Chapter 1718

“Do you know who Angelica Dolce is?”

“She’s from the Heavenly Sect from West Sand, and I think she has a pretty high status in her sect.”

‘Angelica Dolce of the Heavenly Sect!’

Archimedes remembered those names,

At the same time, he was even more enraged.

He might have to change his plan.

He wanted to kill those people one by one, but it seemed that his plan would not work now.

If someone got wind of this and spread the news, he would be at a disadvantage.

He should get rid of all of them in one go so that he could keep the secret.

It seemed that he needed to go back and plan this well.

If he needed so many people to disappear at once, including nearly ten beginner Sovereign Rankers and two mid-Sovereign

Rankers, he might have to mobilize his family's hidden power.

"Uncle Bernard, let's go. It's time to go to Treasure Trove's auction."

"Yes, Master Archi."

The two left the corner one after another and headed to the auction venue.

David sat on his seat and waited for the auction to start silently.

Every invitation card was printed with a seat number.

One had to register after they entered the auction. Then, they would sit according to their seat numbers.

At this moment, David disguised himself slightly so that people would not recognize him.

It would be very troublesome if Archimedes saw him later.

As long as he managed to get through this auction, he would not be scared of Archimedes and the late Sovereign Ranker next to him anymore.

The guests started arriving one after another before sitting down in their designated seats.

The auction would start in half an hour, but two-thirds of the seats were already filled.

David's seat was not too good or too bad, being right in the middle.

He was now surrounded, but since the seats were some distance apart and every seat had its own independent space, so it was not very crowded.

Half an hour passed by quickly.

Everyone with an invitation card had arrived.

It had been so long since Treasure Trove did something as big as this. According to sources, they had also taken out a lot of their precious treasures as well.

There would be all kinds of treasures of heaven and earth as well as Soulbound Weapons for sale

Therefore, no one would miss this.

Furthermore, Treasure Trove was one of the top five trading companies in the Central Sacred Continent, so the guests would show some respect for this event.

Archimedes and Bernard arrived at the auction as well. However, their seats were in front.

The invitation card Archimedes got was sent to the person in charge of West End's Splendor. When the time arrived, an old man with white hair and a ruddy complexion walked onto the stage.

It was the head of Treasure Trove, Valerio Fellowes.

One could tell how important this auction was to Treasure Trove.

Even the head was here.

Nothing like this had happened in the past. At most, the deputy head would show up to say a few words.

Valerio was very famous throughout the entire Central Sacred Continent.

Not only because he was the core of the Fellowes family and the head of Treasure Trove, but it was also because he was a partial Saint.
