

Priceless Baby 1491

Chapter 1491: Extremely Worried

Jing Xi saw that and felt very worried. She asked the nurse, "What's wrong with them? Why do they need oxygen?"

The nurse told her about their situations. Then Jing Xi realized that due to the attack and the difficult delivery, the boys had been suffering from hypoxia. To make it worse, her younger son had some heart problems.

Jing Xi was heartbroken upon hearing this. She almost died giving birth yet her sons were sick now.

How could she not feel desperate as their mother?

Jing Ruyue tried to comfort her. "Don't worry. They will be fine. They are weak because they are twins. Twins are more likely to suffer from various problems than single babies. When I had you and your brother, you were the younger one and also very weak. We had you in the incubator for over a month before we could take you home."

Jing Xi felt somewhat relieved upon hearing her mother's words.

They had to stay in the incubators for a little while longer. She could not stay there for too long and had to leave.

"Mother, I want to see Yunshen."

Jing Xi had not seen her husband for the past two days. Now that she felt much better she had to go and check on him.

"Mommy, grandma, I want to see daddy too." Ying Bao missed her father too.

"Right. I'll take you to him."

Coming to the ICU, Jing Xi saw through the windows her man lying on the bed in a coma. She could no longer hold back her tears.

Seeing her father lying in a coma like last time, Ying Bao felt very worried. "Mommy, when will daddy wake up? Will it take a long while?"

Jing Xi shook her head and said, "I have no idea."

"Don't cry, Yanyan. You just gave birth. If you cry too much you will suffer from eye diseases from now on."

Jing Ruyue tried to convince her with her own experience. She had suffered a lot after giving birth to her babies which resulted in her poor health condition till now.

Jing Xi wiped her tears and asked anxiously, "Mother, they said the operation was successful...but why is he still in a coma?"

Thinking of the risks and possible sequels of the operation, Jing Xi felt extremely worried.

What if he never woke up again, or if he forgot everything like Mo Yutian?

“Let's wait and see. The doctor said we need to wait for 72 hours.”

There was nothing they could do now. Getting out of the ICU, Jing Xi went to see Su Wanqin.

She saw Su Wanqin lying on the bed, as well as Mo Yutian, who sat blankly by the corner.

He seemed to not be aware of them coming in.

Hearing that she had been hurt in the explosion, Jing Xi asked, “Mother, how are you feeling now?”

Ying Bao was worried too. “Grandma, are you ok?”

Su Wanqin patted her on the head and said, “Grandma is fine.”

Then she turned to Jing Xi. “Jing Xi, I was about to go see you. Are you feeling better now? How are the babies?”

Su Wanqin was actually planning to visit Jing Xi and before they arrived.

“We are fine. No worries, mother,” Jing Xi said.

“Good, good.”

She cared more about Jing Xi than herself now. “You'd better go and get some good rest. You just had a difficult delivery. Do take good care of yourself.”

She turned to speak to Jing Ruyue. “Ruyue, you should take her back and take good care of her. I'll come visit you when I'm feeling better.”

Jing Ruyue agreed and was about to leave. Then Ying Bao saw Mo Yutian in the corner and ran to him calling, “Uncle Dragonbeard!”

Mo Yutian was not reacting to anyone until the girl came to him. He put on a smile.

Chapter 1492: Time to Take Responsibility

“Ying Bao, let's go. We'll visit them next time,” Jing Xi said.

“Bye-bye, Uncle Dragonbeard, I'll come again, okay?” Ying Bao said and ran to her mother.

After they had left, Su Wanqin lay down and sighed.

“What did they do to deserve this? Why can't they live a safe and happy life? If I could trade my life for their happiness, I would do it...”

Mo Yutian looked out the window.

He suddenly made a choice. He decided that it was time to take responsibility.

Jing Xi and her family would never be safe unless Lady White Tea was apprehended.

After making sure that he wanted to walk down that road, Mo Yutian stood up. The out of mind look that he always had was gone and was replaced with a stern look.

“Mom, please get some rest. I have to go out for a while,” Mo Yutian said.

