

Priceless Baby 1771

Chapter 1771: This Reaction Was The Natural Instinct Of Love

Jing Xi wanted to push herself up with her arms but he held her waist and pulled her back again.

Her body fell back onto the pillow and he held both her hands. A fervent morning kissing activity had started.

Jing Xi was completely defenseless. She wasn't even able to withstand his temptation. He kissed her with such tenderness. It started slightly rigid but she later gradually got lost in it.

She actually felt really afraid in her heart. Afraid that she wouldn't be able to control her heart, that she wouldn't be able to reject him. She had already slowly started to accept him. Moreover, she also enjoyed it when he kissed her.

He teased her so much that she even wanted more.

However, he would always stop at the critical moment and not take the next step, not overdoing it.

Jing Xi knew the only reason he didn't have his way with her was that she was pregnant.

However, she had already passed the three-month period. Supposedly, she should already be able to do that, right?

Oh my god. When Jing Xi realized she was lusting for something to happen with him, she really was about to die from embarrassment.

She was so shameless!

When the morning kissing activity stopped, he stared at her and said to her slightly breathily, "I'm sorry. I forgot myself last night..."

Jing Xi looked at him with blurred eyes, not even saying one word. He stared at her for a while before kissing her lips again. He asked, "You like how it feels when I kiss you, right?"

"..." Yes, but she was too embarrassed to admit it.

As before, the two of them were still in the position where the man was on top and the woman was below. After they exchanged glances, Hou Yunshen couldn't help but sink down and aim for her lips again.

Jing Xi... I want you so badly...

It wasn't like Jing Xi didn't feel the same.

He had teased her into being aroused. She couldn't help but stretch out her hands to hold him. While being excited by such ecstasy, scenes of a man and a woman being in the midst of passion suddenly emerged in her mind.

She even saw the man's side-profile. It looked like the king's face. It was very similar.

It felt about the same!

Why did she always think of scenes that were not suitable for children?

Could it be that she was a promiscuous woman by nature?

When he wanted to let her go in the end, she instead held on to him tightly, not willing to let him go.

Perhaps this reaction was the natural instinct of love.

Although she had forgotten the person she loved the most in her memory, her body still recognized him.

Huo Yunshen initially only wanted to kiss her to satisfy his craving. But now that she held onto him and did not let him go, it was an invitation in disguise.

"I am a bit worried about the baby in your tummy."

"It is probably...fine." She unexpectedly said this, tying up her fate.

Huo Yunshen counted the months and realized the dangerous period was about over. He said, slightly uncontrollably, "Why don't...we be more careful...and try it?"

Jing Xi didn't say anything and it was equal to giving her consent.

Huo Yunshen could no longer control himself after getting such a reaction from her with the invitation... The feeling she felt right now overlapped with some of the feelings in her memories.

While feeling she was intoxicated in the clouds, she couldn't control herself and shouted out, "Ah... Yunshen..."

Huo Yunshen was filled with joy when he suddenly heard her call his name. The more images she could remember, the more those fragmented images rapidly rearranged their order.

It was his love for her that awakened parts of her memory.

When his kiss arrived, her tears couldn't help but flow out.

Why did she suddenly feel such sadness?

Throughout the whole process of satisfying her, Huo Yunshen was very careful not to hurt the baby.

Finally, while they were both in a sober state, he once again returned to the harbor he depended on to survive...he had her once again.

Chapter 1772: Bits And Pieces

Jing Xi fell asleep in Huo Yunshen's arms. He gently brushed through her hair and kissed her forehead.

He could faintly remember her calling out his name. He wanted to know if it was because she could remember him or because of the intense sex they were having.

But there is no point in thinking, Huo Yunshen decided.

He then fell asleep with Jing Xi in his arms and woke up around 11 the next morning.

Huo Yunshen did not wake Jing Xi up and went to prepare lunch.

Jing Xi slowly woke up after that. She recalled what had happened and could feel aches all over her body.

She still couldn't tell if the night before was a dream or reality. Her mind was in chaos.

She quickly got up and got dressed.

She ran out of the bedroom and heard someone call out.

“Jing Xi...”

Jing Xi turned around, but no one was there.

The voice sounded like it was from far away as if it was coming from inside her head.

She could not understand why the voice sounded familiar.

