

Priceless Baby 1921

Chapter 1921: Little Fellas Finally Stopped

“We will be soon.”

Bai Yanchuan did as he said and drove to Mo City's marriage registry department straight away and brought her to register.

Ning Luoxiao was dumbfounded through the entire process. She still felt like it wasn't real, even after she received the marriage certificate. She kept thinking Bai Yanchuan was doing it to deal with his parents. That's why he came to register.

No matter his intention, she just did as he wanted.

The two of them returned to Above The Waves and Ning Luoxiao was shocked once again. The entire villa was decorated beautifully, from the garden to the house.

The entire place had been cheerless when they were newlyweds, but now, it actually felt like they were about to get married.

Ning Luoxiao saw roses arranged into a huge heart symbol in the garden and she looked at Bai Yanchuan with a complicated facial expression.

Right now, Bai Yanchuan asked her to stand inside the heart. He then knelt down on one knee and took out a box.

He opened the box's lid and inside was a beautiful ring.

“Xiaoxiao, I'm sorry! I've been treating you coldly ever since we got married. Right now, I already know I was wrong. I beg you to give me another chance. Let me take care of you and our baby forever. Let's be a happy family, okay? Xiaoxiao, will you please marry me?”

His tone was sincere and it didn't sound like he was lying. Ning Luoxiao was extremely touched. She had been waiting for this day for a long long time.

It had been a whole ten years.

Bai Yanchuan had finally asked her to marry him!

“Do I even have a chance to say no?” Ning Luoxiao sighed. “But, President Bai, I want to ask you, why did you suddenly have a sudden 180-degree change?”

“That is because of you. I've finally found you, my Little Guo'er.”

Ning Luoxiao: “...”

She could not describe her shock. He finally called her by her nickname. He finally knew who she was. He finally found her.

Ning Luoxiao was so moved that tears kept coming out nonstop. Bai Yanchuan got up and pulled her into his embrace straight away. “I'm sorry, Little Guo'er. I am ten years late. However, throughout so many years, I have never forgotten you. Thank you for always quietly being by my side...”

“Brother Xiao Chuan...”

Their childhood promise finally came true.

Underneath the blue skies and white clouds, the two of their hearts touched each other for the first time.

On this side, the two of them finally were together. On the other side, Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan went to the palace together. They went to tell the good news about the pregnancy to Jing Xi and the others.

When Jing Xi and the little fellas found out Huo Sanyan was pregnant with twins, they were all very happy.

“Aunt Sanyan, you suddenly have two babies. Just like me and brother Niuniu. Mom had us together.”

Little Grape said it very seriously.

“Correct, that is the case.” Huo Sanyan touched the two children.

Jing Xi was beside them and asked, “Niuniu, Hengheng, do you guys think the babies in Aunt Sanyan's tummy are girls or boys?”

As people say, little children are very accurate when it came to guessing the sex of the child in a pregnant woman's tummy. Jing Xi asked the children about it right now.

Little Apple said without thinking, “Boy!”

Little Grape answered at the same time, “Girl!”

Little Apple felt Little Grape was wrong. “They are definitely boys!”

“Who says so? They are definitely girls!”

“Boys!”

“Girls!”

The two little fellas usually got along very well. Today, however, they argued until their ears turned red over whether Aunt Sanyan would have girls or boys.

Jing Xi quickly advised them, “That's enough. Stop fighting. Your Aunt Sanyan has both a girl and a boy in her tummy. That settles it, okay?”

The two little fellas finally stopped and neither of them kept arguing.

Chapter 1922: Happy Life

Jing Xi prepared lunch herself, and the couple ate before going back.

When they got home, the servant told them that they had finally received the wedding photos.

Ye Xun opened the box, and in it was the completed photo.

“You're so pretty,” Ye Xun exclaimed as he stared at it.

Huo Sanyan looked at herself and scolded, "Isn't this too much photoshop? Since when do I have a round face?"

Ye Xun looked at the photo then at Huo Sanyan and said, "You had a round face from the beginning, though..."

"Are you saying I'm fat now?"

"I didn't say that!"

