

We could host a grand wedding for Mr. Alvarez and Carly." She then turned to Nigel. "Nigel, Celine, you both have to come to the wedding and bless the happy couple." Carly joined in with a smile. "Celine, I really hope to receive your blessing." Celine's expression remained cold. "Don't worry. I'll definitely attend your wedding." Bella called out, "Daddy!" ---- At just three years old, Bella couldn't understand what the adults were discussing. Adam walked over and kissed Bella on the cheek. "Bella, be good and listen to Mommy." Bella nodded. "I know, Daddy." Carly smiled warmly.

"Adam, Bella is so adorable. I really like her. I'll treat Bella as my own." Celine held Bella close. "Carly, thank you, but my daughter already has a mother. You don't need to worry about her." However, Carly wasn't bothered. "You're right, but once Adam and I are married, we'll have our own children. Adam, you still don't have a son, right? How about I give you one?" Carly said, targeting Celine. The people around them began to offer their congratulations. "Congratulations to Mr. Alvarez and Ms. Carly!

Their union has been destined since childhood , and now their upcoming wedding is truly a joyous occasion." "What a fate! It's as if the stars themselves aligned for Mr. Alvarez and Ms. Carly." "Mr. Alvarez , Ms. Carly , we'll all be there to celebrate your wedding with you!" ---- "Today is a double celebration! First, Ms. Celine becomes the beloved daughter of the Hampton family, and second, Mr. Alvarez and Ms. Carly are getting married. Congratulations to both!" Carly looked at Adam with a blissful smile, then shot Celine a provocative glance.

However, Adam remained composed, giving away no emotion. "I'm leaving now." With that, Adam turned and walked away. Carly waved at Celine. "Celine, I'm heading out." Carly quickly followed after Adam. "Adam, wait for me."

---- Chapter 792 Anne smiled and said, "Nigel, I'll be leaving too." Then, she followed them out. Bella looked at Celine in confusion. "Mommy, why is Daddy walking with that bad lady? I don't like her. She bullies you." Celine glanced in the direction of where Adam and Carly had disappeared before smiling softly. "Bella, grown-ups have complicated matters , but remember , Daddy and I both love you and will always be with you." 1 Bella's face lit up, and she nodded eagerly. "Okay." Fiona looked at Celine with concern.

"Celine, are you alright?" She was worried that Celine might be feeling down. Celine shook her head. "I'm fine." Hailey was frustrated. "That Carly is something else. How dare she say she's going to have Adam's son? Let's see if she even gets the chance!" Just then, Celine suddenly bent over and retched. Since she hadn't eaten much today, there wasn't much to vomit. Still, the queasiness made her uncomfortable. 1 Nigel and Fiona were taken aback. They immediately rushed to her side. "Celine, what's wrong?"

Are you feeling unwell ?" Grace asked anxiously , "Celine, did you eat something bad?" ---- Celine raised her hand to her pulse, and as she felt the familiar signs, a frown formed on her face. Hailey asked urgently, "Celine, what's going on?" Celine took a deep breath and said, "I'm pregnant." Upon hearing that Celine was pregnant, they immediately became concerned and insisted on taking her to the hospital for a check-up. Even though Celine was a doctor, getting a proper check -up once pregnant was still important. Soon, the doctor came out, and the group crowded around him.

"Doctor, how is she?" The doctor smiled. "Congratulations, she's pregnant with twins!" 'The news hit everyone like a surprise. Grace gasped in shock. "Twins? Oh my goodness, Celine, you're carrying two! The Alvarez family has never had twins before. Celine, you're really a hero in the Alvarez family now!" As Celine walked out, Fiona rushed to her side, supporting her. "Celine, you're having twins!" Celine wasn't surprised. She had already known when she checked her pulse. When Celine and Adam were together, they didn't use ---- protection, and she didn't take any precautions afterward.

Still, she never imagined she would get pregnant, let alone with twins. Grace frowned with concern. "Celine, carrying twins is no small feat. You need to rest. I'll call Adam-he'll be overjoyed when he hears the news." Just as she reached for her phone, Celine stopped her. "Mrs. Alvarez, please don't call him." Grace froze, feeling confused. "If Adam finds out you're pregnant, he won't marry Carly." Celine said, "That's exactly why I can't tell him. For his sake, I need to keep this a secret." Adam was trapped by the Heartstring Venom, and there was no way out. Hailey frowned.

"Celine, this isn't fair to you." 1 Celine gently rested her hand on her stomach, feeling the two new lives growing within her. "Please don't worry about our situation for now. I'll tell him about the pregnancy when the time is right."

