

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1257

Chapter 1257 At this moment, King Moe of Sangruil's voice came from the sky.

"How have you been, Nimbus?"

"Moe, you're asking for death!" Nimbus said, his eyes narrowing.

"Asking for death? Nimbus, you think too highly of yourself. Today, I'm here to take back what belongs to Sangruil. While I'm at it, I'll send your family to accompany the Sangruil warriors who died over all these years."

"You must be dreaming! Moe, if the empire could beat you like you were stray dogs before, we can do the same today! Plus, how dare you collude with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan this time to cause chaos to humans..."

"Shut up!" Moe immediately interrupted Nimbus. If Nimbus continued, the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan would be exposed.

The reason Sangruil chose to take action now was so that Nimbus would not expose the Nine Headed Serpent Clan in front of all the forces in the Milky Way.

Hence, how could Moe let him do that?

"Haha! Moe, you don't want everyone to know what you did, but I want to tell them. I want everyone in the Milky Way to know what Sangruil did. I'd like to know if they'll support you after they know," Nimbus said with a laugh.

Then, he turned to look at the representatives present. "Everyone, Sangruil didn't just come back to seek revenge against the empire, they also..." "I asked you to shut up!"

After Moe said that...

Boom!

Strong energy shrouded the scene. Everyone at Gold Peak on Planet Royal clutched their chest. They started to feel difficulty breathing

However, some of them could barely resist this.

Mia was the only one who had insufficient strength but was unaffected.

This was because David had protected her with his mind power. As she looked at everyone clutching their chests with horrible looks on their faces, Mia was curious. 'What's wrong with them?'

Ophelia and the other peak Infinity Ranker looked at the sky solemnly.

Judging from Moe's energy, he was definitely at partial Eternal Realm. Empress Gamora was also protecting Princess Astrid.

However, she did not have David's strength and skills, so Astrid was not completely unaffected like Mia. She was just slightly affected, unlike the others. Ganora was a mid-Infinity Ranker after all, so it was not difficult for her to protect Astrid. After Moe spread his energy, he charged at the ground from the sky. He would not give Nimbus a chance to speak again. "Work together to protect everyone!"

After Nimbus said that, he shot into the air with his partial Eternal Realm energy.

He had said this to the peak Infinity Rankers and was telling them to work together to protect the people at Gold Peak.

There were only a few peak Infinity Rankers present. Hence, when the two at partial Eternal Realm were fighting, they had to protect the others. Even if they could not protect everyone, they could at least block most of the shockwaves. If not, the shockwaves from the two would injure or kill everyone at Gold Peak.

Nimbus had to fight Moe, so he did not have the time to protect others.

Meanwhile, Wilfred was hiding in the dark to prevent any sneak attacks.

If it was just Moe, Nimbus would not be worried.

However, he was concerned about the powerhouse hiding in the dark.

Since Uncle Wilfred was down there, Nimbus could temporarily fight Moe without worries and restraint.

After hearing what the emperor said, the peak Infinity Rankers quickly reacted. They spread out and dispersed in the crowd.

They were getting ready to block the collision shockwaves caused by the two at partial Eternal Realm.

One was charging upward while the other was charging downward. The two were like shooting stars as they collided in the blink of an eye.

Boom!

The collision sounded like a clap of thunder as it resonated in everyone's ear.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1258

Chapter 1258 Even though the peak Infinity Rankers blocked more than half of the shockwaves, some of it still hit Gold Peak.

A lot of the weaker ones could not endure it. They covered their ears with their hands and wailed in pain as they knelt on the ground. David suddenly thought of Astrid the moment the collision happened.

Astrid was his friend regardless of the situation.

Therefore, David used some of his mind power to protect Astrid. After blocking the shockwave, he retracted it quickly.

Although Gamora was not weak, she still could not shield Astrid completely to protect her from all harm.

This was also because the collision had happened too close to them. "Astrid! Astrid, how are you? Are you okay?" Gamora asked nervously. "Mother, I'm fine. I think nothing happened to me," Astrid answered. "Are you sure?"

