

Pregnant With Twins: My CEO's Tricky Love

Chapter 131 Deleting The Video Back Then

Ivan's expression was a little cold, Georgia nodded helplessly. She followed Ivan to a quiet corridor.

"Miss Lane, I don't understand why you are still pestering my cousin. I have already booked a flight for you to return to China. You should leave here now. Bring your daughter far away and never return to D City from now on."

Ivan knew that his auntie hated Georgia a lot. He was also unhappy with Georgia himself; not to mention about Wendy's death, which stopped Ivan from letting Robert and Georgia becoming closer. He could not understand why Robert would fall in love with Georgia. It made him feel ridiculous.

But now, Robert was hurt because of Georgia. The condition was so serious, even the doctors were not sure if his leg could recover in future.

Aunt Maisie hated Georgia deeply now. Ivan did not want to see his uncle and Georgia quarrel at the hospital, which will make his cousin embarrassed.

It would be better to send Georgia away now.

To be frank, Ivan wished that Georgia would bring her daughter away conscientiously and never appear in front of Robert anymore.

If it were before, Georgia would definitely leave without hesitation, and return to D City to accompany her child.

However, after what Robert had done to her, she would feel embarrassed if she just walked away like this.

She pleaded Ivan with tears.

"Mr. Simpson, Robert saved me. He had done so many things for me, I should at least thank him when he wakes up. I hope you can give me a chance to thank him."

"Miss. Lane, my auntie doesn't like you. Trust me, if you continue staying here, she will use all kinds of ways to take revenge on you. This is not something you can bear."

Georgia understood all these.

However, living in this world, it would not be practical to weigh the pros and cons of everything. If that were the case, it would be meaningless to stay alive.

"Mr. Simpson, just do me a favor. When Robert wakes up, let me see him secretly. I will leave here after I talk to him, is it all right?"

Ivan would not treat a woman with such cruelty, so he could only warn her to leave.

Since Georgia did not want to leave, Ivan felt that his cousin might also want to see Georgia when he woke up. He nodded helplessly.

"You must do what you promised. I promise to take you to see my cousin in secret. After that, if you do not do as promised, then you will have to be prepared for what my auntie is going to do to you."

Georgia nodded gratefully.

"It is better than what I have expected, Mr. Simpson. Thank you."

Ivan nodded his head; he did not want to continue talking to Georgia.

He waved his hand and signaled Georgia to leave.

When he was getting to Robert's ward, Ivan's phone suddenly rang.

It was his assistant, Ben, who called.

"Boss, something happened, I'm sorry."

Ivan could not understand what Ben meant, he asked coldly.

"Be straight forward. Don't beat around the bush."

"Boss, didn't I borrow your car and drive out last night?"

Ivan remembered this.

"Why, what is wrong with the car?"

"Boss, I left after I drove the car into the garage this morning. After that, didn't you asked me to go back and find a document at night? When I reached that villa, I found out that the car was gone. I checked the CCTV inside the villa, and the recordings from this morning were missing too, someone stole the car! Boss, it wasn't me, there was a thief."

Ben was Ivan's assistant for several years, and he believed in Ben's morality. He nodded calmly.

"Call the police immediately."

Ivan thought this was a simple thievery. After all, his car was a limited-edition car in the world, so it would not be a surprise if someone stole it.

However, after some thought, Ivan faintly felt that there was something wrong.

His car is a limited-edition car, so if it were really stolen, he could track it easily by checking the traffic surveillance and control system.

Ivan felt something was not right.

But since he was abroad, there was nothing he could do about the lost vehicle. Therefore, he ordered Ben.

"Investigate properly, see if there is any other issue related with the car,

I think it might be more than a simple car theft. I don't think anyone would dare to purchase the car, especially mine was a limited-edition!"

Ben nodded his head.

"Boss, don't worry, I will inform the police. After that, I will carefully investigate this matter."

Ivan ended the conversation with Ben and hung up the phone. Ben went to the police station at once to report about this matter.

After all, the car was worth tens of millions of dollars. The police immediately put a record on the case and started investigating the CCTV recordings to find out where the lost car was.

In the end, the car was seen on the traffic surveillance camera.

However, it drove to a suburb area where there was no surveillance in that direction. It was impossible to know where the car drove to.

Ben had to resort to use his boss' connections to continue the investigation.

Meanwhile at the Lane family house, Eden, Emma, Flora and Owen were sitting in the study room.

After the disappearance of Robert and Georgia last night, Emma was admitted to the hospital during midnight.

However, she was discharged from the hospital this morning.

Last night, Ivan left abruptly from the Murphy's family. Owen promptly used his contacts and found out Ivan was getting drunk alone in a bar.

Therefore, Owen hurriedly sent someone to investigate where Ivan's car was.

When the Bugatti Veyron was found outside a bar, Owen's men followed the car.

Later, when they discovered that the car was parked inside Ivan's villa, Owen added thousands of dollars to them, requesting them to steal the car out and destroyed the surveillance video inside of Ivan's villa.

And now, Owen got his hands on the dash cam of Ivan's car.

Owen's family watched the dash cam to find out if it still had the video records from six years ago.

Eden looked up the video from six years ago and confirmed the approximate time of the car accident. He played the video.

After the video was played for more than ten minutes, the car accident scene showed up. The video showed Eden walked down from the car.

Owen's expression sank right away, and Eden was trembling.

It turned out that the scene of Eden getting off the car was really filmed. If Ivan knew about this, this would be the end of him. Eden was terrified when he thought about this.

Emma comforted her father, brother as well as her mother.

“Owen, Flora and Eden, now that we found this video, don’t worry... Now we just have to delete this video.”

Eden quickly nodded his head.

“Owen, Emma is right. The video must be deleted at once. We should never let this video see the light.”

Owen nodded with a cold face.

“Emma, go ahead and delete the video.”

Emma walked to the computer and deleted the video straight away.

The whole family heaved a sigh of relief.

They would not have got this opportunity today if Robert didn’t get into an accident, and Ivan was busy looking for Robert.

Luckily for them, they took this decisive decision and immediately sent someone to drag the car out. The extra money was worth it.

Now that they got their hands on the video, Georgia can never prove who was the person responsible for the car accident.

Owen warned Eden coldly.

“Six years ago, I made Georgia took responsible for your car accident. Six years later, Selena came out and said that she saw you drove the car. Fortunately, you remembered there was another car drove past, and might have recorded it down.....Eden, even if you are my son, I must warn you. Good luck is not permanent. Today we got lucky and got our hands on this video. You might have escaped this time, but from today onwards, you will stay at home conscientiously and cultivate your morality. Let me tell you, if you get into trouble again, even the gods will not be able to save you.”

Owen coldly warned his son, then spoke to his wife Flora and Eden.

“Leave the room, I have something to discuss with Emma alone.”

Together with Eden, Flora quickly left the room. Only Emma and Owen were left in the study room.

“Owen, is there anything you want to tell me individually?”

“Emma, last night plan was disrupted. I cleaned up all the evidence pointing to us. The Simpson family should not be able to find out that we were involved. But you can tell how much Robert cared about Georgia. We need to think of a plan now. What should we do next? It is very possible that Robert is going to divorce you.”

Emma dropped her head sadly. She did not expect that Robert was willing to drink the glass of wine for Georgia and put his life in the hands of others.

It was obvious that Robert cared very much for Georgia, and this made Emma's heart burned with jealousy.

Robert was clearly in love with Georgia, and Robert did not care much about Emma. Moreover, Emma failed in getting pregnant with Robert's child. What should she do in the future? In this moment, Emma is completely baffled.

"Owen, Robert doesn't like me at all, and I can't help it."

Emma answered with a wry smile. Owen frowned his eyebrows.

According to Owen's understanding of men, once Robert returns, the first thing he might do is break off his marriage with Emma. This was not what Owen wanted.

"As long as we put the blame of Wendy's death completely on to Georgia, I don't believe Robert will insist on getting married with Georgia. Your breakthrough lies with Robert's mother."

"Georgia will definitely not admit that she is responsible for the car accident. Additionally, Selena gave her testimony at that time. She saw Eden driving the car, Robert will never believe what we said. For now, he will be more prone to believe in Georgia.

Emma thought this was a useless idea.

"We can slowly create an evident if there is no evident. There is no rush."

Both Owen and Emma were in distress. Suddenly, Owen found out that an unknown number called his phone.

He hesitated for a while, and then answered the call.

"Who is it?"

Owen asked coldly.

A man's voice appeared on the other side of the phone.

"Mr. Lane, I am Laurence. I think, you should be no stranger to my name." _____

Chapter 132 Both Legs Were Injured Severely

Owen felt something awkward instantly.

"Mr. Knight, why do you call me?"

Owen still remembered that Laurence kept protecting Georgia before he disappeared. That was why he did not have the opportunity to kill Georgia.

At the moment, the man who had disappeared for a long time called him suddenly. Owen was cautious.

“Mr. Lane, do you know who is related to my disappearance? It is Robert.”

Owen was shocked, he thought that Laurence was involved in the accident when he went for his business trip.

But why Laurence told him about it?

“Mr. Knight, what do you want?”

“I have a secret with me, it is about Robert and Georgia. If you meet me, I can help your daughter to marry Robert. Nevertheless, after your daughter gets married, the property of the Simpson family must be distributed equally between us. I will deal with Robert. How do you think?”

Owen must disagree to involve in that in the past.

However, for now, Owen was clear that Robert would not marry Emma. It was almost impossible for his grandson to be the heir of the Simpson family.

People always had to make a risky decision in life. Owen meditated for a while and nodded.

“I will cooperate with you but what should I do?”

Laurence smiled satisfyingly.

“Mr. Lane, you are wise. Add this phone number to your contact, I will call you again after I return home from abroad. I will give you a present at that time, then we discuss this matter.”

After saying that, Laurence hung up the call directly.

He looked at the little boy lying on the ward bed. Then, he turned around and asked Kayden.

“Are you sure Georgia does not know that she has a son?”

Kayden nodded.

“Georgia only knows that she has a daughter. She does not know anything about her son.”

Laurence smiled coldly.

“I suddenly think of a new way to torture Robert. Is it the best way to take revenge on him if he kills his son and daughter by himself?”

Kayden looked at Laurence and smiled.

“Master, this is a good way. But he is just a little boy, what do you plan to do?”

“Make him lose his memory. He is so young, put him in the scary penitentiary for a while. Then, ask some hypnotists and psychologists to alter his memory. After that, follow my plan.”

Laurence did not say out his plan. Kayden nodded immediately.

She was saved by Laurence, so she would do whatever Laurence wanted.

If Laurence were in danger, Kayden would save him by all means.

Meanwhile, in D City. Emma asked confusingly after Owen hung up the call.

“Dad, who called you?”

“Laurence just called me.”

Owen’s words made Emma change her expression.

“He is still alive? Why does he call you?”

Owen smiled at her daughter.

“Laurence says that he wants to cooperate with me to deal with the Simpson family. Furthermore, he wants to assist you to marry Robert. Then, we will share the property of the Simpson family equally. I agree with his plan, he will discuss with me in detail after he returns home from abroad.”

Emma opened her eyes big and looked at her father, it was unbelievable.

“Dad, are you sure that Laurence really wants to cooperate with us? Is he making use of us?”

“I will investigate it. However, Laurence tells me that Robert is the one causing him to disappear. They must have hatred for each other. We just investigate his past happenings, maybe this is the time for our Lane family to turn the tide.”

Emma was hesitant. During these six years, she thought that she would marry Robert.

However, the plan changed. Emma asked her father.

“So, Laurence means that he wants to deal with Robert and spoil the entire Simpson family?”

Owen smiled and nodded.

“I am not sure what has Laurence experienced but I can feel his hatred for Robert from his tone. This is the right timing for us. Emma, don’t be immersed in love, Robert does not care about you at all. You also don’t have any affection for him, right?”

Emma was hesitant but she thought of the moment Robert saved Georgia by all means. She nodded to his father.

“Dad, don’t worry, I will not be soft-hearted. After Laurence meets us, I will do whatever he plans as long as it does not threaten our safety.”

Owen then smiled contentedly.

He thought that the Lane family was in a disaster but Laurence’s call made him feel hopeful again.

It was true that every cloud had a silver lining.

The next day.

On the island of Hawaii, Robert woke up on the ward bed.

Maisie kept accompanying her son. When she saw him opening his eyes, she was excited.

“Robert, finally you wake up. Are you thirsty? I will take a glass of water for you.”

Robert smiled at her mother, he took the glass given by his mother.

Maisie raised the cushion of the bed upright by controlling the handle, Robert drank the water slowly. He asked her mother.

“Mom, when do you come?”

Robert still remembered that Aidan was by his side when he boarded the plane. However, his mother was the only one staying in the ward, so Robert asked curiously.

Of course, he knew that he should not mention Georgia and Aidan in front of his mother.

Those were the people his mother hated.

Maisie told Robert about her arrival briefly.

“Ivan and I came yesterday. He is resting in the hotel now. I am worried about you, so I am here early in the morning to wait for you to wake up.”

Robert nodded, he felt that he could not move his both legs. Robert asked his mother.

“Mom, are my legs injured badly? How does the doctor say?”

After Robert asked about it, Maisie showed a suffered expression.

“Robert, the injury of your legs are not severe but the doctor says that you have to undergo a few surgeries. After that, you must be able to stand up.”

Robert understood his mother’s words instantly, he tried to stay calm but his palm chattered.

“So, the doctor means that I can’t stand up temporarily?”

Robert asked again boldly. Maisie turned around, she did not want her son to see her tears falling.

Robert was always a strong man, he quickly consoled his mother.

“Mom, don’t cry. You have said that my legs will be recovered but it takes some time. Don’t worry, I will not be dispirited, I am confident that my legs will be recovered.”

Maisie felt sad about it.

“Robert, you are always strong. If it was not Georgia who caused you to be caught, your legs would not suffer from this injury!”

Maisie grumbled about Georgia. Robert knew that he should not say something good about Georgia in front of his mother, or else his mother would be upset.

So, he changed another way to console her.

“Don’t say this kind of sad thing. Mom, since I have to undergo a few surgeries, just contact the best doctor in the world will do.”

Maisie then chatted with her son. No one mentioned Georgia anymore.

Of course, Robert would not mention Aidan, not even Maisie.

Maisie purposely visited Robert in a different slot with Aidan. Maisie did not want to see him.

After chatting with her son for a while, Maisie asked the doctor to check Robert’s body.

Maisie left the ward after confirming that everything was fine. She wanted to rest in the hotel for a while.

After that, Aidan went to the ward. He straight away sat on the chair beside Robert’s bed.

“How do you feel?”

Robert did not know how to face his father who had left him for over ten years.

Robert hated him initially but the man appeared in front of him and saved him.

Robert had a complicated feeling for the man. Robert wanted to call him father but Robert found it hard to do so. Robert did not want to bother him but Robert was not a childish boy anymore.

Robert simply answered.

“I am fine. My mother has told me about the matter of my legs. I need to meet some doctors and undergo a few surgeries. My legs will probably be disabled for a while, I might not be used to it.”

Robert explained calmly. He seemed to be careless about his injured legs.

Aidan smiled slightly.

“Your pattern is similar to mine.”

After Aidan said that, Robert stayed silent and did not want to speak anymore.

He felt that he had nothing to talk with his father. Aidan talked to Robert again.

“Your mother will not tell me where is the graveyard of Wendy. I don’t even know that Wendy has passed away in these few years. Tell me where is her graveyard, I want to see her.”

After Aidan said that, Robert looked up and stared at the man furiously. He could feel that his heart cracked severely.

It was the resentment he had on his father who never concerned about him and the woe of losing his sister.

“Why do you have the eligibility to go to her graveyard? You have saved me this time, I can’t say that you don’t have the eligibility to come here and chase you out. However, what have you done to my sister? You don’t take responsibility as a father, you don’t even show up during her funeral. You only know it now that Wendy has passed away. Why do you have the eligibility to go to her graveyard?”

Robert roared sorrowfully.

He could tolerate whatever Aidan did, he could accept the fact that he was saved by the man, he also could control himself not to roar at the man.

However, Robert could not control his anger when he mentioned his sister.

“I know, I feel guilty for you and your sister. But, Wendy has passed away, I just want to see her.”

Robert teased him coldly.

“What can you do after visiting her grave? Would Wendy come back alive afterwards? Could you give her the love that she never gets from you? Do you know that Wendy loved you so much when she was young? She was very small when you left her, do you know how many days has she cried? Do you know how envious she was when she saw other children have a father? You are unworthy to be her father! Aidan, you are unworthy at all!”

After Robert said that, he felt that tears almost fell down from his eyes. He was an adult already, how could he behave like a childish kid and threw tantrum. Robert looked down on himself.

In fact, he was always a childish kid in front of his father. It made him suffer.

Aidan sighed.

“Robert, I am not explaining for myself. However, everyone will blunder at a young age and don’t even know when is the time to become mature. I feel guilty for both of you. Don’t be angry, rest well.”

After Aidan said that, he walked out silently.

Out of the blue, Robert punched heavily on the bed. He could not do anything but he was outraged.

He did not want to recall the moment he suffered from humiliation and the absence of a father's love.

Robert stayed silent. The door was knocked on after a while.

Robert thought that his mother had come back and wanted to speak.

However, he saw Ivan bringing Georgia in. __

Chapter 133 Do I Need a Reason to be Nice to You?

After Georgia entered, Ivan went out and closed the door.

In an instant, only Robert and Georgia were left in the ward.

Georgia suddenly had no courage to step forward, she stood by the door in hesitation, didn't have the courage to move forward.

He was laying on the bed, he got hurt and almost lost his life because of her. Georgia kept on thinking about their matter for the whole night.

Robert suddenly smiled at Georgia.

"Why are you standing by the door? There's a sofa here, just sit there."

Robert unexpectedly smiled to Georgia, she instantly felt sour at heart.

She walked step by step to the sofa by Robert's sickbed and sat down, then she lowered her head and her eyes started to turn red.

"Why are you crying?"

Robert gently asked Georgia, Georgia looked up and saw him, feeling like her eyes were swelling up... That was a kind of unspeakable sadness and distress, and the overwhelming emotion seemed like it was going to drown her.

"Robert, I'm the one who should be responsible for your injury, why are you still so nice to me now?"

After Georgia asked that, she lowered her head again and rubbed the tears on the edge of her eyes.

"Do I need a reason to be nice to you?"

Robert couldn't help laughing.

"Are you worried about my leg? I just won't be able to stand for some time, I'll find a doctor for some surgeries and find a professional for rehabilitation exercise then I'll be able to stand again, you don't need to blame yourself for this... People will always get hurt in their life don't think too much, the doctor has said that my legs will recover, and I'm not even short of money, don't tell me that you think I can't find a suitable doctor to do my surgery?"

Robert's tone was so relaxed, but he made Georgia feel even more guilty.

"I don't deserve you being nice to me... Robert, we're not a match, you shouldn't be liking me."

Georgia took a deep breath and finally said that sentence.

She had carefully considered that sentence for a very long time, she admitted that what Robert did for her was so moving.

But, Georgia felt that they weren't a match at all, Robert shouldn't feel anything for her.

There were too many problems between them, Georgia was already exhausted.

As long as she thought of Robert's current status, Robert's mother, and the child in her belly... Georgia wasn't willing to have something more with Robert.

She had a kind of feeling like if she got closer to Robert, her life would probably get worse.

She could think of other ways to repay Robert for saving her life, the only thing she couldn't do was giving Robert her love, that's something that Georgia would never do again in her life.

She didn't even know whether Travis would recover, she still needed to take care of Annie and the child in her belly, Robert and her were people from different worlds.

Georgia felt that, it was necessary for her to let Robert understand their situation.

But after Georgia said that, Robert's expression didn't change, he just smiled at Georgia.

"I'm a bit thirsty, can you pour a glass of water for me?"

Georgia couldn't really understand Robert's sentence, was there any other meaning to it? But Robert was a patient, so she immediately walked over and poured a glass of water and handed it to Robert.

Robert took it and drank some, he then smiled at Georgia.

"I did nothing at all and your heart is full of burden, don't you worry... I won't force you to be by my side, afterwards, you can just go back to where you live."

Georgia didn't think that Robert would say that, she was very surprised, as if the man before her had turned completely different from the one in her memories.

"What you said just now was true?"

Georgia asked again to confirm, and Robert nodded.

"What you said just now is true, we are not a match... Telling you to live in my place isn't good for you and my engagement hasn't been cleared up yet, I shouldn't let you be insulted by others, what happened at the banquet before was my fault."

Robert explained righteously, Georgia suddenly felt sad.

It turned out that Robert was willing to let her go, because he was considerate of her.

Georgia didn't even know how to ask Robert, why exactly did he act so nice to her?

She felt too embarrassed to ask.

He had used his life to save her, while she cruelly warned him not to get closer to her.

Perhaps she's the most heartless person in the world.

But Georgia would prefer the current her to be the most selfish person in the world.

If she kept living together with Robert, perhaps he'd realize that she's pregnant.

When Georgia finished her research, she wanted to bring her daughter to a faraway place from D City.

"Robert, thank you."

Georgia said that in the end, Robert spoke again to Georgia.

"Before this, the butler said that you have anorexia, and you said that you have gastritis, have you seen the doctor for that?"

Robert still remembered Jasper's guess, in such situation, it could either be anorexia or pregnant.

If Robert wasn't staying in the hospital at that time, he'd really want to know Georgia's current health situation.

Georgia didn't even think that Robert still remembered that matter.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

"I'm fine, it's just a simple stomachache, don't worry, it's just a small problem."

Georgia was very scared that Robert would ask her to do health examination at that time, that's an unfamiliar nation's hospital.

If she really did an examination, then Robert would thoroughly find out that there's a problem with her health.

But, Robert wanted to do what Georgia was worrying about.

"It's best to do a health examination, if there's a health examination report, I can help you get the best doctor in the world to check your condition, and if you need a surgery then you can prepare it earlier."

Georgia hurriedly refused him.

"Robert, I really don't need it. I've gotten examinations before, you also know how painful gastroscopy is, I really can't bear it if you ask me to do it once again."

Robert silently looked at Georgia, he had known her for quite some time.

Constantly rejecting like that was really suspicious.

Forcing Georgia to do a check up would definitely destroy her current impression of him, he could only investigate it in secret.

"I understand, since it's just a trivial matter, then you have to take good care of your stomach and eat on time three times a day."

Georgia smiled.

"I understand, don't worry."

After saying that, they became silent in an instant.

Georgia thought of her promise to Ivan, she then awkwardly spoke to Robert.

"Robert, I still have some things to take care of in the country, I've bought a ticket to go back there, later on after I leave the hospital, I'll board on the plane and leave."

After Georgia said that, Robert was surprised at first but then he smiled at Georgia like he had thought of something.

"Before you leave, can you give me a present?"

Georgia didn't think that Robert would be so simple, she then immediately agreed to it.

"What present do you want from me?"

"You've just said that we're not a match, after going back, you'll definitely move your things out of my villa, and maybe we'll never see each other again... Can you give me a kiss before you leave?"

Georgia was dumbfounded because of Robert's request, she blushed in an instant.

She would never thought that it was the present that Robert talked about.

"Choose another one..."

Georgia awkwardly said that to Robert, but Robert showed a sad expression instead.

"I thought that after trying my best to save you, you'll be willing to give me a kiss, it turns out that you can't even do that and you hate me so much..."

Georgia felt ashamed because of that sentence.

"It's not like that, that's not what I mean..."

Georgia immediately denied that but she blushed even more.

"Then why aren't you willing to kiss me?"

Robert suddenly accused Georgia, feeling very wronged... Georgia kept rubbing her hands, she felt very nervous and awkward.

"It's not that I'm not willing to, I just think that things like kissing are too awkward...”

Georgia in the end awkwardly explained, she felt awkward in anything she said and did.

Robert held his own laughter, he then spoke to Georgia as he was wronged.

“You just need to come over, I'll kiss you, you won't even do this request? You're going to leave today, maybe we'll never meet each other again.”

Robert said that sentence like he was very wronged, Georgia couldn't refuse Robert's request.

She walked to Robert in hesitation, she didn't know what to do all of the sudden.

Robert's legs were injured but his hands were still strong, Robert grabbed Georgia's hand when she was walking over.

Georgia just fell into Robert's arms, she wanted to struggle but Robert accused her as he felt wronged.

“Don't tell me that you want to avoid me now?”

Georgia closed her eyes.

She was thinking that they wouldn't see each other anyway after that and she also heartlessly said that they weren't a match, Robert had also promised that he wouldn't disturb her again, she'd just bear with it since it's the last time.

Georgia had prepared her mental, while Robert's face was already full of satisfactory smile.

He was thinking that he used to be a fool.

She's the most kindhearted person in the world, but he unexpectedly kept using force to keep her by his side.

Until he was injured that time and saw the rarely soft hearted Georgia, Robert finally understood that he had been using the wrong method.

If he had pretended to be pitiful in front of her earlier, perhaps he'd already have a child with Georgia.

Robert laughed in a low voice and kissed Georgia's lips. _____

Chapter 134 Unbelievable Bastard

Georgia thought this was just a kiss and she was about to leave.

But when she just stood up, Georgia discovered that Robert's hands had tightly wrapped around her body.

Immediately, she was forced into a surging and overbearing hot kiss.

Georgia felt her head get dizzy.

She only had Travis, the only first lover. But first love was always simple, even if there was kissing, it was a simple touch. She had never felt such a strong and overbearing kiss like today.

It seemed that her soul had been imprisoned, she could only follow Robert's rhythm, as if she had completely surrendered in the arms of this man.

Georgia felt that her whole body was weakening, when Robert let go of her, Georgia felt that her whole body was too soft to move.

She tried to stand up with all her strength, but this man still held her tightly.

"Thank you for giving me a kiss."

Robert suddenly spoke to Georgia, Georgia felt her face reddened, she smiled embarrassingly, wanted to get up and leave.

However, Robert suddenly hugged and kissed her again.

At this moment, Georgia didn't have time to react, and was led by him to continue to be immersed in his passion.

Later, when Robert finally allowed Georgia to stand up, Georgia had already rushed out the door.

Robert, that unbelievable bastard!

How could this is just one kiss, there were one after another, how could he be such a shameless man?

Georgia didn't want to talk to Robert, she felt that she needed to leave immediately, and return home immediately.

Just not long after running out of the ward, Ivan walked to Georgia's front again.

He looked at Georgia's blushed face, and her lips were redder than the time she came in just now. Ivan understood the situation instantly and his face was a little darkened.

However, this kind of thing was not something he could care about now.

"The driver is downstairs of the hospital. Now go down quickly and take the car to the airport. The luggage is already in the car boot, Georgia, remember what you promised me before. You must leave here now."

Georgia immediately calmed down, and nodded to Ivan.

"I see. I will immediately get in the car right now and go to the airport. Don't worry, I will keep my word."

Ivan personally sent Georgia downstairs, until after watching Georgia drive to the airport, he walked back into the hospital, then returned to Robert's ward.

Robert was already in a good mood and picked up the newspaper next to him to read it. After hearing someone come in, he raised his head and realized that it was Ivan. Robert smiled at Ivan.

"Has Georgia been sent away?"

Ivan sat on the sofa next to Robert, and asked with a cold face.

"Are you reluctant for her to leave? How long are you going to be entangled with this woman? Robert, Georgia is Wendy's murderer, are you crazy? Just because of a woman, you are going to forget Wendy that you grew up with?"

When Ivan remembered that these two were kissing just now, his heart was full of anger.

He didn't want to vent this kind of thing in front of Georgia. He would lose the demeanor of a man, but in front of Robert, he was like an aggrieved brother who questioning his elder brother.

He grew up with Wendy and Robert. Wendy had always been regarded by him as his biological sister, the sister grew up spoiling. He couldn't accept that Robert and Georgia were together now.

Robert slowly explained to Ivan.

"You went abroad for a while, and when the time you came back, I had disappeared. You probably don't know that something happened at home. I guess my mother didn't tell you too."

Ivan asked suspiciously.

"What's the matter?"

"At that time when you left, Selena came to our house. She told us an incident six years ago. On the day Wendy had a car accident six years ago, Selena saw Emma's younger brother Eden and Wendy have conflict in the bar with her own eyes. Later, after Wendy drove her car and left, Eden drove his car to catch up with her."

After Robert finished speaking, Ivan's face changed in an instant.

"You mean, Georgia was wronged. The real murderer is Eden. The Lane family has been lying to us?"

After Ivan finished saying, he already gritted his teeth. He was very angry.

Robert nodded.

"You've probably heard that Emma's younger brother Eden had been making trouble outside. If he drove impulsively and bumped into Wendy, this was entirely possible, but the Lane family explained to us that Eden knew he was drunk. So, he drove the car to a place in the middle and stopped. Then, he called Georgia and told Georgia to drive the car back whereas he took another car to go home by himself. Do you believe the Lane family?"

"I don't believe a word!"

After Ivan heard this explanation, he was full of doubts about Eden in an instant.

"Robert, your suspicion is right. I remember that Georgia was convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol. It makes no sense for Georgia who was drunk driving a car that was parked by another drunk driving person. Robert, have you thought how to take revenge on the Lane family?"

Ivan asked coldly. He was now full of disgust for Eden's family.

Robert explained.

"You can probably know that my mother hates Georgia now. Even though Selena told us this incident, we still don't have evidence of the accident scene, Georgia does not have, and Lane family does not have too. So, my mother still thinks Georgia is the murderer of Wendy. Of course, she also hates the rest of the Lane family."

"Then you just deal with the Lane family directly, they are all one family after all."

Ivan made this suggestion without mercy. He had no good feelings for the Lane family, including Georgia.

After saying this, Ivan spoke again.

"No, besides teaching this family a lesson, you and Emma still have a marriage contract. When will the marriage be terminated?"

Robert's original plan was to let this marriage contract go on until next year. So that when everyone thought they were getting married, he would terminate the marriage contract, leaving the Lane family with nothing.

However, since the last time he attended a banquet, watching Georgia being insulted by everyone, saying that Georgia had taken Emma's fiance, Robert did not agree with his plan anymore.

He explained to Ivan.

"After returning back home this time, I will terminate the contract with the Lane family, but I still want to find evidence of the car accident, at least some evidence that can convince my mother, otherwise, she will always be biased against Georgia."

Robert knew that if he promised to his mother now that he would torture and retaliate everyone in the Lane family, including Georgia, Maisie might have no objection, but Robert was unwilling to do so.

Maisie was his mother. Georgia was now the woman he liked. He didn't need to make his mother sad for a woman, but he couldn't give up the woman he loved because of his mother's disgust for her.

He had many ways to take revenge on the Lane family, but what Robert wanted to do the most was to find out the truth about the car accident that year.

"It's been six years now, Robert, how is it possible that you can find the evidence? I also tend to believe that Georgia is not the murderer of that accident now, but Maisie really hates Georgia. This woman even made a false paternity test before. I really don't believe that this woman is a kind hearted person. She is not worthy of your love, or even for you to risk your life to protect her. Robert, since your feelings aren't too deep yet, you should cut off your feelings. Maisie had raised you guys, you know how hard it was back then, why bother to hurt her heart for a woman?"

Robert thought of Ivan arguing with that woman that night, he smiled and asked.

"Ivan, I didn't ask you about what happened that night. When attending Jason's banquet, I could see from the way you talked when quarreled with that woman, you still care about that woman, don't you?"

Ivan's expression darkened instantly. He didn't want to recall anything about this woman, the woman that made him feel sorrowful for six years.

Ivan knew very well that this woman had always been in his heart, making him love and hate at the same time, and he had never forgotten about her.

Robert didn't force Ivan to admit anything about this woman, he gave a sigh and remained in silence.

"Ivan, if you think about the woman you like, you can probably understand why I don't want to give up Georgia. Love is something that you can't ask for. It took me so many years before I was sure that I finally liked a woman. I want to protect her now. I want to clear her grievances. I want her to be with me. I am thinking that we will have our children in the future, have our happy lives for the rest of our lives. If you want me to give up, at least it's impossible for now."

"As for my mother's affairs, we can take time to discuss it. In this world, it has never been said that you'd have to choose between mother and wife. The key is to see how I as a middleman handle the relationship between them, so, I have to find a way to find evidence of the car accident."

He knew well what was his mother's concern.

Ivan didn't persuade him anymore, he suddenly understood Robert, and again felt that he was particularly funny.

Robert could still find the courage to pursue the woman he loved, even if it seemed difficult, but he, he didn't even dare to admit that he cared about that woman when facing her, because that woman had no heart at all.

Every trace of his care would become a mockery of that woman.

"I see. I won't say anything about you and Georgia. It's just that you have to find a way to find out the truth of the car accident as soon as possible. Otherwise, Maisie will really get more and more angry. This time you are seriously injured, so she didn't quarrel with you. If she finds out that you and Georgia are getting closer and closer in the future, she will really be mad at you."

Robert smiled.

"Of course I understand this. Don't worry, I will send more people to investigate. Anything that was done in this world is impossible to completely clean up all the evidence. Maybe we forgot about something."

Ivan smiled faintly when he suddenly heard his cell phone rang.

Smiling apologetically at Robert, Ivan picked up the phone and walked to the window, it was Ben that called.

"Did you find out anything about my car?"

Ivan asked Ben directly, and Ben nodded on the other side of the phone.

"Boss, the car has been found. It was left in an abandoned factory. We watched the surveillance but could not find out who stole the car. All the evidences were cleaned up, and the car was completely smashed."