She turned to look in the bedroom and realized it seemed familiar too, as if she'd stayed there before.

She shook her head and believed that she was just hallucinating.

She convinced herself it was because she had been hearing too many stories of the king and the queen's past.

Jing Xi then noticed the balcony and walked towards it.

From the balcony, she could see a field of flowers. Bits and pieces of memories began to return to her.

She could see a man in a wheelchair tending to the field.

“Mr. Huo, what are you doing?”

“I'm plowing.”

“What for?”

“I'm thinking of planting something.”

“Did you plant all of these?”

“Yes. I have way too much spare time.”

“But your body is still recovering! Let me do it!”

“It's fine. This is a man's job. If you really want to help me, bring me the seeds over there.”

With those memories in her head, she walked towards the rack and picked up a bag of seeds.

Realizing something was off, Jing Xi quickly let go of the bag, and it fell to the floor.

She quickly ran back into the room and came to the dining room.

She then noticed Huo Yunshen was making food in the kitchen.

“What do you want for dinner?”

“I don't care, as long as you're the one who makes it.”

Jing Xi could slowly remember her past because of the familiar surroundings.

But it happened too suddenly, and Jing Xi could feel her head bursting.

Huo Yunshen finished making lunch and came out from the kitchen only to see Jing Xi kneeling on the floor, hugging her head.

“What's wrong?” Huo Yunshen asked.

Jing Xi did not reply, and Huo Yunshen kneeled down.

He held her head up and noticed she was crying.

Seeing her cry hurt Huo Yunshen a lot.

Thinking that he might've been too rude the night before, he quickly apologized. “I'm sorry! I shouldn't have treated you like that... I just can't control myself...”

But Jing Xi wasn't crying because of that. She was crying because she was thinking of an impossible possibility.

She shook her head.

Chapter 1773: Filled With A Desire For Answers

Feeling pain in his heart, he knelt down on the floor and took her into his embrace to comfort her. She didn't do anything to resist, just staying quiet and letting him comfort her however he wanted.

After that, he brought her up to sit on the sofa. She was very obedient and didn't say a word.

“You haven't washed your face yet, right?”

He realized her hair was very messy so he helped her tidy it up.

“Let's go. I will help you wash up.”

Huo Yunshen helped her up and led her back to the bedroom. No matter what he did, she no longer looked timid and she no longer rejected his kindness towards her.

Her eyes looked like they were filled with a desire for answers all the time. When he turned around, she would sneak a glance at his back.

If... if she was really Jing Xi... then, he would be her most beloved husband!

Could this hypothesis hold water?

She hoped she could remember something more. However, the harder she tried to remember, the harder it was for her to think of anything.

She even started to suspect that the things that emerged just now were all just her imagination.

Did she suffer from a delusional disorder?

Jing Xi finished washing up under his care. He then also brought her to the dining hall to eat.

While they were eating, he asked, "Why were you crying just now?"

"I'm sorry." She shook her head and wasn't willing to say more.

It was only after the meal that Jing Xi mediated her own feelings. She asked him, "Your majesty, what do you have planned for today?"

"I don't have anything special arranged. We will stay at home and watch movies," Huo Yunshen said.

Jing Xi was a bit astonished. This man had clearly said he was going abroad for work. Now that he was abroad, he actually just stayed in one place to watch movies?

He actually wanted to watch movies that Jing Xi had acted in with her. He wanted to make her get familiar with the version of herself on the screen.

Huo Yunshen played a movie that he and Jing Xi had acted in together, Deep in the Shadows of the Stars.

This movie showed every detail of how Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi had met each other, how they got to know each other, and how they loved each other.

Jing Xi looked at the woman on the screen. She was radiating with beauty. She and his majesty the king were really an ideal couple. Many people would be extremely jealous.

The story in the movie made her feel very familiar. The scene where he planted the flowers and had a conversation seemed to be the same as the one that had passed through her mind just now.

The more she understood, the more afraid she felt.

The more she confronted it, the more her heart trembled.

As for who she was, whether she was Jing Xi...these scary cognitions kept on assaulting her mind.

She unconsciously touched her ruined face. It seemed she could no longer go back to how she had looked.

With such ugly looks, even she would dislike herself.