"But that's what you're implying! I see! So that's why you've been making food for me every day. You want me to become fat so that no one will lay their eyes on me, right?"

Ye Xun was speechless.

He couldn't believe that just by agreeing with Huo Sanyan having a round face it could spark such a conversation.

To stop the woman in front of him from overthinking things, Ye Xun sealed her lips with his.

Such was their daily happy life after marriage.

No matter what Huo Sanyan wanted, even down to wanting a particular food in the middle of the night, Ye Xun would comply.

In his world, his wife was everything. She was his queen.

Time flew, and Huo Sanyan's due date was near. She left all her work for her staff and stayed at home.

Ye Xun became even busier after that. He spent all his energy on preparing for the babies to be born.

Everything was already well-prepared at Ye Manor before the babies were even born. From a playground to all the baby products, Ye Xun had everything prepared.

He would even empty his timetable to take classes on becoming a father with Bai Yanchuan. Both of them were very focused on welcoming their babies.

When the men were in their class, their wives were shopping in the nearby mall.

"Look, I already have stretch marks now... How about you?" Huo Sanyan asked.

"Nope, I don't have them. My belly isn't stretched as wide as yours." Ning Luoxiao shook her head.

"I'm jealous... They are like caterpillars on my body. It's creepy."

Huo Sanyan was deeply worried that the marks would stay on her permanently.

"It's normal since you have two babies in you. But don't worry. I have a friend who's a beauty blogger, and she has just the product for that. I'll bring some for you after the babies are born."

"Thank you! Oh! Look at the time. Their class should be finished by now. Let's go get them."

"Okay."

The two pregnant women arrived where their husbands were. The two men had already finished their class and were waiting for their wives.

"They're here!" Ye Xun said and ran up to help Huo Sanyan carry her stuff.

"Here, let me carry that. You must be tired," Bai Yanchuan said as he took Ning Luoxiao's bag from her too.

Chapter 1923: Made The Men Feel Worried To Death

Ning Luoxiao shook her head. "Let's find somewhere to eat! Both Sanyan and I are hungry!"

"Okay."

Just as Huo Sanyan turned around, when they were about to leave, her tummy suddenly felt a bit uncomfortable.

"Ow!" She held her tummy and stood still.

Ye Xun saw her show an expression of discomfort and asked anxiously, "What is it? Yanyan?"

"Prince Ye, my stomach... It hurts... it's so painful..."

Huo Sanyan held Ye Xun's hand and spoke in agony.

"Could it be she is about to give birth?" Ning Luoxiao asked.

"She definitely is! Quickly take her to the hospital!"

They didn't even care about eating. Ye Xun helped walk Huo Sanyan out. After they got in the car, they drove straight to the hospital.

In order to prevent them from being overwhelmed, Bai Yanchuan and Ning Luoxiao also followed them by car so that they could help.

After they arrived at the hospital, the doctor confirmed that Huo Sanyan really might be able to give birth. She immediately needed to be admitted to the hospital for delivery.

The contractions of Huo Sanyan's uterus became more and more obvious. The pain also grew stronger and stronger. Tears started to come out when Ye Xun saw his wife in such agony,

Bai Yanchuan advised him while standing beside him, "That's enough. Why are you crying? A woman giving birth is a necessary life experience. Just wait for the child to be born. What's the use of crying?"

"It isn't your wife, so of course you won't feel heartache!" Ye Xun shouted at him. Bai Yanchuan couldn't say anything. Fine, just treat him as if he's shooting his mouth off.

Huo Sanyan was sent to the labor ward not long after. Ye Xun initially wanted to follow her in. However, Huo Sanyan didn't want him to go in. She didn't want him to see the sorry state she was in while she gave birth.

Ye Xun waited outside the labor ward while listening to his wife's heartbreaking screams. The tears on his face never had a chance to dry.

Bai Yanchuan initially criticized Ye Xun for crying when he was a man, but now, not even half an hour later, Ning Luoxiao also started to feel uncomfortable.

She held Bai Yanchuan's tie and then hugged her stomach, shouting, "ow," in pain.