Gamora did not believe her at all.

"I am fine, Mother!"

Gamora was still worried, and she started to examine Astrid.

In the end, Gamora was relieved after making sure Astrid was completely unharmed. She could roughly guess who was the one that did this. 'Uncle Wilfred should be the one who did this.' The collision shockwave of the two at partial Eternal Realm not only affected the ones present at Gold Peak. Even the Sangruil Sinners' ships in the sky were affected by the strong blast.

However, they were notified in advance to back away, so they did not receive much damage.

After the collision, Moe laughed and said, "Haha! Nimbus, are you really the strongest person in the Milky Way? You're just so-so. I didn't expect your wounds from last time to already recover. This is pretty unexpected." A lot of people were already shocked to see Moe going head-on with Nimbus, the strongest person in the Milky Way. However, what Moe said just now shocked everyone even more. Moe was being straightforward, and it was easy to understand what he meant. 'Did he hurt His Majesty before? 'How is that possible?

'The emperor is invincible in the hearts of so many in the Milky Way, so how can he get hurt?' What Moe said challenged their worldview, and this was exactly what Moe wanted.

First, he wanted to destroy Nimbus' invincible image in everyone's hearts. Then, he wanted to work with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan to destroy the Barlowe family.

That way, everyone would accept them easier if the Nine-Headed Serpents were not exposed.

At the same time, David was curious.

'Emperor Nimbus can't defeat this Sangruil Sinner?

'No way!

"Judging from the first collision, that Moe person is clearly at a disadvantage.

'Even though it would be hard for Nimbus to defeat Moe quickly, it would be even harder for Moe to hurt Nimbus. 'Unless he knew Nimbus was hurt. 'Yet, if this were the case, he would also suffer a disadvantage.' 'Moe, you...' Nimbus wanted to retort, but Moe did not give him the chance to do that. He was already charging at Nimbus once again. "Nimbus, let's continue!"

Nimbus had no choice and could only charge again.

This was because if he did not move, their collision would be closer to the ground once Moe descended, meaning the people below him would face an even bigger shockwave.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 1259

Chapter 1259 The two started fighting in the air again, and the sounds of their collision was continuously heard.

Nimbus also tried his best to move the fight higher in the sky.

That way, it could prevent the people below from being hurt by the shockwaves.

No one could get between a fight between two people at partial Eternal Realm, not even the peak Infinity Rankers. If they were not careful, they would be severely injured or even killed.

If this were not the case, Nimbus would not be the strongest person in the Milky Way at partial Eternal Realm.

Wilfred hid in the crowd. He was trying to detect the person from the day before.

However, he did not find anything until now.

That person was so good at hiding.

If this person did not exist, he would have rushed over to help Nimbus to kill Moe.

The lower-ranked people might not be able to tell and they might think that Nimbus and Moe were equally matched and were at a stalemate, but the ones that reached a certain level could tell that Nimbus was suppressing Moe while attacking him.

However, Moe's defense was also terrifyingly strong, and that was how he managed to hold on for so long.

If this continued, Nimbus would severely injure Moe very soon.

However, if Wilfred stepped in now, Moe would be crippled after a few more rounds.

Wilfred did not notice anyone suspicious down here, so he could only focus on the fight in the air.

He knew there was only one reason the other party was hiding. As Nimbus and Moe's fight got to the climax, they would lower their defense. That way, the person could pull a sneak attack and critically injure Nimbus in one go.

That way, the enemy would have victory in the bag.

If not, Moe would not be Nimbus' opponent with his current strength.

As Wilfred watched the fight, he spread his detection power as far as he could. At the same time, he was ready to take action at any time.

"Mother, did Moe really hurt Father?" Astrid asked the question everyone wanted to know.

"Astrid, Moe stopped your father when he was on the way to save you back then. They got into a fight. In the end, even though your father was careless and got hurt because he didn't expect Moe to hurt him by self-harming, Moe was hurt even more severely. However, Moe had fused with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan's genes, and that's why he recovered so quickly," Gamora explained.