She thought about the man beside her, and also all of her friends. If they saw their friend from the past turn into something that looked neither like a human nor a ghost, would they also feel scared and disappointed?

If she really was Jing Xi, would she still have the courage to live in this world?

Once they finished watching the movie, Huo Yunshen asked her gently, "Jing Xiaoxi, do you have any thoughts after watching this movie?"

Did she have any thoughts?

Could she tell him what she thought?

She didn't tell any of her real thoughts at all. Instead, she forced out a smile. "You guys acted really well in the past and you guys looked like you loved each other very much. It really makes people jealous."

"Is there... anything more?"

"Nothing." Jing Xi shook her head, lowering her gaze as an invisible sadness flashed in her eyes.

Huo Yunshen pinched her shoulder and said, "Nevermind. We will keep on watching other movies, since Jing Xi also acted in others, too."

Chapter 1774: Impatient

Huo Yunshen then played Landscape, a movie that Jing Xi had played in. They finished watching the movie, and Huo Yunshen asked Jing Xi what she thought of it.

Jing Xi knew that Huo Yunshen wanted to ask if she remembered anything or not.

She shook her head and said, "I'm sorry, but I'm a little tired now... Can I go to sleep?"

"Sure thing. Let me help you."

Huo Yunshen wanted to carry Jing Xi back to the room, but Jing Xi rejected him.

Jing Xi got up and left for the bedroom alone.

Looking at their relationship getting worse, Huo Yunshen frowned.

He wondered if he was being too impatient.

Jing Xi had initially just wanted to rest a little to get away from Huo Yunshen, but she slept until night fell.

She came out of the bedroom and could not find the king anywhere.

Just as she was wondering if Huo Yunshen had headed out, the door opened. She raised her head, thinking that Huo Yunshen had come back, but the one who came in was Fang Xiaocheng.

Jing Xi stared at the familiar face and felt bad. If I'm the real Jing Xi, how could I forget my best friend?

She couldn't remember anything about Fang Xiaocheng.

"Miss Jing, you're up?" Fang Xiaocheng asked when she noticed Jing Xi was standing in the living room.

"Where's Mr. Huo?" Jing Xi asked.

"He's holding his birthday party now. He asked me to come and fetch you," Fang Xiaocheng explained.

"I see..." Jing Xi only just remembered that it was the king's birthday.

"Can we leave now?" Fang Xiaocheng asked.

"Let me change first."

"Here, wear this," Fang Xiaocheng said as she handed Jing Xi a bag. "Mr. Huo told me to give it to you."

Jing Xi thanked her and took the bag over. She opened it and found an elegant dress in it.

"This is too fancy for me." Jing Xi shook her head. "I'll wear my own clothes."

Seeing Jing Xi not willing to wear the dress, Fang Xiaocheng did not try to persuade her any further.

After leaving Shengshi Yujing, Fang Xiaocheng drove Jing Xi to the party venue. They rarely talked on their way there.

The car finally stopped at the bank of a lake.

"Miss Fang, I thought we were going to a party?" Jing Xi asked.

"The party is on the island in the middle of the lake. We'll have to take a boat there," Fang Xiaocheng explained.

They boarded the boat, and they left for the island. The island was lit with all sorts of lights.

They reached the island and headed for the Qingyun Residence.

The residence was so pretty. Jing Xi felt like she was in Alice's wonderland. She followed Fang Xiaocheng into the residence and felt like she'd entered a place that did not fit her.

But she also felt attracted to the place.

As they walked into the residence, Jing Xi could hear a familiar song. It was the theme song for Deep in the Shadows of the Stars, Brilliant Stars.

The moment Jing Xi heard the duet, she could tell that she did not sing that song.

Chapter 1775: She Was Jing Xi!

It was impossible that she was the one who sang that song!

Jing Xi touched her throat and a faint ache surged from her heart. That place could no longer emit such a beautiful and spirited voice!

After they arrived and entered the Qingyun Residence Villa, Jing Xi saw many familiar and unfamiliar faces. All of their old friends came.

Many of the faces were nowhere to be found within her memory.

However, everyone's attitude towards her was very friendly. When she came, they each came one after the other to greet her.

She knew the people who she saw yesterday. There were many she hadn't seen before but they would all introduce themselves.