"Wife! It couldn't be that you are also going into labor, right?"

Bai Yanchuan suddenly became nervous. He felt helpless and didn't know what to do.

"I don't know... but it hurts so much..." Ning Luoxiao's uterus also started to contract. She was in so much pain she held onto Bai Yanchuan and didn't let go.

Ye Xun turned around and saw Bai Yanchuan spacing out. He said, "Your wife might be giving birth soon so what are you standing there for? Quickly go and find a doctor!"

It was only after Ye Xun's reminder that Bai Yanchuan regained his senses. He quickly brought Ning Luoxiao to see a doctor.

After the doctor examined her, he confirmed that Ning Luoxiao was about to give birth. He immediately arranged for her to be admitted to the hospital and she waited to be sent to the labor ward.

Ning Luoxiao was also sent to the labor ward not long after. Two women's heartbreaking screams came out of the labor ward and it made the men outside feel worried to death.

They kept pacing around the door and they were so nervous that their foreheads broke out in cold sweat. They would sometimes even run into each other.

Bai Yanchuan met Ye Xun's eye and complained, "You don't need to be so nervous, right?"

Ye Xun rolled his eyes. "You are one to talk. If you are so calm then stop your hands from trembling!"

Both the men were very nervous and neither of them could criticize the other.

Finally...

Sounds of children's cries came out of the room. Ye Xun grabbed Bai Yanchuan's hands in excitement and said, "Yanchuan! Do you hear that? The children are born! I heard the cries! They were so loud and clear!"

"I heard it! Did your wife give birth or did mine?" Bai Yanchuan asked.

"It is definitely my wife who gave birth! My wife went in first!" Ye Xun said.

After a few minutes, another child's cries came out. The two men hugged each other in excitement. They were so moved that their eyes were wet.

Jing Xi rushed over when she heard the news. She came to the labor ward's entrance and found Ye Xun. "Ye Xun! How is it going? Have the children been born?"

Chapter 1924: Softened

"Yes! I can hear their cries!" Ye Xun exclaimed.

"That's a good sign. Congratulations!"

Jing Xi smiled and waited with them.

One of the nurses came out a few minutes later with a baby in her arms and asked, "Which one of you is Ms. Huo's husband?"

"Me! Me! I'm her husband!" Ye Xun raised his arm.

"Congratulations. Your wife gave birth to one boy and one girl. This is the brother. Please wait while we deliver the sister."

The nurse then handed the baby to Ye Xun, whose face was already covered with tears.

When he first hugged his baby, it was a different feeling from when he hugged Ying Bao. Back then, it was full of surprise, but now, he was happy.

Because he knew the baby in his arm was his own. The baby was the product of his and Huo Sanyan's love.

Bai Yanchuan also got a look at Ye Xun's newborn. His heart softened the moment he saw the baby.

He was happy for Ye Xun, and he was also excited to meet his baby too.

"Oh my god! He's so cute! Can I hug him?"

Ye Xun handed his son to Jing Xi, and she couldn't stop exclaiming how cute he was.

The nurse came out with another baby a few minutes later. Ye Xun thought it was his daughter, but he was wrong. The child in the nurse's arms was Bai Yanchuan's.

"Hey! It's your turn," Ye Xun said as he patted Bai Yanchuan's back.

Bai Yanchuan walked forward and looked at the baby.

"Congratulations. Your wife gave birth to a healthy boy." The nurse smiled.

"I... I have a son now!"

Bai Yanchuan was so excited that his hands were shaking.

"Can you hold the baby?" the nurse asked worriedly.

Bai Yanchuan took a deep breath and shook his arms before nodding. "Yes. Can I have him?"

Bai Yanchuan took his son over and looked at him while his heart fluttered. He then compared his son with Ye Xun's and frowned.

"Why do they look almost the same?"

"That's normal," Jing Xi laughed. "You'll have to wait a few days before you can really spot the difference. Congratulations on becoming fathers."

Another 20 minutes passed after that, and Ye Xun's daughter still hadn't come out.

"Why is it taking so long?"

“Don't worry. It's normal since they're twins,” Jing Xi explained.

