

The Protector Chapter 1310

“Let’s go in and have a look! This kid wants to change his surname? Is this going to be retribution?”

“I understand, the Garrison family came to Liwei this time in North Hampton! I guess they were warning Levi to change his surname!”

Concubine Jennie is humane.

They immediately entered the hall.

After entering the hall, they saw an incredible scene—

Dozens of people knelt on the ground, kowtow frantically.

Blood splattered, soaking the ground.

They immediately recognized that this group was from North Hampton Garrison’s family.

Are they kowtow to plead guilty?

Someone stunned to death.

All the rest were knocked out to blood.....

This this this!

Meredith was terrified.

The calf is trembling, the body is stiff, the forehead is sweating...

It's so scary!

Why do they kowtow?

Could it be...

Everyone looked at each other, and immediately thought of a possibility-because of the change of the surname of the monarch to Garrison, the Oakland City Garrison Clan directly blamed the North Hampton Garrison Clan.

Special punishment!

That's why the North Hampton Garrison family kowtow...

"Spare...Spare..."

Joseph, whose face was full of blood, made a weak voice.

While Meredith was afraid in their hearts, they stared at Levi Garrison fiercely.

Blame this broom star!

Look, it hurts others every time!

It will affect them sooner or later!

North Hampton Garrison's family was kneeling in the field.

The wealthy families in the capital and all over Erudia were all standing, but Levi Garrison was sitting in a wheelchair, calm and relaxed, looking indifferent.

What kind of system is this?

Are you too brave?

Meredith saw Levi Garrison sitting in a wheelchair holding Levilia, she roared: "Levi Garrison, do you still dare to sit? Why not roll to the ground and kneel to apologize?"

Harry also agreed: "Yes, if you do something wrong and let the family follow the punishment, can you get away with your conscience?"

"You are a broom star, and your child is a little broom star! You still dare to sit and roll off the wheelchair?"

Aaronand shouted at Levi Garrison angrily.

This kid is too pretentious.

"boom!"

“?!”

Suddenly Jamal Garrison slapped the wooden table in half, making a huge noise.

“Are you talking here?”

Jamal Garrison roared.

Frightened Meredith and Robert’s group.

Not only that.

“???.....”

At this time, thousands of people in the field looked at them all.

His eyes were fierce.

The breath is terrifying.

“Dare to yell at him? Are you tired of being crooked?”

“Going to die! Dare to do this in front of us?”

“Presumptuous! Give it a try again?”

Everyone scolded.

Being stared at by thousands of bigwigs.

Meredith and Robert were scared to death.

Everyone is going crazy...

“Puff!”

Everyone knelt to the ground uncontrollably.

“sorry Sorry!”

“We were wrong! This kind of occasion shouldn’t be our voice!”

“We are just a bunch of ants and bugs, please don’t remember the villain and spare us once!”

Meredith and them all thought—with the permission of the big guys, they spoke privately, which made the big guys angry.

After all, everyone present is distinguished and distinguished, and it is the existence they look up to.

They are not qualified to speak on this occasion.

For example, the results now provoke the bigwigs.

Even the ancestors of the Garrison family were angry.

This is too great a crime.

At this time, even Zoey rushed over, she was mainly worried that Levi Garrison and Levilia had an accident.

When I came here, I saw people kneeling on the ground.

She was dumbfounded.
