

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 253: Bearing A Child

Xie Pinggang was very clear about that.

Since Xie Qiao was going to die anyway, there was nothing he could do to stop this matter. It was useless for him to be sad.

The most important thing was to let Xie Qiao give birth to a child and have an heir to pass on. Her life in the human world would not be in vain.

“Eldest Brother, I’m picky,” Xie Qiao sighed.

When she looked at people, she could not help but look at their facial features. It was fine if it was her relatives, but if it was her other half, if there were any flaws, she would not be able to stand it!

“So you don’t want to get married?” Xie Pinggang asked.

“I do,” Xie Qiao was very straightforward.

She had never gotten married in her previous life, but in this life... she had always lived cautiously. She did not even dare to breathe loudly, afraid that she would scare herself to death. Although she had the temperament of a Taoist master, she was still a lady after all. She was already 16, she also wanted to have the taste of marrying and having children. Only then would her two lives be considered complete.

Moreover, she also hoped that after her death, regardless of whether it was a man or woman, she hoped someone would remember her and pay her respect.

It would be fine if she was reincarnated immediately after her death. If she was never reincarnated, and she had no descendants to do that for her, what would she do if her life was miserable down there?

“Then don’t be picky. Just find someone with decent facial features and decent character,” Xie Pinggang said straightforwardly.

Xie Qiao pursed her lips and thought for a moment, “Eldest Brother, I like... The Crown Prince’s looks. Can you find someone who looks like that?”

Xie Pinggang thought he heard wrong and dug his ears, “What?!”

“That’s right...” Xie Qiao felt a little guilty, “The Crown Prince is good-looking. There’s nothing wrong with his facial features. He’s born with a noble appearance. His eyes are bright, I feel very comfortable when I look at him... Is there anyone similar to him?”

“Give up on that thought!” Xie Pinggang rolled his eyes.

‘The Crown Prince, why not the Emperor, then?!’

It was still possible to be married to the Emperor. After all, he was an old man. She might even make it to the talent show!

However, the Crown Prince, that thing! Patooi! That guy was even more picky than his sister!

Now that the Crown Prince was working in the criminal division, he especially liked to call him over to talk about cases, so he now knew a lot about the Crown Prince.

The Crown Prince was not a lecherous person. No matter how much he looked like a celestial being, it was useless!

Also, his temper... was not very good.

He had gone to the prison to interrogate a case once, and he faced an extremely vicious person. That torture device was gravely cruel, and it was to his liking!

It would be terrible for him to bring such a person back for Xie Qiao, right?

The look in his eldest sister's eyes...

Xie Qiao chuckled and scratched her head, "I was just joking... Who doesn't like that face? It's just a face..."

"I heard that the palace is arranging a marriage for the Crown Prince. Why don't I get the grand preceptor to find a way to include you as well? If the upper echelons see you, they might be able to make you a concubine or something. Anyway, you won't live long. It doesn't matter who you marry. As long as you can have a child, that's all that matters," Xie Pinggang suddenly said with a serious expression.

Xie Qiao opened her mouth.

She was talking about someone who looked like the Crown Prince. She did not mean she wanted to marry the Crown Prince...

However, someone who looked similar to the Crown Prince was definitely someone who was wealthy or noble.

“It’s just that our father is incapable. I’m afraid that we won’t be invited to the East Palace banquet. Even if the grand preceptor helps, it might not be possible. I’ll...think of a way later...” Xie Pinggang left with a headache.

For the sake of Xie Qiao’s future, he had put in a lot of effort.

Xie Qiao was dumbfounded.

She stood there in a daze.

No, that Crown Prince’s banquet... she had already agreed to go...

However, it was not for the arranged marriage..

Xie Qiao could not even catch her breath. Before she could say anything, Xie Pinggang had already disappeared.