The truth was that Huo Sanyan was already in the advanced maternal age. Yet, she still insisted on giving birth to her babies naturally, which required a lot of courage.

She used almost all of her energy on the first baby and had no power left to push the second baby out.

“We will have to do a C-section delivery!” the doctor finally announced.

The doctor was worried that the baby might risk being suffocated if left in Huo Sanyan's belly for too long and made that decision.

The only problem was that Huo Sanyan had high resistance towards anesthetic, which meant the drug would not work on her.

Throughout the whole process, Huo Sanyan had to endure the pain while the doctor opened her up.

Chapter 1925: Grippped One's Heart

The pain was so severe she almost fainted. However, she would need to experience that heart and bone piercing pain once again during the surgical suture.

That kind of pain really took the life out of her.

She could be considered lucky that she didn't die on the delivery bed.

The second child was a girl. As she had stayed in the body for a longer amount of time, when the child came out, she was lacking oxygen and she was purple all over. Looking at her really made one's heart feel pain.

It was only after the doctor rescued the child that the child could finally be saved. However, the child needed to immediately live in an incubator and be further observed. She had no way of going back beside her parents.

Ye Xun kept on waiting for the second child. He finally received news from the nurse that the second child was a girl. Although he received the news she had been born, he really couldn't feel happy.

It was because his wife had to experience the pain of cutting open her abdomen two times. His child had also almost died due to the lack of oxygen. His heart felt pain just thinking about it and tears kept on flowing out nonstop.

They all saw that his daughter was purple all over when the nurse carried her over. The lack of oxygen was very severe and it really gripped one's heart.

Bai Yanchuan saw Ye Xun was upset and promptly told him, “Your wife will be fine! Don't worry!”

“Don't worry, Ye Xun. It is always a risk when a woman gives birth. Not to mention Sanyan was pregnant with twins. Moreover, she is giving birth at an older age. The risk would naturally be higher than most. However, you shouldn't be too upset. The good thing is both the mother and two children are fine. The doctor will take care of it well.”

Jing Xi kept on comforting him and said, "You take care of the big brother here and wait for Sanyan. I will go take a look at the little sister."

Not long after, Ning Luoxiao already came out from the labor ward. Bai Yanchuan received her and then accompanied her back to the patient's room.

Ye Xun kept on waiting for Ye Xun as before. He thought about her special circumstances where the anesthetic didn't have any effect on her. The cesarean section was probably even more painful than if she was being killed!

He was really about to faint from the heartache!

Huo Sanyan stayed in the labor ward for a whole hour. She wasn't under any anesthetic and she had to clench her teeth so the doctor could continue to sew up her wounds.

She was very tired and really wanted to sleep. However, every time she closed her eyes, she would be awakened by the sharp sting.

While she was feeling muddled all the while, the doctor finally finished stitching up her wounds. And at this moment, she also fainted from the pain.

She didn't even know how she left the labor ward.

The patient room for VIPs was already prepared. Ye Xun asked Jing Xi to look after the children and he went to bring Huo Sanyan over.

The torment Huo Sanyan went through was basically walking through the gates of hell.

Ye Xun saw his unconscious wife and was so upset that tears came straight down. He really hated that he could not suffer on her behalf.

After Huo Sanyan was brought back to the patient's room, Ye Xun constantly and attentively took care of her until she woke up. However, the reason she woke up was because of the pain.

She kept screaming out in pain after she woke up. The nurse had instructed him before to not let her move around, as it might tear the wound.

That's why Ye Xun needed to press her down when Huo Sanyan started to struggle because of the pain.

"Yanyan... don't move. You will tear your wound! You can bite me if you are in pain!"

Ye Xun held out his right hand beside her mouth. Huo Sanyan bit down on him, biting so fiercely that she didn't even let go when blood came out.

Ye Xun didn't move at all and allowed her to bite him as she wished. What was the pain he felt compared to the suffering she endured?

Huo Sanyan needed to inject painkillers in the first few days because she was in too much pain. She could only calm down by depending on the painkillers.