Ben's voice finally became very sad. It was a luxury car worth tens of millions of dollars, a global limited edition, and it was smashed by someone who didn't know how much that car was worth. Ben felt heartache when he thought of himself following the police to see the broken car.

Ivan remembered his suspicion yesterday, and he spoke to Ben.

"Did the police take the car for inspection? This person smashed my car, so he was not trying to steal my car and sell it for money. He must be looking for something which was useful from my car. Please ask an expert to investigate what is missing in my car."

Ivan ordered, he was more and more curious about the man who stole his car.

Ben nodded quickly.

"Boss, don't worry, I will find more people to investigate. This person is absolutely mad. He destroyed a car worth of tens of millions. There must be something more important than the value of this car. It is really a violent thing. "

Ivan smiled, he hung up after talking a few words with Ben.

After that, Ivan went back to sit down on the sofa next to Robert's bed.

"What's going on?"

Robert asked curiously.

"After I left these two days, my limited edition Bugatti Veyron was stolen from my villa. At first, I thought it was robber who wanted to steal my car and sell it for money, but my assistant just called and told me that my car was in an abandoned factory, and the car was smashed. Obviously, the person who stole my car was looking for something valuable in it, but I can't think of what is so valuable."

Robert also felt strange, he had never heard of such a strange thing.

In addition to the value of a car, no one could think of anything else worthy of that car, which was worth stealing and smashing it.

Both of them showed strange expressions, and after the two talked a bit more, Robert asked Ivan.

"If I asked you to operate on Georgia's daughter, would you agree?" _____

Chapter 135 Serve Me Like How You Serve Other Men

Ivan directly refused.

"I can't promise you, even though now I believe Georgia is not the one who caused the car accident, but auntie still hates Georgia. She thinks that Georgia is the one who caused Wendy's car accident. For me, Georgia still has a 10% chance of being the murderer. I can't operate for her daughter, it will remind me of Wendy and I feel sorry for her."

"What if I can find the evidence? If I manage to help her to get rid of her grievances, are you willing to operate on Georgia's daughter?"

Ivan simply agreed this time.

"If Georgia is not the one who caused the car accident, it's just an operation for her daughter; furthermore, it's a request from you, how can I possibly refuse?"

Robert smiled with relief. It seemed like he had to allocate more people to investigate about the accident that year. Now that he had not heard from the people he sent out for so long, it could be due to the insufficient manpower.

After Ivan left, he wanted to give Georgia a call and check if she had already boarded the plane.

But Robert remembered that Georgia did not have a mobile phone now, and he suddenly missed her so much. It had not been long that Georgia had left, but he started missing her already.

If it were before, Robert might just stick with Georgia, and let Georgia take care of him in the hospital.

However, after experiencing the kidnapping, Robert seemed to understand.

In order to win over Georgia's heart, he could only change another way and continued being weak in front of Georgia, making Georgia feel pitiful for him and let her feel more and more guilty.

This time, he generously let Georgia leave, and even told Georgia that he would not pester her anymore in the future. He even let her leave the villa, which was just a means of giving in.

Forcing a woman too much would not make her feel men are dependable and trustable.

But now that he chose to let go of Georgia and made her feel guilty of him, one day, she would fall in love with him if he continued treating her well in the future.

As for what he said to Georgia about not meeting anymore in the future, it was just a lie.

Georgia was soft-hearted and she easily trusted the others, which made Robert really worried.

It would be the best for him to protect Georgia himself. Otherwise, she would suffer a lot outside.

Robert thought this way, and he began to look forward to the future.

He suddenly felt that he did not need to rush to get his legs healed immediately. Being disabled in front of Georgia for a year or a half might be able to make her be loyal to him.

Only these legs could remind Georgia of the things they experienced together, and what he had done for her.

He felt more and more satisfied with his own plan; Robert took out his mobile phone and called his assistant.

"Didn't I send someone to investigate about the truth of my sister's car accident that year? I'm adding another 20 million now; you go and find more people to investigate about this matter. Find out the details as soon as possible."

Alan nodded quickly on the other end of the phone.

"Mr. Simpson, don't worry. I'll arrange more people to investigate immediately."

Robert nodded in relief; he then thought of Georgia's plagiarism, he asked his assistant.

"Have you found out more about Georgia and Percy's incident?"

“Mr. Simpson, our men have been following Percy. He is indeed not a decent person. He’s a professor, but he does not stay in the lab every day. Most of the time, he wants to defraud the funds, and his experiment had not made any progress. After tracking for a while more, maybe our men can get some evidence about how he has been deceiving everyone.”

Robert nodded in satisfaction.

“Then continue following. If there’s a shortage of staff or money, call me right away.”

At the Hawaiian airport, Georgia had already boarded the plane.

It would take about three to four more hours for her to reach D City.

Before boarding the plane just now, her mind was filled with Robert, and she could not help recalling the scene when they both kissed.

At that time, she was intoxicated by Robert’s breath; did she really fall in love with him?

Georgia kept asking herself, she suddenly could not understand her own heart.

She touched her belly lightly, and asked the baby inside.

“Baby, should I tell your dad about you? But if I tell your dad, what would happen to Annie? Even if your dad is willing to accept us, but your grandma doesn’t like me, will she force me to do abortion? I would not be able to protect you then...”

Georgia thought of it and her heart was full of chaos, she fell asleep on the plane while thinking about it.

In Vanessa’s apartment in D City, Vanessa was cooking in the kitchen.

In the living room, Annie was watching a cartoon, she laughed from time to time as the animation was a little funny.

Vanessa’s face was filled with happiness when she heard that, she was cooking Annie’s favourite braised fish.

She did not think about anything now, with the child by her side, her life for the past 6 years did not seem to have changed. As if Alfred had never come back to torture her, and none of those things had happened.

Vanessa only felt calm while cooking.

In the past two days, Alfred did not come to Vanessa’s apartment.

She heard that Alfred had returned to G City, which explained why Vanessa could be in peace for a few days, she hoped that Alfred would never come back.

As long as Alfred came, all he brought to her was humiliation and pain.

Vanessa cooked braised fish, and then cooked four more dishes and one soup.

After placing the food on the table, Vanessa went to the living room.

“Annie, turn off the TV and have dinner with mum.”

Annie was very well-behaved. After she picked up the remote control and turned off the TV, she walked to Vanessa’s side and held her hands.

“Mum, let’s eat dinner now. I can smell braised fish, thank you, mum.”

Vanessa bent down and kissed Annie’s cheek.

“My Annie is the most beautiful girl in the world. The happiest thing for mum is cooking for you.”

The mother and daughter sat on the dining table sweetly and ate;

Annie excitedly ate the braised fish, which was her favourite dish.

Vanessa persuaded her by the side.

“Annie, eat a little bit of the other dishes, do not be picky.”

Annie was very obedient and ate all the other dishes. When the mother and daughter were about to finish their dinner, Vanessa heard the doorbell of the apartment rang, she felt a sudden slam in her heart, she had a bad feeling about it.

Vanessa said to Annie with a serious face.

“Annie, you go to the bedroom now. Let me see who’s here, alright?”

Annie felt a little strange, why would her mother react like this?

But she had always been obedient; Annie put down the bowls and chopsticks in her hands and nodded to Vanessa.

“Mum, I’ll wait in the bedroom first. You must be careful. Look through the peephole to see who’s here first. If it’s a stranger, then you must call the police...”

Vanessa nodded.

After she sent Annie to the bedroom, Vanessa came to the door again. Before she checked through the peephole, Alfred’s furious scream could be heard from the outside.

“Vanessa! Open the door. This is the last time I warn you, if you don’t open the door, I’ll have someone knock open your door.”

Annie was here now; Vanessa did not feel like opening the door. She was afraid that the child could be hurt.

However, if Alfred really knocked the door open, maybe he would go crazier.

Vanessa hesitated, Alfred had already slammed the door frantically, louder than ever.

Looking at the swaying door, Vanessa finally reluctantly opened it.

“Alfred, what do you want?”

Alfred just drank, and he came to Vanessa’s apartment drunk, with only one thought in his mind.

He was suffering now, Vanessa must also suffer along.

Alfred sneered at Vanessa.

“What do I want? Look at me now, what do you think I want?”

With a cold yelling, Alfred slammed the door shut. Then he walked directly to Vanessa and gave orders.

“Take off your clothes!”

Vanessa felt a huge sense of humiliation; she held back her tears and pleaded Alfred.

“Alfred, I beg you, my daughter is in the apartment now. Can you let me go today?”

Vanessa knelt on the ground after she finished speaking.

In fact, she knew that this man would not be soft-hearted to her, but she wanted to plead him lowly.

Alfred was a little startled for a moment, he had never seen Vanessa kneeling on the ground so lowly and begging for mercy. She was not the Vanessa in his memory.

The Vanessa he remembered was always sunny and sweet, he seemed to have forgotten what Vanessa was once like.

But Alfred felt that he had been holding in too much that he would go insane soon.

In the past few days, Alfred returned to G City. His relatives in G City laughed at him, saying that he had done so much just to marry a wife who had affairs outside. Everyone looked at him indifferently. His mother also felt very disappointed with him, he felt all the pain and depression in him.

He endured all the humiliation in G City and worked hard to deal with the affairs of G City.

Before Alfred left, his mother asked him to make great achievements when he returned to D City.

Alfred promised her, in order to have better collaborations; he had to accompany the negotiators to drink the whole night when he returned D City, he clearly felt all the resentment in his heart.

That made him immediately came to Vanessa’s apartment, he was not happy, he had to make Vanessa unhappy too.

Alfred simply and rudely resolved the pain in his heart, he sneered at Vanessa who was kneeling in front of him.

“You want me to spare you? Sure, it’s very simple. If you serve me well tonight, I’ll spare you once and never disturb your baby girl.”

“By the way, do it according to the video. You serve me like how you served the others.”

Listening to Alfred, Vanessa’s face turned pale. She looked at the man in front of her with red eyes, and finally nodded helplessly.

“I promise you, as long as you let Annie go, I can do anything. But, can you wait for a while? I’d like to say a few words to Annie.”

Alfred nodded, and he sat on the sofa while remaining calm, waiting for Vanessa to return in the end.

Vanessa returned to the bedroom, Annie sat on the bed obediently and played with toys. Seeing Vanessa coming back, she asked in surprise.

“Mum, who’s here?”

“It’s the property owner from downstairs, but I have to go down to deal with one thing. Annie, you go to bed first, alright?”

Annie felt a little strange; she did not even finish her meal just now.

“Mum, am I not eating anymore?”

Annie asked suspiciously.

“The meal is already cold, after I’m done dealing with the thing, I’ll come back and warm it up for you. You can eat it later, okay? But during this period, you must stay in the bedroom and not come out, can you do that?”

Annie promised her mother.

“I won’t go out, I know I can’t run around.”

Vanessa was relieved. After she coaxed Annie, Vanessa closed the bedroom door tightly, and then she came to Alfred.

“Don’t do it in the living room, I beg you.”

Vanessa bowed her head in front of him and surrendered, Alfred suddenly felt more unhappy and resentful.

He directly pulled Vanessa’s hand, and dragged her into the next bedroom then closed the door tightly.

Annie heard the sound of the door being closed; she thought that her mother had gone out. Annie felt a little tired; she lay on the bed and started sleeping.

In Vanessa’s ward, she had already taken off her clothes in humiliation in front of Alfred.

Alfred did not feel happy, but looking at Vanessa’s humiliation and pain, he felt that as long as he could torture Vanessa, the resentment in his heart seemed to dissipate a lot.

Alfred played the video in his phone.

“Just follow the actions in this video. Didn’t you treat the other men like this before? Why don’t you dare to serve me like this now?”

Vanessa saw the body, her whole body was shaking.

But she clenched her fists tightly; she could not struggle in front of Alfred. She could not make Alfred go crazy and hurt Annie.

She closed her eyes and took a deep breath. Vanessa came to Alfred’s body.

In the airport of D City, Georgia just got off the plane. She quietly waited for the arrival of her suitcase.

Not long after, Georgia suddenly saw a woman in front of her, whose face looked similar to Vanessa.

After seeing her suitcase, Georgia immediately took off her suitcase, and then chased after her while pushing her suitcase.

However, that person disappeared among the crowd.

Georgia was a little puzzled, was something wrong with her eyesight?

Why did she think that the woman looked a lot like Vanessa?

With such doubts in her mind, after Georgia walked out of the airport, she found a public phone and then called Vanessa.____

Chapter 136 A Vanessa Look-alike

After Georgia phoned, there still wasn’t anyone picking up the phone, this made her worried.

She then phoned Vanessa a few times, but still no response.

Just then seeing a person that looked just like Vanessa, made Georgia immediately called a cab to Vanessa’s apartment to find out herself.

The apartment was quite some distance from the airport. When she finally reached Vanessa’s place, it’s already had passed an hour and a half. She impatiently knocked on the door of the apartment unit, yet no one opened the door.

Before that, Vanessa said that she and Annie would be staying at the apartment. How could there be no one?

It was already past 12 o’clock midnight, Georgia kept knocking on the door. She was feeling very impatient and worried that something might have happened to Vanessa and Annie.

Inside the apartment’s bedroom, Annie who was asleep was finally awoken by the sound of the door knocking.

She climbed down her bed and opened her bedroom door. She then slowly approached the apartment’s door.

And inside the bedroom where Alfred and Vanessa was, she was getting tortured by Alfred. When she heard knocking, she wanted to push Alfred away. But Alfred mocked her coldly.

“It’s in the middle of the night and someone is looking for you. Vanessa, could it be that you’re having an affair with someone else?”

Alfred’s voice was filled with mockery, his face was grim and terrifying.

“Mummy! Where are you?”

Annie’s voice was heard which made Vanessa even more worried. She repeatedly tried to shove Alfred away.

“Annie’s awake, I want to go and check on Annie. Please let me go.”

But Alfred wasn’t letting her go, he instead humiliated her.

“If you continue like this, I will open the door and let Annie look at how lowly you are!”

Vanessa’s face became pale, she immediately started to cry and beg.

“Annie is only 5 years old. She’s all alone and must be afraid. If the person that is knocking is a mugger, and something happens to Annie, what do we do? Let go of me now!”

Alfred felt bummed out that he helplessly released Vanessa.

“Go out and get it done. Or else, I will go out with you. Do you want Annie to know that who you are sleeping with?”

Vanessa quickly wore her clothes; she opened the door and immediately closed the door behind her.

Annie saw it was Vanessa, her anxious face was instantly calmed.

“Mummy, I thought you’re gone. Someone is out there knocking...”

Annie held Vanessa’s hand as Vanessa quickly bent down and place her inside her arms.

“Don’t worry Annie, I’m always here. I will go and check through the peephole.”

After she said this, she brought Annie to the door.

Before she could look through the peephole, Georgia’s voice was heard from the other side.

“Vanessa, Annie, are you guys home?”

Georgia was already screaming. Annie instantly replied excitedly.

“Mummy! We are here!”

Vanessa’s body trembled. The feeling of fear ran through her entire body. Annie had already opened the door joyfully.

Georgia immediately stepped in, she turned to Vanessa and smiled.

And then she crouched down and hugged Annie into her arms.

“My baby, how was everything for the past few days? Was it fun?”

“Mummy, I am waiting for you to come back. You’ve been away for the last few days and I’ve missed you so much.”

The mother and daughter’s dialogue were heart-warming. But Vanessa was trembling, as she wasn’t expecting Georgia to visit at this hour of the day.

Usually, Vanessa would be happy to see her. But Alfred was inside her bedroom, Vanessa was afraid that Georgia would find out that Alfred was here

Georgia's short-tempered, she was worried that Alfred's insanity would hurt Georgia because Georgia's pregnant after all. Vanessa asked Georgia in a panic.

"Was the flight long? Are you hungry? I'll make you dinner, so you can take a shower and then go to bed and rest."

Vanessa wanted to muddle through, she wanted Georgia and Annie to hit the sack so that Georgia could not discover Alfred's presence.

Georgia didn't notice that something was wrong with Vanessa. She smiled gratefully at her.

"I'm really hungry, just make me a egg fried rice. I'm going to take a shower now."

After saying that, Georgia coaxed at Annie.

"It's very late. Was Mummy disturbing your sleep? Annie, why don't you go to bed first?"

Annie hurriedly shook her head.

"No, mummy has taken so long to get back. I want to stay with Mummy, and we will sleep together."

Georgia nodded as she gave another kiss on the cheek of Annie before carrying her luggage and placing it inside.

"Then I'll go and take a bath first. Annie, you stay with mummy Vanessa."

After saying this, Georgia was heading towards the bathroom inside the bedroom. She intended to take a bath before having a meal.

After a few hours of flying, she was literally dying from hunger.

Because the food on the plane was not good. After all, she had been literally starving for the past few hours.

But, when Georgia had just walked inside the corridor when she noticed that the bedroom door next to her had been opened, and Georgia was shocked.

And when the person inside the bedroom walked out, Georgia's expression sank even more.

"How come you are here?"

Alfred laughed coldly.

"This is Vanessa's apartment. I live inside Vanessa's flat. I'm her husband, what's wrong with that?"

Georgia was filled with resentment towards Alfred. She always remembered what this man had done in the past, taking away her daughter.

Had Vanessa been tortured by this man all this time?

Georgia subconsciously looked in Vanessa's direction. Vanessa's face was pale, and her body was trembling.

Annie even ran to Georgia's side.

"You're the bad guy! Why are you here?"

Annie asked angrily, pointing her finger at Alfred.

Alfred expression instantly sank deep, his eyes filled with a fierce aura.

And he looked extremely serious.

"Say that again, who the hell is the bad guy here?"

Alfred asked coldly.

Annie had never seen such a fierce man before. And she tugged Georgia's hand.

"Mummy, why is this bad guy here?"

Georgia remembered that Annie had been taken away by Alfred last time, her explanation to Annie was that Alfred was a bad guy.

Georgia rushed to stand in front of Annie, she was afraid that Alfred would go insane and hurt the child.

"Alfred, you're so shameless. Why are you being mean to a little child?"

Georgia shouted out this sentence. Alfred's eyes reddened and he looked vicious.

Vanessa rushed forward and shielded Georgia and Annie.

"Alfred, don't you dare lay a finger on Georgia and Annie!"

Vanessa roared in anger, she could endure Alfred's torture, but she would never allow Alfred to bully Georgia and Annie.

Alfred suddenly mocked sadly.

"One is your best friend and the other is your adopted daughter. You protect them with everything, and you are even willing to endure my torture just so that I won't hurt these two people. You can be so kind to her, why can't you do the same to me! Vanessa, why do you have affair with those men? What exactly do you take me for?"

Alfred hissed in pain as he was filled with mixed feelings towards Vanessa.

Both Vanessa and he were each other's first love. Later when his only grandmother passed away, Vanessa broke up with him at that very moment. Because she couldn't accept the fact that he was poor. She trampled his self-esteem onto the ground.

Alfred hated Vanessa's behaviour that time. And his mother found him and brought him back to the Chow family.

At that time, Alfred thought about working hard and being someone better. And then he would make her repent for what she did to him.

But when he came back, he still couldn't bear to see Vanessa in pain. So Alfred decided to let bygones be bygones. And he felt that he was going to marry Vanessa, whom he loved.

He was finally rich, and there was no way Vanessa would ever leave him.

However, at their wedding. The moment when the video was released, he became a joke in the eyes of everyone. And all the sincerity he had given was trampled again by Vanessa.

How could this not make him hate her?

"I told you none of the videos was me, except for the first one. So what on earth can make you believe me?"

Vanessa was already crying out in pain, she covered her head and felt like her head was about to explode.

She felt as if both herself and Alfred were hurting each other. Both breaking each other's heart.

But Vanessa didn't understand at all where those videos had come from.

How could she have done such a thing? It wasn't as if she had amnesia. Vanessa crouched down in pain and cried.

Georgia was worried in an instant.

"What are you guys talking about? Are there any other videos? What the hell is going on here?"

Alfred, however, didn't care about Georgia. He just gave a burst of mocking laughter at Vanessa.

"Your acting of being sad is so well!"

After saying this, Alfred walked directly outside. Georgia wanted to go after him and ask what really happened. But Vanessa had pulled Georgia's hand.

"Georgia, don't go out there, let him go..."

Georgia stopped in her tracks helplessly.

Annie was concerned about Vanessa.

"Mummy don't cry. Annie is here, please don't cry..."

Annie took her hand and gently wiped the tears from Vanessa's face who kept shaking her head.

"Annie, I'm fine. I'm okay. It's very late, can you go and rest first?"

Annie didn't want to leave. She had never seen Vanessa in such distress. She was worried and wanted to be by her side.

"Mummy, I'm fine. I've just had a nap and I'm not feeling sleepy. I'll stay with you. Please don't cry so much, okay?"

Vanessa sobbed as she nodded her head.

But this time, she could no longer control her emotions in front of her daughter. Her tears streamed down her face for quite a while before she could get them under control.

During this time, Georgia and Annie quietly stayed by Vanessa's side. Waiting for her to calm down, it took almost half an hour before she finally stopped crying.

She wiped the tears on her face and smiled forcefully at Annie.

"I'm fine now, I'm going to take a bath now. Annie go to bed first, okay? You can't stay up late and you need to rest more. Could you listen to me this time?"

Annie was a little reluctant and Georgia rushed to persuade her.

"Annie, I'll be by her side. So, don't you worry about mummy Vanessa. I'll be by her side, I'll take you to bed, okay?"

Annie was finally compromised, and she gave Vanessa a kiss on the cheek.

"Mummy, please don't get so upset, okay, I'll just go to bed and you must wake me up with a kiss in the morning."

Vanessa smiled and nodded, waiting until after Georgia had carried and coaxed Annie inside the bedroom. Vanessa walked to the sofa alone and sat down, instantly bursting into tears.

After putting Annie to bed, it had been almost half an hour or so, and Georgia quietly walked out of the bedroom as she headed towards the lighted living room.

Vanessa sat alone on the sofa in silence, her eyes were still red.

Georgia guessed that Vanessa must have just burst into tears again, which made Georgia even more distressed.

She slowly walked up to Georgia and asked in a soft voice.

"What happened? Why can't I understand much of what you and Alfred are arguing about. And were there any other videos?"

Georgia asked as carefully as she could. She didn't want to trigger Vanessa, whose eyes were filled with sadness.

"Georgia, I don't understand either, I think I'm going crazy..."

Georgia walked up to Vanessa and she bent down and asked.

"Just tell me what's wrong, I'm here and Annie is here, we'll work it out together, don't be afraid."

"Vanessa, I almost thought Annie was dead at first, weren't you desperate too back then? We have gotten through something so painful, why should you be afraid now? As long as we are still alive, there is always a chance that we can confront the difficulties in front of us."

Vanessa, however, instantly sobbed as she reached out her arms and hugged Georgia tightly.

"Georgia, I really can't take it anymore, I feel like I'm going crazy, I even wonder if I did something like that. That night, not long after the video of my wedding dress, Alfred came inside the hospital and he forced me to watch other videos, videos of a woman in bed with other men doing all kinds of adultery stuff. But the woman in those videos looked exactly like me! Georgia, I don't understand, I never made such videos and I don't know those people in the videos, so why would I have such videos? Do you think I've had amnesia? Or am I missing a year of memory, why would I ever have those videos?"

Vanessa was crying so much that she almost broke down, and it was only at this moment that Georgia understood the reason for Alfred and Vanessa's quarrel.

"What nonsense are you talking about? Vanessa, you haven't lost your memory at all, don't talk nonsense, Alfred thought that the person in that video was you, that's because the person in it looks similar to you, but how can you not know whether you have done those things or not?"

Vanessa was, however, still tearing up.

"Georgia, it's because it's clear that I feel even more desperate, I don't even know if I should doubt myself or if I should be whimsical enough to think that someone in this world looks like me and made a video like that, which happened to be seen by Alfred, I think I've gone crazy, I can only comfort myself like this every day, telling myself that it was taken by someone else who just happened to look like me. It just happened to look like me."

Vanessa's whole body was already filled with despair when she said this, while Georgia's eyes instantly lit up.

Chapter 137 Confirming Travis' Well Being

"Vanessa, you're probably right. If the video wasn't faked, someone who looked like you must've filmed that video. It must be."

Vanessa could only let out a bitter smile.

"What are the chances of them finding someone who looked like me? Gigi, you don't need to comfort me. There's probably something wrong with me.”

Georgia suddenly became anxious.

“Vanessa, I’m not just comforting you. My assumption wasn’t based on nothing. Do you know what I saw on my way back today?”

As soon as Georgia finished her words, Vanessa asked her back in doubt.

“What did you see then?”

“When I was claiming my luggage at the airport today, I saw someone who looked exceptionally like you. But I was a little far from her, so I couldn’t be sure if the both of you looked exactly the same. After that, I even prepared to run over with my luggage because I thought it was you, and I was wondering why you were at the airport too. Before I could reach the lady, she had disappeared amidst the sea of people.”

“Vanessa, you’re an orphan, how could you be sure that no one else in this world looks like you? I can assure you that the woman I saw looked just like you, no joke. Oh, and after I realized that, I went to the public phone right away to call you but you didn’t pick up. That was why I came here immediately.”

After listening to Georgia’s words, Vanessa was astounded.

“Gigi, are you really not lying just to comfort me?”

Georgia shook her head in seriousness.

“Why would I make up such a lie to comfort you? I really saw that at the airport. Vanessa, you can’t give up yet, and just ignore Alfred’s misunderstanding towards you for the time being. What we must do now is find out the person doing all these. She looked exactly like you, so what if you were a missing child? Maybe you can even find your parents, right? Don’t give up yet and don’t be afraid.”

Vanessa was initially a little surprised, and then felt slightly relieved from the burden that had been weighing her down. Her desolation for the past few days had lessened a little too. However, she let out a wry laugh soon after.

“Gigi, if what you said about me having a twin sister was true, she must be living a difficult life too. Otherwise, she wouldn’t have filmed such videos. She might even have a more miserable life than I do. How unlucky are we?”

“Even if this is the case, we need to find her too. Not only can it prove your innocence, but it can help the girl too.”

“This world is so huge. Gigi, do you think we can find someone so easily? For the past twenty years, I’ve never seen anyone who looked like me. As for you, you met her once by coincidence. Do you think we can see her again?"

"Vanessa, why are you so silly? Think properly. Why would Alfred have the video? Someone who dislikes you or Alfred must've sent it to him. And that person probably knows where the girl is. We can start by asking Alfred where he got the video from."

"But I don't think he would tell me."

Vanessa laughed bitterly. She understood Alfred. He was an arrogant and conceited man, but she had trampled on his self-esteem.

Finally, Alfred decided to let it go and gave her another chance after he came back. However, the video that was played during the wedding ceremony broke off all hopes for the pair.

Alfred was so disappointed in Vanessa now, so how would he be willing to cooperate with her to dig into this matter? Vanessa no longer expected anything from Alfred either way.

"Don't be disappointed so soon. There's also hope in everything. Let's take it a step at a time."

Before Georgia could finish her words, Vanessa forced another smile. She couldn't bring herself to be courageous anymore.

On the contrary, Georgia had already begun to think of a solution in her head. In fact, she already had someone she suspected. After thinking about it, she spoke again.

"It's fine if we can't get any information from Alfred. But Vanessa, weren't we suspicious of who played the video during the wedding ceremony? It must be Rachel Scott! Do you think she could be the one to send the video to Alfred too?"

"Maybe Rachel knows the truth, but she definitely won't tell us."

Vanessa replied dejectedly, but Georgia was still keeping the gears spinning.

Rachel had parents and relatives. If they could find her weak spot, was it possible to force the truth out of her?

However, they didn't know where to begin. This made Georgia overwhelmed and anxious.

"Forget it. Vanessa, it's late, don't think about Alfred anymore and go to bed. I'll stay here from today onwards. I won't leave you and Annie all by yourselves."

Vanessa showed a surprised look this time around.

"You're coming back to stay with me? Is Robert fine with it? By the way, what happened to the both of you?"

Vanessa seemed to be curious and started to ask Georgia a series of questions.

Georgia had briefly told her everything over the phone before this, and now she was explaining the whole kidnapping story in detail.

In the end, Vanessa only sighed.

“So it was Mr. Knight who did it. Gigi, I don’t think he would let this go so easily. He will definitely strike at Robert again, or maybe even you. You must be careful.”

Georgia forced a smile.

“At this point, I don’t even know what is right or wrong anymore. I just want to protect Annie. As for Robert, I feel guilty towards him but I really can’t be with him.”

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Melania Trump’s Most Talked-About Fashion Moments

“What about the unborn kid in your tummy?”

Vanessa asked puzzledly.

Robert cared about Georgia, and he had a good feeling towards her. After Vanessa confirmed this piece of information with Georgia, she actually felt relieved.

At least this man was willing to protect Georgia. When their lives were at stake, he placed Georgia’s safety over his own. He was a man that was worthy of Georgia’s trust.

“For now, I am still the culprit behind Wendy’s car accident. His mother hates me so I really can’t tell them anything about this unborn child. Judging from how much his mother loathes me, I bet she would ask me to get an abortion. Vanessa, I must protect my child.”

After Georgia said all these, then only did Vanessa remember Robert’s mother.

His mother was indeed a difficult woman to deal with. If Georgia were to reveal that she had a kid in her belly, that woman would definitely force her to get an abortion.

“I understand your concerns now, but shouldn’t you at least talk this out with Robert? He can even give up his own life to protect you, so maybe you can actually try to put more trust in him.”

Georgia smiled bitterly as she shook her head.

“In this world, men can abandon women, even the women they love but not their mother. The same goes for Robert, and it’s not like I like him a lot too so there was no need for him to make such a choice. Once my research yields results, we will go abroad. Vanessa, we’ll bring Annie out of here and stay away from all these problems, okay?”

Vanessa thought about her own mental health, along with the pressure

Alfred was giving her. Georgia's words seemed to have given her a glimpse of hope again.

"Gigi, you're right. We shouldn't stay at this place. The people here hate us so maybe leaving this place is the best choice."

When Vanessa said this, she even had a smile on her face, which was a huge contrast with her worried look from earlier. It seemed like she was looking forward to leaving this place.

Georgia was even more determined about leaving now too.

After saying all that, Georgia thought of Travis and asked Vanessa about him.

Georgia was unsure if Travis was still in the hospital and was worried about him.

Vanessa showed an apologetic expression soon after.

"Gigi, sorry. It was already late after I called you last night so I didn't go to the hospital to ask about his condition. I was with Annie the whole day today so I didn't get to go out too."

Georgia wasn't angry and started to comfort Vanessa.

"Nah, it's okay. It's too late anyway. I'll go to the hospital to ask about it after work tomorrow."

As Georgia said so, Vanessa remembered something and added.

"If you go tomorrow night, you'll be worried for the rest of today. It's not appropriate to call the hospital at this time too. Why don't you give Selena a call tomorrow? She might know about Travis' condition. Even if she doesn't, she can always call Travis to ask."

"Vanessa, you're right. I'll call her tomorrow morning and ask about it."

"It's already late so don't think too much and have a good rest. We'll think of a way to find the woman who looks just like you. She could be your sister after all."

Vanessa nodded.

"I'll sleep in this bedroom. You can go back to Annie's bedroom. I bet you miss her after such a long time."

Georgia smiled.

"Well, remember not to overthink things and rest. There are no obstacles that cannot be overcome in this world. There is hope as long as we are still alive."

Vanessa smiled again because Georgia's last words made her anticipate the future with hope.

Perhaps she could truly be free after leaving this place.

As long as she could find the woman who looked like her, maybe Alfred can let the matter go and not torture her anymore.

With such expectations, Vanessa calmed herself down and slowly entered dreamland.

Early the next morning, Georgia got up and prepared breakfast. She wanted to prepared chicken noodles for Vanessa and Annie.

When she was done cooking, it was already 7.00 a.m. Georgia walked towards Annie's room, dressed her up and told her to wash up before eating her breakfast.

Then, she knocked on Vanessa's door to wake her up for breakfast too. The three of them had a happy meal together. Before taking the bus to work, Georgia reminded Vanessa to take good care of Annie.

Due to the kidnapping incident, Georgia hadn't gone to work for a long time. It was necessary for her to report herself to mu today.

It was 7.30 a.m. when she got on the bus. She took out her phone and gave Selena a call. _____

Chapter138 Anaya Wanted to Steal Your Experimental Data

Selena Holland just got up at this time, ate breakfast and was about to go to work before Georgia Lane called her.

When they had breakfast in the morning, the whole family sat in the table, Jasper Holland and Selena Holland sat aside, their parents sat opposite to them.

Elliot glared at her son angrily.

"Jasper, this is the final offer. Today you have to go to the Johnson family to talk about marriage. No more excuse about finding Robert this time, you must be there in person today. Robert is out of danger now, how long do you want to postpone this? "

Jasper sighed helplessly, he suddenly thought that as he pushed it back for so long, and Robert was totally fine, why he couldn't disappear for longer? Now he himself was in trouble.

Jasper compromised to his mother.

"Well, Mom, you can arrange everything. Buy some gifts for them and I will show up on time. I have tried my best to marry her, if you wanted me to apple-polish to her parents, it is absolute impossible."

Bailey yelled at him right away.

"Show some of your respect to them. Jennifer's parents will be your father-in-law no matter what. Where is your 20-years manners?"

Jasper sighed helplessly.

"Anyway, I am forced to marry a woman, then I gave you a grandson to finish my task. Don't put other things on me."

Elliot was so pissed off by her son.

"If you say the nonsense one more time, I will kick you out of the family, let lose every penny you have right now."

