Chapter 1301

Earth.

More than ten black-horned ships had arrived above Earth's surface.

"Master, we're 1000 meters from the ground."

"Alright, tell everyone to prepare to plant the slave mark," Harlan said excitedly.

"Yes, Master!"

As the dozens of black-horned ships hovered in the air and were about to plant a slave mark on Earth, David's voice could be heard again from Planet Royal.

"Also, from this day on, any secret slave make plantings will be banned in the Milky Way. I can ignore marks that were planted in the past, but once I find out of any new slave marks, I will wipe out all the families of anyone involved. I will not spare anyone!"

Harlan was stunned, and the excited look on his face froze.

Floyd next to him was the same.

Not only them, but the people with Harlan were also stunned and immediately stopped what they were doing.

Slave marks were banned in the Milky Way.

Weren't they about to plant slave marks now?

If someone else said this, they would not mind.

However, the person who said this was David Lidell, the Master of the Milky Way who just broke into Eternal Realm.

If he found out, all of their families would be wiped out.

Who would dare to go against what the Master of the Milky Way said so brazenly?

The ships stopped moving.

A few minutes later, someone asked, "M-Master, what should we do?"

Harlan eventually came back to his senses.

He was feeling very conflicted inside his heart.

'What should we do?

'How the hell would I know?'

If he followed what David, the Master of the Milky Way, said, everything would be doomed. All his hard work for the past few months would be in vain.

He could only go back to the Royal Region in disappointment and continued living a life of wastefulness whilst waiting for death.

To other people, he was on top of the world.

However, to the heirs and big shots, he was nothing and was not even comparable to trash.

Ever since he learned of Earth's existence, Harlan fantasized about prospering and shocking his family and the people who used to look down on him. He could not wait to be the chosen one in the Royal Region.

How could he give up now?

This would be even more unacceptable than taking his own life.

The look on Harlan's face gradually turned mad.

This place was near the edge of the Milky Way and it was so far away from the Royal Region.

As long as he planted his slave mark, killed everyone here, and went back to the Royal Region as if nothing had happened, no one ever find out the truth.

So what if David was the Master of the Milky Way?

Could he find out everything that happened in the Milky Way?

Even if Harlan was found, he could say he did this before David announced the ban. That way, David could not do anything to him.

'I'll do just that!'

Harlan would not hesitate to take this chance for his life to change.

If he missed this chance, he might not be able to make a comeback anymore.

“Carry out the original plan. Plant the slave mark!” Harlan said loudly.

His voice also entered the other dozens of black-horned ships through the communication device.

However, he got different responses.

“Master Harlan, I’m sorry, we might not be able to help you now. Since Master of the Milky Way David banned planting slave marks, we have to obey it.’

“Yes, Master Harlan, I’m sorry. We will give you back the money you gave us. Even if we’re working for your money, we don’t want to risk our lives. I should advise you to give up too. Master David is at Eternal Realm and he’s now the Master of the Milky Way. He controls the Milky Way now and no one will dare to disobey his orders. If you do this, your family will be consigned to eternal damnation.”

Chapter 1302

A few beginner Stellar Rankers rejected Harlan’s order at the same time.

Harlan wanted to go all in on this, but he forgot one thing.

The others would not want to do this with him.

Harlan did not bring anyone from the Busch family.

Instead, these were bounty hunters he hired from outside with a lot of money.

These people would work for money, but they would not risk their lives for money. Therefore, they directly rejected Harlan’s request.

They could make the money again, but they could not come back to life if they died. Plus, they could not imagine how strong someone at Eternal Realm would be.

“Y-You!” Harlan was so mad he could not speak.

“Maser Harlan, we won’t go against Master of the Milky Way David’s orders to help you plant a slave mark on this planet. However, since we’re here, we can’t go back empty-handed. We must bring something back with us, don’t you think so, guys?”

“Of course! Master David only said we can’t plant slave marks, but he didn’t say we can’t loot indigenous living planets. Hehe...”

This person laughed perversely after he said that.

Meanwhile, the others’ eyes brightened.

‘Right, you planting the slave mark won’t concern us. We can just return the money.

‘However, we can loot this indigenous living planet.

‘This planet is pretty big, so there should be quite a lot of resources and beautiful women here.

