

The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 2924

Levi Garrison and the others have been following in the footsteps of the army of the Kingdom of God, looking for an opportunity to take action.

Just as they were about to choose to shoot again, something unexpected happened to the Galactic Guardian Alliance ahead.

The aerospace carrier in the mid-air ahead suddenly moved...

These three aerospace aircraft carriers were originally used for transportation.

Suddenly their transport device opened.

It is a technology panel with a height of kilometers on one side, just like a device that gathers solar energy.

There are densely packed small devices on it.

There may be hundreds of thousands on a panel!

However, there are too many such panels that can be transported.

After all, all three aerospace aircraft carriers are used for transportation.

The number is too large.

That's hundreds of thousands of panels, and they are all merged together at this moment.

Line up directly in front!

It's like a heavenly gate descending from the sky, lying in front of you!

It extends from mid-air to the depths of the sky and sinks to sea level.

Envelop all this sea area.

Separate this world directly...

split into two!

You can imagine how terrible it is!

The enhanced version of Leviathan, just over 300 meters high, gave everyone enough shock.

Compared with the device raised and lowered on the aerospace carrier, the Leviathan is almost the size of a bird.

Even ants.

It grows so long that you can't see your head at a glance, and you get deep into the deep space and the deep sea. There are no specific numbers at all!

Divide the world directly into two!

The scene is too shocking and spectacular!

This “wall” that suddenly appeared before my eyes shocked everyone.

Even the eighteen true gods who rushed to the front were shocked.

Can't help but stop!

Stared at the wall that appeared!

Everyone's face is filled with inevitable shock...

Levi Garrison and the others were also shocked.

what is this?

Everyone's ideas are the same!

But such a shocking device is definitely useful!

Maybe it's here to deal with the kingdom of God...

Not only outsiders were shocked.

Together with everyone in the Galactic Guardian Alliance, they are stupefied!

Even the Black Hawk agents, who have a very high status in the Warhawk Nation, are equally shocking.

When did Warhawks have such a device?

Why don't they know?

Even unheard of!

It stands to reason that this device must use a lot of force.

The power of the whole country is impossible!

However, a large investment in scientific research and human resources is bound to leave many clues.

It's impossible to have it at all.

Especially in their status.

But this device appeared out of thin air.

They were all scared silly.

Anyone should be scared!

“This...what’s this for?”

Agent Black Hawk couldn’t help asking.

Several other people also came over.

Urgently want to know.

Only the head of the game, Smith just glanced at them: “Start the device immediately! Hurry up!” He did not answer the Black Hawk agent’s message.

Instead, he said faintly: “Look at it next and you’ll know it!”

Shocked!

Everyone is still in shock!

The device in front of you is like a combination of solar power panels!

But to put it bluntly, it is really similar to a solar power generation device, and even related technologies are exactly the same.

When everyone was stunned, the device suddenly started.

On this heavenly gate-like wall in front of him, countless small devices were activated.

“Noisy...”

The beams of light flowed between the various devices, fully activated!

Terrible energy is rippling!

The sea began to plop and boil.

Thunder and lightning flashed in the sky, and violent storms struck.

All unnatural phenomena appear.

“Rumble...”

Just heard a loud bang, as if the world was torn apart.

Everyone just feels that the “device” in front of them gushes out terrible energy fluctuations.

Everyone subconsciously hides and resists.

In particular, the eighteen strongest men of the main divine division lit up in front of the golden masks to resist this power.

It's just that everyone quickly discovered that there was nothing at all.

The device in front of you just thundered, as if a strong wind swept past everyone's eyes.

"Huh? Suddenly my head is so heavy, like there is something giant in it, my head is about to explode!"

"I... are my legs still there? Why don't they exist anymore, I feel my legs are light enough to float!"

"My head is very heavy, but my legs are very light, what's the situation..."

"I'm going to faint, feeling my blood flowing back..."

...

Then everyone felt a top-heavy, spinning feeling.

As if everything is upside down...