“Okay.” Su Wanqin nodded, only realizing what was happening when Mo Yutian was at the door.

“What... Xiao'er?”

Su Wanqin could not believe that her son, who had lost his mind, was talking to her and even calling her “mom.”

It meant that Mo Yutian had recovered.

But no matter how Su Wanqin tried to stop her son, Mo Yutian left without turning his head back. He went to Huo Yunshen's room, and to his luck, Ye Xun and Jing Zhannan were outside the door.

Ye Xun was first to notice Mo Yutian walking towards them. He quickly realized Mo Yutian was walking with his head held high.

Mo Yutian stopped in front of them. Ye Xun looked at him from top to bottom. To his surprise, Mo Yutian did not look stupid at all.

“Mo Yutian! Were you acting all this time?”

Ye Xun quickly rested his hand by his gun, preparing for a battle.

“Now's not the time for that,” Mo Yutian said. “Mr. Ye, Mr. Jing, I have something to discuss with the both of you. May I?”

“...”

Both Ye Xun and Jing Zhannan were shocked that Mo Yutian could speak like a normal person.

“What do you want?”

Mo Yutian looked at Huo Yunshen's room and said, “Do you want to catch who's behind the attack? I might have something to help with that.”

Ye Xun and Jing Zhannan both looked at each other. Even though there might be a chance that Mo Yutian might be setting up a trap, there was no way they could give up on a lead.

They brought Mo Yutian to the lounge so they could speak more freely.

“What were you going to tell us?” Ye Xun asked.

“I do know who's responsible for the attack. Her name is Lady White Tea,” Mo Yutian said.

“Lady White Tea?” Ye Xun had seen Jing Xi's movie, Landscape, and knew that Lady White Tea was also the person responsible for separating Jing Xi's parents.

“She wants revenge.” Mo Yutian explained to them everything that had happened up until then.

“Oh my god! Are you telling me she's back?”

Ye Xun could not believe that after all these years, Lady White Tea was still playing with the devil.

Chapter 1493: They Were Cautious Now!

Now she went further to persecute Jing Ruyue and Helian Wei's children.

Jing Zhannan frowned and asked, “Do you know where Lady White Tea is now?”

“Yes. I can take you to her. She should still be in Estan now.”

Since Mo Yutian could help them find her, Jing Zhannan decided instantly, “The sooner the better. Let's go get her.”

He turned to Ye Xun. “Ye Xun, you stay here. I'll go with him.”

“Yes, sure.”

Then Jing Zhannan took Mo Yutian with him and got out of the hospital. He called his men to go with him after Lady White Tea.

Mo Yutian directed them to a house on the outskirts. They surrounded the place and broke in.

Unfortunately, they were too late. The house was empty.

“No one here!”

Jing Zhannan searched the house but found no one.

He turned to Mo Yutian suspiciously and pointed his gun at him. “Give me an explanation.”

He wondered if Mo Yutian was sincerely helping or if he had taken them here deliberately.

What did he want?

“They just left.”

Mo Yutian knew that it was hard to gain their trust because of what he had done in the past.

“You'd better not hide anything from me. Otherwise, my bullets are blind!”

“Why would I lie to you? If I did not want to help, why would I risk my own life to bring you here?”

In order to prove that he was loyal, Mo Yutian pointed at the cup on the table and said, “You see, the tea is still warm. They must have just left. We were one step late.”

The fruit tea on the table was indeed still hot.

Jing Zhannan decided to believe him for now. "So can you get in touch with her again? Or do you know where they might go?"

Since they were already cautious and went on the run, it would be very difficult to get them now.

Mo Yutian shook his head. "No. She came to me every time with different numbers. I could not reach her."

They had to admit that, being a former spy, Lady White Tea was really good at counter reconnaissance. It would not be easy to get her.

And to make things worse, they were cautious now.

Jing Zhannan called his men back and took Mo Yutian back to the hospital. He sent him to Su Wanqin's room and arranged a few guards to watch him.

"I have to have an eye on you. You should understand that we could arrest you at any time given your special situation."

