

Chapter 1297

Only then did she realize that her foot was resting on Sebastian's knee. He was kneeling down on one knee, both hands holding her foot.

She blushed instantly. "It... It doesn't hurt. You... What are you doing? Why are you touching my foot in the office?"

Sebastian was speechless. "..."

She was shy, sweet, charming, her guilt still evident on her features after a long while. Suddenly, his Adam's apple started to bob in his throat.

"Are you trying to kill me!" He turned and carried her to his chair. The moment they sat down, Sean had arrived outside.

Oh, God!

Kingston, who was sitting outside the director's office, bored, immediately spotted the old director.

"Old Director Ford, hello to you! What brings you here, Sir?" Kingston blocked Sean in his path.

What a joke!

Even though the young director hardly took

Even though the young director hardly took notice of his father, the old director came and went as though the young director's office was no man's land.

"Where is my son?" Sean did not even bother looking at Kingston, walking forward in the direction of the office.

"Sir, please wait! Wait a moment!" Kingston stood in front of him, blocking him from his path.

"Who is inside?" Sean asked suspiciously.

Kingston did not answer. "..."

"Is it Sabrina?" Sean snapped.

Kingston immediately denied the truth. "No, no, no, the young mistress... She never comes to the office, and even when she does... She came half an hour ago, but she already left."

The moment Kingston said this, he immediately felt like slapping himself on the lips. If the old director barged in... Master Sebastian would skin him alive, alright!

Alright!

At this thought, Kingston immediately

At this thought, Kingston immediately gestured to the old director with his eyes. "Sir, when you... When you walked in, didn't you see the young director?"

Sean answered, "What...what are you saying?"

"The young director is...in a meeting room nearest to the reception area. He's meeting a..."

"A woman?" Sean assumed.

"Yes! A... A very, very, beautiful woman," Kingston lied.

"That boy!" Falling for Kingston's lie, Sean turned and headed out, walking straight to the meeting room that was located nearest to the reception. With a look inside, he saw it was empty and was about to turn and leave when he was blocked at the entrance by Kingston.

"Sir, the young director will be here in a minute, I think it's better if you wait for him here." Kingston wrapped his arms around his chest as he spoke.

Sean was furious. "Kingston Yates! You... You idiot!"

Kingston replied, "I'm sorry, Sir."

Kingston replied, "I'm sorry, Sir."

"Get out of my way!" Sean's palm landed on Kingston's cheek in a tight slap.

But Kingston did not get angry, he touched his sore cheek then said to Sean with a smile, "Sir, it's fine if you slap me. I'm young, I can take your slaps, but your hand will hurt; it'll swell up too..."

Exactly as he said, Sean's hand was trembling with pain after slapping him. Helplessly, he could only sit in the meeting room obediently, huffing and puffing in anger.

Half an hour later, Sabrina and Sebastian emerged from the office. He slung an arm around his wife's shoulders. She laid her head on his shoulder and said, "Sebastian, if we don't do anything, your entire company will really think you're scared of your wife..."

"Not only is your husband scared of his wife, but you're also my leader for life. I need to inform my entire staff of this fact," Sebastian said to Sabrina gently.

The two of them passed by the entrance to the meeting room.

A figure suddenly rushed over, shocking
