I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1691—Mick took David to the VIP area of the Treasure Trove headquarters.

Since Alba said that David was her honored guest, Mick naturally would not neglect him.

However, after parting with David, he immediately reported what he saw and his analysis to the seniors of the Fellowes family.

At this time, Alba arrived outside the study of the seventh master of the Fellowes family, Valerio. This was also where he usually worked.

Knock knock!

Alba knocked on the door.

“Come in!” An old voice came from the study.

Alba pushed open the door and walked in.

The study was large and simple, and the bookshelves were full of all kinds of books.

At a glance, there were at least tens of thousands of books.

An old man with a ruddy complexion that was glowing with health sat in the study, looking down at the documents on the table.

“Grandpa Val, Alba has come to greet you.” Alba greeted respectfully.

Upon hearing Alba’s voice, Valerio raised his head and said with a smile, “Alba, you are here. Please sit down!”

Alba did not act courteously around Valerio. She found a place to sit down and then asked, “May I know why you’re looking for me?”

“Alba, you’ve been out playing for so long. Did you have enough fun?”

“Grandpa Val, I didn’t go there to play, but to help,” Alba replied dissatisfied.

“No matter what you go out for, it’s been long enough. You should concentrate on your task now that you’re back. Don’t go out, stay at home!”

“No! Grandpa Val, I still have things to do! You’ll bore me to death if you lock me at home, Alba refused in an instant.

She had not completed her deal with David.

Since she had already promised David, she had to help him build the trading company.

That way, she could change her fate and help her family get out of their current predicament.

If she had to stay home, she could not do anything.

Alba could not accept such an arrangement.

“What do you have going on? You’re only researching those stupid items. Plus, the seniors agreed to have you stay home. You can only obey and not disobey.”

“Why? Grandpa Val, why are you restricting my freedom? Is it because I’m a woman and I can’t carry on the ancestral line? Is that why you don’t like me? Ever since I was young, no matter how hard I work or how hard I prove myself, you never valued me. I don’t mind all those things, it’s my fault for being a woman. However, you don’t even let me leave the house and want to lock me inside now. What’s the point of me living then?”

Alba questioned loudly.

This was the first time she spoke so loudly to an elder of the family.

She respected Grandpa Val a lot.

However, she was frustrated, causing her to act on impulse.

If she was grounded, she would not be able to help David build his trading company.

Then, her life would be over.

Not only would she not be able to change her fate, but her family would also be gradually swallowed by the Palmore family.

It had been so many years and she finally met David, a disciple of a Sacred Saint.

Plus, he was also a Sacred Saint hiding in Star Kingdom.

God was giving the Fellowes family a chance to leave the Palmore family.

In the end, the Fellowes family wanted to destroy her.

Alba wanted to tell her Grandpa Val the truth now.

However, she did not dare to since she did not get David's consent.

Alba's sudden loud questioning shocked Valerio.

He did not expect this obedient little girl to yell at him now.

However, Valerio was not mad.

Alba was one of the youngsters in the family he favored.

Ever since she was young, she showed outstanding talent among the younger generation of the family, and she was also very smart.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1692—She was excellent in all aspects.

However, she was a woman, and she could not carry on the ancestral line. Therefore, she could not become the heir of the family.

Valerio felt that this was a great pity.

Alba's sudden outburst now might be from her keeping everything inside for too long. Valerio understood, so he would not criticize her.

Instead, he said earnestly, "Alba, you can only accept your fate since you were born in a big family like this. There is nothing you can do. To be honest, I have always had high hopes for you, and I like you, but unfortunately, you're not a man! If you were a man, I can guarantee that I'd have made you the first in-line heir of the family

After Alba calmed down, she realized she went overboard.

'How can I speak to Grandpa Val whom I respected so much like that?

'If I didn't have his help as the person in charge of Treasure Trove, how would I have so many chances to research Soulbound Weapons?

'Even if my biological grandfather is here, he wouldn't allow me to act like this.'