Mo Yutian was a normal person now, which meant that he could be taken for an international trial for his former crimes.

Mo Yutian nodded. "Yes, I know. When you get Lady White Tea, I will surrender myself."

Jing Zhannan sensed that he was confessing sincerely rather than lying. So he agreed. "If Lady White Tea ever contacts you again, you should report to us immediately."

"No problem."

Jing Zhannan left and Mo Yutian got into the ward.

Seeing him coming back, Su Wanqin was relieved. She kept staring at him and asked, "Xiao-Er, are you fully recovered?"

Mo Yutian came to her and got hold of her hand. "Yes, mother. I'm fine now."

"This is great! This is great! I finally heard you call me 'mother.' I'm so happy."

Su Wanqin burst into tears. But recalling what her elder son had said earlier on, she became worried again. "Since you are fine now, will they come to arrest you? What should we do?"

Chapter 1494: Reveal The Truth

"Don't worry, mom. I have nothing to say, even if they want to catch me. I have to take responsibility for what I've done if I want to live up to the Long name," Mo Yutian said.

"But I won't be able to see you easily if you get caught... Why don't you leave right away? I won't tell anyone."

Su Wanqin cried, not wanting her son to go to jail.

“No, I can't leave!” Mo Yutian said. “Don't worry too much about it. I can still be with you for a while. My mission now is to protect you, Jing Xi, and... and big bro. I could not live with myself if any of you were hurt.”

“Xiao'er...”

Su Wanqin hugged her son as Mo Yutian patted her back.

“All right, I get it,” Su Wanqin said after she stopped crying. “Can you take me to where your nephews are? I want to see them.”

“Okay.”

Mo Yutian helped Su Wanqin to her wheelchair and pushed her out of her room.

Jing Zhannan's subordinates asked where they were going. After learning that they were heading to Jing Xi's room, the guards followed them.

Jing Xi was talking with Helian Qingyu, who had just returned from overseas, and their parents.

They turned their heads when they heard Mo Yutian and Su Wanqin coming in.

“Mother? Are you okay?” Jing Xi asked

“Yes. I came to see you and the babies,” Su Wanqin smiled.

“Good afternoon, Auntie Su,” Helian Qingyu greeted with a smile.

“Good afternoon, Mr. President,” Su Wanqin greeted back. “I didn't interrupt the conversation, did I?”

“No, not at all.”

“Jing Xi, can I have a look at the babies?”

“Sure, let my mom take you there.”

Jing Ruyue took over the wheelchair's handle from Mo Yutian and said, “Come on.”

Helian Qingyu got up and followed them too.

“I want to take a look at the babies, too,” he said.

Mo Yutian kept quiet the whole time, and everyone still thought that his mind was that of a kid and paid no attention to him.

Only Jing Xi and Mo Yutian were in the room. Jing Xi looked at Mo Yutian and turned around, deciding that there was no need to talk with someone who couldn't understand her.

“How are you, Jing Xi?”

Jing Xi quickly turned her head back when she heard Mo Yutian open his mouth.

Mo Yutian was looking at her, and the kid-like face he'd had before was gone.

“Mo Yutian!” Jing Xi shouted as she sat up.

“Don't be scared! I'm just here to see you,” Mo Yutian said as he walked towards her.

“Don't come any closer! You weren't stupid from the beginning, were you? It's all an act!” Jing Xi scolded as she backed up to the wall.

Jing Xi did suspect that Mo Yutian was acting at the beginning, but everything about him being stupid seemed so real, and she had changed her mind.

He finally revealed himself when no other people were around them. There was no way Jing Xi would not be scared.

She was worried that he had something planned, something that would shake the whole world again.

All Jing Xi knew was that it was a mistake to put a satan-like figure by their side.

Chapter 1495: A Devil's Confession

“I'm sorry. I know I did a lot of terrible things in the past and you have every reason to detest me and be afraid of me.

“But what I'm trying to say is, please do not be scared. I won't hurt you or anyone else.

“I have been playing stupid just to atone for my sins.

“When I get Lady White Tea, I will surrender myself to the police and go for the international trial.