Jasper actually wanted to argue, he also had his own assets outside and he didn't need to rely on the family.

Just, it was not necessary to piss off parents for this thing.

"I know, you can rest assured, I promise to marry Jennifer so I won't regret. Why you seem to be afraid that I will flee from the marriage, don't worry, I will marry her."

Elliot felt relief a bit, and she asked Selena who was eating breakfast silently.

"How are you and Jason doing recently? I have already put you guy's marriage to the agenda. I didn't hear from the Murphy family. Is there something between you guys?"

Selena barely raised her head and shook her head.

"No, Mom, it was because Robert was missing, Jason was busy looking for Robert. The Murphy family was investigating on the banquet, they had to give the Simpson family how everything happened. They didn't have time for the engagement and maybe they would talk about this later."

Selena found an excuse, in fact, she was extremely sad already.

But in front of her parents and her brother, she couldn't show her sadness.

She was so afraid that everyone knew she liked Jasper. As it already embarrassed enough that Elliot had known that, she would kill herself if her dad and Jasper found out it as well.

Elliot believed what she said.

Robert's missing did make the Simpson family in chaos. He missed in the Murphy family and they have to investigate this clearly.

"I know, you should maintain a good relationship with Jason. Your brother will get married this year, you and Jason would be better get married as well. So that we will double our happiness."

Jasper disdained.

"Jason is such a playboy like me, are you sure you want my sister to married him? He is not a good son-in-law."

Jasper was teasing but Elliot frowned after she heard that.

"It's not your business, you are still in trouble and even want to control others. Get out, I don't want to see you again!"

Jasper smiled awkwardly, he just finished breakfast and put plates down, he said to his parents.

"Dad, Mom, I will go to work. As for the things of the Johnson family, you can call me after buying gifts. I will pick you up."

Elliot nodded, Jasper left.

Selena also finished breakfast at this time, she stood up.

"Dad, Mom, I am full now, I will go to work first."

After heard this, Bailey and Elliot nodded.

"Take care."

After Selena went outside, she found her brother was sitting in the car.

When he saw Selena coming out from the house, Jasper rolled down the window.

"Selena, I'll take you to work, I have a lot of free time today."

Selena didn't refuse him. After she sat down, Jasper smiled and asked.

"You have kept silent in the morning. Did you encounter something unhappy?"

Selena shook her head quickly.

"No, there is no such a thing, I just don't know how to join in your topic.

Dad and mom have been talking about you and Jennifer these days. I don't know what to say. Felt like everything I said was wrong. I'm afraid to make parents angry at me."

Jasper was amused.

"You don't need to care about Jennifer. She has to marry me and who knows what she is thinking about. I will marry her and treat her like a God. You don't provoke her so that she can't find anyway to belly you."

It seemed that Jasper really didn't care about Jennifer at all. Selena raised her head and she asked carefully.

"Jasper, why don't you marry a woman you love? Jennifer planned all this, why did you agree to marry this woman? You will have an unhappy life for sure."

Jasper was amused.

"Selena, don't you think you are worried too much? There are only a few people with alike background of us who pursue true love. What's more, your brother, I, never be serious with relationships. To find a true love is simply impossible. To cope with the task, I have to marry someone... As long as this person doesn't make any drama, this is my minimum requirement. But, as your brother is out of luck and forced to have a relationship with Jennifer. She must to be hard to deal with, I have no choice but accept her."

It turned out that her brother didn't care about Jennifer at all, but Selena didn't feel happy.

"Jasper, I hope you will be happy. I am afraid that after you marry her, you will feel wronged in the future."

"You really think I am that fragile? She is just a woman. From now on, we will treat it as a display. And don't you worried if Jennifer will bully you. I will protect you. If she kept doing that, I will teach her a lesson. If the lesson didn't work, then you can move out. I still don't believe that she can come to your house every day to bully you."

Jasper really didn't care about those things at all, so Selena suddenly didn't dare to speak anything.

She was afraid that if she spoke again, the sadness in her voice would show out. They kept silent all along the way afterwards.

When Selena was about to get out of the car, she found a call from Georgia.

Selena got out of the car and said goodbye to her brother, and then she picked up the call from Georgia.

"Georgia, what's up?"

Selena had calm down at this moment, and she asked calmly, Georgia quickly asked her for help.

"Selena, you knew that I was kidnapped. I didn't know about the situation in last few days. I returned back last night. I had to go to work today. I wanted to know what the current situation about Travis. Was he still living in the hospital, or he was transferred to the mental hospital? "

Georgia asked her.

"Can you please help me to check on him?"

Selena did not refuse.

"It's not a big deal, I will make a phone call to help you ask others.

However, I have something about the request you asked few days ago."

"Do you mean driving recorder? Was there a car passed by the accident?"

Georgia asked excitedly, and Selena nodded on the other side.

"I specially checked the nearby monitoring of the road where the car accident happened, but there are a lot of cars have passed in front of the road where accident happened. I have calculated the time of the car accident, there are hundreds of cars were caught by the camera by the time, included several luxury cars. We need more details."

There were so many cars passed at the scene, Georgia was a little disappointed but Selena comforted her.

"Georgia, investigating dozens of cars are not difficult to the police, but this was not the responsibility of the police. Give me some time to dig deeper, don't worry. Since you confirm that this thing is true, then those cars must have recorded the car accident. "

Georgia smiled gratefully.

"Selena, you are right. I appreciated all you did."

After finished the call, Georgia was almost at MU Research Institute, she was patiently waiting inside the car and kept comforting himself. The truth would be recovered, she would definitely find that driving recorder.

After the car arrived at MU Research Institute, there was still more than half an hour till working time.

Georgia was trying to organize her own documents, and Simon Booth suddenly showed up in front of her.

"Georgia, I have something to say privately."

Simon was very serious, Georgia felt quite strange.

There was not many people around, and Georgia nodded.

"Where are we going?"

"Come with me."

After Simon said that, Georgia was little upset. She followed him to walk out of the office. Simon took her to a quiet corridor.

No one was around, Georgia was a bit scared.

"Is it very important?"

Georgia asked.

Simon looked at the woman in front of her and finally decided to tell her.

"Those days you absented from work, I found that Anaya Mitchell was looking for something at your table. I secretly saw that she revealed exciting smile, she also turned on your computer. I suspected that she wanted to steal your experimental data."

Chapter 139 A Mystery Gift

Simon's words left Georgia in bewilderment.

"Are you sure she checked my belongings on the desk?"

Simon nodded.

"I am not sure if she stole important information from you, but she searched your belongings and your computer."

Georgia became silent, there were some notes on her desk, but she was the only one who could read them.

While the computer only recorded some experimental details she did recently, but checking someone else's computer was not an ordinary act.

Georgia had set a password to protect her experiment data, but it was not a difficult task to have the data decrypted if Anaya copied it.

Georgia's heart sunken, she raised her head and thanked Simon.

"Thanks for telling me this Simon, I will look into it."

Simon smiled uncomfortably.

After a while, Simon said, "Georgia, I hope you will have a bright future, don't sell yourself again, you are talented, research and experiment should be your career path, don't destroy your future."

Simon left after he finished saying them.

Georgia was touched and felt funny at the same time.

Simon was the first person she encountered when she first joined MU.

Simon had a good impression on her that day, Georgia knew but Robert was there almost immediately.

Her image in MU changed completely in the blink of eyes, Simon was disappointed in her since then.

Georgia thought Simon and her would be casual colleagues, but Simon helped her today and even advised her to concentrate on research, it was kind of him to have done that.

Georgia returned to the office and found that almost everyone had returned.

Aston asked Georgia in concern.

"Weren't you kidnapped? You are injured, why return in such a hurry?"

Georgia smiled casually. "I am fine, two days were wasted, and the research progress would be seriously interrupted if I keep on delaying."

Aston nodded and continued, "Professor is in the office, let's go, he wants to see us."

Georgia followed Aston to Professor Lee's office, the professor showed his concern.

"If you are feeling unwell, you can go back and rest, don't force yourself."

"Professor, I'm fine, working won't affect my health."

"Sit down both of you and let's discuss what needs to be done end of this month. Percy will give a lecture at the Imperial University, we still have two weeks until the end of the month, Georgia, are you ready?"

If it wasn't because of being kidnapped, Georgia thought she would have completed the report, her research also should show a breakthrough result.

"Professor, I need another week, I want to ensure that there were no mistakes with the experimental factors and I would also like to find a better experimental condition to test and support my hypotheses."

Professor Lee turned to Aston. "How is your research going? The public is waiting for the debate between MU and Percy Chow, they were eager to find out who will be the clown.”

“At least it’s progressing better than Percy’s research.” Aston smiled confidently.

“Do you still need to spend time on the search of the missing child?” Professor asked again.

“Yes, the search must continue and work must not be delayed too. But rest assured, I will only use my time after work to search for the child.”

“Okay, you continue with the direction of your research and I’m expecting reports from both of you at the end of the month.”

Aston left while Georgia stayed with Professor Lee.

“I heard that it was Laurence that kidnapped you, right?”

Professor Lee asked and Georgia nodded sadly.

“Yes. Laurence kidnapped Robert and me to an island. It was Robert’s father that saved both of us.”

Professor Lee frowned and looked worried.

“Do you know the number of share Laurence have in this research center?”

Georgia shook her head, she knew Laurence invested in MU but didn’t know how much.

“Laurence had 30% share in MU but his share was divided and sold while he was missing, he has only 9% left.”

Georgia didn’t understand what Professor Lee was saying, Professor Lee, continued.

“Until now Laurence had not contacted me, but he is not the forgiving type. You and Robert escaped, Laurence will see you as an enemy now. I’m telling you all this so that you could continue working in MU without worries, Laurence no longer has the authority to make a decision, and he can’t affect your work, so rest assure and don’t think too much.”

Georgia never expected that Professor Lee’s long speech was about this, she smiled.

“Professor, I didn’t know how many shares Laurence own before, don’t worry, I will focus on the research and ignore the rumours, but I need to tell you something.”

Professor said calmly, “Tell me straight what you want to say.”

Georgia told the professor what she heard from Simon, Professor Lee’s face stiffened.

He ordered to check the surveillance recording, but there was a problem with the system and all recordings in the office were gone.

This proof that Anaya might have really stolen some data. It would be a big threat to MU if Anaya leaked the research's confidential information.

"I'll have Anaya fired. I am not pleased with her working attitude and she hasn't shown any performance this year, keeping her will create only mess."

Professor Lee decided, but something came to Georgia's mind and she advised.

"Professor, I know even if Rachel decrypted my data, it isn't complete research, I didn't store all my data and hypotheses into the computer. If they plagiarized my data and I present my data after that, isn't it obvious who plagiarized by then?"

"Are you confident?" professor Lee asked."

"I need two days to test and come out with a conclusion... Professor, there's no need to act in rush now, let Anaya believe that we haven't noticed anything, let the opponent think that they are winning. Our enemy now is Percy Chow, Anaya loathes me so the only person she will go to is Percy, and we can have someone tailing Percy for now."

Professor Lee agreed with Georgia's suggestion. They further discussed about the research data before Georgia left the room.

She remembered in her last experiment, light factor changed the qualitative measure in her research.

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More Political Kisses: Awkward Moments Happen To Everybody

Perhaps this was the chance she cleaned herself from plagiarism.

Georgia did not conduct research in the lab that morning. She tidied up her documents on the desk and read about research directions and results worldwide.

Selena called Georgia right before noon.

"Ms Lane, I know where Travis is, he hasn't discharged, and he's still receiving treatments at the hospital."

"Can I visit him tonight?" Georgia asked Selena for a favour.

"No worries, they know who you are, I'll give them a call later."

Georgia let out a sigh of relief, she hadn't seen Travis for days, Travis must be terrified. She must visit him at the hospital after work.

Georgia was busy in the lab the whole afternoon. She got off work sharp at six and wanted to go to the hospital.

But there was a car stopped in front of her the moment she stepped out of the building.

“Ms Lane, I’m Mr Simpson’s assistant, there’s something I need to tell you.”

Georgia hesitated for a moment before getting into the car.

The driver drove the car on the driveway while Georgia and the assistant sat behind.

“What is it about?” Georgia said directly.

The assistant pulled out an exquisite box. “Ms Lane, this is a gift from Mr Simpson, please take it.”

Georgia hesitated, she did not want to have any relation with Robert anymore but the assistant continued.

“Ms Lane, there’s a surprise for you, you won’t regret it, Mr Simpson asked me to tell you that.”

“Is there anything else apart from this?”

Georgia wanted to know Robert’s intention behind but the assistant shook.

“Mr Simpson only ordered me to deliver this gift, but if you want to go home now, I can ask the driver to send you.”

“No, I want to go to the hospital,” Georgia said immediately.

“Let me send you to the hospital then, it’s on the way.”

They were already in the city center and so Georgia accepted.

She held onto the slightly heavy box and didn’t know what to do.

They arrived at the hospital, Georgia got down and greeted goodbye to the assistant. She then walked towards the garden in the hospital and sat down on a bench.

She opened the gift and found a brand new mobile phone.

She turned it on and saw an unread message.

The sender was Robert.

“Georgia, it's Robert, please give me a call after receiving the mobile, there is a mystery gift for you.”

She wanted to get herself a mobile phone but she arrived home late last night and was rushing to work in the morning.

She never thought that the gift from Robert was something she needed.

Should she call?

Georgia hesitated. But it was rude of her not to call thinking that Robert almost lost his life for her.

So, she took a deep breath and dialled Robert’s number.

Robert answered after only a few seconds.

“I thought you might like a red coloured phone case, do you? If you don’t like this phone, I can get you another one, there’s a GPS location setting, if you went missing again in the future, I can locate you using this function.”

“Thank you, I like the colour.”

Georgia was nervous and didn’t know how to respond to Robert’s passion.

“I’ve prepared you a gift, it’s on the mobile phone. It’s a video and voice recording, you can look for it in the files.”

There was indeed a mystery gift, Georgia didn’t know what to do or say apart from thank you.

Robert on the other side let out a sigh.

“Please don’t reject me like this, if giving you a present burden you, I will be really sad.”

Georgia felt guilty out of a sudden.

“It’s not like that, I just... don’t know what to say.”

This man had done so much for her, Georgia felt like she shouldn’t be cold.

But she couldn’t behave like his girlfriend and utter out sweet words either.

She had decided to cut all ties with this man, but it seemed like it was beyond her control.

“Alright, take a look at the video then, doctor is here for me.”

Robert said and hung up.

Georgia immediately recalled that Robert’s injuries had not recovered, he might become disabled for a short while with a few operations on the way.

She felt bitter and sad, she realized she had been cold and mean to Robert.

She wouldn’t have cared about what this man think previously, but she began to care and fear that her action or words might hurt this man.

Georgia felt herself being weird, she shook her head and forced herself not to think about Robert anymore.

After that, she opened the file document on the mobile.

There was only one video file since it was a brand new phone.

She pressed play and Percy Chow appeared in the video.

Chapter 140 Treat Me Better

There was a stranger sitting in front of Percy. The camera was a little far away from Percy, but it was still clear that it was him. The two seemed to be talking in a room in a restaurant.

"Dr. Chow, are you sure you want to buy the media to publish things against Georgia?"

The strange man in the video asked Percy, and Percy nodded lightly.

"A week before my lecture, you should start to spread content on the Internet. Be sure to expose Georgia's plagiarism history, her affairs of seducing men outside and her unscrupulous private life. You can also make up some rumors about Georgia. Let everyone think that this woman is a bitch, the kind of image that makes people want to step on her."

The strange man nodded at Percy.

"To achieve this, it needs at least tens of millions for marketing, Dr. Chow, you must at least pay me the deposit first."

"If you give me your account, I will transfer 10 million first, and after that, I will give you the remaining 20 million."

The two reached an agreement and the video stopped playing.

Georgia's heart was suddenly moved. It turned out that Robert still remembered this incident and was helping her to check Percy's affairs secretly.

Certainly this kind of thing couldn't be done overnight. Had he long ago thought of helping her to clear the grievances of the plagiarism?

Why was this man so considerate of her...

"It's so stupid..."

Georgia whispered, her eyes reddened instantly.

The baby in her belly seemed to kick her abdomen lightly, Georgia touched her belly with her hand, and started talking to herself.

"Baby, do you think mom is doing the right thing to your dad? Do you want a dad?"

Of course the child would not give her an answer. Georgia found another recording in the files, and played the recording.

"Percy, are you not afraid of the false data being discovered at this point? Anyway, you have become famous. Even if there is no new progress in the future, you are still a professor. You are now taking the risk."

It was the voice of a strange woman, and then Percy's voice was heard.

"If I don't falsify the data, the day I give the lecture, Professor Lee will definitely bring Georgia. This woman comes prepared. If I really stand still, everyone will laugh at me. You know, Georgia did the data back then, and you also participated in it. And now you want to separate yourself from this?"

The woman's voice was accusing.

"Okay, I see, don't worry, I will help you with this."

The recording ended, and Georgia's tears fell all at once.

Except for her family, Georgia cared most about her studies, she was charged with plagiarism, was kicked out of school, and even failed to graduate.

All her ideals and ambitions were turned to ashes.

Even if she worked at MU now, Georgia didn't dare to expect too much.

She could only draw a dream for herself, hoping that she could achieve results, then prove to the world that Percy wronged her back then.

Georgia never expected that one day, she would find evidence that Percy had plagiarized her results, and all of this was with Robert's help. He had done so much for her secretly, Georgia immediately picked up the phone and called Robert.

No one answered the phone, and she tried a few more times, but still no one answered.

Georgia tried to send a text message.

"I saw the video and the recording, Robert, thank you, thank you so much..."

The text message was answered soon.

"I can't answer the phone since I have something to do now, Georgia. If you really want to thank me, you should treat me better in the future. I just hope you can treat me better."

Georgia suddenly felt a choking in her throat.

Five years ago, she was expelled from school because of plagiarism. She became a person that everyone shouted and despised at.

Later, her father threw her on that pervert Chester's bed, trying to sell her.

Although she escaped, but what was waiting for her was going to jail.

Being bullied by people in prison, her child was born sick. Over the past five years, Georgia had been living a very hard life.

She had long been accustomed to coming through everything alone.

She had cried many times and gotten up many times. Every time, she could only rely on herself.

There were all kinds of people, occasionally someone would help her, but only Robert's help to her was what she desired most in the bottom of her heart.

As if there was a strong hand behind her, supporting her, she no longer had any fears and worries.

It seemed that no matter what she did, this person would always protect her. How could this man be so good to her? How could he be so good to her?

Georgia felt that her determined heart was beginning to break a little.

She was so eager to be embraced, and eager for someone to rely on.

Robert did all these things one by one.

Georgia didn't dare to think about it anymore. She and Robert were not right for each other. She couldn't let the gratitude in her heart continue...

The Simpson family was a complicated family, she couldn't go, she still had two children to protect.

Georgia thought so, and quickly wiped away the tears.

"Don't think about Robert anymore, don't think about him anymore..."

As she kept persuading herself, Georgia walked to the hospital, she decided to go to Travis' ward.

However, before arriving at the door of Travis' ward, Georgia received a strange call.

After answering the call, Georgia asked politely.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

This Awkward Kiss Changed The Way We See Joe Biden

"Who are you looking for?"

"Hello, are you Georgia Lane? I'm a nurse at the Capital hospital. I want to ask about your gynecology checkup."

Georgia was dumbfounded for a moment, then she remembered.

Since the last time she did a checkup for her pregnancy, she never went to the gynecology department for a birth check.

Pregnant women needed to undergo a check every month. Georgia knew about this, and she replied to the nurse on the phone.

"I haven't had a birth check yet."

"Miss Lane, I suggest you set up a file in the hospital as soon as possible, and then take some time to come to the hospital for an examination, it will be good for you and your baby."

"I see, I will come over this weekend."

Georgia made the decision, since she was not going to work on weekends, she would come back for the check up.

She was even forgetting such an important thing, Georgia wanted to beat her own head.

After arriving outside Travis' ward, the two guards opened the ward.

Georgia walked in, Travis looked good, his wounds were crusted, and he was sitting on the bed reading a book.

After Georgia walked over, Travis raised his head to look at Georgia, and he instantly smiled happily.

"Georgia... Georgia, why did you come to see me after so long this time?"

Georgia noticed that the book Travis was reading was a comic.

"Because something happened, I didn't come to see you these days, Travis, how are you feeling? Are there any discomforts?"

Travis shook his head happily, he felt excited as long as he saw Georgia.

"Georgia, I'm fine, the wound doesn't seem to hurt anymore... But when can I leave here?"

Travis asked sadly.

"Soon, when the wound is healed then you will be discharged from the hospital."

Georgia felt frustrated when she thought that the murder charges on Travis had not been cleared.

Even if Robert had promised her to put Travis in a better mental hospital, it was not enough.

She and Travis didn't kill anyone at all, so why should they bear these punishments?

However, in front of Travis, Georgia kept smiling, so that Travis could not see her sorrow.

"Who gave you this comic book?"

Georgia asked with a smile.

"The people outside gave it to me."

Travis pointed his finger at the door.

Probably the two guards, Georgia nodded.

She talked to Travis for a while, and Georgia planned to say goodbye to Travis.

"Travis, I'm a bit busy lately. I need to go home to deal with some things, you just stay here and listen to the doctor, okay?"

Travis nodded, he was a little reluctant.

Seemingly thinking of something, Travis asked Georgia again.

"Georgia, I feel like I am slowly recovering my memory recently, but I always feel that there is a painful memory in my mind. Whenever I think towards this direction, I feel a headache and I don't want to remember the memories of the past."

Georgia found out that when Travis saw her this time, his speaking was much better than last time.

He turned out to be regaining his memory, and Georgia quickly comforted him.

"Don't worry about this kind of thing. The memory is in your head."

When the time comes, you will naturally remember. You must not force yourself. However, it is always a good thing to remember, and you should not suppress your past memories, just go with the flow."

Georgia finished talking with Travis, and she was about to leave.

The door of the ward was opened, and Georgia thought it was the guard outside who urged her to leave.

However, the person who came in turned out to be a nurse wearing a mask.

"Mr. Armstrong, it's time for your medicine."

The nurse pushed the kind of special trolley from the hospital with many tools on it. Georgia saw the small medicine bottle and the syringe.

Did Travis still need an injection now?

Georgia thought suspiciously, when the nurse started to speak to Georgia.

"It's time for the patient to take his medicine and injection, Madam, can you leave now?"

Georgia said goodbye to Travis, and she walked outside.

Just before reaching the door, Georgia heard Travis yelling.

"Don't come close to me, get out of here!" ____

Chapter 141 Alfred's Background

Georgia quickly turned her head, she found that the nurse was holding a needle and was about to give Travis an injection.

Travis was already yelling and making noise.

"Mr. Armstrong, your body is not completely healed yet. This is an anti-inflammatory medicine. It won't hurt. Please believe me."

The nurse gently consoled, but Travis just screamed in horror.

"I hate you, I don't want you to give me injections, get out now!"

Georgia persuaded him on the side.

"Travis, it's just an injection, it will be very quick, I am by your side, don't be afraid..."

But Georgia's comforting words didn't work this time, and Travis complained to Georgia.

"Georgia, this woman hates me, I can see that she is going to hurt me!"

Georgia had never seen Travis look so impulsive and irritable.

She asked suspiciously the nurse with the mask.

"Miss, have you given Travis a shot before?"

Otherwise, why would Travis dislike this nurse so much? It was not Travis's character.

Even if he was stupid, Travis rarely made such a big noise.

"Madam, I'm just the nurse on duty today. Should I ask another nurse?"

Georgia nodded.

Since Travis didn't like the nurse, maybe another nurse would be better.

After the nurse left, Travis spoke to Georgia in a panic.

"Georgia, I don't want that shot. It smells so strange. I hate it."

Wasn't it the smell of medicine in all hospitals? Georgia couldn't smell anything special, she was puzzled.

"Why do you hate this smell? Travis, I don't smell any special scent.

Can't we just change a nurse?"

Travis nodded aggrieved.

"I seem to have smelled this before, and it seems that it was when someone forced injections into my body. I don't like that feeling.

Georgia, I don't want injections. I don't like this smell..."

Georgia's face changed drastically in an instant, she walked outside, then asked the two guards.

"Since entering the hospital, does the nurse come over for injections every day?"

One of the guards shook his head.

"Only these few days, they said that the test result is not very good, and the anti inflammatory meds should continue."

Georgia still didn't know why Travis had a car accident and why he had been wandering for ten years.

Suddenly there was a feeling of anxiety in her heart, Georgia suddenly went back, and she took the medicine from the cart that the nurse had pushed.

Then, she immediately asked the two guards.

"I suspect that the nurse is a problem, can I transfer Travis? I'm afraid he will be in danger here."

Georgia always felt that Travis had special instincts, maybe he really felt it was dangerous.

Even if Travis misunderstood, Georgia decided to take Travis to another hospital.

"We can't decide this matter, Miss Lane."

The guards refused, so Georgia tried to call Selena.

After Selena listened, she smiled apologetically.

"Miss Lane, I may not be able to help you with this."

It seemed that Selena had no choice, so Georgia called Robert.

She told about Travis' situation and her own guesses.

"Robert, I think something is wrong. What happened to Travis still hasn't been found out yet. I want to take Travis to another hospital. Can you help me please."

Robert comforted Georgia.

"Since you feel suspicious, hand over the medicine bottle you got to my assistant, I will ask my assistant to go to a institution for testing. I will arrange the transfer immediately. Don't worry, I will call the director of the hospital now. "

After Robert arranged everything for Georgia, he called his secretary again.

"Didn't I tell you to investigate Travis' past?"

The secretary nodded on the phone.

"Mr. Simpson, haven't I already shown the investigation report to you at that time? Is something wrong with that report?"

"That's not what I mean. I mainly asked you to check the contact between Travis and Georgia. Now you need to change the direction. He has been wandering around for ten years. Check carefully what happened to him in the past ten years. What is the reason for this? What happened that he turned dumb."

Georgia didn't know that Robert was already helping her to check Travis's past.

After she hung up Robert's call, her heart felt very complicated.

She seemed to rely more and more on Robert.

After these accidents, she seemed to habitually ask this man for help, and he would reassure her every time and help her solve all the problems. Was she really inseparable from him?

The nurse had not yet arrived, but the director of the hospital had already arrived at Georgia's.

"Miss Lane, I have arranged a professional to transfer Mr. Armstrong to another hospital. The hospital to be transferred is the best hospital nearby. The affiliate hospital of Imperial University, do you think it is okay?"

Georgia had no objection. The director respected her very much.

Georgia understood that this was all brought about by Robert's status.

Georgia took Travis to the affiliate hospital of Imperial University.

Robert had already told her that the people there were all his staff. He would ask someone to take care of Travis and check his physical condition.

Before leaving the hospital, Robert's assistant came to Georgia again. Georgia handed the medicine bottle she got in the hospital to Robert's assistant.

"Sorry for bothering you today."

Robert's assistant chuckled.

"Miss Lane, I haven't been bothered at all. If you are satisfied with my job today, Mr. Simpson might give me a lot of boni. To help you is a good opportunity to get boni."

Robert's assistant teased her, Georgia's first reaction was not to resist, she actually felt very shy, and her face blushed.

After parting with Robert's assistant, Georgia took the initiative to call Vanessa.

"Vanessa, this is my current mobile phone number. Save it, I may come back later. You and Annie should have dinner first, don't wait for me."

Vanessa nodded.

"Don't worry, I won't let Annie be hungry, but Annie said, she wants to talk to you."

Immediately, Annie's voice came from the other end of the line.

"Mommy, why haven't you come back yet? I've been waiting for you for a long time... Vanessa has already cut the vegetables, and I'm waiting for you to come back and cook."

Georgia laughed.

"I may need a while, you can eat first, let Vanessa cook, don't wait for me, you can't leave your stomach hungry."

Annie nodded, and she threw a little tantrum.

"Mommy, I really want to eat kl cake, can you bring me a mousse cake? I really want to eat it."

How could Georgia refuse her daughter's request? She agreed with a smile on her face.

"No problem. I will buy you a mousse cake from kl. By the way, what else do you want to eat? Tell me, do you want to eat some fruits? Or snacks?"

Georgia asked fondly, but Annie shook her head.

"No, I just want to eat that mousse cake today, Mommy, you must buy it."

Georgia promised again and after hanging up the phone, she opened the map, and then looked for the kl cake shop.

The nearest kl cake shop was ten kilometers away, and this route happened to be the way home. Georgia took a taxi, and she decided to buy the mousse cake Annie wanted from the kl cake first.

After about half an hour, Georgia arrived at the front of Kl's cake shop. This cake shop was bigger than she thought, Georgia was about to go up, when she suddenly saw Anaya and Rachel sitting in this cake shop. Thinking that Anaya might have stolen her data, Georgia suddenly had an idea. She quietly walked to a nearby shop and bought herself a hat and sunglasses to wear.

Then, Georgia quietly came to the cake shop and sat at the table behind Rachel.

She wanted to hear what these two were saying. Although it might not be of interest to her, there might be some useful news, and Georgia was looking forward to it.

She began to listen to the two, who seemed to have just met not long ago.

"Alfred's mother should come to D City this week, Vanessa will definitely be miserable then."

Rachel laughed mockingly.

Anaya was not interested in Rachel's love life, she only cared about whether Rachel had something against Georgia in her hand.

"I don't care about your entanglement with Alfred. This man clearly doesn't care about you. Why are you going to give him your heart?"

Rachel mocked instead.

"I heard that Aston doesn't like you at all, haven't you been chasing him all this time as well?"

The two mocked each other again, and Rachel smiled confidently.

"Anaya, I'm different than you. I have something against Alfred in my hand... Besides, Alfred hates Vanessa now. I only need to spend some time, then this man will put his heart on me sooner or later."

Anaya's face turned bad in an instant, she wished Aston could take a look at her more.

However, this man couldn't see her at all, so she could only take the risk.

Anaya always felt that Aston paid more attention to Georgia. If this woman was destroyed, everything would be fine.

"Rachel, do you really only have something against Vanessa, can't you find anything against Georgia at all?"

"Don't you know what she is doing? Plagiarism and seducing a man. The Simpson family has been dealing with her all the time, so why bother."

Rachel said these words, Anaya sighed.

"I'm not like you, you know Alfred's background, you can make Alfred fall at any time, but Aston doesn't care about me, he doesn't see me at all."

"If you really like Aston, you will use the worst method, get pregnant, force him to marry you, work in the same place every day. Can't you find the opportunity to get into his bed?"

Rachel laughed mockingly.

None of what those women were talking about were of any value. But Georgia noticed the main points of their words.

There was a problem with Alfred's background, and Rachel had it in her hands.

Listening to Rachel's words, those videos of Vanessa must have been done by Rachel.

Georgia suddenly regretted it. Why didn't she turn on the phone and recorded this.

As for Anaya, there was no important information.

Anaya looked down on him and treated her as an imaginary enemy.

After the two left, Georgia bought the mousse cake Annie wanted, and got a car home.

However, as soon as Georgia returned to the apartment, she saw a strange middle aged lady sitting in the apartment.

And Vanessa and Annie stood silently in front of the middle aged lady. ____

Chapter 142 Alfred' Mother

The moment Georgia came in, everyone in the room noticed her.

The middle aged woman looked at Georgia coldly.

"Who is she?"

The middle aged woman asked Vanessa, Vanessa looked flustered.

"Mrs. Chow, this is my best friend, Georgia."

Mrs. Chow? Georgia kicked the title.

She was thinking of what she had just heard, the content of the conversation between Rachel and Anaya.

Was this woman Alfred's mother?

With guessing so in her heart, Georgia slowly walked to Vanessa and Annie's side.

When Annie saw Georgia coming in, she smiled happily in an instant.

"Mommy, you are finally back."

Georgia knelt down and hugged Annie.

"Yeah, I'm back."

After saying this, Georgia greeted the lady again.

"Mrs. Chow, hello, I am Georgia."

Georgia gently took Vanessa's hand, trying to make Vanessa calm down.

Mrs. Chow's name was Isabel. She was a typical old school noble lady with a proud and indifferent personality.

Isabel nodded slightly, she got up from the sofa, and looked at Georgia and Vanessa critically.

"Same people attract each other. I heard that Miss Lane was plagiarizing when you were studying, Vanessa, you are as shameless as your friend. Hurry up and sign the agreement of divorce and stop pestering my son."

Mrs. Chow coldly threw a pile of documents in front of Vanessa.

Georgia was a little angry. She wanted to say something, but Vanessa pulled Georgia's arm and motioned Georgia not to speak.

Vanessa promised to Mrs. Chow.

"Mrs. Chow, I will sign, don't worry."

After Vanessa said this, she picked up the divorce paper and signed her name with the pen, without looking what was written in the document.

Mrs. Chow showed a slightly satisfied face.

"It seems that you still know your worth, don't show up in front of my son again."

After saying this coldly, Mrs. Chow left the apartment with the signed divorce papers.

Georgia quickly asked Vanessa.

"Vanessa, was that Alfred's mother? When did she come?"

"Just before you came back, a few minutes earlier than you."

Vanessa's answer was very calm. Georgia felt that if Mrs. Chow could divorce Vanessa and Alfred, it might be a good thing. She really couldn't impulsively get into trouble just now.

Thinking of this, Georgia walked over and gave Vanessa a little hug.

"Vanessa, stop thinking about the past, and stop thinking about Alfred.

After the divorce, we will move on to a new life."

"I understand, Georgia, you don't have to worry about me, the food is still hot, you haven't eaten yet, let's go to the dining room to eat."

