

The Divorce Prescription

#Chapter 833 - Read The Divorce Prescription Chapter 833

---- Chapter 833 Hailey simply said, "No way." Jonah let out a dry laugh, cupped her face, and kissed her. Very soon, he tasted her tears-she was crying. He froze, immediately let go of her, and sat up. The pain was gone, but Hailey still felt off. She sat up and pulled her clothes back together. Her outfit was a mess, while he only had his belt undone; his pants hadn't even shifted. Once she was dressed, she got off the bed, ready to leave. But her wrist was yanked back. Jonah held her, looking up at her. "Do I look disgusting right now?" Hailey hesitated, about to speak.

However, Jonah let go. "I get it. You can go." Hailey didn't know what he meant, but she didn't want to talk to him right now. She opened the door and left. While standing in the hallway, she leaned against the wall and took deep breaths. Everything that just happened in the dark had been a mess... Then, the door opened. Jonah came out too, now wearing his mask again. He still looked polished, still striking. Hailey turned and walked away. ---- Just then, a CEO walked over. "Mr. Pilsner, what took you so long?" Jonah watched Hailey's silhouette disappear down the corridor.

"I went out for a smoke." The CEO also noticed Hailey. "Mr. Pilsner, isn't that Ms. Hailey?" Jonah nodded. "Yeah." "Oh, right. Mr. Pilsner, you're still not married. Plenty of heiresses want to marry you. Someone asked me to find out what type of women you like." Hailey hadn't gone far, so she heard the question clearly. Then came Jonah's low, magnetic voice. "I like rich women." He had actually said he liked rich women. Someone had asked Declan the same thing years ago. At the time, Declan also said he liked rich women. Three years had passed.

His taste still hadn't changed -he still liked privileged daughters of wealthy families. Hailey's heart tensed. She turned a corner and left. When Hailey got back home, she soaked herself in a large bathtub, trying to ease the soreness and fatigue in her body. Her phone chimed. ---- She took a look. Jonah had sent her a WhatsApp message. "Does it still hurt?" He seemed to be asking if she was in pain. She didn't reply. Then, another message came from him. "I lost control today. I'm sorry I hurt you. I'm really sorry." Still, Hailey didn't reply.

Right now, Jonah was back at CY Tech, standing by the floor-to-ceiling windows in the CEO's office. He held his phone, texting Hailey. He knew she didn't want to see him right now, for she hadn't responded. Jonah sent another one. "Are you and Lester going to date?" Still, he didn't get a reply. He gripped his phone and typed, "I might still be able to fix this face. If I went back to how I used to look... would you still like me..." But as he typed, Jonah deleted the entire message.

Get full chapters from find\(n\)ovel.netovel.net)

---- Chapter 834. Just then, there was a knock at the door. Jonah said, "Come in. " The door to his office opened. Jeremy Leclair, Jonah's assistant, walked in. "Mr. Pilsner, we contacted the world's top plastic surgeon, but he said your face likely can't be restored. "The burn area is too extensive, and it's been three years. He's not confident enough to take the case, so he declined." It was the same story again. Jonah wasn't surprised. He had already consulted many doctors, and every time they saw his ruined face, they shook their heads. He would never go back to how he looked before.

Hailey used to like him so much. Now, looking at his face, she probably didn't anymore. That had to be why she didn't want to be with him. He could feel her resistance and refusal on the bed today. He acted on impulse. "You can go," he told Jeremy. "Yes, Mr. Pilsner." Jeremy then left. ---- Jonah stood alone in his office, staring at the chat window with Hailey. She still hadn't replied. He curled his lips into a bitter smile, then still typed a message to her. "Goodnight." Hailey rested for two days.

Today, Aileen was coming home, so she got up early and started preparing all of Aileen's favourite things. Just then, Miranda rushed in. "Hailey, something happened!" Hailey was startled. "Mom, what happened?" "Hailey, that worker who was causing trouble had already started to waver. He was about to take the money and sign the settlement. Once the settlement's signed, it's over. But just now, your dad called. He said the worker suddenly vanished. No one can find him." What? Hailey felt her heart sink. "What do you mean vanished ?

If something happens to that worker, this whole thing will explode!" "Your dad said the same. That worker is crucial. But now, he's just gone!" This couldn't be a coincidence. Someone clearly got to the worker. Hailey thought of one person. There was no other person it ---- could be. She stepped aside, took out her phone, and dialed a number. The call connected quickly. A familiar voice came through. " Hey, Hailey. What a surprise. You're calling me?" It was Ewan. Hailey gripped the phone. "Ewan, did you have someone take that worker?