“But before that please allow me to stay here and protect you.”

Jing Xi found herself speechless.

How should she react to a devil's confession?

Jing Xi almost felt that it was an illusion. She never would have expected that Mo Yutian would share his innermost thoughts with her.

Recalling what they had gone through lately, if he was merely playing fool, he should have had enough chances to take their lives.

Yet he never did so.

He was willing to be Ying Bao's horse and crawled on the floor. He saved Ying Bao when she was almost hit...

What he had done was completely different from the past.

Perhaps he was sincerely atoning for his sins!

Jing Xi would rather believe him now.

Speaking of catching Lady White Tea, Jing Xi asked further, "Do you have any idea who Lady White Tea is?"

"Yes. She is Yun Xuerou. I used to call her aunt," Mo Yutian answered.

He was right. Being Lan Qiwei's sister and Lan Ling-Er's aunt, of course Yun Xuerou used to be his aunt too, but not any longer.

"If you can catch her, please do help me ask where she took my brother many years ago."

"Your brother?"

"Yes. I have a twin brother. But he was taken away by Yun Xuerou right after he was born. We haven't found him so far. I hope we can get some clue from Yun Xuerou."

Even Mo Yutian had no idea about this. "Sure. I'll help you find it out."

"Thank you for sending me to the labor room the other day." Jing Xi was sincerely grateful.

"Don't mention it."

"And it was also you who got shot for me in the amusement park in that squirrel costume, right?"

Jing Xi had been wondering about this for a while. Now she asked him again.

Mo Yutian said nothing but it was a tacit understanding. Jing Xi thought it through and finally figured it out.

"You were injured. So the blood on Ying Bao's dress that day did not come from your finger, but your bullet wound. Correct?"

Mo Yutian nodded.

Jing Xi was right. So she made a bolder guess. "In that case, the one who warned me about Huangpu Xuanye's assassination and President Qingyu about the bomb in his flight was also you, right?"

Mo Yutian stared at her calmly without saying a word. But Jing Xi already had the answer.

How unexpected!

He had done so many things secretly for them.

If it was not for his help behind the scenes, the situation would have gone a lot worse.

Huangpu Xuanye, Helian Qingyu, Huo Yunshen, herself and even their daughter...they would have all been dead by now.

After realizing what had happened, Jing Xi said to him again, "Thank you, Mo Yutian."

"There is no need. I want to protect you and be useful."

They talked a bit more after that. Jing Xi was filled with surprise and gratitude. She had never expected that she would ever have such a heartfelt conversation with Mo Yutian.

And she chose to believe that he was no longer a devil, but rather an angel redeemed.

She hoped that he would stay that way from now on!

And that he could get Lady White Tea the soonest!

Chapter 1496: Missed It

After struggling for 72 hours, Huo Yunshen was finally out of the danger zone. He finally woke up five days after the surgery.

He did not feel anything strange with his body other than the slight pain in his head.

He did not lose his memory, and it was a huge relief.

Jing Xi went to visit him the moment she got word that Huo Yunshen had woken up.

Huo Yunshen grabbed his wife's hand when they finally met.

"I made it..." Huo Yunshen said.

"I knew you could make it," Jing Xi said as tears rolled down her face.

Huo Yunshen suddenly realized that Jing Xi's belly wasn't huge anymore.

"Your belly... Where are the babies?" Huo Yunshen asked with a panicked voice.

"You have been unconscious the whole time, so it's normal that you don't know," Huo Sanyan replied to the question. "Your wife has successfully given birth to two babies."

"What? When?"

"Five days ago."

"..." Disappointment could clearly be seen on Huo Yunshen's face.

He had promised to be with Jing Xi until labor.

And yet he'd missed it utterly.

They didn't tell Huo Yunshen about the accident that happened during his surgery or that Jing Xi was forced to go into labor earlier.

"I'm so sorry... I promised you that I'd be there for you all the time, but you had to suffer all of that alone again..."

"Don't fret too much about it," Jing Xi comforted. "What's important is that you're well and alive."

"Yes..."

The couple looked at each other as they held hands.