And just like this, Huo Sanyan kept on suffering from the torment. It was only after a few days that the wounds started to heal slightly.

Chapter 1926: Worth It

While Huo Sanyan was still in the hospital, Jing Xi would help take care of the babies as Ye Xun took care of his wife.

Huo Yunshen would also visit every day as soon as he finished his work.

Learning the pain that his sister had to go through hurt him a lot.

Luckily, Huo Sanyan and the babies were fine.

Huo Yunshen also relayed the news to his two other sisters, and they would visit two days later.

Huo Sanyan had woken up, and she was feeling better. The pain on the wound had also subsided.

"How are you feeling?" Ye Xun asked as he held Huo Sanyan's hand.

"Better."

Huo Sanyan didn't get enough sleep in the past few days. She also had not had the chance to hold her babies yet.

Now that she was feeling better, she wanted to meet her children.

"Where are the babies?"

"The nurse took them to shower. Xiao Xi's with them too. They should be back soon."

As soon as Ye Xun finished his sentence, Jing Xi and the nurse came in with the babies.

"You're up? Are you feeling better?" Jing Xi asked when she saw Huo Sanyan was already sitting by the bed.

"Yep! Let me see my babies!" Huo Sanyan exclaimed

Jing Xi handed Huo Sanyan the boy and told her, "This is the big brother."

Huo Sanyan looked at her son. She could see both Ye Xun and her facial features on the little baby.

The more she looked, the more she loved him. She still could not believe that the baby she was holding was hers.

"Do you know your mother almost lost her life giving birth to you and your sister?" Jing Xi asked the little baby.

The baby boy looked at Huo Sanyan and stuck his tongue out as if he was telling his mother he knew.

His actions melted Huo Sanyan's heart.

She was regretting her decision when she felt the tearing pain in her stomach. But when she saw her cute babies, she thought that it was worth all those hardships she went through.

Ye Xun then handed Huo Sanyan their daughter. Looking at the baby girl, Huo Sanyan knew how hard it was to give birth to her.

She was lucky that the doctor decided to perform a C-section on her, or else the little girl would've suffocated in her belly.

The little girl was smaller in size than her brother, probably because her brother had stolen all the nutrients from her. That was why she was weaker than him.

Knowing that she almost lost her daughter, tears rolled down Huo Sanyan's cheek.

"Hey... Don't cry. She's fine now, isn't she?" Ye Xun comforted, knowing why Huo Sanyan was crying. "She'll definitely grow up healthily."

Huo Sanyan nodded and said, "Too bad I can't feed them with my breast milk..."

Because of the pain from the C-section, Huo Sanyan wasn't able to produce any breast milk.

"It's fine, we can always use milk powder. Look at me, I also drank milk powder when I was a baby, I grew up pretty good, didn't I?" Ye Xun smiled. "Plus, we could always find a wet nurse, right?"

Chapter 1927: A Bias Against Wet Nurses Because Of That Situation

When Jing Xi heard him, she immediately objected, "Actually, there is nothing wrong with drinking powdered milk. There is no guarantee using a wet nurse would turn out good. Back then, we hired the wet nurse, Yao Zheng. You guys probably knew what she turned into later. After Little Grape drank her milk, she really thought she was the mother."

Jing Xi always had a bias against wet nurses because of that situation with Yao Zheng.

When she gave birth to Little Strawberry, she had already prepared in her heart to let Little Strawberry drink powdered milk if she couldn't produce any milk. She would not look for a wet nurse again.

Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan already heard about the situation with Yao Zheng. Huo Sanyan looked at it from a woman's perspective and could understand Jing Xi very well.

That's why, in order to prevent something like this from happening to their family, the best way was to not look for a wet nurse.

After this was decided, Huo Sanyan asked about Ning Luoxiao's condition.

"They might be discharged from the hospital tomorrow. Xiaoxiao had a natural birth so she doesn't need to keep on staying at the hospital," Ye Xun explained.

Just as they were talking about them, Ning Luoxiao and Bai Yanchuan came through the door. Ning Luoxiao came in while wearing a patient's gown and Bai Yanchuan was carrying his child.