What did you do to him?" "Hailey, what are you talking about? I don't get it. The worker's gone? Oh no. What if... what if he ends up dead? Then, Lambert Group won't be able to clear its name, no matter what they do. That'd really be the end. Haha!" As she listened to Ewan's arrogant laughter, Hailey was fuming. "Ewan, you're disgusting." "Hailey, I heard the Lamberts are planning to marry into the Larden family? You won't marry me, but you're willing to marry Lester? Why? Let me tell you, Hailey. If I can't have you, no one else will. I'll destroy him with my own hands!" Ewan said manically.

It was clear to her now that Ewan was the one behind it. The worker wouldn't survive in his hands. "Ewan, you're insane!" "Haha! Hailey. This is your last chance. If you give in, there's still a way out!" Then, he hung up. ---- Hailey felt her hands and feet turn cold. She hadn't expected Ewan to be this far gone. What now? If that worker died in Ewan's hands, everything would be over. She had to find that worker. Hailey looked at Miranda.

"Mom, step up the search for that worker. We can't let anything happen to him." "Hailey, we've searched everywhere . THIS CHAPTER IS UPDATE BY findnovel.net There's still no trace." Just then, one person popped into Hailey's mind. Right now, he was the only one she could think of. "Mom, I'm heading out!" With that, Hailey ran off.

---- Chapter 835 Hailey arrived at CY Tech, and this was her first time at Jonah's company. His office tower stretched into the clouds. It was grand and imposing. Right now, Jonah was the only person she could think of. He was also the only one she wanted to rely on. Hailey rushed inside. The receptionist looked at her and asked, "Hello, who are you here to see?" Hailey replied, "Hi, is Mr. Pilsner in? I'm here to see Mr. Pilsner." The receptionist replied o you have an appointment with our CEO? Only those with a prior appointment can meet him." Hailey was caught off guard.

"I don't have an appointment." "Then, I'm sorry, you can't see our CEO." "T'll give Mr. Pilsner a call." She took out her phone and called Jonah. The ringtone played again and again, but no one picked up. What was going on? Why wasn't he answering? Hailey didn't give up. She called again-a second time, a third time-but the result was the same. Jonah didn't answer. "Jonah, please pick up the phone!" she prayed. ---- With no answer, Hailey turned to the receptionist and pleaded, "Hi, I know Mr. Pilsner. I'ma friend of his. I can't reach him by phone right now.

Can you please let him know I'm here. He'll definitely want to see me." The receptionist refused. "I'm sorry, miss. A lot of people say the same thing every day. We've heard it all before." "T'm not lying. I really do know Mr. Pilsner!" Hailey insisted. Just then, a familiar voice came from behind. "What's going on here?" Hailey turned and saw someone she recognized. It was Joanne. Hailey had seen Joanne before. They hadn't spoken, but women didn't need words to remember each other clearly. Hailey immediately recognized the woman who had been at Jonah's side.

The receptionist perked up the moment she saw Joanne, her tone turning eager and flattering . "Ms. Lilton , what brings you here?" Joanne smiled. "I came to see Jonah." "Ms. Lilton, let me take you upstairs. The CEO is right upstairs." Joanne looked over at Hailey. "Hello, Ms. Hailey." "Ms. Lilton, hello," Hailey said. Joanne stepped forward. "Ms. Hailey, are you here to see Jonah?" ---- Hailey nodded. "Yes." Joanne smiled. "But I don't know if Jonah wants to see you. Things and people from the past belong in the past. Jonah has new feelings now. He has a new life. Follow current novels on FindN0vel.net

I don't think he wants to be disturbed." 'The hope Hailey had just clung to was instantly extinguished. She had forgotten -Jonah already had someone else by his side. Joanne continued , "Do you understand what I'm saying, Ms. Hailey?" Hailey replied, "Ms. Lilton, feel free to speak plainly. No one else is here." "Ms. Hailey, since you're direct, I'll be too. I've been by Jonah's side these past three years. I don't want anyone to come between us. So, I hope you won't come looking for Jonah again. "Of course, I'm sure Jonah doesn't want to see you either. Ms.

Hailey , I trust you have enough self-respect not to cling to someone else's boyfriend and make a fool of yourself, right?" Hailey's face went pale. She looked at Joanne and said, " Alright, I understand, Ms. Lilton. Then, I wish you and Mr. Pilsner happiness." With that, Hailey left. Joanne smiled as she watched her go. ---- The receptionist said, "Ms. Lilton, let's go upstairs. The CEO's been in a meeting."