The other people left the room to give them some private time.

"Come here," Huo Yunshen said as he moved to the side, emptying up space on his bed. "Lie with me."

“Okay!” Jing Xi climbed up on his bed and lay on his shoulder.

“It must have been painful, right?”

“No, not at all. Everything went smoothly.”

Jing Xi did not want to worry her husband and decided to hide the truth from him.

“How are they?”

“They're doing great,” Jing Xi raised her head and said. “Aren't you going to ask me if they are boys or girls?”

“Are they boys or girls?”

“Guess.”

“One boy and one girl?”

“Guess again.”

“Two girls? Two boys?”

“Yup, you have two sons now. Congratulations on becoming the father of three kids,” Jing Xi smiled.

“Thank you. You've worked really hard.”

Huo Yunshen hugged his wife tightly and kissed her. Even though Jing Xi had said she didn't suffer much, Huo Yunshen knew that giving birth was not an easy feat.

“Didn't I book the best maternity hotel for you? Why didn't you go there?” Huo Yunshen asked since it had been five days since the labor.

“I canceled it,” Jing Xi replied. “I decided to stay here with you and that we can leave the hospital together as a family.”

“But, is this enough for you?”

“Don't worry about me. My mom's here too. I will be restless if I'm not by your side.”

Chapter 1497: Can't Love It More!

“OK. Then let's go home together later.”

Huo Yunshen was awake. But after the operation on his brain, he would need a long while to fully recover, and would have to stay in the hospital for further observation and treatments.

He could not yet get out of the bed, not to mention the hospital.

Jing Xi was supposed to be in a luxury maternity hotel now. But she chose to stay in the hospital for Huo Yunshen.

She stayed in a suite-style ward. There was a kitchen, a bathroom and everything else she needed.

Jing Ruyue stayed to take good care of her and cook for her.

Jing Xi recovered fairly soon. She was fully able to breastfeed her boys. She used the breast pump and the nurses took it to the babies every day.

The babies were getting better too. Nurses told them that they might be able to leave the incubators in a few days.

Jing Xi was very much looking forward to welcoming her babies back. She checked on them every day and took many cute photos for her husband.

Huo Yunshen was also very excited to see their photos. He could barely let go of the phone.

Jing Xi asked, "Who do you think they resemble?"

"Of course me. They'll definitely become handsome boys soon enough."

Jing Xi gurgled and said, "How come I never knew you were a narcissist?"

"One has to look good in order to be a narcissist. Don't you like my pretty face?"

"I do! I couldn't love it more!" Jing Xi cuddled him and pressed her face on his chest. Then she asked, "How about you? Did you fall in love with me because I was pretty?"

"No! To be precise, it was you who came to conquer me first. Then I had the crush."

If it was not her who had seduced him at first, he would have never surrendered so easily.

"So tell me, do you like my face more or my figure?"

"I like both."

Jing Xi seemed annoyed. "What if I grew old, or got disfigured, or became fat? Would you still love me the same?"

Perhaps it was the fat on her loosened belly after giving birth that made her worry.

"No matter what you look like, you are always the love of my life. I love you, not for your pretty face or your charming figure, but your very self and your soul. You got it?"

After saying so, Huo Yunshen placed a long kiss on her lips.

His answer as well as the kiss was very satisfying. Jing Xi was fully relieved now.

While they were caressing endlessly, a little girl called from outside the room. "Wow! Daddy! Mommy!"

Suddenly hearing their daughter's calling, Jing Xi bounced back and turned. "Sweetheart, come over here!"

Ying Bao ran cheerfully toward them and bent over the bed. She asked, "What were you doing just now?"

"Nothing. Mommy was showing daddy your brothers' photos."

"I want to see them too!"

"Sure, here you go." Jing Xi showed her daughter the photos on her phone.

Ying Bao found the two babies in the photos to be identical. She was confused. "Mommy, which one is my first brother and which one is second?"

"This is your first brother, and this is your second brother."

"What are their names?" Ying Bao could not keep calling them first and second brother.

"Well, their nicknames are Tiantian and Lele."

