

The Divorce Prescription

---- Chapter 836 "I'll head up myself. Oh, and Jonah's been really busy lately. There's no need to bother him with small things. There's no need to mention things like just now, with that woman coming to see him," Joanne said. The receptionist nodded quickly. "Got it, Ms. Lilton." Joanne took a brand-new lipstick out of her bag. "This is one I just bought. I thought this shade would look good on you. It's yours." The receptionist's eyes lit up. She quickly accepted the lipstick and smiled. "Thank you, Ms. Lilton. If you ever need anything, just say the word." Joanne smiled.

Hailey returned to the Lambert residence. Miranda grabbed her arm. "Hailey, where did you just go?" "I went to see Jonah, Mom," Hailey replied. "What did Mr. Pilsner say?" "I didn't see him. He didn't want to see me." Miranda frowned, then said, "Hailey, if that's how it is, you need to let him go. The Larden family called just now. Lester heard about what's going on and asked if you need help." ---- At this moment, Lester extended an olive branch. If he said that, it meant he had a way in. But if she accepted it, she would have to marry him. Hailey shook her head.

"Mom, I don't need Lester's help. Dad's still out there looking, right? I'll go help him!" Hailey ran out. Miranda watched her, her heart arching. ""This child... Why is she so stubborn?" Just then, the front door of the villa opened. Aileen came home. "Mom, I'm back!" + Miranda rushed forward and hugged her, delighted. "Aileen, you're home! Are you hungry? Hailey's made a full spread of all your favorites . Come eat.

It looks like you've lost weight with all that work at the research base." James and Miranda were Aileen's godparents , and they only had Hailey as a daughter, so they loved Aileen dearly. Aileen looked around. "Mom, where's Hailey?" "Aileen, Hailey went out." "Where'd she go?" Usually, whenever she came home, Hailey would be there waiting, taking care of her in every way. Miranda hesitated. "Aileen, there's something I'm not sure I should tell you." ---- "Mom, I'm grown now. If it's about me, you need to tell me. Miranda stopped hesitating . "Aileen, your brother is back!" Aileen froze-then lit up. "Really, Mom? My brother's back?" Miranda nodded. "Yes, Aileen, he's back. He's the founder of CY Tech now, Jonah Pilsner. He's the rising star in the business world. Aileen, now there's one more person to love you." Aileen's eyes welled with tears. "My brother's back... Hailey must be so happy. Did she go to see him?" Miranda hesitated . "Well... Aileen, Hailey and your brother are over." Aileen was stunned. "Hailey and my brother were so in love. How could they be over?

Mom, I'm going to find him right now and get to the bottom of this!" With that, she turned and ran. Miranda called after her, "Aileen, slow down! I'll have the driver take you! Don't get lost!"

Aileen rushed to CY Tech as fast as she could. She needed to see her brother immediately. She arrived at the lobby but was stopped by the receptionist . The receptionist looked at her. "Hi, who are you here to see?" Aileen replied, "Hi, I'm here to see Jonah Pilsner." The receptionist looked Aileen up and down. There were so many women who came to see Jonah today. "Do you have an appointment?" Aileen shook her head. "No, I don't, but could you please let him know I'm here? My name is Aileen. Jonah is my brother." "What?

"You're our CEO's sister?" The receptionist was stunned, Aileen nodded. "Yes, I'm Jonah's biological sister. He'll definitely want to see me. Please go tell him. I'm in a hurry." The receptionist laughed. "What's going on today? There are so many scammers . One just came claiming to be our CEO's friend, and now you're saying you're his sister. Should I say I'm his wife next?" Aileen defended , "I'm not lying. Jonah really is my brother. I'm telling the truth." The receptionist waved her hand, annoyed. "Alright, alright.

"No appointment, no meeting, Please leave." ---- Aileen snapped, "You-!" Just then, Joanne walked out. "What's going on here?" The receptionist instantly changed her tone, all warmth and flattery. "Ms. Lilton, what brings you downstairs?" "Oh, Jonah's still in a meeting. I didn't want to bother him, so I came for a walk. What happened this time?" The receptionist pointed at Aileen. "Ms. Lilton, another woman is trying to see the CEO." Joanne looked at Aileen. She didn't recognize her, but she was always on guard with any woman looking for Jonah, regardless. Even though there hadn't been anyone by Jonah's side these past three years, women throwing themselves at him never stopped. Joanne asked, "You're here to see Jonah?" Her scrutinizing gaze made Aileen uncomfortable. Aileen stared back. "Who are you? What's your relationship with Jonah?" Joanne smiled. "That's what I should be asking you. Who are you, and why do you want to see Jonah?" "I have urgent business with him. If he knew I was here, he'd come running." "You sure are confident . A Ms. Hailey just came earlier , and even she wasn't this bold." Aileen frowned.