Huo Sanyan saw them walk in and greeted, "You came just at the right time. We were just thinking about going over to see your baby!"

"We came and brought him to you to take a look."

Ning Luoxiao took the child over and brought him over to let Huo Sanyan take a look.

"Wow, what a healthy little handsome man!" Huo Sanyan looked at their child and he looked similar to their older child.

“Your son is also the same. Just one look at him and one can tell he is a handsome little fella. When he grows up, he will definitely be popular with the ladies.” Ning Luoxiao looked at Da Bao.

She was suddenly said emotionally, “Sanyan, we both found out we were pregnant on the same day and we both went into labor on the same day as well. We even both gave birth to sons. Isn't this really such a big coincidence?”

Huo Sanyan nodded. “Yeah, it really is a big coincidence.”

The two men's eyes met and they both lowered their heads in embarrassment. Both of them knew very well that if they hadn't gotten drunk that night and walked into the wrong rooms, perhaps they wouldn't be where they were right now.

Ning Luoxiao finished looking at Da Bao and then looked at Xiao Bao. “Oh my, your Xiao Bao is really too cute! Let her become my son's wife when she grows up! They were born in the same year, same month, and same day. This is simply just fate!”

“Go and ask Ye Xun. If he agrees, I won't oppose,” Huo Sanyan said with a smile.

Ye Xun quickly snatched his daughter back and said, cherishing her, “I only have this one daughter. Deciding for her right now is too early! I still need to observe your son for twenty years to see if he will go down the wrong path. If he by some chance becomes unreliable like his father, then you can forget it!”

“Hahaha...” They were provoked into laughter.

Bai Yanchuan's face turned black and he really wanted to ask when he'd gone down the wrong path? How was he unreliable? When he became serious, he was the epitome of a family man!

After they chatted for a while, Ning Luoxiao told Huo Sanyan, “I am going to be discharged tomorrow. You might need to stay for a few more days. Let's meet again after you are discharged and your confinement period ends!”

“Okay.”

Ning Luoxiao and Bai Yanchuan left the hospital the next day and Huo Sanyan kept on staying at the hospital. The first to come to see her was her second eldest sister and her eldest sister after that.

They saw that Huo Sanyan was blessed with a pigeon pair and brought red envelopes with a large amount of money for the two children.

The day she could be discharged finally arrived. Huo Sanyan felt as if moss was about to grow on her body if she stayed any longer.

Ye Xun had already arranged for everything beforehand. A comfortable car was sent specifically to come to pick her and the children up.

After they returned to the Ye Residence, she found the house was decorated to become extremely comfortable and filled with warmth. Huo Sanyan continued the confinement at home and Ye Xun and the nanny took care of the two children together.

Chapter 1928: Nothing For Her To Do

"Home is the best!" Huo Sanyan lay on her bed and sighed happily.

"No, a home with you and the kids is the best." Ye Xun smiled.

The couple looked at each other, and Ye Xun pressed his head forward, wanting to kiss his wife. But before their lips could touch, the baby boy started crying.

Ye Xun quickly jumped off the bed to calm his son down. When he returned to the bed to kiss his wife again, their daughter started crying next.

Ye Xun was going nuts as he wondered if the kids were just there to spoil his mood.

He finally managed to get the babies to sleep. Yet, before he could do anything, one of the maids knocked and told them their guests had arrived.

"Wait here, I'll go see who's here," Ye Xun said and kissed his wife briefly before running downstairs.

Jing Xi and Huo Yunshen had brought their children to visit since they were bugging their parents to bring them to see the babies.

"Xiao Xi! Boss! You guys are here!" Ye Xun greeted them and opened his arms to hug the twins.

Little Grape and Little Apple knew that Ye Xun had a prosthetic arm and stopped asking him to throw them in the air. Instead, they hugged his legs.

"Uncle Treeleaf, where are the babies?"

"Come on, I'll bring you to go see them."

Ye Xun held the twins' hands and went upstairs with Ying Bao following behind.

"They are so small!" Little Grape exclaimed when he finally laid his eyes on the newborns.