Georgia nodded, and she quickly handed the mousse cake she was holding to Annie.

"Annie, Mommy brought the cake, do you still want to eat it now?"

Annie cheered, she kissed her mommy on the cheek, and then happily opened the cake.

It was a small cake, and Annie ate very happily.

Georgia ate dinner at the table.

She waited until Annie fell asleep at night. Georgia suddenly received an international call, which was from Robert.

Georgia hesitated for a second, but she still answered the phone.

"Are you about to sleep?"

Robert asked gently on the other end of the line, and Georgia nodded.

"I just got into bed, I'll go to sleep in a while."

Not knowing what to say, they could only play ask and answer.

After a few simple questions, Robert suddenly laughed on the phone.

"The way you are now, it sounds more and more cautious... I will be back this weekend. When I get off the plane, can you come to pick me up? I want to see you the first moment I get back to China."

For the weekend, Georgia had already scheduled to go to the hospital for a maternity check up.

She hesitated, but refused Robert's request.

"Sorry, I happened to have arrangements. I may not have time to come to the airport."

Robert sighed disappointed on the other end of the phone.

"The doctor said that my legs cannot be rehabilitated for the time being.

After I return to China, I have to invite several international experts to perform surgery on me and let them discuss the operation plan. After I return to China, my friends will definitely laugh at me and say I am a disabled person in a wheelchair. Don't you pity me?"

Robert pleaded pitifully on the phone, and Georgia was even more at a loss.

She had never seen this man showing weakness in front of her, and when she thought that Robert's legs were hurt because of her, Georgia had no face to refuse.

"When do you come back exactly? I will change my schedule with the time when you come back, then it will be possible to see you."

Robert then laughed.

"About six o'clock in the evening, I will inform you on the specific time."

Georgia breathed a sigh of relief, she would go to the hospital during the day, the examination would be completed by five or six o'clock.

"Well, I will pick you up at the airport when you arrive."

After they hung up the phone, Robert suddenly found that Aidan had walked in.

Since the last time he fought with Aidan, the man never visited. His mother had been talking to him in the ward for the past two days, and occasionally Ivan would come and push him out for a walk.

The anger of that day had already disappeared, Robert calmly asked him.

"Do you have anything to talk about with me?"

"I want to tell you something. I will return to China tomorrow. You don't want to tell me the location of Wendy's cemetery, I don't blame you. I will check it myself. Regarding the truth of Wendy's car accident, Georgia told me that it's possible that her brother Eden did it. Since the real murderer had not been found, I as her father, must at least find out the truth, so that Wendy can rest in peace."

Aidan spoke gently, and he sat on the sofa in front of Robert's bed.

Of course, Robert wanted to find out the murderer of his sister, he had no stand to accuse Aidan of doing this.

He even hoped that this man would be strong enough to find out the real murderer of his sister as soon as possible.

"I will ask my secretary to send you the information I have found so far. You can continue to investigate on my basis. If you have any news or need my help, you can contact me at any time. "

When Robert said this to his father, Aidan smiled faintly.

"Robert, you have finally grown up. When I just came in, I heard you on the phone, it sounded you were talking to Miss Lane. In fact, I can see that Miss Lane has no love for you. Don't let yourself be pulled in a hopeless relationship, it will only hurt yourself."

After Aidan said these words, Robert suddenly laughed coldly.

"Mr. Simpson, I won't let myself be immersed in a hopeless relationship. If she is the woman I want, I have a way to get her."

Aidan sighed.

"You are a bit like your mother. She was always reluctant to let go. I finally had to use fierce means to divorce her. Your mother has hated me over the years. Remember to take good care of her. I am sorry."

After saying this, Aidan stood up and planned to leave.

However, he just opened the door of the ward and Maisie was standing outside, her eyes were red.

Maisie looked at Aidan, and she yelled bitterly.

"Aidan, what nonsense are you saying to my son? Didn't I divorce you? Didn't I let you go? As if I made you feel wronged, this marriage, we have children, you fell in love with someone else so you wanted to get divorced, I wanted to try to save this marriage. Was that ridiculous in your opinion?"

Maisie choked up, her eyes were full of tears, and she lowered her head to laugh at herself.

Robert couldn't help yelling at his father.

"Mr. Simpson, get out, you are not welcome here."

Aidan left helplessly, Robert hurriedly gave his mother a word of comfort.

"Mom, don't mind him. He hasn't appeared in the past decade. Didn't we pretend he didn't exist long ago?"

Maisie was holding back her tears. Aidan was always the deepest wound in her heart.

Looking at the son in front of her, Maisie gave orders in grief.

"Robert, you shouldn't abandon me for a woman like your dad, promise me, don't be with Georgia, you can break up with Emma, other women, as long as the family is clean, I won't have any opinion. Don't get involved with the Lane family, okay?"

His mother had always been strong, Robert had never seen his mother so fragile, and of course he shouldn't hurt his mother.

However, if he promised his mother to give up Georgia, Robert really couldn't do it.

He also knew his mother's opinion to Georgia, and Robert changed his words.

"Mom, don't worry, as long as you confirm that Georgia is Wendy's murderer, I will never be with her, believe me."

Maisie laughed at herself.

"Just like your dad, you always know how to use a woman to hurt me, Robert, you really let me down!"

After saying this, Maisie walked out the door with a cold face.

Robert couldn't move now, he wanted to chase after her, but now he could only lie in the hospital bed.

If he really wanted to get out of bed, someone needed to move him to a wheelchair.

Georgia got up the next morning to cook some breakfast and was going to work after breakfast.

Halfway through, she suddenly remembered Alfred's background.

Since Alfred's mother arrived last night, she suddenly forgot what she had heard.

Thinking of this, after Georgia finished cooking, she spoke to Vanessa.

Georgia told her everything she heard from Rachel yesterday, and Vanessa showed a strange look.

"This kind of family background problem, does it mean that Alfred is not Mrs. Chow's son?"

Georgia asked.

"Alfred used to be a resident of D City. How did he become the son of the G City Chow family? What is going on?"

Vanessa recalled what Alfred had said to her, and she explained to Georgia.

"Alfred once told me that the year I broke up with him happened to be when his grandmother passed... Not long after, a stranger found him, and the stranger told him that he might be the lost child of the Chow family. He asked him do a paternity test, and the paternity test finally proved that he is the only son of Mrs. Chow."

"The Chow family is a big family. There are many enemies outside. The year Mrs. Chow gave birth to Alfred, the Chow family encountered a huge crisis. Mrs. Chow's child disappeared. The Chow family has been looking for this child. Five years ago, the Chow family finally found Alfred, and Alfred returned to G City. He did not return until this year."

"Rachel meant that Alfred's background had a problem. In the past few years, Rachel seems to have been by Alfred's side. If Rachel is not lying, do you think Alfred knows that there is a problem with his background?"

Vanessa shook her head.

"I'm not sure. He seems to have a lot of respect for his mother. It was Mrs. Chow who came yesterday. Hearing what Alfred said, his mother was not very happy in the Chow family. He wanted to stand up for his mother. These years, he always wanted to stand out, wanted to achieve something, let the Chow family recognize his heir position, maybe the Chow family has a lot of people competing, anyway, Alfred looks very stressed."

Georgia didn't care about Alfred's family background and if there really was a problem? As long as Alfred didn't bully Vanessa, it didn't matter who's son Alfred was.

"Forget it, what does Alfred's family have to do with us? Vanessa, you should protect yourself now, if Alfred bullies you again, just call the police."

Georgia said this, then she heard the door of the apartment being knocked violently.

Georgia stepped forward to open the door. She saw through the peephole that the person outside was Alfred.

It was really like speaking of the devil and it would come right away.

Chapter 143 Rachel's Plan

In Georgia's opinion, Alfred was a crazy man now. She did not want to let him in.

“Georgia, who is the man outside? Why don’t you open the door?”

Vanessa walked to her side and asked her.

“It is Alfred.”

After Georgia said that, Vanessa changed her expression.

“You bring Annie to the bedroom. I am afraid that he will do any crazy action. Let me open the door and deal with him.”

Georgia made the decision but Vanessa was hesitant. Georgia advised her again.

“Alfred will be more irritated when facing you. Don’t worry, I will protect myself. You just stay together with Annie in the bedroom. If you hear something awkward, just call the police. Nothing will happen.”

Vanessa did not want to see Alfred, she agreed at last. She held Annie’s hand and walked to the bedroom.

Then, Georgia opened the door and asked Alfred.

“You knock on the door early in the morning like a mad man. Why do you come here?”

Georgia asked Alfred coldly, Alfred showed a gloomy expression.

“I want to see Vanessa, I don’t want to talk with you.”

“Vanessa does not want to see you. Just tell me what do you want.”

Georgia rejected Alfred indifferently. Alfred showed a gloomier expression. He roared suddenly.

“Vanessa, if you don’t come out now, I will ask my lawyer to sue you for the plagiarism case. Your company will lose ten million Yuan...”

“Are you crazy? Vanessa has divorced you, what else do you want to do? Just because of the few videos and your self-esteem, then you want to torture the woman you love before to death?”

Georgia roared furiously. However, Alfred was outraged by the word “divorce”.

“Divorce, when do I agree to divorce? You tell Vanessa, I have not signed the divorce agreement, then it is only a useless paper forever. We are still spouse. As her husband, why can’t I see my wife?”

Alfred laughed criticizingly, Georgia felt that the man was really mad. Georgia talked to Alfred coldly when she thought of the woman she met that night.

“Vanessa has told me that you are upset by the videos. Two days ago, when I came back from the airport, I saw a woman who was similar to Vanessa. It is possible to have two people who look similar to each other. You keep accusing Vanessa and take revenge on her selfishly. Alfred, you are so disgusting.”

After Georgia roared, Alfred changed his expression.

"You are Vanessa's best friend, you must talk something good for her. What is so-called similar people? They look exactly the same. If you are smart, you go and find someone who looks similar to Vanessa. If you want to argue for her sake, show the evidence."

"Vanessa is a victim. It is possible for her to have a twin sister, right?"

"Alfred, you live in D City before. In the past, you probably don't expect that you belong to the Chow family. The probability of Vanessa having a twin sister is the same as the probability of you knowing your identity as part of the Chow family. It is possible to happen."

Georgia tried hard to stay calm and explained but Alfred sneered.

"I am a lost child, Vanessa is an abandoned kid. Vanessa even has a twin sister. Do you think we live in the drama now?"

Georgia was upset by Alfred's words when talking with him. She criticised suddenly.

"Then, should I say that you do not belong to the Chow family? The DNA test is fake! Alfred, have you investigated your identity? I hear that your identity is complicated."

After Georgia said that, Alfred changed his expression.

"Where do you hear it from? Who says that?"

"Rachel says that. Just ask her if you want. She says that your identity is not that simple, so does she mean that you do not belong to the Chow family? You should concern about your position to be the heir of the Chow family."

After Georgia said that, Alfred was outraged. He did not insist to see Vanessa anymore, he left with a gloomy face.

After a while, Vanessa walked out with Annie.

"Georgia, you have said out the problem of Alfred's identity. Will Rachel trouble you?"

"Don't worry, Alfred has said that he has not signed the divorce agreement. I think Rachel must have the intention to marry Alfred. If Alfred keeps tangling with you, Rachel must use the issue to threaten him."

Georgia returned to her seat and ate the breakfast prepared by herself. Then, she went to work.

After arriving at MU Research Institute, Georgia stayed in the experiment lab and did the experiment for the whole day.

Georgia was confident after knowing Percy's weakness, she did not even care about Anaya's sight which was weird yet arrogant.

If Anaya had stolen her experimental data, it was incomplete. She still could reveal the truth in due course.

In addition, she had the video and audio given by Robert. So, she must be the winner.

Georgia did not tell Professor Lee about that, she just told him that she was confident, she was able to defeat Percy.

Professor Lee was confident with Georgia, so he did not ask much.

After doing the experiment for the entire day, Georgia confirmed that the factor of light found by her previously was important in this experiment.

If she followed her findings, the extracted composition would be more accurate than the previous one.

As compared to the experimental data six years ago, it was totally a breakthrough.

Her experiment was to the extent of the findings six years ago. When Percy had his talk, she would make a conclusion based on the data six years ago and the present data.

She must defeat him perfectly at the moment.

Georgia did the experiment in the lab steadily while Alfred called Rachel to his office.

“Rachel, you tell me honestly. What is the problem with my identity?”

After Alfred said that, Rachel changed her expression.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Zac Efron & Alexandra Daddario Relationship: Love Or Marketing?

When did Alfred know about it?

“Where do you hear it from? I never hear that your identity has any problem.”

Rachel smiled and explained, she seemed to not know anything.

However, Alfred knew Rachel well. She seemed to conceal something.

“I give you one last chance. Tell me, what is wrong with my identity?”

Furthermore, why do you know the truth of my identity?”

After Alfred said that, he walked towards Rachel with a gloomy face.

Rachel was curious. Only she and Anaya knew about that.

She asked Anaya to create something fake. Why did Alfred know about it?

Rachel did not understand but the man in front of her showed a scary sight.

If she did not tell the truth, she might have clutched by the man.

“When you underwent the DNA test in the past, I asked my cousin to make a fake DNA result. So, you become Mrs. Chow’s son and the heir of the Chow family.”

Rachel told out the truth.

She knew that Mrs. Chow brought the divorce agreement to Vanessa and asked her to sign it. However, Alfred did not agree with that. He did not want to divorce Vanessa. Rachel was extremely discontented.

She thought that she should threaten him, so he would have no choice but marry her because she knew his weakness.

Rachel did not tell out the truth in the past because she was afraid that he would make it worse.

However, Alfred was not a normal person anymore. He was used to holding the peak position and take charge of the entire company.

If Alfred’s identity were revealed, he would lose everything at that time.

Rachel knew that Alfred had great ambition now, no one would give up the power they held easily.

She could use this issue to threaten the man totally.

Alfred used his hands to clutch her neck.

“Who asks you to do that? Who asks you to do that?”

Alfred roared ferociously. His eyes were red.

“You have said that before, right? You want to stand out among others. You want to become a powerful man and let Vanessa regret it. So, when I hear that the Chow family wants to seek for their lost son, just right that your living place is related to their investigation, your age is matched too...Then, I think, you should be the heir of the Chow family. As long as you have power and can control the entire Chow family, the identity is nothing for you.”

Rachel said without the feeling of embarrassment. Even her neck was clutched and she felt pain, she knew that the man would not kill her.

Alfred was just angry now!

“Why do you have the eligibility to change my life?!”

Alfred roared, he showed a scary expression.

He felt that he was almost going crazy, he thought that what Georgia heard was Rachel’s joke.

In fact, his identity was fake, everything was fake...

After he was brought back home by the Chow family, Alfred noticed that Mrs. Chow was bullied by other family members.

He did not have a mother since young. He really treated her as his mother at the moment. Mrs. Chow treated him well too.

Alfred was spurred. He felt that he should work hard. In these six years, he kept enriched himself and suppressed other family members. He thought that he would have the power to control the entire Chow family one day.

However, his life was a funny joke!

He had worked hard for so long. Then, Rachel told him that everything was fake. He was not the son of the Chow family, everything he did in these five years was a joke!

Alfred put down his hands suddenly. He closed his eyes and breathed in deeply but the woe and anger arose in his chest ferociously.

“Get out, get out now!”

Alfred closed his eyes and roared. Rachel did not leave, she consoled him.

“You have reached this stage. It is not important whether you are the son of the Chow family. Alfred, everyone from the Chow family knows your ability. If you work hard and do something successfully, you will be able to control the entire Chow family. You don’t want to give up everything you get now, right? Do you want to become the previous man that allows others to bully you and allows other rich men to simply grab away your girlfriend?”

After Rachel said that, Alfred opened his eyes furiously.

His sights were fierce, he looked at the woman with his black eyes.

“Rachel, I warn you again. Stop talking, get out now!”

“Alfred, since you know the truth already, then I tell you honestly. I keep the secret for these few years because I hope you can do something successfully. Now, you have come to D City and hold the position as the regional CEO of the Chow family. You tangle with Vanessa here, I think you want to take revenge on her. However, you want to marry her. I accompany you for six years yet I am nothing. Alfred, if you want to be together with me, I will keep the secret forever, no one will know the truth.”

Alfred teased loudly.

“Rachel, are you going to force me to marry you by this issue? I tell you, don’t ever think about it. Get out. I will tell Mrs. Chow about my identity. You will not get anything you want from me. I tell you, even if I will become nothing, I will not be threatened by you.”

Rachel sighed and left.

Alfred was furious and wanted to tell Mrs. Chow the truth.

Rachel thought that it was just a tantrum. She did not believe that the man would give up the high position and great wealth.

In the MU Research Institute, Georgia went off work at 6 pm.

Once she walked out of MU Building, Georgia saw Aidan standing in front of the entrance and smiled at her.

He was Robert's father. Why was he here? _____

Chapter 144 The Owner of the Bugatti Veyron

Georgia walked over and asked Aidan why he was looking for her.

Georgia still remembered that he was on an island in Hawaii when she came back.

But right now, Aidan had also returned to China and had come to the place where she worked.

Georgia couldn't understand why Aidan was looking for her.

"I want to ask you more details about my daughter's accident. I want to find out who was the one who caused the car accident. If the person is you, or your brother, Eden, I won't forgive both of you."

Aidan said faintly. The way he spoke was polite but he looked cold when he looked at Georgia.

"Do you want to talk about it here?"

"No, let's go to another place to talk. The car is here."

Georgia followed Aidan into the car and they ended up going straight to the police station.

When they got off the car, many police officers were waiting outside the police station.

They all walked over and greeted Aidan with open arms.

"Mr. Simpson, if there's anything you need from us. You can just ask."

Aidan smiled faintly.

"Help me to find the officers who were in charge of my daughter's case back then, along with the files at that time. Moreover, find a quiet office. I want to talk to these people."

The middle-aged officer immediately nodded in agreement.

"Mr. Simpson, don't worry. I will arrange it for you on the spot."

Georgia finally followed Aidan to a quiet office. They sat inside and not long after a few officers walked in.

"Mr. Simpson, he is Officer Reid who was in charge of this case back then. Some of the officers have been transferred to other police stations now, but the main officer in charge was Officer Reid. You can check with him if you have any questions. As for the files, they are all here."

The middle-aged officer put a file bag on the coffee table in front of Aidan.

"Okay. I will talk to him first. You can just do your business first. Don't mind me."

The middle-aged officer smiled and Georgia guessed that he was the chief officer here. It seemed that Aiden was so powerful that the chief officer had to respect him so much.

He had come here casually and all these people were treating him so well.

“Officer Reid, just sit down first. You were in charge of my daughter’s car accident back then, right? There are some questions that I may need to ask you when the time comes.”

Officer Reid nodded. He then sat down opposite Georgia and Aiden. Aiden didn’t ask Officer Reid or Georgia any questions first. He opened the file bag and read the information about the car accident back then. After a long time, Aidan raised his head to ask Officer Reid, “This lady sitting next to me is Georgia Lane. She was the one who caused the car accident, and she was eventually sentenced to eight-year imprisonment but her sentence was reduced to two years because of her good behaviour. Officer Reid, do you remember her?”

Georgia reluctantly smiled at Officer Reid, who nodded.

“I had met Miss Lane in court and I still remember her.”

In fact, Officer Reid didn’t know why he had been called here.

Wasn’t this man the father of Wendy who was dead? How come he was coming here with Georgia who caused the car accident that killed her daughter? He was confused as he didn’t know why he was being called here today.

It looked like he wasn’t just trying to know more about the case back then.

“Ms. Lane, you always said that you were wronged. You can tell Officer Reid what you have experienced now so that he can judge whether there was a mistake when judging this case back then.”

Georgia took a deep breath as she recounted the incident back then.

“In that morning, I came out of the hotel at seven o’clock and took a taxi straight back to my house, because my father quarrelled with me and he wanted to sell me to a man called Chester. I escaped from him and after I got home, I decided to leave there but my father knocked me out. After I woke up, I found myself at the scene of the car accident, and I was sitting on top of the driver’s seat, with my mouth full of alcohol. After this, I became the one who caused the car accident like what you all said.”

Georgia then briefly recounted the past events. After she finished her words, Aidan asked Officer Reid.

“Is that possible for things like Miss Lane said just now to happen? She was replaced to be the one who caused the accident.”

Officer Reid nodded.

“There was no video footage of the crash scene at the time, nor was there any video footage around. Therefore, if Miss Lane was put in the driver’s seat back then, it was possible that someone destroyed other information which would show the real person who caused the accident.”

Hearing Officer Reid’s words, Georgia recalled that the conversation between Flora and Emma which stated that they were trying to look for the car at the scene which had a dashcam. He then told Officer Reid and Aidan about this.

“Sorry, I would like to interject. I have just found new evidence which might help me.”

“Just say it,” Aidan said.

“I heard that Flora, who was Eden’s mother and also my stepmother, talking to her daughter that the scene of the accident back then seemed to have been witnessed by a car passing by. They felt that there was a dashcam in that car, so they wanted to destroy the dashcam but they were still looking for the car.”

Georgia then briefly recounted the incidents, and Aidan asked Officer Reid, “Where is the nearest CCTV at the accident scene back then?” Aidan asked him but Officer Reid shook his head.

“We have to find it inside the system and we have to go to the traffic department to investigate this case first.”

“Officer Reid, Selena is my friend. She has actually been helping me investigate this matter. She told me that she had sifted through some vehicles within the cars that passed through the road back then. You can actually go directly to her to get the information.”

“Is Selena the one from the Holland family?”

Aidan asked Georgia in confusion.

“Yes. She’s working at the police station now. I happen to know Ms. Holland.”

“Then ask her comes in first,” Aidan said.

Selena came into the office about twenty minutes later.

As soon as she came in, she saw that it was Georgia. She nodded and smiled at her.

“Officer Reid, how come you are also here?”

“Hi, sir.”

Selena greeted the people inside the office and Aidan smiled at her.

“Don’t you remember me? Selena, I’m Robert’s father.”

Selena really forgot who he was. She smiled awkwardly and Aidan hurriedly asked her to sit down.

After a while, someone from outside came in and served them tea.

Aidan asked Selena again what he had just said.

When she was called, Selena already knew why they were looking for her. She took out a USB drive.

“I have put the information I’ve found now in the USB drive, which includes some of the vehicles I suspect. I’m trying to sift through these vehicles and one of the cars is Bugatti Veyron which is a limited edition worldwide. I think it’s the only car which passed through the road when the accident occurred.”

“So have you found this car?”

Aidan asked her.

“I’m still investigating the case. Actually, I just got this information from my colleague today. I haven’t even started looking into it in detail yet, but it’s quite hard to investigate this kind of VIP buyers and the owners of such cars may not be found out easily.”

Aidan smiled.

“I will help you to find the owner. I can make a call to the headquarters of Bugatti Veyron directly. Since it’s a limited edition worldwide, I guess there are only a few of them in China. Tell me the model first. I think they will help me to look for the owner.”

After Selena told Aidan the plate number and the model of the car, Aidan directly picked up his mobile phone and made a call to the headquarters.

“George, can you do me a favour? Help me find out who are the owners of the cars which are limited edition worldwide of your brand, especially in my country. Is there anyone who had bought this car in China?”

“Aidan, hold on. I will ask my secretary to check it out and call you back later.”

After he hung up the phone, Aidan chatted with Officer Reid, asking what he had found out or what doubts he had about the case back then.

After that, Aidan asked Selena.

“I just came back from overseas. Do you know where is Wendy’s graveyard? I want to go and visit her.”

Of course, Selena knew where Wendy’s graveyard was. After she told him the address of Wendy's graveyard, Aidan looked at Georgia.

"Miss Lane, thanks for your cooperation today. You can go home first. I will continue to investigate this case."

Georgia smiled gratefully as she stood up and left, intending to go home.

Selena followed Georgia and left the police station, while Aidan went to Wendy's graveyard alone by car.

The picture of the girl on top of the grave still looked like she was eighteen years old. She looked so young and active. Aidan stood in silence in front of Wendy's grave. His tears rolled down his cheeks immediately.

He realized that it was only then people got older that they finally understood what it meant to be a father.

After a long time, Aidan only understood how much responsibility he had carried.

However, when he understood that, his daughter had already died and his son had disowned him.

He finally regretted his misbehavior and rebellion when he was young. He felt very guilty recalling the things he had done.

When he watched TV drama many years ago, he would only feel a bit sad when he saw someone died. However, at this moment, she suddenly felt a sense of emptiness looking at his daughter's grave. The person that he owed her so much had died.

It was no use crying over spilt milk.

He stood silently in front of her grave for a few hours. When it was night, Aidan's assistant only walked over to him.

"Sir, Mr. George is calling you."

Aidan took the phone from him.

"How is the progress? Have you found out the information of the buyer?"

"There are only five of these cars available in the entire world. None of them had been sold to your country, but one of the cars was sold to a prince in the Middle East, and he seemed to have sold the car to someone in China. I'm not sure who this person is yet and I'm still helping you to investigate."

"Give me the phone number of the buyer in the Middle East. I'll call him and ask him," Aidan said.

Then, he called the prince in the Middle East.

"Mr. Simpson, it was your nephew who operated on me back then. I gave him the car."

"Do you mean Dr. Ivan?"

Aidan didn't expect such a coincidence.

"Yes, it was Dr. Ivan." _

Chapter 145 Georgia Lane's Son

After hanging up the phone with George, Aidan Simpson got in the car and called Robert Simpson.

"Yes, dad?"

At this moment, Robert was pushed into the hospital garden by Ivan Simpson in a wheelchair.

"I found the latest clue about Wendy's car accident. Is Ivan by your side? I have something to ask him."

"He is right next to me. Is he also related with him?"

Robert asked.

"I went to see Georgia Lane in person today, and then took her to the police station to look at the case files of that year. At that time, Georgia provided me with an updated clue. She said that when the car accident happened that year, another car passed by the scene of the accident. The driving recorder on the passed by car probably recorded the scene of the accident. I found that the car was Ivan's car. You can ask him if he has a Bugatti Veyron. The world's limited sports car, this car was given to him by a prince in the Middle East?"

Robert's hand trembled a little, he suddenly had an intuition and the truth was about to be revealed.

"Hold on a second, I'll let him answer the phone right away."

Robert put down his phone, and he asked Ivan.

"Do you have a car that is a global limited edition of the Bugatti Veyron, which is given to you by a prince in the Middle East."

Ivan nodded wonderingly.

"Why are you asking about this car?"

Ivan felt strange that his car had been scrapped and the murderer had not been found out yet.

Why did everyone pay attention to his car?

"It was my father who called me just now. He said that your car passed the scene of Wendy's car accident that year, and it was very likely that it recorded the scene of the car accident that year."

"It was impossible. On the day of Wendy's car accident, I didn't drive at all, when I was abroad."

Robert put his mobile phone on speaker.

"You can talk to my father in person and let him tell you the evidence he found today."

Aidan recounted all the things he had experienced with Georgia and the evidence they found during the day. Ivan began to think about it.

"Uncle, I was not in China on the day of the car accident. This car has been in my garage. However, my secretary occasionally borrows my car. I am not sure if he used this car six years ago. I have to call him and ask, wait a minute."

As Ivan said that, he directly called Ben.

"Boss, why do you call me suddenly?"

"Ben, think about what happened six years ago. On the day my sister died in a car accident, did you drive out my car, the Bugatti Veyron."

"Boss, it was six years ago and I couldn't recall it at once. I will check my work records for the past six years, wait me for a second..."

A few seconds later, Ben apologized over the phone.

"Boss, my mother fainted at home on the day six years ago. I was anxious at the time, so I hurriedly borrowed your car and drove out. I should have reported to you, I'm sorry."

Ivan wouldn't care about this kind of thing, so he asked Ben.

"I don't care about this, but I want to know have you found out who stole my car? Is there any progress now? Do you know why these people tried to steal the car."

"There is no investigation report yet."

Ben shook his head.

Ivan already knew the reason for the scrapping of his car. He guessed from the words of Robert's father that the driving recorder of his car was probably scrapped as well.

"Ask someone to check the car to see if the recorder is still there or not?"

"Got it, boss. Please wait for my latest news."

After hanging up the phone, he looked at Robert's expectant eyes, his uncle was also waiting for his news on the other end of the phone.

Ivan said regretfully.

"Just a few days ago, my car suddenly disappeared. It was the Bugatti Veyron sports car. So, I asked my assistant to find where the car was these days. The car was found, but the car had been scrapped and the whole car was smashed. If it weren't because of your phone call, I wouldn't know it was because of the driving recorder on my car caused it was disappeared... I have asked my assistant to investigate whether the driving recorder was still there. I didn't think he could find it back."

"Robert, I remembered that on the night of the Murphy family's banquet, I saw someone from the Lane family. They saw that I drove that car, and Eden Lane asked me about this car. He seemed to be interested in this car."

Robert and Ivan looked at each other, and they understood the reason why the car disappeared.

Aidan also heard what Ivan said on the other side. The expecting expression on his face he changed to disappointed in an instant, after all, he was a step late.

"As it already happened, can you give me the information about the stolen car, and I will ask someone to check it thoroughly to see if the Lane family did it."

Aidan commanded on the other side of the phone, and Ivan nodded immediately.

"Uncle, I will send you the information about the missing car. It must be the Lane family!"

Ivan became more and more assured that the murderer of Wendy's car accident was Eden. People from the Lane family always wanted to cause trouble. He even regretted to drive that car on the day of the Murphy's banquet. People from the Lane family found out and something went wrong the next day, and now there was no video recorder from that year.

After they hung up the phone, Robert's expression was very complicated.

By now, he had no doubts in his mind. Eden was definitely the murderer of the car accident. He had wronged Georgia for so long, broken Georgia's heart and almost hurt her daughter.

At that moment, Robert suddenly thought that Georgia's daughter was born in prison.

Islamabad Man Earns Thousands Of Dollars Via This App

12 Celebs Who Do Not Agree To Stay In Long-term Relationships

He once instructed the people in the prison to teach the lessons for car accident murderer, Robert did not dare to think further if Georgia would hate him when she found out what he did.

He asked Ivan.

"You really didn't back up the recorded video?"

Ivan shook his head regretfully.

"Even if there was a backup, after six years have passed, I have cleaned up the things on my computer several times. We hardly have hope of finding the backup back, but I would still try to check it, I was not positive about it. We should focus on the Lane family and find out if the Lane family stole my car. As long as we could confirm that they did it, even if there was no video record, it also proved that the Lane family was guilty of being a thief and was afraid that would find the video recording."

"Isn't Eden the only son of the Lane family? As long as we find some evidences, bring Eden over, and threaten him with something, I don't believe he wouldn't tell the truth."

Robert thought Ivan's method was good.

"We will return to China in two days. We have to use the method on the Lane family, and then maybe add some spice into it."

After the two people confirmed their plans to return to China and deal with the Lane family, Robert asked his previous request to Ivan.

"I once asked you, as long as you proved that Georgia was not murderer of Wendy's car accident, you would give operation on Georgia's daughter, Ivan, do you remember that?"

"Yes, I still remember it, Robert, as long as I go back to solve the Lane family's affairs, I promise I will give operation on her daughter."

"I want to surprise Georgia. Do you have to wait until the Lane family's affairs are fully settled before agreeing to operate?"

Robert didn't want to procrastinate it for so long. He thought, if he gave Georgia a surprise after he got back, Georgia would definitely rely on and trust him more.

This was the only way for him get close to Georgia. He could see that the person Georgia cared most was her daughter.

Regarding who was her daughter's father, Robert gave up on exploring. Who didn't have old stories? Maybe Georgia had other men before, but those were all things in the past.

And he also had past, he could let things go and Georgia could do the same.

"Robert, you really paid a lot in order to chase women! I will review Georgia daughter's physical condition report and make a surgical plan for her. After returning, you can ask Georgia to take her daughter to the hospital to have another physical examination. I have to make a surgical plan based on her daughter's physical condition."

Now Robert smiled with satisfaction.

"Ivan, thank you."

Ivan shook his head and felt funny. He had never seen his cousin caring about a woman so much. He seemed to really like that woman, Georgia.

Outsiders always didn't understand things between men and women, just like he didn't figure out, why he still couldn't forget the woman, Emilia Powell. He wished he could.

After Ivan left, Robert could hardly help himself but call Georgia immediately.

However, it was very late now, and Georgia might have fallen asleep if he called her now. The time difference between countries was different, and Robert gave up this idea.

He couldn't disturb Georgia sleeping, she worked every day now, it must be very hard.

Thinking about this, Robert called his mother. Since the last time they discussed with Georgia's thing, his mother left in sorrow, and had not yet come to see him.

Robert felt that he had to tell his mother about the latest information about Wendy's accident.

However, when Robert called his mother, no one answered the phone. Robert tried to make a few more calls to his mother, but still no one answered, Robert could only give up.

He left a message to his mother and told her about the latest information about the car accident, hoping that his mother would call him back after hearing the message.

In D City, Laurence Knight had already made an appointment with Owen Lane and Emma Lane in the super VIP ward of a hospital.

There were several rooms in this super VIP ward. Laurence, Owen and Emma were sitting in the living room talking.

"Mr. Knight, why would you invite us to meet here?"

Owen asked Laurence, Laurence smiled.

"Do you know who lives in the ward?"

Owen and Emma shook their heads at the same time. When they came in, they saw Laurence lost his legs. Now he was sitting in a wheelchair. And Laurence's opening remark was that his legs were lost because of Robert. Laurence's purpose was to cooperate with them. Owen and Emma both believed that Laurence was sincere this time.