Did Hailey run into this woman too? Why was ---- this woman around her brother these past three years? Aileen didn't like Joanne one bit. "I don't want to talk to you. I want to see Jonah!" The receptionist quickly chimed in, "Who do you think you are, talking to Ms. Lilton like that? You've got some nerve!" Aileen snapped back. "I'd like to know who this Ms. Lilton is. Why can't I speak to her like that? Isn't this Jonah's company? The receptionist sneered. "Our boss is Jonah, and Ms. Lilton is the lady of the house!" Aileen was stunned. She looked at Joanne.

"What's your relationship with Jonah?" Joanne replied, "Jonah and I are very close, closer than any of you women could dream of. Over the past three years, plenty have come trying to seduce him. But as long as I'm here, none of you stand a chance. So, why don't you be smart and leave?" Aileen didn't understand why there was suddenly a woman like this next to her brother. She sneered. "And what if I don't leave?" "Then, I'll have you thrown out." "I dare you." "Why wouldn't I dare?" Then, Joanne shouted, "Security!" Several black-suited guards quickly approached. "Ms.

Lilton," they greeted respectfully.

---- Chapter 838

Aileen's expression turned cold. It was clear the entire company respected Joanne. No wonder Hailey had broken things off with Declan. If she were in Hailey's shoes, she wouldn't have accepted it either. Joanne gave the order, "This woman's here to cause trouble. Throw her out!" "Yes, Ms. Lilton!" Two security guards in black grabbed Aileen, one on each side. Aileen struggled. "Let me go! Do you even know who I am to Jonah?" Joanne scoffed. "What, just another woman trying to seduce him? As long as I'm around, you won't even get close to Jonah.

"You shouldn't get too full of yourself. Once you find out who I really am to Jonah, you'll regret saying that!" Aileen snapped. Joanne had no interest in arguing. She didn't want any pretty woman getting near Jonah. With a wave of her hand, she ordered, "Throw her out!" "Yes, Ms. Lilton!" The guards started dragging Aileen toward the door. Aileen kept fighting. "Let me go! Don't touch me! You'll regret this!" ---- Just then, someone entered from outside. "Stop!" Aileen looked up-it was Wallace! Wallace hadn't seen her face yet. He turned to Joanne. "Joanne, what's going on?" Joanne smiled.

"Wallace, it's nothing. Just a few women who came to see Jonah today. I'm handling it for him." "Joanne, I've always thought you and Jonah were the perfect match. I'm rooting for you." Joanne blushed and smiled shyly. "I'll keep trying." Aileen was speechless. She couldn't believe even Wallace was siding with Joanne. The guards pushed at her again. "Move it!" Aileen called out loudly, "Wallace!" That familiar voice made Wallace pause just as he was heading for the elevator. He quickly turned around and looked at her. Aileen stared at him. "Wallace!" He froze, then rushed over. Latest content published on

"Aileen!" He could barely recognize her. She had completely grown up, graceful and poised. Aileen nodded. "That's right, it's me." Joanne's expression shifted slightly. "Wallace, who is she?" ---- Aileen fired back, "Why don't you take a guess?" Joanne felt her heart sink. She had been hoping to win Wallace over. Was this woman someone important to him? Joanne quickly smiled. "Oh, so you're a friend of Wallace's? Why didn't you say so earlier? If I had known, I wouldn't have had you thrown out." Wallace turned to Joanne. "Joanne, you really don't know who she is?" Joanne shook her head.

"Nope. Isn't she your friend?" "Joanne, she's Just then, a deep, smooth voice cut through the room. Jonah walked over with his team. "What's going on here?" Joanne immediately smiled. "Jonah, you're here." Aileen looked at Jonah, her eyes instantly welling up with tears. She called out, "Jonah!"