"Tiantian? Lele?" Ying Bao found those names not to be distinctive at all...

Chapter 1498: Worry About Their Marriage Life

Ying Bao felt that her baby brothers' weren't good enough, and they weren't in the same category as hers.

"Mommy, the names aren't good. Can we change them?" Ying Bao asked.

"Huh? Do you have any ideas?"

Ying Bao tilted her head and began to think.

"I got it! Why don't we give them names with fruits? Then we can be a family of fruits!"

"... Not a bad idea. Which fruits then?"

"... I know! Big brother will be Little Apple, and younger brother will be Little Grape! Apple, grape, and cherry!"

"Sure thing," Huo Yunshen laughed. "Looks like we won't have to worry about not having fruits in our house in the future."

"Then it's decided," Jing Xi laughed too.

"Yippee!" Ying Bao jumped with joy. "Little Apple, Little Grape, can you hear me? Hurry up and reply, or I'll eat you all."

The adults laughed at Ying Bao's action once again.

While Jing Xi and Huo Yunshen stayed at the hospital, it had completely become their second home as friends and families would visit them from time to time.

Tang Yitan and his family came to Estan again for Liang Lan's third session with Jing Huaduo.

They visited Huo Yunshen first before visiting Jing Xi.

When Ying Bao met Tang Feimo, she pulled his hands happily.

“Brother Feimo, did you know? I got two new brothers now!”

“Really? Where are they?”

“Come with me!”

Ying Bao would always go to visit her baby brothers in the hospital. She informed Jing Xi and took Tang Feimo to them.

Ying Bao looked for her brothers in the nursery. She pointed at them when she found them.

“Look! This is my brother. The other one is my brother too!”

“Oh my god! They're so small!” Tang Fei expressed his surprise.

“Of course, they are babies, after all.”

“Do they have names?”

“Yup! The big brother is Little Apple, and the younger one is Little Grape!”

“That's some yummy names,” Tang Feimo laughed as he pictured a huge red apple and a bunch of grapes.

“Yup! Apples and grapes are tasty!”

Tang Feimo looked at the babies and suddenly said, “Cherry, let's have babies once we get married, okay?”

“Okay! We'll have a lot of babies and buy them a lot of milk!”

“Yes! I'll earn a lot of money so that we all can live a happy life!”

“Yay!”

The kids weren't even 15 years old if they added their ages up, and yet they were already talking about their married life. The nurses could help but laugh when they heard the kids' conversation.

Chapter end

Chapter 1499: What Else Could She Do?

One day after the Tang Yichen family's visit, Ma Haodong and Xiao Yuqian also flew to Estan to see Jing Xi.

It had been a long while. Ma Haodong seemed more charming and responsible as a mature man.

He carried some gifts and held Xiao Yuqian's hand, moving toward the room.

Xiao Yuqian could only get rid of him at the door.

She had wanted to come by herself. But Ma Haodong managed to find out her plan and flew on the same flight with her to Estan.

She tried to kick him away. But he insisted that he was visiting Jing Xi and happened to be on the same flight with her. What else could she do?

Entering the room, Xiao Yuqian smiled at Jing Xi and said, "Yanyan, congrats! I heard you had two baby boys. I'm so happy for you."

Xiao Yuqian passed the bouquet to Jing Xi, who smiled back and thanked her. "Thank you, sister Qianqian and brother Dong, for coming all the way here."

"Of course we had to come!"

Ma Haodong put the gifts on the table and came to sit by Xiao Yuqian.

Seeing them staying pretty close, Jing Xi asked, "Are you guys getting married soon? Do send me an invitation!"

Ma Haodong nodded, "Sure, sure. I'll definitely let you know."

Xiao Yuqian gave him a mean look and thought, Who is getting married to you? We've got a lot to figure out before that, OK?

Ma Haodong deliberately ignored her look and was not annoyed at all. He would never give up no matter how she reacted.

They chatted for a while and talked about Li Ruochu. "Sister Qianqian, do you know how Ruochu has been doing recently? Is she still staying with you?"

"No. She moved out."

