It was obvious she was going to pursue David, and she would make David her master in the future.

The whole void was silent.

“Did Mia just publicly announce her withdrawal from the four fairies? Did she just say she was choosing to follow David, the most wanted criminal in the empire?”

How is this possible?

No one believed it to be true.

Countless bottom-level bounty hunters who saw Mia as their dream girl started to cry

They had liked Mia for so long, so it was difficult for them to accept this.

Even the seniors of the four bounty hunter groups were a little baffled.

‘Why did Mia do this out of the blue?’

She even chose to follow David, the most wanted criminal in the empire.

This is not right,

Mia is not a fool.

She’s able to mix with the upper class of the empire Although many bigwigs regard her only as an entertainer, Mia is an intelligent woman

‘Even if she knows that David is one of the most wanted criminals in the empire, she still insists on following him, and she’s also duty bound not to turn back?’

‘Something fishy is going on.’

Even David tilted his head and glanced at Mia in surprise.

‘What’s with the sudden announcement of her withdrawal from the four fairies?’

'Is she seriously thinking of following me?

"I still haven't figured out my complex relationships on Earth! 'How long has it been since I left Earth?

And now another beautiful woman has decided to follow me with all her heart?'

David felt helpless.

'What stupid f*cking system is this?

'It's making every beauty I meet fall for me.'

David could only blame this on the system.

He had lived for more than twenty years and had never encountered this before.

After he got the system, his luck with women never stopped. Was everyone after his money?

Not all of them. It was not just Mia, David could also even feel that Princess Astrid had some special feelings toward him.

It seemed that the only way to stop this was to decrease his contact with her as much as possible in the future.

Right now, David was not in the mood to think about this.

He just wanted to work hard to spend money and become stronger until he was invincible, and no one would dare to threaten him using the ones around him.

"Dance Fairy, are you kidding me?" Yves asked in shock. "Since I said it in front of so many people, it is naturally true. Plus, I decided on it after careful consideration. I don't intend to joke around with you," Mia replied seriously. "Dance Fairy, so you are determined to follow David, a wanted criminal in the empire? Are you going to abandon your family?" "Yes!"

"Then don't blame me for being merciless. David is Berserk Hunters' prize. If you follow him, you will also belong to us," Yves said with a wicked smile.

At this time, David smiled and asked, "It seems that you guys think you have me in the bag."

"Do you still think there is still a chance to escape? Stop dreaming. Come with us obediently, and give us everything you have. That way, I may make you suffer less.

Otherwise... You will only suffer." "Oh? You want me to suffer? Then come here! I'll wait for you," David said indifferently.

Yves stared at David for a moment.

He could not see anything wrong with him.

He could not wrap his head around it. David was just a wanted criminal at peak Cosmos Rank. Could he still have other trump cards?

There were so many bounty hunters out there watching.

Yves could not afford to lose his face after David said that to him.

A voice stopped him when he could not control himself and wanted to strike.

"Yves, come back!"

The speaker was Reggie, the captain of the Berserk Hunters.

"Captain, this brat dares to ignore me. Let me cripple him first," Yves said without looking back

"I told you to come back!" Reggie said with a heavier tone.

'Um...'

Yves was stunned.

When Captain Kraut spoke in this tone, Yves would not dare to disobey him.

Looking at David, Yves said fiercely, "Boy, I'll take care of you later!"

After glancing at Mia and Astrid behind David, he turned around and prepared to return to the Galaxy Warship to see what Captain Kraut had to say.

"What a piece of trash!" David said disdainfully.

His sound resounded throughout the void.

Everyone present stared at David in shock.

How could a wanted criminal be so arrogant?

How dare he call the deputy captain of Berserk Hunters a piece of trash?

Yves, who had just turned around, immediately stopped and slowly turned to look at David.

“What did you say? Do you dare to say it again?”

“I said... You’re a piece of trash. Go home now! Don’t embarrass yourself here,” David said without fear.

“You’re asking to die!” Yves said through gritted teeth.

After he finished saying this, his body disappeared in place, and he rushed toward David.