"I bet they will be adorable when they grow up!" Little Apple said. "I'm going to share my toys with them when they do!"

"I can share mine with them too!" Little Grape added, not wanting to lose to his brother.

Ying Bao ignored her brothers discussing what to play with the babies in the future and focused her eyes on the two little humans on the bed.

She felt special. She never thought that she would have siblings nor cousins.

Jing Xi and Huo Yunshen also came up. They took a look at the babies before visiting Huo Sanyan in her room.

Huo Sanyan was getting better by the day. She could walk on her own now and take care of the babies. But since Ye Xun and the maids almost took all of her jobs away, there wasn't much that she had to do.

"Look at you now." Jing Xi smiled. "You finally got what you wanted in the end. Only a happy life awaits you now."

“Thank you. Having a son and a daughter is more than I could ever ask for.”

It would almost be impossible for Huo Sanyan to get pregnant again because of her age. Having two babies at once was a blessing to her and Ye Xun.

Jing Xi and her family then stayed at Ye Manor for lunch.

The kids then played in the playground Ye Xun had prepared for his children. Since his kids were still babies, Ye Xun didn't mind letting his nephews and nieces try the playground out first.

They stayed until it was almost dinner time and went back to the palace.

From finding that Huo Sanyan was pregnant until she was finally well-rested, a year and a half had passed. It also meant Ye Xun had been holding himself back for that long.

On one night, when the babies had finally fallen asleep, Huo Sanyan finished her shower, and Ye Xun was helping dry her hair.

He looked at the thin pajamas lying gently on Huo Sanyan's chest, and Ye Xun couldn't hold himself back any longer.

“Hey, hon...”

“Yes?” Huo Sanyan raised her head.

“Can we do that now?”

Chapter 1929: Showed What Love Looked Like Through How They Lived

He asked very carefully as he kept in mind that she had surgery. The doctor suggested she rest for a few months and for them not to share a room. That's why he was well-behaved and endured patiently.

Right now, half a year had passed and he couldn't hold it any longer. Especially now that her figure was restored back to how she looked before she gave birth. She was always swaying in front of him, how was he supposed to endure it?

“It is probably okay, right?!” Huo Sanyan's face turned slightly red after she finished speaking.

“Then how about we try it?”

“Are the children in bed?”

“They are both sleeping. Come on, wife! Let your husband give you good loving!”

Ye Xun hugged her over and gave a passionate kiss first to quench his thirst.

He then took off her pajamas. When he saw the scars on her tummy, his heart was in pain. She would have that scar for life.

This scar was for the sake of giving birth to his children. It was a symbol that was worthy of admiration. It was the manifestation of her love for him.

Ye Xun leaned over and kissed her scar. How could Huo Sanyan withstand this? She held his hand tightly and moaned.

Everything happened naturally. Ye Xun was like a boat sailing smoothly back to the port it relied on for survival. It felt so good that he was about to go up into heaven.

“Yanyan, I love you. I love you very much!” His passion was very deep. While he kissed her, he also kept on moving next to her ear and whispering.

“Husband, I also love you.”

“I'm so glad I have you. You are the one who makes my life complete. Thank you for everything you've done for me. Thank you for giving birth to my two children as well. Wife, for the rest of my life, I have no other desire other than to love you.”

“Then love me. Love me fiercely, Ye Xun!”

She loved him more than he could imagine. Now that she had him, she was willing to give the rest of her life to him.

The two of them were madly and foolishly in love. They were in deep emotional states through the long night.

Life finally returned to the normally peaceful and blessed days. The husband and wife, Huo Sanyan and Ye Xun, raised their children with one heart.

Da Bao and Xiao Bao received formal names. The brother was called Ye Yuan, and the little sister Ye Zi.

Their one-month-old celebration, the Rites of Zhou, and each and every one of the moments of them growing up were all moments that were worth remembering.

Ever since they had two additional little lightbulbs, not only was Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan's relationship not affected, but they instead became even more in love.

Love meant helping each other. Love meant never giving up. Love meant working together. Love meant no matter how one changed, the other would still see them as the most perfect being in the world.