Xiao Yuqian knew that Li Ruochu was running away from her ex. She tried to persuade her to go back to him for the baby's sake.

But Li Ruochu was determined never to get back to Helian Qingyu. There was nothing she could do.

"I am so worried. She is pregnant. Who could take care of her if she is in need?" Jing Xi sighed.

She'd just had a difficult delivery and knew exactly how crucial her family was for her. How could Li Ruochu do it by herself?

"Don't be too worried. I saw a man helping her moving out previously. He was nice and gentle. Perhaps he could be her new boyfriend."

"Seriously?"

"I was just thinking aloud. I have no idea either."

Jing Xi felt even more worried. If Li Ruochu had found a new boyfriend, what about her brother?

Xiao Yuqian did not stay for long. She had too many things to take care of and had to fly back on the following day.

Ma Haodong had originally planned to take her on a vacation in Estan. They could barely have any intimate time in Zstan. But she would not spare him the chance.

With Xiao Yuqian gone, there was no point for him to stay further. So he followed her back.

It had been half a month. Jing Xi and Huo Yunshen had visitors almost every day.

Ye Xun picked Ying Bao up from the school and took her to the hospital. Su Wanqin had fully recovered and Mo Yutian brought her to see Jing Xi and the babies.

Seeing her grandmother and Uncle Dragonbeard, Ying Bao greeted them cheerfully and put down her school bag. The first thing she would like to do was...

“Mommy, grandma, I want to see my brothers!”

“Sure, let's go together!”

Su Wanqin had already chatted with Jing Xi for a while. So she asked Mo Yutian to take her to her grandchildren as well.

Chapter 1500: They're Gone

Mo Yutian pushed Su Wanqin to the nursery, and Ye Xun and Ying Bao followed behind them.

As they were walking, a nurse with a mask walked towards them. In his hands were two huge black plastic bags. It looked like trash.

They thought the nurse was taking out the trash and made way for him.

When they reached the nursery, they found that all of the nurses were resting their heads on the table.

Ye Xun checked the time, and it was only evening. He wondered what gave the nurses the nerve to sleep during work.

He knocked on the table, trying to wake them up, but none of them gave him a response.

Realizing that something was wrong, Ye Xun put his finger under the nose of one of the nurses and realized she was not breathing.

“What the? They're all dead!” Ye Xun shouted.

He quickly kicked the door to the nursery open and rushed in. Also realizing something was going on, Mo Yutian left Ying Bao with Su Wanqin and ran in after Ye Xun.

When they checked the nurse, they realized the two babies who had been sleeping quietly in their incubators were gone.

“Shit! Someone took the babies!”

Ye Xun panicked. He couldn't believe that someone would dare to steal the babies in the heavily surveilled hospital.

Mo Yutian calmed down and began to think. He suddenly realized that the nurse with two bags in his hands might have been one of Lady White Tea's men who was tasked to steal the babies.

“I got it! The nurse with the plastic bags we ran into just now! He took the babies!” Mo Yutian said.

He quickly rushed out from the nursery with Ye Xun behind him.

As soon as he went through the main door, they saw the nurse had already gotten on another person's motorbike that was waiting for him.

“There he is! They're getting away!”

Mo Yutian quickly chased after them. Ye Xun looked around and saw a courier next to them. He took out all of his money and gave it to the courier to borrow his bike.

Mo Yutian did his best chasing after the culprits, but his prosthetic leg was dragging him down.

Just as he was thinking of stopping a car to help him, Ye Xun stopped right next to him.

“Get on!” Ye Xun shouted.

Mo Yutian sat behind Ye Xun, and they chased after the bike that was already pulling away.

The culprits finally realized they were being chased and drifted off the main road and into the mountains.

They ditched their bike and ran into the forest.

Ye Xun and Mo Yutian continued to pursue them until they reached the end of a canyon.

“There's no way to run now!” Ye Xun shouted.

They were still skeptical about whether the babies were in the bags. But when they heard babies crying, they were sure of it.

“Hand the babies over, and I'll let you live!” Ye Xun said as he pointed his gun towards the kidnapers.