“Yves!” Reggie’s voice came from the Galaxy Warship.

However, he could not stop Yves anymore.

As the deputy captain of the Berserk Hunters, he was a beginner Celestial Ranker.

So, when had anyone ever insulted him like this? Furthermore, he had done so in front of millions of bounty hunters.

If Yves accepted it, how could he continue to show his face in the bounty hunter community in the future?

At this time, he was even ignoring Reggie’s words.

One could see how angry he was.

Yves crossed the distance of more than ten kilometers in the blink of an eye. When he reached David and was about to cripple David, he suddenly saw another person in front of that brat. It was the veiled woman behind David.

‘So, David is just a piece of trash that hides behind women.’ Yves chuckled internally.

Since the woman was coming to him, then he would not hold back David could not escape from him anyway, so he should take advantage of the woman first.

Yves reached out his hand toward Astrid.

He would enjoy her slowly after he crippled David. When he thought about how he could enjoy two peerless beauties later, Yves felt very excited.

David did not expect Astrid to run in front of him suddenly, not caring about her safety. Of course, he would not let Astrid suffer even the slightest injury.

However, when he was about to do something, his mind power sensed powerful energy.

This person was powerful.

Judging from that, the person should be a peak Celestial Ranker.

So, they were just slightly below him. David grabbed Astrid and changed their positions in a blink of an eye, pulling Astrid behind him.

He did not know whether the person who suddenly appeared was a friend or a foe.

David would act based on the situation later.

He was also using his mind power to monitor the changes around him.

Once he sensed something wrong, he would immediately take action even if he had to expose that he was a partial Infinity Ranker,

He would deal with the strong individual who suddenly appeared after catching them off guard.

Otherwise, he might not guarantee Mia and Astrid's safety when so many people were surrounding him.

Everyone at the scene saw a cold light flashing past.

"Ah!"

It was followed by a scream that resounded throughout the void. A voice then resounded in the ears of millions of people.

“Whoever dares to insult Her Royal Highness must die!”

A middle-aged man with a sharp sword appeared in front of David.

Yves stood not far away. His left hand was on his right shoulder, and there was a look of pain on his face.

At this time, the place where his right arm should be was empty. Blood was gushing out, splashing all over the void.

The cold light just now chopped Yves’ right hand that was reaching out toward Astrid before he could react.

When Yves saw the face of the man who cut off his arm, his whole body began to shake violently.

“A-A-Are you Atlas Reyes, the head of White Tiger Hall?”

The middle-aged man ignored Yves. He turned to face David, knelt on one knee in the void, and said respectfully, “Atlas Reyes, the head of White Tiger Hall, greets you, Your Royal Highness Princess Astrid. Please punish me for being late to your rescue.”

David reacted. He took a step sideways and let Astrid walk in front of him.

“Atlas, you may rise,” Astrid said.

“Thank you, Your Royal Highness!”

After Atlas finished speaking, he got up, took a few steps forward, and stood behind Astrid.

Princess Astrid was the person with the highest status here, so Atlas would naturally listen to Astrid’s orders

He would do whatever Astrid told him to.

At this time, he did not have the power to make his own decisions.

Yves looked at everything before him and almost fainted after staggering backward.

This veiled woman was the emperor’s only daughter, Her Royal Highness Princess Astrid of the Empire

He had almost molested Her Royal Highness just now.

“This is a crime that will wipe out my entire family!”

W-W-What should I do?

Yves slowly turned his head to the Berserk Hunters' Galaxy Warship, hoping to get Captain Kraut's help

However, how would Reggie dare to come forward?

The correct way of handling this was to directly cut ties with Yves.

Reggie would only help him if he was ready to kill himself in the process.

There was no noise in the void since the arrival of Atlas, the cutting of Yves' arm, and the greeting of the princess.

Millions of bounty hunters had yet to recover fully

Even the head of the four bouni V Croups stared at Astrid and Atlas behind her with shock

The former was Her Royal Highness Princess Astrid of the empire, the most beloved daughter of the emperor, and her status even surpassed that of all the princes. Furthermore, the latter's status was not low as well. He was the head of White Tiger Hall, one of the four great halls of the Empire. Plus, he was also a peak Celestial Ranker.