“Miss Jing, nice to meet you. I am Xiao Yuqian's lover, Ma Haodong.”

A handsome and stylish man came over to shake her hand. Although he had an obvious smile when he was speaking, his eyes were red.

“You must be Mr. Huo's personal assistant, Jing Xiaoxi, right?”

Qi Liya came forward to give her a big hug. “I welcome your arrival!”

After that, a pretty woman ran over and hugged her tightly. “Sis! Are you well, sis?!”

It was only after she spoke with her that she knew her name was Wan Dou. The man who came with her was called Mu Chenguang. They were friends of Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi from the past.

Over here, Jing Xi could still recognize Tang Yichen's lover, Liang La, Huo Yunshen's oldest sister, Huo Yijing, and his second oldest sister, Huo Erqi.

There were still many friends whose names she could not recall. However, everyone treated her very cordially and with friendliness.

She had basically gotten to know everyone. Jing Xi didn't see his majesty the king from the start until now. She couldn't help but ask, “Where is Mr. Huo? Why hasn't he come yet?”

Just as her words ended, she heard someone say, “Mr. Huo is here!”

Everyone followed the sound and looked at the door. The only thing they could see at this time was Yin Feng leading a group of guards. The people on both sides gave way to clear a path.

It was only after the crowd cleared up that Jing Xi was able to see the man who came in late.

His entrance was very special. He didn't walk in while looking handsome. Instead, he was sitting in an electric wheelchair, slowly moving inside.

When she saw this scene, an image flashed in her mind again. It was also exactly the same as the way he was sitting in a wheelchair.

The closer he got, the more memories she remembered in her mind. Her heart also felt more and more unbearable.

She forgot to react and just stood still dumbfoundedly as she stared at him.

Huo Yunshen came close and finally stopped in front of her. He looked at her for a moment and didn't say anything. Instead, he took something from his pocket and put it in front of her eyes.

It was a ring!

The ring that she had lost!

It turned out it was with him!

Jing Xi felt astonished and took back the ring from his hands. She looked at it carefully and it was indeed the ring that she had lost.

The letters H and X were even written in the inner circle of the ring. This was her ring, there was no mistaking it.

That's right. This was her ring. It was just returning to its original owner right now.

At this time, Huo Erqi stood out to explain. "This cloud diamond ring was personally created by me. Three years ago, Yunshen wanted to give his wife Jing Xi a special birthday present and gave me the design. I followed his idea and created the only cloud diamond ring in the world. Three years ago, Huo Yunshen put it on his wife's finger. That day was his wife's birthday."

This explanation from Huo Erqi without a doubt proved where this ring came from.

It also explained why this ring belonged to her.

It was only after recalling scene after scene of past memories and seeing this ring that Jing Xi finally believed it.

She kept questioning it, not daring to believe it, running from it...but it was the truth.

She was Jing Xi, and Jing Xi was she!

Chapter 1776: Finally

Jing Xi was shocked as Huo Yunshen took the ring from her and put it on her ring finger.

The moment the ring was put on her finger, everything that had happened three years ago came back to her. The romantic night on her birthday three years ago...

Huo Yunshen had prepared a romantic dinner for her and put the same ring on her finger that night.

It was then that she finally remembered everything.

The man in front of her, the king of the Dragon Kingdom, was the man she loved the most, Huo Yunshen.

She looked at him as tears began to fall. She turned to look at her friends as their faces became familiar once again.

They had all been forgotten by her, but now, she could remember all the happy times she'd spent with them.

She remembered everything.

"I remember now... I remember everyone... I finally remember... I'm Jing Xi..."

Jing Xi cried like a kid.

"Jing Xi..."

Jing Xi being able to regain her memory was the most significant news for Huo Yunshen.

He stood up from his wheelchair and hugged her.

“You're finally back. Everyone has been waiting...”

Huo Yunshen sobbed as the couple hugged each other tightly.

Tears were present on everyone's face.

They finally got Jing Xi back, and she finally got to be together with Huo Yunshen again. But she couldn't say anything and just kept on crying in Huo Yunshen's arms.

“Jing Xi, welcome back.”

“You're finally back.”

“We've been waiting...”

Jing Xi could hear her friends' voices.

They came around and hugged her.

It was a touching moment.