"I'm sorry, Grandpa Val. I lost my temper just now and offended you. Please forgive me, Alba lowered her voice and apologized.

“It’s fine. I know you’ve been holding it in for too long. It’ll be better for you to let it out. However, the seniors decided to let you stay home. You can’t be so willful anymore. If not, I can’t protect you anymore,” Valerio sighed.

“Grandpa Val, can you tell me why?” Alba asked, her eyes turning red.

“It’s because your fiancé, Master Anders Palmore, is about to come out. You should stay home for the time being. Once he’s out, you’ll marry into his family. Anders is the first in-line heir of his family, and he has outstanding talent. Moreover, he’s one of the most excellent geniuses among the younger generation of Star Kingdom. You should know all this, so you won’t be wronged after you marry him.”

‘Anders is coming out?’

Alba’s heart tightened.

“What should I do?”

‘I haven’t started my cooperation with David.’

‘And David hasn’t finished his master’s task.’

“So, it’s impossible for me to ask David to help the family get out of the Palmore family’s control now.”

‘What should I do?’

‘Even if David wants to help me, he’s helpless.’

‘Only his master, that Sacred Saint hidden in Star Kingdom, can help me.’

‘David said he can only request something from his master if he completes his task.’

‘Now that he hasn’t completed the task yet, how can he request this?’

‘Why can’t Anders wait for a while longer?’

‘Is God trying to ruin my family?’

Alba felt utterly helpless.

No matter how hard she tried, she still could not escape fate’s arrangement.

s announced that he was coming out now and her family grounded her.

If she could not work with David anymore, David and his Sacred Saint master would not help her.

When Anders really came out, she would immediately marry him.

Next, the Palmore family would slowly devour the Fellowes family.

In the end, the Fellowes family could only give up Treasure Trove that their grandmasters left for them to protect their inheritance.

Even then, the Palmore family might not leave them alone.

After this, the Fellowes family would lose their assets that were handed down from generation to generation and could only struggle on whilst at death's door.

They might even die out someday.

At that point, Alba would be in a dilemma.

The Fellowes family would hate her, and the Palmore family would dislike her.

'No!

'Absolutely not!

'I can't give up like this!

'I have to take a bet so that I'll be reconciled.'

Alba thought firmly.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1693—Alba was wondering what she could do to make her family change their minds.

She had to complete what she promised David.

This was the Fellowes family, and her, only hope.

Even if she failed in the end, she would have no regrets.

She had tried her best. She might fail, but at least she had a bit of hope.

If she did not try her best, she could only accept fate's arrangement.

Alba's living environment made her bound to not accept her fate obediently.

She had been working hard since she was young to go against her fate.

However, she never won.

She had lost so many times before. This time, she hoped things would change.

"Grandpa Val, I don't want to be grounded. I still have something important to do, can you help me? I'm begging you. Just once. After this, I will accept the family's arrangement obediently," Alba pleaded.

Valerio was the person in charge of Treasure Trove, so he had a very high status in the family. Aside from the few Saint Realm grandmasters, he was second only to the head of the family.

Alba might have a chance if he was willing to help her.

"Alba, this was decided by the seniors. My hands are tied as well," Valerio shook his head and said.

"I don't believe you! Grandpa Val, you're the person in charge of Treasure Trove and you overlook the entire company. You have such a high status in the family, so you certainly can help me," Alba retorted.

"You have to tell me what's so important! If you tell me and I agree, I'll lower myself and speak for you in front of the head of the family so that you won't be grounded."

"I..." Alba was stunned.

She trusted her Grandpa Val completely.

However, Alba did not dare to tell him anything without David's consent.

Plus, she would also need to mention David's teacher, the hidden Sacred Saint, so that she would sound convincing-

It would be no use if David and his master were upset.

"Grandpa Val, I can't tell you now, but can you trust me? This is not only for me but for the entire family," Alba said seriously.