It was just that they didn't understand why they met in a ward.

"There is a boy lying in the ward, he is the same age as Georgia's daughter, do you know?"

"Mr. Knight, I don't quite understand your meaning. There are many children in the world has the same age with Georgia's daughter. Is this child special?"

Laurence laughed.

"Of course, he is special. During the period of my disappearance, I tried my best to investigate the past of Robert Simpson, I also investigated Georgia's past. Did you know what I found? Georgia gave birth to a boy and a girl in prison. But only her daughter stayed with her at that time, and the boy was taken away."

When Laurence said this, Owen and Emma glanced at each other, and both of them showed shocked expressions.

"Mr. Knight, is that true?"

Owen couldn't help but asked again for confirmation.

"Mr. Knight, is the little boy in the ward the son of Georgia and Robert?"

Chapter 146 Jasper and Jennifer was About to Engage

Emma asked after a shiver.

This was too incomprehensible.

That Georgia had given birth to a son, and that son was now in a ward which was arranged by Laurence.

"You have guessed correctly. The boy lying in that ward is Georgia and Robert's son. I am doing my best to bring this boy back to the country. Now, he doesn't know anyone here, and I am letting a psychologist and hypnotist altering his memories day by day. Miss Lane, Mr. Lane, I have a deal here at my ready. Are you guys up for it?"

"Mr. Knight, what are you telling us to do?"

Emma could vaguely guessed Laurence's plan as she started to probe him.

Emma could still remember that the first time Laurence had called her father, he had promised to help the Lane family, and to help her marry Robert.

Now that Laurence was bringing back Georgia's son back, so the heart of the matter here was to make use of Georgia's son.

"Miss Lane, are you willing to be this child's mother? When the time comes, you will bring along this child and appear in front of Robert. You will claim that you are the child's mother, and by doing that, your lies all those years ago won't be exposed."

"You are able to make this son acknowledge me as his mother?"

Emma asked with much doubt.

"This child is only five years old, and I have confined him to a solitary room for many days, and I have hired many psychologists to give him some treatment. His mental has broken down, and by then all you need to do is to appear in front of him as a mother, giving him care and protection, letting him rely on you and trust you. If you go along with the lies and directives of the psychologists and hypnotists, he will definitely believe that you are his mother.”

Emma’s teeth started to chatter.

She never imagined that Laurence managed to do something so cruel to that son. She suddenly felt afraid of the man in front of her.

Despite her fears, this deal was too tempting. Just when Emma was still stuck in a quandary, Owen had already agreed to the proposition.

“Mr. Knight, I thank you for giving my daughter a chance. You can be rest assured, she would be able to do it.”

After saying that, Owen turned to look at Emma.

“This is such a good opportunity. Don’t you want to take it?”

Greed occupied Emma’s heart momentarily. That son was Georgia’s son, what reason did she have to feel pity for her?

If this plan with Laurence came into fruition, half of the inheritance of the Simpson family would belong to her. She wouldn’t have to do things according to Robert’s mood too, and she didn’t have to be wary of his mother.

This was the perfect opportunity. Emma immediately nodded.

“Mr. Knight, we will go with your plan. I will give you full cooperation, but you need to know that this cannot succeed in just a short amount of time. What are you planning to do next?”

“You guys know very well too that I have kidnapped Robert. When Robert comes back, he will definitely look for my whereabouts so that he can exact revenge. At the same time, you have to take note of Robert’s father. He is one formidable man who has dispatched men to trace my steps. These people will be your enemies soon, so I can’t really meet you as often as I am doing now. We will contact by phone from now on, and I will always change my number. You don’t need to feel strange, I will leave my assistants behind to your help. They will relay my messages from time to time.”

After saying that, Laurence looked at Emma.

“From now on, you have to follow the doctor’s instructions. Come see the child every day, and after some time you would bring him home so that he starts to rely on you. By the time he finally sees you as his mother, we will proceed to our next plan.”

“How long is this going to take?”

Emma was a little nervous. She had a feeling that the Simpson family wouldn’t give them the luxury of time.

“It needs a few months at least. And we can only do this by following the doctor's verdict. However, I have chosen the best psychologists in the world, and people with hypnotic abilities. They would make sure the objective is achieved to the best of their abilities."

Emma thought that this was a good plan, but there were too many uncertainties in this plan. She started to point this out to Laurence, "Mr. Knight, I got engaged to Robert five years ago, and we only knew each other six years ago. In one year during that time, I happened to finish my final year in America, so you have to have a way to prove that I have given birth to a child before there. However, at that time I thought that my newborn child was dead, that's why I was afraid to reveal this to Robert. I have to come up with a way to make him believe that I did actually give birth to a child, it's just that I didn't tell him."

When Laurence revealed this plan, Emma was pretty excited, but after giving it some thought, she reckoned that in order to let someone as smart as Robert to believe that she had actually given birth to a child and she just didn't disclose to him this piece of news, she had to come up with more lies. She had to make sure all the corners were covered. Otherwise, as long as Robert send someone to investigate it, the truth might come spilling out anytime soon.

"You don't have anything to worry about. You still have the doctor's proof back when you were still in America, and I will have everything in order. Your reason is not bad, about the death of a newborn but later on realizing that he's still alive, but I have an even more meticulous plan here."

"What plan are you talking about?"

Owen asked him, which brought a smile to Laurence's face.

"Even if you have married Robert, and even if he believes that this child is his, his heart is no longer where it should be. It is highly likely that he won't be so attentive to this child, so I need to think of a way to make Robert believe that the one he loves is you.'

"How can that be possible?"

Emma thought that was just a delusion. Maybe it was possible to reconstruct a child's memories by hypnotizing him and making him lose his original memories with the help of psychologists, but is there any way to alter a grown man's memories artificially? Emma felt that it was impossible.

"This world is a huge place, Miss Lane. You don't need to fret now, because there are people in this world who has extraordinary abilities. I have already got in touch with him, and when the timing is right, as long as I can get my hands on Robert, I will be able to make him fall for you.”

Emma and Owen could only stay silent. From the moment they came in, they were led on the nose by Laurence in terms of the direction of their thoughts.

It didn't feel like they were having a fair deal here. Emma and Owen could clearly feel that they were being led by Laurence.

However, with how things were transpiring, if they didn't cooperate with Laurence, the Lane family wouldn't have other hopes in getting out of this alive.

“Mr. Knight, where was this boy living in the past five years? Would the caretaker of this boy come looking for us in the future?”

Emma began questioning again.

“They are indeed looking for the boy, but you have nothing to be scared of. The boy's face has undergone plastic surgery. That family would never see the same boy again.”

Laurence was extremely confident that the Powell family would never discover them.

After Emma and Owen had left, Laurence asked Kayden, “Isn't Robert's mother having a meal now?”

Laurence had captured Maisie, who was Robert's mother, and now that he was in a precarious position, he needed to find more weaknesses possessed by Laurence.

“Master, Auntie is having her meal now, oh right, Robert has called her just now. What should I do?”

“You send a text message by mimicking Auntie's tone.”

On the other hand, after leaving the ward, Owen and Emma immediately plunged into a discussion.

“Dad, do you think that we will win this time? I always think that Laurence is one unscrupulous and ruthless man. Do you think someone like that would cooperate with us properly?”

“It's always hard to wish for everything to be perfect when we are in a pinch. Do we have other options? At least, he really hates Robert. We are already way too deep into this matter, so why not we go all the way? If things turn out fine, the Lane family would become a prestigious family just like the Simpson family.”

Emma could only nod. She really couldn't come up with another way too.

Georgia didn't know about the fact that she still had a son. She went to work as usual in the coming two days, and she had buried herself in her lab, churning out her experiment report and thesis after some tedious preparation.

Georgia handed her well-prepared report and data to Professor Lee, which made the latter satisfactory.

Everything was ready, and they were only waiting for that one chance. One more week left until the end of the month. By that time, Percy would hold a seminar at the Imperial University. They have betting against Percy in front of the public, which garnered much attention. Georgia was waiting patiently for the seminar which was going to happen at the end of the month.

That one day at the end of the month was her best chance to rid herself of all the accuses and rumors thrown at her.

It was finally Saturday, and she was taking care of Annie at home. She didn't need to work today, and her pregnancy check-up was scheduled for tomorrow. Georgia planned to have fun with her daughter at home all day today.

When it was noon, Annie had drifted into sleep, and Georgia was at the moment scrolling the news.

She wanted to check out any news that was related to molecular targeted therapy about lung cancer, but instead she saw a headlines in the entertainment industry.

The contents made her feel aghast because it was talking about Jennifer Johnson, who was the young lady of the Johnson family, who was going to be engaged to Jasper Holland. Their engagement date was in year end, which would serve to unite the two affluent families.

Although she never had much to do with Jasper, Georgia still had come across him in the past. As for Jennifer, Georgia had a very clear memory of her.

When she first met Jennifer, Jennifer had slapped her without first even saying a word, and at a banquet thrown by the Murphy family, Jennifer even berated her in front of all the participants.

In the eyes of Georgia, Jennifer always had a maniacal crush on Robert all along. Georgia was completely spooked and confused by this woman hooking up with Jasper, so she couldn't help calling Selena.

At that moment, Selena was visiting a bridal shop. This was the most superior bridal workshop in the whole of Imperial City.

As Jasper's sister, she had accompanied her mother Elliot to this bridal workshop. They were going to book a bridal suit for the engagement day.

Besides that, Selena still needed to accompany Jennifer to choose her bridal gown.

Selena was reluctant to come here, but it was coincidentally weekends, and she didn't need to worry about work.

When Jennifer came to their house, she had insisted for Selena to give her help in choosing the bridal attire, to which Elliot had agreed to do it. That was the reason Selena had awkwardly appeared here.

While she watched Jennifer changed into different gowns, Jennifer would shot her a glance from time to time, and within her eyes there was a hint of mockery, which caused Selena to feel increasingly uncomfortable.

The two of them were well aware of what had happened that night, but Serena chose not to say anything publicly. She could only endure in silence.

Georgia called her, which gave Selena a break out of this uncomfortable situation. She let out a sigh.

"Mum, some friend is calling me now. I need to go out to answer it."

At that moment, Jennifer was getting a change of clothes in the fitting room. Elliot nodded.

"Then go answer it. Remember not to drag it out."

Selena immediately went into the washroom with her phone. Only this place was quiet enough.

"Miss Lane, why are you calling me so suddenly? Are you trying to ask about the progress about the matter of that car?"

Of course, Georgia would want to know more about that, but she just came out gunning with what she was most curious about.

"I have seen a news just now talking about your brother's marriage with Jennifer. The news said that they are going into engagement. Is this real?"

Selena didn't expect Georgia to ask about this, and all of a sudden she felt her heart aching.

"It's true. They are going to hold an engagement banquet next month, and the date of their marriage has been tentatively fixed at the end of the year. The exact date and time is unknown for now."

So it was true after all. Georgia simply felt incredulous.

She didn't know about the truth between Selena and Jasper, that their sibling relationship was fake. She was just asking according to her own judgment.

"I know it's very weird of me to ask about this, but I think you know that Jennifer has a crush on Robert. Aren't I right? It seems that this piece of information has been made public. At the banquet held by the Murphy family, Jennifer even got mad because I was standing next to Robert, but how could she turn to your brother all of a sudden? Aren't you guys concerned about this when you're forming ties between the families?"

Selena didn't know how to provide an explanation. She immediately sunk into a deep silence.

Her silence only served to increase Georgia's impression that there must be something going on behind closed doors. Despite her suspicion, she didn't press forward as she too immersed herself in silence.

Only after a long time did Selena provide a reason for Georgia's question.____

Chapter 147 Alfred Admits His Origins

"Maybe they see eye to eye to each other now? Jennifer is giving all of her attention to my brother currently, and as long as she could continue to treat my brother well, I will turn a blind eye to her past. I am really tired now, Miss Lane. Do you have anything else you want to know?"

Selena was saying the last sentence and hoping that Georgia could get the cue that she wanted to hang up now. Georgia immediately asked her the final question, "Robert's father was investigating that car from that day. Hasn't he found the car owner yet?"

"I don't know about that. I have been very busy the past two days, and I've forgotten to ask Robert's father about it. Miss Lane, I can pass you his number, and you can ask him yourself."

"Then I'll have to thank you for that."

After the two of them hung up, Georgia stared at the number belonging to Robert's father. She was stuck in a dilemma. Should she call this number?

Georgia couldn't come to a decision at the moment.

She decided not to overthink this at the moment. She should just have some good sleep, and then she would think about this after her pregnancy test tomorrow.

On the other hand, on an island in Hawaii, Robert has been discharged from the hospital. He would take a flight back to the country tomorrow. At the moment, Robert also learnt the news about Jasper and Jennifer's engagement, which aroused his suspicion. He immediately called Jasper, "Why are you planning to marry Jennifer? That woman is a maniac, and it's not like you don't know that."

Robert began questioning with a doubtful tone. Jasper responded with a sigh at the other end, and he began to describe what had happened at the Murphy family banquet before he launched into a complain, "Do you think that I really want to marry her? A knife is pressed against my throat. I don't have a choice in this matter, you know. It's not like you don't know that Jennifer is the only daughter who was treasured by her parents and in a twist of my worst fate I happened to sleep with her. If I didn't take responsibility for that, both my parents and Jennifer's parents would berate and torture me until I would no longer be human. Instead of that happening, I chose the easier way, that was to give all of my cooperation. It's just marrying a wife, everyone doesn't have to get stuck up on it."

Based on Robert's understanding of Jennifer, with how she had been pestering him for more than ten years, it was unbelievable for her to willingly marry Jasper. There must be more than meets the eyes.

"Jasper, don't you even think for a second that there's a motive behind Jennifer's move here? I have a feeling that she would cook up something."

Robert was in fact feeling a little sorry. He had been rejecting Jennifer for many years, which indirectly drove her to madness.

And from the looks of things now, this mad woman was now involving his band of brothers. Despite the circumstances, not only Jasper wasn't the least bit concerned, he even started to guffaw, "You don't need to sound so sorry. Jennifer has been crazy for a long time. Now that she has chosen to marry me, even if she wants to create some ruckus or wants to use me, do you think I have no way of pushing her away? We don't even know who would win in this match where each of us would claw away at the other, at least for now, you know."

How could Jasper not know that this marriage was a farce from the beginning? That didn't account for the fact that Jennifer and him were indeed drunk together that night and they had made love.

If taking into account how crazily in love Jennifer was towards Robert, not only she wouldn't admit having anything to do with Jasper, she would have continued to stick to Robert. Not only that didn't happen, Jennifer appeared to want to marry him no matter what, which gave him the impression that she was scheming something.

Jasper wasn't really fazed by the possibility of Jennifer playing tricks on him. He was fully confident that he would have a way of taking care of this woman. He always felt that besides his mother and his younger sister, there was no one in the world who could shake him up from within, not to mention hurting him.

Robert continued this conversation with Jasper for a little longer, and Jasper even offered to get him at the airport. However, Robert only wanted to see Georgia, so he kindly declined Jasper's goodwill.

After hanging up the phone, Robert suddenly felt like giving Georgia a surprise call, to ask her about whether she was ready to come get him tomorrow. He had a surprise in store for her.

He initially wanted to inform Georgia about his father's findings about that car owner, who turned out to be Ivan. But when he woke up that day, he felt like it would be better to tell her personally after alighting from the plane.

The thing was, when the time to return to country approached, Robert began to feel an uneasiness wrapping him. He was worried that Georgia wouldn't come to fetch him at the airport.

With his phone in his hand, he hesitated for a long time, still unable to make that call. He noticed that his mother had replied him with a text message, and it was after so long after his last phone call. This was the first time his mother had contacted him after that.

"I have listened to the news in your voice message that you have left for me. Since we can't pull ourselves clear from the Lane family, you have to get down to this matter once you return to the country. Your father should be in the country, and you two should investigate about that accident involving Wendy. I don't want to see your father and you for now. I just want to unwind overseas here, so don't ask about my whereabouts. I will come back after some time."

After reading the text message, Robert tried calling her again, but nobody was picking up too this time.

It seemed that his mother was still angry. Robert could only give up for now. Perhaps he had really hurt her mother's heart.

Robert just hoped that he could find even more definitive evidence so that his mother could believe that Georgia was innocent all along.

Because of this text message, Robert suddenly lost all of his courage to call Georgia.

He should preserve his surprise for tomorrow when he arrived home.

By then, he could really see Georgia again, and after pressing down his longing for her, Robert closed his eyes in preparation for his sleep.

Whereas in the country, it was only night time.

Georgia, Vanessa and Annie finished dinner and they wanted to take a stroll around the area.

After some time, a young man wearing suit walked towards them.

“Young miss, the old man wants to see you.”

Vanessa and Georgia couldn't understand what that young man was talking about.

Georgia caught a glimpse of a few bodyguards in black suits surrounding an old man sitting on a wheelchair, and one of the bodyguards had pushed the old man forward to their front.

“I'm sorry, but I don't understand what you are saying. Why are you calling me the young miss? And who am I supposed to see now?”

Vanessa began to ask with confusion while the old man on the wheelchair was already in front of Vanessa.

“I am Alfred's grandfather, Vanessa. After you have married Alfred, he never brings you back to G City. Alfred's mother has come to Imperial City recently but she didn't bring you back either. That only leaves me with the choice of coming to see my granddaughter-in-law by myself.” After that old man had finished his words, both Vanessa and Georgia had an astonished look on their faces.

Since such a fiasco had happened on Alfred and Vanessa's wedding, none of the members of the Chow family had attended the wedding. Now, Alfred's mother has come to visit her, bringing with her the message to divorce the two of them. Vanessa had agreed to it on the spot.

However, Alfred himself came the very next day. His face told her that he clearly didn't want to divorce her.

And now, Alfred's grandfather had appeared in front of Vanessa, and his demeanour was gentle and mellow. He even referred to her as his granddaughter-in-law. Could it be that the Chow family actually didn't mind what had happened on the wedding?

Georgia and Vanessa were perplexed by the turn of events. They could only address this old man politely.

Besides, they didn't know what else to say. They just stood curtly and awkwardly in front of this old man. At that moment, Alfred's grandfather began to talk, “I heard from Alfred's mother that Alfred didn't want to part ways with you. Since that's the case, Alfred has set his eyes on you as his wife, so I decided to come to Imperial City by my own volition to take a look at you.”

Vanessa's heart was scrambling now. She didn't know where this conversation which was led by this old man was going.

“Grandfather, I actually agreed to divorce him because I don’t want to embarrass Alfred by staying together with him. Alfred is just feeling indignant, and he is very resentful towards me. A divorce might be the best choice for everyone. Even if he didn’t agree to divorce now, he would in the future.”

After Vanessa had said that, the old man surprisingly began to laugh. “I used to think that you are a very superficial girl, so when Alfred insisted to marry you at that time, I didn’t come to your wedding, and so were the Chow family. That was because we thought that Alfred was too reckless. However, now, I am pretty sure that Alfred has set his eyes on you. Even if something so major has happened on the wedding, he still didn’t want to divorce you, so he wouldn’t divorce you no matter what in the future.”

“But, even if Alfred didn’t mind this, everyone knows about what had happened on that day. Grandfather, do you want to see the Chow family turns into a laughing stock? I don’t know why do you come looking for me today, but I don’t really think I am worthy of being your granddaughter-in-law.”

Vanessa felt very repulsive when it came to the matter of her being together with Alfred even if Alfred’s grandfather was very friendly with his attitude now. It seemed apparent that he didn’t mind one bit about that incident on the wedding.

However, the wedding was not the only thing souring their ties. There were still strange videos that circulated around which depicted them. Although Georgia had said that it might be another woman who resembled her, but they couldn’t find this woman yet, which meant Vanessa had no way to rid herself of the blame.

After Vanessa said that, the old man once again guffawed.

“Before the marriage, I actually didn’t go through your background at all, but after that incident, I specially went to look into you and found that you are an orphan. I have sent people to find someone who looks like you and then we could announce to the public that you are not the subject in the video. As for the truth of the matter, Miss Cooke, as long as you stay loyal to my grandson, I will be able to make Alfred’s mother turn a blind eye to your past, and I will make sure you steady yourself as Alfred’s wife in the family. That way, the people of the Chow family wouldn’t have any objections, and the world would think that you have been framed, that it was a video depicting somebody else.”

Vanessa couldn’t understand why did Alfred’s grandfather want her to be his wife, but she suddenly said with emotion, “Grandfather, actually my best friend has seen someone who looks so much like me. I have a suspicion that I might have a twin..."

At the same time, on the other side of the Imperial City, after laying low for a few days, Alfred came to Mrs. Chow and showed the test result validating their blood ties to her.

Mrs. Chow took that file with confusion written all over her face. When she opened the file and saw that it was a test result of their blood ties, she asked Alfred questioningly, "Why did you suddenly go do this test? Who are being tested here?"

Alfred raised his head at Mrs. Chow and he articulated each word carefully, "Mrs. Chow, this is precisely a test result of our relationship. According to what is written there, you and I are not mother and son." After Alfred had said that, Mrs. Chow's face immediately became pale.

Chapter 148 Endless Lies

"Alfred, what nonsense are you sprouting?"

Isabel came back to her senses and rebuked him.

"You're not going to take me as your mother anymore just because I want you to divorce Vanessa?"

To Isabel, her son went crazy for a woman to the point that he would abandon his mother.

She never expected Alfred to be serious with his words.

Isabel was kind to Alfred, and Alfred had once treated her as his mother too. In the past six years, Isabel had put in a lot of effort in supporting him, so Alfred didn't want to believe what he saw as well.

"I'm serious, Mrs. Chow. I want you to be my mother, and I want to address you as my mom too. I never knew who were my biological parents since I was young. When you brought me back to the Chow residence, you gave me love. I have always thought that you are the best mother in this world, but I am really not your son."

Alfred knelt on the ground and said painstakingly.

On the other hand, Isabel staggered a little too.

Her body was shaking all over, and her voice was unstable.

She opened the DNA report and flipped it through page by page.

On the paper, it showed that Isabel and Alfred were not blood-related.

Isabel sucked in a deep breath, but her heart still burned with pain. It suffocated her.

How could it be possible? They did a DNA test in the past as well and it showed positive results. How could Alfred not be her son now?

She was certain that Alfred was her child whom she finally found after twenty years. Back then, she was grateful to have finally found her son.

But why did God pull a prank on her? Tears slowly slipped down her cheeks as she confirmed the truth with Alfred once more.

“Is this really not because of Vanessa? Alfred, are you really not lying to me? Or are you trying to threaten me to accept Vanessa?”

Alfred shook his head in agony. He was unwilling to believe the truth that unfolded before him too, but at this point, he would rather lose everything than continue to live in a lie.

Rachel did not understand him at all. Sure, being in power exhilarated him but he was unwilling to lie to Mrs. Chow. This woman truly loved him as her own son. Now, she was a pitiful mother.

Although they had many quarrels because of Vanessa, but Mrs. Chow still loved her son.

He did not want this mother to be kept in the dark. It would only bring her more pain when she heard the truth from someone else in the future.

“Mrs. Chow, my relationship with Vanessa would not affect my relationship with you at all. It’s just that I suddenly found problems with my identity, so I went for a DNA test. The results showed me that I’m indeed not your son. I’m sorry to have occupied the love that you should’ve kept for your son for the past six years. I’m telling you this today is to give you some mental preparation because after this, I will be telling grandpa about it. Don’t worry, I won’t take what doesn’t belong to me. Everything belongs to your son.”

“No, you cannot tell your grandpa.”

In an instant, Isabel wiped her tears and said to Alfred sternly.

“You absolutely cannot reveal the truth. Do you understand how grim the situation is now? My amazing husband’s illegitimate child out there is eyeing our fortune. The same goes for all our other relatives. With so many people going after the family’s wealth, you cannot leave now. If the truth is out of the bag, you’ll be kicked out of the family. Do you know what will happen to me by then? I’ll be a gone case too!”

“Even if it’s a lie, you need to continue living in one!”

Isabel said everything calmly. Her expression was stern, and her gaze showed that she was absolutely serious about what she just said.

Surely, Alfred knew what the Chow family was facing right now, but he was unwilling to live a fake life anymore.

“Mrs. Chow, I’m not your son and this is a fact. Even if I don’t reveal it, someone else will. It’s impossible to keep my identity in the dark forever.”

“Where did you find out about your true identity? How many people know about it now?”

Isabel asked in a cold tone. However, Alfred did not want to answer her.

Other than Rachel, Georgia knew about it too. Then, Vanessa would surely have heard about it as well. At this time, Alfred didn't want to drag Vanessa into this mess with him.

Although Isabel was a lady, she was ruthless when it came to dealing with certain matters. If she was at a dead end, Alfred was sure that she would get to Vanessa, Georgia and Rachel. Maybe the ones who knew the truth would disappear from this world forever.

“Mrs. Chow, I've given serious consideration about this. Telling everyone the truth is the best choice for both of us. If we go on with this lie, we wouldn't know when it would be revealed one day, would we? You can keep searching for your son. Judging from the current situation, the Chow family wouldn't be in chaos yet since Old Mr. Chow is still around. At most, the rest would just be tempted by the truth but I believe that old Mr. Chow can handle the situation.”

It seemed that Alfred had made up his mind to leave the Chow family. Upon realizing that, Isabel suddenly knelt down on the ground before him and started to cry.

A 25-Year-Old Becomes The Richest Man In His City

These Stars Made The ACM Awards A Must-See Soiree

Isabel was such a proud woman, so Alfred had never seen her crying pathetically in front of him.

He regarded Isabel as his own mother, so his first thought was to help her up. However, Isabel pushed his hands away and looked up at him. When she spoke, her tone was full of pain and despair.

“Alfred, please don't tell anyone the truth. Take it as a request from me in exchange for the love I've given to you for the past six years. Just continue living as my son as don't let the other Chow relatives and that illegitimate child have any chance to take over the family. When the day I find my own son comes, I'll share half of the wealth that belongs to him with you. At that time, you can go anywhere you want, and I will respect your decision. But if you reveal the truth now, the other members of the family will think that this is a good chance to take over. old Mr. Chow won't be able to handle this situation and those people would only become more aggressive.”

“You've used many methods to suppress the other members of the Chow family in the past few years. If you leave now and lead a bad life next time, they will definitely get back at you. Would you really rather face that kind of humiliation than continue this pretense as my son?"

Isabel was already crying from sadness. Although she was partly dramatic, but she was truly desperate too.

She knew that Alfred had a soft heart. Therefore, she tried to appear as pitiful as possible. At the thought of Alfred's identity, she came to realize that it meant she and her own child had been separated for over twenty years. Just the thought of it was enough to make her upset. Maybe her child had died long ago. This possibility made Isabel feel hopeless.

The surprise and expectation she had when she first found Alfred had turned into ashes of nothingness.

Alfred was in a dilemma. Surely, he understood the pros and cons of whatever Isabel told him. However, how could he deal with Rachel if he continued to stay here as the heir to the Chow family? Also, Vanessa and Georgia knew about it so Alfred didn't know how to make the best choice.

He then decided to ask Isabel about it.

"Mrs. Chow, what if...what if we can't find your son forever? Would I still need to stay in this position?"

"If we can't find my child, perhaps he or she had already died long ago. If that was the case, then Alfred, I would rather have you pretend to be my son forever than having that illegitimate child of my husband take whatever should've belonged to my child. That was supposed to be for my child!"

Isabel was particularly stern when she said that.

Alfred understood her hatred.

Isabel's husband, Grady Chow was a Casanova, so who would know how many illegitimate children he had out there? This man had never cared about Isabel's feelings nor protected her pride, resulting in his lovers out there being rude and arrogant towards Isabel.

With that pride of Isabel, she definitely would rather have Alfred keep pretending to be her son and be the heir than seeing Grady's illegitimate child be in that position. It would kill her to see that.

"Give me some time to think it over."

Alfred couldn't make a choice right away, but he couldn't bear to reject her request too.

Isabel was not in a good place in the first place. Her child had been gone for more than twenty years, and no one in the Chow family cared about her other than old Mr. Chow.

Even a mistress wouldn't take a second look at Isabel who had no children.

After Alfred returned to the family, then only did Mrs. Chow's status elevated.

Therefore, Alfred understood the real reason Isabel refused his departure.

Isabel couldn't wait anymore. She had to know the names of those people who knew about Alfred's birth secret right now so she wouldn't overthink things. She must deal with those people as soon as possible.

"If you don't agree to it, I will be forced to death by them! Alfred, is the past six years of love and care not enough for you to help me for this moment? I've already agreed to share half of the wealth with you, but we can talk about it again if you think it's not enough. All I want is for you to secure my child's position and help me to find my child. If you reveal the truth now, I might die in their hands before I can even find my child. Can't you just help me with this?"

As she spoke, she started to cry and looked pitiful. It made Alfred doubt himself.

Should he really continue to hide the truth like what Mrs. Chow said?

"If you leave and reveal the truth now, I will hang myself dead here! Alfred, mark my words. Your act of revealing the truth is indirectly forcing me to die!"

While Alfred was still hesitating, his grandfather gave him a call.

"It's grandpa."

Alfred said to Isabel.

"Quickly answer it and find out what he wants."

Isabel was slightly worried that old Mr. Chow might've found out about Alfred's identity.

Her life would be over if that was the case!

Alfred picked up the call and put it on loudspeaker.

Chapter 149 Travis's Medical Report Outcome

"Alfred, where are you now?"

Alfred's grandfather asked him via the phone.

"Grandpa, I am staying in the hotel with my mother and talking to her.

Why do you call me?"

Alfred asked gently. His grandfather smiled.

"In fact, you stay along with your mother. Come to Vanessa's condominium now. I saw my granddaughter-in-law and talked to her just now. Ask your mother whether she wants to come over? I have something to tell."

“Dad, I will go there with Alfred.”

Isabel answered him, he smiled.

“Come here as soon as possible.”

After hanging up the call, Mrs. Chow promised Alfred.

“Except the promise we make before, as long as you agree to keep holding the position, I will not intervene in the matter between you and Vanessa. I will not care whether you want to be with her or not, I will not say anything.”

The enticement was alluring, Alfred was hesitant.

“You don’t have to answer now. Since your grandfather calls you, let’s meet him now. Vanessa is there too, let’s go there together.”

Alfred agreed to her promise.

While in the condominium which Vanessa and Georgia stayed, Vanessa, Georgia and Annie still talked with Alfred’s grandfather.

They had arrived at the condominium, Annie sat on Georgia’s knee. She listened to the adults talking obediently. Georgia remained silent for most of the time.

It was mostly Alfred’s grandfather and Vanessa talking.

“I will ask others to investigate whether you have a twin sister.”

Alfred’s grandfather spoke to Vanessa after he heard Georgia saying that she met a woman who looked similar to Vanessa before.

“Thank you, grandpa...However, no matter the person exists or not, I will not get along with Alfred again. He can’t tolerate this kind of matter. Even if we stay together, we will suffer.”

Vanessa knew Alfred well. The man was not going to make it, why did they tangle again and torture each other?

Even if the Chow family members liked her but Alfred did not get over the incident, Vanessa thought that she would never get along with Alfred.

“Why can’t both of you stay together? I have asked Alfred to come here. We should make everything clear today. Don’t worry, I will not force you and Alfred to be together but you should not procrastinate anymore. Can you accept this way?”

Vanessa stayed silent for a while.

“It may not be a bad idea.”

It was good that they made everything clear, then they should not tangle each other anymore.

They waited at the condominium for half an hour. Finally, Alfred reached Vanessa’s condominium with his mother, Isabel.

“Dad, why don’t you inform me that you are here?”

Mrs. Chow smiled at her father while Alfred called him grandpa.

Next, Mrs. Chow smiled at Vanessa and Georgia.

Compared to last time, Mrs. Chow showed a warmer expression. She greeted Vanessa affectionately.

“Vanessa, I am too impulsive when I see you last time. Don’t mind that.”

After saying that, Mrs. Chow smiled at Georgia.

“Ms. Lane, I am a bit rude when I first meet you. I hope you can forgive me.”

After saying that, Mrs. Chow smiled at Annie and greeted her.

“Your daughter is so cute. Annie, can I hug you?”

Mrs. Chow walked towards Annie and stretched her hand to lift her.

Georgia felt that the scene was unbelievable.

Annie was frightened. She turned her head and looked at Georgia. Then, she called mommy.

Obviously, Annie was panicked and did not know what to do. Georgia smiled.

“Annie, say thank you to Mrs. Chow.”

Annie nodded to Mrs. Chow obediently.

“Thank you, Mrs. Chow.”

Mrs. Chow lifted Annie and kissed her affectionately.

After that, she spoke to Vanessa and Alfred.

“Alfred, why do you quarrel with your wife? It makes me misunderstand Vanessa. You have admitted your mistake in front of me, right? Apologize to Vanessa now, then get along with her. If both of you can give birth to a cute granddaughter like Annie, I will be satisfied.”

Alfred showed a weird expression.

He knew that Mrs. Chow was begging him. Alfred did not want to reveal the truth in front of the people.

Alfred could not get over the incident when facing Vanessa. Mrs. Chow was nervous.

“Don’t you say that you want to apologize to Vanessa? Why do you stay there? Quickly apologize to her. Have you forgotten the agreement between us?”

Vanessa could not understand what happened. When she met Mrs. Chow for the first time, Mrs. Chow showed disdain and discontentment on her obviously. Her arrogant attitude hurt Vanessa’s feeling.