“We can spend some time here before we go back.”

“Are you disobeying me?”

“I’m sorry, Master Harlan. Even though we want to, our families will be wiped out if we disobey Master David. We still want to live.”

“I can pay you more. What about double the pay? No, I’ll give you five times more!” Harlan was still trying to change their minds.

“We need to be alive to spend the money, right?”

“The Master of the Milky Way is not God. He can’t know everything that happens in the Milky Way!”

“We can’t afford to gamble on this.”

Harlan gave up.

He knew no matter what he said, it would be no use. These people would not listen to him.

He was not strong enough to intimidate these guys.

“Alright, since you don’t want to, I won’t force you. You don’t have to give me the money back. I only hope you can pretend this ever happened after we get back to the Royal Region,” Harlan said in low spirits.

“Don’t worry, Master Harlan. We will keep a tight lip after we get back to the Royal Region and won’t leak a single thing. Now, what should we do with this planet?”

Harlan was a direct descendant of the Busch family after all.

The bounty hunters did not want to offend him if possible.

“Didn’t you say that since you’re here, you have to bring some things back even if you can’t plant the slave mark?”

“Haha! Alright, we will listen to your orders, Master Harlan.”

When Harlan and the bounty hunters were discussing what to do to Earth, Mason and all of the Earth’s powerhouses gathered. Naturally, the current strongest person on Earth, Selena, was among them.

Aside from David, Selena was surely the more talented person on Earth.

She was the first person to enter Star Realm after David.

The other older powerhouses on Earth like Mason were only at partial Star Realm. They still needed some time to enter Star Realm.

However, after using the genetic drug and taking such a long time to develop, there were a lot of God Rankers and Super-God Rankers on Earth.

Mason took the lead while Selena and other partial Star Realms followed behind. Then, came the Super- God Rankers and God Rankers.

However, these people were nothing to Harlan and his people.

One had to know that Harlan spent a lot of money hiring four beginner Stellar Rank bounty hunters to help him plant his slave mark.

Meanwhile, he was a Planet Ranker.

Without David, Harlan, the hedonist whom his family had given up on, could annihilate Earth by himself.

Chapter 1303

After all the powerhouses on Earth arrived, Mason stood at the front and asked, “Who are you? Where did you come from? What are you doing on Earth?”

Harlan stood in the black-horned ship without answering, his eyes had been drawn to Selena behind Mason.

He was originally a womanizer, and now he saw a woman who was comparable to one of the four fairies, Dance Fairy Mia. How could he not be attracted?

In the Royal Region, he was not qualified to approach a woman who was the center of public attention, like the Dance Fairy.

It was not just him, even the top heirs of the Busch family were not qualified to do this.

Those who could get in touch with Mia had to at least be direct descendants of the eight prominent families or the descendants of some dignitaries in the empire.

His family was not even ranked in the Royal Region.

However, right here, on an indigenous living planet on the edge of the Milky Way, there was a woman who was about the same level as Mia.

Was this his compensation?

If he could choose, Harlan would naturally choose to plant a slave mark without hesitation.

He could have as many women as he wanted once he became stronger.

However, now he had no choice, so he decided to accept this form of compensation.

Harlan was a little excited.

The feeling of anger had mostly disappeared.

He had to take this woman back so he could keep her by his side and cherish her.

He looked around and found that this woman was actually the strongest person here, and her combat power reached Satellite Rank in the Star Realm.

There were also some people at partial Star Realm among them.

“This planet has such high talent!

‘Even such a young and beautiful woman can reach Satellite Rank.

‘However, why was such a huge joke played on me after I found it?’”

Harlan even started hating the Master of the Milky Way David.

David’s last sentence stopped all hope of him making a comeback.

“But didn’t Floyd say there’s a peak Planet Ranker here? Why don’t I see him?”

“Is he hiding so he can ambush us?”

“It’s indeed tough if a Planet Ranker wants to catch us off guard while hiding in the dark.

“We have to be careful.”

“You aborigines have no right to know who we are and where we come from. Tell the strongest person on your planet to come here. If he can defeat me, we’ll leave without any arguments. If he can’t, everyone on this planet has to listen to me,” Harlan said.