They finally showed what love looked like through how they lived.

Once Ye Yuan and Ye Zi learned how to walk, the two little fellas would go to the palace every day to play with their older “brothers and sisters.”

The palace's garden had already turned into a children's paradise. Huo Yunshen added quite a few additional recreational facilities for the children.

That's why the palace's playground would always be filled with laughter whenever the older children didn't have school and were at home.

As Ying Bao was the eldest, she would lead a pack of little kids to run around and play.

Jing Xi and Huo Sanyan sat at the side and accompanied the children. Huo Sanyan saw the happy look on Ying Bao and said, “It seems that Ying Bao is much more cheerful than before.”

“Yeah, the original Ying Bao has returned again.”

This was what Jing Xi felt the gladdest about. During the years where she was gone, her daughter became sensitive and weak. But she was already better right now and was living a blessed life. The love of her parents and family had healed this child's heart.

Everyone felt happy when they saw she had changed to become cheerful and lively.

The two women chatted in the garden, bathing in the happy atmosphere of the garden. At this time, Auntie Lan brought Jing Xi's cellphone over. "Xiaoxi, you have a call."

"Oh, thank you, Auntie Lan."

Chapter 1930: Cheating

Jing Xi took the phone and saw Ma Haodong's caller ID on the screen.

Wondering why he'd suddenly call her, Jing Xi answered the call.

"Hello?"

Jing Xi listened to what Ma Haodong had to say, then hung up the phone and frowned.

"What's wrong?" Huo Sanyan asked.

"It's Brother Dong. Well, I guess this is good news," Jing Xi sighed. "They are getting married."

"Really? How long have they been dating anyway?"

"They've known each other for 10 years or so. Brother Dong was just 20 then..."

Jing Xi started to tell Huo Sanyan Ma Haodong and Xiao Yuqian's story.

Author's Note: That marks the end of Ye Xun and Huo Sanyan's story. Next up is the story of Ma Haodong and Xiao Yuqian. I would like to apologize in advance as I've forgotten the details of their past and readers might find some parts different from before. Please refer to the story after this if any of the pieces are different. Thank you for your understanding.

To tell Ma Haodong and Xiao Yuqian's story, we will have to start from 10 years before, when they first met.

At the age of 24, Xiao Yuqian was already the ace manager of Huayin Entertainment. Even though she was young, she was able to hold her ground with more experienced veterans.

Her strong will was a result of her parents divorcing when she was still a child. That was why she had to work harder than other people her age.

But just as her career was going smoothly, the company, which was owned by the Xiao family, was hit by the financial crisis.

As suppliers and banks started to ask the company to pay off their debts, Licheng Group planned to purchase the company. In the time of crisis, Xiao Yuqian's father, Xiao Guohua, had fallen ill.

As the eldest daughter of the Xiao family, Xiao Yuqian had to think of ways to help the company. She took out all of her savings, but there was no way they were enough to pay off the debts.

Without any choices left, Xiao Yuqian went to ask her boyfriend, Li Muhao, for help. Li Muhao owned one of the biggest property companies in Beijing, and if he would help, Xiao Yuqian could definitely pay everything off.

After making her mind up, Xiao Yuqian called Li Muhao but realized his phone was off.

She then went to the Li Group to look for him, but he was nowhere to be found. Even his secretary said she had no idea where he was.

The only place Xiao Yuqian could think of was Li Muhao's home.

But Li Muhao wasn't at his home either.

Xiao Yuqian then sat in her car that was parked in the city as she cursed Li Muhao.

Just as she was about to leave, she realized a familiar car stopping by the shoulder.

It was Li Muhao's car.

Li Muhao came down from the vehicle and ran to the passenger side door to help another lady down.

They then walked into the Hilton Hotel that was just in front of them.

Xiao Yuqian couldn't help but laugh at her stupidity when she saw that.

Li Muhao had always told her how much he loved her, and in the end, he was just another bastard that was cheating on her.

Xiao Yuqian thought of letting it slip, but anyone else would've gotten angry too.

She got out of her car and chased after Li Muhao into the hotel.