However, Mrs. Chow treated her affectionately at the moment. She even said that Alfred wanted to apologize to her and everything was a misunderstanding. She felt that everything was not realistic.

Vanessa was stunned, she was as if indulging in her dream. Alfred's grandfather looked at the scene, he smiled satisfyingly. "Isabel, I think you are discontented with Vanessa. Vanessa has told me that they have met a woman similar to Vanessa before. The person involved in the video must not be Vanessa, we misunderstand her. Alfred, quickly apologize to your wife! You don't want to divorce when you misunderstand her to be the person in the video. Now, we have confirmed that Vanessa is not the person involved in the video. You should apologize to her and get along with her in the future." After he said that, Mrs. Chow walked towards Alfred and pulled his hand. "Grandpa has said that, you should apologize to Vanessa now. Then, most importantly, we get together as a family." Alfred had thought of something. He breathed in deeply and walked towards Vanessa. Then, he knelt in front of Vanessa. "Wifey, I am wrong. I shouldn't blame you. Let's get along in the future and don't misunderstand each other anymore." Vanessa was stunned. Georgia did not even dare to speak at the moment. Vanessa and Georgia did not understand why they changed their attitude. Alfred was furious before, Vanessa and Georgia knew that. However, Alfred knelt in front of Vanessa and apologized at the moment. Vanessa was startled, she did not know how to deal with the scene. Mrs. Chow looked at her, Alfred's grandfather looked at her gently too. Alfred seemed to apologize to her sincerely when kneeling in front of her. Did he know the truth already?

At the moment, Vanessa kept thinking. She was hesitant. She admitted that she was soft-hearted. She wanted to give Alfred one more chance. She had love and hatred for Alfred. She had the thought to give up on Alfred before because she was totally disappointed in him. Nevertheless, Alfred gave her hope again. Vanessa did not dare to speak. If she rejected, she was afraid that she would regret it afterwards. However, if she agreed, she was even afraid that she would regret it in the future.

Everyone looked at Vanessa when she kept silent, at last she spoke. "Can you give me some time? I will consider it. Alfred, do you know how many incidents have occurred between us? I want to consider what do I really want. I have to think carefully."

Alfred showed an awkward expression. Mrs. Chow smiled and lifted Annie towards Vanessa.

"It is a good idea. Vanessa, my son has bullied you, you can't simply forgive him, right? You must think carefully and make a decision afterwards. Don't forgive a man easily, you should teach him a lesson!"

After saying that, Mrs. Chow looked at Alfred's grandfather again.

"Dad, let the young adults settle it by themselves. If Vanessa and Alfred are predestined, give them some time. Let them think carefully. As the elders, we should not force them."

His grandfather nodded.

"Alright, let them consider carefully."

After saying that, he looked at Vanessa.

"Vanessa, I show up in front of you suddenly, you must be frightened. Don't be afraid, we will not force you. Even if you don't want to be together with Alfred again, it is your choice. Don't worry, I will help you to investigate your identity and background. If I find up the person who looks similar to you, I will announce it to the mass and prove that you are innocent."

Vanessa expressed her appreciation to him. Then, he left with his security guards and secretary. Mrs. Chow put Annie down and followed him to leave.

There were only Alfred, Vanessa, Georgia and Annie staying in the condominium.

Georgia bent and lifted Annie. After that, she talked to Vanessa.

"Vanessa, I bring Annie to the bedroom. Both of you have a good talk. Call me if anything happens."

Vanessa nodded. Georgia lifted Annie and left.

She knew Vanessa for many years. Due to their longstanding friendship, she was clear that Vanessa was soft-hearted already.

Although she was discontented with Alfred, Georgia respected Vanessa's decision.

Not everyone was predestined in this world to be loved by someone they loved too. So, there were many cases of one-sided love.

Vanessa and Alfred were predestined. So, after so many years, they still loved each other but a misunderstanding existed between them.

If they wanted to be together with each other after the misunderstanding was solved, Georgia would wish them happiness. In the living room, Alfred and Vanessa sat on the sofa. Vanessa stood up and poured a cup of tea for Alfred.

They kept silent for a while. Vanessa spoke suddenly.

“I think a lot recently. I think of our past and the future. Alfred, I know that I don’t deserve your love. I have done hurtful things to you in the past. I have explained everything but I hurt you severely in the past, I can’t do anything to compensate for you. However, I must explain again for the video.”

“I am not involved in the video, everything that Georgia says is true. She meets a woman similar to me at the airport. I don’t mind other things, I just hope you trust me on this issue even if we will not be together in the future. I am not lying, I am not involved in the videos that you watch.”

Alfred’s heart was cracking.

He did not want to be Mrs. Chow’s son anymore but she begged him again and again.

On the way, Mrs. Chow even threatened him that if he told out the truth and everyone knew that he did not belong to the Chow family. She would harm Vanessa and he would not meet her again.

Alfred knew Mrs. Chow well, she would do whatever she wanted. She would really make Vanessa disappear from the world.

At the moment, Alfred hated whatever Vanessa did and even hated her to be together with other men.

But he knew that Mrs. Chow had the power to make Vanessa disappear, he compromised. He agreed to act as her son until she found her real son.

Alfred was clear that he really cared about Vanessa.

But he could not treat her like the past and become an intimate spouse.

He found it hard to do so. It was the reason that made him sad.

He wanted to protect the woman but he could not trust her anymore.

He did not know what should they do.

When looking at the woman, Alfred would think of the videos and his humiliating past.

“Vanessa, after considering for half a month, you just reject to get along with me in front of my grandfather. Don’t care about my mother’s and my grandpa’s behaviour today. It is not suitable for us to get along again.”

After saying that, Alfred stood up.

“Furthermore, ask Georgia to keep the secret of my identity. You keep it too. Or else, don’t blame me for not reminding you.”

After saying that, Alfred stood up and left the condominium.

Vanessa was realized when she saw the man’s silhouette totally disappearing from her sight. In fact, her hesitance was so ridiculous.

Alfred was just forced to apologize just now.

The man still could not get over the past happenings. He did not even want to listen to the truth. Vanessa lowered her head and cried.

She understood abruptly that their relationship was indeed over.

It was silent, Annie had fallen asleep. Georgia walked out of the bedroom softly. Then, she saw Vanessa sobbing in the living room.

“Does Alfred say something hurtful?”

Georgia asked gently.

Vanessa raised her head. Her crystal-clear tears fell down, she smiled instantly.

“Georgia, our relationship is over. Let’s bring Annie abroad to settle down. I want to leave this grieved place and never come back again.”

“I know it. No matter what decision you make, I will support you.”

Georgia hugged Vanessa. No matter where they were, as long as they stayed together with Annie, nothing else could be an issue.

On that night, before Georgia slept, she found a message sent by Robert.

“Don’t forget to pick me up at the airport tomorrow. It is late now, I don’t want to call you that may disturb you from sleeping but you can’t forget that.”

Georgia laughed, Robert seemed to concern about the matter of whether she would pick him up at the airport.

The next morning, Georgia planned to undergo antenatal care in the hospital early in the morning. Robert’s assistant called Georgia suddenly.

“Ms. Lane, the medical report that you ask me to do is out now. Do you want to take a look at it?”

Travis had been transferred to another hospital recently. Georgia visited him twice a day. His condition was good. The doctor also prescribed anti-inflammatory treatment for him.

After he was transferred, Travis did not go mad and revolt again.

Georgia felt that her suspicion was accurate.

The nurse and the medicine on that day were problematic.

“I am busy today. Can you tell me the result of the report via the phone?” _____

Chapter 150 Plane Crash

Georgia was on the way to the hospital, she didn't have time to receive the report in person.

Capital hospital was always crowded, she had to take a number and wait, so she gave up on the report.

"Ms Lane, the report shows something odd with the medicine, it seems to be a type of drug that inhibits nerve recovery in the meantime creates neurological and memory disorders. This is a new type of drug, I'll skip the medical jargons but the main function of this drug is to destroy the brain's nerves, preventing one to recall back their memories and become dementia."

Georgia recalled Travis telling her that his memories were coming back that day, but the side effect was a severe headache.

He even mentioned that the man smelled familiar, he didn't like to get an injection or take medicine, what happened was not his first encountered.

A shiver ran down Georgia's spine when the dots were connected along with the report.

Someone was trying to attack Travis? Since ten years ago, he was forced to live on the street and now that he was receiving treatment, his enemy began to control his recovery or even tried to make him a dummy by using drugs.

What kind of hatred lasted over ten years?

Georgia asked in curiosity.

"Alan, if the report is correct, does that means someone wants to stop Travis from remembering the past? There is something important in his memories, did you find out who was the man in the hospital?"

"Ms Lane, your guess is correct but we haven't uncovered the mastermind behind it. Rest assured, Mr Simpson have his men on this and we are expecting results soon. While for Mr Armstrong, he is now safe in the hospital, Mr Simpson added a few guards to ensure no one shall harm Mr Armstrong anymore."

Robert had been doing all these discreetly, he even sent someone to protect Travis and investigate what happened.

Robert had never mentioned any of this to her, Georgia felt touched. This man always did something for her behind her back and never mentioned it.

"Alright, please let me know once you have the latest information."

The conversation between them ended and Georgia arrived hospital about fifteen minutes later.

She took a number online but still needed to report to the nurse to arrange her queue.

When she saw the number on the screen, she realized there were more than twenty patients ahead of her, she could only wait quietly sitting on the bench.

She was not calm, she was thinking about Travis.

Who would be his enemy?

He knew something important that his enemy tried to kill him or even made him a beggar, a dummy.

While thinking, her number was called.

The doctor asked about her body condition, gestational age, got her weight and BP and then had her wait for an ultrasound.

She waited for another half an hour before the nurse called her in for the ultrasound.

It was fast as the gestational age were young, she had to drink a lot of water and did the ultrasound while enduring her pee.

She spent another few minutes doing the ultrasound, she then waited for the print and went into the consultation room.

The doctor looked nervous staring at the prints.

Georgia sensed something was not right.

“Doctor, is there a problem?”

Georgia asked nervously, the doctor looked at her and let out a sigh.

“Your medical history showed that you’ve been hospitalized once and almost lost the child. The data on the ultrasound shows that the fetus is not growing as expected and the heartbeat is weak. Ms Lane, please be noticed that your pregnancy is rather weak and your body condition is not good either. You’ve given birth to a child, and if you lost this one... You need to be calm.”

Georgia’s eyes reddened hearing the doctor words.

She knew she had not eaten enough, despite trying hard to eat a balanced and nutritious meal and protected the fetus all her heart, what she heard defeated her.

“Doctor, is there any other way? I want to keep this child.”

“I can prescribe you some medicine that might help, don’t forget to take them and come to the hospital immediately if there’s anything wrong with your body. If no heartbeat is detected three months later, you have to go for an abortion, otherwise, a dead fetus will harm your body...”

Georgia couldn’t really hear what the doctor said, she was shaking.

What happened to Annie repeated.

The thing she feared the most had happened.

Georgia blamed herself for what happened, she was busy working, she was kidnapped, and she didn't eat properly, the baby could have been fine if she avoided all those.

But she won't give up until the last minute.

The doctor hinted her to give up on this baby, but she couldn't.

Georgia lied on the table in the garden outside of the hospital and cried silently, she didn't want to attract any sort of attention.

Even though they were strangers, but Georgia was afraid.

Her heart was filled with pain and anxiety.

She didn't know what to do, she had no direction at all.

She cried for quite some time, it was noon now. She wiped away her tears and thought she couldn't skip lunch for the sake of the baby.

She needed balanced and nutritious food each meal so that she could keep the baby.

She entered a restaurant nearby the hospital, ordered a bowl of rice porridge with meat and eggs, two side dishes and a chicken soup.

She had to eat despite not liking the food.

Some people stopped and looked at her curiously as she teared up while eating.

They would assume she broke up or something.

No one knew that Georgia's tears were out of guilt for the baby in her womb.

She would go insane and depressed if she suppressed her tears.

It took her an hour-long to eat and chewed the food slowly so that the baby could get some nutrients.

And then she endured and controlled her desire to throw up.

Her endurance caused her face to turn green, she succeeded in not throwing up this time.

After lunch, she walked on the street aimlessly.

She was afraid to face Vanessa and Annie back at the apartment, she didn't want them to know her emotional state at this moment.

She didn't want to sit down quietly at one place either, her numerous thoughts drove her insane. She just wanted to walk aimlessly with an emptied mind to relieve her stress and depression.

Georgia sat in a garden for almost three hours, it was about six in the evening, and she had forgotten that she needed to pick Robert up at the airport.

Her mind was all about the baby, she forgot that she promised Robert. She sat on the bench and watched the sunset.

“Hey, did you see the news? A plane crashed, it was a plane from Hawaii, I wonder if any Chinese get hurt.”

A couple sat opposite Georgia and the woman told the man suddenly. Georgia overheard what she said, she raised her head abruptly and looked at the woman.

The man was searching for the news on his mobile.

“It’s true, the plane was supposed to land in China, there are a lot of Chinese on board, hopefully not many of them get hurt...”

Georgia gained back her rationality, she stood up and asked.

“You said a plane crashed? A plane from Hawaii to China?”

The woman nodded in confusion.

“Which flight?”

Georgia’s face turned white when the woman told her about the flight, she suddenly recalled that Robert was coming back today and she promised to pick him up at the airport but she forgot.

Robert was on the plane that crashed.

Georgia browsed through today's news anxiously and the headline was about the plane crash.

Georgia’s brain became empty.

Her heart was emptied too. __

Chapter 151 Realized Her True Feeling

Georgia dialed Robert’s number immediately, no one picked up. She felt like she was going insane, she didn’t know why but her heart was burning.

Whenever she thought of something that might have happened to Robert, her heart was torn apart.

She ran out from the garden and hopped onto a taxi quickly.

“Please go to the airport, hurry.”

Georgia shouted nervously, the driver was a little confused.

“Madame, I must not go quicker than the speed limitation, are you sure you want to go to the airport? I won’t break the traffic law for you.”

“I’m sorry... Please bring me to the airport at the fastest speed permitted, please.”

Tears rolled down from her eyes soon as she finished her line.

The driver saw Georgia’s tear, he also heard the news over the radio about a plane from Hawaii to China had crashed.

Maybe one of the relatives of this lady was on the flight?

Looking at her anxious and crying face, the driver sighed inwardly and said.

“Sit still, let’s go to the airport now.”

He started the car right after.

Georgia remained silent throughout the ride, her hands trembled, she wanted to watch the news through her mobile but she was afraid.

She held her mobile tightly and crying in silence staring out of the window.

She realized how much she cared for Robert at that moment.

If something happened to this man, she might regret it forever.

She lost her mom before she was imprisoned and his dad never cared for her, she only had Vanessa as her friend all her life.

She grew up optimistically, been in love with Travis but Travis disappeared out of a sudden.

She had since never been in love with any other man.

She focused entirely on her academic during university, all she wanted was to be able to buy herself an apartment and left home.

Her dream was simple and pure, but she was kicked out of the school and was named a student that plagiarized her tutor’s work.

And she was sent to prison not long after, she was bullied terribly in the prison, her only goal was to protect the baby in her womb.

That was the sole motivation of her life in prison.

She suffered all those by herself, she did hope for a shoulder to rely on but she was exhausted, she had no energy to look for the shoulder. She would be grateful if there were someone who could help her through even for a minute.

And Robert appeared out of nowhere, helped her at first, but then destroyed her life because of Wendy.

She thought that was the end of her life, but this man changed, he began helping her, concerning her bit by bit and would do anything to help her secretly.

One thing that she could never forget was he jumped in front of a bullet for her.

This was something that Georgia could never ignore.

The images where Robert was shot but still protected her from danger would be forever in her mind.

She had been hoping to meet someone that could protect and love her. Took care of her, wiped away her tears, appreciate and gave her a stable life.

Georgia thought this dream of hers would never come true.

But she met Robert, she met someone she dreamed of. However, she refused to acknowledge how important was Robert to her, but now that she felt her trembling body, she realized that this man had taken her heart completely. It took her an hour to finally arrived at the airport. She had been calling Robert on the way but was not connected. Georgia saw a crowd of people crying at the hall in the airport, she immediately went to a working staff and asked about the situation. The working staff told her that the plane disappeared, and the exact location was not identified yet. There was no news about the plane at the moment. The crowd of crying people was the relatives of passengers on this flight. Tears gushed down from Georgia's eyes. She had been informed that the baby might leave her and now something happened to Robert, which means the only man in this world who would protect her was leaving too? Georgia fell on her knees and cried out loud thinking about this. "Robert... How could you..." Georgia cried. "... You've just entered my life... I've just fallen in love with you, how could you leave... How could you leave me alone in this world..." She mumbled while crying. She was crying her heart out but non paid attention to her as everyone else was crying too.

Georgia felt hopeless.

It was already mentioned in the news that there was a high possibility that the plane vanished in the air.

"How could this be possible?"

Georgia asked herself while crying.

The god of luck had never once been at her side. There was finally a man that cared about her and she had just started to rely on him and was taken away. Was she destined to be alone forever?

Georgia didn't know what to do, she looked around the airport blankly with tears gushing down nonstop.

She didn't know how long she had been crying, the night had fallen, Georgia didn't even dare to read the news through her mobile.

Everyone's attention was locked on the news, they were worried about what happened to the plane and all the passengers on board.

Everyone hoped that the plane was fine, the worst scenario would be it vanished in the air.

If that happened, no corpse would ever be found.

"Robert, you can't do this... Come back please, I won't lie anymore as long as you come back... Even if your mom hates me... I'll tell you the truth, I like you, please come back..."

Georgia mumbled, she finally realized all the worries were nothing in front of death.

As long as this man was still alive, she could overcome everything, she only hoped for the man to be alive.

"Lady, stop crying, you've been crying for a long time, you look pale, are you sick?"

Someone patted Georgia's shoulder amid her desperation.

She turned and saw an old man, she shook while crying.

"I'm fine, I can't stop the tears, Sir, don't worry about me, I will be fine."

The old man sighed.

"Your relative is on that flight? The plane has yet to be located, maybe everyone is safe. You have to stay strong, for the sake of other family members, don't act stupid, okay?"

The old man advised Georgia kindly, she didn't know that she looked extremely devastated until the old man advised her not to suicide.

Of course, she won't kill herself, she could be living in guilt for the rest of her life. Asking herself repeatedly why didn't she express her love to Robert?

Why didn't she say something good to the man, why did she worry so much and reject this man?

Life was short but she didn't appreciate it, Robert was awfully good to her.

Thinking about all these, Georgia cried.

"Sir, I don't have any relative on that flight, but a male friend of mine is. He almost lost his life protecting me, he has been nice to me, he likes me but I rejected him repeatedly because of some useless worries. I distanced myself and thought I can do it forever, but I've never thought that he would disappear from this world one day. Sir, I regret so much that I didn't treat him well, why did I worry so much, I just wish that he is alive, I want to tell him that I like him..."

"I truly hope I could turn back time so that I could thank him for what he did for me and let him know I love him but I don't even have the chance to say it to him now."

Georgia said while crying.

She only wanted a listener, but expressing out her feeling to a stranger didn't make her feel better.

She understood deeply now that not only she cared about this man, but she loved him deeply, something that she failed to acknowledge before.

She cried in front of the old man.

"I love him... But I will never have a chance to say that anymore, he can't hear me..."

She uttered out the words painfully and cried sitting on the floor.

The old man had never seen a lady cry so desperately in his life.

He was moved and sighed.

"I was in love with a lady when I was young, but I didn't confess my love and she went study abroad. I've never forgotten her all these years and know that she had a good life on the other side of the world. Lady, this is life, time will not turn back, you have no chance to regret, you have to confess whenever there's a chance. Do this to the next one that loved you dearly, don't let him suffer, don't let him wait and don't be afraid to speak your heart."

Georgia nodded while crying, the pain in her heart grew heavier.

She felt that no one would ever fall for her again, her heart died with Robert's departure.

She sat at the airport aimlessly until she received a call from Vanessa.

"Georgia, it's late now, where are you? Did something happen?"

Georgia replied while crying.

"Vanessa, something happened to Robert's flight... I'm at the airport, please take good care of Annie, I don't want to go anywhere, I just want to stay here at the airport, is that alright?"

Vanessa sensed Georgia's sadness and desperation, she realized that Georgia cared about Robert.

"Alright, do take care of yourself, get yourself something to eat and drink, don't torture your body."

Georgia nodded, she didn't want to leave the airport, and she wanted to wait for the final result.

Even though she felt hopeless but she still hoped that a miracle would happen, that Robert was fine.

She hung up, looking at the crowd in the airport, tears rolled down again.

Suddenly, a figure fell into Georgia's sight, someone that looked like Robert.

Georgia rushed over and grabbed at the man's shoulders. _____

Chapter 152 His Love

The man was forced to turn around.

"Is there anything I can help you with, Miss?"

His voice sounded unfamiliar as well as his look. Georgia shook while crying.

"I'm sorry, I thought you were someone else."

The gentleman shook smiley.

"It's alright, I need to go to the departure station now, goodbye."

Was her vision blurred or she was hallucinating? Why did she think that man looked like Robert.

Georgia mocked at herself while crying, she must have gone insane.

At this moment, someone pulled her wrist.

It was Robert in front of her when she turned around.

The man before her eyes sat on a wheelchair and was smiling warmly at her.

Georgia held Robert's face in her palms.

"Is it really you, Robert? Am I hallucinating?"

He laughed hearing Georgia. "Why do you think I'm a hallucination? Do I look different?"

Robert smiled, he thought Georgia was acting weird.

He had just come out of the airport, he initially thought Georgia would be waiting inside, but she was nowhere to be seen and her mobile couldn't be reached. So he let his assistant pushed him and look for her around in the airport.

When he saw her, she was speaking to a man, so Robert pulled her wrist.

Robert didn't expect that Georgia would bend down and put her hands on his face.

She had been keeping a distance from him all these while, this kind of sudden act of intimacy had never happened before.

Seeing her teary face, Robert asked in concern. "Why are you crying? Your eyes are all red, how long have you been crying? What happened? Tell me, I'll fix it for you, don't act strong and shoulders all the burdens alone anymore, I'm here for you, always."

Hearing Robert's words, Georgia collapsed and embraced him tightly, she even cried out loud.

Only at this moment that she was sure the man in front of her was Robert, he was fine.

Robert looked at Georgia who cried hugging him confusedly. He was astounded at first but then he wrapped her body with his arms.

He patted her back lightly and comforted her. "Why are you crying so loud? What happened? I'm worried if you keep it to yourself.

Furthermore, I'm sitting in a wheelchair, I'm worried that you hugging me in this position is uncomfortable for you."

Georgia continued crying. "Robert, you are alright... I thought you are dead, I was terrified... Do you know that? I almost lost hope..."

Now only Robert realized the reason behind Georgia's tears. He slapped his forehead and immediately apologized.

"It's all my fault, my assistant changed my flight and I forgot to inform you. While my mobile was on flight mode, so couldn't call. I'm sorry to have made you worried."

Georgia laughed and cried at the same time.

"I'm so glad that you are fine... Robert. Don't you ever frightened me like this ever again. What should I do if something happened to you?"

Georgia hugged him tight again.

Robert couldn't hold but laughed out. Everything happening before him indicated that this woman cared about him.

The wall she built between had finally collapsed thinking something happened to him. She showed him how much she actually cared.

Robert's heart felt warm, he had finally seen her true feeling, his wait and determination didn't go to waste.

"Georgia, do you love me? I thought you don't like me, I thought you were distancing yourself and refused to be with me."

Georgia flushed in embarrassment, the fear in her heart hadn't faded, she didn't want to hide her feeling anymore and nodded with tears.

"Robert, don't get involved in an accident anymore... I felt like I could die knowing that something happened to you just now, I regretted not telling you that I feel the same, I like you, I love you... you get it?"

Georgia confessed her love to Robert while crying, Robert pushed her body to face him. And pressed his lips onto hers.

That kiss swiped away all hesitation and struggles in Georgia's heart, she just wanted to be sunken into his passionate kiss, she wanted to show him her love.

There had been no one who protected and loved her the way he did, she would regret it for the rest of her life if he disappeared.

But fate was by her side, this man survived and was right in front of her, loving her. Why not she show her love too?

She disregarded everything that happened and the difficulties between them, she just wanted to be with him, eternally.

Robert released her after a long and passionate kiss.

"You dunderhead, you will be exhausted hugging me like this. I can't stand up, let's go to my place, shall we?"

Georgia nodded, she didn't want to lose sight of Robert today, she wanted to stay by his side.

In the car, the driver was driving at the front while Robert and Georgia sitting at the back with their fingers locked on each other.

Georgia explained to Robert what she been through just now and it delighted him.

He thought he had a long way to go before earning her heart but the unexpected flight incident made Georgia see her true feeling.

Robert suddenly felt like the luckiest person in the world.

"Georgia, stay by my side from now on, I'll protect you."

Georgia replied with a smile, she felt extraordinarily happy.

As if all the pain and hopelessness she experienced before vanished, and replaced with gratefulness and happiness instead.

Georgia called Vanessa again telling her that Robert was fine and she won't go home tonight.

Vanessa told Georgia that Annie had fallen asleep and asked her not to worry.

When they arrived at Robert's villa, Georgia pushed him into the living hall herself.

Robert's room was originally on the second floor, but it was inconvenient now as he was in a wheelchair.

The housekeeper prepared a bedroom and a study room for Robert on the first floor, Georgia pushed him into the bedroom.

Georgia finished shower the same time the servant finished washing up Robert.

It was only the two of them in the huge bedroom.

Georgia laid on Robert's bed, they looked at each other intimately.

Time froze with just the presence of the other party.

As time passed, Robert blushed and he smiled looking at Georgia.

"My legs are still hurt but you keep looking at me like this, are you hinting something?"

Georgia's face turned red in an instant, her hands were trembling didn't know how to explain. She only wanted to show her love by hugging him tightly.

Robert smiled and held her hands with his.

"I know you are still scared, just relax and sleep beside me, okay?"

Nothing is going to happen to me, not now, not in the future."

"Yes, you must be well, you promised to protect me."

Georgia laid on his chest and said. She liked where she was, holding him silently and both of them looking at each other without words.

She felt like she was the happiest person in the world at a moment like this.

Robert hated that his legs were injured out of a sudden, if not it could be a memorable moment for Georgia and him.

He had the desire starting from just now, but Georgia's action was pure, she only kissed him on his cheek while uttering sweet words, which made Robert hide his desire.

He longed to sleep with this woman ages ago, but now his emotion was stable.

There was nothing to be fear of from now on since he knew her true feeling.

He said to her, "I know your concerns, but don't be afraid, we are in each other's arms right now aren't we? There's something I forgot to mention, I have a surprise for you today but I forgot about it seeing your nervous face thinking I encountered a flight accident."

Hearing Robert's words, Georgia asked curiously. "What do you want to tell me?"

"You met my father once, didn't you? My father had uncovered the truth about the black box recording in the car."

Georgia's expression turned excited.

"You've found the car? Found the recording?"

Robert shook disappointedly.

"The car belonged to Ivan, but it was stolen the day after the party at the Murphy's. The car was smashed into pieces when it was found and the black box disappeared."

Georgia looked disappointed, there was no proof yet for her innocent, she felt depressed.

Robert held her hands and comforted her.

"The Lanes saw Ivan's car at the party, they even mentioned about the car to Ivan... And it was stolen the next day. I've sent someone to investigate whether it was the Lanes that stole the car, soon as the truth is revealed, we would know if it was them that want to hide the truth."

Georgia was still sad, she asked, "Will you believe me if the truth can't be discovered again this time?"

Georgia feared that Robert didn't trust her, she feared any doubt or suspicions from this man.

"You dummy, I've shown you my heart yet you are still in doubt. Will I say I want to be with you if I don't trust you? I've been suspecting the Lanes since long ago and my trust is with you. The whole incident was a drama created and directed by the Lanes themselves. I'm just feeling unjust for you that you've suffered in the prison."

Tears rolled down Georgia's cheeks.

"I'm fine, the truth will be uncovered one day, as long as you trust me, I fear nothing. My only fear is your doubt."

"Georgia, can you come over and give me a kiss?"

Robert couldn't move his body, he could only express his love and trust via his lips.

Georgia blushed, but she couldn't control the desire of getting intimate with her lover.

She lowered her head and kissed him.

Robert pushed Georgia away after some time.

"You have to stay away from me tonight, I won't be able to hold it."

Robert said naughtily while Georgia's face turned into an apple.

She understood the meaning behind his words.

"I'm sorry, I... I didn't notice..."

Robert was enjoying himself starring at the cute looking Georgia, she was such a sweetheart.

He held onto her hands, all he wanted was to tell her what had he done, he wanted her to love him more.

"Georgia, I've told Ivan about the car accident, he too believes that you are innocent. Please free up your time these few days and bring Annie for a check-up. Ivan said he will operate on Annie, so he needs Annie's medical check-up report."

Georgia was touched and disbelieved.

"Really? Ivan agreed on operating Annie?" _____

Chapter 153 The Experimental Data Was Stolen by Percy

Georgia was very afraid that Robert broke his promise, just like what happened last time.

Robert also understood that Georgia's worries. He suddenly hated himself for what he had done in the past. He was so bad to make Georgia heartbroken.

“This time it’s true. The car belongs to Ivan. He saw how much the Lane family cared about his car. Ivan now hates the Lane family a lot. He cares about Wendy very much... As long as you take Annie to the hospital for a full body checkup, Ivan will make a surgery plan based on Annie’s health condition. As long as Annie does not have any health problems, he will arrange surgery for her. You don’t have to worry. He will definitely not leave in the middle of the operation this time. I will watch him. If he dares to do so, I will break his legs.”

Georgia cried with joy.

“Robert, thanks a lot. Really thanks a lot. If I didn’t meet you in my life, I don’t know what should I do now.”

Georgia kept saying thanks to Robert and Robert couldn’t help but ask, “Did Annie have a heart problem because she was born inside the prison?”

Georgia nodded sadly.

“When I was in the prison, probably the people from the Lane family instructed the people inside to make me in trouble. Therefore, many people were bullying me at that time. I almost had a miscarriage... Luckily, I was sent to the hospital early. After I knew I was pregnant, I stayed alone in another room until I gave birth. However, Annie was born with a heart problem. I feel sorry for Annie. It’s me who didn’t protect her well.

Georgia blamed herself and Robert felt very sad. He didn’t even dare to ask her further.

Robert knew very well that he was the one who ordered the people inside the prison to humiliate her.

However, it was so hard for him to make Georgia love him again. He definitely could not let her know the truth. He must hide the truth from her forever.

“It’s okay. After Ivan operates on Annie, Annie will get well. When he planned the operation last time, he told me that Annie’s health condition is not that bad. As long as the operation is finished, Annie will definitely be able to run and jump in the future, just like other children. Annie will become a normal child.”

Of course, Annie hoped that something like that happened. She smiled at Robert.

“Robert, thanks a lot. I am so lucky to be able to meet you in my life.”

Robert just held Georgia’s hand. He felt like he was the one who had failed to protect her and even accidentally hurt her.

For the rest of his life, he must love and take care of her, so that she would never be hurt again.

The two of them talked slowly like this until both of them gradually fell into a deep sleep.

The next morning, the alarm set by Georgia went off suddenly. She had set the alarm for seven o'clock, and Robert also woke up because of it. "It's so early. Gigi, sleep a little longer. You cried for so long last night and talked to me so much in the middle of the night. You didn't sleep for a long time at all."

Georgia shook her head.

"It's Monday, Robert. I have to go to work."

Robert was very reluctant to let Georgia go to work. Grabbing her hand, he asked, "Can't you just take a day off to accompany me?"

Georgia hesitated for a while and in the end, she shook her head firmly.

"No, I had an accident before and didn't go to work for a few days.

Before that, there were also several times when I took time off for various reasons. I can't keep taking leaves... Robert, my research report and the experiment are almost done. I don't know if you have witnessed the scene when we attend the banquet of the Murphy family. The professor and I have already challenged Percy. Didn't you also give me the goods on Percy? I must hurry up and do my experiments this while. This is my only chance to defeat Percy. I don't want to give up."

Of course, Robert must support the girl she liked as she was so ambitious.

It was just that he was a bit sad that she couldn't accompany him.

"Then you go to work first. I'll ask the driver to send you to your office."

Georgia didn't refuse Robert's kindness.

"Thank you, Robert."

Georgia hurriedly washed up, and the maid also began to help Robert get up and wash up.

By the time Georgia finished washing up and was ready for breakfast, Robert already finished washing up and was ready for breakfast. Robert had also been pushed into the dining room by the housekeeper in his wheelchair.

The two of them ate their breakfast and Georgia had her breakfast carefully.

She chewed and swallowed her breakfast carefully and slowly as if she tried her best to eat her food properly.

But in the end, Georgia felt that her throat was getting uncomfortable.

However, for the sake of the child inside her belly, she had to eat the food carefully.

When Robert saw how hard it was for Georgia to eat, he asked worriedly, "Is the food not tasty? You don't have to force yourself to eat them."

Georgia shook her head.

"It's not like that. Didn't I tell you before? I am having gastritis. I have slight anorexia when I eat. I have to eat now to have some strength, so I must force myself to eat a little more."

Originally, he still suspected if Georgia was pregnant, but he realized that he had thought too much looking at how difficult it was for Georgia to eat.

"Then eat slower. Don't force yourself to finish them."

Georgia felt a bit sad as she smiled and agreed.

However, he still forced herself to chew and swallow her food slowly.

In fact, last night, Georgia had countless chances to tell Robert that she was having their baby.

