

THE PRINCESS CONSORT HAS A LETHAL DESTINY

Chapter 474: Such a Wicked Woman

When Zi Zhu said that, dense anger appeared on her face.

“That b*tch, did she think that she could surpass her master just because she gave birth to a child? In her dreams. She can only use underhanded tricks behind her back! She couldn’t do anything to the Young Master, so she vented her anger on Snowball. She really wanted to tear it apart!”

Xie Qiao understood when she heard that.

“Is the fox dead?” Xie Qiao asked.

“Not yet!” Zi Zhu said angrily. Suddenly, her eyes lit up, “Can you save the little fox? That b*tch locked the little fox in a cabinet. Once night falls, she will take it out and torture it. I don’t know how long it will last...”

Xie Qiao nodded.

Zi Zhu was delighted.

Then, she looked at her with a complicated gaze, “Master, a-are you here to capture me...?”

“Sigh, so be it. I’ll accept it if I can save the little fox before I leave,” Zi Zhu said.

“What’s your wish?” Xie Qiao asked.

“Wish?” Zi Zhu looked outside in confusion, thinking about the decades that she had been foolishly guarding, a trace of sadness rose in her heart, “I-I did something wrong and caused the Princess to be unable to give birth for decades. I’ll have to trouble master to tell her about this and say that I’ve let her down. Also... I didn’t do it on purpose that time. It was all because of her cousin. She was jealous of master and used me to drug her. By the time I found out, it was already too late...”

The cousin and her husband were not on good terms, and everyone knew that the Prince and the Princess were deeply in love.

Who would not envy the Princess for having such a good husband?

At that time, the cousin came to the residence as a guest and saw that her hair was beautiful, so she gave her a hair care prescription.

She used it diligently. It smelled good, and her hair was dark and silky.

At that time, she had to groom the Princess every day, so she used the prescription she made.

Later on, the Princess was unable to give birth to any children.

One day, she saw her cousin looking at the Princess with a vicious gaze. Only then did she think something was wrong. She went to question the cousin whether there was something wrong with the prescription.

However, it was something that she had personally given to the Princess.

She was shocked, afraid, and guilty. She did not know what to do. Perhaps she had been too worried, that night, she fell ill. Later on, the fever did not subside and she died.

This matter was kept in the bottom of her heart.

She could only watch as the Princess missed her after her passing and used up the rest of the prescription.

Every time she thought of her, she blamed herself more and more.

She thought that the Princess would never have a child in her life. She saw the Prince take in a concubine with her own eyes and the Princess secretly cried. She wished she could die ten thousand times.

Fortunately, the heavens pitied her and finally gave her a son.

Zi Zhu explained these things to Xie Qiao.

Xie Qiao agreed to that.

It was easy for her to make money off the royal residence. There were several cases in succession.

After finding out where the fox was, Xie Qiao went straight to the Princess. After thinking for a moment, she said in a low voice, "In order to prevent that fox from being moved, I hope that the Princess... will act abruptly."

The Princess was truly shocked.

The fox was still alive?

Xie Qiao told the Princess the location.

The Princess was even more shocked, "It's her? Why can't she even let go of an animal?"

The Princess was furious.

She immediately brought her men over. The side concubine was currently comforting Zhao Xuzhi. Who knew that the Princess would barge in directly? Before she could say anything, the Princess had someone remove the big lock on the cabinet in the inner room and carry the little fox out.

"How could I tolerate such a wicked woman like you?! When the Prince returns, I will give you a pair of scissors and send you to the temple to cultivate!" The Princess said.

She had never been so angry.

Although it was not worth doing that just for a fox, it was a life after all!

What would happen if her son fell into the hands of that wicked woman one day?!