Jing Xi had finally found herself and learned who she really was. The guests left after that, leaving the couple to mend their lost time.

Both Jing Xi and Huo Yunshen looked at each other affectionately.

“Jing Xi, do you know? This is my best birthday ever. The best present that I've ever gotten is you,” Huo Yunshen said with tears in his eyes.

Jing Xi also stared at him, her heart melting away.

It wasn't easy for her to suddenly remember everything as she had to accept reality.

She had no idea how to face the man in front of her. When he tried to hug her again, she took a step back.

She apologized and ran away, saying that she wanted some time alone to think.

She ran to the bathroom and stared at herself in the mirror. She looked at the scar on her face, and tears began to fall again.

She never minded people calling her ugly because of the scar, but now, her friends and family could not recognize her because of it.

Knowing that she might not be able to regain her face, she felt her heart tighten.

Huo Yunshen stood by the door and saw her crying through the crack. It hurt him to see that.

He had been causing her too much trouble in the past few months. He knew that telling her the truth would impact her significantly.

Chapter 1777: Found The Darling He Had Lost

He saw how sad she was and he didn't know how he should comfort her.

A handsome and dashing man appeared in the mirror. He lightly hugged her from behind and their heads touched each other. "Jing Xi, don't be sad anymore. Do you know how long I have waited for this day? You are back. You are finally back!"

Jing Xi's tears grew more and more. She was so sad that she closed her eyes. "Yunshen, I can't believe this. It really feels like I am dreaming."

"You are not dreaming. You really are back. Jing Xi, you are here with me. We also have our children and the baby in your tummy. Our family is finally reunited. If the children learn you are their real mother, they will definitely be very happy and joyous.

Huo Yunshen kept on comforting and kissing her. He turned her body around and wiped away her tears little by little.

Jing Xi went from being in disbelief to slowly accepting it. She buried her face in his embrace and said sadly, "But although I am back, I can no longer be your Jing Xi. My face is ruined and my voice has changed. I am already so unfamiliar that even I dislike myself."

"Don't say that and don't think like that. The children and I won't dislike you. Jing Xi, you are the best. In my heart, you are forever the most beautiful and no one can replace you."

He lifted up her chin and lightly kissed the scar on her face. He said seriously, "Believe me, I will definitely hire the best doctor in the world to restore your original looks. As for your voice, it seems your current voice is even more seductive and attractive than before. I also feel like I can't get enough of it. Your voice is the most pleasant to listen to, especially when you are in bed."

Her cheeks turned red when she thought about when they made love. As long as he didn't dislike her...

"I am the one who deserves to die! Wife, beat me fiercely! I didn't recognize you at the beginning the first time I saw you. It is me who is stupid! Hit me! Hit me hard!" Huo Yunshen picked up her hand and used it to hit his body.

How could Jing Xi be willing to hit him?

"It is normal for people not to recognize me when I look like this. I don't blame you. Instead, your unchanging love really touched me. Thank you for always remembering me and not forgetting me! Yunshen..."

"Jing Xi..."

In the end, the two of them hugged each other and were so moved that they kissed each other.

Tonight was another sleepless night, but Huo Yunshen was very happy because he had found the darling that he had lost.

The two of them stayed the night at Qingyun Residence. Huo Yunshen hugged her and the two of them lay down together, talking all night.

They talked about their past, about all kinds of experiences she'd had after she lost her memory, about how the three years without her was like living in hell.

Right now, everything was good. She had come back. As long as she was alive, everything had hope.

After Jing Xi regained her memory, Huo Yunshen stayed her by her side. The two of them stayed at Qingyun Residence for two days.

After two days, they said goodbye to all their friends and left Zstan, flying directly to Estan.

Right now, he wanted to bring Jing Xi to the presidential office to see her two elders. He wanted to return their daughter to them.

Both Jing Xi's parents and brother still didn't know Jing Xi's identity. They only received a notice that said Huo Yunshen was coming.

The presidential office had already finished preparing a welcome. The moment Jing Ruyue and Helian Wei saw Huo Yunshen, they both asked, "You didn't bring the children over?"

"I did," Huo Yunshen replied.

The old couple looked behind him and didn't see the children. They only saw the little prince's nanny, Jin Xiaoxi.

"Where are they? I don't see them!"