However, the doctor had said that there was a chance that the baby would not survive, and Georgia did not dare to tell Robert about it. She did not want to upset Robert as she didn't want to see Robert's disappointed and sad expression.

She didn't want to let nor see him being sad with her.

If the baby could survive, of course she would tell Robert about it.

But what if the baby could not survive? Why should she make Robert suffer with her?

If the baby couldn't survive, Georgia would choose to bear the pain alone.

After finishing her meal, Georgia was ready to get up and leave when Robert asked her directly in a gentle tone.

"Before leaving, shouldn't you give me a parting kiss?"

Georgia was a little shy, but after what she experienced yesterday, she had learnt one thing. She must be brave enough to express her love towards others.

Georgia walked towards Robert. She then bent down and kissed his cheeks.

Then, she smiled.

"Robert, I will go to work first. Your body is still not recovered and you don't need to pick me up from MU Research Institute in the afternoon. I will come to visit you in the afternoon after I finish my work."

After hearing her words, Robert smiled.

"Don't worry, I'll be waiting for you at home."

After waiting for Georgia to leave, Robert instructed his housekeeper, "As you saw just now, Georgia said that she had difficulty when she ate her breakfast as if she had slight anorexia. What should be done to settle her problem?"

Of course, the housekeeper didn't know how to settle her problem. He wasn't a doctor.

However, the housekeeper couldn't taunt him and he could only answer it formally.

"Sir, maybe Miss Lane does not like the taste of the food cooked by the kitchen staff. Should we hire a few more chefs to cook in the kitchen? Maybe they will cook food differently and Miss Lane won't be anorexic anymore."

Robert agreed to his statement.

"You're right. I should hire a few more chefs and also a few more nutritionists."

Robert thought that he did not only need to ask someone to cook delicious food for Georgia but should also provide her enough nutrients as she looked very thin and weak now. She must be suffering from malnutrition.

When she was hugging her last night, he even felt that her body was too skinny.

It was time for him to ask a nutritionist to come to the house and then take good care of Georgia's body.

Robert thought that he couldn't let Georgia be so skinny as he hoped that he and Georgia could have a child as cute as Annie.

As Robert thought that, he called his assistant to ask him to call some chefs and nutritionists to come to his villa.

On the other side, Georgia had already arrived at her office to work.

When she just arrived at MU Research Institute, Aston had come to find her.

"Georgia, the professor wants to speak to us. Let's go to his office first."

Georgia nodded and she followed Aston to Professor Lee's office.

Professor Lee handed one of the nature magazines to Georgia and Aston.

"This magazine is the best biological science magazine in the world. You all also know how famous this magazine is worldwide. Percy published an article in the latest issue of the magazine. This is the latest article about his progress he had published after six years. Everyone in the industry was shocked. Georgia, Aston, you two read it first. Does this have anything to do with the experimental data done by you two?" After they read it over, Georgia and Aston were almost certain that there was a mole inside the research lab.

Georgia knew that the mole must be Anaya.

Aston was still unclear about the situation, and he asked in confusion. "How could Percy have the data from the experiments done by us? Did he steal the experimental data inside our research lab?"

Professor Lee nodded, and he told Aston what Georgia had said that day.

"So it was Anaya who did this..."

Aston wasn't surprised. He even looked confident.

"Professor, this experimental data is not complete. I will always put a copy of the incomplete data in my computer to avoid people with bad motives stealing the experimental data. You do not have to worry about it. If we really have to confront Percy, we will be the winner."

After saying this, Aston looked at Georgia.

"What about your side? Are there any problems?"

Georgia smiled confidently.

"Same. I didn't expose some experimental factors and experimental data to the public. This time Percy will be the loser. When the day comes at the end of the month, the two of us can completely make him dumbfounded. Moreover, I have other goods on him."

Georgia took her phone out.

She decided to play the video and recording for Professor Lee and Aston to listen. _____

Chapter 154 Putting On A Show In MU Research Institute

After she finished playing the video in her phone, Georgia continued playing the sound recording.

Professor Lee and Aston's eyes brightened.

"How did you get this?"

Professor asked curiously by the side.

"A friend of mine helped me."

Georgia didn't know how to describe Robert, so she could only introduce him as a friend.

But when she said it, Georgia felt a pang of sweetness in her heart.

"Since we have this two evidence, then let's play it big, we will first let Percy feel proud of himself."

Aston suggested by the side.

“How do we play?”

Georgia was curious as to what idea Aston had.

“Very simple, since Percy had already published his article on the nature magazine, they definitely are looking forward to our response now. If we pretend that nothing happened, Percy and the rest would definitely think that we are very confident, and they will start to question themselves. Now we have to pretend that we are very frantic, conducting our experiments over long hours, it would be best if we can pretend that we are very worried, and let them think that we have no more strategies, and think that they have gotten what they want... Other than that, it would be best if we can let loose of news that MU Research Institute would retreat and that we don't dare to attend Percy's seminar.”

“Aston, your suggestion is great. In this situation, we should let our enemies be full of themselves. It's Monday today, there're ten days left to next Sunday, and Percy's seminar is on that day. In these ten days, we can continue to pretend together. Apart from the three of us, no one can disclose the truth. Georgia, can you do this?”

Professor Lee asked Georgia. Of course Georgia would agree to it.

“Professor, don't worry, I will act according to your plans. It's just that my body condition is not too good, and I can't work overtime in the laboratory every day. Can we change this condition slightly?”

In the best interests of the baby in her tummy, Georgia felt that she shouldn't work too hard.

In the past, she could work overtime, and only get off work at 10 p.m. But now, Georgia felt that she should not do that anymore. Her priority was to take care of the baby in her tummy.

“The strategy mentioned just now is not the only strategy. If you're not feeling well now, we can change to another one.”

Aston said by the side.

Professor pondered for a moment.

“Georgia, are you confident with yourself? Are there any incompleteness or flaws in your current experimental data and report that require you to repeatedly test them out?”

Georgia shook her head, actually she had already finished her experimental data report very well, and what she had been doing during work recently was to explore new directions.

All these experimental data used to deal with Percy, she had already prepared them a long time ago.

“Professor, you’ve also seen my experimental report and data, there’s no problem with dealing with Percy. I am not investigating new directions at work, just that my idea isn’t clear yet.”

“Since this is the case, then let’s put on a show. This magazine just came out today, Percy will definitely be observing our reactions. Besides Anaya, we are not clear on whether there’re any other people in the lab that has been bribed. Hence, this can only be made known to the three of us. Later, I will throw a tantrum in the lab, then Georgia you will leave the office feeling wronged. If you’re not feeling well then have a good rest for a few days... But everyone else will think that I am unhappy with you. Do you understand?”

Georgia immediately understood Professor Lee’s meaning. She quickly nodded her head.

“Professor, don’t worry, I will act with you in this show.”

Actually Georgia also felt that she needed to rest for a while. The doctor had also said that her body required taking care of. She would use this opportunity to rest for a while, it would be a good thing.

The three of them discussed the strategy for a while in the lab. Aston and Georgia walked out from the office, and Aston’s face was dark, while Georgia’s face was dejected, looking depressed.

Returning to the office, everyone noticed that Aston’s and Georgia’s faces were looking different.

Aston straight away exclaimed in the office.

“Let’s meet immediately in the office, professor has already mentioned, he has something to say.”

Everyone felt weird. Aston’s face looked extremely cold, as if something big had happened.

Anaya also knew that the magazine had been published today. She had already been observing Georgia’s and Aston’s expressions. Seeing Georgia’s dejected look, Anaya felt especially gleeful.

She knew that her own proposal would make Georgia lose out.

Now that she saw Aston’s cold look towards Georgia, Anaya felt even happier.

After about ten minutes, the group of ten plus people from the experimental team gathered in the lab.

Ernie didn’t even know the reason Professor Lee wanted to hold a meeting.

He sat by the side, after observing everyone, Ernie spoke to Professor Lee.

“Professor Lee, everyone’s here, should we start the meeting now?”

Professor Lee nodded his head. He suddenly slammed the table angrily, his face dark.

“What are you guys doing? Didn’t even realize that the CCTV in the lab has spoilt, and let others steal our experimental data, what’s more none of you even realized. Are you all good-for-nothings?”

With Professor Lee’s words, then only everyone realized that such a serious incident had occurred.

Their internal experimental data had been leaked, everyone started discussing among themselves, what do they do now?

Anaya was a little scared, she looked at Professor Lee tentatively, deeply worried that she would be found out.

Professor Lee huffed coldly.

“From now on, everyone check among yourselves the experimental data. If there are any abnormalities, report to me immediately. Also, at the end of the month, Professor Percy would be having a seminar in Imperial University. None of you are allowed to take part then, so as to avoid throwing MU’s face!”

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More
10 Facts About Maria Sharapova That Will Surprise You

Ernie asked curiously by the side.

“Professor, didn’t we already announce our challenge with Professor Percy last time? If we don’t go, the whole industry will be laughing at us.”

Professor Lee looked at Ernie and started laughing mockingly.

“Do you think everyone is not laughing at us now? Percy had just released his thesis on the magazine, that report had already shocked the people in the industry, our experiment thesis would not be able to beat that.”

Finishing his words, Professor Lee looked at Georgia.

“Georgia, you can’t even take care of your own experimental data, what’s more you still want to come to me and tell me that they were stolen. Where’s your evidence? From now on, get out of MU, all of us at MU do not welcome you.”

Georgia lowered her head in dejection.

“Professor, I’m sorry, my experimental data had really been stolen, please believe me, give me a chance...”

In front of everyone, Georgia looked like she was almost about to cry. But Professor Lee did not spare her.

“Even if it was stolen, don’t you know to keep your experimental data a secret? Don't you even have this basic knowledge of keeping a secret? Since this is the case, what other use do you have? Pack your things immediately and get out of MU!"

Professor Lee's voice was cold and hard, leaving absolutely no space for negotiation.

Georgia stood up unwillingly, and walked out of the office slowly.

Following that, Professor Lee spoke to everyone coldly.

"From now on, all of you work extra hours, if we can't see any results by the end of this month, I will fire the bottom three. Don't think I won't do that."

Finishing his words, Professor Lee said to Aston.

"You better work hard these few days, if you can come up with new results by the end of this month, then MU won't lose its face, do you understand?"

Aston nodded. After a moment, Professor Lee criticized the team again. After that, everyone dismissed.

Georgia was packing her things in the office at that moment, and everyone didn't dare to go speak to her.

They originally already had opinions regarding Georgia's past, now that Georgia was chased out by Professor, no one would sweet talk her.

Anaya looked at Georgia's tragic situation. She crossed her arms, and walked over gleefully in front of Georgia.

"I already told you before this, don't get too proud of yourself, look, this day has come for you!"

Anaya laughed mockingly. Georgia lowered her head in silence, looking extremely down.

"In the future, make sure you never come back to MU, do you understand? Since you became our colleague in MU, we have always gotten laughed at by people outside. Now that Professor has chased you out, you can finally get out from my sight."

Finishing her words, Anaya shouted at the people in the office.

"Everyone, this useless person Georgia has been chased out, isn't this such a happy occasion? Should we applaud her leaving?"

Finishing her words, Anaya started clapping her hands in front of everyone.

Slowly, everyone that hated Georgia started following Anaya's claps.

Georgia had always been thought of as relying on her network, added with her reputation of plagiarism, there were actually many people who hated her.

After a while, there were more than ten people who walked over to clap their hands, their eyes were filled with a mocking laugh. Anaya felt very satisfied with the current situation. Georgia didn't say anything, she carried the box that she had finished packing, and left silently. This made Anaya feel slightly unhappy, she had wanted Georgia to raise her head and speak to her. But, this woman was so shocked that she didn't dare to say anything, this made her feel that she had no sense of accomplishment. After leaving MU, Georgia immediately called a taxi and got on it. After that, her dejected face could finally loosen up. After acting for so long, she had almost spoiled everything. Especially when she had to endure Anaya's provocation. Luckily she hadn't disclosed a smile, if not she would have exposed herself. Thinking of that, Georgia picked up her phone and called Vanessa. "Vanessa, are you home now? I'm coming over now." "Isn't this your working hours? Annie is having her afternoon nap, why are you back now? Did anything happen?" Vanessa's concerned voice rang out through the phone, Georgia smiled and shook her head. "I'm fine, just a small incident, I don't have to go to work at the moment, you don't have to worry, I was not fired. I'll tell you more when I'm back." Georgia had initially thought that she would reach home safely, but halfway, just when they had reached the city centre, the car wheel spoiled. Georgia could only get off the car, and get ready to find another one. She waited at the sidewalk, but for a long time no taxi came by. This was the city centre, it was indeed hard to catch a taxi. Georgia was getting ready to use Didi to get a car. But suddenly in front of her appeared a familiar person. _____

Chapter 155 Decide to Divorce at Last

It was Emma's mother, Flora Wong. However, Georgia felt odd that Flora had her arm around the young man's shoulder. They looked so intimate. Georgia was interested in them. Owen was a male chauvinist. Although Flora kept threatening Georgia, she treated Owen with great care. Flora had another man secretly? If Owen knew that, that would be a tragedy.

Georgia followed Flora and the man stealthily. At once, Georgia saw them entering a hotel. Georgia saw them checking in from far away. She quickly took her phone and snapped a few pictures of them. If Owen knew that, something interesting would happen.

Georgia always wanted to take revenge on the Lane family but she could not find any opportunity. At the moment, she saw that kind of scene, she would not let go of it.

After that, Georgia called a taxi and went home.

However, once Georgia walked out of the lift, she saw Alfred walking out of the condominium. Georgia felt something odd.

Why was Alfred here? Did he bully Vanessa?

Georgia quickly walked towards him and asked him.

“Why are you here? Do you want to bully Vanessa again?”

Alfred took a pile of files, he smiled coldly at Georgia.

“Georgia, I have to remind you again about my identity. Keep your mouth shut, if you reveal it, don’t blame me for anything that happens to you.”

After saying that, Alfred showed a cold expression and got in the lift.

Georgia could not help but walk into the condominium. She found Vanessa sitting on the sofa quietly. She looked gloomy.

Georgia walked towards her and asked her confusingly.

“Does Alfred trouble you? Vanessa, do anything happen to you?”

Vanessa just shook her head.

“Georgia, Alfred does not do anything on me. He just takes the divorce agreement to me and asks me to sign it. After I sign, he leaves.

However, he reminds me of one thing, about his identity. He asks me to keep it a secret and do not reveal it forever.”

“He really divorces you?”

Georgia sighed. Vanessa and Alfred had hovered for a long time before. She thought that the man would not give up on her.

However, the man wanted to divorce now in such an easy way. Georgia felt that it was unbelievable.

“Does he state anything unfair on the divorce agreement?”

Georgia still did not believe it, Vanessa smiled bitterly.

“Georgia, Alfred has no relationship with me anymore. He tells me that we should act as stranger after we divorce. He will not see me anymore, neither I. We reach this stage at last.”

Vanessa smiled faintly but her expression was gloomy. Georgia quickly held her hand.

“Divorce is nothing, you’re still young, you must meet your true love in the future. Vanessa, don't think of Alfred anymore. No matter you hurt him intentionally or not, he hurts you too when he comes back. Since he wants to give up now, we should get over it."

Vanessa nodded, she was ready with it.

Six years ago, she could leave Alfred alone. Now, she still would be able to do it, she was just reluctant to do so.

However, there was nothing perfect in this world. Vanessa was grateful that they just separated peacefully and she did not become Alfred's hateful rival.

Alfred drove his car and left while they were talking. He called Rachel.

"I have signed the divorce agreement with Vanessa. Rachel, you have said that you want to marry me, right? After I verify the divorce agreement in the civil affairs bureau, you give me your booklet. Then, we will get married."

Rachel was satisfied, she knew that the man would marry her to retain his wealth.

The man finally belonged to her after six years.

"Alfred, I have said that I am the one matching you. This time, you make a good choice. I will assist you to get the power to control the Chow family in the future. Our child will be the heir of the Chow family. I will support you to hold the highest position."

Alfred showed a cold expression but his voice was gentle when he talked to Rachel.

"You rest well at home. I will visit you afterwards."

After hanging up the call, Alfred called Mrs. Chow.

They had negotiated well. Alfred would continue to act as Mrs. Chow's son until she found his real son.

"Mom, I get the divorce agreement signed by Vanessa already. After that, I will ask the lawyer to settle the procedure."

Isabel already knew that Vanessa was Alfred's weakness.

She planned to let them be together previously. Then, she would draw Alfred over to her side.

However, Alfred spoke something that made her cancel her plan. In fact, Rachel was the one knowing Alfred's identity.

Rachel stayed by Alfred's side for a few years. She also thought that Rachel would become her daughter-in-law.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Chow was discontented by Rachel's wild ambition. She thought that she could not control Rachel.

Isabel was even discontented with Rachel after she knew that Rachel falsified the DNA result.

Rachel was a threat to Isabel since she knew his identity. Isabel and Alfred planned to draw her over to their side.

If the woman went mad one day, Alfred's identity would be exposed.

Isabel could not help but recognize Rachel as her daughter-in-law.

"How about Rachel? Do you comfort her?"

Isabel asked.

"I call her and inform her that I have divorced. After that, I will marry her. Do you satisfy with this?"

Isabel could feel that Alfred was discontented with Rachel.

It was necessary to give a sweet treat to someone useful to you.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More

"Alfred, you just comfort Rachel well temporarily. You can marry her and after you know her background, you should let her disappear from the world. After that, you can live your life with Vanessa again, I will not object. But you have to comfort her now, don't let her go crazy. It is just an expedient."

Isabel did not want Rachel to be alive, she was a threat.

Isabel was not clear whether there were any other people behind Rachel. After Isabel found up the people behind Rachel, Isabel would settle her so that she would not create any serious problem.

Alfred nodded.

"I get it. I will investigate it clearly. Don't worry, I will explain to grandpa by myself."

After saying that, Alfred took his phone and called his grandfather.

His grandfather spoke first before he talked about the matter of divorce.

"I have checked the video about Vanessa, guess what? I really find someone who looks similar to her. I already ask others to catch her, do you want to meet her?"

Alfred's words stuck in his throat abruptly.

He thought that Georgia and Vanessa were lying, he thought that they allied and cheated on him.

In fact, Vanessa was not the one involved in the video.

Alfred's emotion was complicated, he did not know how to face Vanessa suddenly.

His heart cracked at the moment.

"Grandpa, where is she? I will go there soon."

Alfred drove there after knowing the address.

On another side, Georgia explained that she just pretended to be expelled from MU Research Institute and asked Vanessa not to worry. She just rest at home.

After that, Georgia told her about the matter of hers and Robert.

Vanessa then revealed a relieved expression.

“Georgia, since Robert is sincere, you should concern about him as well. You two should appreciate each other.”

Georgia nodded.

Since she experienced life and death yesterday. She understood how important was to express love.

It was the most blissful thing to have the loved one alive. Georgia would not shilly-shally and concerned about any other things.

Or else, she would be regretted when her loved one left.

“How about the baby in your womb? What do you want to do with it? Don’t you want to inform Robert?”

Vanessa asked her.

Georgia was hesitant, she told Vanessa about the result of the antenatal care.

“Vanessa, I don’t know whether it is the right timing to tell the truth now. I am not confident to keep the baby safe. Robert is happy now, he seems to love kids. I am dispirited and the feeling really hurts. I don’t want to see him sad too.”

“Both of you are spouses. You should undertake everything with him. Georgia, you see Alfred and me, I pretend to break up with him without discussing with him in the past. I don’t even know how hurtful it is for Alfred. After that, he hates me and we tangle again. We only suffer afterwards. Georgia, I hope you can tell him the truth about the baby. You two should face it together, I think Robert will not be down easily...If it is a still-born baby, at least he can accompany you and hug you. Both of you can face the misery together.”

Georgia was hesitant, she could not make a decision at the moment.

After a while, Annie woke up from her afternoon nap. Georgia decided not to think of anything anymore.

She finally had time to rest, she wanted to play with her daughter for the entire afternoon. All in all, Georgia promised to meet Robert in the afternoon.

Georgia did not want to break the promise. She was also afraid that Robert would be anxiously waiting for her at home.

“Mommy, why do you want to stay in another place? You did not come back last night. I miss you.”

Annie was reluctant to let Georgia go, she hoped that she could stay with her mother every day.

“Just a few days. After that, I will stay in the condominium again.”

Georgia did not want to stay with Robert every day but they had just expressed their love recently. Georgia was reluctant to leave Robert, she wanted to stay by him for a while.

Her daughter was the most important person for her but Robert had done a lot for her. It was rational for her to stay with him for a few days.

“Mommy just stays in another place for a few days only. Annie, mommy will see you during the morning time, is it ok?”

It was not bad but Annie felt odd.

“Mommy, you have to work from Monday to Friday, right? How can you play with me in the morning?”

“Because I am having my annual leave, I want to accompany and play with my little princess.”

Annie showed an excited expression, she kissed Georgia’s cheek.

“Mommy, I know that you are the best to me!”

Georgia and Annie played the video game for a while. Then, they played with Lego and drawings. Georgia decided to leave when it was 6 p.m. Before she left, Vanessa asked her worryingly.

“Will Ivan do surgery for Annie this time? I am always worried.”

“I am worried too but I trust Robert. He has promised me, then he will never break the promise.”

“Alright, you go to see Robert first. I will take care of Annie, don’t worry.”

Georgia nodded. Then, she took a taxi to Robert’s villa.

Once she got in the car, she called Robert. She told him that she was on the way.

When she reached the villa, Georgia found that there were a lot more people in the villa.

She had stayed there for a while previously. She had seen all the maids there. However, it seemed to be a lot of strange faces that she never met before.

Georgia looked at Robert’s smiling face and asked him confusingly.

“Why so many people, what happened?”

Robert waved his hand. Four strangers walked towards them instantly.

There were three men and one woman.

Chapter 156 Catching The Car Stealer

"I saw that you didn't eat much this morning. I thought maybe the food they cooked wasn't quite to your taste, so I recruited three chefs to come over and cook. Later you can try the dishes they make and see which one you like."

Having said that, Robert spoke to the people in front of him.

"Introduce the dishes you are good at cooking."

"Ma'am, I specialize in Cantonese cuisine."

A thin man came forward and introduced himself.

Another chubby man spoke up again.

"Ma'am, I am good at Sichuan cuisine. Of course, I can also do Lu and Hunan cuisines."

Another sturdy man stepped forward.

"Ma'am, I am good at Northwest cuisine. As for other dishes, I can make them too. As long as you tell me the recipe, I can make them all."

It turned out that these three men were chefs. Just hearing them call her Ma'am, Georgia blushed. She looked down and persuaded in Robert's ear.

"Why do they call me that? Do you want them to change it?"

"What nonsense are you saying? Aren't you going to marry me? I've asked everyone in the family to call you Madam, and you'll be the mistress of the house from now on. What's wrong with them calling you Ma'am?"

Robert replied confidently. He even took Georgia's hand up and kissed it gently. Georgia's face turned even redder.

She couldn't say a word and just felt shy as hell.

It seemed like ever since she said what she wanted, this man started expressing what he thought very bluntly. Because she didn't eat well, he just invited three chefs over.

If it was before, Georgia would have wanted to refuse. Because she was not a picky eater.

Just thinking about how she was suffering from anorexia, Georgia wished she could eat more and hoped the baby in her belly would grow better. She stammered.

"Just have them make one of all the dishes they're good at, and I'll taste it first."

Georgia said sheepishly. She felt like she was about to be corrupted by the life of the rich capitalist.

Robert smiled with satisfaction. He knew that Georgia would be satisfied with his decision.

If there was a chef who could make Georgia eat more, he would definitely give that chef a big red packet. With this in mind, Robert spoke to the three men in front of him.

"Ma'am just said, you guys make a dish that you are good at first, and put it in the dining room when it's done."

The three men nodded and then retreated. The only person left in front of them was a strange, tall woman.

The woman wore glasses and looked somewhat quiet. Georgia was a bit curious about the identity of the woman in front of her, and Robert had already introduced her.

"This is Miss Clark. Her name is Sherlyn, and she is a famous nutrition expert. You're too skinny now, so I want to hire a nutrition expert for you."

Georgia nodded.

"Miss Clark, I will trouble you in the future."

Sherlyn smiled gently at Georgia.

"Ma'am, don't worry. I will do my duty and make sure you eat nutritiously and healthily."

Although she said so, Georgia always felt that this nutrition expert called Sherlyn was looking at her a bit strangely.

It was just that she could hardly even swallow the food now. Her primary goal was to get something in. The nutrition expert would only recommend nutritious food, and if she couldn't swallow it, it would be a waste of effort.

But Georgia couldn't tell the truth about her condition. That would be a blow to Robert and she wanted to make him happy.

Georgia turned to Robert and kissed him on the cheek.

"Thank you for all you've done for me. Don't worry, I'll eat well."

And deep down in her heart, Georgia was hesitant to tell the truth about the child.

Vanessa had also advised her today, and she couldn't keep hiding this matter.

Only, while Georgia was still hesitating, Robert spoke to Georgia.

"Push me to go for a walk inside the garden. Anyway, the cook hasn't finished the dinner yet. Let's go out for some fresh air first."

Georgia nodded and took the initiative to push Robert's wheelchair outside.

Only just as they reached the door, Georgia found that Sherlyn had also followed them, which made Georgia feel a little strange.

Did the nutrition specialist need to follow her at all times? Georgia was too embarrassed to ask her, and she just pushed Robert out the door.

After a while, Georgia pushed Robert to the middle of the garden.

There were several chairs and a table.

"Robert, let's rest here for a while."

The sun was starting to set and Robert nodded.

Georgia turned Robert's wheelchair to face the setting sun. She was about to start talking when Robert turned to Sherlyn and asked.

"Miss Clark, why are you here too?"

Robert was trying to talk to Georgia alone. He felt it was inconvenient for him and Georgia to make out when there were many people. But why did this woman follow them? Robert thought it was strange.

Sherlyn's face reddened all of a sudden.

"Mr. Simpson, Ma'am, I was just ... I was just afraid that you might want me to do something, so I thought I would follow you."

"We don't need you to do anything for now. You go back and rest first."

Robert spoke up while Sherlyn left with a blushing face.

Georgia finally realized that something was not quite right.

When Sherlyn looked at Robert, she seemed to be a little shy and a little in love with him. Could it be that she likes Robert?

Georgia guessed so in her heart but did not ask more questions. She just sat next to Robert and asked him.

"There is one thing I forgot to ask you yesterday. Aren't you going to have several more surgeries on your legs? In the future, will you stay at home and not go to the hospital?"

Robert couldn't help but smile and reached out to gently hold Georgia's hand.

"I have hired a family doctor to check me every day. If it's not a major illness, I don't need to go to the hospital. The family doctor can just do this kind of thing."

Georgia instantly felt like she didn't know what to say.

After all, Robert was a rich man and could have hired many nurses and doctors to guard his side at any time.

She probably lacked imagination about the life of rich people.

While she didn't know what to say, Robert spoke up again.

"When are you going to take Annie to the hospital for a checkup?"

Actually, I've been wanting to tell you about it. There is a family doctor here, and last time, I also prepared the caregiver and doctor to take care of Annie. Do you want to bring Annie to live at home? Don't worry, I will get along well with Annie and I will try to make Annie like me."

Georgia couldn't help but slap her head.

"I'm such a dumbass."

Robert asked in confusion.

"What's wrong? Did something happen?"

Georgia then told Robert that she pretended to quit her job today.

"I spent half of the day at home playing with Annie. By the end of the day, I actually forgot to take her to the hospital for a checkup. I was so stupid. I'm obviously free today."

"Georgia, didn't you just say that you need to act out being resigned for a while, and maybe it will last until the end of this month? Then you have plenty of time. Tomorrow or the day after tomorrow, let's find a time to take Annie to the hospital for a checkup. At that time, I'll take you and Annie to the hospital together."

Georgia hurriedly shook her head.

"It's not convenient for you to go out like this now. I'll just go by myself."

Georgia's heart ached for Robert. Robert was always daring and energetic before his leg was injured.

Now that he was in a wheelchair, she didn't know if other people would laugh at him. She didn't want Robert to see people looking at him differently, and she would be heartbroken.

Robert, however, was adamant.

"Do you think it will be inconvenient for me to go out? I'll bring enough bodyguards with me to push the wheelchair, so you don't even have to bother. I really want to meet Annie. I know that Annie has never liked me very much before. But in the future, we are going to live together. I can't let Annie hate me all the time."

Georgia was touched by Robert's words.

Her eyes were red and she nodded.

"Well then, let's take Annie to the hospital for a checkup together."

"Why are your eyes red? Did I bother you by insisting on seeing Annie?"

Robert didn't want Georgia to be bothered by him at this time, and Georgia just shook her head.

She didn't know why, but the more she felt this man's love and care for her, the more her heart ached.

"I just think ... you're too good for me. I'm a little scared that you'll leave me. Am I thinking too much? Don't you laugh at me ..."

Georgia burst into tears when she said this out loud, and Robert felt particularly heartbroken.

She never had it before, which was why she was so afraid of losing it now.

His heart ached when he thought of Georgia being in prison for the first few years and then suffering because of him when she got out.

It was all because of him that Georgia suffered so much in the past, otherwise, Georgia would not be so scared now.

"No, no matter what happens, I will protect you. I will always be by your side ... After you bring Annie here, we will live together as a family. In a few years, if you are willing to have a child again, we will have another child. By then we will be the happiest family."

When she heard Robert say this, Georgia went over and hugged him tightly.

Perhaps, she should tell him about the baby.

With this in mind, Georgia let go of Robert and asked cautiously.

"Robert, if ... I mean, if Annie is also your child, would you believe in this possibility?"

Robert showed a surprised look. He was about to ask more questions when his cell phone rang. It was his father, Aidan, calling.

"My father called me. Georgia, wait a minute."

Georgia nodded. She wiped her tears, trying to force back the bitterness in her heart, while Robert had already picked up his cell phone and spoke to Aidan.

"What's going on? Is there something wrong?"

Aidan asked directly.

"I've caught the people who stole Ivan's car, and I'm interrogating them now. Do you want to come over?"

"You still haven't got the results?"

Robert asked on the other end of the phone.

"I just brought them over. I thought you'd probably be interested in these guys too. I made a call to Ivan as well, and he's already on his way here. You can wait for my results, or you can come over and interrogate them yourself."

Robert hesitated for a moment but decided to go over in person.

"Just wait for a moment. I will come right over."

After saying this, Robert hung up the phone and spoke to Georgia.

"My father has found the people who stole Ivan's car and is now preparing to interrogate them. Do you want to come with me to see what's going on? Maybe they'll identify the Lane family as the ones behind it."

Of course, Georgia was willing to go with him.

Only, Georgia didn't expect that she and Robert had just come to the group of men who were caught, and they pointed at her angrily.

"It's her. Georgia is the one who ordered us to steal the car! Georgia, you can't turn your back on us now!" ____

Chapter 157 His Trust

Three men who looked ferocious were angrily scolding Georgia Lane. Georgia was very lost, she didn't know what was going on, and why these three men were in her face berating her. She didn't even know them.

Aidan Simpson glared at Georgia.

"I had already asked them, they all insisted that you were the one who instructed them to steal the car. Georgia, how are you defending yourself?"

"I... It's not me, I don't even know them..."

"At this point, why are you still denying the truth? Georgia, if you don't make things clear right here, don't even think of leaving this house."

Aidan looked at her with extremely cold eyes, he was showing absolutely no mercy to her. He was sure that Georgia was the perpetrator.

Georgia panicked and grabbed Robert Simpson's hand. She kept shaking her head.

"Robert... I didn't do it, it really wasn't me..."

She was at the brink of breaking down into tears. She had no idea why these three men were accusing her.

"I know it wasn't you. Don't worry."

Robert kissed her hand warmly, calming her down slightly. Georgia was just afraid that Robert did not believe her.

"The one who instructed them to steal the car wasn't Georgia, Mr. Simpson, are you panicking because you're running out of options? Why are you willing to believe everything that these three men said?"

Aidan's cold emotions remained unchanged.

He replied, "Georgia, since you are so adamant that you're not the mastermind behind the car stealing, why not have a chat with these three fine gentlemen? Ask them why do they keep insisting that you're the one behind the stealing."

Georgia knew that she could not panic now, as she must clear herself of any suspicion.

Since the ones who stole the car were already caught, she faced them bravely and asked.

"All of you said that I instructed you to steal the car, where's the proof? Will you do anything I asked of you just because I said it?"

A man with dyed yellow hair replied.

“Miss Lane, are you trying to turn your back against us? You were the one who instructed us to steal the car in the beginning, you even paid us one million yuan after we did it.”

All of a sudden, Georgia laughed out loud. She turned and told Robert and Aidan.

“All three of them can’t be in the same room, split them up and I’ll interrogate them.”

She was confident that she could get them to spit out the truth.

She did not instruct them, she also did not know them. By asking them one by one and picking out differences between their statements, she will be proven innocent.

After listening to what she said, Aidan was slightly impressed, a big difference from his originally cold emotions.

He ordered his bodyguards to separate all three of them and detain them in different rooms.

The three men’s name were Callen Beard, Tom Lewis, and Toby Stewart.

Aidan brought Georgia and Robert and interrogated Callen first.

Ivan Simpson got there just as the interrogation started. He had no idea as to what was going on, but still followed Aidan and his company.

Callen was the one with the yellow hair, he was also the one who claimed that the three of them got one million yuan. Georgia smiled and asked him.