---- Chapter 793 Since Celine had made her decision clear, everyone respected it and nodded in agreement. "Alright." After leaving the hospital, Hailey and Aileen bid farewell to Celine. "Celine, I'll take Aileen home first. Let's meet up another time." Celine nodded. "Sure." Aileen waved. "See you, Celine." Celine smiled. "Bye, Aileen." Hailey and Aileen headed home, and on the way, Hailey asked, "Aileen, after hearing about Celine's situation, how do you feel about it?" Aileen thought for a moment and said, "Celine's love life is so complicated.

Is that what love is like for everyone?" Having never been in a relationship herself, Aileen was curious. Hailey thought of her own complicated relationship with Declan. Love was a mix of sweetness and heartache, laughter and tears. However, Hailey didn't want to overwhelm Aileen or make her fearful of love. ---- She chuckled. "It depends on the person. I'm sure you'll find someone who truly understands and cherishes you." Aileen smiled but didn't seem very interested. "I think I'll be better off focusing on research." Hailey laughed. Aileen was a true science and tech enthusiast.

She seemed more interested in numbers and research than relationships. Hailey took her hand and said, "You're all grown up now. It's time to enjoy your youth! Come on, I'm taking you out for some fun." Aileen raised a brow. "Where exactly?" Hailey smirked. "You'll find out soon enough." Half an hour later, Hailey pulled Aileen to a stop in front of a bar. Aileen looked at her in disbelief. "You brought me to a bar?" Hailey grinned. "That's right. You've never been to one, have you? Tonight, you're getting the full experience. Let's go have some drinks." Hailey dragged Aileen inside.

---- Over the past three years, Hailey had truly come to treat Aileen like her own sister. She had always been invested in Aileen's achievements and work, but now that Aileen was growing up, Hailey was starting to worry about her romantic life as well. The two of them entered the bar and sat at the counter. The atmosphere was especially lively tonight, with heavy metal music pounding through the air and the dance floor filled with people moving to the beat. Hailey turned to Aileen.

"What do you want to drink?" Aileen hesitated for a moment before saying, "I'll just have juice." Hailey laughed. "No juice at a bar. Let's try a blue cocktail instead." Moments later, two colorful cocktails arrived, and both Hailey and Aileen relaxed into the lively atmosphere. Suddenly, a commotion rippled through the crowd. Someone whispered, "Look over at the VIP section. It's been reserved for the night. I heard it's Mr. Ewan

Shaw's birthday tonight. A group of rich heirs is celebrating with him." "Not just rich heirs; there are even strippers here.

All of ---- them have amazing figures. I heard there are popular influencers and models here to celebrate Mr. Ewan's birthday." Hailey hadn't expected to run into Ewan here. Over the past three years, the Shaw family had risen to great prominence, and wherever Ewan went, he was the center of attention. Hailey looked up at the VIP area, which had indeed been completely reserved. A line of black-suited bodyguards stood at the entrance, keeping outsiders at bay. Hailey spotted Ewan at a distance. He was no longer just the charming campus heartthrob of the past.

Now, he was a true prince among the elite. Dressed in a fitted black shirt and tailored slacks, he lounged in the center of the lavish booth. Around him, the most influential young heirs of the Capitol gathered, raising their glasses in celebration.

---- Chapter 794 A group of strippers soon appeared, dressed in revealing outfits with bunny ears perched on their heads. Their youthful, alluring figures captured everyone's attention, and they all eagerly looked toward Ewan. The wealthy heirs around them chuckled. "Mr. Shaw, these strippers can barely stand still when they see you. Looks like your charm knows no bounds." "With both your wealth and looks, it's no wonder they're all eyeing you," they teased, enjoying the scene. Ewan lazily leaned back in his seat, swirling the red wine in his glass.

With a smirk, he said, "What are you waiting for? Start dancing." The rich heirs laughed, egging them on. "Yes, show us what you've got! Let's see who can move the best! The best dancer might even get a big reward from Mr. Shaw tonight!" The strippers blushed. "Yes, Mr. Shaw," they said in unison. With that, the strippers started to dance. As internet-famous models, they were masters of their craft. Their ---- youthful, agile bodies twisted and flowed with fluidity, like serpents in motion.

The cheers and laughter of the wealthy heirs only amplified the spectacle, making them the center of attention in the bar. The other guests stood frozen, mesmerized by the lavish lifestyle unfolding before them-this was the hedonistic, opulent world of the wealthy. However, Hailey took one glance and quickly turned her gaze away. She and Ewan were no longer connected in any way. Hailey picked up her cocktail. "Here, Aileen, let's toast." Aileen clinked her glass with Hailey's and took a sip. Hailey asked, "How does it taste?" Aileen responded, "It's a bit spicy, tangy, and sweet.

It's really intense." Hailey smiled. "Exactly, that's the thrill of it. Cheers!" Just then, Melody appeared. She noticed Hailey and asked, "Hailey, what are you doing here?" Hailey had always disliked Carly and Melody. Tonight, fate had brought them together again. "I'm here to have ---- some fun. What about you?" Hailey gave Melody a once-over. Tonight, she wore a super-short black mini dress that accentuated her youthful face and ample chest. Her figure was undoubtedly the kind of body that turned heads and had men drooling. Hailey raised an eyebrow.