"Father, mother. The person I brought back is your child. Jing Xi. She has come back alive."

Chapter 1778: Going Home

"What?" both Jing Ruyue and Helian Wei exclaimed. "Where is she?"

Huo Yunshen turned to look at Jing Xi. Jing Ruyue and Helian Wei also looked where Huo Yunshen was looking and could only see Jin Xiaoxi.

But Jing Ruyue realized why Huo Yunshen was looking at her. She covered her mouth with her hands and walked towards Jing Xi.

"Yan... Yanyan?"

Jing Xi's face was already filled with tears as she looked at her parents. She could tell they were important to her when she met them at the hospital last time.

Because they were her parents.

“Mom...”

Jing Xi called out to her mother. Even though her face and voice had changed, Jing Ruyue instantly knew that the one standing before her was her daughter.

“Yanyan... You really are my Yanyan...”

Jing Ruyue cried as she hugged her daughter.

Helian Wei walked over and hugged both his wife and daughter together.

“Oh, my little girl... Why didn't I realize it was you... I'm so sorry...” Helian Wei scolded himself.

“Dad...”

They cried for a long time until Huo Yunshen calmed them down.

The old couple invited their daughter in. The sight of the scar on Jing Xi's face hurt them a lot.

Their daughter had to go through hell because of them.

Helian Qingyu also rushed back home not long after. He greeted Huo Yunshen first as he was the first person he saw.

He then saw his parents crying with the nanny he saw last time and was confused.

“Qingyu! You're back!” Jing Ruyue said. “Look! It's your sister!”

Helian Qingyu was shocked when he learned that the nanny was actually his sister. He turned to look at Huo Yunshen, then back at his parents, before laying his sights on Jing Ruyue.

His eyes were already filled with tears. When he learned that he actually had a twin sister and that she had been looking for him, he knew that his sister was a kind person.

She even sacrificed herself for him.

He had been broken when he lost his sister. Unable to control his emotion, he pulled Jing Xi into his arms.

“Xiaoxi... I'm so sorry... I'm so sorry... You wouldn't have had to go through that if not for my incompetence...”

Jing Xi shook her head. She never regretted doing what she did.

Jing Xi then stayed in Estan while Huo Yunshen went back to the Dragon Kingdom.

Jing Xi also met with her uncle and grandfather.

She stayed in Estan for another five days before Helian Qingyu took her back to the Dragon Kingdom personally.

A huge welcoming ceremony was held at the palace on the day Jing Xi returned.

Everyone in the palace was notified of the queen's return. The whole palace was redecorated for the ceremony with a red carpet extending from the main hall to the gate.

Jing Xi sat in Helian Qingyu's car as she returned to the palace with a different sentiment.

She was going home for real this time.

She sat in the car, thinking about the children, wondering if they could accept that she was actually their birth mother.

Chapter 1779: Reunited

The luxury car arrived at the palace's entrance. Helian Qingyu and Jing Xi got out of the car together and stepped on the red carpet.

The path towards the palace had been decorated beautifully with balloons and fresh flowers. There were also countless flashing colorful lanterns. One could tell every detail had been meticulously planned.

Both sides of the red carpet were lined with many of the palace guards and servants and Auntie Lan was at the front. When they saw Jing Xi had arrived, they all bowed to her together.

"Our Queen, welcome back home!"

Jing Xi came in front of Auntie Lan. When Jing Xi saw the old woman was looking at her with passionate tears in her eyes, she walked forward and gave the old woman a warm hug.

"Auntie Lan..."

"Everything is okay as long as you are back. Everything is okay. Come, my queen. His majesty and the children are all waiting for you!"

Auntie Lan wiped away her tears and made a gesture to ask her and Helian Qingyu to go in.

Following Auntie Lan's lead, they went towards the palace's main hall. From far away, they could see a row of shadows standing at the palace's doorway.

Huo Yunshen was with two sons and also one daughter. The three of them were all waiting in anticipation.

When a familiar figure appeared from afar, Huo Yunshen said to the children, "Children, quickly take a look! Your mother is back!"

The children all already knew Jing Xi was their real mother.

Little Apple was especially unbelievably happy when he learned of this good news.

The three children had already been waiting for a long time. Now, they finally saw their mother return. The children all ran over in excitement to greet her.