"Oh? For the family? Tell me then, what did you do for the family?" Valerio's interest was piqued.

He watched Alba grow up.

This girl always had her own thoughts, and she was always trying her best to prove herself. She would never accept the family's arrangement just like this.

However, as a woman, she still could not change her fate no matter how hard she fought.

Based on Valerio's understanding of Alba, she would not speak without thinking nor spout nonsense.

Since she said it was for the family, there must be some secrets behind it.

However, what was it?

Valerio was curious.

"Grandpa Val, do you believe me?" Alba asked.

Valerio saw how serious Alba was, and she did not look like she was joking.

Combining their relationship and this girl's previous performances, Valerio did not have any reason to doubt Alba.

"I do! However, you have to give a reason to convince the head," Valerio replied.

"Thank you for trusting me! I still can't tell you everything, but I can tell you that if I succeed, I might be able to help the family get out of our current predicament. This is the only trace of hope I found after so many years," Alba said after taking a deep breath.

"Help the family out of what predicament?" Valerio could not understand for a while.

"Help the family out of the predicament of being slowly devoured by the Palmore family. Help the Fellowes family get back their freedom and not be restricted by anyone."

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1694—Valerio was stunned.

The Fellowes family had been in a predicament for a very long time. As a core member of the family, Valerio naturally knew about this.

Not just core members, but anyone with a little authority in the family would also be aware of their situation.

Having said that, so what?

They were facing suppression from the Palmore family, a top force in Star Kingdom.

All these years, the Fellowes family tried everything, but to no avail.

They were giving out more and more wealth every year.

It was the same when it came to marriage. As long as the Palmore family said the word, the Fellowes family would have to send their female direct descendants over for marriage regardless of if the other party was disabled or a fool.

What happened in the end?

The Palmore family was still greedy.

They wanted to control Treasure Trove, the cash cow.

The Fellowes family had completely given up hope facing such a gluttonous ingrate.

The Fellowes family could not solve this problem unless there was a miracle that allowed the grandmaster of the family to become a Sacred Saint.

Now, Alba said she could solve it.

Was it possible?

To be honest, even if he watched Alba grow up and he knew that she would not lie, Valerio was still skeptical.

This was because no one other than a Sacred Saint could help the family out of this predicament.

Meanwhile, there were only a few Sacred Saints in Star Kingdom, so Alba would never have the chance to get in contact with one.

“Alba, stop joking. We can’t fight a family like the Palmore family. Now, the family’s only hope is that after you marry Anders, you can utilize your advantages to become the core of the Palmore family to make them devouring us. We’ll be happy if we get the same treatment as the Lightfoot family,” Valerio sighed.

Alba was agitated after hearing what Valerio said.

She did not want to be disliked by both sides after she married into the Palmore family and became homeless.

Even though Alba was confident in herself, she had seen Anders once.

She knew he was a man who did not value relationships.

He only valued interest and strength.

As for women, they were irrelevant.

After just one meeting, Alba knew she could not conquer this man.

“Grandpa Val, even if I marry him, the Palmore family won’t leave us alone. They’re very ambitious and Anders won’t go easy on our family because of me. If we don’t think of a way to save ourselves, we can only give them Treasure Trove. Without Treasure Trove, it will be almost impossible for us to make a comeback. However, even if we let them have Treasure Trove, they still won’t leave us alone. After all, no one wants any hidden dangers,” Alba said in a panic.

“Save ourselves? We want to do that too, but it’s not easy! It’s been so many years and we haven’t find any opportunities. If there was any hope, we wouldn’t have put you in this situation,” Valerio said, feeling helpless.

The Fellowes family thought about everything they could.

However, there were only two possible solutions.

One, they could turn the grandmasters of the family into Sacred Saints.

Two, the Palmore family’s Sacred Saint grandmaster died suddenly.

If the Palmore family could not even save themselves, they would not have the energy to care about the Fellowes family.

If either of those things happened, it would be a shocking miracle!

It was virtually impossible.