Indeed, they knew something was wrong.

No wonder Mia chose to leave the four fairies and go with David,

Judging from how Princess Astrid ignored her safety to stand in front of David when Yves wanted to attack him, they could tell Princess Astrid had a unique relationship with David.

With Princess Astrid's help, David would no longer be a wanted criminal as long as he did not commit treason.

Yves was in trouble now.

If Reggie did not handle this well, he would affect the entire Berserk Hunters.

The happiest at the scene was the Golden Eagle Bounty Group.

They had just returned from hunting galaxy beasts outside, and before they could regain their energy, they were challenged by Berserk Hunters,

Honestly, even the group's captain, Elio, was not confident about this challenge, he had to accept it.

The two hunter groups had been butting heads for a long time. Berserk Hunters certainly would not have spared them so easily.

However, Yves, the deputy captain of Berserk Hunters, dared to attack Princess Astrid.

with that, they were all eagerly waiting to see what would happen next.

Astrid took a few steps forward. At this moment, her whole personality changed drastically after revealing her identity as a princess.

Atlas followed her respectfully.

He was puzzled. When he was chopping off Yves' arm, he clearly felt a burst of terrifying energy locked onto him."

He was a peak Celestial Ranker, yet he felt he could not defeat it.

This person's strength was shocking, and they were at least at partial Infinity Rank

Atlas initially wanted to kill Yves but decided to chop off only one arm after sensing it.

It was because he wanted to prevent this person's sneak attack

However, the energy disappeared after Atlas chopped off Yves's arm.

No matter how hard he looked, he still could not find any trace of it.

At this time, a luxurious spaceship appeared in front of everyone's eyes

A golden 'Barlowe' was carved on the palace like ship Then, hundreds of people quickly got down from the spacecraft before kneeling in front of Astrid on one knee.

"Greetings, Your Royal Highness!"

"You may rise," Astrid said calmly.

“Thank you, Your Royal Highness.” A team of hundreds of people answered in unison.

Astrid continued to move forward, and the hundreds of people immediately gave way. When Astrid walked in front of them, everyone followed her neatly.

These people were all members of White Tiger Hall, one of the four great halls of the empire. They came with Lord Atlas to take Her Royal Highness back to Planet Royal.

However, as Atlas approached, he suddenly felt something was wrong and rushed forward alone.

Astrid stopped in the void and looked at Yves, who was about to faint with fright not far away, and the countless battleships.

“David is my savior. I will look into this matter no matter who’s involved. While you bounty hunters were capturing the empire’s wanted criminals and sharing the burden with the empire this time, there are more and more of you appearing every day. You’re getting bigger, so you’re starting to stray from your original goal. You have to reorganize yourself properly. Shadow Hunters, as the number one bounty hunter group in the empire, I hope you will give me a proposal as soon as possible. You will be in trouble if I have to do it myself.”

After Astrid said that, she looked at Yves.

“As for you! You’re the first person who dares to take action against me in the Royal Region.

You’ve become the pioneer of such crimes, so tell me, how do you want to die?”

Yves felt lightheaded and could not stop himself from falling to his knees.

“Your Royal Highness, please don’t be mad! Your Royal Highness, please don’t be mad! I had no idea of your identity. If not, I won’t dare to do that even if you gave me the courage to do so! Your Royal Highness, please have mercy and spare me! I’m begging you, please!”

Yves endured the excruciating pain and kept kowtowing to Princess Astrid.

Right now, he was filled with panic.

His physical pain was nothing compared to the psychological torture.

While Yves was kowtowing, someone appeared next to him.

When Yves’ head was on the ground, the person put a hand on the center of Yves’ back.

Then, with a huge force, the hand penetrated Yves' body and destroyed his organs.

"Ah!

"Pfft!"

Yves yelled. Blood mixed with traces of his organs sprayed out of his mouth.

He turned around slowly and looked at the person who did that to him. "C-C-Captain... How c-could you!"