“Mom...”

“Mommy...”

Jing Xi saw a few children running towards her from far away. They were like little swallows with opened wings. The moment she saw the children, her heart almost melted. She was so moved that her tears started flowing down uncontrollably.

When the children were almost in front of her, she opened her arms to take them in with love.

Little Apple was the first to lunge forward, followed by Little Grape, and finally Ying Bao. Both her sons and daughter were here. Jing Xi tried her best to hug all three of the children at the same time.

“Children... my babies...”

At this moment, Jing Xi and the children all hugged together with affection. The three children were fighting to kiss her face.

“Mom, Niuniu missed you so much!” Little Apple hugged his mother tightly.

“Mom! I am so happy now that I know you are my real mother!” Little Grape said happily.

Jing Xi kissed her two sons and then lifted her head to look at Ying Bao. She found that her daughter had already cried so much that she looked like she was made of tears.

Jing Xi felt pain in her heart as she pulled her daughter into her embrace. “I'm sorry, Ying Bao. Mom is so sorry. My baby...”

Her heart would hurt whenever she thought about how her leaving for a few years had been able to turn an originally happy and lively child into a sensitive and weak girl.

“Mommy, Baobao doesn't blame you. You definitely had a hard time. Mommy, Baobao will love you forever!”

“I also love you...”

The moment that Jing Xi and the children recognized each other moved a lot of people. Huo Yunshen came beside his wife and also joined their hug.

Finally, the entire family was reunited.

“That's enough, children. Quickly bring your mother home!”

Huo Yunshen comforted them and didn't forget to remind them.

The children's little heads emerged from Jing Xi's embrace. They then held their mother's hands and walked together with her to the palace.

Huo Yunshen and Helian Qingyu followed behind them together. Helian Qingyu patted Huo Yunshen's shoulder. "Brother, the day you have been waiting for has finally come. I am really happy for you guys."

Chapter 1780: Like She Used To

"Thank you for taking Jing Xi back home," Huo Yunshen said to Helian Qingyu.

"You don't have to thank me. It's my responsibility, too," Helian Qingyu smiled.

They went back into the palace, and the children showed Jing Xi around.

Jing Xi realized that the palace had changed a lot in the last few days when she was gone. The palace used to be quiet and dead, but now it was different.

The garden was filled with chamomile while the interior was filled with roses. Pictures of Jing Xi were now hung on the wall too.

They were pictures that detailed the story of Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi.

Pictures of the children, their family, their friends, and pictures of Jing Xi becoming a world-renowned actress were hung on the wall.

Even her story as Ye Fanxing was shown.

The most special part was the huge oil painting that took up an entire wall.

Huo Yunshen copied his father-in-law and hired a well-known artist to draw Jing Xi from the side.

It was a present from Huo Yunshen to his wife.

Everyone in the palace started to address Jing Xi as their queen.

She had become one of the owners of the palace.

When night fell, Huo Yunshen took his wife back to the bedroom as their children followed them.

It was a heartwarming night as Ying Bao and her brothers lay beside their parents. They were listening to their mother telling them a bedtime story, just like she used to.

After Jing Xi finished the story, both the adults kissed their kids goodnight.

The children fell asleep not long after.

Huo Yunshen and Jing Xi stared at each other across the bed as they held hands.

"Jing Xi, having you with us is the best. We are all very happy now."

The days without Jing Xi were hell to Huo Yunshen.

He lived like a zombie every day as if he was being punished.

“Me too. The trip back to you was like an adventure for me. I never thought that the two people I met at the Star Kingdom would actually turn out to be Mo Yutian and Little Apple,” Jing Xi said as she touched Little Apple's face. It was a miracle for them. Jing Xi took care of her own blood without knowing it.

She was lucky to have met Mo Yutian, who took great care of her son.

“Yunshen... I actually married Mo Yutian without knowing who he was...” Jing Xi sighed. “I never thought things would turn out like this. I feel sorry for him.”

Jing Xi could not help but think of everything that had happened between them and Mo Yutian. But in the end, the only words she wanted to tell him were “Thank you.”

“I know. He told me everything. The one he married was Jin Xiaoxi, not Jing Xi. If he learns that you're back, he'll definitely come back to see you.”