"Melody, you're looking quite sexy tonight. Are you eyeing another rich heir?" Melody's approach to life had always been about securing a wealthy man, much like Carly. After breaking up with Ewan three years ago, she had been trying to find a better match among the elite. Melody smirked. "What I do is none of your concern. Unlike you, I don't waste my best years playing the role of big sister to Aileen." For the past three years, Hailey had been focused entirely on Aileen, unlike Carly or Melody, who were out enjoying their youth. Hailey stepped in front of Aileen.

"I treat Aileen like my sister. She's a brilliant scientist, and I'm incredibly proud of her." Melody scoffed. "Hailey, let's be real-she's just Declan's ---- sister, right?" The mention of Declan hit Hailey like a cold breeze. Melody smirked. "Hailey, Declan's been done with you for along time, but here you are, taking care of his sister like she's your own. What's next? Are you planning to play the 'big sister' role? Too bad Declan wouldn't fall for that act anymore." Hailey's expression turned cold.

Declan was a wound she didn't want reopened , and Aileen was the one thing she would protect at all costs. "Melody, what right do you have to comment on my life? You dressed this provocatively tonight to get Ewan's attention, didn't you?" Hailey snapped.

---- Chapter 795 Melody's expression shifted dramatically. Hailey looked Melody up and down. "Three years ago, Ewan dumped you, but it seems you've never truly moved on. I can understand that. "Ewan has been on a winning streak these past few years. Who could be a better choice? Now that he's moved on, you're here tonight, looking all pretty, hoping to win him back. You must feel a little threatened by the models and strippers surrounding him, don't you?" Melody's expression darkened completely. She hadn't expected Hailey to know all of this. Hailey sneered coldly.

"I haven't gone out of my way to provoke you, so don't come after me. I have no interest in your drama, but if you think you can make me the subject of a joke, I'll make sure the joke's on you instead." Melody seethed with rage. She had always harbored resentment toward Hailey. Hailey had everything -a good family and beauty. Most painfully, she was the one Ewan never truly forgot. Despite all the women Ewan had been with in the past three years, Hailey remained the one person he never truly forgot. This fact fueled Melody's deep jealousy.

Clenching her fists, Melody spat, "Hailey, don't be so smug. ---- Ewan and I will get back together." Hailey smirked. "I'm not your father or your mother. Whether you and Ewan get back together is none of my concern." Melody was left speechless. She had never won a verbal battle with Hailey. Frustrated, she stomped her foot and stormed off. Hailey returned to her seat, taking a sip of her cocktail . She had gulped it down too quickly, and now a sharp, spicy sensation stung her throat. It spread quickly, settling in her chest.

As she reached for another drink, Aileen quickly placed her hand on Hailey's. "Hailey , " she called out, looking at her with concern. "Are you thinking about my brother?" Hailey didn't answer immediately. Aileen's gaze dimmed. "Three years ago, my brother married another woman and then disappeared . It's been three years, and he's never come back." When she saw Aileen's somber expression, Hailey quickly composed herself. "Aileen, let's not talk about the past tonight. Come on, let's dance." Hailey reached out and pulled Aileen onto the dance floor.

Aileen couldn't help but feel out of place in the crowded dance floor. "Hailey, I don't know how to dance." Hailey smiled reassuringly. "I'll teach you." ---- With that, Hailey began to move to the rhythm of the music. Meanwhile, Melody was fuming, but she hadn't forgotten the real reason she came here tonight. She had come to find Ewan. Hailey was right -Ewan had become even more desirable in the past three years. There was no one better. Ewan was handsome, daring, and passionate. She had never truly stopped thinking about him.

She had heard that many models were here tonight to celebrate Ewan's birthday , and now she couldn't just sit by. She had to take action and try to win him back. Melody adjusted her dress and walked confidently toward the VIP section, but she was quickly stopped by a bodyguard. " Sorry, miss. You can't enter. Mr. Shaw has reserved this area for the night. No unauthorized guests allowed." Melody said, "I know Mr, Shaw. I'm his ex-girlfriend. Let me in." 'The bodyguard asked, "Do you have an invitation?" Melody hesitated. "No..." The bodyguard shook his head. "I'm afraid you can't enter.

There have already been several attempts by others to sneak in tonight. You'll have to leave." Melody was furious. She looked up toward Ewan inside, where he was seated on the couch, holding a glass of red wine as he casually watched the strippers dance in front of him. ---- A bold stripper spun in the air and landed directly in front of him, then casually sat on his lap. Ewan casually wrapped an arm around her and grinned playfully. "Are you tired from dancing? Why don't you come sit here instead?" Ewan's wild, carefree demeanor and irresistible charm were too much for any woman to resist.
