

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1705

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1705–The two men’s arguments attracted the attention of everyone on the 9th floor.

Everyone was watching with ridicule on their faces.

Most of them were invited by Treasure Trove to participate in the auction, so they were pretty prestigious people.

They got bored from waiting, so it was pretty interesting to be able to watch something like this.

Even though Louie was an idiot and could not read the room, his cousin Eamon still knew how to weigh the pros and cons.

After all, he was someone from a sect that had gone through training.

Therefore, he quickly stood up and said, “My friend, I’m so sorry. My cousin has always stayed at home, so he’s been spoiled by his family. He’s never seen the outside world so please forgive him if he offended you. I am apologizing on his behalf. Amiability makes you rich. The same goes for the others here. I, Eamon Lehman, will pay for everyone here today so I hope everyone will tolerate us.”

When Louie heard that, he was unhappy.

The Newhouse family was powerful in this super-large trade zone, and they had a close relationship with Treasure Trove.

With Treasure Trove as support, the Newhouse family was like a fish back in the water.

Therefore, Louie made this place his territory.

How dare those outsiders yell at him in his territory?

How would Louie suffer such a grievance?

He yelled unhappily, “Eamon, why are you apologizing to him? He interrupted our conversation so he should be the one apologizing to us! They’re just barking dogs. How dare they act so arrogantly in my territory? How reckless!”

“Louie Newhouse, shut up!” Eamon’s expression changed and he scolded.

“Eamon, you...”

Louie

just wanted to retort but when he saw how Eamon was looking at him, he swallowed the words back into his stomach.

He was weak, and he was used to being arrogant.

Therefore, he did not realize what was wrong today.

However, he believed that his cousin would not harm him, hence he stopped speaking.

Eamon's junior, Miss Dolce, looked at Louie and frowned with her adorable brows.

Clearly, she was not happy with what Louie did.

She thought, 'How did this idiot survive until this day?

'Eamon even asked me to hang out with a cousin like this. How unfathomable.'

"You're Louie Newhouse, right? Listen here, you're in big trouble. There are people in the Central Sacred Continent who dares to yell at me and tell me f*ck off, but you're not one of them," the young man whom Louie yelled at said in a deep voice.

"Who do you think you are? Why can't I yell at you when you have the nerve to yell at me? So what if I yell at you today? What can you do to me?" Louie snapped.

He could not stand others acting so pretentiously around him.

Usually, he was the one doing that, so no one else could do the same with him around.

"If I tell you who I am, you might sh*t your pants."

"Tch, anyone can toot their own horn. Tell me if you have the balls. If I frown, then I am not at Newhouse!" Louie stated indifferently.

The Newhouse family had Treasure Trove's support, so how could he be scared by a name?

Moreover, judging from those people, they did not seem like someone from the most powerful force in Star Kingdom.

"Really? Listen closely then, my name is..." When the young man was about to say his name, someone came upstairs and interrupted him.

David sensed something and looked over.

He saw a man in his thirties walking over.

Behind him was an old man.

David's pupils contracted when he saw the old man.

'A late Sovereign Ranker!'

This old man was a late Sovereign Ranker, and he was on the same level as Celeste.

One had to know that Celeste was the elder of the iridescent Sect, so she had a pretty high status.

If the old man was on the same level as Celeste, he should also have an extraordinary identity. Of course, the man in front of the old man was even more extraordinary.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1706

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1706—If he could have a late Sovereign Ranker as his protector, he was surely an heir from a major force.

When the two appeared, they suppressed the entire scene.

Everyone's eyes were on them.

Even the young man who was about to say his name shut up when he saw them.

It was because the two had such strong energy around them.

The Sovereign Rankers, including the two mid-Sovereign Rankers on the scene, were looking at the old man with shock in their eyes.

They never expected to meet a late Sovereign Ranker here.

A powerhouse like this would not have a low status in any force.

Furthermore, it was evident that the man walking in front of him had an even higher status. Judging from their positions.

The two people who came upstairs were Archimedes, the first-in-line heir of the Lightfoot family, and his protector, Bernard.

Archimedes was sent by his family to investigate Cornelius' death.

Coincidentally, Treasure Trove was holding their auction, so how would he miss a gathering that would involve most of the powerhouses around here?

Archimedes was just passing by on his way to Treasure Trove, but he heard someone arguing upstairs.

Therefore, his interest was piqued, and he decided to come upstairs to have a look.

He still had time before the auction anyway.

After the two came up, they sat at an empty table.

Archimedes crossed his legs and said casually, "Go on! Weren't you guys pretty lively just now? Why did you stop the moment we came in? Just do what you should do. I just came to rest my feet and join in on the fun. Just pretend I'm not here."

After a while, no one continued.

Eamon had pressed Louie back to his seat forcefully. At the same time, he warned Louie with his eyes to tell him to shut up.

Archimedes turned his eyes to the young man who was about to introduce himself.

"Didn't you say you want to introduce yourself just now? Tell me. I'd like to see if I'll sh*t myself."

"My Lord,

you're hilarious. I'm nothing compared to you. I will only be humiliating myself if I say it," the young man said respectfully.

He was also warned by the mid-Sovereign Ranker in secret to not offend the man.

Plus, these two who just showed up were clearly not to be trifled with, and he was not like Louie, a brainless idiot.

"How boring." Archimedes shook his head.

He wanted to join in on the fun, but unfortunately, the moment he came up, everyone focused on him and indirectly solved the conflict.

Archimedes glanced at everyone on the 9th floor.

There were quite a lot of Sovereign Rankers here, and there were even two mid-Sovereign Rankers.

Even though Treasure Trove's position was starting to shake and was slowly falling behind the other four trading companies after the Palmore family's ambitions started to show, a sleeping lion was stronger than a barking dog. Therefore, they still had a pretty strong summoning power.

This auction was Treasure Trove's first big move after so many years.

Perhaps they were trying to raise everyone's spirits and win back their disappearing clientele.

To be honest, Archimedes did not hope the Fellowes would give up so easily to hand over Treasure Trove.

If the Palmore family was controlling Treasure Trove, except for Holy Root, who among the three other top five trading companies would dare to strive to become the best?

This might not be good for Splendor.

The best result was the Fellowes family refusing to surrender and fight to the death with the Palmore family.

However, this was clearly impossible.

Once the Palmore family put their mind to something, the Fellowes family would not be able to resist them. Eventually, they would have to surrender obediently and give away Treasure Trove that had been passed on from their ancestors.

If not, what awaited them would be the extermination of their entire family.

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-