“You said that your merry little group got one million yuan, so how exactly did you split the spoils? Did you split it evenly among yourselves?”

“We split it evenly, obviously!”

He said while puffing his chest.

“You can’t split one million evenly among you three, so tell me, exactly how much did you get?”

“We spent a hundred thousand to have fun together, the remaining nine hundred thousand was then split 30-30-30 between us.”

Callen said with extreme confidence. Georgia continued asking him.

“Since you claimed that I was the one giving you the instructions, tell me how did I instruct you? By calling you? By texting you? Or did I find someone else to give you the instructions? Also, where and when did we meet? And how did I transfer the money to you?”

“On the night before the stealing, you gave us a call. You told us that if we stole the car, and then wrecked it, you will transfer the million yuan payment to my bank account after the deed is done.”

“So, what you’re saying is, we never met each other face to face? And I only contacted you through the phone, is that correct?”

Callen nodded in agreement.

“Then how is it possible for you to recognize me? I’ve never met you, remember?”

All of a sudden, he was at a lost for words. He panicked, looked at Georgia and said.

“You had instructed us to do something else before this. We had already met before this.”

“Tell me why exactly did I meet you guys for back then? Give me all the details.”

“It was a few days before the stealing, you wanted to meet us at a village. You told us to prepare ourselves, as something will be happening soon. You promised us that the money will be transferred after we did the thing. So, you asked for my bank account number during that time. You also told me that the details will be provided through the phone later. We’ve already met back then. How could you turn your back against us now, Miss Lane?”

Callen continued to defend himself.

“I told you to be exact, how many days ago were ‘a few days’? Were you alone? Or did your partners in crime also came? And at which village did we have our conversation?”

Georgia was slowly but surely gaining confidence as she continued her interrogation.

“It was three days ago, I was the only one who met you. We met in that factory in the suburb of the west. You can stop asking so deliberately now, Miss Lane, I remember everything.”

“Very well, wait here, Callen.”

Georgia turned and said to Robert,

“We will ask the same questions to the other two guys. I can guarantee you that their answers will be different from each other, as they are lying about me having met them before.”

Georgia left alongside Robert, with Aidan and Ivan following them. They left the basement with Callen in it.

When they got back to the living room, Aidan turned around and told Georgia.

“Miss Lane, I will order my men to interrogate the other two scumbags, you don’t have to interrogate them now.”

Georgia was confused when she saw Aidan’s behaviour towards her changed to a caring one. She had no clue as to how exactly will Aidan treat her.

When she was being accused by the three men some time ago, Aidan looked as if he can kill someone with his gaze, like he was going to avenge her daughter.

And now, he appeared to be confident, and treated her warmly.

“I will be resting with Georgia in the living room, then. You can go and continue the interrogations with your men. It’s obvious that these three idiots did not come up with a universal excuse, your men will have to try really hard to fail to get them to spit out the truth.”

Robert said coldly, as Aidan smiled and told him.

“Among these men, there’s one called Toby who had just gotten a newborn baby not long ago. My men just informed me that they’ve brought that baby here, you two can rest here now. Ivan, you can join them too, I’ll take care of both of them soon, just wait here.”

Ivan, Robert and Georgia stayed in the living room as Aidan brought his men and went to the room with Toby in it.

Before he even said anything, Aidan ordered his bodyguard to bring out the baby right in front of Toby.

In a flash, Toby started panicking. He thought to himself, that baby was his only son, how could this man find him? He even hid the baby very well!

Aidan had one of the men put a knife to the baby’s throat and said.

“I’ll cut to the chase, I’ll give you three seconds, if you fail to tell me the truth after the time is up, your precious little kid will die here, and no one will ever find out what happened to him.”

Having said this, he turned to face the bodyguard holding the baby.

“Clock’s ticking. Three...two...one...”

Before he said ‘one’, Toby anxiously asked.

“W-what do you want to know? I’ll tell you everything I know!”

Aidan smiled cruelly and said.

“If you keep up your blabbering, I don’t know what’s going to happen to your child, mate. Three...Two...”

Just as Aidan said ‘two’, Toby got on his knees and begged him, he said.

“I...I’ll say it. It wasn’t Georgia Lane who instructed us. Back then, it was a man who gave us the instructions. He also showed us a photo of Miss Lane and told us her name. He said if we ever get caught, we should claim that it was her that instructed us. We really don't know who instructed us, other than he's a man. He gave us instruction through the phone, and then wired one million yuan to Callen's account. We then split the money between ourselves."

Aidan replied, "So, you're telling me that you're only accusing Miss Lane because the real culprit told you to?"

Toby nodded quickly.

"Please, I've already told you the truth. Can you please let my son go?"

Aidan nodded.

"Very well, I'll send the kid back."

Having said that, Aidan immediately brought his men and went to interrogate Tom.

He then told Tom everything Toby said. These guys were nothing but scaredy cats, they don't really have any courage. After Tom knew that Toby had already spilled the beans, he also anxiously told Aidan the truth.

He thought that stealing and wrecking a car could earn him a few hundred thousand yuan easily. Now, it seemed like they had made someone who held a lot of power very angry.

Aidan returned to the living room.

Georgia, Robert and Ivan were chatting with each other. By then, Robert had already explained everything about the basement to Ivan. Ivan was not buying anything the three men said. He saw that Aidan was approaching them and asked.

"Uncle, the three of them were obviously lying. It must be the Lane family that told them to lie. How could you believe that Georgia was the one behind what they did?"

brought that baby here, you two can rest here now. Ivan, you can join them too, I'll take care of both of them soon, just wait here."

Ivan, Robert and Georgia stayed in the living room as Aidan brought his men and went to the room with Toby in it.

Before he even said anything, Aidan ordered his bodyguard to bring out the baby right in front of Toby.

In a flash, Toby started panicking. He thought to himself, that baby was his only son, how could this man find him? He even hid the baby very well!

Aidan had one of the men put a knife to the baby's throat and said.

"I'll cut to the chase, I'll give you three seconds, if you fail to tell me the truth after the time is up, your precious little kid will die here, and no one will ever find out what happened to him."

Having said this, he turned to face the bodyguard holding the baby.

"Clock's ticking. Three...two...one..."

Before he said 'one', Toby anxiously asked.

"W-what do you want to know? I'll tell you everything I know!"

Aidan smiled cruelly and said.

"If you keep up your blabbering, I don't know what's going to happen to your child, mate. Three...Two..."

Just as Aidan said 'two', Toby got on his knees and begged him, he said.

"I...I'll say it. It wasn't Georgia Lane who instructed us. Back then, it was a man who gave us the instructions. He also showed us a photo of Miss Lane and told us her name. He said if we ever get caught, we should claim that it was her that instructed us. We really don't know who instructed us, other than he's a man. He gave us instruction through the phone, and then wired one million yuan to Callen's account. We then split the money between ourselves."

Aidan replied, "So, you're telling me that you're only accusing Miss Lane because the real culprit told you to?"

Toby nodded quickly.

"Please, I've already told you the truth. Can you please let my son go?"

Aidan nodded.

"Very well, I'll send the kid back."

Having said that, Aidan immediately brought his men and went to interrogate Tom.

He then told Tom everything Toby said. These guys were nothing but scaredy cats, they don't really have any courage. After Tom knew that Toby had already spilled the beans, he also anxiously told Aidan the truth.

He thought that stealing and wrecking a car could earn him a few hundred thousand yuan easily. Now, it seemed like they had made someone who held a lot of power very angry.

Aidan returned to the living room.

Georgia, Robert and Ivan were chatting with each other. By then, Robert had already explained everything about the basement to Ivan. Ivan was not buying anything the three men said. He saw that Aidan was approaching them and asked.

“Uncle, the three of them were obviously lying. It must be the Lane family that told them to lie. How could you believe that Georgia was the one behind what they did?”

Chapter 158 Uncle in Law

Aidan smiled and sat down on the other side of the couch.

“Ms Lane, I’m sorry for just now, I wanted to test you when those guys claimed that it was you. I wanted to know if you are capable enough to stand beside Robert. The Simpson is a powerful family and surrounded by complicated people, I wanted to see how well you can hold the title as Mrs Simpson. I have my ways to interrogate them actually.”

Georgia was a little surprised. She had never expected what happened just now was a test from Robert’s father.

She didn’t know how to react but Robert spoke to his father sarcastically.

“Mr Simpson, you are not a responsible father, you had never cared about me all these years, but now wanted to know and test the capabilities of my woman? You have no right to do that.”

Aidan gave out a helpless smile.

“Think as you pleased, I only wish that you will be happy with Ms Lane. If she wasn’t capable enough, I planned to send more people to protect both of you. Robert, you are still young, did you know that Laurence keeps you under his surveillance?”

Robert’s face stiffened.

He had been tracking Laurence since he was back home, he was his enemy and Laurence wanted him dead, so Robert wanted to make the first move.

But he couldn’t find anything, Laurence seemed to have disappeared from this world.

Robert felt that Laurence was a tiger hiding in the wood preying on him, he was waiting for an opportunity to devour him. He was worried.

He had a lover and a mother to protect, so Robert wanted to get rid of Laurence the soonest possible.

“Forget about Laurence, I have my men on him. I thought he will let you off the hook if I make a business deal with him, but he hated you to the core, your situation now is only one could live. So I hope you won’t reject my help, don’t wait until your loved ones get hurt and regret not accepting my help today.”

Robert remained silent, he didn’t want Aidan help.

He left over ten years ago and he didn’t need a belated father’s love.

But Aidan was more powerful and resourceful than he was.

He was only thirty, his networks were nothing compared to Aidan’s.

If he was alone in this world, he will never accept help from Aidan.

But he couldn’t bear seeing Georgia or his mother get hurt, so he replied casually, “Do as you want, but I hope you won’t interfere with my life.”

Aidan smile in satisfaction.

“I’ve interrogated them just now and they admitted that Ms Lane has nothing to do with the incident. Someone showed them your picture, told them your name and instructed them to blame it all on you should they get caught.”

Georgia let out a sigh of relief.

“Thank you, Mr Simpson.”

Aidan nodded and turned to Robert.

“The three of them admitted that they received one million, the money was transferred to an account under Callen. Robert, get your man to check this transaction, it must be from the Lane family, can you do it?”

Robert nodded. “Send me the account information and I will investigate.”

The atmosphere became dead silent in an instant, Georgia didn’t know what to say and Aidan’s mobile rang.

“Uncle in law, we are here, can you let us in?”

It was a woman’s voice from the other side, Aidan nodded.

“One moment, I will ask them to open the gate.”

“Please sit for a while, I have visitors.”

Georgia and Robert remained seated and it was Aston and Emilia that walked in.

The world was small, the siblings knew Robert’s father.

“Uncle in law.”

“Have a seat.”

Aidan said while Georgia was astonished.

Aston and Emilia addressed Aidan as uncle in law.

But they are not related to Robert.

Which mean Robert's father married Emilia and Aston's aunt. While Georgia was thinking about all that, Robert held her hand with a stiffened face.

"Since you have visitors, we should leave."

Robert looked unhappy, he rejected them while Emilia and Aston greeted Georgia.

"Ms Lane, nice to see you."

They didn't ask the reason why Georgia was here.

But Aston met Robert, he visited MU before and humiliated Georgia.

But now they are seated side by side holding hands, no matter how cold Aston was, he felt that they were odd, he didn't know what kind of relationship Georgia had with Robert.

They looked close at the party too and even got kidnapped together.

But Aston didn't think much, he thought it was just an accident.

And Aston knew this was not a good time to ask.

Aidan knew the struggle in Robert's heart, he didn't force further.

"I will send you Callen's account details, if you wish, you could go home now and do give me a call when you found out the truth."

Robert nodded coldly, he held Georgia's hand and said, "Bring me out of here, let's go home."

Ivan's face turned sour since Emilia entered the house, he didn't want to speak to her.

It looked like she was a relative of his uncle's wife, he had misunderstood her identity.

He thought she was nothing but a bar lady, a gold digger.

But she came in with her husband and addressed Aidan as uncle in law!

Ivan knew how wealthy Aidan was, Emilia was no different!

He had been fooled by this woman for the past six years.

Ivan said with a sour face, "Uncle, I will go with Robert."

Ivan followed Robert and Georgia's footsteps.

Georgia saw a familiar middle-aged woman while pushing Robert into the garden, she smiled friendly towards them and Georgia watched this woman enter the house.

She thought this woman looked really familiar.

But her thought was interrupted by Robert.

"Why did you stop?"

So Georgia continued pushing Robert. Ivan followed them into the car.

“Why are you here with us? Your car is behind.”

Robert said coldly to Ivan.

“Robert, I want to go to your place tonight, I will have my assistant bring my car home, I want to chat with you, can I?”

Robert didn't reply while Ivan called Ben.

“Bring the car and park at home, I will go to Robert's.”

And so the car headed to Robert's villa. Robert didn't say a word throughout the journey, he held onto Georgia's hand tightly.

When they arrived at the villa, Robert said to Georgia.

“I need to be alone to do some thinking, ask them to prepare your meal and have a good rest after.”

And then Robert turned to Ivan.

“I'm not in the mood to chat with you today, you can go home or tell the housekeeper if you want to stay overnight here.”

Georgia didn't know how to comfort Robert, she watched the servant pushed Robert back into his bedroom in silence.

There were only Georgia and Ivan remained in the living room.

“Ms Lane, don't worry about him, he felt depressed now, but he'll be fine in a while.”

Georgia confused about the relation between Robert and his parents, so she asked Ivan.

“I didn't know what happened between Robert and his father, could you tell me?”

Georgia wanted to know everything about Robert, she wanted to comfort and protect this man, she didn't want to see him unhappy.

“I thought you don't like Robert, it seems like I was wrong.”

Ivan smiled out of a sudden, they both sat on the couch and Ivan explained.

“It all begins with the marriage between my uncle and aunt.”

Georgia was all ears for Ivan.

“Their marriage was arranged, there was no love between them. They gave birth to Robert and Wendy through their ten years long marriage. Their relation was similar to an ordinary family, they treated each other with respect but my uncle fell in love with another woman insanely. He wanted a divorce but my aunt objected. My grandpa didn't agree too, grandpa was the one in control of the family at that time, he warned my uncle that if he insisted to get a divorce, he will not get a penny from the family and must never come back!”

“Everyone thought my uncle would tolerate but he chose to divorce, he left without taking a penny from the family, everything that belonged to him was transferred to Robert. He could inherit everything once he reached the age of maturity. So my uncle left when Robert was young and never came back. I met uncle again only this year, the Simpson family had already forgotten about the existence of this man. Emilia and her husband addressed my uncle as their uncle in law just now didn't they? I guess Robert was angry about this. And the middle-aged woman we saw on our way out must be his wife, although I can't be sure, but it seemed like it."

"Thank you for telling me all this."

Ivan smiled.

"Georgia, since you and Robert love each other, you must appreciate each other, Robert has had a lonely life all these years, he had never fallen for any woman. He asked me a few times to operate on your daughter, he truly cares about you."

Georgia felt sad suddenly and she nodded at Ivan.

"Don't worry, I will always be by his side, he loves me so much and I too will protect him as much as I could."

Ivan's impression of Georgia was getting better, he didn't want to go home because he knew he would get drunk at home.

Emilia appeared before him once again and he couldn't get her out of his head.

He asked Georgia.

"Emilia and her husband greeted you when they walked in, do you know them?"

When hearing Ivan's asking upon that part, Georgia had no idea how to explain it at the moment.

On the day of the Murphy family's banquet, Emilia and Aston pretended to be couple in front of Ivan.

Now it seemed that Ivan still didn't know anything about the truth.

Ivan had helped her a lot again just now. Georgia felt that she should not continue to cheat on him.

However, she had promised Emilia to keep her secret. Since she had assured Emilia on it, she shouldn't tell him the truth.

Georgia had no choice but to continue lying.

"He is my colleague and we work in the same research centre."

Ivan nodded.

"Georgia, I am getting a little tired and want to rest now. I will ask the butler to get a room for you. Bye."

After Ivan left, the butler came to Georgia.

“Ma’am, the food is ready in the kitchen, do you want to have dinner now?”

Georgia nodded.

Ivan and Robert could refuse to have their meal due to bad mood.

However, she couldn’t do that. She had to take good care of the baby in her stomach.

Georgia forced herself to have her dinner. For this time, the dishes were made by a few chefs and those were all their specialty.

However, Georgia still had no appetite. She just wanted to stay with Robert now.

In the end, Georgia just ate a bowl of rice. She then walked to Robert’s bedroom and knocked on his door.

“Robert, can I come in?”

After a long while, Robert’s voice came out from the room.

“You can just come in and door is not locked.”

Georgia opened the door and walked in. Only then she found that Robert was sitting in a wheelchair and looking out from the window quietly.

It was already dark outside with only the moon hanging in the sky.

Robert’s face looked cold.

Georgia walked over and squatted in front of him.

“You are still not happy? You don’t need to think about the sad things in the past, just think about something happy, okay?”

Robert smiled.

Those things about his father had passed for more than ten years. He didn’t want to mention about it anymore.

It was just that his mood would be a little ups and downs inevitably whenever he saw Aidan. He didn't want to show a cold face in front of Georgia and that was why Robert went to the bedroom alone after getting back as he wanted to calm down.

Looking at the Georgia’s gentle eyes in front of him, Robert smiled at Georgia.

“If you kiss me now, I would be very happy.”

Georgia just smiled lightly. She stood up and then she hugged Robert. After that, she kissed him.

The two were kissing at each other as if there was nothing sad in the world.

After a long while, Robert let go of Georgia.

“Don't leave me alone in the future, no matter what happens, okay?”

Out of the blue, Robert said that to Georgia.

Georgia smiled and nodded. How would she leave him? He had been so kind to her.

Even if she knew that they would need to go through some hard time in the future. Georgia was willing to face all the difficulties with him now. As long as both of them cared each other, Georgia felt that she would no longer be afraid of any difficulties.

Georgia slept in Robert's bedroom at the night. The two of them just laid on the bed intimately and had a happy talk. Later, they fell asleep soundly together.

At that night, Alfred followed his grandfather, Brett Chow to the woman who looked very alike as Vanessa.

When he firstly saw the woman, Alfred felt that she looked almost exactly the same as Vanessa.

It was only when Alfred took a closer look that there was a slight difference in appearance between the woman and Vanessa.

Vanessa was always gentle, but the woman in front of him looked sharp which made others dare not to get close.

She was not Vanessa that he loved. Alfred realized the difference between the woman and Vanessa instantly.

"What's your name?"

Alfred asked the woman who looked like Vanessa.

"I am Elsie Clarke."

The woman responded indifferently to Alfred.

"I didn't break any law, who are you? Why do you lock me up in this place? I warn you, this is a society under the rule of law and it is against the law to imprison someone privately!"

Alfred turned his head, and asked his grandfather.

"Grandpa, did you investigate the identity of this woman? What is her relationship with Vanessa?"

"I haven't got clear this woman's past in detail but you can handle this affairs by yourself. I believe you can do this well, right?"

Alfred nodded.

Brett was getting old. He would not like to deal with such matters.

He just hoped that the relationship between his grandson and his wife could get better. Since he had caught the person who looked similar as Vanessa, he didn't need to worry about the what would happen next.

After Brett left, Alfred took a chair and sat in front of Elsie.

Then, he took out his phone and played the videos.

Those videos he once thought were taken by Vanessa.

As soon as Elsie saw those videos, her cold arrogant expression turned to be frightened instantly.

“How did you get these videos?”

“Are you the woman in the video?”

Elsie’s face was sullen, she did not answer him.

“If you don't answer me now, don't blame me for not reminding you now when you are thrown to feed the shark tomorrow.”

Elsie yelled angrily.

“Even if I am the woman in the video, I didn't offend you. What did you arrest me for? I'm just an ordinary person. Did I provoke you?”

Elsie couldn't understand why she was brought there?

Alfred just wanted to prove the truth.

“Let me ask you again, is it you the woman in this video? Other than these videos, I still have many videos.”

Alfred simply played the remaining video for a few seconds and then Elsie had no choice but to admit it.

“Yes, I am the one in the video, but what does this have anything to do with you? I am short of money, I am looking for men to provide sex service and shooting videos. But, Sir, am I getting in your way of anything?”

Elsie was sneering but Alfred felt that his whole heart was relieved.

He thought that the person in the videos was Vanessa before that. He felt that Vanessa deceived him a lot and all his sincerity was just like shit and was trampled on the ground.

However, right now, he found that he had wronged Vanessa from his first sight on Elsie.

Up to now, Elsie admitted that the woman in the videos was her. Alfred felt that he had live a new life again and his gloomy heart was finally brightened.

“Then let me ask you one more thing, who filmed these videos for you? Why did they get exposed?”

“How would I know why these videos were on your hand? We just shot the videos for fun and they promised to give me money. I just leave when I get the money. How is it possible for me to know the truth of the way they deal with the videos?”

Suddenly, Alfred suspected that someone might do it deliberately behind the scene.

“Then do you still have the contact number of those men? There are so many videos here and all the men in the videos are different. Don't you still keep in touch with them?”

Elsie nodded.

“It's just a one-night sex relationship. They left after paying. They are not my repeat customers. I don't have further contact with them.”

Alfred didn't ask any more, he could only send someone to continue investigating on whether there were other people behind Elsie.

Those videos were sent to his mailbox at first. When Alfred saw the videos, he was furious.

After a while, he just sent some people to investigate who posted the video but the truth had not been discovered yet.

But, Elsie was found right now. Thus, Alfred decided to send more people to find out the truth.

It was obvious that someone wanted to see his resentment towards Vanessa and destroy their relationship.

In fact, if he thought about it carefully that who was the one benefits from it, Alfred could guess it out easily.

It was most probably done by Rachel. Alfred face turned serious when he thought of Rachel.

“Miss Clarke, I might ask you to help me investigate some things. As long as you can help me to find out the men in the video, I will give you 5 million. What do you think?”

Elsie's face turned joyfully instantly. She felt that it didn't matter anymore that she was caught there.

If she could get 5 million, she was willing to be caught even for a few more times. There was a smile showed on Elsie's face.

“Sir, the task is just looking for these people, right? I will absolutely be glad to work with you. If you are interested in me, I am also willing to become your woman.”

Elsie felt that Alfred seemed to be a rich guy. She wished to have sex with him and it was better if she could get another large sum of money. Alfred just laughed coldly.

“Don't ever think too much. I will find someone to take you out later and you just need to cooperate with them for investigation, understand?”

Elsie nodded gloomily. She thought that she was very pretty. Why was he not fascinated by her?

Alfred had left the room. He sent his subordinates to take Elsie out so that they could investigate the identities of Elsie and the people in the videos.

Although he suspected Rachel was the one who did it, he still had many other enemies in the Chow family. Alfred had to take it cautiously. He must send someone to investigate and find out the truth.

When Alfred returned to the living room, Brett was still awake and he was playing GO alone in the living room.

Alfred walked over.

“Grandpa, I have finished the interrogation.”

Brett didn't care much about the truth, he just needed to ensure that Alfred's wife was not the woman in the video.

“Sit down and play a chess game with me. It's been a long time since we played chess last time.”

Alfred nodded, he played a game of chess with his grandfather and it took more than half an hour.

Finally, Brett won the game. He raised his head and spoke to Alfred.

“I feel that your mind is very confused now. It is like you have blocked your heard. Didn't your find the woman who looks like Vanessa? How is the situation between you and Vanessa?”

Alfred smiled bitterly.

If it wasn't for Rachel, he even wanted to rush to Vanessa immediately and begged for her forgiveness.

However, Alfred was now more worried about Vanessa's safety. If he insisted on staying with Vanessa and allowed Rachel to do crazy things, both Rachel and Vanessa would have troubles when Mrs. Chow became ruthless.

At that moment, Alfred spoke to his grandfather.

“Grandpa, Vanessa and I are over. I have asked her to sign the divorce agreement today. After the lawyer processes the divorce procedures, Vanessa and I will be divorced completely.”

Brett was puzzled.

“Before this, you were full of resentment towards Vanessa when you saw those videos. But even at that time, you were not willing to divorce. Now you knew the truth already, why do you insist on divorcing?”

“Grandpa, the feelings between two people, were not that easy to be healed even if someone was wrong and hurt. Vanessa will not forgive me anymore. Too many things have happened between us, I can't get her back. Maybe let go, she would feel better.”

Brett did not continue to intervene.

“If it had happened to be like that, I won't interfere with your relationship anymore. But, I hope you won't regret it because I can see that you love Vanessa very much.”

Alfred just smiled bitterly.

For the thing about regret, he had totally no right to do so for now.

The most important thing for him to do right now was to ensure Vanessa’s safety. He didn't know what ways did Mrs. Chow had in her back and Alfred didn't dare to take the risk easily.

Furthermore, Rachel was still eyeing on them with her own purpose.

However, Alfred couldn't sleep in the midnight. He finally called Vanessa after a long struggling.

Chapter 160 Give Up on Alfred Totally

It was already late night when Alfred called Vanessa, she just made Annie asleep.

She quickly picked up the call once she saw her phone ring. Then, she took her phone and walked out, she did not want to make noise that disturbed Annie.

Alfred’s voice was heard when she took the phone and walked to the living room.

“Vanessa...”

Vanessa stood still on the ground when she heard that.

She did not know what should she say, she also did not know how to deal with the call from Alfred.

Actually, she kept making herself busy recently. She played with Annie attentively and tried to do other things to distract her attention to not think of their divorce and their future.

But Alfred called her at the moment for what? Vanessa smiled bitterly.

“Why do you call me?”

Vanessa thought that was there any procedure she had to undergo anymore?

But Alfred breathed in deeply.

“Sorry, Vanessa...”

After Alfred said that, Vanessa’s eyes were reddened. She sopped and did not know what should she speak.

She only wanted to keep silent, she did not even want to know why Alfred apologized to her.

However, Alfred spoke again.

“My grandpa has found out the woman that looks similar to you. Her name is Elsie Clarke. I have interrogated her, she admits that the videos are recorded by her. I am sorry.”

After Alfred said that, Vanessa was shocked.

In fact, the woman really looked like her? Vanessa asked him.

“Does she look alike to me? Like twin?”

“Almost the same. Both of you have the same features but your temperament is a bit different from her. Both of you have the same height approximately.”

Did she really have a twin sister? Vanessa was confused.

She wanted to ask Alfred whether she could undergo the DNA test along with Elsie but Alfred apologized to her again via the phone.

“Vanessa, I have misunderstood you before and break your heart...”

Vanessa’s tears fell. It was true that the videos that Alfred watched belonged to others but the video on their wedding was real.

“Alfred, we have divorced now. You also confirm that I am not the one involved in the video. I don’t care about any other things, I just beg you not to disturb me again in the future, alright?”

Vanessa said that sufferingly. Actually, after a series of incidents, she knew that Alfred would not get over it even the video was proved to have no relationship with Vanessa.

The video during the wedding was a nightmare for Alfred forever.

Those video after it made Alfred even upset.

Vanessa knew Alfred for many years, she could feel him regret it but she did not want to live the previous life again.

She was clear that the man did not trust her anymore. Alfred felt regretful probably because he still had little affection for her or he was reluctant to leave her.

When they quarrelled or had a misunderstanding one day, the man would think of the humiliation during the wedding. Then, they would always have hatred for each other.

Even she was reluctant to leave him but she knew that she could not continue the relationship with Alfred anymore.

Alfred’s words stuck in his throat, he wanted to ask Vanessa to wait for him. Actually, he knew that he did not have the eligibility to say that.

Even if the incident did not happen, how could he ask a woman to wait for him unconditionally?

“I am sorry. I just cannot control myself to call you and tell you about the matter of Elsie. Vanessa, you should live blissfully, I will not disturb you anymore...”

Alfred promised her and wanted to hang up the call.

Vanessa quickly said out her doubt.

“Since the woman looks similar to me, can I undergo the DNA test with her? I am not sure that I have a twin sister, I want to see if we have a kinship.”

“Alright, you come to the hospital tomorrow afternoon. I will ask Elsie to meet you. Then, both of you undergo the DNA test.”

Vanessa thanked him and they hung up the call simultaneously.

The next morning, Georgia received Vanessa’s call early in the morning. After knowing that Alfred had found out the woman who looked similar to Vanessa, Georgia confirmed that whatever she saw on that day was true.

“Vanessa, since you have to undergo the DNA test in the afternoon. Let me take care of Annie in the condominium. There are virus and a lot of people mixed up in the hospital, it is not good for Annie to go there.”

Vanessa nodded.

“Vanessa, you can come back and take care of Annie or bring Annie to Robert’s villa. I will be free in the morning. You can discuss with Robert first.”

After hanging up the call, Georgia told Robert about Vanessa’s matter.

“Robert, Vanessa meets someone who looks similar to her, she has to undergo the DNA test. I want to go back to the condominium and take care of Annie.”

Georgia did not want Annie to get in touch with Robert temporarily.

“You mean you have to leave me now and take care of Annie for a whole day?”

Robert asked gently, Georgia nodded.

“I don’t stay home recently. Annie misses me so much, I want to accompany her too.”

Robert smiled.

“Let grab this opportunity to bring Annie to the hospital and do a body check-up. After that, we can show the report to Ivan and ask him to plan a surgery for Annie.”

Georgia patted her head. She nearly forgot about it, what a stupid mother.

“You’re right, I nearly forget that. However, do you want to go to the hospital with us?”

Robert smiled, he felt that he should establish a good relationship with Annie and Georgia’s friend, Vanessa as well.

In case he quarrelled with Georgia in the future, he could at least contact her best friend and asked her to mediate it.

“Georgia, let’s go to see Annie. I will drive you, Vanessa and Annie to the hospital in the afternoon. Your best friend is going to do the DNA test while we bring Annie to do a body check-up. How do you think?”

Georgia hesitated, Robert continued to persuade her.

“I know you are hesitant, Annie does not like me. My attitude is bad at that time but since then, I need to get closer to Annie. It may take time for her to accept me, I believe that Annie will find my attitude changes after some time.”

Georgia nodded.

The maid had made the breakfast for them at the moment.

Georgia and Robert went to have their breakfast while Robert kept looking at Georgia.

“If you find it hard to consume, don’t force yourself. I will ask the chef to change the meal.”

Robert could feel that Georgia was forcing herself to eat.

When Georgia ate, she showed a suffered expression. He empathized with her.

Was the meal prepared by the chef not suitable for Georgia’s taste?

Robert thought that he should hire more chefs.

Georgia quickly shook her head.

“No, I have slight anorexia nervosa but I have to force myself to eat so that I will not vomit habitually. Or else, I will find it more difficult to consume food if I vomit habitually.”

Robert concerned about the matter of her sickness. It seemed to be not enough for him to hire chefs and nutritionists, he might need to meet some experts that excelled in curing anorexia nervosa.

They had their meal while Sherlyn walking towards them.

“Young mistress, you should drink a glass of milk and eat an egg followed by a bowl of noodles. Then, it is a healthy diet.”

Since Georgia was pregnant, she was unable to drink milk because the taste of milk made her sick. She even vomited severely after drinking it.

Georgia could not help but smile at Sherlyn.

“Sorry, I don’t want to drink milk. The taste makes me sick.”

But Sherlyn advised her nervously.

“Young mistress, you are too thin. If you want to have a balanced diet, milk is good for your body. If you are stubborn and want to eat in your way, then why do you hire a nutritionist?”

Sherlyn said in a discontented tone, Georgia did not know how to explain.

Robert frowned and reprimanded Sherlyn.

“Ms. Sherlyn, you can advise my wife to have a healthy diet but you are showing a discontented and commanding pattern now. So, do you think that you can bully her and command her?”

Robert did not know what was his secretary doing, how could he hire a rude nutritionist? Robert wanted to fire her.

He felt that Sherlyn was jealous and arrogant when she looked at Georgia.

Robert felt odd for it.

After Robert said that, Sherlyn became nervous.

Actually, she just wanted to show her professionalism in front of Robert. Sherlyn admitted that she fell in love with Robert when she saw him at first sight.

But the man already had a woman he loved. Sherlyn was jealous of it.

She remembered that Robert’s fiancée was another Ms. Lane.

Therefore, Sherlyn thought that Georgia was Robert’s kept woman.

That was why she always treated Georgia rudely as she thought that Georgia would be chased out by Robert soon and Georgia was just a little piece of his life.

However, Sherlyn could not control her envy when she saw Robert doting on Georgia.

“Sorry, Mr. Simpson.”

Sherlyn quickly apologized while Robert reprimanded her coldly.

“You should not apologize to me, you should apologize to my wife. If you are rude again, I will ask my assistant to fire you, understand?”

Sherlyn’s words stuck in her throat. She breathed in deeply and apologized to Georgia.

“Sorry, young mistress. I am being rude to you.”

Although the woman showed a bad attitude towards her, Georgia was not obstinate. Georgia nodded and continued to eat.

After that, Robert brought Georgia to Vanessa’s condominium.

“If you don’t like the nutritionist, Sherlyn, I can fire her straight away.”

In the car, Robert asked Georgia. Georgia shook her head.

“Forget it, it is not a big deal. I have difficulty in eating now, so I can’t follow her nutritional way. However, after I am recovered, I hope I can eat healthily.”

Robert nodded. He thought of the matter yesterday. He asked her.

“Yesterday, after we come back, you are tired too. So, I forget to ask you one thing, I just recall it now.”

“What is that?”

Georgia asked confusingly.

“You are talking to me before I pick up my father’s call...You ask me whether I believe if Annie is my child. Have you asked me about it at the moment?” _____