"I'm sorry. Father was hurt because I was too willful," Astrid said aggrievedly. Gamora pulled Astrid into her arms gently and said in a soft voice, "Astrid, don't blame yourself. If it weren't for you, we wouldn't have discovered the Sangruil Sinners. If they pulled a sneak attack on us, it might have been even harder to deal with them."

"Really?" Astrid lifted her head and asked, her face drenched with tears.

"Of course! Look, we were prepared for those Sangruil Sinners' arrival. There are also so many powerhouses of the Milky Way here, so they can't win."

“Alright. Thank you, Mother. I feel better now.” “You silly girl.”

No one heard what the mother and daughter said because everyone was focusing on the battle in the sky.

Even though most of them could not see clearly and they could only hear sounds of collision, David could hear the conversation.

Indeed, it was just as he thought.

Moe self-harmed, and that was how he could hurt Nimbus.

David might be the most relaxed person present. After watching Nimbus and Moe’s battle, he felt that they would easily win if he went over now to help Nimbus fight Moe.

However, those two did not use their full force, so David still had to continue watching.

David kept feeling like this matter was not that simple.

Moe was clearly not Nimbus’ opponent, and he was at a disadvantage this entire time.

1

He could only hold on until now because he was relying on his strong defense after fusing with the Nine-Headed Serpent Clan’s genes.

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 1260

Chapter 1260 However, since Moe dared to come to seek revenge on the empire, he must have backing.

If not, why would he come knowing he would lose?

Was he tired of living?

“David, who do you think will win?” Mia asked from one side.

She was the only one to not be affected at all since the start of the battle.

“If there are no accidents, Nimbus will win. However, since Moe dared to come here, he must have some hidden backing. Therefore, it’s hard to say before the final results come out,” David answered.

After he said that, everyone around him was looking at him like he was a joke.

‘Who the hell is this?’

'How dare he comment on the fight between two partial Eternal Realms?

'Also, how dare he call His Majesty by name?

'Whose kid is this?

'How rude!

'It's fine if he wants to die, but he wants to drag his family along with him.' One of the burly men stood forward and pointed at David. He yelled, "Hey, kid! Which family are you f*cking from? Do you think you can just call His Majesty by name? Do you think you are at partial Eternal Realm too? How dare you comment on the battle between the two partial Eternal Realms? You have such an exaggerated opinion of your abilities. Let me tell you, stopf *cking blabbering. If not, I'll cripple you!" Before David could retort, Mia snapped. She could not endure this anymore.

She knew this person. It was Klaus Drake, the heir of the Drake family, the first-ranked family among the eight prominent families.

At the same time, he was also a very famous chosen one in the Royal Region. This kind of person was definitely unattainable for Mia back then.

However, since she was with David now, Mia became bolder after being influenced by David's power and language. She would not allow anyone to insult David.

"Which family do you come from then, you piece of trash? Why are you speaking so rudely? He wasn't talking about you, so what does it have to do with you? How dare you scold him? Did your parents neglect you when you were a child? Let me help them educate you," Mia scolded directly

As the first heir of the Drake family, this was the first time someone aside from Klaus' elders had scolded him.

Hence, he was a little dazed.

"Hey, chick, do you know who I am? How dare you speak to me that way? Take off your veil, if I like you, you should just come with me. If you make me happy, I might spare your life. If not ... You won't have a place anymore in the Milky Way."

"You..." 1

Mia was at a loss for words.

She was a woman and had never scolded anyone like that before.

David did not want to waste his breath on someone like this. Hence, the best way to deal with an opinionated person was to knock him unconscious.

David turned his mind power into a fist, aimed it at the back of Klaus' head, and punched down.

Suddenly, Klaus felt dizzy before passing out. The others noticed what had happened to Drake.

However, as they were about to comment on what had happened...

Boom!

A loud noise came from the air.

Nimbus found Moe's weakness and threw a punch at him.

Moe was instantly thrown over a hundred kilometers away.

Nimbus was about to chase after Moe when he felt an intense danger befalling him.

Wilfred yelled from among the crowd, "Watch out!"

Then, he shot into the sky.