“You want to meet the strongest person on this planet?” Mason asked.

“Of course! Tell him to come to see me. It’s useless to hide because I already know his existence.”

“You might have to wait for a while to meet the strongest person on Earth.”

“How long?” Harlan asked.

“Not sure. Perhaps a few months,” Mason answered.

Even though they had notified David that aliens were invading Earth, Mason had no idea when David could come back. However, since David took about three months to reach the heart of the Milky Way, he should take some time to come back as well.

“Damn it! How dare you take me as a fool! You want me to wait a few months? Do you think I am an idiot? Since you don’t want him to come out to die, I will kill all of you first. I don’t believe he’ll continue hiding.”

After he said that, Harlan roared, “Come out!”

Dozens of people flew out of the black-horned ships to surround Mason and the other Earth powerhouses. Then, they emitted powerful energies.

There were four beginner Stellar Rankers among them, and the rest were all basically Planet Rankers.

Harlan was not interested in Satellite Rankers.

Meanwhile, the strongest person on Earth was Selena, a Satellite Ranker.

It was evident how different the two sides were in terms of strength.

When the bounty hunters saw Selena, their eyes lit up.

Which normal man would not like beautiful women?

The reason the four fairies were so popular in the Royal Region was that they were beautiful.

Selena could compete with Mia, so of course, the bounty hunters were head over heels for her.

However, they knew that since Harlan, the lecherous Busch family direct descendant, was around, they would not have a chance with her.

Chapter 1304

However, since there was a woman who could compete with Dance Fairy Mia, it meant the women on this planet were all gorgeous.

They did not have a chance with the woman in front of them, but they could still get a chance if more beauties appeared.

A lot of them had perverted grins on their faces.

Then, Harlan also walked out of the black-horned ship.

The moment he came out, he started staring at Selena.

While Selena felt disgusted, she also felt nervous.

She could feel a powerful energy from the mah, and she knew Earth was not his opponent.

She could not fight any of these aliens at all.

Meanwhile, Selena was the strongest person on Earth aside from David.

The rest of them had no chance at all.

“What the hell do you want? If you want to cause harm to Earth, you must think twice. Last time, a guy named Pavan came here and he lost his life because he came with malicious intentions. Are you sure you want to follow in his footsteps?” Mason asked in a deep voice.

He also knew this situation was detrimental to Earth.

David was not here and none of these people with him could fight the aliens.

So, he could only think of other ways to intimidate the aliens.

“Oh? Master Pavan from the Tuffin family died by your hands?” Harlan asked curiously.

“Of course! He came here to plant a slave mark to enslave the earthlings, but in the end, we killed him.”

The beginner Stellar Ranked bounty hunters looked at each other.

‘Something feels off.

‘Isn’t this an indigenous living planet?

‘Why was Master Pavan involved?

‘Harlan must be hiding something from us.’

Meanwhile, Harlan looked at Floyd next to him like he was asking for the truth.

Floyd looked lost.

Pavan’s death was the Tuffin family’s secret, and he had no right to know about it.

He always thought the Dallarosa family killed Pavan.

He had no clue what exactly happened.

“Tell me, how did you do this? Don’t tell me you ants killed Master Pavan,” Harlan asked.

“Of course it wasn’t us. It was someone else,” Mason answered.

“Who?”

“The strongest person on Earth, naturally.”

“Tell him to come out now. Let me see if he has this ability.”

“He’s not on Earth now and he’s on the way back. It should take him about two to three months judging by the distance.”

“F*ck! You old fart! You’re clearly taking me for a f*cking fool!”

Evidently, Harlan lost his patience.

After he said that, he took a step forward to come before Mason to wave a casual fist at him.

Harlan was confident in his beginner Planet Rank combat power when facing these aborigines who were only at Satellite Rank.

Plus, this old man in front of him was not even at Satellite Rank, so Harlan could kill him with just one punch.

Harlan wanted to kill this old man to intimidate the earthlings and make that beautiful woman submit to him obediently.

Mason could not move as he watched the Planet Ranker swing his fist at him.

He could only watch as the fist approach him at lightning speed.

When he was about to give up and wait for death, he was pushed away by a strong force.

Boom!

Then, Mason heard a loud voice next to him that caused his brain to buzz.
